Tourists have arrived in Jensen

JENSEN BEACH--The town is full a long time Jensen Beach resident observed Monday as he watched the bear bumper-to-bumper on Commercial Street.

This is the busiest Christmas season since I've been here," Mrs. Helen Richardson, Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce executive director said Monday.

We were busy last week and I'm busier today. Mrs. Richardson said between answering questions of tourists who stopped in the chamber office and answering the telephone.

We had more than 2,000 people at the beach Sunday, a lifeguard at Jensen's public beach said.

And they are blanket to blanket today. Monday he continued. It started the big crowds Christmas Day and is continuing.

The white flag excellent swimming conditions has been flying and the temperature has been in the high 70's for the past few days.

There has been a noticeable increase during the past few days and one resident complained of the long waits at intersections, especially at Skyline Drive and Commercial Street and all streets that intersect with Indian River Drive.

The beaches and roads are crowded, and fishermen are lined on both sides of the causeway pier.

Few bills expected for delegation

JENSEN BEACH--Apparently there will be little business for the Martin County Legislative Delegation to consider when it meets Jan. 31.

I don't know of any local legislation at this time from any governmental bodies or any local officials. State Rep. Chuck Nergard said.

Some school or county officials may have some problems to discuss, the legislator who represents the Jensen Beach area said.

There may be some local bills from the Loxahatchee area, he pointed out.

The Loxahatchee area in south Martin County is delegation chairman Jack Feerbaugh's area.

Poorbaugh has scheduled the hearing for 9:30 a.m. in the Martin County

Palm tree yellowing is reported

JENSEN BEACH--Imported Malayan palm trees are being planted in the Jensen Beach area to replace other palms endangered by lethal yellowing.

The tree is not immune from the disease, C. Gale Kiplinger of the Men's Garden Club said, "but it is more resistant."

Kiplinger of Sewall's Point, pointed out that the club is "gambling" on its plans to plant the trees in the county.

He said that the tree planting project was planned so that the county could have a lot of good trees when the blight passes.

More than 1,000 of the Malayan palm trees, which are more resistant to the lethal yellowing disease spreading in counties to the south of Martin County, are being imported into the county by various groups for planting.

Florida Institute of Technology (FIT) has planted several of the palms along campus roads. The trees were donated by Bill Matheson.

A Miami tree spraying service reported that 20 or 30 Malayan trees had the lethal yellowing. A representative of the Miami company is reported to have told Palm Beach councilmen that it is difficult to spot lethal yellowing in Malayan palms because the Malayan leaves are naturally yellow.

Dick Huptel, who grows the Malayan palms at his nursery, said he had never found the disease in the "true Malayan."

Huptel said that the reported disease might be a hybrid Malayan palm.

CofC drive to begin

JENSEN BEACH--The 1975 membership campaign of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce will begin Thursday, Jan. 9, when the Membership Committee meets.

Membership Committee Chairman, Mrs. Jacquline Hall, said her committee would meet at the chamber building at 7:30 p.m.

Chamber membership in 1974 was 336.

New approach to financing education

JENSEN BEACH—Florida Institute of Technology has launched a new approach to financing higher education in the formation of a new corporation for profit called University Enterprises, Inc. After some months of searching, a blue ribbon Board of Directors was formed of outstanding Floridians who have compiled brilliant track records as presidents, vice presidents and directors of major industrial and business corporations.

Dr. Jerome P. Keuper, founder and President of Florida Institute of Technology stated, "In these days of ever increasing difficulties in financing private universities through gifts and grants, FIT has added a new dimension with its University Enterprises, Inc. to provide income to the university through the creation, acquisition, and operation of profit making companies. Combining the talents of the industrialists on this new board with those of the faculty and administration of the university, FIT hopes to considerably broaden and strengthen its base of support for income and endowment. This innovative approach by FIT to find support for private higher education by tapping the brainpower of America's private enterprise may well serve as a model in the future for other private universities."

Charles F. West, President of Optical Business Machines and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Florida Institute of Technology, which at its last meeting approved the structure of the new enterprise, pointed out that the activities of the new corporation would in no way compete with local businesses in the community but rather would serve as a stimulus in creating new business and industry in the area. The University, of course, through its Board of Trustees as the major stockholder for all the enterprises of the new Board and all profits from the corporation will be directed to the support of the university's programs and endowment.

Ernest A. Zadig, director of The Zadig Patents, was appointed Acting Chairman of the Board of University Enterprises. Zadig pointed out the new corporation will seek to market spinoffs from research and development projects of the FIT faculty and will also be looking for opportunities for investment in other new products and new businesses.

In addition to Dr. Keuper, who also serves as President of the new corporation, and John W. Simmons, who is FIT's Vice President for Financial Affairs and Vice President of University Enterprises, the following nationally well known business and industry leaders were appointed to the new Board of Directors:

Wilbur T. Blair, former head, Federal Reserve District, and former Vice President and Treasurer, Sharon Steel Corporation; Jordan Cohen, President, Sunrise Shopping Center, Ltd., Fort Lauderdale; Eric T. Frazuen, former Senior Vice President, Phoenix Mutual Life, and director, Phoenix Mutual; Lawrence C. Gleason, former President, Gleason Works, Rochester, N.Y.

Robert McKegg, former General Purchasing Agent, Socony Mobil Oil Company, John Penniman, President, Clausing Corporation, Michigan; Fred S. Roberts, former Chairman of the Board, Roberts Brothers Company, Washington, D.C. and Bank Director; John A. Saunders, former President, General Fireproofing Corp. and Director, Union National Bank.

W. Robert Wood, former Vice President, Chemetron Corporation and director, Brown-Forman Distillers, and Commonwealth Life; Ernest Zadig, former President, The Hit Products Corporation, and Director, The Zadig Patents.

Florida Institute of Technology with campuses in Melbourne and Jensen Beach, is Florida's second largest private university. Degrees are offered in 46 different programs in science, engineering, and management, with three programs leading to the Ph.D. degree.

PLANTS—Indian River Community College is again offering a course in "Plants of Florida" beginning on January 6 at 7 p.m. in Room S-107 on the main campus in Ft. Pierce. The class will run until March 1 and will consist of lectures, slides, and discussion on the plants being studied. The purpose of this class is to help people get acquainted with the plants of Florida. The class will be instructed by Arthur Cathe, who has had five years experience as a Camp Naturalist in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania.

PATIO PARTY—There was a big, gala Christmas party at Oak Street and 6th Street in Ocean Breeze Park Sunday afternoon. There was a big sign on a tree which read "A Merry Christmas to All the Oak Street Gang."

Flotilla 59 elects officers

JENSEN BEACH—At the final meeting of the year on Dec. 16, members of Flotilla 58, United States Coast Guard Auxiliary held their annual election of officers.

By unanimous vote former Flotilla Public Education Officer Charles Koch was elected Commander for the coming year and Flotilla Public Relations Officer Edward Benedict was elected Vice Commander.

Both members were sworn in by Division V Captain William R. Carver of West Palm Beach. Commander Koch has been a resident of Lighthouse Point for two years, having previously lived in Lindenhurst, Long Island, where he was active in the Coast Guard Auxiliary as Public Education Officer and Commander of Flotilla 13-9 in Merrick, Long Island. Commander Koch has been in boating for over 30 years and currently owns a 38' Chris Craft which serves as an Operation Facility in the Flotilla.

Vice Commander Benedict of Sewall's Point joined Flotilla 58 in 1968 after moving here from Mamaroneck, New York where he was active in boating for many years in Atlantic coastal waters. The initial trip from New York to Stuart was made in a 41' Dutch built steel hull motor sailer with his wife as first mate. Currently he cruises in a 38' Vega trawler which is qualified as an Operational Facility of Flotilla 58.

According to Commander Koch staff officer appointments will be announced by January 1st.

In a final report by Past Commander Glenn Riegle on 1974 Flotilla activities he noted the increased participation by the 47 members and 21 operational facilities in patrol and assistance activities. Under the direction of Operations Officer Vern Chason the Flotilla participated in such events as the Blessing of the Fleet, the two Sailfish Tournaments, the Sailfish Speedboat Regatta and the Okeechobee Waterway Boat-A-Cade. In addition, Flotilla members assisted 65 boats in some type of emergency and supported the United States Coast Guard in 10 missions. The outstanding achievement was the rescue of one person from drowning.

An important function of the Auxiliary is the safety inspection of boats by Flotilla 58 personnel. This is a volunteer procedure on the part of a boat owner and 8 qualified inspectors under the direction of Vessel Inspection Officer Nelson Pressel made 258 inspections during 1974.

To better educate potential and existing boat owners and their families of the importance of safe boat handling during 1974 under the direction of Public Education Officer Koch Flotilla 58 held three 12 lesson training courses in Basic Seamanship with a total enrollment of 306. A basic 7 lesson sailing course was inaugurated this Fall with an attendance of 18. Three Martin High School classes received a three session course in the basics of boating safety and good seamanship. All of these courses will again be scheduled in 1975, according to Commander Koch.

Duston has been teaching art for several years because she wants to share with others the pleasure she gets from painting.

She is showing nine works which include landscapes and florals. Her landscapes are not real places, but from her imagination.

One of her pieces is a moonlight scene done in subdued greens and blues with an unusually effective shimmer on the water.

In her eleven years of painting, she has done more than a hundred works. She has studied with Lester Stevens, a member of the National Academy, in Mass., and with Richard Frizzell at Lighthouse Gallery.

Barbara Gately is showing four displays of her handcrafted silver jewelry. Her specialty is crosses, with or without semi-precious stones. She also has earrings and sculptured pieces.

She is closely associated with The Barn and produced its last play, "Dracula." She also writes the Barn Owl column for local papers.

Exhibits at both locations will close Friday, Jan. 10.

Art Associates will meet on Friday, Jan. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart. The program will be a watercolor demonstration by Bunny Coppe.

FUND CHECKS—Mrs. Donald Graham, fund raising vice-chairman for the Animal Rescue League Fund campaign, receives checks from Dennis Hudson, Jr., chairman of the board of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Animal Rescue League fund campaign tops $10,000

STUART—The Animal Rescue League fund raising campaign topped the $10,000 mark when Dennis Hudson, Jr., chairman of the board of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart, presented checks to the fund.

One check was from the First National Bank and the second donation was Hudson's personal check.

"Our family has very warm feelings for the Animal Rescue League. I couldn't count the number of times our pointer Skip has been picked up and brought to the shelter. I feel very strongly that the Animal Rescue League deserves the support of all members of the community," Hudson said.

Economic picture bright

FORT PIERCE—In a statement issued for New Year's Day, the president of the local Chamber of Commerce predicted that while 1975 will be a time of certain financial straits, St. Lucie County's long-term economic picture remains bright.

"Our citizens must not lose sight of the fact our community is located in one of the choicest positions in the nation," commented President Michael Jeffries. "Our climate is excellent. We have room for both residential and commercial expansion. We have sound governmental controls which should keep us from becoming a concrete jungle and protect our valuable agriculture industry."

Further, Jeffries added, "we have good rail and port potential. We also can count on being one of the state's key traffic intersections when I-95 is completed in the not too distant future to the Fort Pierce Turnpike entrance."

"In short, every long-term indicator points to an extremely attractive future for St. Lucie County and its citizens," said the Chamber official.

Jeffries continued by pointing out that economic down-turns, such as the current one, have happened in the past and will happen again. However, due to America's energy and vitality, the down-turns have always been temporary set backs followed by lengthy periods of expansion. "Take for example St. Lucie County's recent history. In 1963 we were a federal poverty pocket. Ten years later we were enjoying record breaking prosperity," he said.

The Chamber president pointed out that while any economic back-sliding is painful, the existing slump provides St. Lucie Countians with an outstanding opportunity to prepare for the growth certain to materialize when the current turn-down is over.

Let us not become over burdened by gloom. Instead, we must push forward with current planning efforts. Then let us implement those plans. In this way St. Lucie County can be a leader when prosperity again appears on our state's horizon," he concluded.

Winter tournament

STUART—Recorded in the Sailfish Club Winter Tournament last week were Ronald Kesselring of Apopka, Fla. with a 52 lb. 2 oz. king mackerel, while fishing on the Hobe with Capt. Jack Whitcar. Russel Egbert of Port St. Lucie, Fla. with a 10 lb. 1 oz. sea trout, and Mike Fogt of Stuart, Fla. with a 17 lb. 2 oz. red snapper fishing on Doc's Out II with Capt. Mike Fogt.

Boating classes are scheduled

JENSEN BEACH—Flotilla 58, United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, will get activities underway in 1975 with the scheduling of its Basic Seamanship and Boating Skills twelve lesson course starting Tuesday, January 7th and closing February 14th, according to Commander Charles Koch.

As in the past, the class sessions will be held on Tuesday and Friday nights with two exceptions, starting at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association building, Commercial Street and Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach. Pre-registration will be held at Flotilla 58 headquarters, foot of Flagler Avenue, on January 3rd from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m., or prior to the first session.

Coast Guard boating accident statistics continue to provide an uncomfortable reminder of what can go wrong once away from the dock. Boats are swamped and their occupants thrown into the water, capsizings and sinkings lead to deaths by drowning and fires and explosions can ruin your whole day.

Boat owners and those thinking of purchasing a boat, have two judgement calls to make, namely: 1) how to tell when a boat is in safe, working order and 2) under what conditions is it safe to use the boat, assuming all systems are go. The largest cause of accidents and fatalities is due to operator error or negligence. Hazardous water is the second leading cause.

At the final session on February 14 Von Jourdan, well known longtime Charter boat captain, charter member of Flotilla 58 since 1942 and Commander in 1949, and Dr. Edgar Ernst, past President of the Sailfish Club, instigator of the artifical fishing reef established off Stuart and a member of Flotilla 58, will present an up to date lecture on boat handling in inlets with emphasis on our own St. Lucie Inlet.

The course is designed for the entire family with the objective of providing the knowledge to potential and active boat owners that will enable them to enjoy boating in a manner safe to themselves as well as their fellow boaters. There is no charge except for textbook and materials fee of $4.00.

Call 287-6012 or 283-6785 for further information. Safe boating is no accident.

Nursing assistant class is set

FORT PIERCE—Indian River Community College will offer a nurse assistant training class at Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital from January 13 to February 2. Men and women from the ages of 18-60 years are welcome to attend these classes. Interviews will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Friday, January 10, in the Annex Building of Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital.

Santa Claus came a little early to some people on our street, along Indian River. Mr. & Mrs. Seban have a beautiful corner home, the largest and most beautiful I have ever seen. While Mr. Seban showed us around, I found out that Mrs. Seban was suffering from pleurisy. I hope she is better by now. She told me that they are expecting company for the holidays, and you have to feel better for that.

What's with pleurisy anyway? Is it catching? First my husband, then Evelyn Sterling had quite a siege of it, now Mrs. Seban. Let's not keep that up!

Sorry to hear that Ruth Balash has to be on crutches for another three weeks. We met her husband doing the shopping, has to do his own cooking and doing all the chores. I bet she'd rather be able to get around, and do her own chores.

Doctor and Marian Asline are back with us again, and getting ready for the holidays. They're expecting their grandson for a long visit, and later, their daughter will come too. Doc had a checkup and Marian told me he was given a good report. I am sure everybody that knows them, is very happy about that.

Have you ever heard of a Cement Party? Mabel Cook had a wonderful idea. She invited the five fellows, and wives of course, that laid cement for their patios and helped each other doing it to a hilarious Happy Hour and everybody had a ball. Suddenly, the cement mixers and the cement party was born. The names of the fellows: Andy Wilston, Thormon Cook, George Sterling, Harry Curth, George Carpenter. Thank you, Mabel, for a wonderful time.

Everyone, young and old alike, enjoyed a beautiful evening of Christmas Caroling on a flat bed of hay borrowed from O.R.A. pulled by a decorated truck by Mr. Bill Middleton. Old Santa was spot-lighted in the center of the hay and we stopped here and there for Santa to hand out candy. The singing was lead by some very nice out of town guests, daughter and son-in-law of Mary Ellen who also provided and prepared the hot chocolate that we all enjoyed so much.

Christmas Day was a huge success, everything went as planned except yours truly worked 16 hours and I can still feel the painful feet. Ham with all the trimmings, presents were exchanged, fresh cut flowers in beautiful vases were made and furnished by those delightful people Roy and Helen Williams, also the sweet ladies of the resort set up work shops and made center pieces. Mary Ellyn shared her Christmas flowers with us, then at 9:00 p.m. Charlie Johnson and the other investors provided the best music Venture Out has ever experienced. Yours truly fell all better after everyone told me how good the food was and what a wonderful band we had for them.

So sorry to hear of Polly Colson being in the hospital in Miami. Let's hope she'll be home soon, safe and sound.

Bing-Gross vows are exchanged

JENSEN BEACH–Mary Ellen Gross, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Howard Gross, Stuart, and Scott Barbour Bing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barbour Bing of Satellite Beach, were joined in marriage on Saturday, December 28.

Reverend Roy Gwaltney of Daytona Beach performed the double ring ceremony in a lovely setting at the Florida Institute of Technology Chapel. A mixture of traditional and contemporary wedding music was provided by Ed Gwaltney at the console and Ellen Scruggs, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her own original creation, with a bodice fashioned of handmade Belgian lace and the skirt of organza over crepe, trimmed with heirloom lace. Her bouquet was of white orchids.

Cynthia Gross, sister in law of the bride from Avon Park, served as matron of honor. Her dress was of mint green garbardine with an empire waist and white pointed collar topped with a light blue flocked floral print short jacket, and she carried an orchid bouquet.

Debbie Portz, Tallahassee, was the bridesmaid, in same attire as the matron of honor. Junior bridesmaids Donna and Sharon Gross, from Cocoa Beach, wore long sleeved, floor length dresses with empire waists and white collars made of the same fabric as the bridesmaid's jacket. Their bouquets were orchids.

Jack Bing served as his son's best man, and ushers were Peyton Gross brother of the bride from Gainesville, Craig Edwards, Melbourne, and David Healy, from Jacksonville.

A reception followed at the F.I.T. campus where the parents of the bride and groom assisted in receiving. Janet Hutchinson of Stuart, Shelley Gould and Mary Buranosky of North Palm Beach, and Mrs. Raymond Savitsky, Sr. of Stuart, served. The tables were decorated with garlands of white chrysanthemums and ivy.

Mrs. Gross chose a gown of printed chiffon in shades of blue and lavendar for her daughter's wedding. She wore an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests included Reverend and Mrs. Roy Gwaltney of Daytona Beach, Vanetta Misselwhite and Clara Gross, grandmothers of the bride from Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bing, grandparents of the groom, from Jacksonville; Dr. and Mrs. George Gross and sons from Westfield, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gross and family from Cocoa Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Norval Hendrickson, Winter Park; Mrs. Rodrick Bing from Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. John Gross, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metcalfe from Avon Park, and numerous friends.

The bride graduated from Florida State University with a BS in Foods and Nutrition and completed the Dietetic Intern Program at the J. Hellis Miller Health Center, University of Florida. She will pursue a career as a therapeutic dietitian.

The groom is a Florida State University graduate with a BS in Business Administration and plans a career in the field of management.

St. Joseph's Guild to meet January 6

STUART–St. Joseph's Guild will meet on Monday, January 6 beginning with Rosary and Benediction in the church at 1:00 p.m. followed immediately by the meeting in the Parish Hall.

Evie Rader, from Krueger's Florids Shop, will be the guest speaker, talking on the care of plants and cut flowers.

Final plans for the Guild's evening card party, set for January 17 will be discussed.

Intensive care is Auxilians' subject

STUART–Marion R. Wilkie, R.N. will speak to the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary at a general meeting slated for Monday, January 6 at 1:30 p.m. in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Her subject will be "Purpose of the Intensive Care Unit."

Hostesses for the meeting are Leah Lount and Ann Wear.

Obituaries

WILLIAM E. DOTY

JENSEN BEACH–William E. Doty, 58, 936 Sage Drive, Jensen Beach, died Thursday, December 26 at Martin Memorial Hospital, after a brief illness.

Mr. Doty was born in Farmingdale, Long Island, New York and had been a resident here for the past 5 years coming from Massapequa, Long Island, New York.

He was a manufacturing engineer for the Grumman Aerospace Corporation for 25 years and was recently honored at a dinner where he was presented with a gold wrist watch and a diamond pin in recognition of his years of outstanding service with the Grumman Aerospace Corporation.

He was a member of Bethpage Lodge No. 475 F. & AM of Farmingdale, Long Island, New York and was very active with the Jensen Beach Samaritan Ambulance Service for the past 2-½ years and also served on their Board of Directors.

Survivors include his widow, Dorothy, Jensen Beach; 1 son, Glenn, Jensen Beach; 1 daughter, Mrs. Douglas Turrie, Jensen Beach; 1 brother, Arthur Doty, Federalsburg, Maryland; 1 sister, Mrs. Minnie Schroeder, Hartwick, New York, and 2 grandchildren.

Services were held Monday, December 30, at the Aycock Funeral Home Chapel, Jensen Beach, with the Reverend Donald E. Johnson of the Jensen Beach Community Church officiating. Interment was in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens, Vero Beach.

Friends who wish may contribute to the Jensen-Bin Samaritan Ambulance Service.

ERNEST H. PFINGSTEN

JENSEN BEACH–Ernest H. Pfingsten, 75, of 25 S. 10th Avenue, Ocean Breeze Park, and 1316 E. 331st Street, Eastlake, Ohio, died Monday, December 30, at his home in Ocean Breeze.

A native of Pittston, Pa., he had been a winter resident here for 27 years. Prior to his retirement he had been a builder for 25 years with the Grant Construction Company, which he and his son-in-law owned in Eastlake.

Survivors include his wife Clara, Ocean Breeze and Eastlake, one daughter, Mrs. Alexander (Gladys) Grant, Mentor, Ohio, one brother, three grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Services will be conducted by the Maher Melbourne Funeral Home in Mentor, with interment in Lake View Cemetery, Cleveland, Ohio. Aycock Funeral Home in Jensen Beach is in charge of local arrangements.

CHAMPIONS–For the third consecutive year, the "Barking Spiders" have captured the league championship of the Intramural Touch Football League at Indian River Community College. Composed of former John Carroll football players Jon Hehn, Ed Tobin, Ken Gallmore, Gene Hendrix, and Mark Hastings along with Doug Farrell and Joe Donaldson, the team finished league play with a perfect 7-0 record and displayed remarkable organization and football strategy as they defeated a strong Soul Society team 14-10 in the championship game.

Water resource help free

WEST PALM BEACH–City and county officials are getting a little help from a friend in the form of free consultation regarding water resource aspects of land use decisions.

The friend is the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, and the consultation–unlike a lot of other free advice–comes from experts who are working with the water resource for an area larger than the states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut combined.

Land use decisions are hard enough to make these days, John Wodraska, Palm Beach land planner. Local governments are under a lot of pressures. We are offering our expertise on this one area of development in order to make those decisions a little easier.

Wodraska heads the FCD's work with regional planning councils on developments of regional impact (DRI's). These are large new developments which affect more than one local government.

For the local governments the FCD will do the same type of research it now does for the regional planning councils. This includes cost benefit studies of how a development will have on water quality, both for ground and surface water, an assessment of the proposed drainage system, an appraisal of the water supply system and whether or not there is sufficient resource to meet the projected needs, and a review of the various natural resources surrounding the development.

The FCD is scaling this review down to developments which fall short of the DRI procedure.

Letters were sent to all counties within the FCD boundaries last August, informing them of the new advisory services available.

We are concentrating on the counties because most of them still are in the initial stages of developing land use plans and are still fairly open to development, Wodraska said. He noted that most cities have already made much of the major land use decisions, or follow the guidelines set down by the counties.

So far, Palm Beach, Martin, Lee and St. Lucie counties have shown great interest in working with the FCD. Informal agreements have been made in all of these areas for cooperative working arrangements.

These agreements set the review at developments using 100,000 gallons of water per day, estimated to be about 250 units or more or that require subdivision regulations covering an area of 10 acres or more.

Of course we are willing to help any agency who faces problems involving water, Wodraska said.

Right now the FCD gets involved in the local zoning problems on these projects when the developer comes to us for permits to drill wells or to tie into an existing water supply. By that time the developer has received all the preliminary local approvals which may or may not be based on the appropriate regional water management criteria. If we can work with the local zoning agencies, they will be utilizing the same set of standards in their review as we apply in our permit process, he said.

The permits for water use and well drilling are part of the requirements of regional water management districts, such as the FCD, set down by the state Water Resources Act of 1972.

The FCD is looking to help advise local governments on whether or not the proposed land use would be permittable in terms of its consumptive use of water and its general water management elements.

Wodraska emphasized that the final decision at this advisory level would still be made by the local government, while the permit issuance would still be handled by the FCD in its formal procedures.

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAN
334-6791

The spirit of Christmas has truly shown forth in Lake Manor. The windows all over the park have been brightly shining with lights from candles, trees and other decorations, in celebration of the birth of Christ.

We have a beautifully trimmed tree in our hall, which added to the festivities at our Christmas pot luck. Many thanks to Elsie Schoeneman and Mildren Mullen.

Ah, the same evening, our tables were very prettily decorated with green tulle trees, with small candy canes (and around them). A lucky number under a seat won the tree. Such a nice thing to do, and we are thankful to the committee of Gerry Stuart, Doris Tucker, Mary Emminger and Olive Allwardt. Their menfolk put up the outdoor lights, which blink every nite.

Our most sincere sympathy is extended to Virginia Munro in the recent passing of her husband Harry. Also to Caroline Shaeffer, Virginia's mother, and to all other members of the family.

Margaret Elken and her daughter Eleanor visited with Margaret's son and his wife, Richard and Louise Elken, and their three children for Christmas at Melbourne. A most enjoyable day was spent.

Jen and John Bollenbacher were pleased to have their daughter Barbara Humphrey, her husband Kenneth, and three sons Ken W. Dennis and Douglas visit them this past week. They are from Middlefield, Ohio, so enjoyed very much being in this climate. It was a good visit for all as they were here for Christmas.

Marie and Dick Bradley spent a week in Miami, including four days of fishing on Marathon Key, with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Max VonBose.

Others who were away couldn't be contacted at this writing.

Christmas dinner, on the 25th, with much variety of delicious food including turkey and ham, was served at 2 p.m. to 36 in our rec hall. Twenty one came for supper with added variety of tasty foods. After dinner we sang carols. The tables were prettily decorated with silver garlands and colored bells. Many thanks to our very able committee, Gerry Stuart, Olive Allwardt and Mary Scrivens, who all made it the easiest Christmas Day I've ever had.

Elizabeth and Karl Duffield are pleased to have their son Luther K. and his wife Effy Mae visiting them for Christmas. They also attended our Christmas dinner in the hall.

On Christmas Eve, Doris Martin entertained a few of her neighbors. Dottie Beamer, Margaret Rosengarth, Alex and Jack Bell, Charlie and Sylvia Siman, and friends Joan and Bill Sanberg, whom she fondly refers to as her kids. Tasty refreshments were served and a good time was had on Doris's lovely patio.

Shuffleboard three game winners out of three starts were Walter Atwood, Harry Beamer and Bill Eastman, on the 23rd.

On Sunday, the 22nd, Charlie and I phoned our two daughters, our son, and ten grandchildren, who were gathered for their holidays at Dolores's in Chicago. We talked to all of them and how good it made us feel!

We also enjoyed attending the Sons of Norway Christmas party and smorgasbord at Simonsens Restaurant in Fort Pierce on the 28th. After a great amount of beautiful food was served and consumed, we were entertained by several ladies who sang carols. Children present also sang their choice of song, and all of us sang carols. Dancing followed a short meeting.

Happy Anniversary to these:

Edna and Bob Staples, Jan. 1; Elizabeth and Karl Duffield, Jan. 4; Kay and George Layton, Jan. 15; Gladys and Glenn Oakes, Jan. 26.

Duplicate bridge

STUART-JENSEN BEACH—On Monday, Dec. 23rd there were 10 tables in play, with an average of 108 for both North-South and East-West.

East-West winners were Lucy and Charles Decker 126½, second Bea and Bill Snelling 123½, third Ray Blue and George Knoll 123, fourth Thelma Ritchey and Ed Gates 120½.

On Friday, Dec. 20th a Howell Movement was played and in first place was Marge Buser and Lester Rooms, second and third tie between Jack Alger and Jack Siegman, and Caroline Prode and George Heath, fourth Ruth and Bill Banan.

Game time is 1 p.m. Mondays and Fridays in The Harry Hoke Community Room at The First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Jensen Beach. All players are welcome and a partner is always available.

Inflation proposal gets support

FORT PIERCE—U. S. Congressman L. A. Bafalis has pledged his support of proposals to combat inflation which were prepared and adopted recently by St. Lucie County's Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter to Chamber Executive Vice President Jim Holmes, Bafalis writes: "I strongly support your Chamber's proposals and as a new member of the House Ways and Means Committee I will make every effort to advise my colleagues of your sound ideas so that they may be implemented legislatively."

The Republican Congressman, whose Tenth Congressional District includes St. Lucie County, also writes, "I can certainly appreciate the effort that went into this policy statement, and want to thank you again for providing me with a copy."

The Chamber's policy declaration on fighting inflation urges among other things that elected officials adopt strict fiscal policies which would result in a balanced budget.

The Chamber also maintains that while the current economic recession is painful, Washington should maintain a policy course aimed at breaking the back of inflation, which the Local C of C sees as the nation's gravest long-term threat.

The Chamber's inflation policy was prepared by a special task force headed by Wesley Jester of the First National Bank. It is a seven page document which spells out the Chamber's view on the monetary policies the nation should follow in the coming years. It was formally adopted as the Chamber's stand on the subject at the organization's December Board of Directors meeting.

In commenting on the representative's letter, Chamber President Michael Jeffries stated, "We are extremely pleased that Congressman Bafalis agrees with our views on inflation and will work to see that they are implemented."

New real estate course

FORT PIERCE—A new course in Real Estate Salesmanship highlights the schedule of real estate classes offered for the Spring Semester at Indian River Community College. In addition to the basic licensing course, Real Estate Principles and Practices required by the Florida Real Estate Commission, expanded offerings are being made available to licensed salesmen wishing to enroll in additional professional real estate classes.

Bird class at college

FORT PIERCE– "Birds of Florida" is an interesting new adult class to be taught at Indian River Community College beginning January 9 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Room S-107 on the main campus in Ft. Pierce. This is not a technical class, but an informative, everyday presentation using tapes and colored slides and the common names for the birds.

The class will be instructed by Mrs. Ida Cantwell, who has studied birds for many years, and is well qualified to answer questions regarding identification and habits of local birds.

Weather permitting, frequent field trips will be made into various areas where the different species of birds can be studied in their natural habitat. These field trips are not strenuous and will be made either in private cars or school bus.

Horoscope

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - If others appear uncooperative look at the situation from their point of view rather than feeling resentment. A straight-forward and honest approach benefits financial matters. Be patient and resistance diminishes.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - A promotion to reward past performance is likely. Your intuition about an associate is correct. Charisma is high - you enjoy popularity. Be non-judgmental of others. Focus energies on work and make decisions.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - A time for realistic and practical action. Romantic life may be troubled. Don't waste time in vain regret. Rest, relax and store up energy for activity cycle ahead. Career matters prosper when you take the initiative.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Side step arguments and strife. Maintain dignity and be discreet with confidences. Be patient, not impulsive, in judgments relating to young people. Career abilities are spotlighted. Be tactful and patient in romance.

LEO: (July 23 to August 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - Be moderate, self-disciplined and good natured now. Don't be jealous of another's popularity and curb suspicion in romance. Your popularity is high - stay poised and serene. Use money wisely. Don't be extravagant or miserly.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Someone you meet now can be important to your future, romantically. Repair a tendency to "drift" in relationships instead of investing something of yourself. Guard your health. Listen to good advice from others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - High activity period in the past may leave you feeling exhausted now. Energy returns by the weekend - mix business and pleasure. Retain the older business techniques for now. Unexpected repairs to the home are possible.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Friends are beneficial by introducing you to people and giving ideas. Changes are in store for you which enlarge your outlook. Disputes at work should be solved by conciliation. Finish up past projects.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Good time to set up a yearly budget. While money comes in quite easily, it can go out the same way. Bills come due - obligations from the past must be met. Loaning money to friends is not favored.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Good time for study and "goal-setting". Let emotions take a back seat while you concentrate on career. A long range plan could start now. Be self-disciplined, but don't become harsh, overly-serious and tense.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Resist lack-a-daisical attitudes and get going with a project requiring work and perseverance. Discontent lies in laziness. Help and cooperation for your highest aims is available. Accept offers and support.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Active support from a friend on a project you are launching brings excellent results. Romantic matters move slowly but this is good. Creative ideas abound - act on them. Be kind but firm with a relative making demands.

START THE NEW YEAR RIGHT. Your PERSONALIZED HOROSCOPE is available now. Our 115 page booklet is keyed to your individual date, place and time of birth. Bowman is University of Florida graduate

JENSEN BEACH–Richard W. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowman, 211 Jeannette Ave., was home for Christmas.

Bowman graduated December 14 with a BBC degree from the College of Architecture, University of Florida, Gainesville. On January 6 he will enter graduate school and expects to get his masters degree in December. He served four years in the Air Force.

While at home last week, he and his father went deepsea fishing. The younger Bowman had four sailfish strikes and boated a 7 ft. 4 inch sailfish, which he released.

World Religion Day observed

STUART–The Baha'i Community of Stuart and Martin County initiated plans this week for the observance of World Religion Day, Sunday, January 19th. Mrs. Jean Shinnick of Stuart will head the committee planning the observance.

World Religion Day has been sponsored annually for the past twenty-three years by the U.S. Baha'i Community. Its purpose is to spread the knowledge of the oneness of all revealed religions and to gain recognition of religion as the motivating force for world unity.

Leathercraft class is moving to Thursday, Jan. 9, at the same time - 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The class was swelled this past Friday by several youngsters who came in to see what was going on and stayed to make themselves wrist-rlets of strap leather. It was a pleasure to see them so busy and happy.

The Sunshine Club's next meeting will be held on Jan. 8. Anyone interested please attend. There will be no more meetings, as we want to get this most needed club started. The purpose of the club is to send cards to bring family in times of illness or loss or forget a card at such times is a little ray of sunshine to all. Mary Reynolds lot 296, and Maureen Holmes 172 are chairwomen of the group.

The much sought after sewing classes are a reality now! Instructress Karen Metcalf, from Indian River College will start the class on January 10, from 9 a.m. to 12. So, all you sewers to be, come on and rally around and learn.

Don't forget to sign up at the rec hall for the Medical Self Help, six lesson course beginning January 16 at 7:30 p.m. The Volunteer Help Organization needs YOU, and you need this valuable information.

Have you ever thought it would be a lot of fun to square dance Western style. Now is your chance! There is a beginners' class starting on Tuesday evening, Jan. 7, at our rec hall. Jack Hosken is the able instructor caller and he will have you doing the squares in no time. Try it, you'll like it. Beginners at 7 p.m. Intermediate at 8 p.m.

How about using some usable "Travelog Spanish" in the new year? Might come in handy for that trip to Mexico or other Spanish speaking country. Join the class on Monday mornings at 10. You can enter the group at any time.

The Jan. 11 Auction Sale is growing closer, so dig around in the corners for some items your unwanted items that will become someone else's treasure. Betty Taylor, chairperson for the event can give you any further information you may want.

Come out and hear Bill McKinnon at work. Don't worry about lunch, you can buy it at the sale.

Come one, come all!

Thanks is hereby publicly made to all the volunteers who so generously gave their time to help the manager over the holidas season. A special thanks to the Christmas and New Years Day volunteers for giving up some of their day.

Al and Barbara Greenberg and daughters Patty, Kari and Terri are some on lot 84 for Christmas vacation and very happy to be here away from the cold and snow at home in Buffalo New York.

Lee and Mildred Stall, lot 458, are the proud owners of a new Concord trailer.

Pauline and Herb Rough, lot 110, were hosts to Nelson and Trudy Beatty, Alton and Jane Sheehans on Christmas Day. Sharing a holiday dinner with friends is so nice.

I am happy to report that Fred Liddy is home now. In fact, he beat Santa!

We had a most pleasant surprise. Old friends of 30 years, Minnie and Chuck Tvaska from Dearborn, Mich., came in Friday - an old bowling pal, too. They attended our pavilion church and were thrilled with the beautiful view and the serenity we have.

Another late report. Mark and Mary Sumner celebrated their anniversary on Dec. 22. Congratulations. We wish you many more.

Lena and Bob Black, lot 267, arrived here by Christmas Eve and had some of their neighbors in for a Christmas Eve party. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ullman, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ullman, Mr. and Mrs. George Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lamon, Mrs. Myrtle Ehlenger and Bill Laing. On Christmas Day, the entire group went to Hilltop for dinner, and the day after, had a get together at the Leonard's. They are called "The Happy Holiday Get Togethers."

We are sorry to report that Rev. Hall passed away Dec. 23 at a Montreal hospital following surgery. Our sympathies to Mary. We hope he will return to our park and his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Vessant had dinner guests Raymond Gosner of Millsboro, Delaware, and Bill and Dot Blair from the park.

Happy Corner had another first - Lori and Jim Simpson, lot 311, hosted a smorgasbord Christmas Eve for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Walling, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Mix and and niece Susan, Mrs. Yvonne Webb, and last but not least Foogie. I hear that everyone enjoyed the treats.

Welcome to our returnees, Fred and Alice Plate of lot 266, Fred and Marie Pascoe of lot 317, Corbett and Betty Scott of lot 196, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dahlon of lot 333.

And welcome to guests, Walter Bourne on lot 254, William Laing on lot 118. Both are here for 3 months.

Holiday Outlines

BY RUTH BOWES
334-4946

Dick and Dot Clark, lot 358, spent a very pleasant Christmas with Dick's cousin at Lake Worth. They drove down after caroling on Christmas Eve and returned to the park on Friday.

Trudy and Eric Knabe, with their children Usha and Rick, are making their fifth trip to the park. The Knabes are from Markham, just outside Toronto, and will be here until Jan. 3rd.

Jean and Ralph Taylor and their children Betsy and Randy Fetter took a three day trip to the Keys, returning via the west coast points of interest.

Ernie and Bonnie St. Louis went to Lake Worth to spend Christmas with their friends who are flower growers. When they returned, they had their van filled with pots of gorgeous yellow mums. Grateful friends are now displaying the flowers on their patios.

Bob and Peggy Bruce are in from Nashville, Tenn. for a short visit on their lot 192.

George and Ernestine Spohrer and daughter Donna are here on lot 216. We wish they could visit their lot more often!

Betty Taylor is sporting a beautiful green turquoise ring, a gift from Carolynn and Jim Allen. Jim makes lovely jewelry and has also made Evie Smith an opal ring, and is working on a goldstone ring for Marvin Smith.

Peg and Al Ray are back from a six-day visit to Hialeah for Christmas with their family and friends down there. Good to see them back.

Ruth Jacobson is back from Jacksonville having had a grand Christmas visit. She will be shuttling back and forth from Fort Pierce to visit family.

Winnie Ballard had the joy of having her two daughters Pandora and Patricia for the holidays. They are from Canada.

Linda and Tommy Hall arrived from Lexington, Ky. with daughter Cindy, to stay for the holidays. Tommy brought down a beautiful Executive motor home this year. Linda's lovely voice graced the Sunday church services, to everyone's delight.

George and Olive Taylor left home at 6 a.m. Dec. 26, driving nearly straight through to get here on the 27th. Olive was delighted with the condition of her plants which friends have been nursing for them.

Evie and Marvin Smith accepted Joan Byrne's invitation to have dinner with the family on Christmas Day, and report having a whale of a time. Dinner was delicious. Evie finally solved Leslie's gift puzzle, and Marvin toured the airport with Roger, making a date to fly with him later on.

Twenty-one neighbors got together on Christmas Day and had a cooperative dinner at the rec hall. It was a physical impossibility to taste each one's contribution, but most of us made a darn good try!

Incoming tourists and residents report unprecedented traffic jams and crawling cars on the throughways. They say the side roads provided better time, if more miles.

The first Saturday in January, the 4th, will be the day for the Lot Owners Assn. to meet. This will be an important meeting, and everyone should turn out. Meeting will begin at 10 a.m. New members may join at any time - $5.00 first year, $3.00 thereafter. See Dan Schmidt, treasurer, lot 298, Bill Blair, chairman, lot 437, or Betty Taylor, acting sec'y, lot 56. They will be glad to take your money, and welcome you to the membership.

Palma Smaniotto is getting to use her VHO training lately. A newly arrived resident had her mother collapse in a suspected heart attack which fortunately proved to be otherwise. Between Marvin Smith, Palma, and the Jensen Samaritans, who were there in 7 minutes from receipt of the call, the emergency was met.

Last week's bridge scores were as follows:

Mary Sumner	6300
Mildred Stall	3920
Betty Reiser	3260

I will close with a wish to all - A Happy, Healthy New Year to all and may it be the best yet for all to enjoy.

DISCUSSION--Area leaders of the south county area gathered at the Port St. Lucie City Hall last Friday to seek out and discuss a solution to the ambulance situation in the south Port St. Lucie area has contracted for ambulance service through the City of Stuart, as has the area of Beau Rivage. Although it is not final as yet, it is expected the Stuart Police Ambulance will service only the City of Stuart effective April 1, 1975. Pictured above, left to right: R.A. Brodman and Roger A. Parris both representing the Beau Rivage Property Owners Association; David L. Stephen and John T. Moore, both from Spanish Lakes; Charles Fortenza, Chairman of PSL Hospital Board; Don White, Port St. Lucie-River Park Homeowners Association and Dr. Charles W. Hoyt, City Council sub-committee member.

Homemakers install officers

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Port St. Lucie Homemakers Club met December 12 for a Christmas luncheon and installation of officers. A beautiful Christmas tree and little angels at each table helped brighten the spirit of the season. Mrs. A. Anderson read the original poem titled "Blessed Are ..."

Following the luncheon, the guest of honor, Mrs. Carter Brock installed the officers for the coming year in an impressive ceremony symbolizing each officer as a link in a strong chain.

Members and guests then exchanged gaily wrapped gifts. Each member brought a present for a resident at the Hill Haven Home.

Mrs. Myrna Marenin was the lucky winner of the door prize.

Beardsley resigns; cites health

PORT ST. LUCIE--Franklin Beardsley, Vice Mayor of the City of Port St. Lucie, resigned from the City Council effective Dec. 31.

Beardsley received orders from his physician to resign his duties on the Council immediately as a result of exceptionally high blood pressure.

I had hoped to be able to fill out my term which would have ended on April 1, but this is now impossible, Beardsley said.

I have been in the hospital three different times this year which included a week in intensive care in Martin Memorial, another week spent at the Miami Heart Institute and then back in Martin Memorial again in April for another week. When I had my weekly checkup on Dec. 27 my blood pressure was exceptionally high and I was told by my doctor to get out immediately. He said he had issued a warning before and if I didn't follow his orders this time I needn't come back.

Beardsley said his only regret was that Mayor Larry Kimmel was out of town on vacation when this occurred.

I will be taking it very easy now. The only activity I will participate in, which gives me joy, is the Rotary Club in Stuart, he said.

Beardsley, an eight year veteran on the Council, has served as office manager, park commissioner, chairman of the Finance committee and vice-mayor. He was originally elected to the Council in 1967.

No action will be taken on Beardsley's replacement until the Mayor returns the first week of January, said Bernard Rubin, city administrator.

Lions change meeting dates

PORT ST. LUCIE--During the month of January, the Port St. Lucie Lions Club will hold their meetings on the first and third Tuesdays, it was announced by Bill Stroup, club president.

The change from Wednesday to Tuesday nights will apply to January only when the club will meet January 7 and 21 at the CESA building.

The board will meet at the home of Bill Stroup January 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Residents will have the opportunity of receiving free glaucoma tests Jan. 26, 27, 28 and 29 when the mobile unit will be in the area.

The unit will be at the Port St. Lucie Marina from 7:30 a.m. til 2 p.m. during the Pancake Breakfast on Jan. 26.

Location of the unit will be announced at a later date for the remaining three days, according to Stroup.

CESA schedule

PORT ST. LUCIE--CESA announces its monthly program starting January 1975. Two new classes are included in the schedule.

1. Astrology Class which is scheduled every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Those who are interested in this class, please call CESA 878-1388. There is still plenty of room for those who are interested.

2. The other class is a Vegetable Gardening class to be held every Monday night at 7:30. We are looking for more registration for this class also. This class will be very interesting to everyone who is interested in raising vegetables in Florida.

There is also to be held in January a Seminar on Investment and Economic Outlook for '75. This is scheduled for only one night, January 24 at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for this seminar.

Bingo will resume on Saturday, January 4 at 8:00 p.m. and Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. January 7 after a four week lay off because of the holidays. We are looking for a full house on every Tuesday and Saturday. Director Schuyler Sharpe says.

Deadline for Sandy Shoes tournament is January 6

PORT ST. LUCIE--Shuffleboard Club President Al McDonnell reminds all players who want to enter the Sandy Shoes Any Doubles tournament that January 6 is the deadline for signing up. Entrance fee is one dollar per person.

Cedric Benz hopes everyone will be finished with turkey and ready for pancakes and sausages on Sunday, January 5, when he will put on one of his famous breakfasts at the Marina. Tickets are available and can be had by calling Al McDonnell, 878-3137. Proceeds from the breakfast are to be donated to the Shuffleboard Club.

Tournament Directors Ralph Conley and Judd Reading ask that all league players report for practice at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 7, to get in shape for the two league games to be played on Wednesday, Jan. 8.

The Indian River League is scheduled to play at Whispering Creek. The Central League match will be at home.

FUND CHECKS--Mrs. Donald Graham, fund raising vice chairman for the Animal Rescue League Fund campaign, receives checks from Dennis Hudson, Jr., chairman of the board of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Animal Rescue League fund campaign tops $10,000

STUART--The Animal Rescue League fund raising campaign topped the $10,000 mark when Dennis Hudson, Jr., chairman of the board of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart, presented checks to the fund.

One check was from the First National Bank, and the second donation was Hudson's personal check.

"Our family has very warm feelings for the Animal Rescue League. I couldn't count the number of times our pointer Skip has been picked up and brought to the shelter. I feel very strongly that the Animal Rescue League deserves the support of all members of the community," Hudson said.

Economic picture bright

FORT PIERCE--In a statement issued for New Year's Day, the president of the local Chamber of Commerce predicted that while 1975 will be a time of certain financial strains, St. Lucie County's long term economic picture remains bright.

"Our citizens must not lose sight of the fact our community is located in one of the choicest positions in the nation," commented President Michael Jeffries. "Our climate is excellent. We have room for both residential and commercial expansion. We have sound governmental controls which should keep us from becoming a concrete jungle and protect our valuable agriculture industry."

Further Jeffries added, "we have good rail and port potential. We also can count on being one of the state's key traffic intersections when I-95 is completed in the not too distant future to the Fort Pierce Turnpike entrance."

"In short, every long-term indicator points to an extremely attractive future for St. Lucie County and its citizens," said the Chamber official.

Jeffries continued by pointing out that economic down-turns, such as the current one, have happened in the past and will happen again. "However, due to America's energy and vitality, the down turns have always been temporary set backs followed by lengthy periods of expansion. "Take for example St. Lucie County's recent history. In 1963 we were a federal poverty pocket. Ten years later we were enjoying record breaking prosperity," he said.

The Chamber president pointed out that while any economic back sliding is painful, the existing slump provides St. Lucie Countians with an outstanding opportunity to prepare for the growth certain to materialize when the current turn down is over.

"Let us not become over burdened by gloom. Instead, we must push forward with current planning efforts. Then let us implement those plans. In this way, St. Lucie County can be a leader when prosperity again appears on our state's horizon," he concluded.

Winter tournament

STUART--Recorded in the Sailfish Club Winter Tournament last week were: Ronald Kesselring of Apopka, Fla. with a 52 lb. 2 oz. king mackerel, while fishing on the Hobo with Capt. Jack Whitcar. Russel Egbert of Port St. Lucie, Fla., with a 10 lb. 1 oz. sea trout, and Mike Fogt of Stuart, Fla. with a 17 lb. 2 oz. red snapper, fishing on Doc's Out II with Capt. Mike Fogt.

Boating classes are scheduled

JENSEN BEACH--Flotilla 58, United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, will get activities underway in 1975 with the scheduling of its Basic Seamanship and Boating Skills twelve lesson course starting Tuesday, January 7th and closing February 14th, according to Commander Charles Koch.

As in the past, the class sessions will be held on Tuesday and Friday nights with two exceptions, starting at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association building, Commercial Street and Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach. Pre-registration will be held at Flotilla 58 headquarters, foot of Flagler Avenue, on January 3rd from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m., or prior to the first session.

Coast Guard boating accident statistics continue to provide an uncomfortable reminder of what can go wrong once away from the dock. Boats are swamped and their occupants thrown into the water, capsizings and sinkings lead to deaths by drowning, and fires and explosions can ruin your whole day.

Boat owners, and those thinking of purchasing a boat, have two judgement calls to make, namely: (1) how to tell when a boat is in safe working order, and (2) under what conditions is it safe to use the boat, assuming all systems are go. The largest cause of accidents and fatalities is due to operator error or negligence. Hazardous water is the second leading cause.

At the final session on February 14 Von Jourdan, well known longtime Charter boat captain, charter member of Flotilla 58 since 1942 and Commander in 1945, and Dr. Edgar Krust, past President of the Sailfish Club, instigator of the artificial fishing reef established off Stuart and a member of Flotilla 58, will present an up to date lecture on boat handling in inlets with emphasis on our own St. Lucie Inlet.

The course is designed for the entire family with the objective of providing the knowledge to potential and active boat owners that will enable them to enjoy boating in a manner safe to themselves as well as their fellow boaters. There is no charge except for textbook and materials fee of $4.00.

Call 287-0013 or 283-6785 for further information. Safe boating is no accident!

Nursing assistant class is set

FORT PIERCE--Indian River Community College will offer a nurse assistant training class at Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital from January 13 to February 2. Men and women from the ages of 18-60 years are welcome to attend these classes. Interviews will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Friday, January 10 in the Annex Building of Ft. Walter and Myrtle Daley left here on November 3 to visit his cousin Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stokes and Scottie of Ambler Pa., who had moved into a 101 year old house they bought last summer The house has 11 rooms and Walter and Myrtle painted the living and dining rooms while there and Walter went hunting in between times

Then they went to Bedford Co. Pa. for a visit with Walter's cousin Owen, Ester and Harry Rogers The Rogers bought a trailer and Walter built a pair of steps and porch for it The Daleys stayed there for a couple of weeks while Walter went deer hunting.

The Stokes came up from Ambler for Thanksgiving and they, the Rogers, Vernon Rogers, and the Daleys had dinner together

On December 1st, it started snowing in the evening and by morning there was a foot of snow the first Walter and Myrtle have seen in 18 years, and the worst snow storm they had had up there in 28 years Some telephone and light wires were down leaving some people without service for over a week But the roads were kept open

The Daleys returned to Ambler on December 15, where the Stokes had an open house which was attended by 150 or more people The Stokes daughter Mrs. Gary McGinty and Mrs. Daley served punch snacks and cookies Some young people from the church came and sang Christmas carols

On their way home, they stopped in Georgetown, Delaware to spend one night with Myrtle's brother who had been ill of health They arrived home in time for Christmas

We sure enjoyed the whole trip especially the snow the Daleys report

The law

3-87 Overspending the Budget

As finally adopted the itemized estimates of expenditures in the annual budget are fixed appropriations It is unlawful for the board to expend in any fiscal year more than the amount budgeted for each item in each fund. It is likewise unlawful for the board to contract to expend in any fiscal year more than the amount budgeted for each item in each fund. It is likewise unlawful for the board to contract to expend in any fiscal year more than the amount budgeted for each item in each fund. The individual county commissioners who vote for and contract for excess indebtedness are liable for the excess. No expenditure may be made which is not provided for in the budget but this does not preclude expenditures when the budget is amended in the manner prescribed by law.

Bank building to arrive

JENSEN BEACH—The Community Federal Savings and Loan Association building will arrive Wednesday, Jan 8 afternoon on the southwest corner of Savanna Road and Commercial Street.

The Jensen Beach office of Community Federal will be a modular type structure according to association officials.

Landscaping work started in November on the site and workmen have been putting the finishing touches on the area the past few days.

Association officials said that the office should be opened three or four days after delivery of the structure.

An investment by the association for the land and building will be about $285,000. Five persons will be employed at the facility.

Commissioners discussed the tax [illegible] at Tuesday's session with [illegible] Power pointing out [illegible] some taxing agencies are not under the rollback legislation as the commission is

Commissioner Powers noted that the Flood Control District (FCD) is one such agency and the FCD is imposing taxes on the county over which we have no jurisdiction

Local legislation approved by the voters Nov 5 holds county taxing agencies to a 10 per cent increase

Commissioners also voted to ask County Attorney Steve Calvert to seek an attorney general's opinion on the legislation

Powers said that the FCD millage on the increased county assessments would amount to 32 per cent

Jensen Beach's Grant Shaffer called on the commission to carry out its duty as required by state statute in the tax issue

Shaffer said that if the commission had carried out its responsibility on assessment we would not have the conditions we have today

The condition is beyond our control Commissioner Chairman Hoss Philbrick replied pointing out that the state had not approved the tax roll and hearings by the adjustment board have not been held

We strongly believe that there is a serious need to arouse a deeper sense of patriotism in our beloved country We are also convinced that America still holds to the principle of our Founding Fathers that we live under the guidance of Almighty God

We have witnessed a decline of respect for our beloved flag and it is time to begin demonstrating our love of God and Country. We are a small community, but we do have many visitors from all over the United States who will bear witness with us and elsewhere

Mr. President, we sincerely ask that you send us some type of greeting to be read at the service on the 16th of February

Post Commander Dick Neeson said that the U.S. Navy Band is scheduled to be at the ceremony

This will be one of the biggest events ever held in Jensen Beach, Neeson predicted

BY DONNIE WILKIE

STUART – It was midway through the third quarter at the Martin County High School Gymnasium and the Tigers were faced with the unenviable task of turning the tides on a surprisingly tough Lake Worth five. It was clearly the Trojans ball game at the time as they had reeled off 14 third stanza points to only two for Martin County. Oscar Delancy's only shot of the third quarter. The score stood firmly in control of the Trojans 45-38.

It was at this point that the entire complexity of the contest dramatically changed. Under immense pressure Don Wallen's rapidly improving Tigers stormed back to score 15 unanswered points and then neatly wrapped it up in the fourth quarter with fine defense 66-61.

Walter Campbell led the Tiger comeback as he threw in a total of 30 points on the evening.

Why did the Trojans suddenly come alive in the second half? Don Wallen offered an explanation after the game.

"They were jamming the middle and the one player who was supposed to clear out the area just stopped in the middle when someone bumped him. We had to get that defensive man out of there so that we could get a one-on-one situation. They were really playing a zone man to man defense and not many teams do that. But when our man stops right there in the middle it makes for a congested middle, and this is just what we don't want to happen."

This week the Tigers carry their 7-6 record into games with Ft. Pierce Central played last night in Ft. Pierce. Forest Hill and North Shore. They will meet the Falcons in Forest Hill Friday night then they will come back home for what has become a traditional battle with the North Shore Mustangs. The Mustangs feature 6-foot-6 inch Gerard Nelson, who is a junior and earned a pre season spot in Street & Smith's All American Honorable Mention.

PROUD PAPA – "You bet I'm proud," smiles Willard Auch, seen here with his daughter Barbara. Miss Auch a music major specializing in piano has been awarded a graduate fellowship by the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International. She will continue her studies in Florence, Italy.

A dream come true

JENSEN BEACH–Barbara Auch, daughter of Willard and Louise Auch of Venture Out, will soon be returning to Florence, Italy, to continue her music studies under the Rotary Foundation graduate fellowship program.

In 1971-72, while a student at the California State University, Northridge (CSUN), she was chosen by the International State Programs to be a participant in their program abroad at Florence. Since she had studied Italian two years prior to departure, Miss Auch was able to enroll at the University of Florence. The program offered a general course of study and was mainly concentrated in Italian language and history. She was chosen as Assistant Musical Coordinator for the program and helped to arrange for musical tours and the post-information for the students on musical events in the city. After having a talk with the Chairman of the Music Department, Maestro Orazio Frugoni it was arranged for her to study with one of his graduate students, Stefano Fiuzzi.

Since that time, it has been her goal to return to Florence and study at Villa Schifanoia. And now, her dream is going to come true.

Miss Auch began studying piano at the age of six. Throughout junior high and high school she was accompanist for many groups including school choirs, madrigal groups, the West Los Angeles Bureau of Music, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Woman's Chorus, Concertteen Group, the Bay Area Blast Association, and the Hadassah Junior Choir.

In high school, she was voted Best Musician and received the Most Talented Bank of America Award for Music. A gold plaque for Outstanding Scholastic Achievement in Music, Certificate of Outstanding Merit in drama and was given a Lions Club Scholarship.

At CSUN Miss Auch has been active in music related organizations and activities as a member of Sigma Alpha Iota Professional Music Fraternity, Phi Kappa Lambda National Honorary Society of Music, International Foreign Students Club secretary and member of the Circolo Italiano, CSUN, and pianist accompanist of the CSUN Women's Glee Club.

Each Rotary Foundation award covers costs of round-trip transportation, tuition, meals, lodging, intensive language training if necessary, and educational travel during the year. Abroad Award recipients strive for academic excellence during their studies abroad while serving as good will ambassadors through contacts with Rotarys Clubs and others in host countries.

Organized basketball starts Saturday

JENSEN BEACH – It has been a long, long two years to be precise since there has been organized basketball at Langford Park, but that will all change this Saturday afternoon at the basketball courts there, as Senior Division players will play in the first games of the regular season.

Last Saturday everyone got a preview of what's ahead as all three teams saw action in the jamborees. Here is a preview of the season:

CWA (10-1): With Chuck Bob Mar Lynch has got himself one heck of a team. Center John Wolf leads the scoring shared team the season. Wolf controls the CWA offense from his high post position with fast breaking guards David Kenny and Terry Wolf. Forwards Tim Dargis and Gregg Jackson add a strong scoring and rebounding game to the jamborees. The team won the Gold Coast Tires 11-0 and edged Pittman Insurance 9-7. Leading them in scoring was Dargis with five points, then came Terry Wolf, Kenny, and Jackson with four each and John Wolf with three. In short, it's really difficult to see either of the other two teams above CWA when the year comes to an end.

PITTMAN INSURANCE: Cal Montgomery's red shirts have emerged as about the only logical contender besides CWA. With John Driscoll at the pivot they could go all the way for the title. Helping the Pittman cause will be guards Jeff Smith and David Hutchins. Forwards Craig Keane and Ben Graham will try to get Driscoll's passes close to the basket and put the ball up for two as they frequently did against Gold Coast Saturday. In their other contest they blew a lead but WA late in the quarter and eventually lost 9-7. But that was only the eighth minutes of ballgame play so far, two four minute quarters, and they will definitely be a problem for CWA later. Make no mistake about it, Pittman will be in it right down to the wire.

GOLD COAST: Head Coach Frank Mack will have a big job ahead of him as he will try to mold the blue shirts of Gold Coast Tires into one smooth unit. He has one helpful ingredient of success present in his young team's tremendous hustle.

They showed lots of it last Saturday's last game of practice made its mark on the team as they scored only six points all day. But that will come if the players respond. They have the potential to be one of the better rebounding teams in the league with Mark Hall in the middle and Donnie Wilkie and Mike Schnurr on the front line. Aiding in the cause will be guards Mauricio Cano and Darrell Delancy. In their games Saturday Gold Coast got four points from Wilkie and two from Cheo Olivinguis. They need some scoring punch and they need some defense, but if they can close solutions they could challenge for the top spot.

The regular season gets underway at 1 p.m. this Saturday when CWA takes on Pittman's and then continues at 2 p.m. with the showdown between WA and Gold Coast. Get out and see the action. There is no charge to come and watch.

$25,000 CHECK – Mrs. Margie Bishop, MMHA president, presented a check in the amount of $25,000 to Jerry N. Chitwood, Martin Memorial Hospital administrator Monday. The check represents the pledge of the auxiliary made to the hospital for the 1974-75 year. The pledge was made for the purpose of remodeling the present business office area and construction of new office space. The new construction will make a new waiting room for patients being admitted to the hospital, two admitting offices and a coordinators office. Original plans called for the admitting offices will move to the newly constructed offices this week and the remodeling of the old area will be finished in February.

House fire reported

RIO – Fire Chief Bill Gunn of the Rio Fire Department reports a house fire at the home of Wilmon B. Spencer, 225 N. Spruce Ridge Trail North, Rivers Shores, on Monday.

The call was received at 12:29 p.m. Three trucks, two pumpers and a tanker and five men responded.

One bedroom was burned out and smoke did considerable damage to the rest of the house. Gunn said that information as to the probable cause of the fire and estimate of damage is not available at this time.

The acting volunteer fire chief, assisted by Fire Chief said the prompt response to the scene gave the volunteer fire crew an "A" rating.

Meanwhile, Chief Gunn also announced Martin County's 26 active volunteer fire departments and other agencies will observe Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, 1974.

Gunn also announced that the annual meeting of the Martin County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held in Stuart on January 20, 1975.

First Federal tops out new Hobe Sound building

HOBE SOUND-Topping off of the new Hobe Sound office building of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County was completed last week.

The new 2,500 square foot office, located on U.S. 1 approximately 800 feet north of Bridge Road, will be completed in about 60 days and open for business in early March, a spokesman said.

The current Hobe Sound office of First of Martin County was opened at its present location at 304 South A1A in April 1972. Application for the office was filed with the Federal Home Loan Bank of Atlanta in June 1971.

On October 24 1973 application was made to the Federal Home Loan Bank for the relocation in U.S. 1. A month later permission was given for the move and ground breaking for the new office was in August, 1974.

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County was chartered in 1958. It opened in February 1956 on Flagler Street and moved into its headquarters building on U.S. 1 in Stuart in 1961. The Jensen Beach Office opened in 1966 and moved to its current building in January, 1972.

New offices in Indiantown and Okeechobee will be opened in 1975.

The Hobe Sound office building was designed by William T. Vaughn, AIA Fort Lauderdale and is being constructed by Netto Construction, Inc. Vero Beach. It will contain a total of 2,500 square feet with 3,00 square feet on the mezzanine. Interior decorations are to be made by Estell Titterton, Inc. of Fort Lauderdale.

NEW HOBE SOUND BUILDING. Topping off ceremonies were held recently at the new First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Martin County Hobe Sound building located on U.S. 1. Present for the ceremony were: First of Martin County vice-president William D. Connolly, Paul J. Hennings president, Jane M. Roberts Hobe Sound Branch manager, and from Netto Construction, Inc. Edward M. Netto president and Marty Massac, job superintendent.

Sewall's Point agrees on tax levy

SEWALL'S POINT-Sewall's Point commissioners have given tentative approval to a tax levy of 2 mills for property owners to help finance a budget of $157,918.

Final figures depend on whether the state Department of Revenue approves the tax roll and on the changes which may be made by the Board of Tax Adjustment when it meets.

The proposed budget is well within the 10 per cent limit placed by voters last Nov. 5 when they approved a referendum to limit the taxing power of governing bodies.

The proposed 2 mill levy will give the town an estimated $62,567, more than enough to make the town eligible for state and federal revenue sharing funds. This year's millage levy was 3.5 mills.

Banker named chairman

STUART-Charles McLeod of the First National Bank of Stuart has been named campaign chairman of Martin County for the East Central Coast of Florida Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Middle School offers real estate appraisal course

STUART-A course in Real Estate Appraisal is offered for adults at 7 p.m. Monday evenings at Stuart Middle School, 575 Georgia Avenue, Stuart. The first meeting is January 20.

The twelve week course covers principles of appraising residential, multi-family, and small business properties.

Cost, income and sales approach are discussed together with the principles of feasibility analysis. Some sample problem solving will provide experience for the students.

Registration fee for the course is $2. Students will be required to purchase the recommended text which cost $4.

The course should be valuable to persons involved in real estate transactions either as sales representatives or as individuals who buy and sell properties.

For additional information about this and other adult education classes please call 287-6400 weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Sailfish Squares name officers

JENSEN BEACH-The Sailfish Squares old and new steering committees met at the Hosken home on Jan. 2 and named the 1975 officers.

They chose Hank and Ruth Erdman to be the new president. Frank and Virginia Silla will back them up as vice-president. Bob and Kay Beardsley were named secretary and Reg and Pat Doughty are the treasurer.

Membership and social chairs will be filled by Al and Edyth Byrnes and Lou and Tess Falce respectively.

The Sailfish squares are still dancing at Tropical Acres Mobile Home Park on Route 723 this week from 8 to 10:30 p.m. with the club caller Jack Hosken and Ed and Beulah Jamieson cuing the rounds.

An American Square Dance Magazine Subscription Dance is planned for Feb. 5 at Spanish Lakes. For further information contact Hosken at 334-5446 or square dancers from Spanish Lakes as an invitation is required for guests.

The Squares are already making plans for the fall and winter of 1975 including having Stan Burdick back for a 1976 Subscription Dance.

CETA Director speak to AAUW

JENSEN BEACH-Walter Peterson director of CETA for Martin County will be the speaker at the Saturday, Jan. 11 meeting of the American Association of University Women at 10 a.m. in the First National Bank's Board Room. CETA Comprehensive Employment Training Act of 1973 will be discussed in the Community Career Development Center in Kawasaki City on Dixie Highway Road in conjunction with the Florida State Employment Service Career Education office. Mr. Peterson's talk should be particularly timely in view of our current economic uncertainties.

In addition, the question of establishing a Women's Resource Center to be staffed by AAUW and NOW will be brought up to the membership for discussion and vote. Other business will include naming a nominating committee and organizing a gourmet dinner for the February meeting.

On January 14 members will bring AAUW to the teachers at Martin County High School to inform them about the organization and invite them to join. Refreshments will be served in the teachers' cafeteria.

Down-to-earth speaker at center

JENSEN BEACH-A former research chief with the Ohio Mason Center research team turns his attention to the down-to-earth problem of waste water on the next First Wednesday presentation at the Environmental Studies Center 255 Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach at 8 p.m. Wednesday January 8 today.

Dr. David Woodbridge now head of the Science Education Department of Florida Institute of Technology's Melbourne campus will present an illustrated lecture entitled "Money to You from Wastewater" at the Center's auditorium. The public is cordially invited.

He joined the FIT faculty in 1962 becoming head of the Department of Physics a post he held until 1968. He formed the Department of Science Education in the late 1960's.

His interest in pollution and environmental problems led him to develop the nation's first continuously operating plant using nuclear methods for treating waste water.

Dr. Woodbridge's presentation delayed one week because of the New Year's holiday is open to the public. There is no charge.

Dr. Nehme to speak at JDF meeting

JENSEN BEACH-Dr. David Nehme urologist from Stuart will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Indian River Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation-JDF.

The meeting under the leadership of the Foundation's new president, Mrs. Janet Lavery, is scheduled for Monday Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the FT. Pierce Community Center.

Interested persons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. For further information call 334-4611, 334-5482 or 334-0978.

JB Garden Club plans celebration

JENSEN BEACH-The Jensen Beach Garden Club will celebrate an important anniversary at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 15 in the Fellowship Hall of the Community Church. The club is 25 years old.

Captain E. B. Ing will be the guest speaker with "Growing Orchids" as his subject. He has been interested in orchids since 1962 when California friends persuaded him to take care of their plants while they were out of town. His interest grew into a hobby when he started growing his own plants. When he retired and moved to Florida he brought 700 plants with him and had a greenhouse constructed on his property in Stuart.

So much interest was shown in the orchids that in 1971 Ing went commercial and his hobby has become a lucrative pastime. He rents orchids for parties and other occasions as well as selling them.

Guests wishing to attend this special meeting may contact any member or Mrs. Clifford Greenland, hospitality chairman at 334-2498.

Recycling schedule is told

STUART-Starting a new "recycling" year in Stuart, Reynolds Metals Co. mobile aluminum recycling unit will purchase all aluminum cans and other household aluminum scrap from the public every other Friday.

From 11:30 a.m. till 1 p.m. on Fridays, Jan. 10 and 24, the unit will be at the Publix Supermarket Snack Area US 1 to pay 15 cents per pound for the aluminum.

Presently there are 62 locations throughout the state where Reynolds Metals Co. purchases aluminum and new stops are constantly being added said Paul Hayden, Reynolds regional recycling manager.

A statewide toll free information service on recycling aluminum scrap has been initiated by Reynolds.

From anywhere in Florida any week day from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m. a person may find the most suitable location and time to recycle aluminum by dialing 1-800-282-7792.

Jensen resident gets degree

JENSEN BEACH-A Jensen Beach resident was among the 1,300 students receiving degrees from Florida State University in December.

Curtis Coulter, 628 South Indian River Drive, received his BS degree in business management.

Ruth Bowman is Mirror monthly artist

JENSEN BEACH-Ruth Bowman fast becoming one of the most prominent artists in the area opened her one woman show in the lobby of The Mirror Monday. The show will be continued through the end of the month of January.

Mrs. Bowman is the wife of Willard Bowman and lives on Jeanette in Jensen Beach.

She has been painting for five years, three of them on a full time basis. Her paintings have become more and more professional as time has passed, and she is now in demand as an instructor for private lessons and for lectures given by the adult education department of the Martin County school system and Indian River Community College.

Mrs. Bowman's interest in art comes from childhood but it wasn't until a few years ago when as society editor of The Mirror she began taking courses part time and learning the art of painting.

Since then she has caught the imagination of local artists and her paintings and portraits hang in many homes in the area.

Two years ago Mrs. Bowman painted a composite of hurricane photographs to produce the color cover of The Mirror's hurricane edition.

A member of the Martin County Art Associates, Mrs. Bowman has won many blue ribbons in shows and has exhibited in art shows throughout the east coast of Florida.

The exhibit is a part of the continuing monthly displays of local artists in The Mirror lobby. Open hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

It doesn't make sense

The City of Stuart operated its sewage plant in violation of state law for many years, dumping millions of gallons of highly chlorinated effluent into the St. Lucie River along its shoreline.

When The Mirror pressed for changes in operations of local and state health departments, and fought for enforcement of health laws, all in 1971, the City of Stuart was among those violating the law.

The city, at that time, was making every effort, however slowly, to right the wrongs and put in a sewage plant that would properly treat and dispose of sewage. In 1972, the city began getting its program off the ground, and since then has spent more than $500,000 expanding and modernizing its sewage plant.

The city went for deep-well injection, a method we oppose, but a method that is approved by the state.

Now the state wants the city to put a pipeline out into the same St. Lucie River to use as an emergency disposal in the event something happens to the deep well.

It doesn't make sense.

The St. Lucie River is polluted enough, silted enough, and needs a thorough cleaning. It's waters are slowly trying to bring back a healthful state to the river bottom, and the addition of a sewage pipe doesn't seem the proper way to look out for the environment.

In 1971, 1972 and 1973, The Mirror suggested that treated effluent, rich in nutrients, be used to water grass in parks with aerial spray. The parks would be green, the water would evaporate, and the environment would be spared.

We seldom cry with alarm without offering an alternative. In this case, we cry with alarm and offer aerial irrigation as the alternative to adding potential pollution to the already crippled St. Lucie River.

Support Zeke Hollis

It is an impressive list of volunteers who have moved to the aid of Martin County Zoning Inspector Zeke Hollis. The victim of kidney problems has had a fund set up to aid him in the high cost of kidney treatments.

But there is more.

The fund might be used to establish a kidney dialysis center at Martin Memorial Hospital. This would benefit many kidney patients and reduce the cost of treatments to a great degree.

People of Martin County have always risen to meet the need of a friend in trouble. We support and hope all support the Zeke Hollis Fund, and urge all readers to send a small contribution to the fund at First National Bank and Trust Co., Stuart, Florida.

Grease for the COG

The Council of Governments of Martin and St. Lucie Counties, and the cities therein, plan the first get together for 1975 on January 30.

COG has sputtered and coughed to a halt in its first year.

January 1974 saw COG beginning with great hopes for the coordination of governmental activities during that year past. But nothing ever got off the ground.

Meetings were announced, and then cancelled without notice. Sometimes some would show up and other times others would show up. Of the few meetings held, only once or twice was there a full complement of governments represented.

And then all they did was to talk about what COG might do.

Nothing was done.

It is our hope that regular meetings of COG are held this year, and that recommendations to the various governments be approved and taken to those governments for consideration.

The first subject might just be the savannas.

Palms on the drive

Jensen Beach has an unusual opportunity to create a beautiful drive of palm trees. Small palms, resistant to the lethal yellowing disease, have been offered by Bill Matheson to the community to be distributed and cared for.

Tim Tealey, dean of Florida Institute of Technology in Jensen Beach has offered to head a committee that would place the palms all along Indian River Drive, from the school to the county line.

The only requirement is that property owners take care of the palms, and help them to grow.

Anyone who has driven into Ft. Myers and seen the highway lined with beautiful, fully grown palms, can only be excited by the prospect of such a drive along the Indian River.

It is our hope that the Chamber of Commerce assists in the project by contacting local property owners along the drive and encouraging them to install the palms and maintain them.

It is an ambitious project, and one that will have a long lasting beautifying effect upon the drive and upon Jensen Beach. A few months of care is all that is needed to get the palms growing, and then only occasional maintenance.

We thank Bill Matheson for the gift, and FIT for the leadership. The rest is up to us.

"It fits..!"

Newspaper cost-cutting

Nostalgia grips the world, and even Malcolm Johnson is caught up by it.

Malcolm recently wrote a piece about copy paper notebooks in its vindicated column. The dean of Florida editors Johnson had some nostalgia wrapped into his depression proof notebook, and told how newspapers in the old days cut ends of dead reels kept them down.

I've always said that if I wanted to make money I certainly wouldn't get into the newspaper business. Those cost-cutting ideas are there for a reason. The bean-counters do not make much money.

When one newspaperman mentions cheap gains it doesn't cause a deterioration to do so, and Malcolm's remarks brought many other ideas.

So he wrote a second one on cost-cutting ideas, prodding the readers.

Of course I'm reminded of some ideas we use today.

Most reporters started finding newsprint out from the waste of a reel of newsprint.

We use the whole reel end.

Besides being cheap, it keeps a complete story together for typesetting.

When the press is running, the newspaper's roll of newsprint has about six inches left when rolls are changed. We take those rolls and them into eight inch rolls, and put the roll behind the typesetter. The paper just feeds into the typesetter, and we have it all when each story is done.

It saves money, provides an almost free supply of paper, and since the typesetter gets used to working with a long sheet of paper, it is easier to set up type.

There was a time when we used the end rolls for layout boards, but that was before the entire shop was computerized. We didn't use the layout paper. The only time that they really get their hands dirty is when they mop the newspapers up. Wednesday. In olden days nostalgia again, all the bathrooms used the rolls hanging up so that you could tear off a piece to dry your hands.

No one uses pencils, except to fine-tune parts of design. We touch up a little so we don't lose pencils like they did back then. We lose pens, felt tip pens by the dozen. And as months go by I don't know what happens to them. We're not trying them on things, but the ends always run the strings.

I would say that besides the copy paper rolls in typewriters the only other thing that I feel is original is the notebook receipt book that I carried for years.

I had a batch of sales books printed and would carry them in my big pocket. I'd use them for notes, selling subscriptions, giving receipts for advertising, and starting barbecue fires.

I can remember mixing and using toilet paste instead of glue and while a $4.00 a week neophyte at the Sikeston Standard in Missouri I can remember taking home sheets of newsprint to put between the blanket and the sheet to keep me warm at night. In that way I didn't have to turn on the heat.

Old Charlie Blanton, editor of the Standard, was the best, though. He would count the pieces of layout paper we would use and show us how much waste there was at the end of the week.

Today I am trying to get the typesetters to cut off the film closer to the end of the tape, get Dennis to make more pictures on the same piece of photo paper. Ask Alice into one shot of the same scene. Charlie already does that, and have layout use up the little pieces of layout paper before cutting into a big one.

And, thirty years from now, that too will be nostalgia, and I hope Malcolm Johnson writes about that in that point of time.

Volunteer plan

Martin County commissioners have been asked to establish a recreation program as a way to combat juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Walter Stokes, well-known Martin County conservationist told commissioners that a county-wide recreation program was the least expensive way to deal with delinquency.

Jensen Beach area commissioner Ross Philbrick disagrees with Dr. Stokes.

I agree with Commission Chairman Philbrick.

Dr. Stokes admits that Jensen Beach is doing an outstanding job with its recreation program.

On this point, I agree with Dr. Stokes.

As long as we have an outstanding recreation program in Jensen Beach, with the community spirit we have and the many volunteers we don't need a paid recreation director with a staff.

That is where the money comes in to the picture.

Commissioner Philbrick last May proposed the county-wide recreation program, and asked for feedback from the public on the idea.

He got the feedback from Jensen Beach volunteers who had helped build Langford Park into one of the finest parks in the state.

When Philbrick first proposed the county-wide program, he estimated that it would cost the taxpayers $80,000 for the first year.

Last week Philbrick said that the cost would come to $200,000 in a few years.

The juvenile crime cancer in Martin County rose at an alarming rate, according to officials.

It is doubtful that a recreation director with a well-trained staff would cut into the juvenile crime rate.

It might help, but it would not be a cure.

You cannot force a kid to get into recreational programs, the established baseball, football, basketball or any new programs.

St. Lucie County spends something like $350,000 for a recreation program with a paid recreation supervisor and staff.

I would think that St. Lucie County has a juvenile delinquency program.

The City of Stuart has a paid recreation supervisor with staff.

What is the City of Stuart's juvenile problem?

We have volunteers, involved parents and a community spirit in Jensen Beach.

Here a full-time college trained recreation director with a staff and see how long the community spirit with volunteers last.

Instead of trying to package the kids into programs, plan their play or package their imagination, we should use the facilities that we already have: schools with books to stimulate their thinking, church libraries to occupy their minds.

Instead of paying a director $25,000 build more bike trails or in Jensen Beach a bike trail.

I still see kids playing ball in the streets, football, baseball or batting a tennis ball around.

And there are still enough cans around for the boys to play kick the can enroute to the school bus.

We can always go from volunteers to a paid director, and then if the director doesn't do the job fire him. Place the blame is fast getting to be the American way.

What we need to do

WASHINGTON—Hectic, sometimes confusing and almost always frustrating, that was 1974.

It was a year of upheaval, both politically and economically.

But the first time in our nation's nearly 200-year history, a sitting President resigned. Again for the first time in history, the White House was occupied by a President not elected by the people.

And, in still a third precedent-shattering act ended the year with President and Vice President both chosen under the provisions of the 25th Amendment to the Constitution, not by a vote of the people.

On the economic side 1974 started out as a year of runaway inflation. And it ended with our economy under attack on two fronts: inflation and recession.

Even the energy crisis, upon us when 1974 began, was still with us when the year ended.

But while it will be a year of plusses and minuses as are most years, it will also be a year of challenge.

It will be a year of challenge because there are many, many jobs to be done.

Our tax system must be reformed to equalize the burden, to insure no one escapes their fair share of taxes.

Our welfare system must be completely overhauled so that only the handicapped, the sick and the elderly are helped, not those who deliberately choose not to work.

Our Social Security system must be revamped so that older Americans can enjoy a measure of the rest and relaxation their years of labor merit.

In addition, all Americans must be given some form of protection against catastrophic expenses in the form of heart disease, cancer and kidney disease, which can bring bankruptcy to almost every family in which it strikes.

Right of these crucial issues lies Social Security welfare reform and catastrophic health insurance, all within the purview of the House Committee on Ways and Means. The committee on which I will be assigned when the 94th Congress officially convenes later this month.

It was with a great deal of regret that I stepped down from the House Public Works Committee to join the Ways and Means Committee. And it took a great deal of long and hard contemplation.

But I am convinced the Ways and Means Committee is an assignment which will allow me to do more to protect the pocketbooks and wallets of the people of the 10th Congressional District, the State of Florida and the nation.

And that should be the prime consideration of every member of Congress.

I am also convinced that America still holds to the principle of our Founding Fathers that we live under the guidance of God.

We have witnessed a decline of respect for our beloved flag and it is time to begin demonstrating our love of God and Country. We are a small community, but we do have many visitors from all over the United States who will hear witness with us and elsewhere.

Mr. President, we sincerely ask that you send us some type of greeting to be read at the service on the 16th of February.

Wishing you and yours God's blessing in the new year, we are,

Respectfully yours,
Richard Newson, Commander
American Legion Post 126
Frank R. Alvarez, Pastor
All Saints Episcopal Church

Fit the hole?

Every now and then someone approaches me saying they sent an article into The Mirror but it wasn't published as originally written.

I just can't understand it. They left out the names of the committee members which were a part of my story. They will say:

"What happened to the end of my story, or the picture I sent with it that didn't get in the paper?"

I feel I owe time to time the individual thanks—it is only his particular article that has been omitted or cut down.

It just isn't so. I tell them as I try to explain just how these things happen.

I point out how all items or pictures must fit the allotted hole. It then don't matter the responsibility of the composition department to make them fit. If the article is lacking, it will be cut down to fit.

This is the reason important facts must be put as close to the beginning as possible.

Let me assure you, the composition department, headed by The Mirror's business manager, Osa Campbell with an able assist from the editor knows no favorites.

It makes absolutely no difference who has written it or who has taken the picture. It all doesn't fit the hole, it doesn't go.

I recall a classic example when a page of pictures was being laid out for a social club. Among them was the picture of a man who had won a contest for the prettiest legs. Being short of space for the full length picture, the comp department ran a picture of the legs only.

But, be that as it may, if our contributors ever had a sympathetic listener it is me, especially this week.

Being a comparative newcomer in the editorial department I have my problems too.

The most difficult task I have is writing a column, the same column you will recall my editor said would become easier as time passed.

It just isn't so.

Sometimes I feel my problems of producing a column are insurmountable as I sit with my fingers on the typewriter keys staring at the blank sheet of paper.

In reporting news you have a few jumbled notes to use as a starter, but a column is yours alone.

As many times as not, I hear the deadline without even an idea.

Last week was a perfect example.

A considerable struggle ensued between my original thoughts and the finished product, but I succeeded in getting the twelve inch column the editor required.

I sweated it in James Joyce, the typewriter, long after deadline time and pleaded for her to set it immediately.

Although she agreed, she informed me I would take the axe if I ole were given for procrastination.

Later on Tuesday afternoon the editor appeared at my desk demanding to know where he could expect the balance of my copy.

Receiving his answer, he headed back to the comp department saying, "Oh, we had to cut your copy this week, Hickey."

"What copy?" I asked.

Nothing much just half your column," he said.

It just didn't fit the hole.

Letter to the editor

The committee for God and Country Day has sent the following letter to President Gerald Ford.

The Honorable Gerald Ford
The President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C.
Dear Mr. President:

We, the undersigned, respectfully represent American Legion Post 126 and All Saints Episcopal Church of Jensen Beach, Florida.

The American Legion Post and the local Episcopal congregation will sponsor the first annual God and Country Day on Sunday, February 16, 1975 in the auditorium of Florida Institute of Technology in Jensen Beach. This event will be non-sectarian and the public will be invited to attend. We will invite all fraternal, civic, patriotic and service organizations as well as all the churches in Martin County.

We strongly believe that there is a serious need to arouse a deeper sense of patriotism in our beloved country. We

PL 93-289 provides National Service Life Insurance policies prefixed by "RS" or "W" will, for the first time, receive annual dividends commending Jan. 1, 1975.

Servicemen discharged between April 25, 1951 and December 31, 1956 were given 120 days following separation to apply for non-convertible 5 year level premium term insurance numbered with an RS prefix. In 1958 the Act was amended to let holders of RS insurance convert to any of six permanent plans known as "W" insurance.

The dividends provided by PL 93-289 may be authorized under any of the following options

1. Cash
2. Paid-up additions
3. P.l 36 credit (dividend is held as a credit, at interest, to be used to pay premiums, automatically, in the event of lapse)
4. Deposit (dividend is held, at interest, to be added to policy reserve to purchase extended insurance in the event of lapse). This option not available on term policies

Venture Out News Notes

BY (THE PINCH HITTERS)

BY FRAN TENER

The holiday activities have slowed down, but visitors are still coming and going

Theo Slagle tells me that the news on her street includes lots of action at the Ravinets Their family has been off on a side trip to Orlando and then back here It is always a pleasure to see that beautiful family

Isabelle and Ernie Ravinet did some baby sitting for Sam Tucker's grandchild Their own granddaughter was scheduled to do it, but when she was not available they pinch hit for her and found little Cyrus a bright, lively boy and enjoyed the evening at the Tuckers house Cyrus his mother and father Cindy and Bob Merrill left for California and planned to go skiing the very next morning I think they enjoyed Florida but missed the snow

Betty and Paul Drinkard have had visitors too Betty's cousin his wife and three children had a good chance to see the life style here and had a merry time Unfortunately when their daughter delivered the recreation schedule to us I greeted the news Betty and she is now sewing to let her hair grow long to indicate she is a she Can anyone tell us that was?

Rose Finkelman Sara Valaros sister has left for the north leaving husband Charlie to enjoy this weather for a while Rose is the bursar for a private school and their holiday vacation is now over Since Miss Rose loves her work and the school would require three people to replace her she doesn't even plan books for a day Charlie is now retired but Rose continues to go to school where the teachers parents and the children all fondly call her Miss Rose Come back Easter vacation Rose We miss you

Bobbi Ostertag went to her parents for Christmas and now has her daughter and her family from New York visiting her They all know this place well and always enjoy it

How can we be so lucky to have a next door neighbor like Catherine Higgins? Every now and then there is a light knock at the door and there stands Catherine with some marvelous goody for us like strawberry shortcake with mounds of whipped cream and she always has a twinkle in her eye because she knows that we will have pangs of conscience about our weight as we gobble up the goodies We don't know whether to call her the good fairy or the little devil

Helen Frederickson's family left Friends will arrive today and leave Wednesday after a short visit The guest room bed will hardly have a chance to cool off when the next guest arrives And so it goes But Helen enjoyed her family and is looking forward with real pleasure to having her friends here A cruise trip is also in Helen's future so she is a busy gal these days

BY THELMA SLAGLE

Jean and Gil Van Willigens son John his wife Jackie and daughters Ann and Julie from Lexington Ky visited them for the Christmas holidays They did a lot of fishing and were quite successful

Jessie and Lester Shaver spent the holidays with her sister and daughter in Miami and Mother Cochran who returned home with them to spend some time here Their granddaughter Sharon and grandson Thomas came up to spend the weekend with them They are enjoying being at the ocean and fishing

My holidays were made complete by the visit of my niece Rebecca Palanski and her husband Charles from Barnet Ohio They are staying with her parents Woodie and Cass Hoppler of Spanish Lakes Their great joy is in fishing in the Indian River and believe me they are really lucky They are also spending some time at the beach

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAS

Because of an early deadline the following items were omitted from last week's column

A most Happy Healthy New Year is our wish for each of you

Also twenty went caroling here on Sunday Dec 22nd which delighted many folks who came out to applaud us Returning to the hall afterward we were rewarded with delicious refreshments brought in by many under the guidance of Alice Stoddard A good time was enjoyed We are grateful to Alice also for keeping us singing

Doris and Lee Tucker enjoyed their visitors Mr and Mrs W W Wittemore from McLean Va and Deerfield Beach Fla for New Years

Fern and Ed Hill had as visitors Fern's daughter Wanda Stygler her husband Bill and their children Kim and Billy from Columbus Ohio They enjoyed five days here swimming in the ocean a great deal of the time

The highlight of this week's activities was certainly our New Year's Eve party which was attended by 41 Without any specific planning and on a mix of what can we do as there was nothing the party was enjoyed by all There was some card playing dancing to the stereo and tape recordings taken and played back to our amusement A comically dressed character walked slowly thru the center of the hall giving us many hearty laughs at his expression and Garth Gene Krakaur is a very good sport We are grateful to Dick Bradley for the use of the tape recorder and also for adjusting our stereo System of records were also played which wound up the evening

Edna and Bill Eastman prepared the tables on which Bill beautifully wrote Happy New Year also making a banner for the wall

Balloons were hung in the center of the room Midnight found us all greeting each other in a most affectionate manner Much good food was set out to enjoy all evening

In spite of no definite planning all had an enjoyable evening

We were grateful to Karl Rosengarth who played piano for us at our Christmas dinner which I failed to mention It is always a joy to have the piano used

The community social meeting Jan 2nd was well attended Chairman gave reports Social chairman Gene Krakaur remarked at pleased he was the New Years party turned out so well Dec Bingo gave a report on shuffling She has been getting working people to shuffle night and other plans are in the Sunday Services on Dec. 29, under the leadership of Reverend Clarke Thompson were well attended. Delores Brink was the organist, Linda Hall the soloist and pianist, and Richard Dubion performed the lasman duties. Mark Sumner, Dick Dubion and Harold Landis were the ushers.

With a growing attendance, services on Jan. 5 were led by Reverend Clarke Thompson in lesson and prayer. Stanley McCart did the lay duties. Delores Brink was organist and Linda Hall, soloist and pianist. Bing Crosby, Mark Sumner, and Harold Landis served as ushers.

A little early, perhaps, but we will have the Palm Beach Sound Bible College Senior Choir here on Sunday, Jan. 26. Everyone is invited to come and hear this wonderful talented choir.

Sub-committee: Trudy and Nelson Beatty, Pinnies and Zoe Bennett, Petrie and Bill Chaisson, Dick Clark, Rita Dobson, Letha and Maurice Foote, Peg and Clancy Guthrie, Roland Koepsell, Bob Murphy, Al Taylor.

Administrative support: Hal Holmes.

If I ever have to plan another fete I certainly hope to work with these fine individuals. They were great.

The Fred Rodes Trio was excellent. Zoe Bennett was Father Time and John Simanotto was our baby New Year. Very good. The snack trays were lovely and delicious.

Lot owners meeting was held on Jan. 4 with a fair attendance. Those present were interested and articulate. Dr. J. A. Vansant chaired the meeting in the absence of Bill Blair, who was ill. Quite a few members took the opportunity to pay their 1975 dues, which incidentally are now due.

Shuffleboard players will have a meeting on Jan. 8 at 1 p.m. in the rec hall. Deadline for registering for the 1975 Tournament is Monday, Jan. 13. The games will start Monday, Jan. 13 for the ladies, Tuesday, Jan. 14 for the men, and mixed all play is on Friday, Jan. 17. Play starts at 1 p.m. Please be prompt!

The new Medical Self Help training course starts on Friday, Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in our rec hall. Everyone is welcome and urged to take this valuable training. Sign up in the lower rec hall for 12 hours - six weeks - of vital information taught by Kathie Budd, a Civil Defense EMT.

Bridge lessons are beginning in the rec hall on Thursday afternoons at 2 o'clock. The instructor is George "Mac" McPherson, one of the south's most brilliant bridge experts. Everyone interested in learning the game or improving their own game should not miss this opportunity.

Beginners Square Dance instruction began this week on Tuesday night, 7 p.m., with Intermediates at eight. This is a fun thing, and good exercise two evenings Tuesday night.

Dick and Dot Clark are going to show their smiles of the west coast of South America including a trip to Machu Picchu - 8000 feet up in the Andes - following the potluck supper on Wednesday, Jan. 15.

The demand for sewing classes has brought forth results. Karen Bancroft will begin sewing instruction Friday morning at ten. Here is an inflation beater that pays off in chic and style.

Activities are resuming now after the holiday hiatus. Ballroom dancing on Monday and Wednesday. Choral group on Tuesday mornings. Arts and Crafts on Wednesday morning. Square Dancing on Tuesday evening. Art class on Friday afternoon. Swimming Friday afternoon at one. Traveling Spanish on Monday morning.

It's not too late to join any of them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Watt of New Jersey spent a few days with their aunt and uncle Lena and Bob Black on their way south to the Keys.

Cathy and Les Ullman entertained their niece and nephew, Ethel and Bob Schildhorn for a week. This was their first experience at trailer living and they are all ready for seconds. Ethel is the daughter of Carrie and Charles Ullman.

Mary and Bill Porter, with the help of Ila Taylor, had a Happy Corner Buffet supper Saturday night. It was attended by Pastey Garret, an old friend, Steve Nance, Dares and Jeffrey Solomon from Woodhaven, N.Y., the Kimes, the Aubins, the Arrowsmiths, Helen Stumph, Erna Mix after the Simpsons, the Wallings, the Cahills and children, the Falls, the Hunters, who furnished some beautiful guitar music to finish the evening with the Yankovitches, the Guthries, the Trupanos, and their grandchildren, and newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ferguson. Janice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trupano.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McCabe celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary Saturday. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. John Vetterl in a dinner party at a restaurant in Fort Pierce.

Jerry and Jim Belmore, from Wilmington, Mass., are returning home Jan. 8 after a pleasant stay in the park. We do hope they return soon and stay longer.

Edna and Joe Vansant were hosts to Raymond Goslee from Millsboro Del. and Dot and Bill Blair for dinner. The Goslees are not living in Stuart.

We had the most pleasant surprise Sunday. Our niece, June Carleton, great niece Lila Nava, and great great nephew Joel Earl came in for a week's visit. And a good friend, Sally Johnstone from Michigan. Our baby has grown from 2 lbs. 11 oz. to 13 lbs. in 8 months. They are on lot 162.

Doris and Max Rimmel, from Timber Lost Country Club in Indiana, are in for two months. This is their first year on lot 91. Stop by and say hello to the new owners.

We have heard from Lola and Andy Helms. They were unable to come to Holidays Out last year, but will be here in '75. This is good news to their many friends.

Mary and Adrian Nemeth, lot owners in Holidays Out, entertained friends and neighbors at a New Years Open House in their new Jensen Beach home.

Guests from Holidays Out were Dot and Bill Blair, Grace and John Carson, Ned and Bud Helm, Martha and Jim Lewis, Betty and Mac O'Donnell, Mac's sister, Millie Furman, and Carl Townsend.

Ned and Bud Helm of Webster Groves, Mo. arrived Sunday, Dec. 29 for their fourth season in the park. They joined their friends for the New Year's Eve gala at the rec hall.

Winnie and Allan Pohl have moved to their new lot, no. 582, after renting a lot for several seasons.

* * *

Santa was especially good to Ethel Pinkleseyer when he delivered a new Buick to her.

Martha and Claude Desmarteau, from Montreal, Canada, are here in the park for their fifth season, bringing daughter Carol and her friend Louise Carignean. Claude and the girls must leave on the 10th, but Martha will stay on for three more weeks. Carol and Louise have been charming all who heard them with their guitar and song renditions.

Edna and Joe Vansant held a cocktail party for some of their numerous friends on New Year's Day.

The Byrnes of West Palm Beach came in for New Year's Eve, and Roger stayed on with Leslie and Danny when Josh went back to work Thursday morning. She came up again on Friday to stay for the weekend.

Helen and Gil Hill arrived to spend four months on lot 98. With them for awhile are their friends Mary and Henry Bonin of Holden, Mass. The Bonins had a terrifying experience on the way down. In Henry's words, "On December 27 at 2 a.m. we rendezvoused with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill in Worcester, Mass. Mr. Hill led the way toward New York City through Connecticut. At 9 a.m. disaster struck us through a brake malfunction. The trailer whipped the car off the divided road into the snow. When all the action had stopped the trailer was resting on its roof, still attached to the car. Fortunately, we were not hurt and the car didn't have a scratch. After having the wrecked trailer righted and taken to a lot behind a garage, we salvaged what possessions we could, sent them back home, then continued on to Florida with our friends. At the present we are staying with the Hills while looking for a replacement trailer. We certainly hope the Bonins enjoy their stay in Hill. and have much better luck in the year ahead."

Carl and Joan May of Sparta, Michigan, came in Friday to spend two months on lot 198.

Betty and Art Nagy and Helen Allison came up Tuesday for the New Year's Eve party, the Canteen Gang threw. Twenty-two people attended, bringing snacks and drinks.

Mildred and Chuck Armock, Sparta, Mich. are back in the park, this time to spend three months on lot 230.

Jean and Ralph Taylor said goodbye to their children, Betsy and Randy Fettes. The Taylors took them to the plane on Saturday evening.

Gladys and Howard Kirkpatrick were unable to come up for New Year's Eve because Gladys had contracted a bad cold, but thank goodness, she mended fast enough to make it up for the weekend.

Sandra Bill, Lorraine and Miranda Smith, with Sandra's mother Doris Brand, have gone back to chilly Toronto.

Mary and Luther Traynor came in on Sunday before New Year's, bringing along son Dennis and his family. The younger Traynors will stay only a short time, but Mary and Luther plan to stay two months.

Olive and George Tas lor attended the para jump championships at Indian Town last Sunday. Naturally, George took pictures, so maybe we all will see the results later on.

Jim and Marie Williams, St. Albans, W.Va. are in to stay on their lot 207 for two weeks.

Linda Tommy Hall and their daughter Cindy took Donna Spohrer with them to see the performance of the Nutcracker Suite at West Palm Beach last Sunday.

Beryle and Cecil Roy came back to the park from their holidays at home, Nelson and Trudy Beatty ferried them to and from the airport.

Nancy Pickett and daughter Lorene have come to stay two weeks in Orville Blinn's trailer on lot 233.

Trudy, Eric, Usha and Eric Knabe, Jr. have returned to Markham, Ontario, after two weeks on lot 51.

Peg and Al Ray had Peg's cousins, Peggy, John and son Mike visit them for a couple of days on their way south to visit other family members.

The folks around Betts Taylor's campfire must have been in good voice last Sunday, because a visiting youngster from Scranton, Pa. brought over her tape recorder to take it all down. As usual, Al Ray was the star performer on his tape.

Gertrude Richard and Susan Becker, from Bever, Pa. and neighbors of George and Olive Taylor's daughter, stayed in the park for a week. The Beckers usually stay on the west coast, and Olive thinks that we have converted them into east coasters with our beautiful park and area.

Rosemary and Vernon May, from Sparta, Mich., are set up for six weeks on Greg Sells' lot no. 215, while Doris and Raymond May, from Conklin, Mich., have taken lot 55.

Dorinda and Robert Yeiser are spending two or three months with us on lot 137. Dorinda confesses to being homesick, so stop by when you are near and give the couple a friendly hello. This is their first visit to Holidays Out, in fact they heard about us from a friend only a week before they came away from home.

Dorothy and Erling Johnson came back for another stretch of Florida weather on Sunday, after spending the holidays at home.

Golds and a particularly bad form of the ever present flu are laying low many people in the park. If you come down with the flu, get yourself to a doctor without delay - this strain is dangerous. We love you all and don't want to decrease our family on the coast.

Bob Long's Floating Turbines has been pretty stable these past few weeks. The menu on New Year's Day was ham with all the trimmings. Joan Byrne baked the ham and it was a particular treat since it was cook's day off for Bob.

Belated Anniversary Congratulations to Jean and Mac McCabe, who celebrated their 28th on Saturday, Jan. fourth.

Sorry I didn't get these until too late, due to early press time over the holidays.

Anniversary Congratulations are extended this week to George and Pretha Trumbull on January 11th.

German course is offered

JENSEN BEACH—Adults who plan travel to Germany, but need to know conversational German and something about the money system, geography, culture and history of Germany, have an opportunity to study with a native of Holland who speaks the language fluently and knows the country well.

A class in Conversational German meets at the Jensen Elementary School each Tuesday and Thursday evening, 7 to 9 p.m.

The course, taught by Hendrik Nabor, emphasizes the conversational aspects of German, with some necessary grammar. At the outset, adults learn appropriate greetings, how to order from a menu, how to request a room or a taxi, how to secure airline and train transportation, and other phrases necessary to ease communication in a foreign land.

The money system, culture, history and geography of the countries is discussed. Nabor is well equipped to offer up-to-the-minute hints to visitors to save money while traveling, and answer questions prospective travellers may have about Germany.

Adults may enroll by visiting Jensen Elementary School, Savanna Road, Jensen, Tuesday or Thursday evening at 6:45 p.m.

Repair course is offered

FORT PIERCE—The Radio and TV Repair program at Indian River Community College will be offering three morning classes in Basic Electronics II beginning with the second semester on their main campus in Fort Pierce.

These classes will cover basic theory, receiving circuits with an introduction to solid state devices, theory and application.

Three evening classes will also be offered on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings. The Monday class will be Basic Electronics I and will cover A.C. circuits, capacitors, inductance, transformers, motors and generators.

Basic Electronics II will be offered on Wednesday evening, and will cover vacuum tube theory in audio and radio frequency amplifiers.

Advanced Electronics and Color Television B&W II will be offered on Thursday evenings and will cover basic black and white television circuits including vacuum tube and transistor applications. All courses include one-quarter time in lecture and three-quarter time in actual hands-on lab experience.

Evening classes start at 5:30 p.m. and run until 10:30 p.m. Registration is in progress and interested individuals can register at the College Guidance Department from 8 a.m. until 8:30 p.m.

Totilas to address ABC group

STUART—Dr. Richard Totilas, a veterinarian, will speak on the effects of spaying and neutering of animals at the Animal Birth Control meeting Thursday, Jan. 9. The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank & Trust Company of Stuart.

Anyone interested in animal welfare is cordially invited to attend.

JENSEN BEACH—A step toward [illegible] sidewalks and resurfacing streets in the Jensen Beach area was taken Tuesday by Martin County commissioners authorized purchasing Paul Penrod to seek bids for [illegible] along Jensen Beach Causeway from Dolphins Bay development to A1A.

Another section of sidewalks would be [illegible] Sewall's Point Road near the intersection of SR [illegible].

Jensen Beach area Commissioner [illegible] Philbrick said the causeway project had agreed to pay half the cost for the causeway walk.

Philbrick and Penrod said they didn't know the details on the other section of walkway.

Bid opening will be Friday on another section of sidewalk, Penrod said.

The 660-foot stretch of sidewalk would be on the north side of Commercial Street from North Savanna Road east to Linda Drive.

Treatment center planned

STUART—Thomas M. "Zeke" Hollis has a lot of friends in Martin County and several of them are organizing a fund raising drive to help him out.

Hollis, 31, a zoning inspector for the Martin County Planning & Zoning Department since 1972, has kidney disease and spends two days a week on a kidney machin at St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach. His problem is complicated by the fact that he also is a diabetic and needs constant medical care and supervision.

When Zeke Hollis learned of his illness, treatment began and the bills began to pile up. He took on a second job at the Court House as a night maintenance man, working to earn money he knew would be needed for medical expenses and his eventual transplant.

His wife Libby is employed by the Palm Beach County School Board and the Hollis family, which includes 2½ year old Jody Leigh, thought that with their combined incomes, they might be able to make it on their own. Now Zeke's bills are averaging $500 per week, and he is unable to work regular hours at his job and receive full wages on those days he spends six hours on the kidney dialysis machine.

He is optimistic about his future though. He is learning as so many others have learned that Martin Countians really have a heart. When his medical problems and financial plight came to light after his diagnosis about two months ago, his friends began to organize a committee to provide funds for medical expenses. Although many who are involved have other prior commitments, they agreed to help Zeke and now the "Zeke Hollis Kidney Fund" will become a reality.

There is a two fold purpose to the committee's effort, one to provide continuing financial aid to Zeke for medical expenses until he is well enough for surgery and a kidney transplant is found, and two to earmark funds raised, which are not required for Hollis, for a kidney transplant center in Martin County.

Through efforts of Guy Cromwell, Martin Memorial Hospital Administrator, and Larry E. Buchana attorneys for the hospital and treasurer and legal counsel to the Zeke Hollis Kidney Fund, the Regional Health Council has recently agreed to conduct a study to determine whether there is a need in this community for both a breast scanner and a kidney dialysis center. If this need is established federal funds may be available to supplement monies placed in the trust account for a future kidney center in connection with Martin Memorial Hospital. If a need is not shown by the study for a kidney treatment center at the present time, funds raised and not needed by Hollis would be kept in the trust account until required.

At the same time, several committees are working to raise the money Zeke Hollis will need, which is estimated at $30,000 for the next twelve months.

The Zeke Hollis Kidney Fund already has non paid officers and a board of directors which is made up of the committee Chairman in each category of the campaign structure. Co-Chairmen are Gene Van Curen, District Manager Florida Power & Light and Mrs. Ross H. Philbrick wife of the Chairman of the Martin County Board of County Commissioners. Larry E. Buchanan a member of the law firm of Crary, Buchanan and Meginnis and former United Fund chairman, is treasurer and legal counsel. Dorothy J. Effinger owner of Creative Services public relations and advertising agency locally is secretary and publicity chairman.

All of the elected constitutional officers in Martin County have agreed to serve as an Honorary Committee. Chairman of this group is Commissioner Tom Higgins.

The Business Committee includes William E. Owens President of Owens Groves Industries and Chairman of the Board of Directors at Martin Memorial Hospital, William J. Mathews, Ford Main, Stuart, Ralph Eberhardt, Jr. and Associates, and numerous other business and professional leaders. Eddie Ford is also a member of the committee.

WINS NEW CAR—Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Barnwell of Riverside Village, Jensen Beach, began 1975 with a new 1974 Ford Pinto won in a raffle through the St. Joseph Church Knights of Columbus Martin Council 6241. Proceeds will go toward community projects that the group sponsors. Pictured above the couple received the keys to their new car last Friday at Bill Hedditt Ford. Left to right are Joe Collier, Len Weimer, general chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Barnwell, and Father Matthew Morgan.

LITTER OF 13 A RECORD—Eight puppies at one time is considered normal. Ten puppies is considered a large litter. But 14. That's the number Lady Charmin' Golden Retriever, had in one litter at 2 a.m. Sunday. Jan. 5. Shirley Gilman, owner of the year and a half old proud mother said Monday that 13 of the puppies survived. Gemini, litter father owned by Pat Johnson of Fort Pierce, probably is barking orders around these days.

Horoscope

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - Enjoy a relaxed, contented feeling, but don't miss out on job opportunities leading to advancement. Measure your words carefully; indiscreet remarks can "back-fire". Stay cool and curb temper, impatience.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - Family or community pressure to be actively involved in projects that bore you should be accepted philosophically. All relationships are accented. Avoid hostile attitudes. Don't "make mountains out of mole hills."

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Keep your problems to yourself and don't try to solve someone else's either. Take the initiative to mend a "breaking" relationship. Career may bog down temporarily. Curb tendency toward extravagant buying.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Stay "on course" in living your own life. Curb impulse and temper, but don't compromise your true beliefs. Be aware of deception around you, but not resentful or vindictive. Possibility of receiving an honor.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - Career moves well, but you may feel an undercurrent of resentment about money. Curb any display of temperament, impulse or defiance. Attend to duty and routine; accept your responsibilities. Self-discipline is key.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Additional responsibility at work appears likely. This is fulfilling as well as pleasure and happiness through children and/or romance. A quiet, productive week when you will appreciate loved ones. Don't get moody.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - There could be a drain on money now. Resist temptation to purchase luxury items; follow the conservative line financially. Keep attention on the road while driving. Read the fine print before signing legal documents.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Home decoration or purchase is accented now. Possibility of a business trip or communication announcing success on a past literary project. Intuition is high; tap your subconscious. Past efforts "pay off" now.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Optimism increases; "hunches" are valuable; energy is high. Use care in transit by keeping your attention on the road. A friend helps you "brain storm" and bring ideas down to earth. Evaluate investments.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - "Work" is your theme this week. Good time to study some skill leading to "licensing." You are beginning an important life phase. Praise for your efforts will come to you. Not a period for playing.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Possibility of disappointment in romance due to different essential philosophies of life between you and another. Guard your savings; resist temptation to "do" for another, or indulge in extravagant gestures.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Try to ignore criticism from conservative, older relatives regarding your love life. Maintain your independence. Keep working on creative projects. Be honest and sincere and professional honors could come.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

The crowds have thinned out here now and we hope that they all have a safe trip back to their homes. The weather was nice for them and everyone I talked to had a real nice vacation. Someone across from us was packing up and I heard the son say, "I know we have to go but if I had my way, I'd stay here another ten years."

Mr. and Mrs. James Weisner left a note in the news box that they and their children spent a lovely holiday here. They own lot 707. While here they visited Lion Country Safari and expected to stop at Disney World on their way back home to Poughkeepsie, New York and hope to return here at Easter time. They receive the Jensen Beach Mirror at home and enjoy getting the news and extend to everyone here a wish for a Happy New Year.

Also Bill and Maxine Phelps from Dexter, Mich. wrote that they enjoyed two weeks here on their lot 851 and have more fans to show off when they return home. While here, they also visited Maxine's mother, Beth Bollu who lives in Ocean Breeze Park.

Everyone was saddened to learn of the death of Doris Fischer of Illinois. She and Joe showed great courage during her long illness. Cards may be sent to Joe Fischer, 128 So. N.W. Highway, Palatine, Ill. 60067.

Reggie and Brenda Moore entertained twenty-six or more of their neighbors at a cocktail party Dec. 26th. Reggie is one of those Canadians who have the know-how of gardening and their yard is one of the prettiest in that section. The neighbors say he helps in a great many of the other lots too. This place is so big that sometimes one never gets to know a quarter of the people and the party was another place that we met almost all new people.

Ed & Jerry Garich from Mequon, Wisc. arrived for a few weeks. They were hoping to play a lot of tennis, but a little disappointed that there is so little time allotted for reservation of the courts. When the holiday vacationers are gone maybe there will be more room, but that doesn't help lot owners who are here only a short time. At present, there are about 120 using the courts everyday.

Several groups of ladies volunteered their services to help the election committee assemble the letters, ballots etc. being mailed to all lot owners prior to our January election. It was quite a production line but many hands make light work and it was finished in two days. Read it carefully, and then come out and vote or if not here, then mail in your ballot. This is your resort and it is your duty.

Greg Ganz, son of Al and Evelyn, came in from Houston for a visit. While here, they all drove to visit Lyn Gantz Jones and her husband Jim at Palm Harbor. Lyn is with P.R. in programming for WEDT T.V. at Tampa and is excited about getting to have an interview with Billie Jean King when she came to Sarasota for a tennis tournament. She should come to Nettles Island and interview some of the tennis pros here.

The Bible Study Group met the Tues before Christmas with 18 in attendance. Psalms were read from the St. James Version of the Bible and from the new Living Bible for comparison. Sue Sutfin had a 150 year old Dutch Bible in excellent condition. The group was lead by Irma Van der Graaf and will resume meetings again Jan. 7th. Rev. L.C. Campbell will come out and conduct classes if he can be assured of enough interested persons. Let's have a good turn out.

Thur. morning, I checked in on the Fordyces who arrived also this last week. Jim and Stell come from Dearborn, Mich. Many of you will remember Jim as "Queenie of the Burlesque Show" and the Hit of the minstrel show last year. Jim underwent surgery on his throat when they returned home last April and has been in the hospital more than out since then. He expects to be here for the winter and will have to go back for more skin graft when he returns home next April. He can't speak but as you all know, he is a master of pantomime and putting that ability to use.

Another new arrival Dec. 30th was Ruth and Ray Baker from California. I guess they really had a rough trip over the Rocky Mountains plus the fact that Ray didn't feel well. On the 31st, he went into Martin Memorial Hospital for surgery and is making a good recovery. They say a bad beginning makes for a good ending. We hope that this is an indication that Ray will have a good winter here.

Thur. a.m. out on Celebrity Point, I saw Agnes Petzold from Conn. weeding around their lawn. This is a sure sign that people have just returned as there is a lot of it to do. She and Bill pulled in just before New Years. Welcome.

There will be a regular board meeting on Friday, January the 10th at 7 p.m. and on Jan. 12th there will be an information meeting to meet the new candidates up for election to the board and for questions to be answered about the amendments to be voted on.

Dick Marino arrived Dec. 30th from "Lake in the Hills", Illinois. He is sporting a new Airstream this year. He and his wife Betty are looking forward to enjoying a few months at Nettles Island.

Russell and Ruth Crawford arrived the same day, Dec. 30th, from Des Plains, Illinois. They are back on lot 990 again and so happy to be able to go swimming in the ocean. They say they do not miss the snow and ice up around O'Hare Field, Chicago. (Should think it would be a good miss).

Dec. 29th, the church was fortunate to have a traveling musical group of young adults for their service. They were accompanied by guitar and piano. They call themselves "FOG". "Friends of God". Rev. Johnson who is a minister of music and staying here at Nettles Island acted as moderator and also sang a solo. It was all at an opportune time as Pastor L.C. Campbell was unable to conduct the services because of illness.

The New Years dance was a sell out and everyone seemed to like the idea of the breakfast from 1 to 3 a.m.

There were quite a few private parties throughout the resort and at midnight the horns tooted, firecrackers popped and everyone was wishing each other a Happy New Year. The weather was lovely and balmy with stars out. What a place to celebrate the new 1975.

The Women's Club met Jan. 3rd at 2 p.m. and plans were made for their part in an appreciation dance to be co-sponsored with the Men's Club. It is for our board of directors and will be held Jan. 18. Lucille Weiker and Betty Maxwell will be the chairwomen for the event. Refreshments were served after the business meeting by Pat Kitchen and Marni Sanger. Some of the ladies stayed for card playing afterwards.

The Men's Club had another Las Vegas night Jan. 4th. Everyone seems to enjoy these events. We must all be gamblers at heart.

Jim and Vivyan Glaon have returned from their wanderings. John said it sure seems good to be back here out of the snow.

My father tried to teach me to always return things to the place where I got them. He did a pretty good job, for when we bought a small home years ago, it proved very helpful. Except when I left the pruning shears on the fence post overnight or something like that. But he never heard of a trailer way back then. Isn't it easy to lose things in them? I ask you. Not long ago I lost a pantie girdle and looked everywhere but in the trailer trunk for it. Know where I found it? I had put one on top of the other when I dressed. My husband said, "Honey, you're a ding bat". What's a "ding bat"?

Woman's Club rummage sale

STUART–The Woman's Club of Stuart will hold their executive board meeting on January 15th at 11 a.m.

At 13:30 the regular business meeting will be held, after which the program "Bicentennial Sights and Sound" will be presented, at the Club House on East Ocean Blvd.

On January 17 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and January 18 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. the Woman's Club will hold a rummage sale at the Club House. Articles will be accepted at the Club House on January 16 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Enrollment increase is reported

STUART–Thomas J. McCann, president of The Pine School's board of trustees, announced yesterday that enrollment is up 17 per cent as the second semester opens.

The newly elected board met for the first time after the annual meeting on December 27 to elect the following members as officers. Thomas J. McCann, president; Dale Hudson, vice-president; Janet Hutchinson, Secretary; and Garnette Stein, treasurer. Other trustees are Andrew Armour, Chris Chisolm, Glenn Gumbinner, Lee Mulley, M.D., and Robert F. McRoberts.

"Pine School parents, with their new feeling of pride of membership, have shown inspired interest in increasing enrollment and in fund raising," according to J.H. Rowe, headmaster. "As part of the effort to keep high interest of members, the board has invited all members to attend board meetings," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson from Allegan, Michigan, arrived Monday. They purchased the Snow trailer on 7th last year.

Robert Washer returned to the park December 30 with Barbara and daughter Pam, who is a student at Wheaton College at Norton, Mass.

Guy and Louise Fiasco left New Year's Day on a little trip around Florida to celebrate their 42nd wedding anniversary. They visited Tiki Gardens near Clearwater, called on Martha and Ed Sheehy, and visited Cypress Gardens and The Great Masterpiece on their way home.

Beth Baillie enjoyed daily visits from her daughter Maxine and husband Bill Phelps from Dec. 18 until New Years. The Leadbetters and two teenagers who are Beth's neighbors in Dearborn, Michigan, ate Christmas dinner with them.

The Sociable Seven had dinner Sunday evening, Dec. 29, with Ruby Wren and Sunday, Jan. 5, with Maimie Snodds.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Howarth, of Indianapolis, Ind., took Irvin and Leta Keith to the Crow's Nest for dinner last week. They are friends of the Keith's son Tom and family.

Tom Cook's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Marvin, returned to Winnipeg, Canada, on New Year's Day, after spending a very enjoyable two weeks in southern Florida. This was Sydney's first trip to Florida. He had never wanted to come here, but now, after seeing the golf courses in the area, he is so impressed that he is seriously thinking of returning down here.

Marie Tweed of Fifth Street enjoyed a visit from her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Getz and two boys, Steve and Jeffrey, of Birmingham, Al. They left New Year's to see the Orange Bowl game between Alabama and Notre Dame.

Ray and Jo Bradley, close friends of the Keiths, arrived Friday night and are living in the Galloway mobile home where they lived last winter.

Florence Mausert is in Martin Memorial Hospital, where she is no longer in the intensive care unit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Browning, Shirley and Bill, of Dalton, Pa., have arrived and will be permanent residents of Ocean Breeze. They bought the former Lucille Fulton cottage on the corner of 4th and Broad.

Quoting Bill: "Boy, this is a fine place to live. When we arrived on Saturday the 28th, we met the Park Engineer, Wally Bethem, and he showed us what to do and where he lives, and made us feel at home. You're not a stranger here very long."

Howard and Evelyn Hocking are back in OBP for their third year at 16 4th Ave. Traveling with them were two granddaughters, Valery 9 and Victoria 7, Peakes. Their parents, Eddie and Lalia Mae Peakes, Vanessa 4, and Vince 11 months, arrived Monday evening from Albion, Ill. This is the Peakes family's first time in Florida.

Being a Floridian sure makes having a birthday lots of fun. Rhonda Cumpsty was 12 on Dec. 29, and, with the temperature in the 80's, the afternoon was spent swimming at the ocean with friends. Following dinner at home (at Rhonda's request because she likes Mom's cooking), shuffleboard was enjoyed for the first time for some of her friends, mostly visitors for the Christmas vacation. Guests included Pam and Diana Cook from Dayton, N.J., David Bolton from Virginia, Kathy Coates from Cache Creek, B.C., Canada, and Art Chan, Hobe Sound.

After shuffling, the group returned to the Cumpsty home for birthday cake. Rhonda had a hard time trying to blow out 12 candles that never blew out. The evening ended with card games.

FORT PIERCE–It is again time for the Annual Four County Art Exhibit to be held at the Fort Pierce Art Gallery, North Indian River Drive, from Jan. 11th until Jan. 24th, 1975. This exhibit is open to all artists residing in St. Lucie, Martin, Okeechobee and Indian River counties.

All work submitted will be judged by a qualified judge who will, as always, determine the work to be exhibited, and the award winners.

There will be a fee of $2 for each piece of work submitted. This money will be used as prize money, and the amount of the prize awards will depend on the number of entries. Best of Show and the first place winners in each of the four catagories will receive prize money – all winners will be awarded ribbons and cash awards if the money is available. Catagories are: oil and acrylic, watercolor and mixed media, graphics, pencil and pastel, sculpture and original ceramic work – no molds accepted. No copies.

All work except sculpture and ceramic work must be wired for hanging, screw eyes and wire only. No wet paintings will be accepted for judging.

Work must be delivered to the gallery on Thursday evening, Jan. 9, between 6 and 8 p.m. or Friday morning, Jan. 10, between 10 a.m. and noon. No work will be accepted after noon on Friday. There will be no refunds for work not accepted for hanging. Work may not have been shown in the gallery before.

The Gallery Committee feels sure that the members of the Fort Pierce Art Club want the gallery exhibits as high in quality as possible. This show will be viewed by many people as the gallery will be open to the public during the Citrus Green Show.

BY VIRGINIA DRYER

We are all happy to have Mary Hedges back in the park this year. She is renting the trailer on First St. formerly occupied by Katie Whaley.

Agnes Fritz of Third Street is in the Martin County Memorial Hospital recovering from knee surgery.

John and Ruth Nesbitt of Second Street entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Badger and children from Lancaster, Vermont a few days this week.

Guests on the home of Virgil and Ruth Robinson were their daughter, Sue Robinson and her friend, Barbara McKinnes, from Iowa. Both girls are elementary school teachers. While here they took in the sights at Disney World and also went to Lake Okeechobee.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles Gross from Lewisberry, Pa. visited Delta Baker this week. They had their camper parked at Sandy's Trailer Park over on Route 1.

There were 27 ladies present at Hobbs on Monday. Guests were former residents of the park, Rachel LaClaire and Grace White. Rachel reported on the sewing classes being conducted by the Adult Education Department of the Indian River Community College at the Hoechman site starting January 8th. Plans were made for the annual Hobby Show to be held in the hall on February 20th. It was decided to hold a bake sale in connection with the Hobby Show. The ladies voted to attend a luncheon at Fort Pierce on Thursday, January 16th. Hostesses [illegible]

STUART—A course in manual communication will start at the Tri-County Rehabilitation Center Tuesday, January 21, at 7 p.m. The center is located on US 1, South of Stuart, in the former Pioneer Occupational Center.

Purpose of the course is to give students in the class a basic grasp of the signs and pantomimic principles employed in manual communication, and, secondarily, to discuss problems encountered by deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals in coping with life in a hearing world.

Teachers, parents, and other adults who work with or communicate with deaf individuals will find special interest in the course.

Lecture, discussion, demonstration and practice sessions in sign language will be included.

There is no registration fee for this course.

Color slide course

STUART—The Roschman Site of Indian River Community College in Stuart will offer an additional color slide photography class. The class will be on Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. starting Jan. 8. William Smith will be the instructor.

Each session will consist of a short lecture followed by short slide shows, guest speakers, and instructional films by Kodak. Students will be encouraged to show their work and several competitions will be held.

Audubon offers film series

STUART—Who wouldn't like to buy a magic carpet in this year of energy shortage? These are now available, courtesy of the Audubon Wildlife Film Series and will take anyone, no matter how imfirm or luxury loving, on economical, personally conducted tours to the North Pole, the wild Ethiopian mountains, and other far-off, inaccessible places. Martin County is fortunate in having this fine series of films and exciting stories by the naturalist explorers themselves.

If you are tired of hearing your well-to-do friends talk of their exotic trips, this is your opportunity to remedy the situation. Tickets are now on sale at four local merchants who are cooperating with Audubon by loaning their services and stores. They are: Craft Corner, 417 W. Commercial St., Jensen Beach; The Showcase, 1754 E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart; Photo, Monterey Plaza, Valentine's Book Store, 329 E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart.

The lecture films will be shown on Friday nights at the Stuart Women's Club on East Ocean Blvd. and a new voyage will be shared every other week, beginning on January 17 with a hike through our spectacular wilderness in search of the mule deer, and ending with a climb through the fiercely defended beauty of a glacier on February 28. Where else can we share the intimate, though rugged experiences of explorers and naturalists, and have every question answered with authority?

As in past years the proceeds of these films, above expenses, will go to providing free matinees at our high schools and colleges to help educate the coming generation in the importance of the wildlife heritage and their responsibility to preserve it. The schools at which the films will be shown are Jensen Beach, Hobe Sound, Port Salerno, Stuart and Indiantown Middle Schools, and Florida Institute of Technology.

For further information, Robert Wagner, Chairman of the Film Series, invites telephone calls at 334-6690. Or trot down to the nearest participating store and find out how reasonable you can take an accident proof trip to the wilderness.

Bell in private practice

JENSEN BEACH—Former Martin County engineer Fred Bell has resigned as senior vice president of Cavanaugh Communities Corp.

Bell will re-enter private engineering practice in Miami, and will continue with consulting assignments on behalf of the Miami-based developers.

Club meeting is Friday

STUART—The German-American Club will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 10 at the community room of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY
WES HUNTER
Love, Shirl

Living in Leilani Heights

BY JACKIE SHAW
334-3530

I hope you all had a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year. Many Leilani-ites had out-of-town relatives and friends visiting and everyone was grateful that we had such warm, sunny beach days throughout the holidays.

Julia Webb became 10 years old on Dec. 31st. She celebrated with a few friends by going to the movies and eating at McDonalds.

Phyllis and Ken Smith had a wonderful Christmas holiday because their son, Mark, daughter-in-law, Donna, and their four month old new grandaughter, Lynette Jennifer, came down from Syracuse, New York. Also, their daughter, Patti, arrived from college at Potsdam University, New York, for the holidays.

They all went to Disneyworld, attended the "Orange Bowl" game in Miami New Year's Day, took in the local sights, enjoyed the beach and ended their visit with dinner at the "Royal Lion" in Tequesta.

Belated birthday wishes to Doreen McNamara on December 22nd and to our "Christmas-birthday" gal, Dotty Carson, on December 25th. Also, to Ken Smith who celebrated on January 4th.

Congratulations to Olga and Ben Robinson who will celebrate their wedding anniversary January 15th.

MEET YOUR NEIGHBOR

Come meet the "Bevis" family this week. There is Phyllis J.M. "Bo" and their two young children, Mary Jo, and Michael.

Phyllis and "Bo" are native Floridians. Phyllis having been born and raised in Stuart and "Bo" hailing from Bradenton. When they were first married, they lived in Tallahassee and then came to Stuart. The home they had in Stuart was becoming too small for their growing family so they began their quest of one more suitable for their needs.

Jensen Beach was a "drawing card" because Phyllis' mother and Bo's sister, Mrs. Ben Fulton, Jr., live here. Also, Phyllis teaches first grade at Jensen Beach Elementary School, so what could be a finer location than Leilani Heights where they found a bigger home and moved in on September 13.

Mary Jo is 7 and is in 2nd grade at the Jensen Beach Elementary School. She is a Brownie in Troop 146 and, also, takes ballet lessons which keeps this young lady quite busy.

Michael is 2½ and attends nursery school.

He also a volunteer fireman in District No. 2 in Stuart.

He is a member of the Stuart-Jensen Beach Jaycees.

"Bo" enjoys baseball and football and is looking forward to the day when Michael becomes old enough to play on the various teams. He might consider coaching at this time as he has done that before.

He likes guns and has hunted in the past. He goes to the rifle range south of Stuart every few weeks to practice.

Phyllis is very busy raising two lively youngsters and teaching, but when an opportunity presents itself, she enjoys reading and sewing.

Tourism campaign is underway

FORT PIERCE—A campaign aimed at stressing to the public the important role tourism plays in St. Lucie County's economy, has been started by the Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of the State Commerce Department.

The multi-media campaign, which was announced in a press conference, is entitled "Visitors are Vital." It emphasizes several important facts the general public should be aware of, according to Delores Konow, the chairwoman of the Chamber's Tourism Development Committee.

First, in 1973 more than 25 million visitors traveled to Florida, with approximately 35,000 having St. Lucie County as their destination," she said. "Further, they spent more than $5 billion and contributed more than $250 million in state taxes. Locally, the Chamber of Commerce estimates tourism was at least a $20 million industry in 1973," Mrs. Konow added.

She went on to state that if 1975 turns out to be a good tourism year, that $20 million figure might be increased to as much as $30 million, due to the availability of additional motel facilities in the area.

St. Lucie County's "Visitors are Vital" campaign will revolve around radio and television public service spots prepared with the cooperation of the State Commerce Department, newspaper advertisements, and door decals bearing the "Visitors Are Vital" logo.

The publisher of the News Tribune newspaper, as well as the managers of the local broadcast outlets have all indicated their support of this program, and we sincerely appreciate it," said Mrs. Konow.

"We are also extremely thankful for the financial support made by First National Bank, which has made the door decals possible."

With the kick-off of the "Visitors Are Vital" campaign, door decals will be sent to local merchants who will be asked to display them.

Training class at hospital

FORT PIERCE—Indian River Community College will offer a nurse assistant training class at Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital from January 13 to February 2. Men and women from the ages of 18-60 years are welcome to attend these classes. Interviews will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Friday, Jan. 10 in the Annex Building of Ft. Pierce Memorial Hospital.

Bilingual program planned

STUART—The Federal Program Department of the Martin County School System is planning to submit a bilingual project, in consortium with Glades, Hendry, and Okeechobee Counties through the USOE for Funding.

The guidelines require that an advisory committee be formed.

The following persons have been selected to form the nucleus of the advisory committee: Mrs. Sarah Delgadillo, Gilbert Chapa, Leo Gomez, Miss Elene Gonzales, Mrs. Cecile Pitt, John Golna, Robert Gamble, and Jody Sword.

Any person wishing to volunteer to serve on this committee, please contact Jody Sword, Federal Programs Director Instructional Center, 500 East Ocean Boulevard, Stuart, Florida, Telephone 287-6400.

Open every day from 9-5.

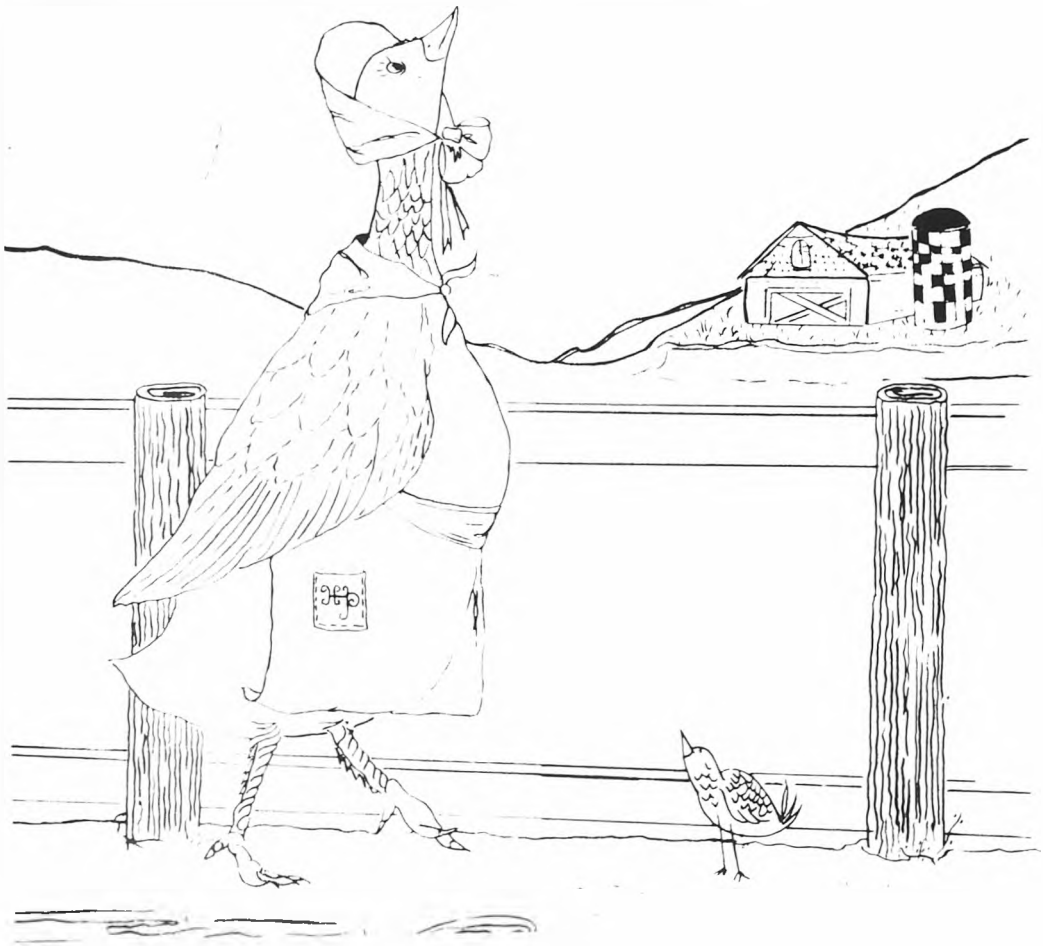
SORRY HENNY PENNY...



THE SKY IS NOT FALLING

Still, the crazy rain forecast of doom that Henny Penny spread throughout the animal kingdom had one good news seems to gain quick acceptance. For it changes, we'd like to issue some "good news" and hope it will soon spreads throughout the realm.

At the Ocean East Mall we've just finished an excellent year with most of our 30 stores breaking all previous sales records. And, we are enthusiastically looking forward to even greater business in 1975.

We have faith in America. Particularly in its ability to solve its problems and move forward to even greater heights.

We have tremendous faith in this community. We know that Martin County is one of the greatest places that can be found anywhere. Both to live in, and to do business. With all it has to offer, it will continue to grow and prosper.

So to our friends and neighbors, from all of the merchants and the management of the Ocean East Mall, our sincere wishes for a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

And, to any of the Henny Penny's of this world, look up and cheer up. The sky is still there, in all its glory.

Thibedeau supports stand

Residents seek county takeover of ambulance

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—For the second time in as many weeks, south county residents gathered at the Port St. Lucie City Hall to discuss the ambulance needs of their area, but this time the guest speaker was St. Lucie County Civil Defense Director Phil Thibedeau.

The group represented the areas of Beau Rivage, Spanish Lakes, Indian River Drive, and the City of Port St. Lucie.

"I think there is only one way to go, and that is towards professional services preferably under the direction and operated in conjunction with the emergency rescue units by the County Fire Board," Thibedeau said.

Making his stand very clear immediately, Thibedeau told the group, "I am convinced there is only one way to go, and that is towards some professional service as compared to any type volunteer service. Volunteer services contrary to what people are prone to think are not free. Such organizations are plagued by the lack of volunteers and the necessary funds to operate efficiently."

He said it was a known fact the cost of a volunteer organization was half again as much to keep two units operating as it does for paid professional services.

South county residents are unhappy with the emergency services provided to the area south of White City. The major complaint of the group was the length of time it takes for Universal Ambulance to respond to a call.

The area south of Midway Road provides over 25 percent of the taxes received by the county and we get little or nothing in return for our tax dollar in the way of emergency services," the group pointed out.

It is not the intention of this group to get an additional ambulance, but it is our desire to have one of the two county ambulances Universal Ambulances now under contract with SLC relocated somewhere in the southern part of the county," Councilman William McChesney said.

An ambulance relocated in perhaps White City could serve the south county area much more efficiently and it can still travel north as well as south. The travel time would remain the same for runs into the Fort Pierce area, but by the same token it would be shortened considerably for calls made to the south county," he said.

Pointing out the relocation of an ambulance would be a costly move, Thibedeau said, "With the new rescue units stationed at the fire stations throughout the county, the entire picture has changed as far as the needs for an ambulance are concerned.

"St. Lucie County has come a long way," Thibedeau added. "You are now in a position where you have a lot greater and more sophisticated alternatives to consider at this point."

He continued, "Four years ago you had but one alternative in St. Lucie County, and that was a blanketed ride to the hospital in a station wagon."

At now basic the emergency rescue units available at every fire station that meet every medical standard of the National Academy of Sciences, the U. S. Dept. of Transportation for medical standards of equipment, training, supplies and medical materials. We literally raise the rolling stock," he said, adding the need for a quick ambulance response was not as urgent as it was a year ago.

The Fire Board in the county has come into the Emergency Federal Service Program, while heartedly and they have a good system. Along with the units at each fire station ready to respond, they have thirty men certified as Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT). These men are prepared to go into the EMT2 training as soon as Indian River Community College is ready to gear up for that next phase," Thibedeau said.

Should the ambulance be incorporated with the rescue services under the direction of the Fire Board, Thibedeau foresees no problems with the ambulance carrying patients across the county into the Martin Memorial Hospital if requested.

This would be on an emergency run only," he said. "I should think the ambulance will not be used for patient transfer, aside for the immediate emergency runs outside the county.

As an example of this cooperation, Thibedeau pointed to the two county fire departments cooperating their efforts in the emergency.

South Port St. Lucie has been under contract with the Stuart Police Ambulance, but as of April 1 such service will be discontinued.

Residents were assured however, Universal Ambulance under contract till Oct. 1 to provide coverage to St. Lucie County, will cover the entire county, including those residents of Beau Rivage in the interim.

It was the unanimous decision of the group to seek placement on the agenda for the next St. Lucie County Commission meeting and make their desires known.

GUEST SPEAKER: Residents of the south St. Lucie County area received the support of Civil Defense Director Phil Thibedeau regarding the desired takeover of ambulance service by the Fire Board in conjunction with the operation of the rescue units. Thibedeau was invited by Port St. Lucie Councilman William McChesney to discuss the matter with the group Tuesday.

BUSY GROUP: Members of the CESA Board were busy going over their agenda prior to Friday's meeting. Aside from the regular order of business, CESA President Dick Lundin was presented a check for the building fund by Tom Driscoll, president of First Federal Savings of Fort Pierce in the amount of $1,000. The board also regretfully accepted the resignation of Joanne Hart.

PSL Masons will install officers

PORT ST. LUCIE—The first 1975 meeting of the Port St. Lucie Masonic Club will feature installation of the new officers elected last month.

Held as usual at the North Port Marina, the meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 14, at 8 p.m.

Members are asked to note that this is not the regular meeting night, which would have fallen on New Year's Day. Subsequent meetings will be on the first Wednesday of the month schedule.

Members are urged to make a special effort to attend and support the new officers. Good entertainment by Charles White is promised, and refreshments will be served.

Awards presented cub scouts

PORT ST. LUCIE—The December meeting of Cub Scout Pack 496 held at the St. Andrew Lutheran Church, featured the induction of new Cubs and advancement awards.

Kevin Conboy was inducted into Den 1 under the leadership of Den Leader Dorothy Conboy. Joseph Kienland John Levesque were inducted into Den 4 led by Mary Kay Gibson.

Jeffrey Davis and Mike Farmer were received in the Webelos Den by Den Leader Don Larres. The Webelos Den is for boys in years and older.

Graduating to Boy Scouting, when a Cub reaches 11 years old, were Lawrence Matthews, William Meyers and Gareth Gregg.

Following fun games, refreshments were served to the guests by the Cub Scouts and each boy received his Pine Wood Derby Kit.

The Pine Wood Derby will be held at the January Meeting on January 27, and every Cub Scout will have his homemade racer for the Pack Championship. Winners will also participate in the District Derby in May at the Scout Show.

Junior Women will elect officers

PORT ST. LUCIE—Highlighting the St. Lucie Junior Woman's Club meeting tonight, Jan. 8, will be the election of officers for 1975 and the annual Arts Festival.

Mrs. James Chamblee, Junior District Director for District 10 Florida Federation of Woman's Clubs, will be the guest speaker.

PSL Yacht Club names slate

PORT ST. LUCIE—Art Coulon, nominating committee chairman, presented a slate of officers and directors to the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club at their last meeting. Those named were:

Also for the Board of Directors, Fred Adler, John Schwartz, Jack LaFrance, George Lindberg, Bob Clemens, Bill Holzapfel. Fred Johnston will automatically be a board member as past commodore.

Election of officers and directors will take place at the Jan. 28 meeting, and they will be installed at the Commodore's Ball in April.

During the meeting some new members who had been unable to attend before were welcomed aboard by Commodore Johnston and officers. They were Herbert and Marguerite Feller from Plainfield, N.J., Robert and Sally Morace, formerly of Roslyn, N.Y. Stan and Lee Hicks of Elk Grove, Ill.

It was announced that the Yacht Club will be represented in the Sands Shoes Festival by Bill Hoover's boat, which will be decorated and in the parade. John Jankowski, Fran Lee and Paul Sheehan will assist him.

Social hostess for the meeting was Mary Sheehan, assisted by Bob Morace, Pearl Troutman and Larry Huber were 50-50 winners.

Lady golfers play red, white and blue

PORT ST. LUCIE—Eighty-two ladies participated in the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association Red, White and Blue" tournament on Dec. 11, happy to be back on the links after not playing for two weeks.

Linda Mood, with the low net 71, was the winner. Irene Hauser and Mimi Lamont tied for second with 74's.

Dianne Weston with 76, was closely followed by Blanche Kaufman who had a net score of 77. Ruth Chase and Arlene Spicka had 78's, pursued by Helene Collins and Hortia Tanner with 79 each.

New school to open in January

ST. LUCIE: The target date ...ning of the new Port St. Lucie ... School has been set for ... according to D.R. ... Superintendent of the St. ...ucie School Board.

...present time the contractor ...ould not be able to have the ...ools and in a position that we ... youngsters into the new ... Lakehurst Drive. The ...ate from Oshkosh, Wisconsin ... James W. Biekkola, from ... Arsenal in Huntsville ... spent the holidays here with ...

The date has yet to be set ... said an open house will be ... school prior to the opening ... anticipated there will be between ... children attending the new ... opening day. The building ... capacity of 750 students from ... garten thru the fifth grade ... will be 24 faculty members ... of the school headed by ... Victor Blackmer. Blackmer ... former principal of the White ... Elementary School.

... pointed out there would be ... kitchens in the new school but no ... as such. The food will be ... in from the Garden City ... School ... City has an exceptionally large kitchen and is very well equipped to handle the job," Seelinger said, adding, We are trying to eliminate cafeterias in all the elementary schools throughout the county. They are just too expensive to operate. Catering is much more economical."

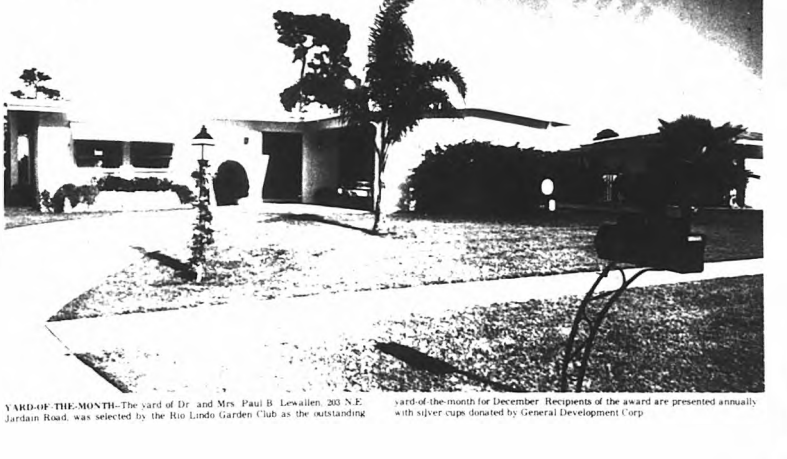
There is still much remaining to be done at the school. According to the superintendent, the board is in the process of letting contracts to build two blacktop basketball courts and for the finished grading and the sodding of the grounds.

"After we get moved in we will be installing additional playground equipment. There will be ample facilities for recreation at the new school," he added.

The roads surrounding the school have been completed by General Development Corporation.

"I am happy with the progress of the new facility and I feel we have received some real fine workmanship on the project," Seelinger concluded.

The estimated cost of the school is $1.4 million including the land, building and equipment. Construction was started in March 1974.



YARD-OF-THE-MONTH—The yard of Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Lewallen, 203 N.E. Jardain Road, was selected by the Rio Lindo Garden Club as the outstanding yard-of-the-month for December. Recipients of the award are presented annually with silver cups donated by General Development Corp.

BY DENNIS WILKIE

STUART - It was midway through the third quarter at the Martin County High School Gymnasium and the Tigers were faced with the unenviable task of turning the tides on a surprisingly tough Lake Worth five. It was clearly the Trojans ball game at the time as they had reeled off 14 third stanza points to only two for Martin County. Oscar Delancy's only shot of the third quarter. The score stood firmly in control of the Trojans, 45-39.

It was at this point that the entire complexity of the contest dramatically changed. Under immense pressure, Don Wallen's rapidly impressing Tigers stormed back to score 15 unanswered points and then pretty well wrapped it up in the fourth quarter with fine defense 66-61.

Walter Campbell led the Tiger comeback as he threw in a total of 30 points on the evening.

Why did the Trojans suddenly come alive in the second half? Don Wallen offered an explanation after the game.

They were jamming the middle and the one player who was supposed to clear out the area just stopped in the middle when someone bumped him. We had to get that defensive man out of there so that we could get a one-on-one situation. They were really playing a true man to man defense, and not many teams do that. But when our man stops right there in the middle, it makes for a congested middle and this is just what we don't want to happen.

This week the Tigers carry their record into games with Ft. Pierce Central played last night in Ft. Pierce, Forest Hill and North Shore. They will meet the Falcons in Forest Hill Friday night then they will come back home for what has become a traditional battle with the North Shore Mustangs. The Mustangs feature 6-foot-7 inch Gerard Nelson who is a junior and earned a pre season spot in Street & Smith's All American Honorable Mention.

PROUD PAPA - You bet I'm proud! smiles Willard Auch, seen here with his daughter, Barbara. Miss Auch, a music major specializing in piano, has been awarded a graduate fellowship by the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International. She will continue her studies in Florence, Italy.

A dream come true

JENSEN BEACH - Barbara Auch, daughter of Willard and Louise Auch of Venture Out, will soon be returning to Florence, Italy, to continue her music studies under the Rotary Foundation graduate fellowship program.

In 1971-72, while a student at the California State University, Northridge (CSUN), she was chosen by the International State Programs to be a participant in their program abroad at Florence. Since she had studied Italian two years prior to departure, Miss Auch was able to enroll at the University of Florence. The program offered a general course of study and was mainly concentrated in Italian language and history. She was chosen as Assistant Musical Coordinator for the program and helped in arrange for musical tours and to post information for the students on musical events in the city. After having a talk with the Chairman of the Music Department, Maestro Oraz Fruguni, it was arranged for her to study with one of his graduate students Stefanie Fuzzi.

Since that time it has been her goal to return to Florence and study at Villa Schifanoia. And now her dream is going to come true.

Miss Auch began studying piano at the age of six. Throughout junior high and high school, she was accompanist for many groups including school choirs, madrigal groups, the West Los Angeles Bureau of Music, the Los Angeles Philharmonic Woman's Club, Concertgreen Group, the Bay Area Bible Association and the Hadassah Woman's Club.

In high school she was voted Best Musician and received the Most Talented Band of America Award in Music, a gold plaque for Outstanding Scholastic Achievement in Music, Certificate of Outstanding Merit in drama and was given a Lions Club Scholarship.

At CSUN Miss Auch has been active in music related organizations and activities as a member of Sigma Alpha Iota Professional Music Fraternity, Phi Kappa Lambda National Honor Society of Music, International Relations Students Club, secretary and member of the Circolo Italiano CSUN, and pianist accompanist of the CSUN Women's Glee Club.

Each Rotary Foundation award covers costs of round trip transportation tuition meals lodging, intensive language training if necessary and educational travel during the year abroad. Award recipients strive for academic excellence during their studies abroad while serving as good will ambassadors through contact with Rotary Clubs and others in host countries.

$2,500 CHECK - Mrs. Margie Bishop, MMHA president, presented a check in the amount of $2,500 to Gary N. Cromwell, Martin Memorial Hospital administrator Monday. The check represents the pledge of the auxiliary made to the hospital for the 1974-75 year. The pledge was made for the purpose of remodeling the present business office area and construction of new office space. The new construction will make a new waiting room for patients being admitted to the hospital, two admitting offices and a coordinators office. Cromwell reported that the old business office will move to the new, constructed offices this week and the remodeling of the old area will be finished in February.

Organized basketball starts Saturday

JENSEN BEACH - It has been a long time but ready to be given or where there has been organized basketball at Langford Park but that will all change this Saturday afternoon at the basketball courts there as Senior Division players will play in the first games of the regular season.

Also Saturday everyone got a preview of what should be an all-three loaded season as each of the contenders flexed a little muscle in the preseason tune-up.

CWA Draft Coach Bob Mercantini has got himself another bit of a team. Center John Wall leads the yellow shirted team into the season. Wall controls the CWA offense from his high post position, with fast-breaking guards David Kenny and Terry Wall. Forwards Tim Dargis and Gregg Jackson add a strong scoring and rebounding game to the jamboree. The team shut out Gold Coast Tires 11-0 and edged Pittman Insurance 9-7. Leading them in scoring was Dargis with five points then came Terry Wall, Kenny and Jackson with four each and John Wall with three to share in the balls difficult to see either of the other two teams above CWA when the year comes to an end.

PITTMAN INSURANCE, Cal Montgomery and Charlie Bass emerged as about the only legit all contender besides CWA. With John Driscoll at the pivot they could go all the way for the title. Helping the Pittman cause will be guards Jeff Smith and David Rochmo. Forwards Craig Kinne and Rex Graham will try to get Driscoll's passes close to the basket and put the ball up for two as they frequently did against Gold Coast yesterday. In their other contest they blew a lead to CWA late in the quarter and eventually lost 9-7. But that was only the eight minutes.

Jamboree rules provide for two four minute quarters and they will do quite be a problem for CWA after. Make no mistake about it, Pittman will be in the right down to the wire.

GOLD COAST Head Coach Frank Mock will have a big job ahead of him as he will try to mold the blue-shirts of Gold Coast Tires into one smooth unit. He has one helpful ingredient of success present in his young team's receptiveness.

They showed lots of it last Saturday but lack of practice made its mark on the team as they scored only six points all day. But that will come if the players respond. They have the potential to be one of the better rebounding teams in the league with Mark Hall in the middle and Donnie Wilkie and Mike Schnupp on the front line. Adding to the cause will be guards Morris Chets and Darryl Delancy. In their games Saturday, Gold Coast got four points from Wilkie and two from Chets. Obviously they need some scoring guards and they need some defense but if it's cure these ailments they could challenge for the top spot.

The regular season gets underway at 1 p.m. this Saturday when CWA takes on Pittman in game two continues at 2 p.m. with the other three teams vying for a spot in the championship game on the 19th. The action. There is no charge to come and watch.

In Baker's Acres the trailer was [illegible] and [illegible] remained with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill in Rochester, Mass. Mr. Hill had the auto towed to New York City through Canada to Albany. At Albany the truck ran through a brake malfunction. The trailer whipped the car off the shoulder and into the snow. When all the action had stopped the trailer was resting on its roof, still attached to the car. Fortunately we were not hurt and the car didn't have a scratch. After having the wrecked trailer righted and taken to a lot behind a garage we salvaged what possessions we could, sent them back home, then continued on to Florida with our friends. At the present we are staying with the Hills while looking for a replacement trailer. We certainly hope the Bonnis enjoy their stay in Ill. O. and have much better luck in the year ahead.

Heart attack forum is January 16

Are you curious about heart attack and heart failure and what they mean or how they might affect you?

A free public forum entitled "Heart Attack Heart Failure Are They the Same" presented by the Heart Association and the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary can answer your questions.

It will be held Thursday evening January 16 [illegible] in the Lyric Theatre. Dr. Richard A. Pesnick will moderate the program and Dr. John Powers, Dr. Philip Mendell and Dr. Lester Archer will be on the panel.

Highlights of the discussions will be how heart attacks differ from heart failure and what the symptoms and treatment of each are. Questions and answers period will follow.

Local [illegible] in response to the urgent need for knowledge that the Heart Association is [illegible] continuing [illegible] Martin's contribution, Pesnick said.

[illegible] Mangiapane, owner of the Lyric Theatre, for generously providing the meeting facilities which [illegible] be offered.

This program is the first of three to be held in Stuart. The other two will be "Stroke and Other Common Vascular Problems" on February 20 and, "Your Child's Heart Keep It Healthy" on March 20.

FREE PUBLIC FORUM—Area doctors along with the Heart Association and Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will present a forum entitled "Heart Attack Heart Failure Are They the Same" on Thursday, January [illegible] in the Lyric Theatre. Discussing the program for the forum are from the left: Dr. Richard Q. Pesnick, moderator; Dr. Lester Archer and Gwen V. Yount, Heart Association public information director.

Club elects officers for '75

STUART—Officers and trustees of the German American Club have been elected, and William A. Lauer will head the club in 1975.

Serving with Lauer, who succeeds Chick Reinhart as president, will be Mrs. Elena Wimmer, vice president; J. C. Trimmel, secretary; Miss Roberta J. Bibow, treasurer; and Max Bauer, Hans Hager and Bernard Steinel, trustees.

The club's next event will be a party for members only Saturday, Feb. 8, at Langford Park at 8 p.m.

St. Martin's plan fund raising events

JENSEN BEACH—St. Martin's Church announced Building Fund events this week.

First on the agenda is a card party at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 31 in the Harry Hoke Community Room on Commercial Street, Jensen Beach. There will be table and attendance prizes.

On Feb. 8, St. Martin's is sponsoring its First Annual Dance which will be held at the Women's Club on E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. to the music of the Carl Green [illegible].

All Saints to install carillon bells

JENSEN BEACH—Dedication ceremonies are being planned for the "Magnetbell Tape Player" which is to be installed in All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach. This announcement was made by the Rev. Frank R. Alvarez, pastor of the congregation.

The instrument is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doring and given in memory of Paul Doring.

The Magnetbell instrument is an exclusive development of Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., with their factory in Sellersville, Penn. This company is the world's largest producer of carillon bells and chimes. The Magnetbell consists of a clock controlled magnetic tape player and an audio-amplification system. It features solid state amplification and provides the centuries old tradition of bell ringing using space age components as a tribute to man's scientific achievements.

Many beautiful hymns will be heard by the community from the tower of the church, with Flemish bell tones. After the Angelus at noon and five p.m. daily, there will be about three minutes of delightful hymns, according to Father Alvarez.

The date and time of the dedication will be announced at a later date.

Art festival set for Jan. 25 and 26

STUART—Well over one hundred artists from all over the country are expected January 25 & 26 for the annual Osceola Street Art Festival sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association.

Letters and applications have been received from all over the state, and additional correspondence has been received from as far away as Oregon and Chicago, said Jean McClung, coordinator of the festival.

Entries will be judged for original work in categories of oil, charcoal, drafting, acrylic, water color, photography and graphics. For competition purposes, only categories with at least five entries will be judged.

Approximately 20 feet will be provided for each entrant, allowing plenty of space for the artists to display their works.

Registration will take place January 23 and 24 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the lobby of the Lyric Theatre. There is an eight dollar entry fee for each category the artist enters.

Judging the work at the two day festival will be Howard Schaefer, E. Walter Krauss and Eileen Borg. Registration will be handled by Betty Howard and Caroline Price.

Admission to this two day festival is free, and merchants are planning for food and soft drinks to be available.

Citrus becomes a major crop in Martin County

JENSEN BEACH—Planted acreage of citrus in Martin County has grown by almost ten times in thirty years, and the county is now the third largest citrus producing county on the east coast of Florida, according to Tom Gartland, manager of the 6,000 acre Hobe Grove development in southern Martin County.

There are 6,000 acres of citrus in Martin County now, Gartland told Jensen Kiwanians recently. The number of acres is a far cry from the 600 acres that were developed in the western part of the county when he arrived in 1946.

Gartland told the Kiwanians that he had original income to Martin County from Miami to run the Port Mayaca Groves of Bessemer Properties for about six days.

"I stayed here from then and have been living in Martin County," he said.

Gartland retired from Bessemer in 1966, and immediately took on the job of converting pastureland in the Hobe Sound area into six thousand acres of citrus for Hobe Grove.

Now there are a half million trees in its development, and this year the grove will produce 2,600,000 bushels of fruit.

The citrus industry has become a major part of the Martin County economy, he added, and is good solid business for the county.

"It will be here for a long time. We have an investment of ten million dollars in the land," he said.

Only 14 percent of the fruit on the trees becomes fresh fruit, with the rest of it going into concentrate, chilled orange and grapefruit juice and chilled sections.

The impact of the Martin County development is indicated in the opening of a concentrate plant in Indiantown recently.

"Select fruit by its appearance first, then by its weight. Make certain that it has a good round and is flat on the top and bottom. Pick the heaviest one that is the good fruit.

"The color doesn't make much difference. A green one can taste better than a yellow or orange," he said.

Gartland also named the processing fruit from the groves and the partnerships that are necessary to market the fruit.

Men's Garden Club to buy palm seeds

Two hundred of the seeds [illegible] be sprouted, developed and the trees planted in public parks and other [illegible] of the county to beautify and replace the [illegible] palms.

The members are spreading [illegible] the project [illegible] to [illegible] of their own backyards and also other private properties.

DUNK RETIRES—David Irons, president of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart is pictured with Mahala "Dunk" Cribbs trying out the new golf clubs she received as a retirement gift from the bank. "Dunk" as she is known to her friends, will now spend summers at her cottage in Lake Satterlahin, N.C. area and several days each month on the golf course. Mrs. Cribbs started with First National Bank and Trust on April 1, 1956 as a loan teller in the Installment Loan Department. During her years with the bank she helped train and supervise personnel assigned to the Loan Department. She became a Loan Officer and Assistant Loan Manager. Later she was promoted to Assistant Cashier, a position she held for the past two years.

IR drive is valued at a million a mile

JENSEN BEACH—The beauty of Indian River Drive received a dollar value this year that places the beauty at a million dollars a mile, according to Robert W. Mayer, associate with Walter Vitunac, Ft. Pierce Realtor.

In a letter to his fellow drive property owners, Mayer outlined that the average sale of property brought 1.73 times the assessed valuation. The state requires 100 percent valuation.

Mayer surveyed the 10 mile long South Indian River Drive from Cyprus Avenue in Ft. Pierce south to the Martin County line, and pointed out that the 1973 assessed valuation of South Indian River Drive properties came to $19,176,780—more than a million a mile.

He also examined the 41 sales of Indian River Drive properties which occurred in 1973 (the latest year for which figures are available) and compared the actual sales price with the valuation assessed by the county. The average was 1.73. This means Mayer wrote, if you sold your house or land on the Drive in 1973, and if you could be the average case, you could have expected to have received 1.73 times the assessed value of your property. In other words, a house assessed at $20,000, if you were average, would have brought $34,600.

Mayer points out that there was great variation in the ratios for individual properties. In some instances the ratio was less than 50. I wanted to sell and sell fast," and in one case it was 100. "If you're just willing to wait some day someone will come along and fall in love with what you are selling and be willing to pay for it." The 1.73 figure does not mean improper assessment, Mayer says. It merely means most Drive sellers have set personally a higher value on their homes and are willing to wait to get it.

CHAIRMAN'S WIFE—Lois Philbrick, wife of Martin County Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick chats with U.S. Senator Lawton Chiles during the coffee session last Thursday, Jan. 9, sponsored by the Martin County Democratic Executive Committee.

New ambulance arrives

JENSEN BEACH—The Jensen Rescue Ambulance Inc. took possession of a new $11,850 ambulance last week and within the next two weeks it's expected to be in operation.

The new Dodge Maxivan, which meets all the new federal and state regulations, now gives the Samaritans a fleet of three ambulances to serve the area.

The new ambulance will replace the stand-by Cadillac and most of the equipment needed to outfit the Maxivan will come out of the Caddy.

The Cadillac will still be kept in reserve mostly for transfers, explained George Krauss, the newly elected Samaritan president.

With its 35 active members, the Samaritans currently have twenty registered Emergency Medical Technicians—EMT.

Anyone interested in joining the volunteer group should inquire at the Samaritans monthly meeting held at the Langford Park Club House at 8 p.m. the first Wednesday of the month.

GOP club elects officers

STUART—Officers of the Martin County Women's Republican Club will be installed at a luncheon meeting Jan. 20 at the Crow's Nest Restaurant. Rep. Chuck Nergard will be the installing officer.

New officers are Barbara Lindsey, president; Lois Philbrick, first vice president; Gladys Almegord, third vice president; Vera Gallard, recording secretary; Arlene Sgarro, corresponding secretary; and Jane Henderson, treasurer.

Commission sets island talk

STUART—Martin County Commission will hold an all day work session on Hutchinson Island land use plan at 10 a.m. Feb. 4.

From time to time the commission has discussed island growth controls.

Awards presented by juniors

STUART—The Public Affairs Department of the Junior Woman's Club honored Sheriff Holt and Chief of Police Jessie Taylor with the presentation of plaques for their outstanding service to the community at a regular business meeting on January 14th.

The Juniors also presented plaques to Ron Beckes and Sammy Yates of WSTU for the station's support that has given the Club. Also present were the winners of the Christmas Parade trophies which were presented by Mrs. Dwight Geiger.

The program for this month was the Junior participation in the F.F.W.C. Fine Arts Festival. The winner of the sewing contest was Mrs. Sally Vosinet who made a stunning red pant suit. The Creative Division was won by Mrs. Kathy Myers for a Tree the Lion Lamp. A Christmas wreath made from Florida materials was entered by Mrs. M.J. Geiger. Mrs. Linda Nebbie made a Holly Hobby outfit for her daughter which won the Miscellaneous division.

Other winners were: for Crocheting, Mrs. Sarah Barrows; Decoupage, Mrs. Kathy Greene; Holiday Decorations, Miss Diane Tanta; Macrame, Mrs. Judy Mills; and Sculpture, Mrs. Susan West.

The winners will represent the local club at the District Fine Arts Festival on February 14th at the St. Lucie Hilton.

The Junior Jewel Award was presented by President Linda Talbot to Mrs. Susan West, chairman of the Arts Department for putting the Fine Arts Festival together.

The Juniors will be kicking off Buck-A-Cup on Thursday, Jan. 16th with a coffee in the home of Mrs. Sarah Barrows. Buck-A-Cup will be February 14th and the Juniors will be hard at work selling buttons until then.

A rummage sale is being planned for March 8 and 9. Anyone having items they wish to dispose of may call Mrs. Kathy Myers at 334-5238, evenings.

The next meeting will be February 11th at the clubhouse on East Ocean Blvd. Guests are welcome to attend.

Two women get zoning posts

STUART—Martin County Commission has appointed two women to the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

Named to fill the two "at large" posts are Valerie Adams of Sewall's Point and Alice Rowe of Hutchinson Island.

Cooperation is two-edged

The Florida Department of Pollution Control has filed a million dollar suit against St Lucie County Commission over the installation of culverts on Walton Road. The county commissioners are upset about it.

Such confrontations continue to do no good for the public, and are created out of sheer hard headedness of the DPC and the commission and all such boards and governmental organizations in the state. There is no reason for this.

Cooperation is a two-edged sword. It takes two sides to get something done.

The loser in such confrontations is the taxpayer.

Government types, either elected public officials or non elected, shadow government bureaucrats, seem to forget who they are working for.

When the old Walton Road bridge crumbled and became dangerous to the traffic that used the access to and from Walton across the savannas the county engineer looked at the situation and decided that culverts were the answer replacing the antiquated unsafe bridge with two eighty inch culverts.

The county did not get the necessary permits from the state, a violation of the law. The county also did not get an opinion from the Pollution Control people which might have helped ease the situation.

When the DPC found out about the culverts they were half installed. Instead of working out the best solution to the problem the DPC sent a nasty note ordering the county to stop work. No one talked. It was all in letter form, very official and very time-consuming.

The county commission got its neck bowed and told the DPC where it could put its permit and went ahead with the project. This too, was a violation of the law.

The county needed that road open and didn't have time to monkey with permits. The people wanted the road open and didn't give a hoot about permits.

It was a violation of the law, never-the-less.

DPC didn't work it out. DPC just filed a million dollar suit that is certain to cost the taxpayers a bunch of money to fight in court on both sides.

We believe that the Department of Pollution Control was wrong. We also believe that the county was wrong.

Both agencies have forgotten who they are working for, and that they are both supposed to be working in the best interests of the people. Both agencies forget that they are spending the people's tax money. Both agencies should know better.

It's dumb, just plain dumb, and should never have happened.

The entire matter could be handled with a few telephone calls and a little give on both sides.

We urge the St. Lucie Commission and the Department of Pollution Control to begin talking and stop this childish nonsense.

Depends on whose ox

One year ago some people of this area were insulting northerners even to the point of berating them to their face. The visitors it seems were taking the localites gasoline.

We should not be promoting tourism, they said. There is just not enough gasoline for our own use, without you Yankees coming down and using what little we have, they said.

Luckily there weren't that many of the short sighted self serving people and the movement didn't get off the ground.

But it is obvious that the people are just a little selfish and when their ox is being gored they will show that selfishness.

Redistrict now

The Martin County Commission should redistrict county commission districts, and the county school board should follow suit by accepting the county plan for uniformity.

This is clear. It should be reason enough to make it a 1975 project of the commission in knowing that District Five has only nine percent of registered voters while districts one, two and four have 22, 24 and 25 percent, respectively.

There is little opportunity for District Five voters to have a wide population on which to draw from candidates as long as that nine percent exists.

The population patterns of Martin County have changed. It is time for the Martin County Commission to change, too.

Now with unemployment up and jobs scarce and some stores closing for lack of business and the construction industry just about out of a job, those same people are seeking ways to boost the sagging economy.

Our area has not been as badly hit Miami and Ocoee and Orlando and Tampa and Jacksonville and other metropolitan centers have major problems with the economy. While business is not as good as it has been our area is not suffering like other areas.

The increased taxes we will have to pay because those northern tourists aren't coming to Florida are indicated in the loss of local county and state revenues. Florida will have to cut back its budget quite a bit to make ends meet. The county will have to do the same.

We hope that the people do not forget the lesson of 1974-75 when business gets better.

Who understands 'legals'?

One of the bugaboos of all time is the legal advertisement that is published in newspapers. Lawyers and public bodies are required by law to publish the legals as a proper part of public [illegible]

[illegible]

It might be a simple thing to understand the dissemination but have you ever tried to find out where some of the real estate locations are that are described in the advertisements?

It takes a Philadelphia lawyer or one of our own to understand the [illegible] that goes on in small six point type.

Many times people are demanding to have the legals published in larger type and in a more understandable English.

In Montgomery County, Maryland the county officials have taken action to make their actions more understandable to the public and the idea makes sense.

A bill of advertising will be introduced which will limit the public newspaper advertising to one thousand percent.

According to Editor and Publisher, the new announcements will be published in larger type as display ads rather than the six point type now used. The ads will be placed in the general news section of newspapers.

From the county's point of view, each of the counties might benefit newspapers each week a display advertisement listing all the county's upcoming public hearings. In Florida public hearings are advertised in legals on law and are listed in the agendas of the county meetings. Only newspaper reporting lists the hearings and the display of those hearings is at the whim of the newspapers.

Second, the county will place a monthly display ad in the Washington Post or Star News listing the pending [illegible] business of the council for the next month. In Florida there is no such forward programming of public notice in display advertising and the public is again at the whim of the newspaper as to displays of such material.

Third, the council will place an ad in the Washington Post or Star News when any major item is to be acted upon.

Fourth the county plans to place its regular public notices in two of the county's weekly newspapers each week, rather than in just one newspaper as has been the practice.

E&P reports that council member Elizabeth Scull said, "Our entire objective is to reach the people who are not being reached, the people who think that the council is doing something behind their backs."

This is a laudable endeavor on the county and to the personally recognized necessity of communicating with the public. Senator's uniform

Senator Lawton Chiles was in Martin County last Thursday. The senator was in uniform: blue short sleeve shirt, brown pants and slightly worn boots.

He was that uniform four years ago when he walked his way to the U.S. Senate.

He didn't walk into the county this time. He used an airplane to get to the airport.

The friendly Democrat is a good listener. He proved that at the Democratic Executive Committee coffee session.

A few hundred party faithfuls gathered there were some Republicans, too, to bend the senator's ear.

Each person had his own pet peeve and they told the smiling senator about it until the next person got his attention.

These folks we send to the courthouse, statehouse and those houses in Washington, D.C., to make decisions for us have to take a lot of handshaking, ear bending and back slapping for these political jobs.

And at the statehouses, the governors were trying to act like the rest of us just folks the other day when they began their new terms.

Florida's Gov. Reubin Askew did away with the parades and other needless expenses that usually goes with oath taking day.

Out in California Pat Brown did about the same thing, and up in Connecticut the state's first woman governor Mrs. Ella T. Grasso rode a commuter train for her inauguration ceremony.

And at the courthouse.

Commissioners are still fighting the budget battle and there is more to come. And they can't wait until next year because it already is here.

And commissioners, and the public are going to talk Hutchinson Island into the ocean. Commissioners have scheduled another public hearing on the island.

It seems that we have had a dozen public meetings, studies and surveys on the narrow strip of land.

There have been traffic studies, land use studies and building height studies on the island.

Consultants, engineers and all types of experts have had their say on Hutchinson Island.

Folks who don't have island property and never will have island property will tell commissioners how to plan for future use.

It is going to be the most talked and planned strip in the state, if ever a final decision is ever made.

I just hope the public beaches stay public and there is space for parking of sub-compact cars and bikes while I enjoy the surf.

And from the looks of the crowded beaches over the past holiday that's about all our northern tourists want, guaranteed.

Fair trade is a trick

One of the old-time ventriloquist tricks in vaudeville was done by the fellow shouting a chorus of Yankee Doodle Dandy while drinking a glass of water.

Another version is even trickier: a business or industry argues for free enterprise on the one hand, free, that is, from government regulation—at the same time it asks government to make laws setting minimum prices on the products it sells. This trick is called fair trade.

Though such laws date back to the turn of the century, federal courts knocked them out in 1911.

They came back 20 years later when California retail druggists were worried about price wars and sought minimum price legislation to prevent them. Soon after, 43 other states enacted so-called fair trade laws.

More recently these have been indications that this trick may be going the way of the vaudeville act. It's estimated that only about 20 interstate companies use the laws extensively today. Several states have done away with them entirely. Just the same 41 states, representing nearly half the nation's retail sales, still have tough enforceable fair trade laws. This means that a retailer who wants to sell a fair trade item below the minimum price may run heavy fines or even a jail sentence for cutting his price to the consumer.

Big discount chains usually won't sign fair trade agreements, but small retailers may fear being cut off from supplies of popular brands if they don't observe the fair trade agreements they are asked to sign.

It used to be argued that fair trade laws helped small retailers, such as the corner grocer, from being severely undersold by big chains with superior buying power. It's more likely that independent neighborhood retailers are surviving today because they are convenient than because of a few cents difference in price on a brand of liquor or lipstick or water glasses.

Pro-fair trade forces argue that the higher margins provided the retailer by fair trade laws result in more retailers carrying the line, and with a broader selection at that.

That may be true, but in an age when advertising has effectively pressed so many brand names in the retailer really providing any extra useful service to the consumer in exchange for that higher margin? It's nice to know that he carries a broad selection, but without fair trade, wouldn't an enterprising merchant carry as broad a line of say, cosmetics as his customers demand?

Once you invite government to regulate you, in order to protect your economic interests you're asking for a lot more regulation down the line.

We live in a time when the barnacles of government regulation have added measurably to the cost of goods we buy. Let's rethink the fair trade issue altogether. Eliminate them and some prices should begin going down as a result.

It won't go anyplace

If you don't [illegible] you'll [illegible] find yourself swinging up and [illegible] the other month.

I know.

I've started a few times [illegible] the middle of summer [illegible]

The large spacious room suddenly became cramped, the area for the current party congestion. Everyone seated in the living room had no chance but to sit with the guests.

After considerable thought I could come up with only two alternatives towards a solution.

One would be to replace the furniture with barber chairs. These could be raised above the level of the pool table allowing one to at least see the guests perched on the other side of the room, while trying desperately to carry on a conversation.

The second solution would be the removal of two walls dividing the enclosed porch area from the living room.

Since there would be a considerable delay in obtaining a sufficient number of barber chairs, it seemed the removal of the two walls would be the most likely solution to our problem.

This I mentioned to a friend one evening vaguely suggesting perhaps we could get together and do it on a weekend when work schedules permitted.

Although little more had been said it happened last weekend.

My two children were in Jacksonville for a couple days and it was to be a weekend of rest. I planned to take down the holiday decorations on Saturday, and perhaps have friends in for the evening.

Everything went according to plan at least in the early part of the evening. With food and drink aplenty we played pool and enjoyed an evening of relaxation.

These two walls you want to take out ... they asked.

Yep, I answered as I eyed the table for my best shot.

Suddenly I heard a loud thud and wheeled around in time to see my friends turning their two children loose with hammers in hand to start breaking away the plaster.

To my amazement, within seconds there were huge gaping holes in the wall.

Even with all the self control I could muster up I felt my mouth drop open and nothing I could do seemed to shut it.

I was sad we would be in the first chance we had and what better time is there than now, they said.

Trying to get my breath in the thirty-some hugged seats I strongly suggested we take the time to cover up the furniture and seal off the area as much as possible with a large piece of plastic.

Oh there's no need to do that, my friend assured me. This won't go anyplace. We can just pick it up when we are thru.

As the last remaining chunk of plaster was pulled from the walls we brushed the dust from the clock in the kitchen only to discover it was 2 a.m.

Now being the true friends they are, and not wanting to leave the mess entirely to me they spent the night.

The next morning as I wiped the plaster dust out of the omelet pan and the silverware drawer before preparing breakfast, I realized just how accurate my friend's statement was.

With six of us using two vacuum cleaners, three brooms two dust mops, and one wheelbarrow one week later the lime dust is still there.

We should quit U.N.

WASHINGTON—The time is long overdue for the United States to take a good hard look at the United Nations, and ask that organization has become and whether it is in our national interest to keep subsidizing it.

And I am glad to report, there are a few signs we just may be doing that.

The healthiest sign came recently when the United Nations decided to create a new giveaway fund and we were quick to step forward and offer to support it.

When the UN General Assembly voted to create a fund to provide emergency relief and development aid to nations hard hit by the quadrupled price of oil, the United States said it would neither contribute nor serve on the board of governors.

No longer do we accept anything and everything out of some misguided sense of guilt.

Hopefully, from now on, we will recognize that the UN General Assembly controlled as it is by Third World nations and have-nots, will vote to spend all the money they can, so long as it is the western nations, and especially the United States which must foot all.

The unswerving as that U.S. denial was, and apparently has not filtered down to some of the giveaway artists in the Congress.

During the closing days of the 93rd Congress, an amendment was offered to the Foreign Assistance Act to limit U.S. financial support of the United Nations to the current level.

The amendment died, even though we are already financing this Third World dominated propaganda forum to the tune of $156 million. And, without the amendment, our annual assistance will rise another $37.5 million.

There are two extremely good reasons for slashing drastically our financial support of the UN. First, in these days of runaway inflation, it is the only sensible way to further tax our already overburdened citizens just so the United Nations living in style can be more and more important in my opinion, the foolishness of increasing support of an international forum that has singled us out as its favorite whipping boy and which shows more and more signs of immaturity to say the least.

The immaturity of the UN has never been shown more clearly than the vote which allows Palestinian terrorist Yasir Arafat to address the General Assembly, but to give that group of 138 members observer status in the UN.

Arafat is a killer. His terrorist activities have caused the deaths of hundreds of innocent people all around the world.

It was obscenous. This idiotic performance was a mockery of diplomacy, and a slap in the face to every precept on which this free world community of nations was founded.

I can't look beyond the high hopes letter to

he editor

Dear editor:

When I just received the Dec. 26th issue I must tell you I thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Campbell's "Christmas Memories."

I was grown up in Southern Kentucky. I have the same memories. I loved the most at his mention of the fire crackers on—as we called them—"Chunkers." I am 70 now but I still have the excitement of the snow underfoot. I remember the diamonds on the snow in the moonlight as we were sledding at night.

I grew up in a large family of brothers and sisters. Such a blessing. Today, our children here in Yucca Valley are getting into such trouble and not only that, but because they "have to do."

Mr. Campbell's memories stirred up memories more as I read them and this was so keen because I could not wait to share them with my husband. Perhaps the reason I appreciated his story of this article so much.

Perhaps these enclosures will be a surprise. The yellow wrapper on my newspaper is a weekly. The Desert Eagle is a daily and it comes just folded without a wrapper. Along with the date of subscription in a corner so they get their checks on time, a mailing out a reminder. I know they have a large out of town mailing.

Sincerely,
Hazel B. Ratliff

Wildlife film series begin

STUART–Friday, January 17, Martin County Audubon Society will inaugurate its newest wildlife film series at the Women's Club in Stuart with "Mule Deer Country" the first film, permits the audience to both hear and see the wildlife action which spans the great mule deer territory from Mexico to Canada and from alpine tundra and snow covered mountains to deserts or lush forest valleys.

The changing seasons show the tender comedy of new fawns with spotted legs, the magnificence of autumn wilderness, and the clashing antlers of warring bucks. Winter in the frozen heights gives the audience a taste of hoof tracks and drives the deer to seek food and shelter in the lowlands on which man's constant encroachment has diminished wildlife food and killed off the selective animal predators.

Buzz Moss has made a compelling film which forcefully brings home a message of mingled joy, compassion and wilderness need.

"Nothing is more over than Christmas" is a truism but since we've been out of print for several weeks, we still have to report on the Hobby Club's festive luncheon and Christmas Party at which 23 members were present to enjoy a delicious lunch and dessert. Lillian Zukoff was the Chairperson, and she was ably assisted by Nettie Keefer, Ethel Phillips and Eileen McRrae. Lovely decorations added to the holiday spirit, and a gift exchange was fun.

D & M had its share of visitors during the holidays. It looked like just about everybody came down to sun-bathe, indulge in a lot of fishing, swimming, etc.

Tim and Miriam Clift, their son Don and Miss Debbie Friedrich gladdened the hearts of their parents Harry and Alice Eastlack, and how Don and Dorothy Fuhrmeister are with their parents, the Eastlacks.

Two area men enlist in Navy

JENSEN BEACH–Senior Chief Petty Officer Ellis Abrams and Petty Officer Bob Blumel announced the enlistment of two area men into the U.S. Navy. Kevin P. Mason son of Mr. & Mrs. P. J. Mason 1 Lakeside Trail, Jensen Beach and David W. Lassiter son of Mr. & Mrs. J. Lassiter 1789 Adair Rd. Port St. Lucie are presently undergoing recruit training at Orlando.

Mason was enlisted under the provisions of the Navy's Direct Procurement Petty Officer Program. By utilizing his past experience as a carpenter he will receive his advanced stripes upon completion of recruit training. David Lassiter qualified for and enlisted in the Advanced Electronics Field. He was enlisted in an advanced pay grade and upon successful completion of his preliminary technical training, he will be automatically advanced an additional pay grade.

Club gets back pat

STUART–Martin County Audubon Society, in its Directors Meeting January 8, unanimously voted appreciation for the Garden Club of Stuart which has generously offered the entire proceeds from the coming Spring Garden Club Tour to the upkeep of Possum Long Nature Center.

The Garden Club Spring Tour of lovely homes and gardens is one of our county's much anticipated attractions, and the donation of proceeds from this event will greatly help Audubon Society Possum Long Nature Center available for wild flora and fauna and as a study center for Martin County Schools, as well as a joy to all our nature loving citizens.

Design course is offered

FORT PIERCE–A new course entitled Principles of Interior Decorating and Design is being offered at Indian River Community College at 8 p.m. on Thursday evenings in Room H-37. The course will cover the basic aspects of attractively designing residential interiors as well as highlighting the major principles of interior decoration including color coordination and furniture, carpet and drapery selection.

Mary Bray, a noted interior designer from Vero Beach is the instructor for this practical class which is being offered for Institutional Credit. Enrollment is open until January 17.

THANK YOU

I sincerely wish to thank each and everyone that showed so much concern for my well being at the death of my dear husband Edward J. Snyder after an extended illness.

Especially I want to thank the members of American Legion Auxiliary of Jensen Beach, WWI, VFW, 8-40 Eastern Star, friends of the First Baptist Church of Stuart and John's Funeral Home. May God Bless each one.

Clyde and I received word that our son and daughter-in-law, Jerry and Pat Dryer and children arrived back in Michigan safely. Pats parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hebel accompanied them home after spending the holidays with another daughter and her family in Lake Worth. On the way home Mrs. Hebel slipped and broke her heel. They stopped near Nashville where it was put on a cast which she will have to wear ten or twelve weeks.

There were 29 ladies present at Hobby on Mon. afternoon. Plans for the up-coming luncheon at Lord Chumley's and the Hobby Show and Bake sale to be held on Feb. 16 were discussed. Florence Brynilsen and Ethel Noggle served a dainty dessert. A correction is in order as Orpha Woodring served as hostess with Fray Johnson last week instead of Theresa Rothy as reported. Sorry Orpha! It was unintentional.

Mr. and Mrs. Remi Rothy spent several days in Avon Park with Remi's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Roths. While there they attended the Fourth Annual Get-together of the retired Untroyal Employees of which Mrs. Rothy is a member. They also got to see her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Doyle from Cape Coral. They were surprised to get a visit from Remi's sister and husband from Mishawaka, Indiana and also Theresa met a longtime friend who was here on her honeymoon.

MOVIE SET—The Unita ground squirrel lives chiefly in mountainous areas. Like some other ground squirrels it spends only about half of the year above ground from April through August. Many interesting animals play major roles in "Mule Deer Counties," an Audubon Wildlife Film presented in person by Buzz Moss. This film will be shown Friday, January 17 at 8 p.m. at the Stuart Women's Club and is the first of a series of four wildlife films to be shown by Martin County Audubon Society.

Pinelake Village Tattler

MRS. MARY GRAU

True to the old adage of better than late than never, I'd like to report on our New Year's Eve Party. It was a great success. Our decorating committee headed up by Kate Ramsey, had the rec hall looking festive and beautiful.

The Christmas tree had many hand made ornaments on it, lovingly donated by the arts and crafts club and many others. Mildred Gray's geometrical figures suspended from the ceiling were admired and commented upon by many. June LaVigne's papier mache' Wisemen under the tree gave it all the holy touch.

The dinner, sponsored by George Casper with the help of the Ramseys, Preeses, Palmers, Sidoriaks, Mays and LaHasses was delicious. The snacks and beer ups were appreciated.

Everyone agreed that it was a marvelous evening.

Last chapters meeting will be held on the fourth Monday of each month at 7:30. The one coming up will be Monday, Jan 27. Remember 1975 dues are now payable.

Bridge lessons are being given by Mac McPherson and his wife Aileen on Thursday afternoons at 2:00. The last two lessons were given at Holiday Out rec hall. This week's, Jan. 16th, lesson will be given at Pinelake Village rec hall. It is not too late to register if you are interested. Mac is stressing bidding because it is 60 per cent of the game.

Did you know that you can reserve the rec hall and kitchen when you have too many guests to dine in your home? I entertained 16 there last weekend. The guests were Shirleys and Dick Furness, my daughter and son-in-law and their four boys, Paul, Peter, Thomas and David. They live in Lanham, Md. Also my other daughter from Stuart, Helen McKillop and her husband Kevin and their five children Ann Marie, Donna Kevin, Linda and Mark. Mrs. Ruth Fullerton and her son Ken were there too. It was a long overdue reunion for the two sisters.

Saturday, Jan. 18th at 7 p.m. we are having a combination Welcoming Neighbors and Januarys Birthdays dinner and dance. If interested contact Rachel or Camel LaClisse for tickets.

All of us in the park want to welcome Al and Ethel Simcox, lately of Wyckoff, N.J., Jersey, who are semi retired and Joe and Rose Dorffler.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Preese had guests from South Bend, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webster. Webster is Mrs. Preese's brother.

Bill White from Erie Pa. has been visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe White.

We are all happy to have Dutch Duren here for the winter. He is with the Bill Durens.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Larry O'Donnell spent New Years in New Jersey. After that they went on to Washington, D.C. to Willard Bill Duren and Uncle Melvin Duren.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Palmer spent Christmas vacation with the older Palmers. Matt is in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Eustis, Va.

Shirley and Dick Furness and their four boys visited with me over the holidays. Shirley is my daughter. It was stunning in Lanham, Md. and where then live. When they saw all that snow and sleet, they said, "Let's go back to Florida."

* * *

Mrs. Jeanne Farrell and her four daughters from Dallas, Texas visited with the McPhersons. Mrs. Farrell is their niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cook and daughter Bootsie, from Kalamazoo, Mich., visited the the Grays over the holidays. Mrs. Cook is their daughter.

Mrs. and Mrs. F. Striesse and family of Jupiter visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rosebourn over the holidays. The children really enjoyed grandma's three wheeler.

Grace White won the jack pot at bingo last Wednesday night. How are you going to spend all that money, Grace?

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gemza and Vic Murphy visited with the Sydoriaks over the weekend.

David Sydoriak of the U.S. Army in Alaska to enter the hospital in Denver. As soon as he is released, he will come to Florida to recuperate.

SHUFFLEBOARD

George Yost is teaching shuffleboard every Monday and Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. If you are interested contact him. Experienced shufflers come play, too. There is room for all. Lee O'Neal is considering a round robin in the future. Keep in touch.

The Second Annual Auction Sale on Saturday, Jan. 11 was blessed by no rainfall in spite of threatening clouds. Auctioneer Bill McKinnon did his usual terrific job of selling the donations of odds and ends, food items, and handcrafts, backed by his right-hand lady, Ada Stuart. Volunteer runners were Fred Pascoe, Pike Stuart, Palma Smaniotto and Joan Byrne showed items and collected the money.

The crowd was smaller than last year, but many who missed the sale or came late, blamed the communication system failure for not reminding them. I had thought there was plenty of advertising in the column, on the billboard, and also by two evening sandwich board, bike and cycle parades. At any rate, the sale cleared about the same amount as last year, and everyone was happy in the end except. The husbands who had mistakenly thought they were shedding some of the load.

Stefanie Kelleher's kitchen crew ran out of hot dogs again this year, proving our appetites keep pace with the supply available. Don Landis served as clerk and cashier for the auction, and Sophie and Paul Holler generously allowed us to use their portable amplification system. Heartfelt thanks to them all, including the audience who came out and bought. A special thanks to Marvin Smith, who captured the tiny green dragon who disrupted the sale for a few minutes while ladies shrieked and lifted their feet!

A belated New Years report. A patio party was held on Pat and John Vetterli's lot 154 with a beautiful decorated outdoor tree and lanterned awning. Guests were Pauline and Herb Rough, Elton and Jane Sheehan, Jean and Mac McCabe, Ruth and Earl Howes. A pot luck lunch was served which consisted of baked ham, baked kielbasa, potato salad, macaroni salad, relish tray, figs & ginger, warm coffee. Most of the Bubblettes of our corner attended, a real nice party, enjoyed by all.

Still another A cookout at the Thomas residence in Sarita Heights for New Years. Just an old friendly gathering, including Greta and Tippy Updike.

Larry and Pat Storr and family left for home Jan. 11th. Their home is at Canal Winchester, Ohio. Now their parents are on their lot for two weeks. We welcome them to our park. In prior years they stayed in Outdoor Resorts on a lot owned by another son.

Helen and Homer Kingsbury, lot 226, are back in the park.

Evelyn and Joe Lang from Geneseo, N.Y. arrived back on their lot 496 on Jan. 6th bringing their granddaughter, Dawn Tubbs, with them. They had trouble coming down when an axle on their car broke and they almost tipped over. During the summer of '74, the Langs visited the Bob Davises of lot 104 from New York state, the Bob McLains of lot 289 from Vermont, the Richard Moody's from New Hampshire and Frank Judychca from Mass. Joe celebrated his birthday Jan. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eury had nearly weds as holiday guests. James and Melody Eury from Asheville, N.C.

The Blacks spent three days at Key West last week to do some deepsea fishing and import shopping. They stayed at Sugar Loaf Key with their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. George Warr of New Jersey in Mrs. Black's brother's mobile home. Her brother in Nicholas Stilwell also from New Jersey. On the way back to the park, they stopped at Homestead to pick tomatoes for themselves and friends.

Nancy Kryger, daughter of Robert and Grace Murphy, and her son Robert Edmund, age 3½, named after both grandfathers, are visiting here for ten days. Their home is Highgate Center, Vermont, her miles from the Canadian border. Husband Rob was not able to get away for the trip to Florida as he is a high school teacher and basketball coach.

Mary Kubiak arrived Jan. 8th for a three months visit, coming from Niles, Michigan.

Pauline and Herb Rough's daughter, Mrs. Jacki Anna Rae Harrington, and grandchildren Cathy and Vicky, from Bucharia, Mich., are here for a visit. They arrived Jan. 9th. Pauline and Herb and family left Monday, Jan. 13, to visit Disney World and will return Thursday, the 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eisenhuth are in the park for the rest of the winter, coming here from Pennsylvania.

Three couples from Miami, friends of the Rays and Preeses, are in the park for a few days enjoying the fishing and change from big city life.

Billie and Bruce Magers are here from Missouri, and will stay until early February. Billie is busy collecting shells and making pretty wind chimes.

Bob Long's "no longer floating" Canteen featured a fish fry on Sunday, Jan. 12. Al Ray and some of his friends accounted for the fish, Carolyn Allen did the hush puppies, and the rest of the ladies brought assorted goodies. Highlight of the day was the presentation of a big birthday cake to Bob Long, whose birthday was on Monday, Jan. 13. All present sang while Bob beamed. The night before, around the campfire, he collected kisses from all ladies present, while Peg Ray dedicated her "Hots-Totsy" number especially to Bob. Al Ray supplied the music and singing continued to quiet time Saturday evening.

Hazel and Carl Edmondson arrived Friday, Jan. 10, for a stay on their lot 51. They headed a small caravan of three Avions, and are busy making sure their friends don't miss any of our area highlights.

Marie and Jim Williams have gone back to St. Albans, W. Va. vowing to be here much longer next year when Jim retires. This remark has a familiar ring to their friends, but maybe Jim really will retire this time.

Bea Lupke has been busy, busy these past few days lining up a couple of trailers for the family to stay in. A telephone call announced that they would be able to make it after all this year, and Bea had to hurry around to find space.

The new year brings school growth

BY STEVE DAVIS

FIT--Along with the new year a new quarter has begun here at FIT and in the welcome back meeting of January 7, Dean Tealey announced plans for the coming year. Due to the great economic problems of the entire country, as well as our school many of the planned improvements have had to be delayed.

The Student Center work renovation of Chauvin Hall has already begun with $25,000 of the required $50,000 in matching funds already acquired and the remainder promised. Work on the new Marine Science building should begin soon. The building will contain 5,000 square feet of maintenance and classroom facilities.

The proposed docking facilities are still being held up by the necessary state approval. An Athletic Field has been planned for the area behind the South Hall. Bulldozers should begin to clear the land soon. Help from area service clubs will be used to sod the bowl shape field which will be used primarily by the soccer team.

Improvement of the Student Government Association was also a topic brought up by the Dean. The Dean feels that our SGA needs reorganization. Some examples of the problems of the SGA are the poor organization of elections where Freshmen represents lives were not actually elected at most meetings there are barely enough members for a quorum, with a total lack of organization. Many students complain about the poor use of the SGA monies which comes from tuition, which is to be used for our entertainment.

An example of a well organized SGA is that of the Melbourne campus. There the student government runs its own court system where they take care of all disciplinary actions.

After the meeting the Dean told the Messenger of some of the school's financial problems. The cost of supplies for the Chemistry and Biology departments have gone up an average of 35 percent. It seems, that like the nation, the school is also having economic problems.

A final note of achievement, however, is that by September the Jensen Beach campus should be on its own with regard to economic situations, with the installation of our own computer terminal.

Welcome to 1975

BY DEAN ERNEST TEALEY

FIT--Welcome back all students and a special welcome to those who have joined us for the first time this quarter. 1975 is here and it brings a bleak outlook for the national economy and casts an even darker shadow on the international scene. All levels of business and industry are feeling the effects of a spiraling cost structure and a depressed market place. Unemployment is increasing, business failures are on the rise and due to living for the average family is becoming more difficult.

We at Florida Institute of Technology face the same problems as everyone else: our operating costs are going up at a rate well in excess of best estimates. Our total income is far below the estimate made last spring. Sources of gifts and grants have declined and our investment portfolio has shrunk with the stock market decline.

Fortunately we are financially sound but in order to preserve this position we must economize and limit our operations. I ask everyone, students, staff and faculty to become acutely aware of all forms of expenditure and to try and economize. The use of power, water, materials for class, paper supplies, etc., should be carefully scrutinized. Automobiles should only be used when absolutely necessary and forming car pools can greatly reduce gas consumption. Some planned expansions will be delayed, some activities curtailed. An overall effort by everyone in all facets of their daily lives will help us, our community and our country.

As always the pendulum swings the other way. I think the turning point is 1975 but it is going to require the help of everyone to stem the tide of inflation and stabilize the economy.

Environmental health

Urban poisons

BY THOMAS KIEBER EMMONS

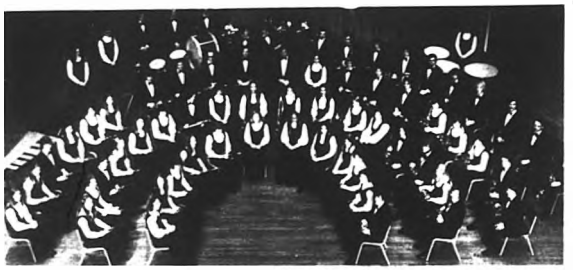
FIT--One explanation of the decline and fall of the Roman Empire is that some of the residents died of lead poisoning because of drinking from lead goblets. Today drinking vessels are not made of lead but lead is still with us in some paints and gasolines and with that sun lead poisoning.

There are many environmental diseases that we do not as yet know about. The causative agents are things that virtually all of us, regardless of sex, economic background, are exposed to daily. While we are waiting for these diseases to become apparent, we have several to deal with.

Carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless, tasteless gas formed by incomplete combustion of organic material. Most in the air we breathe comes from exhaust pipes of vehicles. Federal standards for an eight hour period is 35 parts per million. In congested areas this gas has been measured well over the parts per million.

The signs of moderate monoxide poisoning can be subtle: headache, impaired vision, to think, delayed reaction time, serious children in high monoxide areas are said to have lower reading scores. Monoxide poisoning can be disastrous to coronary patients. A small amount of carbon monoxide bound to their hemoglobin could cause a massive heart attack.

Tobacco is another big contributor to disease. It is one of those diseases easily missed even by doctors in the largest medical centers. The symptoms mimic those of a dozen or so other problems. The disease is primarily found in children.



GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS COLLEGE BAND

Gustavus band to play at FIT

FIT--Music from Tchaikovsky to Morton Gould will be heard in this community Wednesday evening, February 5, when the 65 piece Gustavus Adolphus College band appears in the chapel at Florida Institute of Technology, Jensen Beach. Peter Vollmers is the conductor of the band now in its 95th year. This is one of eight concerts the group is playing in Florida.

Sponsored jointly by FIT, the Redeemer Lutheran Church and the Martin County Festival Society, the concert is an example of friendly cooperation between the three local organizations. Eight months ago the college suggested this concert to Mrs. Janet Hutchinson, director of the Historical Society, as a possibility for the Elliott Museum. When Mrs. Hutchinson said, "Yes," she forgot to tell the minister that with an audience of that size FIT offered the use of its chapel. Such accommodations are comfortable for both groups, so after a brief consultation the offer was accepted.

But where to bring in session, the college in Jensen Beach would be unable to house and feed the Gustavus band. At this point, the Reverend William J. Schepman of The Redeemer Lutheran Church and the Church Council solved the problem by inviting the band members to come and dinner into the homes of our members providing supper and breakfast as well as bed and transportation.

Tickets for Vollmers recital both his bachelor's and master's degrees in music from the University of Minnesota and Gustavus Adolphus College in Saint Peter, Minnesota, are available at the door. The concert starts at 7:30 p.m.

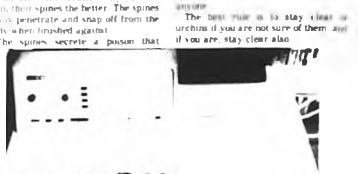
Richard Betts: 'Highway Call'

BY JOHN HINCKLEY

FIT--The Allman Brothers have mostly been known for their country-bluegrass flavored rock. With the release of Brothers and Sisters album "Highway Call" on Capricorn Records, the group has added a country influence to their sound.

The material on the album is all contemporary and country flavored. The band adds considerable lead singing to



Instrumentation

BY DOUG ZINN

FIT--Through the help of Captain Dan Maguire this will be the first in a series of weekly articles on instrumentation at the SOMET camp.

VARIAN TECTRON MODEL 635

This instrument is a visible and recorder model dual beam recording ratio spectrophotometer. The device serves a branch of analytical chemistry in which a quantitative method of analysis is used. A reagent is added to a solution of a substance so that the color intensity is proportional to the amount of substance occurring in the solution. The intensity of the color is measured quantitatively. The instrument records the absorption of a given band of wave lengths of light. An example experiment is to determine the amount of phosphate in sea water. The three main advantages of this instrument are that it will record absorption, transmission and concentration. The unit is solid state and the best of its kind on the market today.

Rowing crews at Melbourne

MELBOURNE--Rowing patriots are springing to the Indian River this week as Florida Institute of Technology hosts a new University crew competition. The event is an impressive lot of crew racing powers scheduled to arrive this month in Melbourne.

Jets and the fastmoving M.I.T. eights regarded among the most powerful crews in the country will be on hand. Also on the impressive list

Oughterson-Corrie vows exchanged

JENSEN BEACH—Friends and family gathered at the Stuart Baptist Church on January 4th when Debra Lee Corrie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Corrie, Jensen Beach and William Scott Oughterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Oughterson Stuart were joined in marriage in a beautiful candlelight service.

Reverend Robert E. Lee officiated at the double ring ceremony in a lovely setting of white cathedral arrangements and candelabra decorated with white pom poms and greenery. White candles burned in each window and clusters of white daisy poms and leather leaf ferns marked the pews. Traditional music was played before and during the ceremony by Mrs. Keller and Debbie and Dottie Hackney sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Galina candlelight dulsette satin gown with a high waist, peau d'ange fitted bodice, long sleeves with lace appliques and a peau d'ange lace and illusion veil mantilla. Lace motifs bordered the full skirt and attached chapel train. Her bouquet was a nosegay of cream colored roses covering a white bible.

Heather Owens, helped serve punch and Mary Ellen Bitskowsky served the wedding cake at a reception immediately following the ceremony at the Holiday Inn.

The new Mrs. Oughterson is a 1974 graduate of Martin County High School and is employed at the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Oughterson graduated from Indian River Community College in 1973 and works at Stafford and Brock Engineering and Surveying Firm in Stuart.

They have returned from their honeymoon trip to Clayton, Georgia, and are at home at 1081 S. W. Ocean Boulevard, Stuart.

Out of town guests who came to share their joy and wish them well, included Mrs. Sarah S. Oughterson, Miss Rosalie Oughterson, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Woodall all from Lake Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hughes Jacksonville, Mrs. G. M. Green, Chicago, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gustwhite, Boca Raton, Mr. and Mrs. William Zieglin, Charleston, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. William S. Priese, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Birthday plans are talked

JENSEN BEACH—We should do something.

And Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce agreed Monday night that "something" will be done to celebrate the nation's bicentennial.

"We can do this," Buck Mauldin asserted. "We can draw people from all over the state."

The bicentennial will help the motel business and other businesses and it is something we should investigate," Mauldin continued.

"We are going to have to have guidelines," the former chamber president pointed out.

Chamber president Art Hansen suggested that a meeting should be held with other organizations to determine what they are planning.

The chamber should coordinate the event, Hansen said.

Saturday's basketball action

BY DONNIE WILKIE

JENSEN BEACH—When you take the following ingredients: what do you get? First, you've got lots of young enthusiasm, then a little determination not to mention the first week jitters, and all the confusion and chaos that usually comes along with the first week of any league's season. And don't forget to toss in about 80 large mouths of those players and parents, and the lack of any basketball nets. The answer to that question is that you finally come up with the Senior Division of the Jensen Beach Optimist Club-sponsored Junior Basketball Program.

Yes, it was a wacky Saturday afternoon of basketball action, and it was all capped off by Gold Coast Tires tremendous upset of CWA Local Post 3111, the team that was picked by this prognosticator to capture the title at the end of the long haul ahead.

But the CWA, which soundly defeated Gold Coast in eight minutes of action two weeks ago, 31-6, was not present at Langford Park last Saturday. It was hard to tell whether it was because of sound defense by Gold Coast or if CWA just didn't have the presence of mind at the time, but for some strange reason the yellow shirts just didn't take many inside, good opportunity shots. That had to be the deciding factor in the 23-12 upset.

Mike Schnure scored 14 points during the contest, and that total was tops for the game. As for CWA, David Kenny, a guard, scored 9 and led their scorers.

The game was close until the fourth quarter, when Schnure rambled inside for a twisting jumper that went in. He was injured on the play, but then came back to hit another jumper only 25 seconds later to give Gold Coast an insurmountable 16 point lead, 20-10.

The halftime score was 12-6.

In the other game, CWA came from behind to earn a 30-26 win over Pittman Insurance.

CWA took the lead for good when Brent Laycock hit with 2:36 to go in the game to make the score 28-26.

This week CWA will play Pittman again, this time in the second game of the day, starting at 2 p.m. In the first game, unbeaten Gold Coast will try to make it 2-0 as they will meet Pittman.

HOW THE BALL BOUNCED

FIRST GAME: Pittman 10 5-7 26, CWA 6 9-9 21. 3rd GAME SCORING: Pittman: Driscoll 9, Graham 8, Bocchino 5, Smith 2, Wilson 2. CWA: Laycock 9, Dargis 6, Jackson 4, J. Wolf 3, Kenny 4. FOULED OUT: Driscoll, Graham. TECHNICALS: None.

SECOND GAME: CWA 23 4-4 2 12, Gold Coast 8 4 6 5 23. GAME SCORING: CWA: Kenny 6, Dargis 2, Wolf and Laycock each with 2. Gold Coast: Schnure 14, Bright 6, Wilkie 2, Cheek, Foil, LeFoot, T. J. Wolf, J. Wolf, Schnure. TECHNICALS: CWA, Boaich, Bob Merlano.

Trout and blues are plentiful

Duck White had an interesting week, landing 25 trout, 3 snook, 4 reds and a pompano. Art Ryan had 16 whiting, 3 blues and a pompano. Hartman Fawcett, 23 blues and one mackerel. Joe and Irene Pinder, 22 blues and a jack, and Andy Winters had 6 trout and a snook.

Evan Renn had 91 blues in three outings. Fred Morgan, 22 blues. Charles Kross, 10 trout. John Wilbert, 16 trout. Ed Wagner, 18 trout. Sandy Adair, 8 trout, and Irv Fisher, 14 trout.

Jim and Mike Schulte, FLT, took 45 croaker from the surf at Rand's Pier. Dan Gist, one snook. John McCormick had 4 snook, totaling 42 pounds, and 7 trout, which, together, weighed 13 pounds.

Sam Moore had "would you believe" 45 trout and 1 red. Dick Hoke, 24 snapper. Col. Dougherty, a 2-lb. pompano. Buck Cartaughi, 8 trout. J. Sample and Dick London, 18 trout. Ed Tormeen, 4 trout, and Jon Haines had 32 sand perch.

Jim Schulte and John Cheese, using cut shrimp, had 25 croaker, 4 whiting and 4 pan fish. Rooms near 18 trout. Al Wise, 6 blues. Charlie Arens, 12 blues. Father Alvarez and Howard Sinkiss, 11 blues. Jim Thorpe, an amber jack, five. Blasius, 13 trout, and Jerry Wood, 13 trout.

Dale Strimple from Buffalo, N.Y., had 4 snook to 6 lbs. Charles Kessler and Bob Duncan, 42 sheepshead caught with live shrimp. George Gordon, blues. Henry Ohralik, 8 jacks. Barracuda, 1 mangrove snapper, 1 trout. Bob Ennis, 6 blues. Gary O'Connor, a 9-lb. snook. Chuck Bugert, 22 blues. W.D. Neff, 7 blues. Hank Greiner, 16 blues.

Clarence Smith had 1 permits, 2 whiting, Dick Hein, 9 blues, and Art Elton, 8 blues.

Dan Stone aboard the Al Dan had 4 kings, one weighing 11 lbs. Eddie Jones, Red Taylor and Bruce Makin had 12 kings, 2 dolphin on one trip outside. Dan and Jim Leavitt and Chuck Boogher brought in 18 kings, from 4 to 10 pounds, and Scott and Claude Price had 12 dolphin, 10-20 pounds each.

Turkey Somebody had a bad week, didn't catch a single fish but signed the Snook Nook report every day anyway.

Venture Out News Notes

BY - THE PINCH HITTERS)

BY BETTY DAVIS

Our finger is really hopping now Gloria and Dave and Dick mason followed Louise and John Campbell home once more. Gloria was under the weather for a few days, but is again fit as a fiddle.

Melva and Joe Goodwin are back on their lot for the season. Joe has had a bad year healthwise. Melva is really our Miss America now with the figure of a teenager.

Kay and Jim Gibson are now settled in their beautiful new coach and are planning to stay all season.

We were saddened to hear Virginia Ramsay has had surgery, but they will return to the park as soon as she recuperates.

Our Happy Hour Saturday was livened up considerably by our very own South Marlin Trio, Joe Goodwin, Bill Nyikos and Jake Davis. Joe and Bill's talents are well known, but Jake just returned to his fiddle lately. They are not always in tune, but we all enjoyed it nonetheless and it did stimulate the social chords.

Sunday we had a rough boatacade to the St. Lucie Hilton for brunch honoring Willard and Louise Auch's daughter Barbara.

Wayne and La Belle Barrett just bought Selma Valaro's beautiful blue Sea Wind. It has been christened Callidae. If you can reverse the letters, you'll know why all of their boats have been so named.

The Barretts were joined on the boatacade by Cora Lee and Ward Irwin. Mate and Bill Gruelling carried Capt. Bob Owen and First Mate Mary as well as Bob and Jemima Mowry. Bob blew out a sparkler in celebration of his big day.

As you drove around our finger, you'll miss the three massive Australian pines between the Gibson's lot and ours. Bill Thompson with his inimitable dry humor fears Jake will not be able to find his lot now its land or water.

Bob and Ethel Sterr spent a few days at Sarasota to better enjoy their lot here. No place like Venture Out.

All the beautiful people have now arrived to complete the first finger family. Stan and Lee Spector, Mate and Bill Gruelling, Lucy and Toad Bowling, Elmina and Bob Mowry, Anne and Charlie Bromberger, Helen and Boyd Kitts, LaBelle and Wayne Barrett.

Lucy and Toad have Toad's sister Belva as their house guest. Belva has been on her knees every day since she arrived, weeding, pruning the pretty flowering lot.

Charlie Bromberger has a new stereo. Anne tries hard to keep him from feeling the world hear his new toy. She does pretty well for such a little girl she sure can handle big Charlie.

Also on this finger, we have Joe Stow of Moorestown, N.J. Joe was so entranced with Venture Out when he visited the Al Phillips in October that he rented the Owen's Airstream for the month of January.

One attractive guest of the first finger, Harriet McAdams of Haddon Heights, N.J. was escorted to the Fishing Class. She was innocent of the fact that is was for men only. However she took it in her stride and reported that it was a most interesting and instructive evening.

If you haven't already seen it, beg, borrow or steal the latest issue of the National Geographic. Read the history of the pelicans and see the most amazing photographs of this bird, from birth to their plunging into the water after their prey.

Louise Shepard returned from Maryland and a marvelous visit with her family where she had a ball. She really enjoyed her grandchildren who range from one-year old to seventeen years. Since then she has been visited by her very good friends from Okeechobee and then by the Biggs, Isabel, Chris and Terry. Isabel and Chris Biggs are from the Isle of Jersey, England on a three-month holiday in the states. Terry, Chris' brother lives in Maryland. These attractive young people are enjoying Florida and we hope they will return home with pleasant memories of their stay on this island.

Ida and Harry Hausman have returned from a long holiday visit to Indiana and Maryland. I enjoyed their trip very much. In fact their trip was extended by a week because they were having too good a time to come home on schedule.

Edith and Dick Painter have been enjoying their boat, and are looking forward to lots of family visiting in February, some from as far away as Colorado.

A big truck delivered furniture to Hazel and Walter Ramsey on our street. Hazel reports that their furniture all fitted in nicely and they were glad to get it out of storage after such a long time.

We are all indebted to Sara Valaro for the great job she did in putting out a much-needed directory of the mobile home owners. This would seem to be a simple project, but it really involved a lot of work, most of it very tedious, obtaining the information and compiling it. The finished directory includes telephone numbers, mailing addresses, local and out-of-state where available, and anniversaries and birthdates. Sara listed the anniversaries and birthdays chronologically instead of alphabetically to make "remembering" easy for us. There were constant changes to the list so up to the very last minute, Sara tried to make it as current as possible before she typed and distributed the copies. Thank you, Sara, from all of us.

Betty and Paul Drinkard have a brand new little granddaughter. This makes their ninth! (Grandchildren, I mean). This glamorous couple hardly seem old enough to have that number, but they're surely proud of each one.

BY THEO SLAGLE

We wish to welcome Erma and Lee Neuen of Berne, Ind., who are renting Helen and Roy Williams' mobile home during January and February.

Jessie and Lester Shaver hosted friends Saturday evening with a cocktail hour and mostdelicious buffet dinner with smoked turkey as the main course. All the guests enjoyed the different conversations, ranging from experiences in Bimini, sailing trips, hazardous adventures, including discussions of descendants, ancestors and the old world.

BY MAY TIFFT

Everyone around here was washing windows today. I think we owe blame to Mary and Bill Samuel. Along came Mary Samuel of ours from New York State! Sort of contagious! They have it at the Blazon and it is their first trailer and they were so spotless. We wish them happiness and good health in it.

Bill and Ruth Martin came down this year the easy way—by auto train sort of to Washington.

Ann Murphy would like to thank the following for their help in serving punch and cookies at the Christmas Eve party. They are Mr. & Mrs. Chuck Kabori and girls (Jean & Fred Callo's children) and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vallee (Ann & Bernard Murphy's sister and brother-in-law).

Ladies start SEWING! The Women's Club is planning a fashion show luncheon around Valentine's Day. Anything you make can be modeled, and it is not necessary to belong to the sewing class to participate.

The next meeting of the Women's Club will be on Jan. 15th and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Gambee. The subject will be "Transcendal Meditation." We could all use some of it in this busy place.

The Kitchens have another new boat. They haven't named it yet but I think they will change the name this time from the others, which were called "Kitchen Sink."

Trudy Sims, I do want to thank you for the use of your typewriter for the duration of my writing this column. I'm not a very good typist but it is a big time saver and I'm sure it makes it much easier for The Mirror than having to decipher my handwriting.

The men who installed our public address system and donated their expert services were, Cecili Long, Val Leger, Elmer Hagan, Ben Soskol and Bob Beedell. We are so fortunate to have these knowledgeable men in the resort.

The Men's Club election of officers was last week with the following results: Pat Conway, President; Harold Leonard, Vice-President; David Rothbaum, Secretary; and Patrick Brannon, Treasurer.

Billy Mayo is back and his corner now looks more natural to the neighborhood with that big fifth wheel on it.

Jim Erskine is back without Anne. Her father who was very elderly passes away and she had to stay home for awhile longer to settle things. Sympathy cards will reach her at RR 2, Lowellville, Ohio 44436. Tell her that we miss her.

The Leonard's daughter and her husband, Mary and Art Danford are visiting them from Cincy, Ohio.

Big Louis Scheurer and little Buelah has she ever lost weight! From Mankato, Minn. have pulled into their lot in section I.

John and Clara Ashbaugh from Columbus, Ohio are here too.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson of Milwaukee, Wisc. are visiting Dr. and Ann Snyder. The Snyders have a new Roda International trailer.

Arlene Juliar of lot 173, Mary Couillard of lot 1015 and Lillian Rothbaum are going to help sell tickets for the Minstrel Show. Contact them or they will contact you. Arlene and Jim Erskine have a competition going on down at the post office to see who can sell the most tickets.

Cecil and Frances Wilkins of Virginia pulled in just the other day on "Happy Lane". I asked where that was as some neighbors explained they didn't know what the real name of the road was, but that it was what the residents of it all called it. The Wilkins expect to be here about three months.

Went by Dr. Don and Lee Ashley's place today just as they and Norm Kellam had finished installing a sprinkler system. Norm had sneaked a lot of liquid soap in the system and everyone was forming a gallery waiting for the bubbles to come up.

A group of men headed by George Beardo raked and cleaned up around the entire recreation area. It looks as it should now but some smarty in the group remarked that the Garden Club should do it next time.

Davey Jackson of Columbus, Ohio is down here for a months stay with Leonard and Edith Kaplan of Harrisburg, Pa. as their guest. He says he loves it here and hopes to be back again next year.

Jan 6th there was a meeting held to start casting for the minstrel show and for workers for it. Al Cano, our director, needs willing hams and backstage help plus voices for the chorus. The show is only three weeks off, so pitch in and help.

The Men's Club members are pretty sneaky executives if you ask me. They not only worked like demons getting set up for Las Vegas night but got some of the Women's Club to help. Selma Hall was one of the Black Jack dealers. Marni Sanger and Bette Wing worked at the bank and Ann Murphy and May Tiff were bar cashiers. Betty Maxwell and Lucille Weiker supervised the preparing and serving of food. It sure was a fun evening though. They had our own musical group of Jean Richter and Pat Conway and later Carl Walter to accompany singing in the lounge. This time Val Leger, Elmer Hagan, Bob Beedell and Martha Briggs made the wheels, etc., so that now the Men's Club have their own casino equipment.

The latest conversation of note that took place in our very orderly trailer was when Bob asked me where the bottoms of his clean pajamas were. I told him, "In the oven on top of the crackers." "WHAT?" I explained, "The waistband didn't quite dry so I put them in to let the heat from the pilot light dry them." After quite a pause, "Honey, you should have run for the Board of Directors this week." I don't really think he meant it, do you?

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAN
334-6791

The friendly four who play pinochle regularly, Jen Robertson, Evie Neyhart, Dot Beamer and Sylvia Siman were having a regular game at Evie's on Jan. 4, and also celebrating Dot's birthday. Birthday cake with candles and ice cream were served. A fun evening was had as per usual for this group.

Welcome back to Teresa Shoup, her son Charles, his wife Nancy, and two children, Richard who is six and little David, ten weeks. David is a delightful baby and Richard is sure a smart boy. Good luck was with the folks when they fished and caught a good sized sailfish as well as other fish. Richard was telling me which kind they were going to eat.

Marnie and Dick Bradley were pleased to have their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crane from Miramar, visit them as overnite guests.

Charlie and Sylvia Siman were surprised by a 24 year old young man on a motor cycle, whom some here call Evil Kneivel and wondered if I were going to take off on the cycle also. Actually he was Ken Wolf, grandson of the George Wolfs, from the Harvard, Ill. farm next to ours. We were pleased to have him stay over and he promised to come back in March as he now is in Arcadia.

Twenty two ladies attended the monthly coffee on Wednesday, Jan. 8, served by Ethel Bulloch and Fern Hill. Hobby class was also in session.

Day game three game winners, same date, were Walter Atwood and Lee Tucker.

Bingo on the 10th had a good turn out.

Pot luck will be tomorrow, Jan. 16, at 6:00 p.m. We are preparing for 85.

Jen Robertson is so pleased to have her sister Mrs. Therese Dillon, from Long Island City, N.Y., with her for an undetermined visit. Her son Frank and wife Elsie and Jen went to meet her at the train and now Jen is in seventh heaven. A long awaited visit is now being enjoyed.

The Simans have their friends Agnes and Bill Schiltheim from Cornucopia, Wisc., visiting them and trying to keep them here awhile. They also were farm neighbors in Illinois and also attended the same Baptist Church when they all lived in Chicago.

Stombock clan assembles

JENSEN BEACH–The Stombock clan, an entire family consisting of three sisters, two brothers, and a brother-in-law, arrived recently to spend their sixth winter in Jensen Beach.

They are Mrs. Lola Armentrout, Mrs. Vasco Guinn, Mrs. L.M. Pairet, William and Eugene Stombock and Vasco Guinn. They have traveled widely in Florida and say that the Jensen area is just about the most attractive location they have seen. They all express amazement at how Jensen Beach has grown, especially on A1A, since they started spending their winters here.

Covered dish lunch for C.A.C.

JENSEN BEACH–The Church Aid circle of the Jensen Beach Community Church will have a covered dish luncheon at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, January 22.

Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service. An interesting program will follow.

BY CHUCK BENDER

At our regular meeting on Thursday, Jan. 16, an agent from the Beverage Commission will be on hand to discuss the Do's and Dont's and Club Rules as provided by state law. He will answer any questions we may have.

Sunday, Jan. 19, is our monthly Jam Session. Wendell Halverson, who works so hard putting the sessions together, may be strongly tempted. Ne... borrow or lend, at this time. Good ... to entertain and bring various ... together. A new friendship ... develop.

Friday, Jan. 24, the House Committee ... putting on a dinner but won't tell us ... what it is. Soooo, we will just have to ... and see.

Sunday, Jan. 26, will be Voice of Democracy day at our post. Our guests will be students from Martin County High School and winners of the Voice of ... contest will be named. Come and see these young Americans and listen to what they have to say. If ... Turn you on.

Membership is still the watchword, and our slogan is "Bring In a New Member."

SERVICE OFFICER-a REPORT
BY GEORGE M. HODGE

Public Law 93-82 authorized the Veterans Administration to provide medical care for the spouse, or child, of a veteran who has a total disability, permanent in nature, resulting from a service-connected disability, and the survivor or child of a veteran who has died as a result of a service-connected disability. As a result of a recent agreement between the VA and the Department of Defense, medical care for dependents and survivors, when authorized by the Veterans Administration, will be furnished under the auspices of CHAMPUS (Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services). Health care benefits administered through CHAMPUS for those persons determined eligible by the Veterans Administration will be known as CHAMPVA (Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Veterans Administration). These benefits are the same as the benefits provided dependents and survivors of retirees under the CHAMPUS program as provided in Section 103B of Public Law 93-82. These benefits are described in some detail in the content of this article.

Persons who meet the dependent and survivor requirements as defined above may apply for CHAMPVA by completing VA form 10-10d, Application for Medical Benefits for Dependents or Survivors. Please complete the necessary items of information as specified on the form and be sure to include the names of your children and their birth dates. It is important you include the veteran's identification data, including the veteran's name and file number, claim number. When the application is received, an eligibility determination will be made by the Veterans Administration and the claimant will be notified accordingly.

If determined eligible for medical care benefits under CHAMPVA, survivors and dependents will receive appropriate identification and information concerning the method of filing claims for medical care received from private sources.

INSTRUCTIONS TO DEPENDENTS AND SURVIVORS APPROVED FOR CARE UNDER CHAMPVA

Survivors and dependents who have been determined eligible by the Veterans Administration are covered under CHAMPVA by the following cost sharing plan:

1. For authorized inpatient care, CHAMPVA will pay 75 percent of the reasonable charges of the hospital and professional personnel.

2. For authorized outpatient care a deductible must be paid by the beneficiary each fiscal year, July 1 through June 30. When a claim for authorized care is submitted for only one beneficiary, the deductible is $50. When claims for authorized care are submitted for two or more beneficiaries of a family, the deductible is $100. After the deductible has been paid, CHAMPVA pays 75 percent of the remaining reasonable charges for authorized care.

3. When outpatient care is directly related to the condition for which the patient is hospitalized, if provided within 30 days before and 120 days after hospitalization, it is considered inpatient care in computing the patient's share of the charges.

MORE ON CHAMPVA NEXT WEEK

JAM SESSION!--You all come Sunday, Jan. 19, to the V.F.W. monthly Jam Session. Wendell Halverson and his 20 or more musicians, some of whom are pictured above, will be jamming from 2 p.m. on, providing continuous music in the tuneful, danceable tradition of the 40's and 50's. V.F.W. Post 10066 is located on SR 723, Jensen Beach, and the vets promise a day of great entertainment.

Voter registration, January 30, 31

PORT ST. LUCIE--Residents of Port St. Lucie who have not previously registered to vote will have the opportunity of doing so without making the trip to Fort Pierce.

According to James Brooks, supervisor of elections, the books will be open for registration at both the City Hall Building and the Port St. Lucie City Hall on January 30 and 31 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Residents are reminded this will be the last chance to register before the City elections to be held in March. Law requires the registration be closed 45 days preceding election day.

During the past six weeks two of the city councilmen who were up for re-election in March have resigned. Dr. Harold Nottley and Franklin Beardsley. Both men cited health problems as the reason for their resignations.

The third seat up for re-election is that of Kenneth Thompson.

Attorneys disagree

Court action on charter expected

PORT ST. LUCIE--When two attorneys reach an impasse there is little that can be done short of letting the courts decide the matter.

Such a situation was the highlight of Tuesdays City Council meeting, when City Attorney Rupert Smith and Stuart Attorney James Littman refused to see eye to eye on the interpretation of the city charter and the application of the Home Rule Act.

Littman has been employed by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc. who are initiating legal action against the Port St. Lucie City Council.

In an interview following the meeting, Littman said the legal complaint would be filed Wednesday morning with the courts.

Although according to Littman, there are several areas of dispute he cited the three major points.

Item number one dealt with the concern over the charter provisions covering the appointment of a councilman to fill a vacancy and that councilman serving beyond the next general election. Under the city attorney's interpretation, the appointed councilman serves out the balance of the unexpired term.

Item number two was the question of whether or not the councilmen could raise their salaries during their term of office when the City Charter has a provision saying this can not be done.

Also item number three along the same line, the charter prohibits elected officials from holding and being compensated for other positions held in the city government. Example: Mayor Larry Kimmel doubling in brass as the city engineer and drawing compensation for such duties, and Franklin Beardsley drawing additional compensation as the head of the department of general government, prior to his Dec. 31 resignation.

Littman maintains both men are unlawfully holding the second position.

In clarifying his own stand, Smith answered the first question by saying that since 1965 the council has appointed numerous new councilmen to fill vacancies to run until the term expires. Admitting that the charter specifies "till the next general election" Smith said that since there is no general election in the City of Port St. Lucie the provision general election does not apply.

The second question concerning the elected officer's salaries being fixed and shall not be increased during his term according to Smith, was followed until the adoption of the Home Rule Provision.

At this point Littman agreed that the increase in salary might well have been legal but it was indeed a questionable move.

The third question concerning the right of elected councilmen to hold more than one office in the city government Smith said "It has since the creation of the City been my opinion this was permissable."

After hearing Smith's answers, one resident Schuyler Sharpe asked, "Why don't you just pitch the city charter out the window." The City Council uses the Home Rule Act to do anything they see fit."

Lee Johnson asked for and received a vote of the council members supporting the stand of the city attorney.

The next speaker to be recognized was the president of the Interested Homeowner of Port St. Lucie Inc.

"I think Mr. Littman has stated our position very clearly this morning and I also think Mr. Smith has done the same for you (the city council). Therefore under these circumstances I see only one alternative and that is to the matter over to that good ole referee, the courts."

Charter revision committee is named

PORT ST. LUCIE--In the weeks preceding the March elections the city charter has become the most controversial topic in town.

While many are talking Mayor Larry Kimmel Tuesday announced a proposed list of residents to serve as members of the Port St. Lucie Charter Revision Committee.

The list includes Irene Chapman Morningside Blvd., Robert Hanna Santa Anita, Alice Jensen Santa Anita, Elmer Johnson Morningside Blvd., Norman Kelly Treasure Island Road, William Maurer N.E. Camelot Drive, Solomon Raffe Sunshine Ave., Paul Reeb Calmosa Drive, Milton Riedel S.E. Calmosa Drive, Robert Seeley and Jane Wenges S.E. Westmoreland.

The two ex officio members of the committee are City Clerk Bernard Rubin and City Attorney Rupert Smith.

Kimmel was quick to point out to those who questioned it that the charter revision committee would be on their own and that neither Rubin nor Smith would have any vote in the various matters.

The city attorney was requested to prepare a resolution granting the revision committee the authority to spend reasonable amounts for meeting halls, printing and other necessary expenditures.

It is the hope the committee will take their time and study other city governments, to the successful and the unsuccessful, and ultimately come up with the best possible solutions, Kimmel said.

They may even come up with a charter eliminating the present form of government and that is their perogative, the mayor quipped.

Gray's opens in St. Lucie Plaza

PORT ST. LUCIE--Gray Drug Stores, Inc., newest full line drug store in Port St. Lucie Plaza Shopping Center, will officially open its doors this Wednesday, January 15, with festivities will include drawings, refreshments, tours of the store and a ribbon cutting ceremony at 10:30 a.m.

Located on the corner of the intersection of U.S. #1 and Prima Vista Blvd., the store will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with reductions for the opening day only. Gray's will be open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Gray's is also offering a 10% discount to all senior citizens every Wednesday. Monday through Saturday. Gray's is located on the west side of U.S. #1 (Federal Highway) between Prima Vista Blvd. and Port St. Lucie Blvd. Ample parking is available in all Gray's stores

STUART—Have you ever wondered about heart attack and heart failure and what they mean or how they might affect you?

A free public forum entitled "Heart Attack Heart Failure Are They The Same" presented by the Heart Association and the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary can answer your questions.

It will be held Thursday evening, January 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre. Dr. Richard A. Pennick will moderate the program and Dr. John Powers, Dr. Philip Mendell and Dr. Lester Archer will be on the panel.

Featured in the discussions will be how heart attacks differ from heart failure and what the symptoms and treatment of each are. A question and answer period will follow.

Last year's response to the forum was so gratifying that the Heart Association feels it should continue offering public forums on a yearly basis, Martin continues. Pennick said.

I would like to express my thanks to the Martinside readers of the Lyric Theatre for so generously providing the overflow audience again this year," he added.

This program is the first of three to be held in Stuart. The other two will be "Stroke and other Common Vascular Problems" on February 20 and "Your Child's Heart Keep It Healthy" on March 20.

FREE PUBLIC FORUM—Area doctors along with the Heart Association and Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will present a forum entitled "Heart Attack Heart Failure Are They The Same" on Thursday, January 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theatre. Discussing the program (in the foreground from the left) Dr. Richard A. Pennick, moderator; Dr. Lester Archer and Grace A. Yount, Heart Association public information director.

Club elects officers for '75

STUART—Officers and trustees of the German-American Club have been elected and William A. Lauer will head the club in 1975.

Serving with Lauer, who succeeds Chick Reinhart as president, will be Mrs. Greta Wieser, vice president; J. Trimmel, secretary; Miss Roberts J. Bibow, treasurer and Max Bauer, Hans Hager and Bernard Steinel, trustees.

The club's next event will be a party for members only Saturday, Feb. 8, at Langford Park at 8 p.m.

St. Martin's plan fund raising events

JENSEN BEACH—St. Martin's Church announced Building Fund events this week.

First on the agenda is a card party at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 31 in the Harry Hoke Community Room on Commerce Parkway, Jensen Beach. There will be table and attendance prizes.

On Feb. 8 St. Martin's is sponsoring its First Annual Dance which will be held at the Women's Club on E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. to the music of the Carl Greco orchestra.

All Saints to install carillon bells

JENSEN BEACH—Dedication ceremonies are being planned for the Magnebell Tape Player, which is to be installed in All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach. This announcement was made by the Rev. Frank R. Alvarez, pastor of the congregation.

The instrument is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doring and given in memory of Paul Doring.

The Magnebell instrument is an exclusive development of Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., with their factors in Sellersville, Penn. This company is the world's largest producer of carillons, bells and chimes. The Magnebell consists of a clock controlled magnetic tape player and an audio amplification system. It features solid state amplification and provides the centuries-old tradition of bell ringing using space-age components—a tribute to man's scientific achievements.

Many beautiful hymns will be heard by the community from the tower of the church with Flemish bell tones. After the Angelus at noon and five p.m. daily, there will be played three minutes of delightful hymns, according to Father Alvarez.

The date and time of the dedication will be announced at a later date.

Art festival set for Jan. 25 and 26

STUART—Well over one hundred artists from all over the country are expected January 25 & 26 for the annual Osceola Street Art Festival sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association.

Letters and applications have been received from all over the state and additional correspondence has been received from as far away as Oregon and Colorado, said Jean McClung, coordinator of the festival.

Entries will be judged for original work in categories of oil, charcoal, crafts, acrylic, water color, photographs and graphics. For competition purposes only, categories with at least five entries will be judged.

Approximately 20 feet will be provided for each entrant, allowing points of space for the artists to display their works.

Registration will take place January 25 and 24 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the lobby of the Lyric Theatre. There is an eight dollar entry fee for each category the artist enters.

Judging the work at the two day festival will be Howard Schaefer, E. Walter Krauss and Eileen Borg. Registration will be handled by Betty Howard and Caroline Price.

Admission to this two day festival is free and merchants are planning for food and soft drinks to be available.

Citrus becomes a major crop in Martin County

JENSEN BEACH—Planted acreage of citrus in Martin County has grown by almost ten times in thirty years, and the county is now the third largest citrus producing county on the east coast of Florida, according to Tom Gartland, manager of the 6,000 acre Hobe Grove development in southern Martin County.

There are 45,000 acres of citrus in Martin County now, Gartland told Jensen Kiwanians recently. The number of acres is as far ery from the 6,000 acres that were developed in the western part of the county when he arrived in 1946.

Gartland told the Kiwanians that he had originally come to Martin County from Miami to run the Port Mayaca Groves of Bessemer Properties for about 60 days.

"I stayed here from then and have loved living in Martin County," he said.

Gartland retired from Bessemer in 1967 and immediately took on the job of converting pastureland in the Hobe Sound area into six thousand acres of citrus for Hobe Grove.

Now there are a half million trees in the development, and this year the grove will produce 2,600,000 bushels of fruit.

The citrus industry has become a major part of the Martin County economy, he added, and is good, solid business for the county.

"It will be here for a long time. We have an investment of ten million dollars in the land," he said.

Only 14 percent of the fruit on the trees becomes fresh fruit, with the rest of it going into concentrate, chilled orange and grapefruit juice and chilled sections.

The impact of the Martin County development is indicated in the opening of a concentrate plant in Indiantown recently.

Select your fruit by its appearance first, then by its weight. Make certain that it has a good "round" and is flat on the top and bottom. Pick the heaviest one that is the good fruit.

"The color doesn't make much difference. A green one can taste better than a yellow or orange," he said.

Gartland also outlined the process of selling fruit from the groves, and the partnerships that are necessary to market the fruit.

Men's Garden Club to buy palm seeds

JENSEN BEACH—The Men's Garden Club of Martin County is beginning a project to help establish the lethal yellowing resistant Malayan Dwarf Coconut. The club has made arrangements to buy the seed Malayan Dwarf Coconuts from Jamaica.

Two hundred of the seed coconuts will be sprouted, developed and the trees donated to public parks and other public areas of the county to beautify and replace the common coconut palms.

The members are sprouting some of the nuts themselves to use in beautification of their own backyards and on other private property.

There will still be some of the seed nuts available for others of the general public to plant. The club plans to make these available at their cost. The nuts will be available on a first come basis. Directions for sprouting the nuts will be provided also. Cost of the nuts will be $1.25 each.

The Second Annual Auction Sale on Saturday, Jan 11, was blessed by no rainfall in spite of threatening clouds. Auctioneer Bill McKinnon did his usual terrific job of selling the donations of odds and ends, food items, and handcrafts backed by his right hand lady, Ada Stuart. Volunteer runners Fred Pascoe, Pike Stuart, Palma Smaniotto and Joan Byrne showed items and collected the money.

The crowd was smaller than last year but many who missed the sale, or came late, blamed the communication system failure for not reminding them. I had thought there was plenty of advertising in the column or the billboard, and also by two evening sandwich-board bike and cycle parades. At any rate the sale cleared about the same amount as last year, and everyone was happy in the end except the husbands who had mistakenly thought they were shedding some of the load.

Stefanie Kiefaber's kitchen crew ran out of hot dogs again this year proving our appetites keep pace with the supply available. Don Landis served as clerk and cashier for the auction and Sophie and Paul Holler generously allowed us to use their portable amplification system. Heartfelt thanks to them all, including the audience who came, sat, and bought. A special thanks to Marvin Smith, who captured the tiny green dragon who disrupted the sale for a few minutes, while ladies shrieked and lifted their feet!

A belated New Years report. A patio party was held on Pat and John Vetterlein's lot 154 with a beautiful decorated outdoor tree and lanterned swaying. Guests were Pauline and Herb Rough, Elton and Jane Sheehan, Jean and Mac McCabe, Ruth and Karl Bowes. A pot luck lunch was served which consisted of baked ham, baked kielbasa, potato salad, macaroni salad, relish tray, dips & chips, even coffee. Most of the Bubblettes of our corner attended a real nice party enjoyed by all.

Updike.

Larry and Pat Stort and family left for home Jan. 10th. Their home is in Canal Winchester, Ohio. Now their parents are on their lot for two weeks. We welcome them to our park. In prior years they stayed in Outdoor Resorts on a lot owned by another son.

Evelyn and Joe Lang from Geneseo N.Y. arrived back on their lot 496 on Jan. 6th bringing their granddaughter Dawn Tubbs with them. They had trouble coming down when an axle on their car broke and they almost tipped over. During the summer of '74, the Langs visited the Bob Davises of lot 104 from New York state, the Bob McLains of lot 289 from Vermont, the Richard Doods's from New Hampshire and Frank Judychis from Mass. Joe celebrated his birthday Jan. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eurs had newly weds as holiday guests, James and Melody Eurs from Asheville N.C.

The Blacks spent three days at Key West last week to do some deepsea fishing and import shopping. They stayed at Sugar Loaf Key with their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. George Warr of New Jersey, on Mrs. Black's brother's mobile home. Her brother is Nicholas Stilwell, also from New Jersey. On the way back to the park they stopped at Homestead to pick tomatoes for themselves and friends.

Nancy Kryger, daughter of Robert and Grace Murphy, and her son Robert Edmund, age 9, named after both grandfathers, are visiting here for ten days. Their home is Highgate Center, Vermont, ten miles from the Canadian border. Husband Bob was not able to get away for the trip to Florida as he is a high school teacher and basketball coach.

Mary Kubiak arrived Jan. 8th for a three months visit coming from Niles, Michigan.

Pauline and Herb Rough's daughter Mrs. Jack (Ann Rae) Harrington and grandchildren Cathy and Vicky from Buchana, Mich. are here for a visit. They arrived Jan. 9th. Pauline and Herb and family left Monday, Jan. 13 to visit Disney World and will return Thursday, the 16th.

Three couples from Miami, friends of the Ray's and Dress, are in the park for a few days enjoying the fishing and change from big city life.

Billie and Bruce Magers are here from Missouri and will stay until early February. Billie is busy collecting shells and making pretty wind chimes.

Bob Long's no longer floating canteen featured a fish fry on Sunday, Jan. 12. Al Ray and some of his friends accounted for the fish. Carolynn Allen did the hush puppies, and the rest of the ladies brought assorted goodies. Highlight of the day was the presentation of a big birthday cake to Bob Long, whose birthday was on Monday, Jan. 13. All present sang while Bob beamed. The night before around the campfire he collected kisses from all ladies present while Peg Ray dedicated her Hoiss Totay number especially to Bob. Al Ray supplied the music, and singing continued to quiet time Saturday evening.

Hazel and Carl Edmondson arrived Friday, Jan. 10 for a stay on their lot 51. They headed a small caravan of three Axtons, and are busy making sure their friends don't miss any of our area highlights.

Marie and Jim Williams have gone back to St. Albans W. Va., vowing to be here much longer next year when Jim retires. This remark has a familiar ring to their friends, but maybe Jim really will retire this time.

Bea Lupke has been busy, busy these past few days, lining up a couple of trailers for the family to stay in. A telephone call announced that they would be able to make it after all this year, and Bea had to hurry around to find space.

Leathercrafters, don't forget that your class has been changed to Thursday mornings to accommodate the sewing class.

Mary and Maurice Ahearn are over at New Port Ritchie helping where they can during the illness of Mary's sister. We hope she improves so they can come back home soon.

The Ted Hastungas are back with us for two weeks. These nice folks come each year, bringing along their basset Henry. They are on lot 49 this year.

The Mas clan, ten strong, plus their neighbors, the Armocks, held a dinner on Vern and Rosemary's lot on Sunday. Much picture taking recorded the event for posterity.

Marcie and Rupe Rupert slipped quietly back to the park, and are enjoying the warm weather.

Dottie and Erling Johnson, along with their son and his family, went to Disney World for several days.

Bertie and Bill Harrison are back in the park for the rest of the season after attending the funeral of Bertie's father.

Shirley and Dean Whitfield are busy attending to the various business of acquiring a new mobile home on lot 26, Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

Fourth level of government threatens to destroy rights

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–Freedoms are not lost in a big war. They are lost one grain at a time, as in an hourglass.

This was the warning of Evans Crary, Jr., pioneer Stuart attorney and former Martin County Judge, to the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club meeting Monday at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant.

The blame for the loss of those freedoms rests squarely with the "fourth level of government," the bureaucrats who are not elected by the people who make rules that are not responsive to either the people or the legislature, according to Crary.

Calling the free enterprise system "the best system devised, with all its strengths and weaknesses," Crary outlined that the founding fathers of the United States created the three houses of government: legislative to make laws, executive to carry out those laws, and judicial to interpret the laws–as a system to offer checks and balances in government.

The strength of the system was to offer freedom to the individual, both producer and consumer, and offer reward for growth of the system.

"If you don't produce, you are on your way out," Crary said of the system.

"But, in the past fifty years, a fourth level of government has developed, a most powerful level that threatens to destroy our government.

"The legislature creates bureaus and boards under the executive. Then, non-elected officials make rules that are not the intent of the legislature nor the will of the elected executive," he said.

Examples of the fourth level of government, sometimes called "the shadow government" in Florida, Crary listed the Federal Reserve Board as a board that created a national banking system.

Crary said that the Federal Reserve is created, funded and sustained by government and has become more powerful than the government. He added that actions by the Federal Reserve affect the life and acts of every citizen.

He also pointed out that the Internal Revenue Service has even refused to "live court rulings to stand during that [a] taxpayer would have to file individual suits [expensive to get funds back in the case of error] on the IRS, or must pay to fight a court battle if he refuses to pay taxes he feels are unjust, and must pay interest if he loses."

He also pointed to the Federal Communications Commission, the Federal Aviation Administration and the Department of Transportation as agencies that have set rules that have cost the people greatly in freedoms and money.

"The same sickness now pervades state government. Last year, the bureaus were rushing rules through to avoid the new law that said such rules would be subject to review in 1975.

"The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund staff attempts to staff order to control beyond the intent of the legislature. Control over bottomlands in the Indian River is held by the IIF, with one set of rules; the Department of Pollution Control with another set of rules; and the Department of Natural Resources with still another set of rules," Crary complained.

He blamed the change in "propaganda over the years from people who want to change our form of government.

"In an age of consumerism, we abdicate our responsibilities. Big Brother knows best. We want women to mumb care. We are about to destroy our own system of government," Crary warned.

He said that the consumer protections afforded the public were higher standards than we need. We are giving up the freedom of choice."

Moving to local regulations, Crary said that though the county budget has gone up, services have not.

"The cost has gone to pay for the fourth level of government. How many roads have you seen added or paved? None that I see."

He said that a permit is needed to clear land, but you can't clear it for development, yet you can clear it for not developing. Is that reasonable?"

If they can stop you from clearing land, can they stop you from cutting down a tree? And they then could make you plant only this or that tree.

"Some people even say they have a right to use your land as they see fit. They can picnic on your land. This is now the idea about Hutchinson Island."

Referring back to the sands of freedoms lost a grain at a time, Crary said, "Too many grains have fallen."

If you complain about the economic situation, remember that much of the increase is caused by the fourth level of government. People don't fight for their rights.

"Government has become a silent partner in business. They tell you what to do, but take no liability on potential losses. The private owner takes it on the neck," Crary said.

He told the Kiwanians to talk to elected officials and get their views, encouraging them to control the fourth level of government.

"Your involvement is the real those sands of time," Crary said.

Population figures are updated

JENSEN BEACH–The state Department of Administration is receiving new population figures on Martin County (Commission) Chairman Ross Philbrick said.

"I'm sending a letter to the Department of Administration with updated population figures," Philbrick said.

Philbrick said that the state's estimate of the county's current population of 45,097 is not realistic.

The Martin County Planning Department has estimated the year round population at 50,584 on Dec. 31, 1973.

The population figure that would be used determines the county's portion of state revenue sharing and to set the level of pay for county constitutional officers.

Planning Department figures were based on the number of permanent housing units in the county and Philbrick noted that the 1973 count has been updated with information on new building.

The population figures are compiled by the University of Florida Bureau of Economic and Business Research, according to Philbrick.

The commission chairman pointed out that the Planning Department figured the number of persons per house from two to 2.5, which is very conservative figures.

The Planning Department also gave a population estimate for each commission district, including:

District 1: 12,372. District 2: 11,450. District 3: 9,754. District 4: 12,787, and District 5: 4,221.

Jensen office

Community Federal opens next Tuesday

JENSEN BEACH–The new Community Federal Savings and Loan Association office in Jensen Beach will open next Tuesday, it was announced by Robert F. Cromwell, president. The new building is located at Savanna Bank and Commercial Street.

During the opening, to last through Friday, Community Federal will give away [illegible] S&H green Stamps to residents of Jensen Beach and [illegible] into the new offices to register for the prizes.

At the [illegible] such days, 25,000 S&H Stamps will be given away, [illegible] drawing names registering that day. Friday evening the grand prize of 100,000 stamps will be drawn.

Supervisor of the new facility is Kathleen Jerrells, former supervisor of the Fort Saperno office of Community Federal.

Mrs. Jerrells lives with her husband a Grumman Aircraft employee, in Hobe Sound. They have three sons.

A native of Los Angeles, Mrs. Jerrells has an associate in arts degree from Los Angeles City College.

Residents have watched the construction of the new building over the past two weeks. Site preparation was under way for several months, and "finally there was a modular building that [illegible] and finishing touches. Landscaping and painting [illegible] days are being put on the site in preparation for the grand opening next Tuesday.

The office will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays except Friday when the office will be open until 6 p.m.

Commissioners say mall problem can be solved

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County commissioners are seeking a solution to traffic problems that a huge shopping mall west of U.S. 1 near Jensen Beach and Indian River Road (SR 707A) could create.

Traffic is a major problem, commissioner Chairman Ross Philbrick said at Tuesday's meeting with representatives of the mall.

"We don't want to see traffic backed up on U.S. 1," Philbrick continued, and suggested possible relocation of some access roads.

Other commissioners also were concerned with the traffic problem, but expressed confidence that a solution could be found.

"There wasn't anything brought up that couldn't be resolved," Philbrick observed.

Some of the drainage problems have been resolved, and the Water Management Board last week approved the project.

County engineer Ken Ferrara outlined some of the drainage plans for the commissioners, pointing out that if proper procedures are followed, drainage from the mall could improve the water quality of Britt Creek which flows by the property.

Ferrara said that the creek water is low in dissolved oxygen and that if water is released slowly into it the water quality will be improved by raising dissolved oxygen.

One problem was noted, however, by the engineer and that is a main telephone cable which connects south Florida with the rest of the country runs through the property and would have to be moved.

It was estimated that the cost of removing the cable would be between $40,000 and $60,000.

Fire protection for the mall also was discussed, and Philbrick said that the county owns land on the west side of U.S. 1 near Palm Lake Park that might be used for a station.

While there are questions to be resolved before approval is given for construction of the 628,600-square-foot mall, commissioners voiced their support of the shopping center.

If the problems can be identified, they can be solved," Commissioner Tomor Powers said.

Powers also noted that the developers have experience in shopping malls, and have the know-how to solve traffic and other problems.

Developers of the mall is the Edward J. Bartolo Corp. which developed the Palm Beach Mall and other malls in Florida. The firm has eight malls under construction in the country.

Commissioners have slated another public hearing on the mall for March.

Senior citizen bus schedule

JENSEN BEACH–The senior citizens courtesy bus is available in the Jensen Beach area on Tuesdays and Fridays, according to the Martin County Council on Aging.

The council said said the experimental schedule for the north district north of Stuart to north county line is for the bus to leave the Jensen Beach area at 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., and that pick ups must be arranged a day in advance.

Additional stops are by appointments.

Departure times from Publix, Stuart Shopping Center and other drop-off points at approximately 11:00 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

'Open forum' for delegation

JENSEN BEACH–The Martin County Legislative Delegation is expected to hold an "open forum" type of meeting Jan. 31 at State Rep. Frank Nergard said.

Rep. Nergard, a member of the delegation, said that he didn't know of any specific legislation that will be presented to the delegation.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Martin County Courthouse.

The meeting will give the residents of Martin County an opportunity to talk to the delegation, Rep. Nergard said.

"We could follow through with any suggestions the residents may suggest," he said.

Rep. Jack Poorbaugh, who represents the county's area that is not in Rep. Nergard's district, Jensen Beach area, has requested that legislation be presented in final bill form at least 15 days prior to the delegation meeting.

Rep. Poorbaugh is chairman of the delegation.

I talked to Poorbaugh the other day and, so far, the bills have been presented," Rep. Nergard said last Friday.

UF DONATION–David Irons, right, president of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart, presents a $1,000 check to Guy Cromwell, president of the United Fund of Martin County. After one week of the fund raising campaign, Cromwell said that 10 per cent of the $95,000 goal has been reached.

Bi-centennial medallions go on sale

JENSEN BEACH–Official Bicentennial Medallions commemorating Florida's historical contributions to the 200 year history of the United States are now available at First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

The medallions developed by the Florida Bi centennial Commission and the Lincoln Mint of Chicago, are part of a statewide program to help get private enterprise and citizens involved and to help finance Bi centennial programs and celebrations throughout the state.

Each year through 1976 a new medallion will be introduced with a total of three different medallions being offered. Each medallion's design will come from a statewide high school contest with $2,500 in scholarships awarded annually for winning designs.

First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart is one of several financial institutions throughout the state that have agreed to display and sell these commemorative medallions.

Rich Thomann looks or renewal of WFL

BY DONNIE WILKIE

JENSEN BEACH–The 1974-75 Professional Football season is over. For Rich Thomann however the season ended promptly and unexpectedly in early October when his team was declared bankrupt and was told that it would no longer be a part of the financially troubled World Football League.

Thomann, who has lived his life with one goal in mind to make it in pro football, then had to go home and get used to not playing in big cities like New York, Philadelphia, Memphis, Birmingham, Chicago, Houston and Florida. The weekly routine of playing football which he had just begun to accept as was suddenly gone. The void he had given so much of his efforts to was no longer there. It simply evaporated unless.

So he had to come home to Stuart. He would have had to start all over again.

Thomann appeared Wednesday as guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Jensen Beach Optimist Club to "realistically review the exciting, but disappointing, WFL season" as seen by the Jacksonville Sharks.

Thomann played high school football at Stuart. His senior year was one in which he was all 32 seniors including were recruited for college football. He decided to go to Notre Dame where he made the team a team of national prominence. He played in the 1971 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, against the University of Texas Longhorns. Only previous year had Notre Dame made its first bowl appearance in over 30 years but that year they had lost to Georgia Tech 17-9, and with the loss national title.

In 1973 it was a different story. Notre Dame's Irish had revenge on their friends and easily manhandled the Longhorns.

Thomann then took a job at Martin County High School. While he was the assistant coordinator the Tigers were a couple of football friends then decided time to try the new World Football League but it took a lot of convincing. Finally he called Head Coach Bud Asher of the Jacksonville Sharks and told him about his desire to enter the new league & couple days later Asher called Thomann from the Sharks training camp in Stuart and told him to get there immediately. When Thomann arrived he found Asher and assistant there with a contract for Thomann. There was also a bonus for Thomann's linebacker, but first he had to make the team.

That he did, and by the first game of the season against New York's Stars he was the starting right linebacker. Jacksonville had received a lot of publicity before the first week of the season and the Sharks were expected to make a fine showing during the regular season.

The first week's game was certainly not disappointing. The Sharks blocked a punt on the 20 yard line of the Stars with very little time left in the TV's televised contest. Thomann recovered the ball at the six yard line of New York and without the need few seconds the Sharks had won 16-14. But from then on the Sharks went downhill. The team repeatedly lost games in the last 10 or 20 seconds and quickly slipped to the bottom of the WFL's Eastern Division. But for Thomann there was no inkling of what was coming up.

On August 25 the Sharks flew to Hawaii to play the Hawaiians. When they got home, they found out just how bad things were getting. Within a month and a half there was no Jacksonville Shark franchise.

A group of Chicago businessmen, headed by Dick Butkus, wished to purchase the franchise but the WFL, for some mysterious reason, decided not to let anyone buy the team. As of now, Thomann is still under contract with the inactive team, because if they were to be sold, they might go back into action. That is if the WFL survives its financial troubles.

However at this time, this reporter feels that, unless the WFL gets a major television contract, and all three big networks are tied up with the NFL, it will never play again.

Thomann told the Optimist Club that he will NOT be looking around in the NFL for a spot as a player, but if the Sharks and the WFL pull through their crisis, he will play again with Jacksonville.

MC safety program is best in state

STUART–The State 4H Leader congratulated Martin County this week for having the most outstanding safety program in Florida for 1974.

The "Bike Safety" program was a joint effort of county schools, PTA's, and others coordinated by the Martin County 4H Clubs.

In addition the program was awarded the General Motors $25 prize given annually to the county promoting the best safety project.

JENSEN BEACH–The Environmental Studies Center has received a donation of nearly $800 worth of photographic equipment from the Garden Clubs of Stuart. Jay Jarrett, director, said.

The equipment includes a professional 35 mm reflex camera with macro, a close-up bellows and electronic flash. Total retail value of the equipment is $787.50. It will be utilized by the center for the production of color slide instruction units for its study programs.

Up until now the staff has been using its own cameras for the purpose. It isn't really fair to ask an employee to wear out several hundred dollars worth of his own equipment in the very heavy use we give it, Jarrett said. Now the center has its own sophisticated equipment that will enable us to produce very professional materials.

The center also expects to receive a new electronic color slide duplicator from a federal source in the near future. The combination will give the center almost unlimited potential in the production of audio-visual materials and tests.

We still have the nucleus of an exceptionally fine A-V production department, Jarrett said. Two members of the staff, John Whitcar and Dennis Clark are very talented photographers and graphic designers.

The center anticipates emphasizing the production of audio-visual teaching materials now that the basic instructional program is about complete.

The Garden Club has been more than generous. It's another example of the wonderful local support we have enjoyed from the very beginning. A donation like this can really pay dividends in quality education, Jarrett concluded.

Revised environmental technology degree

FIT–Environmental Technology two and four year degrees have been revised to offer students a greater choice of degree programs.

A meeting will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28, to discuss the new program.

Anyone interested can attend.

Nuclear plant insurance increased

JENSEN BEACH–The nuclear industry's outstanding safety record is reflected by newly expanded insurance capacity for nuclear power plants according to Florida Power & Light Company.

The Nuclear Liability Property Insurance Association and the Mutual Atomic Energy Reinsurance Pool have announced an increase in nuclear liability insurance limits for nuclear plants effective this month. The increase brings the pools liability limits to $125 million.

Insurance industry officials specified the increase as an expression of confidence in the safety of nuclear installations. Since being formed in 1957 neither pool has experienced a liability claim arising from operation of a nuclear reactor.

A large part of the nuclear industry's outstanding safety record and the corresponding excellent underwriting results of the pools was attributed to insurance officials to the engineering and management programs of the reactor owners and operators.

It is particularly significant the officials noted, that the capacity increase comes at a time when the industry is undergoing intensive scrutiny is experiencing a period of good underwriting results.

Deserter benefits?

WASHINGTON: Veterans benefits for Vietnam war deserters?

Sounds foolish, doesn't it? But it just might be attempted.

There have been persistent reports the Presidential Clemency Board may ask the President to "upgrade" the dishonorable discharges awarded to Vietnam era military men who deserted.

In fact, the reports have been so persistent the national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, John J. Stang, felt it necessary to go on record as opposed to any such plan.

If a deserter's dishonorable discharge is upgraded to honorable, he would become eligible for VA benefits just as if he hadn't fled his post, just as if he had done his duty as hundreds of thousands of others have done.

The VFW commander's reaction to the proposal is illogical and extremely hostile. The proposal was indeed blunderous. Not one cent in VA benefits to any deserter today, tomorrow and forever.

And I couldn't agree more.

As Stang so aptly put it, such a move would be a simple minded betrayal of the nation's system of military justice and a studied affront to every honorably discharged veteran.

It would make a mockery of our entire program of assistance for veterans. The idea behind VA benefits is to in some measure repay those men and women whose dedication, courage and devotion to duty has gone to our nation.

Those deserters didn't do that. Regardless of what Clemency Board Chairman Charles F. Goodell may consider unusual cases on which justice unambiguously demands immediate corrective action.

Rather than serve they fled. And others had to take their place.

It doesn't matter that the Vietnam war was unconventional. The question here is not whether we should have become involved in the Southeast Asia war.

The question is whether those who were called upon to serve, have honorably met their service.

These deserters didn't. They served dishonor and unless deserter dishonorable discharges have been awarded.

To appeal to our innate sense of forgiveness and request honorable discharges for deserters is to ask us to endorse their act — to agree that draftees have the right to choose whether to and then will serve their country.

That we cannot do. If we were to endorse their acts, we would make it impossible to reestablish the draft if ever again Americans are called upon to defend their nation on foreign soil.

In short, we have the right to desert our course of action in foreign affairs but we cannot allow individuals to take the matter up above the law once a decision has been made.

Equally as important is the fact that an upgrading of dishonorable discharges and granting of VA benefits to deserters would be a slap in the face of all those who did their duty, all those who were maimed in combat, all those who died and gave up limbs in combat and to all those who served on times of long and hard conflict.

Right up there with the Veterans Administration building here in Washington are the words of Abraham Lincoln — "to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan."

That has been the creed behind our veterans' benefits program.

And I see no reason for revamping that creed to give equal status with those who bore the battle to those who fled.

FCD names director

WEST PALM BEACH–John R. Maloy, acting director of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District (FCD) since October, has been named the district's new executive director and secretary to the Governing Board.

The board voted unanimously for the appointment.

Maloy, 41, has been with the FCD since 1963. He was then an engineer in the District's hydraulics and hydrology division. He was appointed assistant director in 1972.

Council on Aging to meet Thursday

JENSEN BEACH–The Council on Aging quarterly advisory council meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 23, at the Jensen Beach Community Church on Skyline Drive, Jensen Beach.

The board of directors are to meet at 12 noon, followed by the general meeting at 1:30.

Gulfstream area wide executive director George Tsismanakis will be on hand, and Maggie Hurchalla, newly-elected Martin County Commissioner will speak.

The program will be of interest to Martin County people 60 years and older. Information about the Food Stamp program and the Big Blue Bus schedule will be given.

Also on the agenda for discussion is the inclusion of the Council on Aging by the United Fund. Volunteers are needed from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., five days a week, to man the United Fund office. Persons wishing to serve may call Kathryn Bishop at 334-1703.

Engagement is announced

SARAH MARIE LOCKWOOD

JENSEN BEACH—Mrs. Marie R. Lockwood of 213 South Indian River Drive, Jensen Beach announces the engagement of her daughter Sarah Marie to Joe D. Stephens of Fort Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clyde Stephens of Eutaw, Alabama.

Miss Lockwood is a graduate of Martin County High School and Indian River Community College. She is presently completing classes at Florida Atlantic University in the field of Home Economics Education.

Stephens is a graduate of Danville High School and Indian River Community College and is in the carpentry trade.

A summer wedding is planned.

PHARMACEUTICAL STAFF—Alan Artz and William Clair make up the pharmaceutical staff of the new Port St. Lucie Gray Drug Store located in the St. Lucie Shopping Plaza. Both Clair, pictured at left, and Artz will be glad to answer any questions concerning prescriptions. The primary function of the new Port St. Lucie Gray store is to provide high quality pharmaceuticals, properly dispensed, at the lowest possible discount prices to the people of this area. At least 2,500 pharmaceuticals are always available in all Gray's stores.

EARLY MORNING COFFEE—City and county officials enjoyed an early morning cup of coffee when they gathered for an 8:30 a.m. ribbon cutting ceremony to mark the opening the new Port St. Lucie Gray Drug store last Wednesday. Seated, above left to right, Ed Enns, St. Lucie County Commissioner; Willie Bell, St. Lucie County Commission Chairman; Port St. Lucie City Councilman William Hickey Jr., and Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kohlmeier.

'Beyond Rio Grande'

STUART—Highlighting the Thursday, Jan. 23, meeting of the Martin County Orchid Society will be a color slide program on collecting orchids in Mexico entitled "Beyond the Rio Grande."

The meeting will start promptly at 8 p.m. in the Levi Johnson Agriculture Center, Stuart.

There will be a display table, door prizes and refreshments. Visitors are welcome.

Lydia Circle is saving pennies

JENSEN BEACH—At the regular meeting of the Lydia Circle of the Jensen Beach Christian Church members were asked to drop their pennies into a container and bring them to the March meeting to be used for an Easter project.

Mrs. Zelpha Sallards presided over the Jan. 15 meeting. Jane Steininger gave the devotions and lesson. A letter of acknowledgement was read from the Christian City Children's Home in Atlanta in appreciation of the $200 gift and box of clothing and gifts sent by the Circle for Christmas.

Book sale at library

STUART—The Martin County Library Association will hold a Book Sale in the Library's Conference Room on Friday and Saturday, January 24 and 25, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

There will be books of all kinds: fiction, biographies, history, detective stories, juveniles, paperbacks and magazines. Hard cover books will sell for 25 cents each and paperbacks for 10 cents each.

STUART—Professor Andrei Lobanov-Rostovsky has resumed his annual lecture series on Russian history at the Woman's Club in Stuart. These lectures are held on Tuesday beginning at 10 a.m.

Visitors from Norway 'just love it here'

JENSEN BEACH—A first time visit to the United States, a trip to Disney World, and best of all, being with a sister you haven't seen in more than seven years—is that any way to spend a vacation?

Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn Stornes from Oslo, Norway, think it is. They are in Jensen Beach with her sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Speltz of Skyline Drive.

The Stornes arrived last Friday and plan to stay in Florida for three weeks. Included in their itinerary is a visit to another sister who lives in Melbourne as well as spending some time at Disney World.

Smiling, Mrs. Speltz said, "We are so happy they are here. They just love it!"

Sons of Norway to install

JENSEN BEACH—Sons of Norway officers will be installed at a dinner meeting Friday, Jan. 24, at Simonsen's Restaurant in Fort Pierce.

The meeting will begin with a cocktail session at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

New officers include:

Ellen Bjerkeli, secretary; Selma Bigseth, financial secretary; Harold Anderson, financial secretary; Han Klevjer, marshal; Helen Henke, marshal; Carl Hummel, assistant marshal; Ella Campbell, historian; Olive Martin, historian; Arnold Helseth, inner guard; Ole Martinsen, outer guard; Ed Enns and Richard Hummel, trustees; Lynn Hanson, youth director.

Ted Aachim will be installing officer.

Garden Club has birthday party

JENSEN BEACH—The Jensen Beach Garden Club celebrated its 25th birthday at the Jan. 15th meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Four new members were introduced by Mrs. August Burmeister. Mesdames John J. Barry, A.S. Thomas, Dorothea Taylor and D.F. Whitson.

Captain E. B. Ing addressed the group talking about orchids from interesting hobby to successful commercial enterprise. He outlined the growing habits of the two types of orchids: Epiphytes and Terrestrials, and instructed in how to divide and repot orchids, their culture and care.

The meeting opened with a greeting to the large group of members and guests by Mrs. Harold Lartaud, president.

Mrs. Lartaud presented a corsage to each of the Past Presidents in attendance: Mrs. Calvin Barnwell, Mrs. William Weiss, Mrs. Leon Older, Mrs. Arthur Mills, Jr., Mrs. Fred Morris, and Mrs. Clyde LeMessurier.

Each member received token gifts contributed by local merchants. Door prizes were won by Mesdames Jack Best, Leon Older, William Stephenson, Fred Diehl, Harold Lartaud, Paul Robertson, Fred Failing, and Zell Anderson.

Anniversary cake and coffee were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Carl Houg, Mrs. Fred Diehl, Mrs. Richard Kupp, Mrs. George Sommer, and Mrs. James Price.

BOB BREINLINGER

VFW to aid Breinlinger

JENSEN BEACH—Musicians from throughout the area will be gathering at the VFW hall in Jensen Beach Sunday afternoon to take part in a jam session to benefit Bob Breinlinger, local trumpet player who is critically ill in Martin Memorial Hospital.

The session will begin at 4 p.m. and members of the VFW plan a covered dish supper and special events to raise money for the family of Breinlinger.

Admission to the event at VFW hall on South Savanna Road, Jensen Beach, will be one dollar.

CLEAN-UP—FIT students were busy Saturday cleaning up the garbage and litter on Martin County beaches. Cleaning up just north of the House of Refuge were: Kevin Hilton, Paul Turina, Mike Baer and Stan Pillon.

Beach clean-up held Saturday

JENSEN BEACH—Early Saturday morning 23 Florida Institute of Technology students and a band full of Stuart Arizona Jr. Motor chapter members scoured the Martin County beaches picking up garbage and litter.

It was the first time any group of young people were paid for the work and effort at cleaning up the beaches.

The young men were paid $2.50 an hour for cleaning approximately six miles of beach.

The idea originally came about when Arthur Hebon offered to donate $100 for a one-quarter advertisement asking volunteers to help clean up the beaches.

C. Scott Fletcher, former executive director of the Save Our Beaches Campaign suggested it was time the young people were paid for their efforts.

Fletcher endorsed the first check over to commissioners, who added $50, making a total of $600 available on wages for the workers.

Rick Kottler, an FIT student organized the cleanup and coordinated his work with Dees Bankert, the organizer for the De Molay workers.

Diploma tests at school

STUART—Adult residents of Florida over the age of 18 who lack a high school diploma will have an opportunity to qualify for an Equivalency Diploma. An official transcript, Adult Education class, or other acceptable evidence of satisfactory completion of a course in U.S. History must be presented when you register.

Pre-registration will be held each evening at Martin County High School, main office, 6:30 p.m. - 9 p.m. or the Adult Education Office, 500 E. Ocean Blvd., 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, Stuart.

The battery of five tests will be given at Martin County High School, January 27-31, beginning 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. A fee of $7.50 is payable at the time of registration and $2 for each retest.

Center plans studies

JENSEN BEACH—Plans are being made for a seven-week "environmental studies" week at the Environmental Studies Center, 205 South Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach.

Center director Jay Jarrett said the tentative period for the observance is Feb. 3-9.

Plans for the observance will be announced shortly, Jarrett said.

Arbor Day at school

JENSEN BEACH—Arbor Day will be observed at Jensen Beach Elementary School on Thursday, Jan. 23, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

School officials said that anyone in the community having a tree, shrub or plants to donate should bring them by the school on Thursday.

Astronomy course to start

STUART—All the questions you've always had about the sun, moon, stars and planets will be answered in an astronomy course offered at 7 p.m. Wednesday evenings at Martin County High School, commencing Wednesday, January 29.

Discussions will include various theories of the origin of the solar system including evolution vs. creation and the "big bang" vs. steady state.

Astronomical instruments, including certain types of telescopes used for observation, will be demonstrated.

All discussions will be held at a non-technical level which does not require a mathematics or science background.

If you have ever looked at the sun and moon, wondered about their composition and size or how the moon affects the ocean tides, if you would like to know more about Venus, Jupiter, Mercury, and Mars, or the types of comets and eclipses, this is the course for you.

You are invited to register at the Adult Education Office, 500 E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. or at Martin County High School, SR 76, Stuart, at 6:45 p.m. Monday through Thursday evening. Registration fee is $2.

Shuffleboard benefits

PORT ST. LUCIE—At the regular meeting of the Port St. Lucie Shuffleboard Club at the North Port Marina on January 14, Cedric Benz, host of the Fridays Nite Gang, presented to Al McDonnell, shuffleboard president, a check for $260, representing the proceeds of the Pancake Breakfast held by the Gang on Sunday, January 5.

JENSEN BEACH—The Jensen Beach Garden Club celebrated its 25th birthday at the Jan. 15th meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Four new members were introduced by Mrs. August Burmeister. Mesdames John J. Barry, A.S. Thomas, Dorothea Taylor and D.F. Whitson.

Pinelake Village Tattler

MRS. MARY GRAU

Saturday night, Jan. 18, Pinelake Village celebrated its January birthday and anniversary dinner. All enjoyed the hearty, delectable (ehh) dinner dished up for us by Rachel and Camiel LaClusyse and their helpers.

Norma and Chet Quillen had their wedding anniversary on Jan. 21, and Rita and Bob Palmer will celebrate theirs on Jan. 31.

Many happy returns of the day to you all. May you have many more of them, each one being better than the last one.

BTIDGE

The beginner bridge and refresher course met Thurs., Jan. 16 at the Pinelake Village rec. hall. There were about 36 persons present. Some were under the impression that we were meeting at Holiday Out and didn't arrive until late. Others had not heard the word and didn't know where to go. So--please remember--the next meeting will be held on Thurs., Jan. 23, at the Pinelake Village rec. hall at 2 p.m.

We're all learning some new things about bridge. It's not too late to join. Mac McPherson is going slowly and he's reviewing the previous lesson each time.

SHUFFLING

The shuffling was postponed last week on account of the weather. George Yost will be there bright and early Monday and Tuesday morning, weather permitting.

Everyone is happy to know that Joe Condry is back and recuperating nicely from his snow mobile accident. It all hapened in Wisconsin where Eileen & Joe were vacationing.

BINGO

We missed some of our regular bingo players last Wednesday night. Joe White and Mary Grau split the jackpot.

Joe and Grace White and Russ & Mary Jane Freese went to Kapok Tree Inn, in Clearwater last Sunday. They tell us the drive over was beautiful. The food was so delicious and plentiful that it made the rather long trip to get it very worthwhile.

* * *

Glen and Vivian Voelker of Crystal Falls, Michigan were guests of Rachel and Camiel La Clusyse.

Larry O'Donnell spent two days painting his bicycle a gorgeous green. The women drivers tell me that he wants to make sure that the women will see him. His explanation is that his children gave him a new basket and horn and that he had to spruce up the old bike to go with the new accessories.

* * *

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

We would like to thank the many wonderful people who attended our jam session this past Sunday. We have never seen so many music lovers assembled at one time--it was fabulous. And a special note of appreciation to the great musicians who gave their time to give us a great concert. Windy Halverson and his fine music makers deserve our heartfelt thanks.

Our congratulations to District Commander Ray Prentice--the 11th District is Number One in the nation in its category. Ray has done a great job of leading the dynamic 11th to the top. Now we have to work harder to keep Ray and the 11th up there.

This Friday, Jan. 24, the house committee is giving us a mystery dinner, to be served from 6 to 8:30 p.m. They aren't telling us what it is--only that it will be good. Bring the family and have dinner with your friends and comrades.

Sunday, Jan. 26, we will honor all the contestants from Martin County High School who participated in the Voice of Democracy contest. The winners and their prizes will be announced. This is a big event for the V.F.W. and offers us the opportunity to hear what these young Americans' views are. If you have never heard these leaders of tomorrow, I suggest you come and listen to their speeches.

Roast beef will be the main course on the banquet menu. We will start promptly at 2 p.m.

SERVICE OFFICERS REPORT

BY GEORGE W. HODGE

PARTICIPATION IN CHAMPVA BY THE PROVIDER OF CARE--III

Participation in CHAMPVA is entirely voluntary for the physician or any other source of medical care. Under the CHAMPVA cost sharing plan, the government pays a share of the reasonable charges for authorized health benefits. In determining if a charge is reasonable, the customary charges made by the physician and the prevailing charges of other physicians in the community for similar services are considered. If the care involves unusual circumstances and profes sional effort this is taken into consideration. Similar procedures are used to determine reasonable charges for authorized services rendered by other specialists in the health profession. Hospital charges are determined to be reasonable when they are the customary charges of that hospital to the general public. Once a physician, or other source of care, accepts a patient as a VA beneficiary under CHAMPVA, the patient does not have to pay more than the cost sharing amount. For this reason, it is recommended that a patient confirm in advance that a physician or other source will participate under CHAMVA. A patient who selects a non-participating source of care may find that the cost sharing portion of the payment may be greater with such additional cost to be paid by the patient.

It is required that a patient having other health care insurance provided by law, through employment, or under a private plan, that such other insurance benefits be used before CHAMPVA can make payment. CHAMPVA will pay the remaining allowable charges, if such charges do not exceed the amount that would have been paid had there been no other insurance.

HOW TO FILE CLAIMS

IN

FORMS USED. CHAMPVA claims are filed on either DA Form 1863-1 or 1863-2. The DA Form 1863-1 is used by hospitals and the 1863-2 form is used by other sources of care and beneficiaries.

Most sources of care have been furnished supplies of the appropriate claim forms. Those that may be obtained from the office to which a claim will be sent.

What an Itemized Bill or Receipt must consist is - patient's name, diagnosis, care or service provided and dates thereof, and the charges. Drug receipts must show the name of the patient, the name of the pharmacy, the prescription number, date filled, and the amount charged.

In the case of insulin, no prescription number is required, but the receipt must specify "INSULIN."

"RECEIPT" means a statement of services, or supplies, furnished, and charged, therefore, that have been marked "PAID" and signed or initialed, by the source of care, or his representative. Similar evidence of payment, such as a cancelled check or money order stub, may be enclosed with an itemized bill that has not been receipted to establish proof of payment.

MCHS lunches

Lunches to be served in Martin County Schools for January 27 thru January 29 are:

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - Accent is on helping those close to you: spouse, parent or sibling. Be supportive, not jealous or resentful. Don't betray a confidence. Take advice from others regarding finances as your judgement is faulty now.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - Keep your purse strings pretty tight just now. Resist desire to take a trip. Take care of obligations at home. Help a friend who is having personal problems. Be sympathetic and understanding, not judgemental.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Good time to brighten up your wardrobe. Worries are subsided and you feel self assured. Pay attention to relatives and neighbors: do some nice little thing for them. A mistake you may make now will be excused.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Use good judgment and listen to advice before granting favors to someone who may be unworthy. Career and finances may be points of concern. Advice from an impartial professional would be valuable.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - Thoughts of romance and whether to marry may be on your mind now. You appear to be making a new life for yourself and some past situations may fade away. A change of residence could appear necessary for convenience.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Financial matters are looking up and you can pay off debts and bills. Career matters are heading you toward pay increase and promotion. Decisions regarding family appear necessary. Loved one seems unpredictable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23 - Also Libra Ascendant) - Focus your efforts toward completing projects already underway. A good cycle for writers to submit manuscripts, etc. Guard against allowing your irritability to lead you into a quarrel with your mate or partner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Romance is highlighted. A new person met through a friend can really turn you on. If married, your mate and you could re-create the magic you used to have. Guard against losing your temper with relatives or neighbors.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Career wise you can "shoot for the stars." Doors previously closed to you now open. A journey can be beneficial. Home life appears harmonious. Redecorating or remodeling could be part of your plan.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - It may be necessary to pull in your belt financially. Concentrate on work and career matters. A dinner invitation breaks the monotony very pleasantly. Resist negative thinking. Look toward the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Energy is high and your work is top drawer. Working out an idea with a friend can lead to a long term association. A romance that seems the answer to prayers may not be worthy of trust. Be very careful.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Make a decision regarding your marriage very carefully. A long journey is possible. Career matters prosper. Keep on an even keel emotionally. Stay calm, and make decisions firmly. Be self reliant.

Business skill courses offered

STUART—Henry A. Childers, director of adult education for Martin County, announces the addition of three new business education courses for adults who wish to prepare themselves for the business world, or for those individuals who wish to upgrade present employment skills.

A course in business mathematics will be taught at Martin County High School Thursdays at 7 p.m. The application of mathematics to problems unique to the organization, management and operation of a business will be covered. Course content includes fractions, decimals, percent, metrics, commission, transportation, payrolling, pricing and binary numeration.

Business communications, taught Wednesdays at the high school at 7 p.m., is designed to assist students in the acquisition of oral, written and listening skills to effectively process word data unique to the organization, management and operation of a business. Emphasis is on the requisite skills for effectively processing word data in the communications process.

A course in employability skills offered Mondays at the high school at 7 p.m. is designed for individuals working part-time and for those who plan to work full time.

Could you bear the shock of finding out what your home was really worth?

Why be shocked? There's an easy way to find out for yourself. With the Kemper Dwelling Approximator (available free from our agency) you can quickly determine for yourself how much it would cost to replace your home in today's market. Not knowing could cost you thousands of dollars in case of loss. And since residential building costs have gone up 20% in the past three years, the value of your home is probably higher than you realize—and climbing. Call for your Approximator today. 'Urban Forestry' is topic for Stuart Garden Club

STUART—Ray Hopke, Districtwide County Forester and Urban Forester for Martin County, addressed the Garden Club of Stuart at a recent meeting.

Introduced by Mrs. Emil Kopejtna, Hopke presented a slide lecture on "Urban Forestry 1974". He stressed the importance of trees, not only for their beauty, but for their many beneficial effects on the environment, many of which he delineated in his talk. He stated that, since there is a growing need for timber, eucalyptus trees, which grow three times faster than pines, are now being concentrated on.

The show was not only very entertaining, but enlightening. Mrs. Robert J. Koster, Memory Lane Models, Mesdames Gerald Bryan, Clyde Coutant, David Chase, J.S. Henderson, Richard Jacobs, Edward Neail and William Rech were dressed appropriately to depict pollutants in the air, including carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxide, sulphur dioxide, photo chemical sewage and litter.

Mrs. Howard Reiner was in charge of the costumes, and throughout the entire skit Mrs. John Leech played a dirge on the piano.

During the business session which preceded the program, Mrs. Saxton announced that Mrs. John F. Connolly has been appointed District 10 chairman of Anti-litter and Recycling chairman, served as commentator.

Mrs. Connolly urged members to cooperate with the recycling program. Reynolds Aluminum is sponsoring in Stuart. The next pickup will be on Friday, Jan. 24, at the Publix Shopping Center. All beer cans, foil pie pans, aluminum kitchen utensils and old lawn chairs are acceptable items.

Three new members, Mrs. W. R. Bryant, Mrs. B.J. Hubenet, and Mrs. Betty Turner, were introduced and welcomed by Mrs. Edward Neall, second vice president.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. Edward Benedict, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Jack D. Burns, Mrs. J.F. Bonert, Mrs. Henry Sheward, Mrs. Robert Simmons and Mrs. Richard Woodruff.

Dr. Nehme will address auxilians

STUART—Dr. David Nehme, Stuart urologist, will address the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxilians at their February meeting. His topic will be "Prevention of Urinary Tract Infections in Women."

Nehme said, "This subject would also be interesting to male auxilians."

The meeting will be held at St. Mary's Parish Hall at 1:30 p.m. February 3rd, with Vidabelle Butcher, Mary Martin and Lola Cameron serving as hostesses.

At the Auxiliary's last meeting, Mrs. Merle Phillips announced that Auxilians worked a total of 6104 hours in December. She presented a 1000 hour pin to Gladys Grabb.

President Margie Bishop announced that the Auxiliary will again assist in the Heart Forums, which are presented on the third Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Lyric Theatre.

Juanita Edwards said the auxiliary blood bank reserve account is officially open. Volunteers are needed to add to this account, and may do so on any day the blood bank is open: Monday and Tuesday, from 12—8, and Thursday, from 8—1.

STUART—The Rainbow Wheel of the Welcome Wagon of Martin and St. Lucie Counties will have a covered dish luncheon at the Women's Club in Stuart on Tuesday, Jan. 28 at 11:30 a.m.

Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish and their own tableware. There will be a small charge per person.

Cards and games will be played. Players are requested to furnish their own cards or games.

Animal League

STUART—The annual membership meeting of the Animal Rescue League of Martin County will be held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 28 at 8 p.m. at the Agricultural Building in A1A South in Stuart.

At this time members will be asked to vote for new directors who will then elect a new slate of officers.

In addition the charter has been revised to comply with all current state and federal laws. Members of the League will vote on an acceptance of the amended charter.

INTERCHANGE PROGRESS--Progress is evident at the Port St. Lucie Turnpike Interchange. Construction on the Interchange started Aug. 21, 1974 with an estimated cost of construction being $1,602,263.72. Tentative completion date was estimated at 240 working days.

Lions sponsor free glaucoma tests

PORT ST. LUCIE--The first major project of the newly organized Port St. Lucie Lions Club will get underway Sunday, January 26, at the Port St. Lucie Marina.

Residents of the area will have the opportunity of receiving free glaucoma tests from 2 a.m. until 2 p.m.

"If we have an overflow crowd the time will be extended," said Lion Club president Bill Strout.

The free glaucoma screening will be conducted in conjunction with the club's pancake feedfest at the North Port St. Lucie Marina.

The screening will be open to persons over the age of 20. According to Strout, glaucoma screening cannot be conducted on persons who have colds, or are allergic to novacaine.

Strout emphasized the glaucoma tests are free to everyone and not just the residents of Port St. Lucie.

"There is no obligation for anyone to even buy a fillet in the breakfast," he pointed out.

"There are seventeen registered nurses and four doctors who have volunteered their time to help with the glaucoma screening, according to Strout.

The mobile unit has been provided through the Florida Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Culvert suit

Commission-DPC agree to meet

PORT ST. LUCIE--Although St. Lucie County officials have agreed to meet with a representative from the Department of Pollution Control to discuss the pending million dollar suit over Walton Road culverts, the commissioners let it be known they have not asked for the meeting.

St. Lucie County Commissioners agreed Saturday they would attend a meeting arranged by state representative Chuck Nergard with Vance Kidder of the Department of Pollution Control. According to Weldon Lewis, county administrator, Nergard set up the meeting so DPC could learn the facts behind the culvert situation.

The commission was notified early last week that DPC had filed the $1 million suit in Circuit Court charging the county on May 1, 1974, replaced an old wooden bridge on Walton Road running across the Savannas with culverts. DPC claims the work was done without the county obtaining the necessary permit.

At that time it was the decision of the county to fight the suit.

With reference to the forthcoming meeting, Nergard has arranged, Commissioner John H. Park was quoted as saying, "I just want it firmly understood this meeting was not a request from the County Commission (other commissioners reported), a agreed.

St. Lucie County Commissioners maintain the repairs to Walton Road were necessary to prevent an emergency situation. They challenged the need for the permit pointing out the work had to be completed because Walton Road was the only connecting link between U.S. 1 and Indian River Drive for a stretch of several miles.

County Attorney Ralph Wilson in preparing the county's case, had contacted a consultant to study the Savannas near the crossing.

The commission has now asked Wilson to delay the consultant, who would charge about $200, until after the meeting with DPC's Kidder.

No date for the hearing has been set, however Judge James Alderman has been assigned the case.

Elementary school opens February 3

PORT ST. LUCIE--St. Lucie County school officials have set Monday, Feb. 3 as the date students will attend classes in the new Port St. Lucie Elementary school.

An open house for the entire community and public has been scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 2 at 2:30 p.m. County, city and school officials will participate in opening ceremonies. Tours after the doors will be opened for the inspection of the plant.

The Port St. Lucie Elementary school will be opened following a two-year period of planning and construction which will result in one of the finest school plants to be found anywhere, DR. Seelinger, school superintendent said.

The $3.5 million building will house kindergarten through fifth grade classes and will feature the "Open Concept" approach to education.

Each grade is to be held on a pod. The pods are built around the media center. The complex which serves as the focal point of the school.

The school will offer programs of instruction that feature flexibility of schedules and individualization of learning at the elementary level, a school board official said.

Port St. Lucie Elementary will have an enrollment of about 820 on opening day with room for expansion as it was designed to handle 750 students.

Hearing date for city suit is set

PORT ST. LUCIE--January 30 has been set as the hearing date for the suit brought by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc. against the city officials.

According to information released, Judge James Alderman will hear the case at 8:30 a.m. Thursday at the St. Lucie County Courthouse.

DeMeules entertain

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Herne DeMeules entertained four grandsons their son, daughter-in-law and Mrs. Lois Fredericks of Minneapolis, Minn. for the holidays.

Gray Drugs now open in St. Lucie Plaza

PORT ST. LUCIE--Area dignitaries joined with top officials of Gray Drugs, Inc. to take part in the ribbon cutting ceremonies officially opening the new Port St. Lucie Gray Drug Store last Wednesday morning.

Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kimmel cut the ribbon at 8:30 a.m. while other city and county officials also took part in the festivities.

Also attending were Port St. Lucie councilman William McCheney, Clement Bramley, president of the Port St. Lucie Bank, Frank Tallant, vice president of the Port St. Lucie Bank, Port St. Lucie Councilman Vaught Lewis, St. Lucie County Commissioner Ed Enns, and Willie McCain, Chairman of the St. Lucie County Commission.

Located at 2976 South U.S. Highway 1, the new Port St. Lucie Gray Drug Store offers a total area of 8,800 sq. ft. ample parking facilities and a minimum of 5 ft. wide aisles to ensure maximum customer convenience. The local facility is the 67th Gray Drug store serving the residents of Florida, while three additional stores are presently under construction.

Robert Jacobs, a sixteen year veteran with the Gray Drug Chain, has been named manager of the local store. Jacobs, who resides with his wife Jeanette and three children in Stuart, moved to the area from New Smyrna Beach where he was assistant manager of the local Gray store for three years. Jacobs welcomes the opportunity of being able to serve the local residents and invites all to stop in the new store and take advantage of the opening sales.

Our special sale with reductions far below the every day low discount prices will continue thru January 26, Jacobs said.

Sixteen employees are staffed in the new store assuring customers of prompt and courteous service.

The pharmaceutical department is headed by two registered pharmacists, Alan Artz and William Clair.

At least 2,500 pharmaceuticals are always available on all Gray's stores, and unusual drugs are kept as fresh and ready as the faster moving items.

Jacobs pointed out. Both our pharmacists are ever ready willing to explain dosages, advise on the selection of over-the-counter drugs and answer any inquiries a customer may have regarding their prescriptions.

Our aim is to provide high quality pharmaceuticals, properly dispensed and at the lowest possible discount prices, Jacobs added.

Gray's also provides an extra ten percent discount on all prescription needs for senior citizens. Gray's golden ager benefits are also available for customers 60 years of age or older.

If you are eligible, stop in the new Port St. Lucie Gray's for a Senior Citizens Discount Plan Membership Card or call the store for information 878-4812.

Aside from the complete prescription services, the new Gray store offers products for every occasion and need, including such items as art materials, pet care supplies, sewing notions, lawn furniture, toys, softgoods, cough and cold remedies, cosmetics, grocery necessities, party supplies and many many more.

MANAGER--Robert Jacobs has been named manager of the new Port St. Lucie Gray Drug Store which opened for business last Wednesday in the St. Lucie Shopping Plaza at the corner of Romar and U.S. 1. Jacobs, formerly assistant manager of the New Smyrna Beach store, is a sixteen year veteran with the Gray Drug firm.

Keep truckin' ...covered

PORT ST. LUCIE--Mayor Larry Kimmel, following complaints from local residents, issued a warning to General Development Corporation's general manager of Port St. Lucie, District Sports, to see the firm's dump trucks are covered.

The spillage of sand from these trucks has created several hazardous areas in the city, Kimmel said.

State law requires these trucks be covered and, according to Safety Director Leslie Thomas, violators will be stopped.

REGISTRATION--Approximately six boys registered for the Babe Ruth League baseball teams last Saturday morning at Sportsman's Park on Prima Vista Boulevard in Port St. Lucie Saturday Jan. 25 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. will be the final opportunity for boys between the ages 13 thru 15 to sign up. Pictured above left to right are Manager Harry Ryan, Brian Rauch, Chuck Nergard, assistant coach, Albie Scoggins, Mrs. Albert Scoggins, Harry Rauch, and in the background, Carl Rauch. Gwen Rauch is pictured in the truck waiting on her own brothers to sign up.

Babe Ruth registration scheduled for Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE--Boys between the ages of 13 thru 15 will have a final opportunity to register for the Babe Ruth Baseball League this Saturday at Sportsmans Park on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. There are openings available in each age group.

To register boys must be accompanied by one parent and must also bring along their birth certificate.

There will be a warm up practice session held during the hours of registration and each boy is to bring his own glove. The warm up session is not for try outs.

Only boys coming into the Babe Ruth League for the first time need register.

According to Harry Ryan, Babe Ruth manager, the teams will be on a 28 game schedule this year and are scheduled to start the second week in March.

Yacht Club Tuesday

PORT ST. LUCIE--The election of officers will highlight Tuesday night's meeting of the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club.

The group will hold their regular meeting Jan. 28 at the North Port Marina beginning at 8 p.m.

Planned entertainment for the evening will include the Sing Out Group of Fort Pierce.

Street lights not wanted

PORT ST. LUCIE--Residents of Italy Drive presented a petition to the City Council to oppose the installation of street lights in their area.

A spokesman for the group made it clear the residents do not want mercury vapor lights installed on concrete poles creating immediate action. Council member Ken Thompson, who heads the planning department for the city, has received FP&L Company to stop work on the project.

Wimodausis Club elects officers

PORT ST. LUCIE--At its first meeting of the new year, earlier this month, the Wimodausis Club of Port St. Lucie elected officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Judson Thurston was chosen president. Mrs. Judson Aitkins, vice president, Mrs. Norrine McClurg, secretary, Mrs. Richard Downey, treasurer.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were the Mesdames Fred Adler, Kenneth Bishop, Marion Seithel, Charles White and Helen Spiller.

The new slate of officers will be installed at the February 12 meeting.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. William Aitkens presided over the meeting. There were fifty members and guests present.

Philbrick makes motion

Tom Leonard is fired

JENSEN BEACH—Controversial Martin County Planning Director Tom Leonard was fired Tuesday by the County Commission.

Calling his decision "very painful," Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick made the motion to discharge Leonard.

Commissioners Tom Higgins and John Kiernan, who served as chairman during the both contested debate on Leonard's future, supported Philbrick.

Commissioner Timer Powers and Maggy Hurchalla stoutly defended Leonard, voting to continue the review of the planner's status.

Powers was the most outspoken supporter of Leonard, calling for a continued review of Leonard's job with participation by the commission, public and planning commission.

Philbrick told Powers that to continue the review would be to take the easy way out.

Last October commissioners gave Leonard three months to prove his value. At that time Philbrick agreed to work closely with Leonard.

Philbrick said he received Leonard's report Jan. 20, which outlined the progress he Leonard had made.

"I discussed the report with Tom on a plane coming back from Tallahassee," Philbrick said, and I don't believe his philosophy has changed."

Philbrick gave Leonard's "basic philosophy" on land use as the primary reason for his decision.

Philosophy must come from the board," Philbrick said, noting that the commission "needs a more experienced planner, especially in the social economic field, providing more low cost housing."

Powers wanted Philbrick to be more specific in areas where Leonard had failed to do his job.

It also was noted by Powers that Philbrick had dedicated as late as last Wednesday that progress with Leonard had been made.

"The commission is the one that has to accept the responsibility of planning ordinances and budget," Powers said.

While Philbrick and Powers debated the pros and cons of the duties of a planner, Leonard had among his supporters in the audience a well known conservationist.

Philbrick contended that the Hutchinson Island plans should have been finished a long time ago.

Philbrick said his decision "jelled" while in Tallahassee last week and talking to State Sen. Phil Lewis on the use of private land.

Dehon said in his comments that Leonard had been quoted as saying that if a man's property is degraded enough he will get rid of it.

When Philbrick made his motion to dismiss Leonard with Higgins second, Leonard said that he had enjoyed working with dedicated people in the county and that he hopes the commission will adopt his capital improvement program.

Tuesdays afternoon Wacha made the following comment on Kiernan's statement:

"During the twelve years I served as county commissioner I made mistakes. Probably the gravest mistake I made in those twelve years was agreeing to the employment of Mr. Leonard. At the time of his employment, I was pressurized with running for the office of State senator, and I did not pay as much attention as I should have to Mr. Leonard's qualifications. A review of his resume now leaves me with the opinion that he was not qualified whether through education or through experience to handle the responsibilities that are were placing on his shoulders.

"In my opinion we are no further ahead in our planning for Martin County than we were two and a half years ago and as a result we have an additional 15,000 people for which we have not provided adequate facilities. The businessmen of Jensen Beach Blvd. is an example of what we haven't done. I apologize."

While Philbrick and Powers debated the pros and cons of the duties of a planner, Leonard had among his supporters in the audience well known conservationist

Ford adds note to God and Country Day

JENSEN BEACH—President Ford has extended his "warm greetings to you" the Rev. Frank Alvarez and Legion Commander Richard Neeson and to all who gather on Feb. 16 for the first annual God and Country Day.

The White House letter was received this week and will be read at the ceremony at Florida Institute of Technology at 3 p.m.

Also at Tuesday's Martin County Commission meeting a proclamation for God and Country Day was approved.

President Ford has asked me to extend his warm greetings to you and to all who gather on February 16 for the first annual God and Country Day sponsored by the American Legion Post 126 and All Saints Episcopal Church.

As our 200th Anniversary celebration nears, activities such as yours revitalize an awareness of America's unique heritage and inspires a renewed devotion to our country through prayerful attention to the responsibilities of good citizenship.

SOLOIST—Mrs. Darlene Jerrells is the soloist for God and Country Day.

Community Federal is open

JENSEN BEACH—A gala reception attended by government and civic leaders of the community preceded the Tuesday opening of Community Federal Savings and Loan Association in Jensen Beach.

Over 200 local leaders attended the Monday night party to look at the new offices located on Commercial Street and South Savanna Road.

Tuesday morning Community Federal opened its offices and residents lined up to register for the drawing of 35,000 S&H green stamps each day, and the Friday drawing of a winner of the grand opening prize of 100,000 stamps. A total of 240,000 green stamps will be given away.

The office is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday.

Office manager is Kathleen Jerrells, former supervisor of the Port Salerno office of Community Federal. Mrs. Jerrells and her husband live in Hobe Sound with their three sons.

Hansen seeks Bicentennial celebration meeting

Art Hansen is seeking a meeting of all Jensen Beach area organizations to discuss plans for the bicentennial celebration.

Hansen has sent a letter to more than 20 area organizations asking them to send representatives to the Feb. 26 meeting.

The Jensen Beach Bicentennial would like to join the rest of our country in celebrating the 200th birthday of our nation," Hansen states in his letter.

The goal should be logical to choose throughout the year that the people in our area throughout 1976 can have special programs of interest, events of interest and enthusiasm," the chamber president writes in his letter.

He doubts that one meeting will produce an overall program but hopes that the organization will initiate a working group that can concentrate on objectives.

Center plans activities

JENSEN BEACH—A series of activities and programs are planned for the week long observance "Environmental Studies week" center director Jay Jarrett said.

"So that we acquaint all Martin County with the services and facilities of the Environmental Studies Center in Jensen Beach, we will devote the week of Feb. 19 as environmental studies week," Jarrett said.

There will be a VIP Day, Jarrett said. Open house and the new executive director of Central and Southern Florida Flood Control John Maloy will be visiting the center.

Maloy will be the first Wednesday speaker at 8 p.m. at the center and his topic will be managing Florida's water.

Jarrett said that a slide presentation and demonstration of equipment will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 6 at the Stuart Middle School.

The VIP day will be on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. and will include a boat ride on the center's 30 foot survey boat.

The open house will be on Sunday, Feb. 9 from 1 to 4 p.m. and will include tours and demonstrations.

The center, formerly the Jensen Beach Elementary School is now in its third year of operation under federal funding.

'International' soccer match, parade, scheduled for Saturday

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—Latest word has it that all systems are go for the forthcoming "international" soccer match scheduled to take place this Saturday at Sportsman's Park, beginning at 2 p.m.

The competing teams will be the United States versus Brazil. The home country team will be Florida Institute of Technology students, while the Brazilian students who are currently residing in St. Lucie and Martin counties under the goodwill exchange mission.

According to the coordinator of the event, just about every organization in town is taking part in the festivities including the local Optimistic Club, assistant soccer commissioner Walter Wingberg, F.I.T. athletic director John O'Connor, IRCC sports director Dick Wells. The Port St. Lucie Optimists Vikings head coach Joe Jennings, and the various foster parents of the visitors.

General Development Corporation has also gotten into the act by providing jerseys for the soccer players. Football boots will be provided through the courtesy of Ron Smith of John Carroll High School for the visiting Brazilians.

The festivities are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. with a parade starting at the North Port Marina on Prima Vista and marching to the Park.

Lanie Norvell, St. Lucie County Sheriff, will head the parade, followed by the color guard and parade marshals. Other entrants expected to participate are the Masonic Club of Fort Pierce, furnishing the clowns and the crazy hearse, the Optimist Viking cheerleaders, a decorated boat entered by the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club, the Andy Matton VFW Post, the Veterans of WWI and their auxiliaries.

The VIP car will be furnished and driven by Mrs. William B. McChesney. Hiding with Mrs. McChesney will be Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kimmel, State Representative Chuck Nergard, St. Lucie County Commissioner Willie McCain, Optimist soccer commissioner Walter Wingberg, and Port St. Lucie General Manager Robert Seeley.

An able assist from the St. Lucie County Recreational Department will assure plenty of seats for all with the loan of bleachers for the match.

The winning team will be presented a trophy provided by a local newspaper while General Development Corporation will provide individual trophies for each member of the two eleven-man teams.

Soccer differs considerably from the more popular games played in our land, it should without a doubt provide a lively afternoon of entertainment for the spectators as well as the participants.

Soccer is not a body contact sport. The ball is controlled by the feet and heads along, and the nearest thing to a tackle is when one player tries to nudge another off balance in order to get control of the ball.

The entire game will last just over one and a half hours, and is played in two halves rather than four quarters. Each half is 45 minutes with a five to ten minute break at half time.

The "international" match will be free to the public and refreshments will be available during the afternoon.

New chamber service is planned

JENSEN BEACH—A new service is being offered by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce president Art Hansen said Tuesday.

We are establishing a calendar of events," Hansen said.

We ask organizations to list their schedule of events with the chamber to avoid meeting conflicts," he said.

CHARITY BALL: Holding a poster which promotes the annual Beta Sigma Phi sorority charity dinner dance are Andrea Harper, left, decorations chairman and Lorraine Sands, publicity chairman. The dance will be held Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Tuttle Hilton and proceeds will go to Traver Boys Ranch.

A review

Menninger's 'Fantastic Trees'

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—Book critics, ranging from psychologists to horticulturists, have acclaimed "Fantastic Trees" (Horticultural Books, Inc., Stuart, Fla. $11.95) in terms ranging from "zestful" to "complete" to "interesting," and even "fantastic."

Most missed the one most all-encompassing description that describes the work of Dr. Edwin A. Menninger, Stuart's flowering tree man—the most tightly written, fastest paced book on a subject with which the good doctor has a love affair.

The book is so good the Russians translated it and without passing royalties published it.

Here is a collection of the usual and unusual trees that do all kinds of things they walk, tell time, switch sex, give milk, make noises, add, go around naked, make love and do all sorts of things.

The writing style is crisp, and there is little chaff between the covers of 305 pages reflecting the years Menninger spent as owner of The Stuart News. There is little build-up of interesting items for Menninger wastes no time on each subject—there are just too many to talk about.

Each of the thirty four chapters begins with Menninger's basis of life a quotation from the scriptures, and each chapter mixes humor and the fiction of from Alice in Wonderland to the Three Bears with often startling facts and fantasies of the hundreds of unusual trees that are deeply researched.

Throughout it all there is a parallel to human living that allows us to understand more about ourselves for as Menninger writes in a prologue to his brother "so many trees behave like people."

RUSSIAN COVER—The Russians stole the book, and even gave credit, but no royalties to Dr. Edwin A. Menninger for his entertaining book on Fantastic Trees.

Backdoor increases

WASHINGTON—"Run it through the backdoor" that seems to be the standard response of some Members of Congress when it comes to raising their own salaries, raising their office allowances or raising staff salaries.

For the most part, it doesn't stop the raises from going through. All it does is absolve Members from accepting responsibility for the increases.

The latest examples occurred last year when the Committee on House administration, by a series of housekeeping decisions, upped the allowances given Congressmen for postage, stationary, telephone service and district office operations.

These increases never went to the full House for an open vote, because earlier in the year the House had quietly empowered the Committee on Administration to take such actions and put them into effect without obtaining the endorsement of the full House.

This is not to say all the increases were unjustified. Inflation has hit Congress just as it has hit everyone else.

But if these increases are justified, the congressmen who want them should have to stand up on the floor of the House and vote for them, not accept them quietly through the backdoor.

If we are going to increase our allowances and if the increases are necessary to assist us in doing the job for constituents that needs to be done, then we, as elected officials should have the courage to do it in the open, accepting the responsibility for our actions.

The same is true of Congressional paybikes.

Under the 1967 legislation creating the Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries, Members of Congress get every raise recommended by this commission and the President unless they take positive steps to stop the pay hike.

The role of the Congress is limited to veto power and then only if a vote can be obtained on a resolution of disapproval.

Fortunately, twice during the third Congress, we were able to beat back proposed pay hikes for Congressmen one to more than $60,000 a year and one to $50,000, both substantial increases from the current $42,500.

But this may not always be the case. There may not always be enough Congressmen willing to publicly oppose a pay hike, particularly a backdoor pay boost.

Therefore, I have co-sponsored legislation to eliminate both of these backdoor procedures.

Last week, I signed my name to a proposed legislation requiring that every proposal by the House Committee on Administration to fix or adjust any allowance for Congressmen must be brought to the floor for approval.

And this week I joined in introducing legislation to abolish the Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries.

Both are measures desperately needed if the Congress is to regain the public's faith and confidence.

As long as a mechanism for backdoor pay hikes exists, as long as it is possible to get a pay boost automatically without accepting responsibility, the American people have a right to be skeptical about Congress' willingness to fight inflation.

It is time for Congress to show the people that it is doing what they are doing—discussing issues openly and wisely and putting off all but the most pressing expenditures.

Letter to the editor

To the Editor:

Just ten weeks ago in the edition of The Mirror, there appeared a picture of the Jensen Beach Samaritan new Ambulance. It made me very happy as likewise others did same to see this new ambulance. This modern medical service (ehicle which may be only seen in large cities with large financial backing is right here in this small town of ours. It is remarkable that this Samaritan organization operating on pop corn funds could achieve their necessary goal in obtaining this modern vehicle.

I am glad you have explained some of the new facilities found in this new ambulance. Many people wondered why good condition ambulances like one from Ocean Breeze Park plus two from the Samaritans had suddenly become obsolete. Quite a few folks were unaware that the state and federal health departments have control over services rendered residents of their states.

It has been pointed out that the most critical and serious moments of victims who require medical attention of a hospital are the minutes of pick up and transportation. These moments require machines in best condition who also are equipped with the best modern facilities. You will note the new vehicle is much higher and has standing height of 72 inches inside. None of our old machines could meet this standard, although this is the new law.

The new law requires Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) to ride ambulances for the patients in every call. We many of us realize what training these male and female nurses must take in a hospital before they can qualify for EMT. When on duty each must be prepared and answer the call immediately after receiving a radio dispatcher monitor receivers.

To these warm hearted dedicated volunteers are outstanding people. Each one deserves recognition be it EMT nurse or ambulance driver. Our neighboring towns maintain costly paid staffs who equally perform this same type of service with funds available through the taxpayers pocket. Just think here we have devoted people who make many sacrifices who do all this on a voluntary basis, with no excuses or ill feelings while doing their obligatory service. This presently have a nice group of EMT nurses but there are openings for many more in this honorable position. This addition will enable them to have a more universal staff.

It takes a lot of money to operate this service in our community, as you will note the cost of the new ambulance was in the vicinity of $17,000 dollars. This Samaritan organization stretches every dollar till they receive its contributions to the best of their needs.

There are few civic organizations who promote various affairs to build up the ambulance funds. These funds enable the volunteers to continue this excellent service. One recently held in Ocean Breeze Park was the bake sale and flea market. This brought participation of many folks and proved to be a great success. I believe that if more thoughtful organizations and people cooperate, then perhaps the Samaritans could have sufficient funds to not only operate smoothly, but maybe a little left over to at least reimburse these volunteers for their gas money and many sacrifices they make.

We never know but when someday one of us will be a victim and require the services of the volunteers and their ambulance. The next time you see this new shiny ambulance racing up the road remember behind the drivers wheel and inside attending a victim, are warm hearted, devoted and dedicated people performing their services to save the lives of others like yours and mine.

May we all extend our most sincere appreciation to the entire organization of the Jensen Beach-Rio Samaritans for all they are doing.

Hessler takes top honors

PORT ST. LUCIE—Grace Hessler was really in the swing of things when she won ten out of twelve games at the first WWI Bunko session of the new year, according to Cedric Benz, coordinator of the event.

Second and third place winners with nine games each were Leona Lynn and Bell Sherrill.

Jeanette Speers and Ethel Levine both claimed eight wins.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

I would like to thank the many wonderful folks who helped make this past weekend a success.

Friday night kicked it off with a big crowd showing up for dinner, and then staying around to dance to the music of the juke box.

Saturday, we had all kinds of workers cleaning up and getting ready for Sunday.

On Sunday the Voice of Democracy banquet went off well. I would like to take this time to thank Lloyd Baker and his great crew for the great job they did in the kitchen. I also want to thank the Port St. Lucie V.F.W. Post members for their help with the contest, the contestants, and the winner for making this project a success.

The benefit Jam Session was also successful. Mrs. Phyllis Breinlinger and I would like to thank all the great musicians who got together and of course, thanks to you and you and you. We appreciate everyone's doing his part to salute a great musician and a great fellow.

Saturday will be the first of our monthly steak nights. Steaks will be served from 6:30 p.m. on each first Saturday of the month. Come and meet your friends and neighbors on a fun night.

The regular Auxiliary meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m.

We will hold our next regular meeting on Thursday, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m.

Art Festival display is planned

Ernie Baker, chairman of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event, said he has received a letter from the Satellite Beach Public Library asking for materials on the art show for its display.

Baker said Monday that he has received more than 40 applications for the March 1-2 festival at Langford Park.

"I have received applications from several northern states, including Wisconsin, Illinois, New York and from all parts of Florida," Baker said.

Entry fee is $2 for each exhibitor.

Welcome Wagon

PORT ST. LUCIE—The regular monthly meeting of the Port St. Lucie Welcome Wagon will be held at 10 a.m. at the Marina on Prima Vista Blvd. on Feb. 8.

A talk will be given by Mrs. Lavinia Charles, head of the Juvenile Diabetes Association of Fort Pierce.

Millage base is questioned

JENSEN BEACH—Former Martin County Attorney Dean Tucker charged Tuesday that Martin County's commissioners are not following the intent of the millage rollback act that was passed last November by voters.

"It's my opinion they are not following the intent of the act," Tucker said.

They are using the wrong millage base, he said.

In a letter to commissioners, Tucker said that the proposed millage levy of 4.116 should be based on the 1973 millage of 6.07 mills for operating and not the 7.07 which includes capital outlay.

Tucker says that in his opinion the 10 per cent increase provided in HB 4340 millage rollback is for operating expenses only, and capital outlay should not be included.

Wednesday paint class is underway

PORT ST. LUCIE—Another painting class has been added to the schedule at CESA.

According to information released, an oil painting class will be held weekly on Wednesday mornings from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Swan will instruct the class. Mrs. Swan also instructs the Friday class at CESA.

CHECKING: Tom Gartland, manager of Hobe Grove, and chairman of the nominating committee of the Martin County Resources Development Board, checks the annual meeting format with acting president Jack Robinson. The meeting was held Thursday evening at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evinrude.

TAGGED: Geri Lennard, secretary for the Martin County Resources Development Board, pins a guest badge on State Rep. Chuck Nergard as Mrs. Nergard watches. The Nergards were some of the community elected officials at the annual meeting of the Board last Thursday.

Campbell to head Martin Resources Development Board

JENSEN BEACH–Richard E. Campbell, editor of The Mirror, was elected president of the Martin County Resources Development Board Thursday night at the annual meeting of the group.

The meeting, a cocktail reception at Francis Langford's Outrigger Restaurant, saw Glenn Sutton, Stuart manager of Southern Bell, elected vice president; Gene Van Curen, district manager of Florida Power and Light Company, secretary, and Dale Hudson, senior vice president of First National Bank and Trust Company, treasurer.

Acting president Jack Robinson, Indiantown Company manager, conducted the meeting. The nominating committee was chaired by Tom Gartland, manager of Hobe Grove.

Robinson told the leaders of industrial development in the area he felt that the time had come to "renew our effort to bring about a balance in the economy by seeking proper jobs for the people of Martin County."

Campbell served as president of the Resources Development Board from 1971 to 1973.

WELCOME: Elmer Powers, Martin County Commissioner, and Mrs. Powers were welcomed to the Martin County Resources Development Board's annual meeting last week by Dick Campbell, who was elected president of the organization at the meeting.

FUTURE PLANS: The future of Martin County is obviously tied to the development of Witham Field, and that seemed the discussion between Harold Strauss, owner of St. Lucie Skyways, and Resources Board treasurer Dale Hudson, as acting president Jack Robinson, right, talked with Mrs. Strauss at the annual meeting of the Resources Development Board last Thursday.

Community bridge club

JENSEN BEACH–On Jan. 20 there were 6 tables in play at the Community Bridge Club with an average of 156 for both North-South and East-West.

East-West winners were Steve Barton and Ernest White, 197; K. Boldt and Gussie Pitman, 189; Emma Schaffrick and Walter Collins, 185½; Jan Alger and George Heath, 182½; Stella Mervin and Louise Ressler, 181; and sixth, Marge Biser and Polly MacDonald, 172½.

On Jan. 17, the average was 74 for both north-south and east-west.

North-South winners were Otis Kendall and Steve Stanton, 94½; Sara Classen and Hazel Whicker, 87½; Marion and George Heath, 79.

East-West winners were Thelma Ritchey and Ed Gates, 86½; Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Bratley, 78; and Marge Biser and Lester Roosa, 77½.

Game time is 1 p.m. Mondays and Fridays in the Harry Hoke Community Room at First Federal Savings and Loan, Jensen Beach. All players are welcome and a partner is always available. George Heath is director.

TAKE CRUISE: Thirty-eight residents of Venture Out on Hutchinson Island are shown prior to boarding a bus for the Jungle Queen cruise in Fort Lauderdale. Connie Leniche, social director for Venture out, arranged the trip.

ART FESTIVAL–The third annual outdoor art festival sponsored by the Stuart Downtown Merchants Association last weekend was termed a big success. The warm sunny weather brought out many residents both days.

School rates are announced

STUART–Thomas J. McCann, president of the new board of trustees of The Pine School, Inc., announced the revised tuition rates for 1975-76, and the school's proposed summer camp program, following a meeting this week at which requests and suggestions from parents and interested friends were considered.

First Grade $950, Second Grade $1,100, Third Grade $1,300, Fourth Grade $1,350, Fifth Grade $1,500, Sixth Grade $1,600, Seventh Grade $1,700, Eighth Grade $1,750. Our rates will include a 10 per cent discount in the appropriate grade for a second child in a family entered simultaneously, and a discount of 20 per cent for the third child entered the same year, he said.

The Summer Day Camp program, open to all children in Martin County between the ages of 6 and 14, will cost $110 for a four-week session (9 a.m. - 3 p.m. Monday through Friday) or $200 for the full eight weeks, June 23 to August 15. The program, conducted by qualified personnel, will include environmental studies, athletics, field trips, performing and creative arts, and at a slight additional charge horseback riding, sailing and tennis. Professional tutoring in mathematics and reading skills for grades 1-8 will be available by special arrangement.

Enrollment for the camp closes March 15.

St. Joseph's Guild meets Monday

STUART–The monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Guild will be held Monday, Feb. 3, beginning with Recitation of the Rosary and Benediction at 1 p.m. in the church.

The meeting follows immediately afterwards in the parish hall. Program chairman Mrs. Richard Woodruff will introduce James McCarty, Field Representative in this area for the Social Security Administration office. He will discuss Medicare and Social Security benefits.

All women of the parish are invited to attend.

Club to host Fine Arts Festival

STUART–The Woman's Club of Stuart will host the District 10 Fine Arts Festival to be held at the St. Lucie Hilton Resort on February 11.

Reservations for the luncheon meeting should be made as soon as possible. Send checks to Mrs. H. Moog, telephone number 283-7380.

Engagement announced

STUART–Mrs. Devita Sutton Stuart announces the engagement of her daughter Brenda to Tommy Wyatt, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wyatt, Jensen Beach.

Their wedding is planned for 2 p.m. February 22 at the First Baptist Church, Stuart. A reception will follow at Henry's in Rio. Friends are cordially invited.

Miss Sutton is a graduate of Martin County High School and the Luella Porter School of Beauty in West Palm Beach.

Wyatt graduated from Martin County High School, Indian River Community College, and served four years in the United States Navy.

Taxpayers to get break

JENSEN BEACH—Florida intangible taxpayers will receive a substantial tax break this year, according to the Department of Revenue, and the 1975 intangible tax is due now.

Each person filing may claim a $20,000 exemption. A husband and wife filing jointly may claim $40,000 even if only one of them actually owns the intangibles. Only individuals are entitled to the exemption. Businesses and fiduciaries may not claim this exemption.

The Department has mailed returns to approximately 280,000 individual taxpayers. They are instructed to list and value their intangible property owned December 31st stock market prices, then deduct the exemption. The tax is due at the rate of $1.00 per $1,000 of the remaining assets. No payment is required if the individual's tax computes to $5.00 or less.

An orange needs a lot of sunshine to reach its quality peak. That's why, in cities around the world, the harvest of sun-filled Florida oranges is prized for its juiciness and rich flavor.

Oranges are ancient

It no wonder oranges from Florida are delicious. It took them two million years to become what they are. That's how long ago Malaysians first enjoyed oranges. And oranges have done a lot of traveling since then.

It was Columbus himself who brought them to the new world.

An orange a day

Because of their rich supply of Vitamin C, oranges help build strong bones and teeth. They're helpful to the healing process and your body's absorption of iron, too.

Oranges are inspiring

We oranges are so good and so good for you, they've inspired hundreds of recipes for you to enjoy.

You can peel them and eat them out of hand or squeeze them, bake them in pies, cookies and cakes, serve them in salads and fruit dishes, and preserve them in jellies and marmalades.

Oranges make a treat's get-together for meat poultry and fish, too. Try them with another Florida favorite in taste. Orange Snapper: Place 1½ pounds red snapper cut into serving pieces in a greased baking pan. Combine 3 tablespoons melted butter with ¼ cup orange juice, ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon nutmeg. Pour over fish. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons of shredded orange peel on top. Place in a preheated oven at 450° and bake 25 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Spoon pan juices over top and serve garnished with orange slices.

Or try oranges for dessert. The Swiss sprinkled with sugar and topped with whipped cream. And you'd really be missing a bet if you never tried sprightly orange wine.

Oranges can fool you

It's easy to get tricked by an orange, though. It can be delicious ripe when entirely green, and completely unripe when brilliantly orange.

And unlike other fruits, oranges don't ripen after being picked. So you'll only find oranges ready to enjoy.

Just look for the fruit that's firm and heavy for its size, thin skinned and free of spots. Russeting (tan, brown or black) in nothing over the skin has nothing to do with eating quality.

To add your orange picking, use the following chart. It tells what to look for in each orange variety and when you'll find them in peak season.

Early and Midseason Oranges

Navel: Nov. to Feb.
Extra large, deep yellow, seedless
Best hand eaten

Hamlin: Oct. to Dec.
Medium, smooth thin skin, seedless
Best for juice

Parson Brown: Nov. to Jan.
Medium to large, light brown pebbly skin, few seeds, rich flavor

Pineapple: Dec. to Feb.
Medium to large, deep orange, few seeds, sweet juice

Temple: Jan. to Mar.
Small, deep orange, oval, sometimes pebbly skin, seeds. Fine eating orange

Late Oranges

Valencia: Mar. to July
Large, smooth thin skin, oval, deep orange, seedless. Rich flavored juice

King: Mar. to Apr.
Looks like large tangerine, pebbly skin, dark color. Easily peeled.

The Continuing Education Department of IRCC announces its summer program abroad, either of two tours being possible. One will begin its European segment in Rome, then fly to Spain, go down to Morocco, and journey back to Spain and finally to London. The other program also begins in Rome and ends in London, but it will take in Florence, Lucerne, Munich, Salzburg, and Paris. Both tours originate and end in New York (or, for an extra fee, in Orlando). The date for these trips is June 25 - July 22.

Students of high school age and older, teachers, and other travel lovers are eligible to join. Some may wish to obtain certain college credits through independent study by special arrangement with any IRCC instructor who is willing to set up criteria for his course. College enrollment, however, is not a requirement for the program.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19 Also Aries Ascendant): The domestic area is very rewarding now. Beautify your home with the support of mate and children. You could make a decision regarding determination to reach a goal. Don't spend money on luxuries now.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20 Also Taurus Ascendant): Don't interfere in a "battle" that does not concern you. If a visitor tries your patience, don't lose your cool; benefits will come as a result. Romantic affairs are cause for concern but be loving and trusting.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20 Also Gemini Ascendant): Evaluate carefully your anger or disappointment regarding a broken romance. It is your pride that is hurt, not your heart. Seek the company of people who are purposeful and structured. Show gratitude to others.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22 Also Cancer Ascendant): It's probably better not to make changes now. Let the old world take another turn and things will automatically change. Tighten your purse strings; don't lend or spend on others. Envy could surround you at work.

LEO (July 23 to August 22 Also Leo Ascendant): Financial matters require concentration. Don't go into debt and pay outstanding bills promptly. Protect savings and deal very ethically. Spend wisely; don't hoard. Visit the time in frequent places with indiscreet associations.

VIRGO (Aug 23 to Sept 22 Also Virgo Ascendant): Your energy appears low; don't push yourself. Be helpful and congenial in all forms of communication. Be helpful and supportive to a relative facing a physical problem. Think before you speak this week.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22 Also Libra Ascendant): When you feel dissatisfied at work exert patience and just do your job. Later in the week things start looking up. Use your decorative ability on home projects. Make a list of your objectives and take them one at a time.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21 Also Scorpio Ascendant): Be discreet and realistic in romance. You could [illegible] yourself on someone glamorous.

First meeting of state chapter

JENSEN BEACH Area [illegible] and guests are invited to attend an organizational meeting of the Treasure Coast Association of Retired Persons (AARP) Thursday, January [illegible] p.m. The meeting will be held at the Harry H. Hoke Community Hall, Jr. Federal Savings and Loan Building, Indian River Drive and Commerce Street, Jensen Beach.

J. Theodore Johnson, Assistant State Director, AARP, will be guest speaker. Johnson will explain procedures necessary for chartering a local branch of AARP and assist with chartering procedures.

The American Association of Retired Persons is a national organization for retired or semi-retired persons age 55 who have banded together to help solve problems of aging, retirement, personal growth, activities and other challenges, and to supply information on such matters as retirement, estate planning, travel, housing, part-time employment opportunities, and other subjects. Several dollar-saving programs belong to the national organization and benefit from group insurance plans and pharmaceutical services as well as purchasing privileges available to members.

Representatives of the various organizations serve on boards and committees [illegible] for legislators and the executive branch of government on the needs of older citizens.

City backs culvert stand

PORT ST. LUCIE—City Councilmen Tuesday voted unanimously to endors ow st Lucie County Commissioners in ir stand regarding the $3 million Walton Road culvert suit.

The commission was notified two weeks ago the Department of Pollution Control had filed the suit charging the commission replaced the old wooden bridge on Walton Road with two culverts. The state maintains the work was done without the necessary state permits being obtained.

"I have been across the Walton culverts many times and observed a good flow of water moving through them," said Councilman Vaughn Lewis. "It would be my suggestion we support the county in this matter."

St. Lucie County Commissioners have taken a firm stand in maintaining the repairs to the road were necessary to prevent an emergency situation.

Meanwhile commissioners have agreed to meet with DPC attorney Vance Kidder to provide him with the facts of the case.

That meeting was set up by State Representative Chuck Nergard, and will take place within the next few days.

Large crowd expected

'International' soccer match, parade, scheduled for Saturday

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—Latest word has it the ar rangements are go for the forthcoming international soccer match scheduled to take place this Saturday at Sportsman's Park beginning at 1 p.m.

The competing teams will be the United States versus Brazil. The home country team will be Florida Institute of Technology students, while the Brazilian students who are currently visiting St. Lucie and Martin counties under the goodwill exchange mission.

According to the coordinator of the event, just about every organization in town is taking part in the festivities including the local Optimist Club. Optimist soccer commissioner Walter Anderson, athletic director John Lanier, and sports director Dick Weis. The Port St. Lucie Optimists Vikings head coach Joe Jennings and the various foster parents of the visitors.

General Development Corporation has also gotten into the act by providing jerseys for the soccer players. Football hosts will be provided through the courtesy of Ron Smith of John Carroll High School for the visiting Brazilians.

The festivities are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. with a parade starting at the North Port Marina on Prima Vista and marching to the Park.

Lamie Norvell, St. Lucie County Sheriff, will head the parade, followed by the color guard and parade marshals. Other entrants expected to participate are the Masonic Club of Fort Pierce furnishing the clowns and the crazy hearse, the optimist Viking cheerleaders, a decorated boat entered by the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club, the Andy Mattion VFW Post, the Veterans of WWI and their auxiliaries.

The VIP car will be furnished and driven by Mrs. William B. Mc Chesney. Riding with Mrs. McChesney will be Port St. Lucie Mayor Larry Kimmel, State Representative Chuck Nergard, St. Lucie County Commissioner Willie McCain. Optimist soccer commissioner Walter Wingberg, and Port St. Lucie General Manager Robert Seeley.

An able assist from the St. Lucie County Recreational Department will assure plenty of seats for all with the loan of bleachers for the match.

The winning team will be presented a trophy provided by a local newspaper, while General Development Corporation will provide individual trophies for each member of the two eleven man teams.

Soccer differs considerably from the more popular games played in our land in should without a doubt provide a lively afternoon of entertainment for the spectators as well as the participants.

Soccer is not a body contact sport. The ball is controlled by the feet and heads along, and the nearest thing to a tackle is when one player tries to nudge another off balance in order to get control of the ball.

The entire game will last just over one and a half hours and is played in two halves rather than four quarters. Each half is 45 minutes with a five to ten minute break at half time.

The international match will be free to the public and refreshments will be available during the afternoon.

Opens Monday

Elementary school open house is Sunday

PORT ST. LUCIE—Prior to the opening of the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School on Monday, residents of the community will have the opportunity of viewing the facility during an open house celebration scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

County, city and school officials will be on hand to participate in the open house starting at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 2.

Councilman Vaughn Lewis made mention of the affair during Tuesdays Council meeting, suggesting the public take the opportunity of visiting the new ultra modern facility.

The new school has been construct ed under an entirely different concept that most of us are familiar with Lewis said.

"It is indeed a plush setup and I strongly recommend every resident of our city take the time Sunday afternoon to view the first school to be constructed in the south county area" he added.

The $1.5 million facility will open with an enrollment of 520 students in grades Kindergarten thru fifth. Of the 520 figure all but twenty of these students are from the Port St. Lucie area. The remaining twenty are from the Lincoln Park Section.

There will be plenty of room for expansion at the new school since it was designed to handle 750 students according to D.R. Seelinger, St. Lucie County School Superintendent.

Each grade is to be held in a pod. The pods are built around the media center library complex which serves as a focal point of the school.

The school will offer programs of instruction that feature flexibility of schedules and individualization of learning at the elementary level.

Although signs will be erected along the roadways and additional law officers patrolling the area, drivers are asked to be especially cautious of the youngsters going to and from the school.

Republican Club to elect on February 6

PORT ST. LUCIE—This is the time of year when most clubs elect their new officers and the Port St. Lucie Republican Club is no exception.

Members will elect their annual officers when the club meets for their regular and annual meeting Thursday, Feb. 6 at 7 p.m. in the CESA building on Prima Vista Blvd.

The slate submitted by the nominating committee consists of Fred Johnson as president, Heine Demeules as vice president, Harold Casperson as second vice, Mrs. Kornberg as secretary and Rita Todd as treasurer.

Induction ceremonies will follow the election and the new officers will assume their duties immediately.

Plans are underway for the Lincoln Day Dinner to be held at the Ramada Inn. Tickets are now available for this event.

Voter registration is January 30,31

PORT ST. LUCIE—Residents are reminded a final time that January 31 will be the last opportunity to register in time to vote in the forthcoming March 11 elections.

According to Supervisor of Elections James Brooks, the books must be closed to registrants 45 days prior to an election date.

Voter registration will be made available for the residents on January 30, 31 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Port St. Lucie City Hall and also the CESA building located on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Those who have previously registered to vote in the city do not have to re-register, providing under the permanent status they have cast a vote within the past two year period.

If they have failed to vote during the previous two year period, it will be necessary to reaffirm their residency.

Bike registration fees dropped

PORT ST. LUCIE—The fifty cent fee for bicycle registration will be removed by the city Council effective February 1, according to Rupert Smith, city attorney.

The action was taken following a request from the local lawyer that the registration fee be waived for a one day period, Feb. 8.

The lawyers who will conduct a free inspection of bicycles in the area on that day, felt those who take enough interest and time to have their bikes inspected should be entitled to a free registration.

The bike safety inspection and registration of February 1 there will be no more bike registrations free in Port St. Lucie.

Winn-Dixie now open in St. Lucie Plaza

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—There was little fanfare with the Sunday opening of the new Winn Dixie Super Market located in the St. Lucie Shopping Plaza.

Although there were no traditional ribbon cutting ceremonies opening the new market there were many top flight Winn Dixie executives present through out the day.

Larry Dryovitch, an eleven year veteran with the firm, has been named as manager of the local store.

Coming here from the Vero Beach Winn Dixie, Dryovitch is no stranger to the area. He resides with his wife Joan in Fort Pierce.

"I was very pleased to be assigned to this area and look forward to making many friends here in Port St. Lucie," Dryovitch said.

"Our entire staff welcomes the opportunity of serving the people in this south county community courteously and efficiently," he added.

Ken Triplett, produce manager also comes from the Vero Beach area where he has been a Winn Dixie employee since 1968. Triplett has served as produce manager in both the Vero Beach stores as well as in Fort Pierce.

Joe Torres, who heads the meat department, was previously assigned to the Fort Pierce Winn Dixie. Torres is also a resident of Fort Pierce where he resides with his wife and three children.

Winn Dixie now operates over one hundred food markets located throughout Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana and Virginia.

The firm is among the largest food growers organizations of the United States and employs over 30,000 full and part time employees.

Anglers auction is successful

PORT ST. LUCIE—A standing room only crowd attended the annual Anglers Club auction held last week at the marina.

The next meeting of the Anglers will be held at the North Port Marina on Feb. 4 at 8 p.m.

PORT ST. LUCIE—The installation of officers will top the agenda when the Spanish Lakes Masonic Club holds their annual meeting January 30.

The ceremonies will take place at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the main auditorium at Spanish Lakes.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Col. Hugh Condy, retired.

Officers and members of nearby Masonic Lodges are expected to attend the affair.

There will be entertainment and refreshments provided for all.

Hadassah group being formed

PORT ST. LUCIE—A new group of Hadassah is now in the formative stage locally, according to Mrs. Leon A. Levinson.

Members are to be recruited from the Vero Beach to Jupiter communities to form the organization.

Those interested in joining are asked to contact Mrs. Levinson at 878-1779 or Mrs. Hascal Feen by calling 878-1006.

Gang celebrates two birthdays

PORT ST. LUCIE. The Friday Nite Gang was out in full force last Friday to celebrate the birthday of Florence Loperfido. A quartette of about 15 gray haired damsels really showed how to sing the birthday song to Florence during intermission refreshments in the form of home-made cookies and goodies furnished by Florence's mother Ali and Betty Zell and friends were enjoyed by all.

The Friday night before, Norma deArruda was greeted by a quartette of 12 males as she celebrated her 35th birthday with the Gang. The quartette was rewarded in the customary manner. All present were treated to doughnuts during the coffee break.

The Snooper uncovered visitors on both occasions, including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palazzo from Cranston, R.I. visiting the Olbellia Alice Brandt from Baltimore, Md. visiting the Joe Barnetts and Alice Kline Eatontown, N.J. visiting her sister Mrs. Garafola.

First timers in attendance were Mike Cantrell originally from Huntington, W.Va. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wysienski from Jamaica Plains, L.I., N.Y.; Doris Lamothe, originally from Bristol, Conn. Lucretta Rain and Mary Raman.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

I would like to thank the many wonderful folks who helped make this past weekend a success.

Friday night kicked it off with a big crowd showing up for dinner and then staying around to dance to the music of the juke box.

Saturday, we had all kinds of workers cleaning up and getting ready for Sunday.

On Sunday, the Voice of Democracy banquet went off well. I would like to take this time to thank Lloyd Baker and his great crew for the great job they did in the kitchen. I also want to thank the Port St. Lucie V.F.W. Post members for their help with the contest. The contestants, and the winner for making this project a success.

The benefit Jam Session was also successful. Mrs. Phyllis Brueninger and I would like to thank all the great musicians who got together, and of course, thanks to you and you and you. We appreciate everyone's doing his part to salute a great musician and a great fellow.

Saturday will be the first of our monthly steak nights. Steaks will be served from 6:30 p.m. on each first Saturday of the month. Come and meet your friends and neighbors on a fun night.

The regular Auxiliary meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m.

We will hold our next regular meeting on Thursday, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m.

Art Festival display is planned

JENSEN BEACH–The Satellite Beach Public Library is having a display at Jensen Beach Outdoor Art Festival.

Ernie Baker, chairman of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce sponsored event, said he has received a letter from the Satellite Beach Public Library asking for materials on the art show for its display.

Baker said Monday that he has received more than 40 applications for the March 1-2 festival at Langford Park.

I have received applications from several northern states, including Wisconsin, Illinois, New York and from

A talk will be given by Mrs. Lavinia Charles, head of the Juvenile Diabetes Association of Fort Pierce.

Millage base is questioned

JENSEN BEACH–Former Martin County Attorney Hoke Tinker charged Tuesday that Martin County Commissioners did not follow the letter of the millage rollback act that was passed last November by voters.

In my opinion they are not following the intent of the act," Tinker said.

They are using the wrong millage base," he said.

In a letter to commissioners, Tinker said that the proposed millage levy of 4.316 should be based on the 1973 millage of 4.95 mills for operating and not the 7.05 which includes capital outlay.

Tinker says that in his opinion the 10 per cent increase provided in HB 4081 millage rollback act for operation expenses only and capital outlay should not be included.

Legislators hear tax woes

JENSEN BEACH—The Legislative Delegation last week was blamed for Martin County's financial problems by Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick.

"You are forcing us to hold the line on taxes on one hand, but increasing expenditures on the other," Philbrick said.

The commission chairman referred to the millage rollback referendum, and expenditures imposed by the state.

Philbrick said the county will be paying out a minimum of $773,860 for state imposed funds in 1975-76.

A list of programs he thinks should be funded by the state was read to the legislator at the Friday morning session.

The list included court system, $26,000; Medicare, $42,000; state retirement act, $187,860; unemployment compensation, $20,000; treatment of alcoholics, mental cases and juveniles costing at least $12,000; and administer required traffic schools, $16,000.

Legislators said they thought the millage rollback voted in last November provides plenty of leeway for increased expenditure by local governments.

State Rep. Chuck Nergard said that he thinks the 10 per cent increase in local government funds is adequate.

"With the recession, all of us have to cut down on expenses. We're not talking about holding down, but only limiting increased expenditures," Nergard said.

The rollback legislation provides for a 10 per cent increase limit in taxes from one year to the next.

Also, Philbrick noted that funds must come from the county for programs adopted in July by the state.

"It is extremely embarrassing to us to have to fund these programs for which we have no allotment in our budget. We have to start transferring budget money if we do not have enough in our contingency funds," the chairman said.

Budget okayed

Commission, attorneys seek millage intent

JENSEN BEACH—After debating the intent of the law, Martin County Commission Tuesday adopted the 1974-75 budget of $7 million with a 4.386 mill tax levy.

Commissioners and County Attorney Steve Calvert disagreed with Attorney Dean Tooker on the legislation.

Referring to the general law on budgets, Calvert said that the commission had to act on the entire budget, not certain items in the budget, that the special so-called millage rollback bill passed last November.

Tooker based his argument on the intent of the special act passed by Martin County voters last November for so-called millage rollback act to limit taxation by the commission.

The former Martin County attorney contended that the intent of the special act was to limit millage based on operating expenses and should not include capital improvement.

"The natural growth will take care of capital improvements," Tooker said.

"We believe we are operating under the intent of the legislation," Commissioner Timer Powers said.

"We believe the intent of the legislation was for the operating fund and not operating expenses," Powers said.

"It is a realistic budget, a conservative budget," the chairman of the Commission Finance Committee said.

Tooker agreed that "we could argue the intent of the legislation all day," and noted that his interpretation of the law differs with Calvert's.

Last week Tooker sent a letter to commissioners expressing his views on the proposed 1974-75 millage.

Tooker stated, in part:

"A review of your 1973 millage reveals 6.07 mills levied for general operating expenditures and an additional one mill for the St. Lucie Inlet (capital expenditure). The 1974 millage levy needed to obtain equivalent operating funds as obtained in 1973 would be 3.425 mills according to the taxable values promulgated by the tax assessor. This figure is considerably less than the 4.386 mills proposed by your board."

Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick...

Prize winners are named

JENSEN BEACH—A Lake Manor Park resident won the grand prize of $5.00 in S&H Green Stamps at the Community Federal Savings of Jensen Beach grand opening held last week.

A total of 666 registered for the prizes, according to Dave Runkel, vice president.

brick, pointed out that the basic difference in opinion is when millage figure should be used for the rollback—7.07 or 6.07.

It also was pointed out by Philbrick that the special legislation was not intended to apply to this year's budget.

"It is only because of the delay in the tax roll that the millage rollback applies."

The Tax Adjustment Board is still holding public hearings on petitions by taxpayers who are protesting increased property taxes.

Because of the months delay in the tax roll, the tax bills have not been sent out. However, the tax collector's office said Tuesday the tax bills should be in the mail by the end of this month.

Powers said the 4.386 will bring in $4,165,072, and the remainder of the budget will come from other funds.

Millage for county operating funds include 3.867 general fund, .332 mosquito control, .220 road and bridge and .027 for the health department.

Millage for the Flood Control District (FCD) is 1.394. "We don't have any control over this state millage," Powers said.

The 1973-74 budget was $6.8 million with a millage rate of 7.07.

COG meets

Action is urged on savannas

JENSEN BEACH—St. Lucie River Council of Governments (COG) voted last week to recommend to member governments that they adopt resolutions urging the state to purchase the savannas.

A state planner, meeting with COG at its first 1975 session last Thursday, warned that "Your chances (for savanna purchase) gets dimmer every day you delay."

"If the council urges action, said Bernard Hyde of the State Department of Natural Resources planning office, you might have a better chance of getting state money to purchase the savannas."

Funds to purchase the savannas are to come from a $200 million bond issue voted by state residents in 1972.

"That sounds like a lot of money," Hyde said, "but about half of it is already committed and much of the rest will be committed fairly soon."

Of the $200 million, Hyde said $40 million was allocated to purchase Big Cypress Swamp and another $49 million has been appropriated for purchase of eight other environmentally endangered lands in the state.

The savannas, a stretch of land from Jensen Beach Cutoff Road (SR 707A) north to Midway Road in St. Lucie County, is high on the state list for purchase.

Hyde said local officials need to take action to limit any use surrounding the critical area to give the state enough time in planning and negotiating purchase.

"Put on a moratorium until things are done if it is possible," the planner said. "Then when the money is available from the state, the acquisition can be made."

"COG interest in the project is more effective than any single government unit," Hyde continued.

Dr. Walter Stokes, chairman of the Save the Savannas Committee, warned against any use for the 6,000-acre wetlands, even for recreation.

Dr. Stokes said the south savannas shouldn't be developed like the area north of Midway Road, a highly successful recreation area with camping, boating and fishing.

"It is the kind of ecological area that will not stand abuse," Dr. Stokes said.

General Development Corp. attorney Arthur Harper said that his firm remains available for discussion on the use of the land with the company controls.

The company, which owns land on the western side of the savannas, is one of more than 130 land owners in the savannas.

"What we considered to be sensitive has not been platted and we have no plans for those areas," Harper said.

Harper suggested that if the state wants to purchase the wetlands section, he considers a lease agreement on immediate adjacent areas as just as practical in buffering the savannas as a purchase agreement.

A 25-year lease was suggested by Harper.

The savannas would appear to require the total protection of the environmentally endangered lands act, Hyde said.

Council members questioned Hyde about endangered lands on Hutchinson Island, and Martin and St. Lucie County planners said plans have been submitted for study.

Hyde said the island is not as sensitive as the savannas in that it is not a recharge area for a majority of the area.

It was pointed out by Hyde that the island's endangered area presents a particular problem because it is not contiguous and compact.

The state planner suggested the two counties jointly recommend a list of environmentally endangered areas on the island which might be designated as areas of critical state concern.

"Before we take action on Hutchinson," COG chairman Willie McCain said, "I think we ought to let the local agencies act."

McCain, chairman of the St. Lucie County Commission, said he feels that the "future holds a great deal for the council and before we start sending directives back to our respective agencies, we'll surely have an uprising."

COG, composed of Martin and St. Lucie commissions, Port St. Lucie Council, Fort Pierce Commission and Stuart Commission, only recommends action by their member governments.

At the first 1975 meeting, McCain was elected chairman and Ross Philbrick, who is Martin County Commission chairman, was elected vice chairman.

A representative of Stuart Commission was not present.

UP CHECKS—Martin County United Fund headquarters secretary Harriett Hudson gets a total on some checks from generous donors to the 1975 campaign. Her Monday total was $18,830 which included a donation of over $4k from the Coast of Ocean Breeze Park.

COG hears Dump problem

JENSEN BEACH—Operators of county trash and garbage haulers, who bring their refuse to Martin County landfills, may soon pay extra. The director of Martin County's environmental services, told St. Lucie River County of Governments (COG).

Director Lee Schierer said: "With the extra we pay to the landfill, the cost of county people aren't paying their share, considering that county taxes support the landfills."

Schierer said that according to a study done in the fall, about 30 per cent of the fill that's being dumped in our landfills every year is from outside Martin County.

He estimated the out of county refuse being dumped in county landfills each year at about 40,000 cubic yards.

The county is free for all haulers, including out of county residents pay 25¢ per yard.

It is estimated that most of the St. Lucie county refuse coming into Martin county is from the Port St. Lucie area, according to Schierer.

Bafalis lauds 'God and Country Day'

JENSEN BEACH—The first annual God and Country Day, Sunday, Feb. 16, at Florida Institute of Technology has been given hearty support by U.S. Rep. L.A. (Skip) Bafalis.

The Rev. Frank Alvarez, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, a co-sponsor of the celebration, said Rep. Bafalis assisted in obtaining Commander Murray H. Voth, USN, to be main speaker for the event.

The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. with a concert by the Orlando Navy Band.

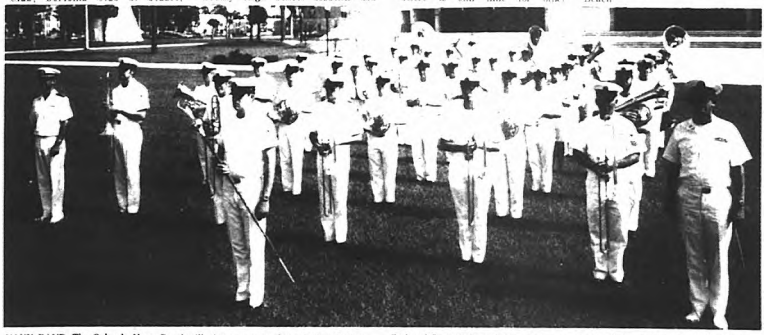
In a letter to Father Alvarez, Rep. Bafalis wrote:

"Please extend my regrets to those present and my best wishes for a highly successful affair. Again, I laud the organizers and sponsors of this effort. In this difficult time we need more emphasis on those principles which have withstood the tests of time and made this nation great and free."

Interest in this program has gone beyond Martin County. Organizations from Melbourne, Satellite Beach, and Zephyrhills, Fla., will send delegates to participate. To date, the following organizations will be present: American Red Cross, VFW Post 1008, Jensen Beach Lions Club, Martin County Civil Defense, Woman's Club of Stuart, Daughters of the American Revolution, DVA Chapter 116, Stuart Police Dept., Dorman V. Colman Post # 191, American Legion Post 62 and Auxiliary, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach Vol. Fire Dept., Knights of Columbus, Jensen Beach Optimist Club, Sertoma Club of Stuart, American Legion Post 126 and Auxiliary, Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce.

It is reported that some 200 Martin County High School students are participating in the essay contest on Americanism. The winner will receive a $50 Savings Bond, and the second place award will be a $25 Savings Bond.

There is still time for other organizations to send in the names of their delegates to be in the procession. The address: "God and Country Committee, P.O. Box 126, Jensen Beach."



NAVY BAND—The Orlando Navy Band will give a concert from 2:30 to 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 16, at Florida Institute of Technology. The concert is part of the first God and Country Day observance sponsored by All Saints Episcopal Church and American Legion Post No. 126 of Jensen Beach.

Ruth Hewson is Mirror monthly artist

The show will continue through the month of February.

Painting only in oils, Mrs. Hewson started painting about two years ago, and is studying under Sue Parrish Christenson.

Mrs. Hewson does sea scapes, shore birds, river scenes and beach scenes, and she will paint on commission or sell paintings on display which include Pecks Lake Beach, House of Refuge, Misty Masts, soaring high, old salt masts in the sunset.

Many of the area artists have displayed their paintings in The Mirror lobby during the past several months.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH–Ruth Ann Hewson is the Mirror artist of the month. Her paintings will be on display during February in the lobby of The Mirror.

PRE-SCHOOLERS VISIT–Sixteen four-year old pre-schoolers from the Jensen Beach Community Church visited the Environmental Center last Friday morning. Youngsters got the opportunity at getting their hands wet while touring the environmental lab.

ENVIRONMENTAL CENTER TOUR–Little four year old Christopher Rizzolo got the chance to check out the wet lab in the Environmental Center first hand with the help of Mrs. Ron Beckey last Friday. Sixteen youngsters from the Jensen Beach Community Church Pre-School program visited the center.

Income tax is subject for NARFE meeting

STUART–The February meeting of the Martin County Chapter of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees will be held Wed., Feb. 12, in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart.

The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. and will be preceded by a social hour.

Bill Robertson, local representative of the H&R Block Income Tax Services will be the guest speaker. Robertson will discuss changes in income tax regulations, especially as they apply to retirees. A question and answer period will follow.

A report will be made on the recent annual district meeting held at Pompano Beach.

Any retired Government employee in the area is invited to attend.

Fashion Show helps school

SEWALL'S POINT–The home of Mr. and Mrs. Northam Warren on the inland waterway in Sewall's Point was the setting for the second annual Pine School Rummage Fashion Show.

Fashions were cleverly put together from some of the clothes donated for the rummage sale to be held Feb. 8 at the Pine School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mrs. Tom Evinrude was the fashion coordinator and commentator for the event with Northam Warren acting as cruise director.

Models were Mrs. Stephen Humphries, Mrs. Henry Hillenmeyer, Mrs. Glen Gumbinner, Mrs. Chris Chisolm, Mrs. Karl Kandell, Mrs. Woodrow Kantner, Mrs. Northam Warren and Rawson Lizars.

Clean water aid

WASHINGTON–If you are a small businessman faced with problems in meeting the more stringent clean water requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency, assistance is now available.

EPA is working with the Small Business Administration, has established a grant assistance program to help small companies required to alter their present facilities or methods of operations to avoid water pollution.

Under the 1972 Federal Water Pollution Control Act, industries all across the nation are required to use the 'best practicable' technology to control effluent discharges by July 1, 1977.

And by July 1, 1983, their systems must be upgraded to what EPA calls the 'best available' technology.

There is little doubt but what complying with these standards can and will cause financial problems for a number of businesses, particularly smaller businesses.

That is why the EPA and the SBA were ordered to jointly provide financial, long term financing for those small businesses unable to find commercial financing.

And that is why EPA also is authorized to provide pollution control know-how to businesses affected by its decisions.

In passing the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, the Congress demanded that the nation's surface waters be protected and that the chemical, physical and biological integrity of our water be maintained.

It is a worthy goal. But it is a goal which could bring about some disruption in businesses.

Because the need for the joint EPA/SBA loan program

Now, as you as a small businessman, know you are eligible for one of the EPA/SBA loans?

For one, that have been told by the Environmental Protection Agency, the Army Corps of Engineers, the Coast Guard, or some state or local governmental agency that because of the danger of water pollution, certain steps must be taken if you are to remain in business.

Second, you must qualify as a small business under the guidelines set down by the SBA.

And third, you must be unable to obtain commercial financing for the improvements necessary.

If you meet these tests, you can apply for a low interest, long term SBA/EPA loan. These loans, available for a maximum of 30 years, will be comparable of the prevailing average annual interest rate on all interest bearing obligations of the United States.

When you apply, the SBA has several loan options available. First, it may guarantee up to 90 percent of a loan to a small business. Or it may enter into an immediate participation bank loan with your bank or another bank in the area or it may loan you the money directly.

But the help is available to those who need it.

If you think you may qualify for such a loan, you may obtain pamphlets on the program from either of my district offices (200 Virginia Ave., Fort Pierce, or Room 748 Federal Building, Fort Myers).

Additional information on the program can be obtained from the Small Business Administration Field Office in Jacksonville, Tampa or Coral Gables, or the EPA district office in Atlanta.

As always, my staff in Florida and in Washington is ready to assist in any problems you may encounter in this program.

Anyone interested in joining, call Marvin Cancel at 334-4523. He will be more than glad to help all he can.

Foreign countries are represented

HOBE-SOUND-TIP-THE-HILLS-Foreign students at Howes Academy are sharing their world-wide experiences with the community as well as with fellow students.

Ten percent of the enrollment at this co-educational college preparatory school in central Florida comes from fourteen foreign countries. The students have organized a speaking group to proudly relate the customs, politics and thinking of their countries to area civic clubs, schools and other organizations.

"Our talks center mainly on comparative economics since we come from oil and mining countries in South American and North Africa," says Melanie Peacock of Brazil.

Three-year speaking veteran Darlene Hemmer of Venezuela explained, "We start our talking about native customs, but questions from the audience keep turning us to economics. They are amazed to learn Venezuelan gasoline costs 25 cents a gallon and sugar is 10 cents a pound."

Newest members of the group, Patti Allen, Peru, and Kathee Shippee, Tripoli, Libya, find tremendous self-interest in each speaking engagement because, "We are making fast friends with central Floridians and find many of them as well-traveled as we."

Meet Your Neighbor

The fourteenth family to be introduced in Leilani is Lynne and Don Williams and their daughter Julie, who reside on N.E. 13th Court.

Lynne attended Palm Beach Junior College. They both formerly worked for Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District in West Palm Beach.

Don's interests lie in gardening and reading and when he gets infrequent free time he goes speck fishing in Okeechobee.

Lynne's favorite diversion is cooking and as they do a great amount of entertaining it is fortunate that she does. She also delights in reading and sews quite a bit often making her daughter's and her own clothing.

Julie is ten years old and is in fifth grade at the Jensen Beach Elementary School. She was a baton twirler with the Stuart Twirlers, and marched in the annual Stuart Christmas parade.

They are pleased they made their home in Leilani. They particularly like the unique high ground and rolling hills. They appreciate the fact that Julie can walk across the street to the elementary school and also that they are near Don's business in Stuart.

We wish a Happy Birthday to Lynne who celebrated February 3rd and was the birthday cake winner on that day from radio station WSTC.

Julie and Tony Wackeen their two children Tommy and Roxanne and friends of theirs from Gainesville spent an enjoyable weekend recently when they went camping in the Everglades. The highlight of their trip was a six hour canoe ride through the mangroves where they saw many rare and distinct birds and animals.

IN APPRECIATION

Thank you all for the many acts of kindness at the time of the passing of our brother James Cunningham of Mt. Huntington and her sisters, Madge and Vivian.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS

By Dorothy Beck

Last Thursday the Camera Club had special treats in one evening. Since all of the planned shows took just one hour it was decided to combine two of them and, as a result, we all got a most interesting evening. The first one was the yearly showing of the best slides sent us by the Melrose Camera Club.

A former member of the Greater Miami Camera Club, I met many of the members of the Melrose Club. Neither of these clubs were for entertainment but for the purpose of learning how to make better pictures, on slides, prints or just plain snapshots. The new members were outstanding this year and the results show in the fine pictures they present today.

The Ocean Breeze Camera Board was asked to pick out the five best slides and it took a lot of showing and discussing to narrow it down to the five prizes. As two of us are New Yorkers, and the scenes were those of our section of the country and were familiar to us both, we awarded the autumn country-side pictures. The paint shack in Essex, Mass. wasn't very pretty, but a fact, and to those who have eaten fried clams or a fish dinner in Essex, it couldn't help but bring back memories. A different kind than the autumn scenes, but yummy ones!

This is really the purpose of any picture — to bring back memories, to show people, places, and perhaps to take us to a place that we have never seen. A well taken scenery shot, a good subject, the before-hand planning give much more satisfaction to the taker and the viewer.

On the other hand, one should remember that sometimes a fun picture is just that — a lot of fun afterward. Those kinds are the candid camera shots that we saw in the last of our evening's show.

This show was almost all of the park, the kind that Ruth Hoke takes with her cameras. Ocean Breezers dancing, playing games, walking, or sometimes, working. Ruth likes to stop her Dogo, aim her camera and get positive proof that we do have to work around our places and sometimes to the surprise of the people, they are on film.

Ruth plans another showing at some future date of other scenes of today and yesterday.

All in all, we had a well rounded showing last week and we thank the Melrose Camera Club and Ruth.

This week-end should have another full house. The Comers, Jack and Olga, are showing the second part of that trip we all enjoyed when they presented the trip thru Scandinavia. This time they will take us to Copenhagen to pick up a VW, then on to Germany, Austria, behind the Iron Curtain, then back to Austria, Switzerland, Germany, and into France, Belgium and Holland. Jack wanted to drive as many mountain passes in the Alps as he could manage, and he did. Olga wanted to see the Passion Play at Oberammergau, the famous play that has been performed every ten years since the sixteenth century except for the war years. And then, they were lucky enough to be in Brussells and see a five hour parade that is done on two consecutive Sundays once in five years.

Those who came to the last "Evening with the Comers" had a marvelous time. So join us all Thursday night at 7 p.m. sharp.

On Sunday evening, Feb. 26, at 7 p.m., we will have a special treat. Mrs. Ethel Rafuse's son who works for NASA will visit her over that weekend and is bringing with him a short non-technical 16 MM. sound movie on "Space Flights." Everyone is invited to come down to the hall for this special showing.

Thursday, Jan. 30, Leo and Vanita Schneider celebrated their 43rd anniversary by having luncheon at the Hutchinson Island Holiday Inn, accompanied by Mary Mulligan and Earl and Irvin Sheehy.

John Leybeck will give a concert at the Shuffleboard Courts at 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 9. There will be recordings of Guy Lombardo, Dannie Davis, Whooper John, etc. Y'all come.

Flora Derr, of 21 7th Ave., was given quite a birthday celebration on Thursday, Jan. 30. First a group formerly of Pa. gathered at the Villa Capri for a Dutch treat. There was daughter Evie and Jack Faust of Key Lime, and daughter Marguerite and Paul Gross of Pompano Beach, Marion and Leon Snavely and Grace Capello of Middletown, Pa., Sis and Al Snavely and Kitty Miller of Miles Grant. After dinner they all went to the Miller home for birthday cake and presents, then played bridge.

Johnie Sumner's mother died in Illinois Saturday evening. She was 102, the oldest person in her county. Johnie flew up to Mt. Vernon Sunday morning to attend his mother's memorial service.

Mabel McLain of 10th won the birthday cake from WSTU on January 26.

Gertrude McKay was transferred from the annex to the nursing home last Thursday, her sister Mollie Butterfield reports.

On Saturday, Jan. 25, Loretta Wheaton of Banyan Street was happy when her youngest daughter Judy and her husband Ken LaRue of Weyauwega, Wisc. arrived. They enjoyed our weather immensely last week and were sorry to have to go back Tuesday.

Beth Baillie is now the Great Grandmother of twins, a boy and a girl. Congratulations, Beth!

Dr. Kendrick Amsden and his wife Linnea are staying at 12 Key Lime for the month of February. Ken is Dorothy Whitney's brother. Enjoy yourselves, Ken and Linnea.

Mr. and Mrs. Covell received a call from their son-in-law Jim McClain saying that his mother, 86, had died in Lansing, Mich. She had been in the hospital most of the year.

HOSTESSES—All ready for the party are the hostesses and committee who take such pleasure in helping to make Ocean Breeze's annual Golden Wedding Anniversary Fete a memorable occasion for their friends. Nineteen couples were honored this year by more than 500 friends and neighbors who came to offer congratulations and best wishes.

Nineteen couples celebrate

Golden Wedding anniversary

OCEAN BREEZE PARK—Nineteen couples were honored at the annual Golden Wedding Anniversary Party held in the Ocean Breeze clubhouse Sunday, February 2.

This was the 18th annual Golden Wedding party. It all started when founders Harry and Queena Hoke celebrated their 50th in the clubhouse and invited everyone in the park to join them in their happiness. It has become a tradition.

Each couple had a hostess who served in many ways to make the day a memorable one.

More than 500 attended the festive occasion.

Ruth Hoke was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Scott, who worked with the hostesses, and Mrs. Toni Hebert on flowers.

NOT PRESENT FOR PICTURE

DR. T.M. AND MILDRED ALEXANDER were married August 18, 1925 in Niagara Falls, New York. They have one daughter, Marjorie Harbst of Louisville, Kentucky, who was here to serve as their hostess. Dr. Alexander is a retired dentist. He practised in Lewistown, Pa.

Art Associates plan exhibit at the Fair

STUART—The art exhibit at the 1975 Martin County Fair will be sponsored by Art Associates of Martin County.

The show, which will be judged and ribbons awarded, is open to all Martin County residents. Each artist may submit one painting, which must be his own original work, framed and wired for hanging. A label indicating title, medium, and name must be affixed to the back of each work.

Four dates are: March 10-15, and paintings are to be delivered to the fairgrounds between 1-5 p.m. on Friday, March 7, and picked up between 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday, March 16.

Categories to be judged are figure or portrait, abstract, still life, landscape, watercolor, collage, pastel, sculpture, and photography.

Virginia Spencer will be general chairman for the exhibit with Iola Connolly as co-chairman. Irene Rickenback will be registration chairman, and Dorothy Stafford will arrange the plant decorations.

House and Garden Tour

STUART—The House and Garden Tour, sponsored by the Garden Club of Stuart, will be held on Sunday, Feb. 23, from 1-5 p.m. Four outstanding homes of the area will be open. The Brown home on St. Lucie, the Dikeman home in the Archipelago, the Reed home in Mandalay, and the Easton home in High Point.

Prominent markers will direct guests to the houses, the addresses will be on the tickets, along with a map on the back of the tickets. First National Bank and Trust Co. Stuart, has donated the cost of printing the tickets, according to Mrs. Charles E. Bishop, ticket chairman.

Proceeds of the tour will benefit the Possum Long Nature Center. A tour of the center is included, with a plant sale held there also.

Mrs. John W. Hussey, chairman of landscape design, is chairman of the plant sale. There will also be a showing of ferns, including a number of native ferns at the center.

Mrs. D.W. Graham, tour chairman, and Mrs. Harold Hoch, tour vice chairman, Mrs. D.J. Caldwell, chair man of flower arrangers, Mrs. Richard H. Cook, chairman of hostesses and Mrs. Emil Koepjzna, publicity chairman, met earlier this week and visited the homes which will be on the tour.

The following members will make the floral arrangements in the homes: Mrs. Joseph C. Bevis, Mrs. Carl Bridges, Mrs. D.J. Caldwell, Mrs. F. Richard Cressina, Mrs. William H. Cobb, Mrs. Malcolm Crabtree, Mrs. Richard Jacobs, Mrs. Harold R. Lartaud, Mrs. Paul C. Life, Mrs. Fred D. Morris, Mrs. Leo Piwinczka, Mrs. George Sollitt, and Mrs. Harold White.

F I T SOCCER TEAM–Members of the F I T soccer team are riding high on their way to the International Match held Saturday at Port St. Lucie's Sportsmans Park. Visiting students from Brazil challenged the F I T team

SOCCER TROPHY–Dave Bid, captain of the F I T soccer team accepted the trophy following Saturday's international Amateur Soccer match with visiting Brazilian students. Preceeding the soccer match played at Sportsman's Park, was the largest parade to be held in Port St. Lucie. A large crowd attended the afternoon festivities. The final score was 6-0, with the Brazilians looking forward to a possible rematch next year.

FIT upsets Brazilians

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT–After a great parade, and before a huge crowd of spectators, the FIT soccer team pulled an upset over a Brazilian Young Ambassadors team in their soccer game last Saturday afternoon.

The game progressed evenly until 18.00 minutes had passed when Walter LaFleur put in the first of the many FIT goals. The Brazilian goalie had just made a great save, failed to clear the ball allowing LaFleur another shot at the goal. This was to be the general pattern of the rest of the game.

The score remained 1-0 for the rest of the 1st quarter.

Then, early in the 2nd quarter, Roberto Riveros put on a two goal scoring streak to stretch the lead to 3-0. Riveros scores came at 3.38 and 9.54 in the 2nd quarter.

The third quarter was a stalemate with neither team scoring.

Radi Moshin started a four goal 4th quarter for FIT when he victimized the Brazilian goalie at 2.44 into the 4th quarter.

Then Riveros exploded for two more scores, these two coming at 5.32 and 15.00 into the final quarter.

Walter LaFleur, who opened the scoring also ended it when he put in the 7th and final goal at 16.00 minutes into the final quarter.

Both Roberto Riveros and Dave Clark played outstanding soccer all day. Riveros getting credit for four goals and Dave Clark playing perfectly in the goal slot.

Both teams were jubilant after the game as they received trophies commemorating the game.

Who owns the oceans?

BY D.C ZINN

FIT–Possession of the oceans is one of the biggest present and futuristic problems facing us today. This problem made reach maximums in which oceanographic research, oil and mineral companies, trade, fisheries, and many others are damaged directly.

The U N s Law of the Sea board has been having meetings involving most nations of the world since 1958 and still no real agreement has been reached. The big question is, how many miles of the coast and to what depth should the nations claim? Under present international law, several countries fish all around the world beyond the 12 mile offshore zone. Some countries now, such as Peru, claim a 200 mile offshore zone and a depth of 2500 meters. A person cannot imagine all the problems this will cause if all nations claim such a span.

One of the problems which might develop is, for example, countries such as the Soviet Union, Japan, United Kingdom, France and West Germany are known as distant water fishing nations and all of them would suffer extremely if such a 200 mile span was made law.

What about the countries who are landlocked and have no direct access to the oceans? They are opposed to the coastal state jurisdiction of 200 miles. They favor enlargement of the maritime area, in which benefits can be shared equally by all states. Shelf-locked states (those with offshore areas whose depth never exceeds 200 meters) want limited coastal state jurisdiction in modest depths. If coastal states would claim a 200 mile limit they would gain almost all the economically important oil, gas, and hard natural resources off their coasts.

According to available information maganese nodules are the only economically important nonliving resources beyond a depth of 3000 meters. Also most of the fishing is done within th 200 mile range. So beyond 200 miles resources are rather minimal.

Scientific research will be controlled by the coastal states and be subject to harsh rules which will heavily damper this research. According to American records, marine research over the past 10 years indicates an imposing problem. American research ships have been having trouble conducting research on the continental shelves and adjacent waters of many nations.

The Defense Department discovered that 50 percent of all researc conducted takes place on and above the continental shelves of the world. It was discovered that 30 percent of the research is beyond the continental shelf and 20 percent beyond 200 miles. Restrictions such as a 200 mile claim by coastal states would damage marine research extremely.

Just recently the LOS Institute had their 9th annual meeting which was held in Miami and represented by 27 nations. The meeting lasted 3 days, Jan 6-9, and proposals were made asking states not to let their nations mine the high seas seabed until legal regime is made.

The UN's conference on the law of the sea will conduct their 3rd meeting from March 17 through May 10. Hopefully, a treaty will be signed suggesting the present law either remain the same or be changed so that the present 12 mile offshore zone is cut back.

How deep?

Gone diving lately?

BY BOB GRABEN

FIT–The sport diver descends to an average depth of 30 to 50 feet. At this depth life is in more abundance than deeper depths would indicate.

In tropical waters reefs and marine life are found down to such depths as (close) to a hundred and fifty feet. When this is true divers make the plunge to such depths. If repetitive dives are made, a diver must carefully plan his dive and a dive his plan. Dive tables are essential. A decompression computer is also handy.

The decompression computer is a device which registers the amount of nitrogen the body absorbs at depth and time. It is a useful device in determining whether or not you are getting close to decompression. Also, if you deviate from your dive plan it still will record nitrogen build up.

One of the major errors that a diver makes is to push himself to the limit. The limit in reference to decompression sickness error is relying on his decompression computer totally without using dive tables. The decompression computer is a man-made machine and subject to error. Although very reliable, it works on a ideal principle.

The decompression computer does not take into account body metabolism, the coldness of the water and the amount of energy the diver is exerting. All these factors change the reactions of the diver and thus in turn changes the rate at which the body absorbs nitrogen into the tissues. These errors may not injure the diver now, but could later on if he is not careful.

At depth a person may become "narced" which is slang for being under the influence of nitrogen narcosis. This is a condition that effects divers that dive deep. It causes the body to absorb a lot of nitrogen which puts him or her in a daze.

There has been a new disease associated with deep diving. Dysbaric osteonecrosis, better known as bone necrosis. Long exposures at deep depths can cause it. It usually effects the bone around the joints in the hips, shoulders, legs and arms. Treatment is the replacement of joints by plastic fittings.

Symptoms are usually detected too late for treatment. The disease is caused by tiny bubbles blocking the blood vessels in the bone. From lack of oxygen the bone dies and collapses. Speculation states 10 percent of constant divers may get bone necrosis.

Decompression, nitrogen narcosis, dysbaric osteonecrosis, and deep diving. If you must dive deep know your limitation. Remember plan you dive and dive your plan.

Offshore fishing is up

JENSEN BEACH–Tony and Betty Ferrante, out by the 13A Buoy last Friday caught 2 red grouper, 4 black grouper, 12 red snapper and 3 triggerfish using fresh shrimp.

Ken and Jan Snow, fishing outside, had a wahoo, one king and four dolphin. Eddie Jones and Paul Gainer brought in 17 dolphin, Mr & Mrs Mulvaney and Mr. & Mrs Winder, 3 wahoo and a dolphin, Walter Sund and Al Snyder, east of St. Lucie, had 7 king fish.

Tony and Bob Salazc and Art McFarland, aboard the Baby Doll, landed 10 dolphin and 3 wahoo. E. Jones, B. Cappa and E. Murphy, trolling offshore, had a 7 ft. sail and 7 dolphin. Bob Chewy, John Rodina and Joe Brewtknow landed 19 dolphin, using light tackle with ballyhoo and shrimp.

Surf fishermen caught a variety of fish as Francis Preider and Mrs. Hall Baltin had 25 croakers; Adam and Sophie, 50 whiting and yellowtails; Warren Kendall, 33 whiting; Ray Moore, 16 blues; Bob Emeny, 7 spanish mackerel and 7 blues; Art and Marian Ryan, 8 weakfies; and Al Kroll, 7 jacks.

Russ Bolton, with Laura and John D., had 3 snook, 3 jacks, 4 ribbons, 1 snapper and a lady; fishing the South Fork, Jack Myers had a snook; John Wilbert, 1 trout, Chas. Krow, 3 trout, H. Ohralik, 1 snook and 1 red; Chas. Arenl, 2 trout, Curt Chidester, 8 trout, Jimmy Klett, 4 sandperch, Bill Eatberg, 1 trout, Charles Kessler, 1 trout and a snook; Goldie Hughey, 1 trout, and Dusty Rhodes and Ed Layman, 11 trout and 3 redfish.

Other catches recorded in the Snook Nook Fishing Report included: Oscar Dishman 17 trout, Duck White, 32 trout, 4 snook and a fluke, Sandy Adair, 7 trout, Ed Wagner, 21 trout and a channel bass, Irv Fisher, 13 trout, and Steve Steele had 25 trout, 1 snook and 3 lookdown.

Citrus is topic

PORT ST. LUCIE–Mrs. Marguerite Brock, Home Extension Agent for St. Lucie County, will give a demonstration of "Citrus Fruits and Their Uses" at the Feb. 13 meeting of the Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club. The meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m. at the CESA building.

'Old-n-nu' sale this week

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Women's Club of St. Lucie Catholic Church will open the doors to their "Old n Nu" sale at 10 a.m. Friday, Feb. 7. The sale will run until 5 p.m. on Friday, and again on Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Parish Hall on Prima Vista Boulevard, Port St. Lucie.

Items to be sold include clothing, bric-a-brac, books, games, household maidellany, and a variety of potted plants.

Coffee and cake will be available. The public is invited.

Commencement coming soon

FIT–Although June may seem very far away, it is really just around the corner as plans get underway for the biggest commencement exercise ever held on the Jensen Beach campus. We are expecting more than 200 graduates this year, and hopefully most of them will plan to attend commencement.

All students planning to graduate in June should visit the student affairs office at once, to fill out their petition for graduation and order their caps and gowns. Please don't delay, we must place our orders by Feb. 15.

Letters have already gone out to students graduating with the Bachelor of Technology Degree, advising of the courses still required for graduation. Students who will achieve the Associate of Science Degree will receive their letters within the next few days. All files will be reviewed in ample time for Spring registration.

SGA meets

FIT–The following announcements were made at a recent SGA meeting.

Pencil sharpener will be installed within next few weeks on campus.

Snack bar open Wed., Jan. 29th. Jim Shultz, who wished to sell chili in Rathskeller and SGA beer blast, cannot because of SGA and school contract.

SGA may not be allowed to purchase air hockey and football due to vandalizing games in the snack bar from the same company. Also, the SGA has to get Cliff, the food manager's, approval to purchase machines from this company since he has a contract controlling all machines on FIT campuses.

Rap Line has also received money from the administration for 1 month and installment of phones. The SGA has already donated $300 to the Rap Line.

SGA suggestion box to be placed in entrance of main building.

Signs with SGA representatives pictures will be posted on campus.

Linen service has received many complaints such as not enough linen and change not often enough. The SGA will talk to administration.

Blood donation on March 4th. The administration has requested the SGA to help advertise this event.

Mind puzzler

BY S. TOMBERG

You are the lowky kaptain of a kargo karrier karrying a load of ice. Your ship is stuck in a lock in the Panama Canal because they can not pump in enough water to raise the ship.

Since your kargo has melted considerably you have enough water in the hold. So you pump the water into the lock. Does the water level in the lock rise enough to allow the release of the ship?

Studies Center Week ends Sunday

JENSEN BEACH–The open house Sunday, Feb. 9, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Environmental Studies Center in Jensen Beach will conclude the week-long "environmental studies week."

Director Jay Jarrett said the open house will include tours, demonstrations and a survey boat for inspection.

There will be a "VIP Day" Saturday, Feb. 8, according to Jarrett.

Payment for fireworks materials

JENSEN BEACH–A down payment of $500 has been made for the annual Fourth of July Causeway fireworks display material, according to the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce Feb. 10 agenda.

The monthly agenda points out that Vince Boccbine and Jon Chicky have arranged with suppliers to start producing the material for the annual fireworks display.

Other committee reports are slated for the beeting beginning at 7:30 p.m.

School review for adults

STUART–Adults who lack a high school diploma may enroll in the daytime high school review (GED) classes scheduled to start Monday, Feb. 10, Stuart Middle School at one p.m. Classes will meet in room 56, building 24.

Courses will prepare the adult student to take the high school equivalency tests for a high school diploma. These tests will be given in May.

A candidate for the high school tests must be 18 years of age or older, a resident of Florida, and have high school credit in American History or be able to demonstrate competency in the subject.

Daytime high school review classes will meet each weekday from one to four p.m. with English, Social Studies and Reading Comprehension taught Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Mathematics and Science classes will meet each Tuesday and Thursday.

Adults may register for daytime classes at the Adult Education Office, 500 E. Ocean Blvd., Stuart, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Fees are payable at the time of registration. Call 287-6400 for further information.

Mortgage burning is scheduled

JENSEN BEACH–Residents of Lake Manor Park on North Indian River Drive are going to hold a mortgage burning Saturday, Feb. 8, at 2 p.m.

Park residents purchased 56 park units in May of 1973 from Hoke Properties. The park was established in 1969.

Environmental health

AGING

FIT–This is the second in a three part series on environmental factors and their effects on aging and mortality. Any physical system, within a rate of time, will undergo a gradual decline of state unless appropriate components that are lost to deterioration are replaced. This process is known as aging. This applies to the obsolescence of automobiles and societies as well as the aging of skin, stomach, blood, muscles and the nerves of human beings.

A paradox exists in that the aging of long lived species is probably deter mined by very slow changes in very long lived cell types, such as muscle and nerve, rather than by changes in short lived regularly replenished cell types. This paradox is borne in mind when considering the environmental factors which are capable of producing the long term decrements in function characteristic of aging. Thus the question therefore is, does the agent in question affect nonreplenishing structures or does it affect the systems which are regularly replaced.

Sources that disrupt the normal sequence of events in the aging process are ones that are rarely encountered or to which adaptation cannot be evolved. Physical sources of potentially disruptive energy includes all those processes and events which are capable of producing high concentrations of magnitude great enough to result in the breaking of chemical bonds within a cell. The most common source of such disruptive energy is the absorption of radiant energy.

Radiant energy is broken into several regions each of which span a range of wavelengths or frequencies, with each wavelength possessing a quantum of energy.

The chemical bonds in cells require a certain amount of energy to disrupt them. That energy is lacking in the infrared or long wave region but not in the visible and ultraviolet (short wave) region. Therefore exposure of molecules to that type of radiation may result in the clevage of bonds and irreparable damage. Of these two, ultraviolet causes more damage with damage due to visible radiation a rare event.

Ultraviolet radiation has a limited penetration ability thus limiting its effects to surface structures such as skin and its appendages. X rays obviously do not have a limited penetration ability and are not selective, thus disruption can occur at any structure in which the photo hits.

Kinetic energy transfer is another source which advances the aging process. Thus phenomena can be observed when a force is applied locally to a tissue in such a manner that the cellular relationships are disrupted. These forces are from cuts, bruises, breaks and all the others that are characterized as accidentally inflicted tissue trauma. As organization of cells can adjust to minimal trauma, as in the extraction of a tooth, or exhibit a gross anatomical loss as in the force applied by an auto.

A treat and a half!

FIT–To you who missed hearing the Children of Abraham Saturday evening, you really missed a treat and a half. This group is from Miami Beach and has toured and sang together in many places.

They sang and played many songs of their own writing and songs in Yiddish with a lively beat. This group was sponsored by Mr. Preston, of the Marine Science Department of FIT, under the auspices of the Campus Ministry.

We will be having a similar program once a month at FIT. On the 22nd of February, we will be showing a feature film "Lost in a Crowd."

"You all come" and join us in a fun time for all at FIT. There will be no charge for the film.

New column starts next week

FIT–Starting next week, there will be a welcome addition to the Messenger in the form of a "Literary Column!"

The Literary Column will be a weekly presentation of poems, short stories, etc., by FIT students.

Through the column, the Messenger would like to demonstrate the creative and artful side of FIT students.

All those wishing to contribute their works will find drop off points at the library, circulation desk and in the bookstore.

Critical review and selection of items will be done by Ken Crawford.

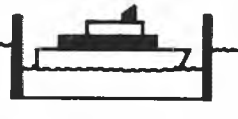
Pool tourneys underway

BY RICHARD A SMITH

FIT–Last Saturday night the Student Government Association sponsored a pool tournament. Entrance was open to all, and the starting time was 7:30, with these prizes awarded: 1st prize–1 case of beer, 2nd prize–½ case of beer, 3rd prize–1 six pack of beer.

After warm-ups, the tournament got underway with eight entrants. The following are the first three places: 1st place–Scott Curtis, 2nd place–Pete Nagle, 3rd place–Donn Eyman.

The Student Government Association plans to continue the pool tournaments every Saturday night with warm-ups beginning at 7:30. Why not get in on the fun. Sign up anytime before the tournament gets underway. Tournaments are to be held at the Rathskeller.



News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

This week I haven't had time to scrounge around for much news. We in the minstrel show were rehearsing every day, and it didn't leave too much time for housework or play. The men doing the electrical sound work and the painting, I bet, went home too tired to do much but flop into bed. It has all been a challenge, though, and we hop you all enjoyed it.

Theatre in the Round held a meeting in the lounge Jan. 28. Because Cheri Fett is leaving the resort, we had to choose a new president. Irene German accepted. She has had little theatre experience and has a lot of ideas that inspired a great deal of enthusiasm in those present.

The next meeting will be Monday, Feb. 10 in the lounge at 7 p.m. Bring yourselves and your ideas.

Paul and Peg Riffle from Pittsburgh, Pa. are spending a week here at the resort. They are old friends of Helen and Sam Neely. Paul and Sam Ed were classmates at the University of Pittsburgh College of Engineering. Peg recently retired from the music department of the Pittsburgh schools.

Bob and Lynda Walter, son and daughter-in-law of Carl and Fran Walter, arrived in the resort to spend a month with his parents. Bob is a P.G.A. professional and manages the Highland Hills Golf Club in Highland, Michigan.

The Men's Club of Nettles Island have authorized the purchase of full arm and full leg transparent Red-Lair splints. They will be used for emergencies occuring in our resort.

Recently, when Harriett and Marlin Marquardt made a trip to the beach, they picked prickly pears. They have been in the process this last week of making prickly pear jelly. Is it ever good!

We are sorry to hear that Connie Lenche had an automobile accident on the corner where Poor Bob's restaurant is. That is a bad corner, is it not? We all wish her a speedy recovery.

+ + +

Also, Marion Creath fell from her bike and was rushed to the hospital in Stuart. It was feared she had broken her wrist and possibly her shoulder. We hope not.

George Beaudoin was on the accident prone list this last week also. First he was hit by a car while on his bike. It sent him and his bike flying, but fortunately he had no broken bones.

And then, while playing tennis, he caught his toe under the fence and had to take off his sneaker before he could get his foot released.

I don't know about you, George. Better keep off your sail boat until the stars indicate the appropriate time.

There are now seven tables of bridge playing in the Fireplace Lounge regularly Thursday, Feb. 6 at 7 p.m. they will meet again. They have a weekly progressive game. Everyone who enjoys a friendly game is invited to join them.

Last week's winners were: Ladies — Patricia Meyers, Iona Wilson and Dot Fitch. Men: Conrad Tripp, Paul Arrue and Gordon Carlson.

Lillian Rothbaum is leading exercise classes in the upstairs rec hall at 8:15 every morning. Join them and start the day right!

A baby shower was held in the lounge Jan. 20th for expectant lot owner Goldie Borecki. It was given by her sister-in-law, Dorothy Engel and attended by her mother who was here for a three day visit on her return from So. America. Also present were her mother-in-law who spends the winters here and 15 friends and neighbors. The lounge took on a new look with pink, blue and white streamers, stuffed toys and dolls. An umbrella from the roof hovered over the many gifts that she received for the baby, due the end of February.

Dr. Stewart Hawthorne, a heart specialist from Elyria, Ohio, has spent the two past weeks on the opposite side of the usual scene, recovering from a heart attack in Martin Memorial Hospital. Fortunately, his wife Pat was not along on Jot 521. Several family members and a dear friend came at intervals, which helped her spirits. Now the doctor is back and doing well, perhaps taking his own medicine, as well as advice.

The next meeting of the Nettles Island Garden Club will be Thursday, Feb. 6. Both men and women are welcome. We all have so much to learn and questions to ask about growing things in this climate. Put this date on your calendar now.

Al Gantz and Carl Walter were both entertained at a birthday party in the lounge by a group of friends. Someone who had caught Al out getting something from his storage box in his nightshirt, presented him with a miniature lace trimmed one. It was all a lot of fun and how fortunate we are to have these grand old "men" in our resort. I'm just kidding about the age bit, fellows.

Bingo had a record crowd Tuesday nite. They even had to use the tables from the lounge and balcony. One of the few boos Chris came in where we were trying to have a business meeting.

+ + +

Jan. 30th we had a Hobo Ranch. Had most of the couples came dressed like hoboes, too! Who would ever think of wearing pants wrong side out? One man did! Wonder how the fly works that way.

The resort is trying to start a habit. What next? Anyhow, I noticed quite a few have signed up. We have a very good nucleus started. Some were in the pit band for the minstrel show.

Come on, folks, help keep me supplied with news. Please. I just can't see you all individually.

You can leave items in the box on the desk at our Nettles Island post office, or leave them at our trailer. It is lot 208-1, a corner lot, a single tip-out trailer with a dirty living room...rug at this stage.

Are you playing in the Nettles Island Shuffleboard Tournament? It is underway Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a.m. It is for doubles, so pick a partner and join in. You must sign up before 10 a.m.

In the minstrel show I had the privilege of working with eight of the nicest men in the resort. They presented a fashion show dressed as women. One thing that gave us a laugh Thursday night was when one of the men took off his corset and started to leave. I said, "You can't do that, you are supposed to go on soon." He said, "I don't think they would let me in the Men's room with that outfit on, and I don't want to go in the Ladies' room."

+ + +

Keep healthy and happy and MAIPAL.

Engine repair course is offered

STUART — An introductory course in marine engine repair is offered for adults at Martin County High School, Stuart, each Wed. at 7 p.m. Two classes previously opened are closed due to over enrollment.

Adults enrolled in the course are given basic instruction in the maintenance and repair of inboard and outboard power boat engines.

The basic, yet comprehensive, two and one-half hour course covers engines, theory and operation of common ignition systems, tools, systems, basic maintenance, fuels and lubricants, but fuel lines and related marine matters are covered in the course.

The course includes not only the theoretical aspects of marine power packages, but practical hands-on approach with emphasis placed on how to diagnose the engine and repair marine engines.

All adults in the area who are interested in the maintenance, operation, and repair of inboard and outboard engines would profit by taking this course. All boat owners, for prospective owners should for their own safety and that of others know how to analyze a power failure and be equipped to correct it.

Lecture to be held

JENSEN BEACH — A lecture on Miracle of the Temple of You with meditation will be held at the Community Room of The First Federal Savings & Loan Association in Jensen Beach. It is scheduled for Wed. Feb. 5th at 7:30 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Rev. Dr. Lee Anderson.

Anchor Line installs officers

STUART — The Anchor Line Yacht Club recently installed officers for the coming year. The club, which is composed of boat owners from the Stuart area, held its installation meeting at the Elks Club, Stuart. Commodore Bob Hall presided over the meeting. Other officers installed were Vice Commodore Bill Bruce, Rear Commodore Robert Dunning, Bill Hogan, secretary, and Bill Massingo. They serve with Past Commodore Ralph Bruce, who will be the club's representative to the Florida Council of Yacht Clubs. Other officers are Fleet Captain Bill Bruce, Jr., Port Captain Robert Dunning, Jr., Starboard Captain Bill Hogan, Jr., Purser Bill Massingo, Jr., Social Chairman Ralph Bruce, Jr., Publicity Chairman Bill Bruce, Jr., Membership Chairman Bill Hogan, Jr., Boat Chairman Bill Massingo, Jr., Trustees Bill Bruce, Robert Dunning, Bill Hogan, Bill Massingo, Ralph Bruce, Jr., Bill Bruce, Jr., Robert Dunning, Jr., Bill Hogan, Jr., Bill Massingo, Jr., Ralph Bruce,

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - This is a favorable period to make new friends - old ones have drifted away. Seek steady, down-to-earth people. Use common sense in handling daily problems. Good time to study and read. Relax and recoup.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - You are inspired now. You could fulfill your ideals through someone with a positive attitude toward life. You can accomplish much now with your courage and self-assurance. Take an optimistic viewpoint.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Surprises may be in store for you. Be sharp witted and objective. Guard against petty attitudes. Don't expect too much of others. This is a good time to learn by attending meetings and lectures.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - You can play the part of a peacemaker now. Use diplomacy and tact to become the calming force between warring people. Don't take sides; remain objective. In romance you are attracted to some different.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - You could meet someone new who may become very meaningful in your life. Long-distance phone calls contain important news. Advice in investment or financial matters from a person who is older could be valuable.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Romance appears forced on you now. If single, there are matchmakers among your friends trying to marry you off. Be calm, and call on your sense of humor. Work quietly and carefully, out of the limelight.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - Energy is higher now; concentrate on reaching new goals. Cooperating with mate or partner brings new and good ideas. Single Librans may make a decision to "tie the knot." Business and social events mix well.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Go over your budget and make sure enough is put into savings and investments. You are persuasive now in business matters. Write letters and settle problems requiring diplomacy and tact. Listen to mate or partner.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Activities simmer down this week and you can take a breather. Finances could get a boost. You may start a new project which is characterized by practicality and usefulness. Open your home to friends.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Some Capricornians will get a new job now. People have been watching you and are helpful in your success. Communications are important with relatives and your boss. Keep harmony. Other jobs beckon.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Take care of any health problems promptly. See your doctor and comply with what is recommended. Eliminate a romance from your life which proves deceitful. Concentrate on domestic affairs and friends.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Your feelings of depression and restless discontent could be traced to a physical cause. Good time for a doctor's check-up. Show no impatience or hostility at work. Resist impulse toward emotional outbursts.

CHARTER HANDOUT—Members of the Charter Revision Committee were presented with copies of the charter to review during a special meeting held last Friday at City Hall. The first official meeting of the committee will be held Monday, February 10, at 1:30 p.m. in the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall. This meeting will be a workshop session, not a public hearing. Pictured above, Mike Reeb receives his copy from Mayor Larry Kimmel as Councilman William B McChesney looks on.

City officials shaken by decision

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—The pressures of impending elections, taxpayers suits and heated political exchanges have stretched the nerves of Port St. Lucie's mayor and councilmen taut as a tightrope, and Tuesday's special meeting indicated that the tightrope is close to breaking.

Mayor Larry Kimmel, who has been receiving most of the local criticism as head of the council, showed the pressure as he teetered on that tightrope, snapping at the city attorney, Rupert Smith, and at Councilmen as the discussion centered on the election ordinance.

The special meeting was called for the purpose of amending the original election ordinance to include the Group Two seat occupied by Councilman Vaughn Lewis. Lewis, now vice mayor, was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Mayor Eugene P. Kavanaugh.

The original ordinance had been passed on the first reading three weeks ago, but it included only Groups One, Three and Five.

Circuit Court Judge James E. Alderman ruled last Thursday the Group Two seat must be included on the March city ballot.

After City Attorney Rupert Smith read the ordinance Tuesday morning Councilman William B. McChesney, also an appointee, suggested the ordinance be more specific in spelling out the terms of each seat.

"I think it would be advisable to specify in the ordinance that the Group Two seat is for a two year unexpired term, while Groups One, Three and Five are for the full four year term," McChesney said.

At this point Mayor Kimmel snapped, "I don't see how such an ordinance can be approved at this time. As far as I am concerned this Group Two ruling could be just a rumor. I have not seen the actual court order."

Addressing the city attorney, the mayor said very emphatically, "From here on out I want every 'i' dotted."

Kimmel then banged the gavel and called for a ten minute recess while attorney Rupert Smith rewrote the ordinance to once again include only the three council seats: one, three and five.

All action on the Group Two seat was delayed until such time as the court order is received.

The Alderman ruling was one of two handed down with regards to the four-count suit brought against the city by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc., a nonprofit taxpayers organization. Stuart Attorney James Littman is representing the Homeowners group.

The second decision handed out by the Circuit Judge stated Mayor Kimmel could continue to fill the position of city engineer but this would be done without compensation. Since the death of the late Mayor Kavanaugh, Kimmel has been holding the dual positions of mayor and city engineer and drawing $500 per month for each.

The council also moved to accept the mayor's letter of resignation from the position of city engineer and city manager which the City Administrator Bernard Rubin read aloud.

Still to be heard are two remaining counts of the Homeowners suit, the liberal pension plan the city fathers set up and the reimbursement of funds.

The disbursement of additional funds from the pension plan has been temporarily halted by Judge Alderman.

No date has been set for the hearing.

Meeting Monday

Civic League sees election as 'critical'

PORT ST. LUCIE—The first general meeting of the Port St. Lucie Civic League Monday, Feb. 10, takes on new significance with court action last week declaring a fourth City Council seat up for grabs at the March 11 Port St. Lucie municipal election.

The meeting, for all Port St. Lucie residents, League members and non-members, will be at 8 p.m. in the Convention Hall at the St. Lucie Hilton.

Officers of the league will report on growth of the group to date and will outline viewpoints concerning the future which make a group such as the league vital to future growth and development of the community.

Helping to elect four Councilmen is only one of the purposes of the league, although officers agree this is probably the most critical project for Port St. Lucie's immediate future. Four members out of a total council of five persons obviously will set new directions for Port St. Lucie's political future.

Registering of about the new voters in the days last week, after a mailing to Port St. Lucie residents, would indicate others also recognize the importance of a major expression of citizens' desires at the March elections.

The basic aims of the league are a more informed and responsive electorate, with efforts concentrated on these fields:

1. Orderly growth and development of the city.

2. Proper handling of municipal funds.

3. More information to citizens on municipal affairs.

4. A play back to officials of citizen opinion.

5. Active involvement on individual candidacies so that the City Council will responsibly concentrate on matters benefitting the citizens of Port St. Lucie.

The league now members approximately 300 members. Officers will be prepared to sign up new members at the Feb. 10 meeting. Individual memberships are $2.

Wilderness golf course previews

PORT ST. LUCIE—The first nine holes of the Wilderness Park Golf Course operated by the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort, was previewed for limited play" last Saturday and Sunday.

Golfers will play eighteen holes using the Saints Golf Course back nine as holes 1 through 9. Play continues on the northwest side of Morningside Blvd. on Wilderness 10th hole for an interesting par 72 6,611-yard course.

Daily use is not anticipated. The Wilderness nine will handle the overflow play from both the Saints and Sinners golf courses.

Designer Leroy Phillips of General Development stated "The fairways and greens of Wilderness need time to reach maturity, however, limited play won't affect our timetable." Open play will be posted by the professional or starter.

Upon completion of the full 18-hole golf complex, Wilderness Park will offer a 6,845-yard, par 72, golfing challenge. Beside 23 acres of lakes, the first five holes are located on an island in the North Fork of the St. Lucie River.

Saints and Sinners membership will be honored during the interim play. Upon completion, memberships will not be automatically extended to the new course. Duane Chester, assistant vice president for course construction stated, "Wilderness Park will represent a $1.5 million golf complex upon completion, and operations, play and fees will be subject to revision."

Rio Lindo officers to be elected

PORT ST. LUCIE—A slate of officers will be presented when the Rio Lindo Garden Club holds its March meeting.

Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. Vincent Ade and Mrs. C.W. Kaestner were appointed as the nominating committee.

The club will take an active part in the CESA Spring Festival and Bazaar to be held March 8. House plants and flowers will be sold by members during the festival and all proceeds will to the the CESA fund raising project.

A large group in attendance at the January meeting were honored to have Mrs. James Howell lecture on the grooming of house plants for horticultural shows.

Mrs. George Moor, who headed the refreshment committee, was assisted by Mrs. S. Nickelsen, Mrs. C.J. Neill, Mrs. Edward Gerth and Mrs. Oscar Crispens.

VOTER REGISTRATION—One hundred seventy five new voters registered in the City of Port St. Lucie during the two day campaign conducted January 30-31. Jim Brooks, supervisor of St. Lucie County elections, arranged for the books to be located within the city so registrants would not have to make the trip into Fort Pierce. According to Brooks fifty new names were added at the City Hall location, while 125 registered at the CESA center. Pictured above, left to right, deputy clerks Kay Harris and Joanne Walters assist Mr. and Mrs. Siev Ferrara with their registration. In addition to the registrations, the clerks reported over one hundred residents stopped in to verify their eligibility to vote in the March 11 city elections.

Open bridge winners

PORT ST. LUCIE—There were five tables at play when the Open Bridge Club met Monday at the North Port Marina.

Winners included Jim Kronborg, M. Scot; Doris Kronborg, Henry Warnaar and Hilde Scott.

Mardi Gras a success

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friday Nite Gang turned out in force for its first Mardi Gras session of the year. Fifty two special prizes were given away at the conclusion of the night's play.

The Gang Snooper reported one birthday, Natalie Deible, 29, who was serenaded by a 16 man quartette with the usual birthday song. They were well rewarded at the conclusion of their rendition, according to an eye witness.

The Snooper came up with visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Max Wisnnek from Crest Hill, Ill., visiting the Cliffs; Mrs. Walter Gunter from Keiler Wisc., visiting the Fondellis; and Donna and Paul Anastasi from Rochester, N.Y., visiting the Camelion.

'Under the Florida Sun' art and craft exhibit

PORT ST. LUCIE—Plans are progressing for CESA's Spring Festival and Bazaar to be held Saturday, March 8.

This is a community fund raising affair and all artists and craftsmen living in the Port St. Lucie area are invited to exhibit.

Early registration is advised as space is limited. Registrations will be taken at the CESA Community Center office, 800 West Prima Vista Blvd. on Feb. 15 and 22 and March 1, which is the deadline date.

Art Exhibit Chairman is Leone H. Hett, 301 Roamar Drive. Co-chairmen are John and Loretta Pugh, 342 Naranja Ave.

Art Exhibit Chairman is Leone H. Hett, 301 Roamar Drive, 878-2108. Co-chairmen are John and Loretta Pugh, 342 Naranja Ave., 878-2263. Russell Privateer is chairman of the Crafts Exhibit. He lives at 213 Alfonso Blvd., phone 878-0256.

Included in the Art and Craft Exhibit will be oils, water colors, acrylics, pastels, charcoal, pen & ink sketches for the artists and wood, leather, metal, glass etc. for the craftsmen. No macame or other yarn items will be shown in the Art and Craft exhibit "Under the Florida Sun."

COG hears Dump problem

JENSEN BEACH—Out of county trash and garbage haulers who bring their refuse to Martin County landfills may soon pay extra, the director of Martin County's environmental services told St. Lucie River Council of Governments (COG).

Director Les Scherer said, "With the fees we charge the haulers now, the out of county people aren't paying their share, considering that county taxes support the landfill."

Scherer said that according to a study done in the fall, "about 20 per cent of the fill that's being dumped in our landfills every year is from outside Martin County."

He estimated the out of county refuse being dumped in county landfills each year at about 40,000 cubic yards.

The county's fee for all haulers, including out of county, is 75 cents per cubic yard.

It is estimated that most of the St. Lucie County refuse coming into Martin County is from the Port St. Lucie area, according to Scherer.

OPEN HOUSE—Six year old Stephanie Rampy was all smiles Sunday afternoon as she showed her grandfather Carson Sutton through the new Port St. Lucie Elementary School during the open house festivities. Stephanie's first grade teacher, Mrs. Betty Baird, was on hand to explain the new open concept to the visitors. The new school opened February 3 for classes. Stephanie is the daughter of Mrs. Susan Sutton.

Paul Reeb heads PSL Yacht Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—Paul M. Reeb headed a slate of officers for 1975-76 unanimously elected by members of the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club at the January meeting.

Other officers and directors elected were Nelson Howery, Vice Commodore; Jo Walker, secretary; Lela Holzapfel, treasurer.

Directors elected were Fred Adler, John Schwartz, Jack LaFrance, George Lindberg, Bob Clemens and Bill Holzapfel. Retiring Commodore Fred Johnston automatically becomes a director of the club.

The new officers and directors will be installed at the Annual Commodore's Ball, to be held at the Hilton Convention Center in April. Tony DeSantis served as chairman of the nominating committee in the absence of Art Coulon.

Jack LaFrance announced details of the first annual Directors' Party to be held Saturday, Feb. 22, at the Fort Pierce Armory from 8:30 to 12:30 p.m.

A George Washington theme will be in evidence in the decoration of the headstand and tables. Snacks, chips, pretzels, as well as ice and mix, will be furnished for members who are asked to bring their own liquid refreshments.

Members will be admitted free, however there will be a minimal charge for house guests.

Music will be provided by the "Smoothers."

Chairman for the affair is Rita Todd. Her assistants include Pearl and Les Troutman, Lillian and Carl Hoffman, Selma and Knute Rigseth, Nell and Don Peterson, Eleanor and Bill Flanagan, and Addie and Roy Hannum.

A full turnout of between 350 and 400 are expected to take part.

Bob Corcoran, Vi Conley and Ethel Nickelson were the 50-50 winners at the recent meeting.

Virginia and Matty Reposa were visitors, coming here from New Bedford, Mass.

According to Bill Holzapfel, plans will be announced later for a boat-a-cade to the Bay Harbor Club.

Social hostesses for the evening were Mary Sheehan, Sarah Jackson, Caroline DeSantis, Faye Thompson and Pearl Troutman.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS

By Dorothy Beck

Last Thursday the Camera Club had a special treats in one evening. Since each of the planned shows took just one half hour, it was decided to combine three of them and, as a result, we all had a most interesting evening. The club did run longer than usual, but no one objected.

First was the yearly showing of the best slides sent us by the Melrose Camera Club.

As a former member of the Greater Miami Camera Club, I met many of the members of the Melrose Club. Neither of these clubs were for entertainment only, but was the purpose of learning how to make better pictures, on slides, movies or just plain snapshots. The Melrose members were outstanding in their field, and the results show in the type of pictures they present today.

The Ocean Breeze Camera Board was asked to pick out the five best pictures and it took a lot of showing and showing to narrow it down to the five or six ones. As two of us are New Englanders, and the scenes were typical of our section of the country and we very familiar to us both, we voted toward the autumn countryside pictures. The paint shack in Essex, Mass wasn't very pretty, but a fact, and to those who have eaten fried clams or a fish dinner in Essex, it couldn't help but bring back memories. A different kind than the autumn scenes, but yummy ones.

This is really the purpose of any picture ... to bring back memories, to show people, places, and perhaps to take us to a place that we have never seen. A well taken scenery shot, a good subject, the before-hand planning give much more satisfaction to the taker and the viewer.

On the other hand, one should remember that sometimes a fun picture is just that ... a lot of fun afterward. Those kinds are the candid camera shots that we saw in the last of our evening's show.

This show was almost all of the park, the kind that Ruth Hoke takes with her cameras. Ocean Breezers dancing, playing games, walking, or sometimes working. Ruth likes to stop her Gogo, aim her camera and get positive proof that we do have to work around our places and sometimes to the surprise of the people, they are on film.

Ruth plans another showing at some future date of other scenes of today and yesterday.

All in all, we had a well rounded showing last week and we thank the Melrose Camera Club and Ruth.

This week we should have another full house ... the Comers, Jack and Olga, are showing the second part of that trip we all enjoyed when they presented the trip thru Scandinavia. This time they will take us to Copenhagen to pick up a VW, then on to Germany, Austria, behind the Iron Curtain, then back to Austria, Switzerland, Germany and into France, Belgium and Holland. Jack wanted to drive as many mountain passes in the Alps as he could manage, and he did. Olga wanted to see the Passion Play at Oberammergau, the famous play that has been performed every ten years since the sixteenth century except for the war years. And then, they were lucky enough to be in Brussells and see a five hour parade that is done on two consecutive Sundays once in five years.

Those who came to the last "Evening with the Comers" had a marvelous time. So join us all Thursday night, at 7 p.m. sharp.

On Sunday evening, Feb. 26, at 7 p.m., we will have a special treat. Mrs. Ethel Rafuse's son who works for NASA will visit her over that weekend and is bringing with him a short non-technical 16 MM sound movie on "Space Flights." Everyone is invited to come down to the hall for this special showing.

Thursday, Jan. 30, Len and Vanita Schneider celebrated their 43rd anniversary by having luncheon at the Hutchinson Island Holiday Inn, accompanied by Mary Mulligan and Karl and Irvin Sheehy.

Saturday night the Schneiders and a group of friends dined and danced at the Caboose.

John Leybeck will give a concert at the Shuffleboard Courts at 7 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 4. There will be recordings of Guy Lombardo, Dannie Davis, Whoopee John, etc. Y'all come.

HOSTESSES—All ready for the party are the hostesses and committee who take such pleasure in helping to make Ocean Breeze's annual Golden Wedding Anniversary Fete a memorable occasion for their friends. Nineteen couples were honored this year by more than 500 friends and neighbors who came to offer congratulations and best wishes.

Nineteen couples celebrate

Golden Wedding anniversary

OCEAN BREEZE PARK. Nineteen couples were honored at the annual Golden Wedding Anniversary Party held in the Ocean Breeze clubhouse Sunday, February 2.

This was the 18th annual Golden Wedding party. It all started when founders Harry and Queena Hoke celebrated their 50th in the clubhouse and invited everyone in the park to join them in their happiness. It has become a tradition.

Each couple had a hostess who served in many ways to make the day a memorable one.

More than 500 attended the festive occasion.

Ruth Hoke was general chairman assisted by Mrs. Walter Scott, who worked with the hostesses, and Mrs. Tom Hebert on flowers.

NOT PRESENT FOR PICTURE

DR. E.M. AND MILDRED ALEXANDER were married August 18, 1925 in Niagara Falls, New York. They have one daughter, Marjorie Harbst of Louisville, Kentucky, who was here to serve as their hostess. Dr. Alexander is a retired dentist. He practised in Lewistown, Pa.

Art Associates plan exhibit at the Fair

ART. The art exhibit at the 1973 Martin County Fair will be sponsored by Art Associates of Martin County.

The show, which will be judged and ribbons awarded, is open to all Martin County residents. Each artist may submit one painting of their choice in his own original work, framed and wired for hanging. A label indicating title, medium, and name must be affixed to the back of each work.

Entry dates are March 19th and participants are to be delivered to the fairgrounds between 1-3 p.m. on Monday, March 26, and picked up between 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday, March 18.

Categories to be judged are figure or portrait, abstract, still life, landscape, watercolor, collage, pastel, sculpture and photography.

Virginia Spencer will be general chairman for the exhibit with Lola Connolly as co-chairman. Irene Rickenbach will be registration chairman, and Dorothy Stafford will arrange the plant decorations.

House and Garden Tour

STUART. The House and Garden Tour sponsored by the Garden Club of Stuart will be held on Sunday, Feb. 25, from 1-5 p.m. Four outstanding homes of the area will be open. The Brown home on St. Lucie, the Huberman home on the Archipelago, the Steel home on Mandalay and the Easton home on High Point.

Prominent markers will direct guests to the houses, the addresses will be on the tickets, along with a map on the back of the tickets. First National Bank and Trust Co. Stuart has donated the cost of printing the tickets according to Mrs. Charles E. Bishop, ticket chairman.

Proceeds of the tour will benefit the Pineson Long Nature Center. A tour of the center is included, with a plant sale held there also.

Mrs. John W. Hussey, chairman of landscape design, is chairman of the plant sale. There will also be a showing of ferns, including a number of native ferns in the center.

Mrs. H.W. Graham, tour chairman, and Mrs. Harold Hoek, tour vice chairman; Mrs. D.J. Caldwell, chairman of flower arrangers; Mrs. Richard Mack, chairman of hostesses; and Mrs. Ernst Koeppitsch, publicity chairman, met earlier this week and created the homes which will be on the tour.

The following members will make the floral arrangements in the homes: Mrs. Joseph C. Bevis, Mrs. Carl Bridges, Mrs. D.J. Caldwell, Mrs. F. Richard Cessna, Mrs. William H. Cobb, Mrs. Malcolm Crabtree, Mrs. Richard Jacobs, Mrs. Harold R. Garland, Mrs. Paul C. Life, Mrs. Ernest J. Morris, Mrs. Leo Pomerleau, Mrs. George Schlitt and Mrs. Harold White.

God and Country Day is Sunday

JENSEN BEACH–The first annual God and Country Day, sponsored by American Legion Post 126 and All Saints Episcopal Church, Jensen Beach, will take place on Sunday, February 16th at Florida Institute of Technology Auditorium at 3:00 p.m.

The Navy Band of Orlando will have a pre-service concert from 2:30 until 3:00, then the grand procession of representatives of 50 organizations displaying the colors and the insignea of their groups.

The interest in this first annual patriotic religious service has gone far beyond Martin County. There will be organizations from various parts of the state in attendance and greetings and support have been received from congressmen and the President of the United States.

The Martin County Commission has declared by proclamation Sunday, Feb. 16 to be God and Country Day.

BOBBY LORD

Those who are to participate on the program are: The Rev. Fr. Matthew Morgan, St. Joseph's Church, Stuart; Rabbi Mel Hecht, Temple Beth El, Ft. Pierce; The Rev. D. Clark Thompson, Trinity United Methodist Church, Jensen Beach; Commissioner Roscoe Philbrick; Robert Lord; Mrs. Harold R. Whalen, Jr.; Lt. Col. Arthur A. Smith; Frank Wacha; Commander Richard S. Neeson; Fr. Frank R. Alvarez; and important guests such as Captain Adams.

John Fulton, organist of All Saints Church will be at the organ to accompany the soloists.

Commander Murray Voth, U.S.N., Chief of Chaplains, United States Naval Academy, will be the speaker.

Some 200 Martin County High School students are participating in a contest, writing an essay on Americanism. The winner will receive a $50 saving bond and second place will receive a $25 saving bond. The first place writer will read the winning essay at the service.

STROKE FORUM–A forum entitled "Stroke and other Vascular Problems" is the theme for a free public forum to be held Thursday evening, Feb. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lyric Theatre. It is sponsored by the Heart Association and the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. From the left are Gwen S. Youmi, Heart Association public information director; John A. McGinn, auxiliary anchorman; Dr. Richard Q. Pesnick, coordinator; Mrs. Margie Bishop, auxiliary president and Dr. David MacMillan, a featured speaker at the forum.

Stroke forum is February 20

JENSEN BEACH–"Stroke and other common vascular problems" is the theme for a free public forum to be held Thursday evening, Feb. 20, 7:30 p.m. in the Lyric Theater.

It is the second in a series of three heart related forums sponsored by the Heart Association and the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and coordinated by Dr. Richard Q. Pesnick.

Dr. Pesnick will moderate the program, which will feature talks by Dr. David MacMillan, Dr. Joseph Moll and Dr. Guy Hopper.

According to Dr. Pesnick, Dr. MacMillan will talk about the signs and symptoms of stroke and the hospital care of the stroke patient. Dr. Moll will speak about rehabilitation of the stroke patient, and Dr. Hopper will discuss pulmonary embolism and phlebitis, both blood vessel diseases.

"We had a grand response on our first forum last month on heart disease," Dr. Pesnick said. "We are most encouraged by the response and hope that people will keep coming and even greater support will result."

He added that he would like to thank the hospital auxiliary members for serving as ushers and dealing with publicity.

We are most grateful to the Mr. Charles Marquess owner of the Lyric Theater for providing the facilities for the three programs," Dr. Pesnick said.

The third forum is to be held March 6, with its topic to be announced. Chairman is Mrs. Hazel Keep, R.N. (retired).

Monobuoy described

Ashland refinery is keyed to provide jobs for Newtown

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–The thought of a major oil operation in the Atlantic Ocean dwindled in the minds of Jensen Beachers Monday as David Woodcock explained the size of the proposed operation and the projected Ashland Oil refinery operation near Ft. Pierce.

Woodcock, project coordinator for Ashland Oil, Ft. Pierce, spoke to Rotarians at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant and said that the monobuoy is a floating "quick connect" hose that is 24 feet wide.

The supertanker, which needs over 80 feet of depth to unload, just hooks up to the buoy and pumps oil. A tender moves up to the tanker with a protective barrier to lessen the chances of an oil spill accident.

Once unloading, the oil travels through a pipeline from the buoy, ten to twelve miles to shore, then follows the public rights of way up C-25 Canal to the refinery site, twenty miles inland.

Ashland chose the St. Lucie County area, according to Woodcock for three reasons. The deep water offshore, where supertankers could come straight in to unload; the availability of public rights of way for the pipeline and the ability to find land for the proposed refinery and Newtown, in this case the 14,000 acres of land that abuts SR 80.

There is no piece of land on the east coast of the United States with the attributes of this area," he said.

Ashland also plans to use the refinery to serve the Orlando to Miami area, utilizing the natural gas line that is located on the Florida Turnpike.

Following a slide presentation on the concept of Newtown, Woodcock explained that lakes are planned for water retention–eighty percent of all rainfall is washed into the Indian River for cooling of the refinery operation, and to provide waterfront property for Newtown, a community of a projected 40,000 population.

Five villages are master planned in the community and are projected to be completed in ten to fifteen years.

Woodcock emphasized that there are no supertanker unloading ports in the United States, and said that it would take only four unloadings per month to keep the refinery operating 24 hours a day, whereas it takes many small tanker unloadings to operate other refineries.

"Florida needs a source of energy," Woodcock said. "Nuclear and solar energy is a thing of the future. Petroleum energy is now.

Tax roll is approved

JENSEN BEACH–After three and a half weeks of hearings on taxpayers complaints, the Martin County Board of Tax Adjustment Monday approved the tax roll.

County Commissioner Chairman Rose Philbrick, a member of the tax board, estimated the assessment reductions granted was about $2 million on the $949 roll.

Most of the reductions granted by the board were protested by the appraisers who drew up the tax roll assessments.

The Florida Department of Revenue will schedule a hearing on whether to confirm the adjustments after [illegible] rights of the hearing, the complaint to the department.

Board members complained that single family residences in Martin are assessed closer to full market value than other property.

The board approved in a resolution expressing its belief that the new appraisals reflect great discrepancies with single family dwellings being assessed too high and condominium apartments and commercial property too low.

Commissioner John Kiernan voted against a motion to adopt the tax roll as changed by the board, pointing out that he has had his problems with the tax roll from the start and he wasn't going to give up the fight now.

The board spent its last session reviewing more petitions from the Hobe Sound Company.

Nat Reed's attorney protested the $477,625 assessment on Reed's Jupiter Island residence. The board voted 2-1 to reject the complaint, Kiernan voted in favor of a reduction.

The long delayed tax bills should be in the mail by the end of this month, according to the tax collector's office.

Prober clears county commissioners

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Commission did not have any criminal intent in collecting money for fire departments from developers, an assistant state attorney said in his report to Gov. Reubin Askew.

"Commissioners were doing what in their judgment was best for the county," Assistant State Atty. Monty Campbell of Bartow, who handled the probe for State Atty. Glenn Darty, said.

"The only possible action I could find would be under the malfeasance statute or common law crimes, but there was no criminal intent which would warrant such action," Campbell said.

Campbell reached his conclusions after a seven month-long probe into commissioners demands on developers.

Gov. Askew ordered the probe last June 27 at the request of former County Commission Chairman Ed Geary after rumors that the commission was using extortion to get public improvements at the expense of developers.

"I think the developers were being required to make concessions to the county not the county commissioners themselves," Campbell said.

"I can understand how some developers might not like that," the investigator continued.

'Poppies' on sale this week

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach American Legion and Auxiliary will be selling Poppies in the community Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14 and 15.

The American Legion was the first national organization to adopt the Poppy as the country's memorial flower and pledged 100 per cent of the profits from its sale to welfare relief for service men and women and their families. All proceeds are devoted to veteran affairs and rehabilitation.

The poppies are handmade of crepe paper by disabled veterans in hospitals and poppy workrooms. Disabled veterans are paid and the monies derived supplies therapy to them.

"Purchasing a poppy helps with this great work, and wearing the poppy pays tribute to all who died in service through service to the living," a spokesman for the group said.

They urge everyone to buy and wear the national Poppy.

250 visit center

JENSEN BEACH–More than 250 persons visited the Environmental Studies Center on Indian River Drive at Sunday's open house which was the final day of "environmental studies week."

"We were very satisfied with the week's program," director Jay Jarrett said. "The staff started talking about having two open houses during the year.

"The place was packed all day Sunday and people seemed to enjoy our slide presentations," Jarrett said.

One speaker during the week was Jack Maloy, executive director of Florida Flood Control District (FCD).

Maloy said that plans for future growth should not be based on how many people want to come to Florida, but on how many the area's natural resources and public facilities can support.

"Planners ought to make an inventory of the services and the resources and then draw the line on their graphs showing projected populations," Maloy said.

FCD has persuaded regional planning agencies to review plans for large developments, and to reject plans that would damage the water supply.

The center also held VIP Day Saturday with school, county and state officials touring the center.

From 112 to 3389 Linda? numbers confuse

JENSEN BEACH--A new house number can be confusing, and could create a dangerous situation.

There was a bit of confusion last week when Civil Defense called Jensen/Rio Good Samaritans (ambulance service) and asked Wally Redit to go to 3388 NE Linda Drive.

Redit, a long-time Jensen Beach resident and Samaritan, replied, "There is no such number."

Civil Defense informed Redit that the number was next door to 112 Linda Drive.

The county has a street numbering program under way, but the program has not reached Jensen Beach.

County Attorney Steve Calvert said Monday, "We've got our hands full in Palm City," and said the new number in Jensen Beach was "premature."

Calvert said new residences have been assigned new numbers but people should use the old numbers until the entire area is completed.

Redit pointed out that the Linda Drive address was not on the mailbox or house. "This is the first I've heard of the house numbering program," Redit said.

Samaritan William Stevenson said, "I live at 513 Skyline Drive and the house across the street from me is a new house and has been assigned the number 4333 NE Skyline Drive."

Stevenson pointed out that the Linda Drive call luckily was not a real emergency, but "we lost five or six minutes trying to find the house."

Jensen Beach Fire Chief Randolph Spinney said he had not been notified of the changes planned in the house numbers.

Calvert said the system would be explained in full in the near future, and Civil Defense will notify other emergency agencies.

The county attorney said that in general avenues will run north and south and streets east and west, and the Jensen Beach-Rio area will be in the northeast quadrant of the county program.

Developer seeks money remedy

JENSEN BEACH--St. Lucie-Jupiter Development Corp. officials hope to remedy their troubled financial situation, and Monday's scheduled hearing on appointing a receiver to manage Mariner Cay condominium apartments was canceled.

The meeting was cancelled after hopes were raised that the developers and financiers will be able to get together to discuss new financial arrangements.

Stuart National Bank and Union Commerce Bank of Cleveland have filed a $3.5 million foreclosure action against the 76-unit Mariner Cay on St. Lucie Boulevard.

Judge Royce Lewis said attorneys called him late Friday to cancel Monday's scheduled hearing after it appeared that a meeting would be held between St. Lucie-Jupiter officials and financiers.

Meanwhile, Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge has set a hearing for Feb. 28 on a motion for appointment of a receiver in the $8 million foreclosure suit filed on the Mariner Sands property by the Great American Mortgage Investors of Atlanta.

Buckingham to address businessmen

STUART--Jamie Buckingham, well known writer and lecturer will be the main speaker at the Feb. 21 meeting of the Full Gospel Business Man.

Buckingham began his writing career with the publication of a three million best-seller, "Run Baby Run." A prize winning newspaper and magazine columnist, he is on the staff of the Logos Journal.

He is a native of Vero Beach and was educated at Mercer University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and is an ordained minister.

Dinner reservations may be made by contacting the Christian Book Store, 816 Old Dixie Highway, Stuart, phone 283-4535. Ladies and children are invited.

Jury finds Dishman innocent

JENSEN BEACH--A six member jury last week found Travis Dishman innocent of the beating death of Dorothea Mennerich, 57, at her Jensen Beach home.

Dishman, 47, had been charged with second degree murder in the case, but the Circuit Court jury acquitted him of the charge at the conclusion of a three-day trial.

The prosecution had based its charge on items of bloodstained apparel belonging to Dishman which were found at the scene.

Assistant Public Defender Bruce Wilkinson, who defended Dishman, said the apparel became bloodstained when Dishman tried to revive Mrs. Mennerich.

Investigators testified that Dishman had admitted to them that he had spent much of the night of Sept. 11 drinking and playing cards with Mrs. Mennerich and her fiance, Harold Wymer, at her residence.

Dishman told investigators that he left the Mennerich home, using Mrs. Mennerich's car which she agreed to lend.

According to testimony, Dishman went to his own trailer residence, and after reflecting on her generosity of letting him use her car, he decided to go back and thank her.

He then found her in bed with a cover over her, showing no sign of life, and he put his head to her body to listen for a heartbeat before trying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, according to the testimony.

Wilkinson said this act explained the bloody clothing of Dishman's.

Island gets discussion

JENSEN BEACH--The future of Hutchinson Island was discussed again by property owners and attorneys at last week's Martin County Commission workshop.

Commissioners heard suggestions from the public in an inland growth management work session called to find a substitute for the limits adopted on the island in 1973 in conjunction with the Doyle Report.

Those limits proposed by consultant Robert Doyle called for a cap of 3,032 dwellings on the Martin County segment of the island at full development after an additional bridge is built.

However commissioners have approved development concepts that would result in construction of 3,884 dwelling units.

Commissioner John Kiernan suggested that high rise buildings might be acceptable if the county imposes strong setback requirements.

Commission Chairman Rosa Philbrick said he thought some of the dwellings already allotted won't be built because the developers will lose interest in the projects.

It was pointed out by Attorney Evans Crary, Jr. that the commission can expect some property to be occupied for commercial buildings which would decrease the potential overcrowding.

Caboose To Hold Gala Valentine Party

The popular Caboose Restaurant & Lounge located on Old Dixie Hwy. in downtown Stuart, will be holding Valentine festivities on Friday, Feb. 14 beginning at 6:30 PM.

The public is cordially invited but reservations are preferred, as a large crowd is expected to attend the affair. The special price of $15.00 per couple includes dinner for two. The evening will begin with a tantalizing dinner menu of Roast Sherry-Bruised Beef or Broiled Filet of Dolphin.

Entertainment will begin at 6:30 PM with the romantic organ music. The popular "Caboose Hobo Band," will provide the entertainment and dance music from 8:00 PM until 1:00 A.M.

The whole Valentine Eve Celebration will be a festive occasion for all and it is suggested that in order to secure a table, you phone "Gene," the Caboose "Conductor," at 283-1113. See you beside the tracks.

Letter to the editor

To the editor:

While sitting in Wally Hickel's Travelers Inn coffee shop the other day, I came across your article in the Port St. Lucie Mirror about Alaska. It really is a coincidence, as I lived in Fort Pierce for awhile, and was assistant General Development Corp. in Alaska. I really got a charge out of your article, as it was about 40 degrees below that day, and your memory serves you well.

We had a pretty good winter, however there were times that it (the temperature) went down to 60, 70 and 72 degrees below zero. Some say as low as 80 degrees below in places, but I didn't see the thermometer then.

My boss, Ira Glockner, sends me a copy of the paper once in awhile, and I enjoy reading through it. For awhile, I was with Jim Revelle of Revelle Realty, and if you would, would you give him a call and jolt him into writing me? Thanks.

I came back to Alaska about a year ago, but wouldn't have, except for the fact that I brought five children up with me sick in 1961 when I came up with the Army, and I can't pry them loose now. When I retired, I worked for Mr. Morley, selling General Development property in Alaska, a good market, as you can imagine.

Hope to get to live in Port St. Lucie some day, and I have property there. It is such a beautiful place.

Best Regards,
Hugh Asmodt

The V.F.W. Post 10130 (Andy Matton Post) and the Women's Auxiliary want to extend their appreciation for the coverage they received on February 3, 1971 by reporter Mrs. Alice Hickey. She has been very instrumental in attending and writing about our Post activities in the past, such as the Poppy Drive and the flag presentation at the Port St. Lucie Elementary School's Grand opening.

Again we want to thank the Port St. Lucie Mirror and Mrs. Hickey for a job well done.

Thank you,

To the editor:

I am enclosing, herewith, the letter written Spanish to me by the Secretary of the Press for the Governor of Puerto Rico Hon. Rafael Hernandez Colon, as well as its translation to the English, to help you understand it, for in case.

I just reading the article published by your newspaper I immediately sent a copy to my personal friend, Hon. Rafael Hernandez Colon.

His letter in answer to mine in regard to that article is very clear and needs no more comment on my part as a Puertorican I would only add, that as a resident of Puerto Rico, it will be a great pleasure to me and my wife to invite his couple in be our guests if in the future they visit our Island.

In the past we have had the pleasure to have our Island to some friends and they have been more than satisfied with what they saw and of the great hospitality of the Puertoricans.

Our residence address in Puerto Rico is Apartment No. 151, Twin Towers Bldg., PUNCE, Puerto Rico, 00731. Tels. 809-842-3381 and 809-842-0119.

To overcome part of the damages made to our good, gentile, and decent American citizens born in Puerto Rico, would you be kindly enough to publish the letter received from our Governor, in your newspaper?

Cordially,
Francisco Resta

Dear Mr. Resta:

In the name of the Governor, Hon. Rafael Hernandez Colon, we wish to express our gratitude for the interest shown raising in the best possible way, the image of Puerto Rico.

We have read very carefully the newspaper clipping sent with your letter. Naturally we do not want to doubt of the veracity of Mr. and Mrs. Vogel story. We recognize that Puerto Rico is not an exception to the high criminality rate that are suffering other parts of the World, including the Barrio's of the most important cities of the United States.

Nevertheless we consider that part of the article published by The Mirror in a little exaggerated. For example all members of the Police of P.R. speak English, at least to understand or make themselves be understood. Also, we consider our Police Force, one of the most honest and interested in serving the citizens adequately. We also believe that is exaggerated to say that all the doctors in the hospitals carry guns with them.

On the other hand, if they were mistreated by the hotel personnel, they should file their claim or complaint to the Head Office of the hotel organization that is a state side one, for the pertinent action.

There is no doubt, that the Vogel couple did not enjoy their stay in Puerto Rico but they should not react against the good people of this Island, that is considered as one of the most hospitable and generous with our visitors.

We rest assured that your visit to Mr. and Mrs. Vogel, will serve to demonstrate them, the great difference that exists between the serious and responsible Puertoricans, represented in this case by you and your wife, and the delincuents that exist here in Puerto Rico as well as, in all parts of the World.

In our Governor's name and on my own, I reiterate our gratitude for your gesture.

Cordially,
(signed) JOSE LUIS LOPEZ
Secretario de Prensa del Gobernador

States rights

WASHINGTON—In 1972, when Congress adopted the Water Pollution Control Act, it was hailed as a milestone in the battle for a cleaner environment.

Since that time, however, the program has bogged down in a morass of red tape and constantly changing guidelines.

In an effort to correct the situation, I have joined more than two dozen other Members of Congress in introducing legislation to give the states themselves a much larger and more active role in developing waste water treatment plants.

The bill designed to solve many of the problems which were uncovered during last year's hearings by the Public [illegible] Committee, would allow individual states to enter into agreements with the Environmental Protection Agency to serve as the final approving authority.

As the program now works, any community wishing to build a new or more modern wastewater treatment plant must get the project approved first by state environmental agencies and then by EPA.

This incredible maze of red tape is delaying any number of much needed municipal sewage improvement projects.

By eliminating the duplicate approvals by giving state environmental agencies the authority to certify that local projects meet all the requirements of the 1972 Water Pollution Control Act we should speed up both the approval process and the construction time.

When state agencies look at proposed projects, they must decide whether the plans conform with environmental need, use the best practicable technology and a number of other criteria.

So it makes little sense for the federal government to turn right around and conduct its own study of whether the project meets these guidelines not in the case of states such as Florida with a professional, competent and available environmental agency.

All this does is recognize that the Clean Water program, which calls for accelerated expansion and upgrading of municipal sewage treatment systems, represents a public works program similar in scope to the [illegible] highway system. Its success demands the best efforts of all levels of government working in a genuine partnership.

It is particularly important that we get this program speeded up now because of the President's decision to release some $4 billion in pollution control funds which had been impounded.

The funds, if made available quickly, can do a great deal to help in our unemployment problems.

Construction of new sewer plants or modernizing of existing plants means jobs for thousands of skilled workers all across the nation. And we need those jobs.

And I am hopeful we can give it speedy Congressional approval and get this program moving the way it should be.

Fire damages island condominium

JENSEN BEACH--Fire caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the roof at Maritime Condominium Apartments about 5:30 p.m. last Thursday, Jensen Beach Fire Department Chief Randolph Spinney said.

Chief Spinney said the fire was started when roofing tar was spilled on the roof.

High pressure fog was used to knock down the blaze, the chief said. "We had the fire under control in about 30 minutes."

Spinney said four trucks and 11 volunteer fire fighters went to the Hutchinson Island apartment complex.

He said that Robert S. Jerrom was the owner of the unit which was damaged.

10:00 a.m. Blessing and Distribution of Ashes and Holy Eucharist.

7:30 p.m. Distribution of Ashes and Sung Eucharist.

Starting next Wednesday, Feb. 19, and continuing throughout Lent, there will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 10 a.m. and in the evening at 7:30 p.m. The Stations of the Cross will be recited.

After the evening service, a course of instructions will be given by the rector, Fr. Frank R. Alvarez.

The Rev. Fr. William J. Alberts, from Media, Pa., will celebrate and preach on Sundays until after Easter. This Sunday, Fr. Alberts will be the preacher at 9:15 a.m. Eucharist.

The congregation will participate fully in the first God and Country Day to be held at F.I.T. College on Sunday, Feb. 16.

Sailfish Squares plan 'Sing Along' dance

JENSEN BEACH--The Sailfish Squares are planning a special "Sing Along" dance for Valentine Day, Friday, Feb. 14.

Starting at 8 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Elementary School, the Janasons will cue the rounds and Jack Hosken will sing the squares.

All dancers in the area are invited to attend. Refreshments will be by Betty Hosken assisted by "Bing" and Marion Crosby.

SCOT--Youngest Scot at the seventh annual Robert Burns supper was Glen Ross, three and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ross of Hollywood. The event was held at the Stuart Elks Club Friday.

friends and neighbors who have helped us along the way and supported our programs. We are the first to admit we couldn't have accomplished so much without your help and support. We're still growing and will keep on growing as long as there are veterans who need help. And we do not stop with veterans alone. We will continue to do all we can for the community.

Membership is our first goal. Without membership we are lost. We started ago and have grown to 420 paid members and welcome any eligible veteran to join our team.

As young as we are, we have the distinction of having two district commanders, one State Jr. Vice Commander, who will probably be State Commander in two years, one National Aide De Camp for two years, now, many district officers and state committee members. This is a record we are well proud of and we will keep on trying to do better.

Friday night, Feb. 14, we will have our Valentine Dance, starting at 8:30 and continuing until your feet get so tired to dance any more. Music will be supplied by the fabulous Lee Scott Combo. Lee is a great entertainer and plays good danceable music.

Saturday, Feb. 15, 11th district Senior Squirrel Lloyd Baker will host a shoot-n-scratch with election of officers for the upcoming year. Come on, I'll be there.

Sunday, Feb. 16, we will travel to Indiantown for an 11th district meeting starting at 10 a.m. Then be back here for God and Country Day.

If you haven't purchased your tickets for the chicken barbecue, get in touch with a member of Unit 10 now for reservations.

Welcome Wagon

JENSEN BEACH--Welcome Wagon of North of Martin County will meet at noon Tuesday, Feb. 18, at All Saints Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach.

Luncheon will be served for the women of the church.

Guests and former members are welcome. Reservations should be made with Marie Hecker, 286-1528, by Thursday, Feb. 13.

CWA clinches senior title

JENSEN BEACH–CWA Local Post 3111 clinched the Senior Division title last Saturday afternoon at Langford Park, as the Big Yellow Machine overcame the jitters which occupied them at the beginning and went on to post a 44-27 win over Pittman Insurance.

Pittman offered little resistance in the fourth quarter of the contest, as they set a record that can quickly be forgotten-- LEAST points in a quarter-- while watching CWA pop in almost every shot they took.

John Driscoll led all scorers in the game. Driscoll hit on all five of his field goal attempts in the first half, but could only manage two points in the second half. All told, Driscoll finished with 13 points in a losing cause for the Insurancemen. Leading scorers for the Big Yellow Machine were Tim Dargis and David Kenny, both of whom hit for twelve points. John Wolf was the only other player in double figures for the yellow, with 10 points.

Pittman jumped out to a 7-0 lead early in the first quarter, as CWA had the jitters. They knew that a win would give them the Senior Division Championship. Soon, however, they overcame those jitters and, by the end of the first quarter, led 13-11. Brent Laycock scored the basket which put the Big Yellow Machine in front for the first time in the game.

The second quarter saw CWA jump to a 5 point lead midway through the second canto, but soon Pittman had come from behind with five consecutive points to tie the score at eighteen apiece. The halftime score was 20-20.

The third canto saw CWA stretch their lead to 32-25. But for most of the quarter, Hunter Wilson kept Pittman in the game with his timely rebounds and baskets. The tall, lanky forward put Pittman ahead 33-32 after 3:14 of the third period, but CWA's Tim Dargis then put CWA ahead for good with a jumper from the baseline. He then scored again and Gregg Jackson added yet another tally to make the score 38-33 in favor of the league leaders.

From the time that Wilson put the Insurancemen on top, CWA outscored Pittman 22-4 for the rest of the contest.

In the fourth quarter, the only Pittman score came from Wilson, who closed the gap to 36-27, but John Wolf then ran off three quick baskets and Dargis added one at the final buzzer to make the final 44-27.

This week, both teams will take on second place Gold Coast. The Gold Coast-Pittman rematch will start at 1 p.m., while the CWA-Gold Coast finale will follow immediately thereafter.

How the ball bounced:

CWA 44, Pittman 27. Gold Coast 38, Pittman 37.

This week's games:

Pittman vs Gold Coast, 1 p.m. CWA vs Gold Coast, 2 p.m. --played at Langford Park, Jensen Beach.

Senior Division Single-Game Highs:

Tim Dargis of CWA scored 18 points against Gold Coast Tires in the same game. John Wolf, also a member of the CWA team, hit for 17. John Driscoll of Pittman hit for 17 last Saturday in a losing effort against Gold Coast. Driscoll and Brent Laycock of CWA have scored 16. Driscoll did it against Gold Coast, as did Laycock. Driscoll also has hit 15, as he turned that trick in a game at CWA.

BY BONNIE WILKIE

Gold Coast upsets Pittman, 38-37

JENSEN BEACH–Going into last Saturday's second Senior Division basketball contest at Jensen Beach's Langford Park, it was obvious to all who were present that the day's finale would be no contest. It would be Pittman Insurance, determined to avenge their earlier losing streak to the league's last-place team, Gold Coast Tires.

Pittman had a tremendous advantage. They had averaged over 33 points per game while Gold Coast had managed but half of that figure. At the end of the game, Gold Coast had upset the Insurancemen by the score of 38-37.

How it has to be labeled the game's most exciting go-around.

Gil Hall had 12 points for the losers as the Gold Coasters enjoyed their most balanced and productive game of the year. Donnie Wilkie and Greg Chee each had 10 for Gold Coast. But John Driscoll had 17 for the losers.

Hunter Wilson's 16 markers kept Pittman in the game in the third quarter as Gold Coast threatened to blow it open with great defense at the front stripe, which often resulted in easy steals and lay-ups for the Jensen Gold Coasters.

The score was tied on four occasions, including a 22-22 deadlock early in the second half. This resulted from six points by Gold Coast at the start of the canto. Pittman had come from behind late in the first half to lead by six at the intermission, but Hall, Chen, ad Wilkie all scored in the first minute of the third period to tie the score. From then on, Gold Coast never trailed, as Hall added a bucket at the 1:30 mark of the third quarter to put Gold Coast ahead to stay.

But Pittman stayed close, and late in the game, trailed by only three points, 36-33. Gold Coast called time, and then scored what proved to be the decisive basket of the game, as Jeff Hall scored after taking down an offensive rebound.

Gold Coast's five point lead seemed secure, but they threw the ball away, and Hunter Wilson hit from inside to close the gap to 38-35. There now remained only two minutes.

Gold Coast ran the clock down to a minute and fourteen seconds, but once again made a bad pass and Pittman took possession. This time, however, Wilson bobbled the ball out of bounds and Gold Coast got it back with less than a minute to go. But the Gold Coasters missed a shot, and after a couple of seconds, John Driscoll hit to make the score 38-37.

Gold Coast then called time out and discussed their strategy for the last 30 seconds of the thriller. Wilkie then took his time in bringing the ball across the mid-court line. In the Junior Basketball Leagues, there is a rule prohibiting full-court pressing, and when Gold Coast finally got over the line, there was only 22 seconds left in the game. Jeff Smith then gave an intentional foul to force Gold Coast to bring the ball inbounds again, this time with a chance of a steal. But Gold Coast got it in safely with 16 seconds left. But this time Wilson gave the foul and Gold Coast took it out again. When Hall got the inbounds pass, he momentarily bobbled it, and instead of giving another foul, Wilson tried to grab the ball. But Hall kept the ball, and before Wilson could foul him, the clock showed only two seconds left in the contest. So Gold Coast had to take the ball from out of bounds one more time, and as they did, Mort Chen received the ball from Wilkie to clinch Gold Coast's second win of the year. That tied them with Pittman for second place in the Senior Division.

This week, there will be a rematch between the two teams. And as fans, we can only hope that it is half as exciting as last Saturday's confrontation at Langford Park. The rematch will get underway at 1 p.m.

How the ball bounced:

Gold Coast Tires (38)--Game Scoring: Hall 12, Wilkie 10, Chen 10, Atkinson 6

Pittman Insurance (37)--Game Scoring: Driscoll 17, Wilson 16, Bocchino 4.

Gold Coast 10, 6, 16, 6-38 Pittman 4, 18, 7, 8-37. Technical Fouls-none called, but none. Coaches-Frank Mock, Gold Coast, Cal Montgomery, Pittman.

Senior Division Scoring Leaders:

Compiled from the official records of the Senior Division scorebook: 1. John Driscoll, Pittman-98, 2. Tim Dargis, CWA-73, 3. John Wolf, CWA-66, 4. Brent Laycock, CWA-53, 5. Hunter Wilson, Pittman-46, 6. David Kenny, CWA-44, 7. Morris Chen, G. Coast-42, 8. Rex Graham, Pittman-26, 9. Donnie Wilkie, Gold Coast-26, 10. Jeff Hall, G. Coast-25 and David Bocchino, Pittman-25.

Baseball registration is Saturday

JENSEN BEACH--"Gather all your boys and girls aged 8-15, and send them on down to Langford Park this Saturday afternoon, because it's time to sign up for baseball!"

That is what most of the excited members of the Optimist Club of Jensen Beach are trying to spread around town this week, as the campaign to sign up kids for baseball comes to an end at 2:00 p.m. this Saturday afternoon.

Last Saturday only served to further encourage the many who put so much into baseball at Langford Park, as over 130 youngsters signed up for America's favorite pastime.

Any youngster interested may come to sign up any time between ten in the morning and two in the afternoon on Saturday. All that is required is a parent or guardian, who can sign the official application, and a birth certificate or another proof of age.

A fee of seven dollars will be collected to cover insurance and some of the best equipment in Martin County.

Last Saturday's registration was a blast. One hundred and thirty-five young men and ladies signed up and some of them came away with autographs from Doug Rader, one of the outstanding young third basemen in the National League, and a winner of the most coveted fielding award in baseball: the Golden Glove.

So don't forget! Sign your young boy or girl up for the best baseball program in the area. The registration is being held at the field house in Langford Park.

Area youths to compete

JENSEN BEACH--Area youths have been nominated to the nation's military academies by U.S. Rep. L.A. Bafalis.

Rep. Bafalis said the youths will compete for the 10th Congressional District appointments.

Everyman: Yesterday and Today

JENSEN BEACH--The Senior Youth Group of the Jensen Beach Community Church are doing something new this year. They have taken the 14th century morality play "Everyman" and interspersed the 14th century concepts of morality with today's.

"Everyman, Yesterday and Today" will be performed in the church sanctuary this Sunday, Feb. 16 at 7:00 p.m.

Tickets are available from any member of the Youth Group and will be sold following both services and during the coffee on Sunday morning, as well as at the door in the evening.

Chamber plans newsletter

JENSEN BEACH--A newsletter will be published by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce with the first issue to come off the press in the near future.

Chamber directors voted Monday night to go ahead with the newsletter after Don Wilkie, chairman of the newsletter committee, recommended the project.

Wilkie has called a meeting next Monday night at which time a decision will be made when the first issue will be published.

It was suggested by Wilkie that the newsletter would contain features, a column by Art Hansen, president, stories by committee chairmen and other materials to keep the members and organizations informed about chamber activities.

He suggested that copies be mailed to each member and organization, and estimated cost of printing at between $65 and $80. The newsletter would be published about every other month.

Committee reports were made by various chairmen during the monthly session of directors, with Ernie Baker predicting.

"I think we will have another successful art show."

Baker is chairman of the art show which will be held March 1-2 at Langford Park.

The chairman of the ninth annual show called by many as the best art show in the area said he expects at least 100 persons to exhibit their art work.

In other action, directors voted to stop publication of the accommodations list.

Directors said they think there is a duplication of the motel lists since accommodations list appears in the Fishing Guide.

And Hansen urged directors to attend the bicentennial celebration Feb 26 at First Federal Savings and Loan building beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"The chamber should be in a position to coordinate the celebration," Hansen said.

It also was noted by Hansen that the first annual Golf and Country Day set for this Sunday could be expanded to a week's celebration in 1976.

"We want one big 1976," Hansen said.

It was also suggested that efforts be made to get national television coverage of the chamber's July 4 celebration on the causeway.

Phillips-Moore engagement

JENSEN BEACH--Mr and Mrs Arthur Phillips of Vista Harbor announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter Barbara Ann to Patrick Craig Moore, the son of Mr. Patricia M. Moore of Vista Harbor. Miss Phillips is employed by the Indian River Memorial Hospital. Moore is a service Representative of Climatic Air Conditioning.

The wedding is planned to take place June 13 at 2 p.m. in the Community Church of Vero Beach.

Craig is the son of Pat Moore, Advertising Director of The Mirror.

Jensen girl is top student

TALLAHASSEE--Three female students and one male in Florida State University's College of Business have been chosen to receive $500 Price Waterhouse scholarships according to Dr. Homer Black, professor and chairman of accounting.

The students, whose combined average is 3.81 out of a possible 4.0, are Ellen Boschino, Jensen Beach, a transfer student from Indian River Community College; Janet Evans, Defuniak Springs; Rachel A. Hoodwin, Coral Gables, and Charles S. Simpson Jr., Tampa.

Art exhibit at museum

JENSEN BEACH--An outdoor exhibit featuring the paintings of Jensen Beach artists Ruth Bowman, Al Termini, Madelene Rebeiser, and Marguerite Duston will be held at the Elliot Museum on Sunday, Feb. 16 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

There is no charge and the public is invited to attend.

Birthday greetings

JENSEN BEACH--Happy Birthday and best wishes to these Jensen Beach folks: Gene Papadero and Lavaughn Tilton, Feb. 12 (today); Pamela Papadero, Nettie Hunter, Marian Brooks and Florence Older, Feb. 13; Emma Snyder, Feb. 14; Col. John Barnwell, Feb. 16; Lou Ann Dailey, Carl Heasley, Jackson Huggins, Jr. and Walter Bauman, Feb. 17; and Carol Sandell, Feb. 18.

Willis-Williams vows

JENSEN BEACH--Kathleen Marie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, Fort Pierce, and John Redmond Willis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Willis, Sr., 304 N. Rustic Lane, Jensen Beach, were joined in marriage on December 28, 1974.

The double ring ceremony was performed at St. Anastasia Catholic Church in Fort Pierce with Father Keene officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white cotton eyelet floor length gown and carried a bouquet fashioned of white mums. Her sister Anne served as her maid of honor and Carol Willis and Jill Byrum were her bridesmaids. All were attired in blue dotted swiss.

Mrs. Williams chose an ivory crepe floor length gown and mum corsage for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Willis wore a green crepe gown with mums.

A reception and buffet at the newlyweds home followed the ceremony.

The bride's attendants and bride's mother's gowns were all designed and sewn by the bride.

The new Mrs. Willis, Jr. is a graduate of Fort Pierce Central High and is attending Indian River Community College. She works at the Holiday Inn, Fort Pierce.

The groom graduated from Martin County High School and is also attending Indian River Community College. He is employed by Pantry Pride in Fort Pierce.

SINGLE!
WIDOWED!
DIVORCED!

Come join some of the nicest people in town who are having a good time at the "singles night" on Sunday evenings at the "Caboose Restaurant and Lounge" in downtown Stuart.

Meet new people, make new friends and become more popular. Music for dancing by the "Caboose Hobo's" starts at 7 p.m.

A trip to the "Caboose" is a sure way to beat the "lonesome blues". No reservations are necessary.

MCHS newspaper begins

BY DENNIS DOYLE

STUART--Apparently the heated controversy between Martin County High School students and administrators over the student newspaper a few months back has resulted in the recent newsletter named "Tiger Talk" currently distributed on campus.

At the time of the dispute, students wanted the right to begin a student newspaper, but school officials were reluctant due to previous failures.

Tom Humphrey, MCHS student activities director, began the newspaper last month. It is now published twice a week on two sides of a legal size sheet of white paper.

"Our biggest worry over the paper, is keeping the wording from hurting someone's feelings or using defamatory or misleading remarks", Humphreys said.

The director said at first the school had trouble getting students to read the paper, but now there are never enough papers around for everyone. The success is due to expanded coverage of club and school activities.

The high school currently distributes the paper to approximately 2000 students.

The February 10 issue is full of news for students, beginning with general information, an article on student parking stickers, what is new in the bookstore, what is for lunch and breakfast during the next week, guidance department notices, coming events, club and class events, athletic events and other informative stories students may miss now that the school is larger.

Humphrey's said further expansion is expected when both students, teachers and administrators will be able to submit feature stories and articles.

Belly dancer, bouzoukia feature of Greek party

FT. PIERCE--Greek independence day will be celebrated with a belly dancer and a bouzoukia (greek guitar) band on March 22 at the Fort Pierce Armory, according to Ernie Hantzakis, local representative of the Indian River Chapter, Order of Ahepa.

The BYOB party will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature the Greek "Savas Bouzoukia" band, with continuous Greek dancing. Set ups and ice will be available.

Tickets are available from OA members, or locally, from T&G Homes, 23 Commercial St., in the Tilton Arcade, or from Ernie Hantzakis in the Frances Langford Outrigger Restaurant Lounge.

Patricia Ford marries Ralph Plomb

JENSEN BEACH--Patricia May Ford and Ralph William Plomb were united in marriage at the First United Methodist Church, Stuart on January 24th. The Reverend Morris S. McCastian performed the double ring ceremony in a pretty setting of bouquets of white gladiolas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Ford, 324 Cedar Street, Jensen Beach. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Plomb of Pitchford Trailer Park, Jensen Beach, and Michigan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long A-line silk crepe gown, with long chiffon sleeves, filigree neckline and French illusion fingertip veil. She carried a nosegay of pink and red sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Amy Yates served as maid of honor. She was attired in a long powder blue gown of dotted swiss and lace. Her flowers were an Edwardian nosegay.

Mrs. Ford chose a pastel pink metallic print long gown for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink and rosebuds.

Mrs. Arthur Leah Anderson, Jensen Beach maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a light aqua gown and orchid corsage. The bride's paternal grandmother Mrs. Arthur Ford of Dover, N.J. wore a black and print gown with an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother chose a pale blue long dress and his grandmother, Mrs. John Hrca of Jensen Beach and Michigan, wore a deep purple print dress. Both wore orchid corsages.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. & Mrs. Samuel Rhodes, Jr. of Jensen Beach, a cousin of the bride. Audry Algers and Mrs. Clare Webb, aunt of the bride, all from Dover, N.J.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Martin County High School, where she was a member of the Future Home Makers Association all four years.

Plomb attended high school in Michigan and served in the United States Navy.

The happy couple are at home at Sun and Palm Cottages, Jensen Beach.

The Big Day was a party at our clubhouse for the Burning of the Mortgage. With a full house turnout, each dressed in his best, it was a most beautiful sight to behold. The hall was decorated with yellow and white mums on the white-covered serving tables, along with silver service and a beautiful cake with the inscription "Lake Manor Happy Day."

The "burning" took place outside, done by Vernon Stoddard.

An address, given by Andy Bulloch, reviewed the last two years, commending all who have contributed their services in many ways.

The directors' wives and a few other ladies served the coffee, punch and cake. All in all it was a lovely, happy occasion.

Membership mounts

League to present candidates

PORT ST. LUCIE–An estimated crowd of over two hundred persons attended the first general meeting of the Port St. Lucie Civic League, held Monday night at the St. Lucie Convention Hall.

"The Civic League is unity, unity in the City of Port St. Lucie north, south, east and west," said Mike Reeb, vice president and director of the league.

The purpose of this organization is to work in a positive manner for the good of the present and future individuals residing here in Port St. Lucie.

We didn't come to Port St. Lucie to fight or quarrel, but neither did we come here to be pushed around," Reed continued.

We are not involved in doing something most of the residents here have never done before. We are building a city and to do that we need the best men we can get on the City Council and in the Civic League." Reed said, in asking the continued support of the membership.

League President Robert Johnston stressed the importance of a master plan for the city and reported the league had been instrumental in obtaining a planning committee working independently of the City Council.

The league was active a successful in getting a charter revision committee formed.

I think we are very fortunate in having a voice on the charter revision committee," Johnston said.

Mark Reed was appointed by Mayor Larry Kimmel to serve on the committee.

Johnston went on to point out that the upcoming city elections are of particular concern to the Civic League.

It is our hope this organization will play an important part in the election by backing one candidate for each of the four council seats open," he said.

Each candidate to be backed by the League will need a three-quarters vote of the 12 man board of directors, or a minimum of nine votes.

All candidates will have the opportunity of speaking before the residents during a special meeting of the Civic League to be held March 6 at 8 p.m. in the Convention Hall.

Johnston urged all citizens of the community to attend the meeting, listen to the candidates and above all, to get out and vote.

A round of applause was forthcoming when the president praised the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie for the tremendous progress they have made referring to the recent court rulings handed down by Judge James Alderman.

This court action has involved tremendous expenses on the part of the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie and they can see and deserve your financial support in seeing the matter through to the end," Johnston said.

It is the responsibility of each one of us to see that we have five councilmen running our government that are free from domination by General Development Corporation or any other particular group," Johnston said.

The next few years will be the most critical in the future of Port St. Lucie. Plans are being made now and government actions are being taken which will affect your future. It is the purpose of this League to keep you informed and enable you to have a voice in these decisions through your participation in the Civic League."

Johnston told his listeners

League officers signed up several new members during the Monday night meeting. Total membership of the organization is approximately 300.

Officers of the league are Robert Johnston president, Paul M. Reeb vice president, Jean Dascher, secretary, and Bert McDonnell, treasurer.

Directors of the organization include the above officers and James Docos, James Waldie, Roy Hannum, William Jahn, William Flanagan, Lawrence Rosene, John Schwartz and Herbert O. Tschudy.

July completion date is set for medical building

PORT ST. LUCIE–Residents of the south county area may see a long awaited professional building constructed in their midst.

According to the project's developers plans for a $600,000 medical facility to be constructed on U.S. 1 approximately one mile south of the Spanish Lakes entrance are now on the drawing board.

Edward Glaser of Stuart, one of the three partners of the GGS Corporation said the facility should be completed by July 1975.

The building is designed to house twenty doctors, dentists and druggists, and will be situated on a two acre site recently acquired by the GGS Corporation.

The facility will provide 20,000 square feet of rental area and according to Glaser several inquiries have been received from doctors who are interested in locating there.

Glaser said the office space will be rented only to members of the medical profession. There will be 96 parking spaces for patients and the two acre tract will be attractively landscaped.

Glaser said the building permit for the facility will likely be obtained within the week from the county building department.

We do not expect any difficulty in obtaining the building permit. A lot of work has gone into the planning of this facility and we anticipate no problems whatsoever," Glaser said.

The GGS Corp. has been involved in other projects in the area and has constructed homes and warehouses in Stuart.

The GGS Corp. is comprised of three equal partners, Glaser of Stuart, William Salba of Sewall's Point and Joe Gerlek of Hollywood, Fl.

Astrology class starts February 19

PORT ST. LUCIE–A new astrology class will commence Feb. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the CESA Community Center.

According to Schuyler Sharp, the enthusiastic attendanqore of the previous astrology class which will be concluded this week brought requests for a follow up six weeks class.

Instructor for the CESA sponsored course will be Mrs. Cindy Campbell. There will be a registration fee for the course. Those wishing to register may call the CESA building, 878-1388 for additional information.

Holy Faith outlines service

PORT ST. LUCIE–Lenten season services at Holy Faith Episcopal Church will start off with a Service of Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Ash Wednesday, Feb. 12 - today.

Immediately following the evening Communion Service there will be a soup service with the Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church in the Holy Faith sanctuary.

Rev. Dean Brown of the Methodist Church will preach the sermon.

The schedule of activities for every Wednesday during Lent is as follows: 5:15- Stations of the Cross, 5:30- Evening Prayer, 6:00- Pot Luck Supper, 6:30- Bible Study.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the Wednesday evening sessions. All churches in Port St. Lucie have been invited to share in these activities. The schedule is designed so that one may participate in whichevere of the activities he desires and need not necessarily stay for the whole evening.

During Holy Week there will be a Service of Holy Communion every day at Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:30 a.m. The Maundy Thursday service is planned for 7:30 p.m.

Baptists celebrate

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Port St. Lucie First Baptist Church will celebrate their second anniversary as a fully organized Southern Baptist Church and George A. Durham will celebrate his fifth anniversary as pastor of the church this Sunday, Feb. 16.

Two years ago the church was known as the First Baptist Chapel of Port St. Lucie. On Feb. 11, 1973, the church officially organized and adopted a constitution. On Feb. 10, 1974, they dedicated their new educational building and refurbishing of the sanctuary with new pews and carpeting.

Special events in observance of the anniversaries will include dinner on the grounds following the morning service, a special music program by the Stuart First Baptist Church choir at 2 p.m., and a color film, "Blood on the Mountain" will be shown at the 7 p.m. service.

Filing dates set for candidates

PORT ST. LUCIE–Although many rumbles have been heard throughout the city regarding prospective candidates for the March 11 city elections, only a scant few have appeared to pick up their qualifying papers at the City Hall.

According to the City Administrator Bernard Rubin, all candidates must file a notice of candidacy with the city clerk between 9 a.m. February 19 and 5 p.m. February 28, 1975.

All candidates must be owners of real property in the City of Port St. Lucie and each must be a registered voter in the city at the time of their qualification.

No filing fee is required and the city will furnish the candidates with the required form for filing their notice of candidacy.

Four of the five council seats are up for grabs following a ruling handed down by Circuit Court Judge James E. Alderman two weeks ago, stating the Group Two seat must be included on the March ballot.

Seats up for election for four year terms are Group 1, 3 and 5. Group Two [illegible] for a [illegible] term.

City to retain lawyers in suit

PORT ST. LUCIE–The City Council Tuesday voted unanimously to retain additional legal counsel to continue work with the suit brought against the city by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc.

The action was taken at the recommendation of the City Attorney Rupert Smith.

Since the city has until February 23 to file answers to the charges outlined in the suit, Smith said, I would like to request the council retain additional legal advisors."

Citing his three reasons for making such a request, Smith said, First of all it is my opinion the court is questioning several Councilmen as defendants and three could be called as a witness concerning the setting up of the city's present plans."

When asked how much he would estimate such services to cost, Smith answered, I do not know exactly, but I would consider several thousand dollars."

On the basis of what Mr. Smith has said I move the council accept his proposal to engage additional legal counsel," Councilman Ron Mc Bride said.

The remaining councilmen unanimously approved the move.

The Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc. won the first round of a four round fight last week in the Circuit Court when Judge Alderman handed down a ruling that the Group Two seat occupied by Vaughn Lewis would be up for election March 11.

A second ruling stated Mayor Larry Kimmel could not double as city engineer and draw compensation for both positions.

Therein he resigned from his position of city engineer following the ruling.

The suit also challenges the council action illegally in naming former Councilman Franklin Beardsley as head of the department of general government, a position for which he draws $2,500 a year.

Whether or not the money paid to the Mayor and Beardsley for these positions is to be repaid has yet to be decided by the court.

The fourth count of the suit claims the city's pension plan is in violation of state law. The suit states Councilmen receive benefits for the council members than for others under the plan.

McChesney is named finance chairman

PORT ST. LUCIE–Shortly after Councilman William B. McChesney was appointed chairman of the city's finance committee, he gave his first official report.

Following a meeting of the finance committee to be held Feb. 14, McChesney informed the council there would be a certificate of deposit due Feb. 18 in the amount of $100,000.

I would therefore like the City Council to grant the finance committee permission to place the additional $100,000 wherever we can get the best possible return.

A special meeting was held by the committee on Feb. 6, at which time a certificate of deposit for $100,000 was placed with the First National Bank and Trust of Stuart.

McChesney also gained Council approval to transfer the City's payroll account from the First National Bank and Trust of Stuart to the Port St. Lucie Bank.

City retains engineering consultants on trial basis

PORT ST. LUCIE–The City agreed Tuesday to retain the services of a Stuart engineering firm of Sanders, Montgomery and Associates, Inc.

According to City Administrator Bernard Rubin, who made the recommendation to the Council, the firm employs a staff of eight and is qualified in all phases of the engineering field.

The city has been without an engineer since the Circuit Court ruled recently that Mayor Larry Kimmel, a qualified engineer, could not hold that position with the city and draw compensation for the second position.

Rubin told the Council he had received a proposal from the engineering firms and one individual applying for the job as city engineer.

The second firm to issue a proposal to the city were civil engineers and did not do construction work.

The individual would probably come to work for the city at a $15,000 salary, but I don't feel he can provide the wide scope which Sanders, Montgomery can offer," Rubin said adding, the young man is a 1974 graduate.

It was approved by the council the firm be retained on a six month trial basis.

Regarding the fees, Rubin said he thought the figure would probably be less than $1,000 for the six months.

Installation set for February 16

PORT ST. LUCIE–The next regular meeting of the Italian and American Civic Association Inc. will be the installation of officers dinner on Feb. 16.

At a recent meeting, Pat and Esta Milardi were welcomed as new members. President Tony Maida appointed Lucille Hanson to head the ways and means committee, Helen Gilbert and Marty Armato as co-chairmen of the program committee and Florence Dabney to head publicity.

The land and building committee reported on their progress in acquiring land on which to build a clubhouse.

Movies of the Christmas party were shown and refreshments served. After the meeting adjourned, members joined in a social game of cards.

On the roster of coming events is an April Shower Luncheon and Fashion Show for men and women on Saturday, April 12 from 12:30 to 5 p.m. For reservations call Helen Gilbert at 878-3358 or Helen Sabira 878-4649.

Time changed for Saturday Bingo

PORT ST. LUCIE–When the CESA board met last Friday, they gave their unanimous approval to the change in the Saturday bingo schedule.

Bingo Chairman Schuyler Sharp asked citing the difficulty in getting volunteers to work and the poor attendance at the evening games.

We will be playing the same games starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday that our residents enjoy so much on Tuesdays and I feel the time change will make it more convenient for the people to attend," Sharp concluded.

CWA clinches senior title

JENSEN BEACH—CWA Local Post 3111 clinched the Senior Division title last Saturday afternoon at Langford Park as the Big Yellow Machine overcame the jitters which occupied them at the beginning and went on to post a 44-27 win over Pittman Insurance.

Pittman offered little resistance in the fourth quarter of the contest, as they set a record that can quickly be forgotten—LEAST points in a quarter—while watching CWA pop in almost every shot they took.

John Driscoll led all scorers in the game. Driscoll hit on all five of his field goal attempts in the first half, but could only manage two points in the second half. All told, Driscoll finished with 12 points in a losing cause for the Insurancemen. Leading scorers for the Big Yellow Machine were Tim Dargis and David Kenny, both of whom hit for twelve points. John Wolf was the only other player in double figures for the yellow, with 10 points.

Pittman jumped out to a 7-0 lead early in the first quarter, as CWA had the jitters. They knew that a win would give them the Senior Division Championship Soon, however, they overcame those jitters and, by the end of the first quarter, led 12-11. Brent Laycock secured the basket which put the Big Yellow Machine in front for the first time in the game.

The second quarter saw CWA jump to a 5 point lead midway through the second canto, but soon Pittman had come from behind with five consecutive points to tie the score at eighteen apiece. The halftime score was 20-20.

The third canto saw CWA stretch their lead to 32-25. But for most of the quarter, Hunter Wilson kept Pittman in the game with his timely rebounds and baskets. The tall, lanky forward put Pittman ahead 23-22 after 3:14 of the third period, but CWA's Tim Dargis then put CWA ahead for good with a jumper from the baseline. He then scored again and Gregg Jackson added yet another tally to make the score 28-23 in favor of the league leaders.

From the time that Wilson put the Insurancemen on top, CWA outscored Pittman 22-4 for the rest of the contest.

In the fourth quarter, the only Pittman score came from Wilson, who closed the gap to 36-27, but John Wolf then ran off three quick baskets and Dargis added one at the final buzzer to make the final 44-27.

This week, both teams will take on second place Gold Coast. The Gold Coast-Pittman rematch will start at 6 p.m., while the CWA-Gold Coast finale will follow immediately thereafter.

Senior Division Single-Game Highs

Tim Dargis of CWA scored 19 points against Gold Coast Tires. In the same game, John Wolf, also a member of the CWA team, hit for 17. John Driscoll of Pittman hit for 17 last Saturday in a losing effort against Gold Coast. Driscoll and Brent Laycock of CWA have scored 16. Driscoll did it against Gold Coast, as did Laycock. Driscoll also has hit 15, as he turned that trick in a game at CWA.

Gold Coast upsets Pittman, 38-37

JENSEN BEACH—Going into last night's second Senior Division basketball contest at Jensen Beach Park it was obvious to all Langford Park fans present that the night's finale would be no contest. It would be Pittman Insurance, determined to avenge their two game losing streak to the league's last place team the Gold Coast Tires.

But Pittman had a tremendous scare. They had averaged over 30 points per game, while Gold Coast had averaged but half of that figure. At the end of the game, Gold Coast had upset the Insurancemen by the score of 38-37, or what has to be labeled the most exciting go-around.

Jeff Hall had 12 points for the losers as the Gold Coasters enjoyed their most balanced and productive night of the year. Donnie Wilkie had 10 and then each had 16 for Gold Coast and John Driscoll had 17 for the losers.

Hunter Wilson's 16 markers kept Pittman in the game in the first quarter as Gold Coast threatened to run away with great defense at the outset of the game which often resulted in easy steals and lay-ups for the Insurance Gold Coasters.

The score was tied on four occasions during a 22-22 deadlock early in the second half. This resulted from very poor passing by Gold Coast at the start of the game. Pittman had come from behind late in the first half to lead by six at the intermission, but Hall, Chen, and Wilkie all scored in the first minute of the third period to tie the score. From then on, Gold Coast never trailed, as Hall added a bucket at the 1:30 mark of the third quarter to put Gold Coast ahead to stay.

But Pittman stayed close, and late in the game, trailed by only three points, 36-33. Gold Coast called time and then scored what proved to be the decisive basket of the game, as Jeff Hall scored after taking down an offensive rebound.

Gold Coast's five point lead seemed secure, but they threw the ball away, and Hunter Wilson hit from inside to close the gap to 38-35. There now remained only two minutes.

Gold Coast ran the clock down to a minute and fourteen seconds, but once again made a bad pass and Pittman took possession. This time however, Wilson bobbled the ball out of bounds and Gold Coast got it back on a toss that a minute to go. But the Gold Coasters missed a shot, and after a couple of seconds John Driscoll hit to make the score 38-37.

Gold Coast then called time out and discussed their strategy for the last 60 seconds of the thriller. Wilkie then took his time in bringing the ball across the mid-court line and, in the fashion of Basketball Leagues there is a rule prohibiting full-court pressing, and when Gold Coast finally got over the line there was only 22 seconds left in the game. Jeff Smith then gave an intentional foul to force Gold Coast to bring the ball inbounds again, this time with a chance of a steal. But Gold Coast got it on safely with 14 seconds left. But this time Wilson gave the foul and Gold Coast took it out again. When Hall got the inbounds pass he momentarily bobbled it, and instead of giving another foul, Wilson tried to grab the ball. But Hall kept the ball and before Wilson could foul him, the clock showed only two seconds left in the contest. So Gold Coast had to take the ball from out of bounds one more time, and as they did, Morris Chen received the ball from Wilkie to clinch Gold Coast's second win of the year. That tied them with Pittman for second place in the Senior Division.

This week, there will be a rematch between the two teams. And as fans, we can only hope that it is half as exciting as last Saturday's confrontation at Langford Park. The rematch will get underway at 1 p.m.

Baseball registration is Saturday

JENSEN BEACH—Gather all your boys and girls aged 8-15, and send them on down to Langford Park this Saturday afternoon, because it's time to sign up for baseball!

That is what most of the excited members of the Uptumat Club of Jensen Beach are trying to spread around town this week, as the campaign to sign up kids for baseball comes to an end at 2:00 p.m. this Saturday afternoon.

Last Saturday only served to further encourage the many who put so much into baseball at Langford Park, as over 130 youngsters signed up for America's favorite pastime.

Any youngster interested may come to sign up any time between ten in the morning and two in the afternoon on Saturday. All that is required is a parent or guardian, who can sign the official application, and a birth certificate or another proof of age.

A fee of seven dollars will be collected to cover insurance and some of the best equipment in Martin County.

Last Saturday's registration was a blast. One hundred and thirty-five young men and ladies signed up and some of them came away with autographs from Doug Rader, one of the outstanding young third basemen in the National League, and a winner of the most coveted fielding award in baseball, the Golden Glove.

So don't forget! Sign your young boy or girl up for the best baseball program in the area. The registration is being held at the field house in Langford Park.

Area youths to compete

JENSEN BEACH—Area youths have been nominated to the nation's military academies by U.S. Rep. L.A. Bafalis.

Rep. Bafalis said the youths will compete for the 10th Congressional District appointments.

Kiwanis project

Work begins on soccer field

JENSEN BEACH--Plans for a new soccer field for FIT Jensen Beach were revealed Monday by Dick Campbell chairman of the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club committee.

The Kiwanis project will forsee a soccer field that can be used by the youth of Jensen Beach when not in use by FIT teams and will be named Kiwanis Field by FIT according to Campbell.

Working on the project committee is Campbell, Pete Navaretta FIT administrator and a Kiwanian Dean Ernest Tealey. FIT and Vince Bocchino president of the Jensen Optimist Club.

We have the clearing under way now and hope to begin filling in the first week, Campbell reported.

He said that a cooperative effort between a construction and city and Deigler Construction should produce the necessary fill for the field and arrangements are being worked out with a trucking firm to move the fill to the field.

The board of directors of Kiwanis has approved up to $1,000 of the youth activities fund in the construction of the field, and Campbell stated that the money would probably be used in areas where donations couldn't handle the job, especially in the pump and well system for watering the field.

Kiwanis Field will be large enough so that FIT home soccer games can be played in Jensen Beach at the campus. At present the team must play its games at Murray School south of Stuart. The playing of home games, according to Tealey, would build community interest in the college team and build a community college spirit.

The soccer field is large enough to accommodate two little league football fields and two slow pitch softball fields to lessen the heavy use of Langford Park, an idea that is welcomed by Bocchino.

We are having difficulty scheduling the number of softball and baseball leagues we have now, and our programs are expanding every year. This is a great idea and I want to support it as best we can," Bocchino said.

Campbell said that he will be contacting many local merchants for donations of materials and supplies as the project proceeds. It is hoped that the soccer field will be completed by the last term of FIT.

Jensen Optimists build a community record

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH--In the past seven months the Jensen Beach Optimist Club has built an enviable record of community service.

Specializing in youth activities, the Optimists have moved Langford Park into the next decade in activities, and have branched into such public service projects as to be known as the club that gets things done.

Not content with working on projects the Optimists alone are sponsoring the local group has helped the Kiwanis Club, Junior Women's Club, American Legion, and church groups.

Optimists have a unique system of committees that operate under a board of directors. Each committee meets once each week, and the committees report to the board once each month. The club then hears reports the third Wednesday of every month.

Action is immediate, and the club is probably the most active of service clubs.

"We are not a drinking club, or an eating club. We are a working club, with little time for socializing," says Vince Bocchino, president and one driving force of the Optimists.

In the past four weeks the Optimists have been working on registration of baseball players for the coming Mustang, Bronco, Pony, and Colt leagues, and eighteen baseball teams in Jensen Beach alone will be formed into the four leagues, ages 8 to 16.

In two weekends 140 girls and boys have signed up, and Bocchino expects another 80 to sign up.

Girls softball leagues are being formed, with the Optimists looking for as many teams as we can get to play.

In basketball, just wrapping up a successful season, 56 boys participated in the league on four minor and three youth teams.

As a finale this Saturday the Optimists plan to take a donated FIT bus to Miami Beach for an all star game on a home and home basis. Three teams will participate with age groups 10-11, 12-13, and 14-15. The American Legion is paying for the travel.

The Optimists raise money for uniforms, and serve the baseball, football, and basketball teams with all equipment and managers and coaches.

An unorganized volleyball game led to the development of interest in that sport, and the Tuesday Thursday games have led to the organization of a volleyball league for next year.

We're a young club, and we need money badly. There is so much to do for the youngsters," Bocchino said.

One fund raising project held last week was a bake-in one tournament at Holiday Golf Club. The club hopes to realize at least $300 from the effort.

Not content with just a sports effort, the Optimists held a successful rock concert at the park, with youngsters behaving themselves like gentlemen, according to Bocchino. The entire club turns out for the special events to help make them successes.

The club also holds free movies for the area young people.

A trash pickup day is planned for cleaning up Jensen Beach and Rio in April. The club plans to get trucks donated to haul the trash to the county landfill. Digging for sports fields to be held, the club has already had promises of trucks to be donated by Tri Construction and Lyn and Deigler Construction.

The Optimist Club formed a women's auxiliary on Tuesday, with hopes that the women will handle projects such as arts and crafts, baking, sewing, an annual play, and other projects for the girls in the community.

Such events will be held in Langford Park Field House.

Tom Sawyer Day is planned for April 26, that day everyone, including the young people, will turn out to work on Langford Park cleaning and painting. The day will be ended with an afternoon picnic.

Bocchino sees a great future for the Optimists in Jensen Beach. By working with all the different clubs and organizations the Optimists made a future for Langford Park, and many activities for the youth of the community.

Kiwanis chicken fry is Sunday at Langford

JENSEN BEACH--Efforts to top the [illegible] Chicken Dinner last year will [illegible] as the Key to success as Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club gets set for the ultimate fantastic chicken dinner. The chicken fry is set for Sunday, March 2 at Langford Park Fieldhouse.

The chicken dinner has become a Jensen Beach tradition, according to Kiwanis President Richard Pettick, who says will more favorite Kiwanis area will be on hand to serve the dinners prepared by Chef Dora Get Lucy Schaffer and Bill Chef Cal.

The chicken dinner will consist of a chicken cooked to the golden brown stage seasoned Italian cheese recipe, potatoes, cole slaw, roll and beverage.

Taxpayers to hear Bafalis

JENSEN BEACH--U.S. Rep. [illegible] Skip Bafalis, starting his second term as Congressman from the 6th Florida District, which includes Martin County, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Martin County Taxpayers Association.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting, which will be held Friday, Feb. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Stuart Woman's Club building on East Ocean Blvd.

The Congressman will be introduced by Nathaniel P. Reed, assistant secretary of the U.S. Dept. of the Interior.

The speakers will be preceded by a short business meeting and election of directors. F.J. Waterbury, president of the association, will conduct the meeting.

Rep. Bafalis has visited in Martin County since his first term election in 1972, and has re-elected in 1974.

Tax bills not ready

JENSEN BEACH--Martin County property tax bills already months late are not ready for mailing and County Tax Collector Alvin Andrews said Tuesday that he didn't know when they would be ready.

I cannot put a date on when they will be mailed," Andrews said.

Andrews pointed out that one of the hold ups on the tax bills mailing is the fact that the City of Stuart has not certified its millage.

The city is holding a public hearing today (Feb. 19) on its budget and millage, the tax collector said.

Andrews said he receives several letters each day from taxpayers who want to know when they will receive their bills.

His office made up standard post cards to mail to persons asking about the tax bills.

I've sent out over a thousand of the cards," Andrews said, and I've had to update it several times.

First mailing of the cards some months back stated.

The preparation of the 1974 Martin County tax roll has been delayed due to a county wide reassessment. Until the tax roll is completed and certified to this office tax bills cannot be prepared for mailing. We do not expect the bills to be mailed until about Dec. 15.

The 4 percent discount will be allowed from the date of mailing the bills. Thus the amount for the first 30 days, will be the amount shown on the bill as amount due in November. After the 30 days the amount due will be the amount shown on the bill for the month in which payment is made.

Andrews pointing to the Dec. 15 date on the card, said, "I cannot even say the bills will be ready for mailing March 1.

County population set at 45,097

JENSEN BEACH--The [illegible] population of Martin County [illegible] at 45,097 by the State Department of Administration.

The figure is about [illegible] than the county Planning Department had estimated.

There had been some conflict over whose estimate was correct for a couple of months.

It was estimated by the County Department that the county's population on Dec. 31, 1973 was at [illegible].

Several weeks ago Commissioner Chairman Ross Philbrick [illegible] updated figures in the state.

The State Department of Administration however, after apparently reviewing the higher figures compiled by the county, rejected it in favor of the University of Florida figures.

Outgoing Commissioner Chairman Ed Sears suggested redistricting of commission districts this year but the present commission rejected the suggestion.

Baseball registration will close

JENSEN BEACH--Registration for youth baseball at Langford Park will close Friday night, the Jensen Optimist club has announced.

Persons interested in playing youth baseball between the ages of eight and sixteen can register at the park field house after 4 p.m. daily.

Homestead filing deadline is Feb. 28

JENSEN BEACH--Deadline for filing homestead exemptions is fast approaching, the Martin County tax assessor's office reminds property owners.

Deadline for filing homestead exemption is March 1, but that date is Saturday, and the office will be closed.

Property owners should file by Feb 28, the assessor's office reported.

Art Festival March 1-2

JENSEN BEACH--The Ninth Annual Jensen Beach Outdoor Art Festival at Langford Park March 1-2 promises to be another big success according to Ernie Baker chairman.

We have more than 70 persons registered for the event, Baker said.

More than 100 artists are expected to exhibit their works during the two-day event according to Baker.

Entry fee is $2 for each exhibitor payable in advance at the time application to exhibit is made, the chairman said.

Some of the rules for the exhibit include 1. Each exhibit must be an original work executed by the exhibitor. 2. The exhibit may be in any fine art medium; crafts are not acceptable. 3. Each exhibit must be identified with a three-by-five card showing the name of the artist, medium used, and price if the work is offered for sale.

Arch repair progress is reported

JENSEN BEACH--Progress is being made on recoating and landscaping of the Jensen Beach Arch on SR-707, it was announced Monday by the Jensen Beach Garden Club.

"The club is most anxious to have this work completed in time for the sesquicentennial Celebration next year," Mrs. William Stephenson said.

Mrs. Stephenson, chairman of the club's Ways and Means Committee, said that Martin County Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick reported that some funds would be available to assist the club on the project.

Proceeds from the thrifty shopper sale held last November and the spring card party, Feb. 28, will go toward the project, according to Mrs. Stephenson.

Repairing the sprinkling system and landscaping of the Arch will be done by Commission funds, she reported.

Needs volunteers too

Rio Fire Department begins fund drive

RIO–The Rio Volunteer Fire Department hopes you will never have to call them but if you do, they want to be equipped to save property and possibly your life.

Besides to up-date and maintain fire fighting equipment, The Rio Fire Department began seeking annual donations the beginning of February from residents of the surrounding communities it serves.

A small firehouse located on SR 707 in Rio is the base for the sixteen firemen who cover areas of Rio, North River Shores, Palm Lake Park and areas north from Britt Road with their four trucks.

According to Bob Heaslip, president of the volunteer firemen, donations since last years fund drive enabled them to acquire a 2200 gallon tank truck the largest in the county.

Hopefully, contributions this year will support the purchase of 2,000 feet worth of hose for the tanker.

The tanker, if purchased completely assembled would have cost between $25,000 and $30,000, assistant chief Ken Klager said.

The new first purchased the 13,000 tank truck chassis and then later a $5,500 water tank. Approximately $3,000 worth of equipment is still needed before the tanker is complete.

The volunteer department consists completely of working men who devote their evening and weekend hours to the maintenance of equipment and fire fighting.

The departments fleet consists of the tank truck, one woods six by six truck and two house trucks.

Not only money runs the volunteer fire department, Heaslip says. Volunteers between the ages of 18-50 are welcome to join. Regular meetings are the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the firehouse.

Contributions can be mailed to The Rio Volunteer Fire Department, P.O. Box 953, Jensen Beach, Fla. 33457, or by calling Chief Bill Gass at 334-5329 for further information.

Wacha urges road four-laning

JENSEN BEACH–Former Martin County Commission Chairman Frank Wacha of Jensen Beach urges four-laning of East Ocean Boulevard.

In a letter to his successor, Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick, Wacha writes:

"I do not believe we have a proposed capital improvement project in Martin County that needs doing more than the improvement of East Ocean Boulevard."

Wacha suggested that Philbrick meet with other community leaders and the state Department of Transportation (DOT) to plan and discuss the four-laning of East Ocean Boulevard from the railroad tracks to the bridge.

The long-time commissioner (12 years) also noted in his letter to Philbrick:

"The Federal Government is about to release a large sum of money to Florida for road building, hopefully you have taken the necessary steps to get this project first on the state's list."

Wacha further suggested:

"It has been my experience that those who yell first, yell loudly, and yell the longest are the ones who get things done and to get this job done one should muster all the clout one can."

"The job of getting things done is the responsibility of the elected representatives of the people, it is not the responsibility of those hired by the elected officials. There is money to be spent on Florida roads, I sure hope East Ocean Boulevard will be one of those roads and that jobs will be created for Martin County's jobless because of the improvement."

Audit critical of county office

JENSEN BEACH–A state audit critical of Martin County property appraiser was called untimely and misleading by E.F. Schnurbusch, property appraiser.

Schnurbusch said the criticisms published in an audit report by auditor general Ernest Ellison were untimely because he took corrective action to offset the criticisms six months ago.

Ellison's report criticized Schnurbusch for employing consultants and buying equipment without written contracts in some cases and poor record keeping.

The audit was critical of transactions which Schnurbusch paid employees of a consulting firm without a contract to cover the employee's services.

Schnurbusch said that details of the services to be performed by the employees were spelled out at a public meeting of the County Commission, and these details were part of the public record.

Rummage sale is Saturday

JENSEN BEACH–There will be a rummage sale at Langford Park Saturday, Feb. 22, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The National Organization for Women (NOW) is sponsoring the sale.

Woman's Club hosts Art Festival

STUART–The Woman's Club of Stuart hosted the District 10 Art Festival at the St. Lucie Hilton Convention Hall last week. Mrs. Elma Johnson, Stuart club president, was general chairman.

More than 250 district members attended the all day affair. Morning activities included a meeting, program and style show. Members made their own entries for the show.

In the Arts and Crafts division, the Woman's Club of Stuart members won nine ribbons with a total of 35 points which gave them a tie for first place in points.

Blue ribbon winners included: Betty Cline, flower arranging (Japanese); Adele Johnson, beadwork (necklace and earring set); Iola Connelly, water color (landscape); Bess Brown, oil painting (Still Life); Adele Johnson, Cray-pas (Life); Ruth Fox, oil abstract (Reflection of a City).

Other ribbon winners were Gertrude Lakso, white ribbon for needlepoint (Finnish Scene); Thyra Mapp, red ribbon for hooked rug; and Kay Ruppert, white ribbon for quilling (necklace and earring set).

Jr. Woman's Club of Stuart winners took a total of six ribbons for 25 points including blue ribbons to Sue West, black and white photography; E. J. Geiger, Florida materials; Kathy Green, decoupage and Diana Gaita, decorated eggs.

Kathy Meyers was awarded a white ribbon in ceramics and Sara Barron a red ribbon for crochet.

No to gas rationing

WASHINGTON—Gasoline rationing is not a viable solution to our ever increasing dependence on foreign oil.

It just won't work.

Admittedly, there are many Americans who are now calling for a rationing program. Unfortunately, however, they are issuing the call on the basis of two false assumptions – first that they will continue to get as much gasoline as they are now using and secondly, that rationing will not mean a price increase.

Both assumptions are wrong. Any rationing program will have the same goal as the proposed tariff: cutting fuel consumption by one million barrels of oil a day by the end of the year and by two million barrels by the end of 1977.

To do that, we can't have a rationing program which allows motorists to use the same amount of gasoline they consume today. No, any proposed rationing program would limit motorists to less than 30 gallons of gas per month.

And the price of that rationed gasoline would be more than what we are paying now, perhaps not the 13 cent per gallon hike that President Ford's proposed tariff on imports would bring about but at least an 8-10 cent per gallon jump, according to most experts.

But, even if the rationing limit weren't so low and even if the price wouldn't jump, rationing would still be the wrong answer.

Gasoline isn't the only product made from oil. And any rationing program would have to take into consideration the other products – jet fuel, heating oil, diesel fuel, petro-chemicals for plastics and double-knit [illegible] fuels and the like.

This means, [illegible] the federal government would have to decide who gets how much of each of these things. Every family [illegible] truck, motorbike and lawnmower [illegible] store, school and church and every [illegible] manufacturer, everyone and everything would have to go to the government for [illegible] an allotment.

The bureaucracy needed to handle such a program is mind-boggling – at least 15,000 - 20,000 people on the federal level plus some 3,000 state and local boards to handle exemptions and exceptions, not to mention some $2 billion a year in salaries and other costs.

Perhaps on a short-term basis during a national emergency, such a system would be worthwhile. But we aren't talking about a short-term situation. We are talking about a program of at least 10-years duration, until we can develop alternative sources of energy and become as self-sufficient in fuel, be it fossil, nuclear, solar or whatever, as possible.

And we aren't talking about a national emergency, such as World War II, where the public generally supported whatever steps were necessary to achieve victory. Let's face it, even during World War II, there was collusion, counterfeiting and cheating to beat rationing.

So rationing just isn't a viable alternative – particularly for Florida. Rationing would virtually destroy Florida's tourist industry. Since some 80 per cent of Florida's tourist come by car, rationing would force them to vacation at home.

And, since tourism provides either directly or indirectly, jobs for more than 700,000 Floridians, rationing would send our state's unemployment rate soaring above the already staggering 8.3 per cent mark. Equally as disastrous would be the effect on state government. Tourists pay a large percentage of our state's sales and gasoline tax receipts. Without tourists, the year-round residents would be forced to severely curtail state and local governmental services or pay higher sales and property taxes themselves to make up the loss. Or both.

But, as disastrous as rationing would be, a nationwide allocation system would be almost as bad. We would need the same sprawling bureaucracy forcing itself into every facet of our lives. And, even then it wouldn't be particularly efficient – probably not quite as efficient as a postal service.

And, it would have a ruinous effect on our national economy. Economists predict the initial disruption from imposing a national allocation system would mean the loss of at least 800,000 jobs – something we cannot afford in the best of times, and certainly now now during a period of extremely high unemployment.

What we must do is combine a national equalization program with lower imports thereby insuring Florida a share of the fuel oil produced inside the U.S. Since nearly 80 per cent of Florida's total energy comes from oil – and since most of the oil is imported from Benezuela – a simple tariff on imports would do nothing but add to the burden already staggering too many Floridians. Just look at your electric bill now, and imagine it going up.

Floridians are willing to pay the cost of ending our constantly growing dependence on imported oil. But they should not – and must not – be called on to bear a heavier share of the burden than the rest of the nation.

Letters to the Editor

To the editor:

On behalf of the God and Country Day Committee, I extend to you and your staff our sincere thanks and gratitude for the excellent publicity you have given us.

The February 15th issue of your fine newspaper indicates the very deep concern you have for God and Country Day. We all sincerely thank you and your staff, especially Charlie Cates, who has worked so hard on this project.

As of now there will be at least 45 groups represented in the procession and the total number of persons marching will be nearly 1,000. The general public has responded very well, and now the telephone lines reading and people are asking for information.

God bless you and thank you so very much.

Sincerely,
Frank B. Alvafes

To the editor:

We have recently received, in the course of our annual fund drive, various donations with strange and unlisted addresses in Jensen Beach.

For instance, Jensen Beach Causeway (Dolphin's Bay) is known as 3434 N.E. 42 Street.

In the event of a fire, and we were called to an address of this type (numbered street), how do we go about determining the area?

Obviously, in such a case, the person reporting is apt to be somewhat upset and excitable and can well be excused for wondering why the Fire Dept hasn't a better knowledge of the town.

It would be nice if we were advised of such changes in order to better serve the public.

Yours truly,
R. B. Spinney, Chief
Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Dept.

DEBRA LEANN HICKS

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hicks of 767 S.E. Whitmore Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Debra LeAnn to David M. Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cleveland of Lewisville, Texas.

The wedding will take place on August 2, at the Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church.

The couple plan to make their home in Texas where the groom will be attending North Texas University in Denton.

Legion and Aux cook-out

JENSEN BEACH—At a recent meeting of the Jensen Beach American Legion Auxiliary, Dorothy Smouse was named chairman for a March steak cook out in honor of the Legion's birthday. The celebration is for members of the Legion Post and Auxiliary only, and tickets are available from Mrs. Smouse.

During the business segment of the meeting, donations were made to the following:

Pensacola Children's Hospital, St. Petersburg Aid Children's Hospital, So. Florida R.E.E. Children's School, National Children's Welfare Foundation, National President's Project.

American Legion Auxiliary Department of Florida Rehabilitation Quota and Scholarship Funds, American Lung Association.

Two scholarships for Martin County students to attend a junior college for one year, and to send two girls to Girls State, all expenses paid.

Father Frank Alvarez spoke at the meeting, inviting Auxiliary members to participate in God and Country Day.

Refreshments were served by Eleanor Inffendal, Gertrude Buckle and Emma Snyder.

Mrs. Van Foster is double winner

RIO—Mrs. Van Foster was a double winner at the Rio Civic Club Valentine card party last week. She took home the door prize and a table prize.

Other winners were Mesdames Ilona Taylor, W.A. Suturius, Opal Gosney, Edith Beck, Elsa Rohrdanz, Gladys Dalrymple, Kay Reddle, Helen White, Henry Spencer, Hazel Morris and Genevieve Heasley.

Mrs. L. Manwaring, Mrs. L. Hodge, Betty Gillespie, Hazel Morris and Irene Jacobs were hostesses for the affair.

The next card party is next Tuesday, Feb. 20 at one o'clock. The public is invited. Reservations are not needed.

Dr. Kane to address JDF meeting

JENSEN BEACH—Dr. Richard F. Kane, Fort Pierce pediatrician, will be guest speaker at next Monday's meeting of the Indian River Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. His topic will be "The Teenage Diabetic."

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 26 at the Fort Pierce Community Center. Any interested persons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Word has been received from Roberta Rothman, National Chapter Co-ordinator that the month of May has been designated as Juvenile Diabetes Foundation Month.

Future chapter plans include raising funds with which to send diabetic children, who otherwise could not afford the fee, to Florida's Camp for Children and Youth with Diabetes.

Big crowd at card party

JENSEN BEACH—A large crowd attended last week's card party presented by Barracks 854 WWI Auxiliary at Langford Park Hall.

Door prizes were won by Mildred Alexander, Josephine Doring, Addie Farwell, Hazel Houghton, Hazel Mason, Gladys Nearhood, Ann Riley, Alma Shotwell, Ann White and Helen White.

Eva Joyce and Nellie Sutton took home the special prizes.

Hostess for the event was Eleanor Duffendal.

The next monthly card party is set for 12:30 p.m. March 13 at Langford Park.

Demos to hold supper dance

JENSEN BEACH—The Martin County Democratic Executive Committee will hold a George Washington day supper dance Saturday, Feb. 22, at the Ray Harbor Club.

Mrs. Joanne Langberg of Jensen Beach, chairman of the committee, said there will be continuous dancing from 9 a.m. to early morning hours. A buffet supper will be served at midnight.

Tickets are $7.50 and proceeds from the event will be used to initiate a campaign fund for the next election, according to Mrs. Langberg.

Gilbert Miller is chairman of the arrangements committee, and committee members are Edward Stewart, Kenneth Myler and Allen Moore.

Awards to auxiliary workers

STUART—Emma Snyder was awarded a 5000 Hour Pin at the February meeting of the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Other awards presented were to: Marian Cole, 4000 Hours; Dorothy Ainsworth, 3000 Hours; Betty Granger, 2000 Hours; and 1000 Hour Pins to Dorothy Fiehe, Betty Prall and Lois Hendelager.

All told, 43 awards were presented by Mrs. Merle Phillips, including eight 50 hour emblems, sixteen 100 hour certificates, seven 300 hour pins and seven 400 hour pins.

Mrs. Phillips reported that 365 volunteers worked a total of 5,668 hours for the month of January. She further reported that a total of 3,776 hours was worked by 177 members at the bazaar which netted over $2,700.

TOP BOWLERS--Entry for February was the largest to date, fifty bowlers bore down on the lanes and when the firing was over, Norma A. Spencer and Norman Oleske were the representatives for their respective sexes. Norman Oleske's 820 scratch set makes the highest pins over average at 98 pins. Norman had games of 241-199-180. Mrs. Spencer captured the women's title with 145-168-155, for a 465, which was 45 pins over her average. The order of finish for the prizes was Oleske the $50 gift certificate from Sleepco, Sherwood Heim plus #7, Herb Cory plus #1, Fred Pierce plus 5¢, followed by Norma. The next Bowler of the Month Tourney is scheduled for Sunday, March 9th at 1 p.m., and Jensen Lanes.

Baseball season is here!

JENSEN BEACH--Baseball season is here!

Monday evening marked the first practice session for each of the four leagues in Jensen Beach. Mustang and Bronco attracted a whole arena full of youngsters, but Pony and Colt left a little to be desired, especially Colt.

Monday's drills consisted mostly of orientation, fielding, and batting, but as the week rolls along, much more is hoped to be accomplished.

Practice continues through the week, as all four leagues will be practicing at Langford Park at 6:30 each evening.

Tigers host district play-offs this week

STUART--Martin County's basketball Tigers will go after yet another District basketball crown this week as the District Playoffs come to the Martin County High School Gym.

The tournament will start tonight at 7:00 p.m. and will come to a halt Saturday night with the finals.

Walter Campbell, Peter Thompson and Allen "Spud" Thomas will hopefully be the keys to success for Martin County as the Tigers seek to repeat last year's performance. The Tigers won the tournament last year with a 59-44 pasting of Cocoa Beach in the finals.

This year the Tigers have an inexperienced squad, but nevertheless, they came out of nowhere to beat teams like Vero Beach and Key West. As a matter of fact, they could practically go on an exhibition tour with the Vero Beach Indians. The Tigers played them THREE times this year, and won all three times.

But Vero Beach, with an 18-7 record, heads the nine-team field. Following close behind the Indians are Titusville High (18-6) and Cocoa Beach (14-9). Martin County is seeded fourth at 11-13, while Fort Pierce Central (11-10), Eau Gallie (8-15), Melbourne (6-16), Merritt Island (2-20) and Satellite Beach (also 2-20) follow.

The action gets underway tonight at 7:00 as Vero Beach meets Eau Gallie, while Martin County tackles hapless Satellite Beach at nine. Also tonight at the Melbourne-Merritt Island game, which will be played as a site not yet chosen at press time. It is presumed that, with both teams being from the Cape Canaveral area, that the game will be played somewhere in that vicinity.

Action resumes at 7 p.m. Thursday (tomorrow), as Fort Pierce Central tackles Titusville, and then at nine, Cocoa Beach will meet the winner of the Merritt Island Melbourne affair. Friday night will end the tourney with the consolation game and the Championship contest.

Diaz is manager of Ft. Pierce Jai-Alai

FT. PIERCE--Guillermo J. Diaz has been appointed General Manager of Ft. Pierce Jai Alai. The announcement was made by John B. Callahan, President of World Jai Alai, Inc., parent corporation of the fronton.

GUILLERMO DIAZ

Diaz has been Assistant General Manager of the firm's Miami Jai Alai fronton for the past three years and spent the previous two years as an accountant to the fronton.

He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Miami, and has served as controller and accountant for several major firms.

"Mr. Diaz is thoroughly familiar with the operation of our Jai Alai frontons," Callahan said, "and we are fortunate to have a man of his background and experience as General Manager in Ft. Pierce."

Ft. Pierce Jai Alai will open May 8 for its second season.

Fishing class is scheduled

STUART--The Stuart Recreation Department and Indian River Community College are co-sponsoring a class on local fishing, beginning Friday, Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The class will be taught by Bob Pelosi, president of the Stuart Sailfish Club. The course will last for seven weeks and will cover all aspects of local fishing.

Classes will be held at the Stuart Shuffleboard Clubhouse on Georgia Ave. and East Ocean Blvd., directly across from the Stuart Middle School.

All classes are free of charge.

All-Stars meet North Miami Saturday

JENSEN BEACH--The Senior Division basketball season is over, and after some of the barnburners witnessed during the season, one can hardly wait for the All-Star teams to hit the road.

The Senior Division All-Stars will be playing against the North Miami Beach Optimist Club on Saturday afternoon in Miami. Eight Senior Division players will be making the trip, and those eight will be joined by two more upon their arrival back home.

Heading up the All-Stars is Senior Division leading scorer John Driscoll. Driscoll was the only player in the division to score over 100 points for the year, as he hit the nets for 115. Driscoll also helped Pittman Insurance to a second place finish with timely rebounds.

Joining Driscoll from Pittman are Hunter Wilson and Rex Graham. Wilson started out the season with a couple poor performances but came on strong in the stretch to hit for 70 points and a third-place finish in the scoring derby. Graham, meanwhile, helped to balance the Pittman attack with scoring and rebounding.

From Gold Coast there are two players on the team, Morris Chen and Jeff Hall. Chen helped Gold Coast through the season with his scoring punch, coupled with fine defense, and Hall frequently dominated the boards during the games that he attended.

Also joining Hall and Chen on the team will be Donnie Wilkie, who at press time was listed as an alternate. This means that he cannot make the trip to Miami, but he and CWA's Gregg Jackson will be on the team when the All-Stars play Miami again on March 1st at the Martin County High School Gymnasium.

From league champion CWA Local Post 3111, there is John Wolf, Tim Dargis, and Brent Laycock. Wolf accumulated many of his 57 points in the second half of his games, as his team gradually took control of the boards. Dargis, meanwhile, was the one who took control of the boards, as he was the league's leading rebounder. Also, Dargis provided an unmatched shooting ability from the inside, something which helped him finish second to Driscoll in scoring and also score the second and third highest number of points in one game--19 and 20. Laycock was the league's second highest scorer until the 11th week of the season when Dargis Wilson and Wolf got hot.

CWA also put one other man on the All-Star teams. That was David Kenny, who will be competing with the 12-13 year old team. Kenny helped to run the team and also was high in the scoring until late in the season.

HOW THE BALL BOUNCED

Senior Division games played during the final week of the season:

Pittman Ins. 53, Gold Coast 20; Pittman: Wilson 24, Driscoll 19, Graham 10. (Gold Coast: Wilkie 10, Chen 6, Dibley 4. Coaches: (Pittman) Montgomery. (Gold Coast: Bibeau.

CWA Local 47, Gold Coast 17. (CWA: Dargis 20, Kenny 9, Jackson 8, Laycock 6, J. Wolf 2, T. Wolf 2. (Gold Coast: Delaney 5, Wilkie 4, Chen 4, Dibley 2, McCormick 2. Coaches: (CWA) Merlano. (Gold Coast: Bibeau.

Final Senior Division Standings: (CWA Local: W-2, L-1, Pct. 875. Pittman Ins: W-3, L-5, Pct. 375, GB-4. Gold Coast: W-2, L-6, Pct. 250, GB-5.

This Week's Games: The Senior Division season has ended but the All-Stars, ages 14-15, will be traveling to Miami Beach to play the North Miami Beach Optimist Club, which, by the way, was the Optimist Club that helped to form the Jensen Beach Optimist Club last summer.

Holiday Outlines

BY RUTH BOWES
334-4944

The annual meeting was well attended with 430 owners either present or represented by proxy. Three new directors were elected: Andre Aubin, Jack Turner, and Bill Blair. They will serve three year terms.

Dave McCarthy was re-elected president for his third term, Mac Mackie was elected vice president, and Lorraine Auch was re-elected secretary treasurer. We owe a vote of thanks to James Brooks, supervisor of elections for St. Lucie County, for his assistance and supervision at the meeting.

Last Sunday's service at the Pavillion church was wonderful! Rev. Clarke Simpson led us in a fine sermon, prayer and lesson. W Stuart did the musical opening service. Rosalie Bryson sang an anthem and the Lord's prayer both were beautiful. H Landis gave the benediction and the layman reading service. Dolores Brink was organist and Grace Thau, pianist. Mark Ushers: Bing Crosby and Bert Lahr served as ushers.

+ + +

Next on the Holiday Out schedule of events will be a Moonlight Cruise on the St. Lucie on Feb. 27. Live music for dancing aboard will be furnished by Bill Hutchcheon. The cruise party will depart at 7:30 and leave the dock at 7:00. Dancing is free at dockside. The cruise has been chartered exclusively for Holiday Out residents and friends because of size limitation, ticket sale will end on 200. Watch for ticket sale date at the recreation hall. In case of bad weather the alternate date will be Friday, March 6. Jim and Martha Evans are hosts for the feast dance. Save and get your tickets. I promise it will be a blast.

There were 142 at the Valentine dance on Feb. 13. Table prizes consisted of individual heart shaped boxes of chocolates. The dance committee were the Harry Smiths, Al and Doris Lloyd-Jones, Roy Leonards and Gary Hall. Everyone supported a worthwhile shared by all.

ROSALIE BRYSON SINGS AGAIN

"An Evening with Rosalie" will be presented Sunday and Monday, even at 8 p.m. Feb. 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. Rosalie's performance will fill the recreation hall with song and chills up and down the spines of her audience. There will be an admission charge with proceeds going to provide fire protection for both Holiday Out and Venture Out. This is a worthwhile idea, and we think it is a great cause. There will surely be nights to remember. Tickets will be on sale at the recreation hall Wednesday through Friday of this week. Choose your night. You are welcome. Come, you will all be glad you did.

Don't forget: Saturday, Feb. 22 is the Arts and Crafts show. On display all day will be the handwork of our own people. Tables can be rented for this event. See Tena Van Raay or Nora Turner. There will be food and drinks, so you will not have to leave. There will be a White Elephant Table, too! Any one who has any little white elephants to bring them on over. Helen Steele informs me that she will be in charge of this table. You will find her on Lot 9.

Bridge scores on Feb. 10 were: Helen Armbergre, 6250. Betty Leister, 6950. Lorraine Storck, 6560.

George McPherson reports that Bridge Instruction will be in the Holiday Out rec hall this week instead of at Pinelake Village. That's Thursday, Feb. 20 at 2:00 p.m.

+ + +

Bowling Scores: Bill Studebaker led the men in bowling this week with 497, and Dorothy Studebaker was high for the ladies with 384. Seems that the Studebakers were in the groove. Other scores:

Ken Baxter	421
Rusty Baxter	323
Lynn Baxter	298
Phil Cooper	410
Bill Hendrichsen	447
George McPherson	465
George Trumbull	472
Edna Spencer	310
Arletta Wehlage	311
Bob O'Reilly	360
Marion O'Reilly	291

Lot owners checking in during the past week were: David Crouse, lot 408. Frank Rea and family, lot 383. Charles and Jessie Wyatt, lot 295. Paul Wolf, lot 454.

Renters arriving during the same period include: George Dodson, lot 153. David Ruhl, lot 243. Hal Hober, lot 381. Wesley Arbo, lot 223. William Lowe, lot 493. Albert Goeckner, 137. Wilbert and Catherine Steen, 462. E.E. Ritchie, 192. Aubrey Johnson, Jr., 54. Paul Berg, 475. Clifford Gruye, 96. M. Leichtman, 344. Walter Pachota, 395. Harold Wolf, 429. Wesley Giebink, 257. M.F. Sheardy, 56. and staying over for another month are Schwinge on lot 215 and Edward Zmarthie, lot 122.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Sliney and daughter Cindy for a week. They are from Madison, Conn. and are enjoying the good old sun and the park. The weather has been perfect for them.

+ + +

Helen and Henry Meyers of Somerville, N.J. friends of Ceil and Max Lewin, are visiting the park for two weeks. The foursome attended the Valentine Dance, had dinner at the Royal Lion Saturday night. They attended the God and Country Day program at F.I.T. on Sunday. Plans for this week include a trip to Cypress Gardens and the Bok Singing Tower.

+ + +

Seems that Charles and Mary Jane Walters are new grandparents as of Feb. 14. They have left the park so I don't have the full story. Will follow up on this when I get all the news.

+ + +

I also heard of some news rather late, but want to include it as it is interesting. Seems that Robert and Jean Davis celebrated their wedding anniversary going to the Valentine Dance on the 13th. Not everyone has a dance on their day.

Also, Leo O'Neil had a birthday on Feb. 1 and wife Vi's was on Feb. 12. Sorry, I didn't know. Also, Robert Davis had a birthday Feb. 8. Best wishes and congratulations to all of you.

Peg and Al Ray took a group of friends to Grant for the Seafood Festival Sunday and had a ball. With them were Grace and Bob Murphy, Bertie and Bill Harrison, Mary and John Croom. Many others from the park were there also. The Rays report seeing Verguat and Harry Smith, Pinney and Zoe Bennett, Bob and Lena Black, Charley and Carrie Ullman and Catty and Les Ullman. There were others, but they could not remember all the names.

Erma and Gordie St. Louis and Jean and Ralph Taylor also went to Grant, but on Saturday.

+ + +

Paul and Ethel Pinkiewicz are entertaining Vera and Herbert Pabon from New York for a visit. The Pabons say they are charmed by our park and are thinking seriously of buying a lot.

+ + +

Bea and Oscar Lupke now have their son and son-in-law here in the park to enjoy the sunshine. Their wives have been here for two weeks. Also along are Chris and Sandy Lupke, Betty and Dick's children.

+ + +

Lee and Harriet Price left Monday for the Avion Rally at Eustis, but will be back for the weekend.

Edwin and Earle Palmer are entertaining their daughter Carolee Bryant from Yarmouth, Maine.

Agnes and Harold Landis had a steak cookout on Sunday. Guests were Edna & Joe Vansant, Helen & Clarence Knechtges and Ona & Horace Taylor. Ona's daughter and son-in-law were also present.

+ + +

Emma and Maynard Sheardy from Yale, Mich., are back in the park for a vacation in the sun.

+ + +

Friends will be glad to know that Lil and George Bares are once more in the Holiday Out fold. The Bares came in on Tuesday, just in time for George to unlimber his accordion at the fiddler session on Wednesday.

Gordon and Annie Parkman, Ames bury, Mass. were scheduled to leave the park last Tuesday, but stayed another week. They are entertaining friends from Reading, Mass. Ruth and John Hanson. The Parkmans are going to the west coast of Florida to visit a brother, and then to California to the Airstream Orange Rally. After the rally, they will join a caravan going up the California coast. The Parkmans do not expect to be home in Mass. until August. However they definitely will be back in Holiday Out next winter.

Lot 226 looks mighty empty since Bob Long took the Winnie home for a bath and tuneup. Bob and Geer are taking next week off as part of Bob's vacation and going to Disney World. Joan and Roger Byrne are going along with them.

+ + +

Evie and Jerry Titherington and one of their daughters are back in the park. Evie and Jerry are the brand-new owners of lot 25.

Anniversary congratulations to Leo and Vi O'Neil on Feb. 26.

Birthday wishes to Betty Nagy, Feb. 19. Earl Bowes, Feb. 23. Stuart Bicknell and Jean McCabe, Feb. 24.

PLANT TOUR–Members of Brownie Troop 166 toured The Mirror plant last week. Showing the development of type to the sixteen brownies and their leaders is Mirror Editor Dick Campbell.

POPPY SALE–Jensen Beach American Legion and Auxiliary sold poppies Friday and Saturday. Feb. 14 and 15. Buck Mauldin and Jeanne Britt and Jaima Kinney of First Federal Savings and Loan Association purchased poppies from Loretta Borrack and Randi Borrack, foreground.

Optimist Auxiliary elects officers

JENSEN BEACH officers of the Optimist Auxiliary were elected at a meeting Monday, Feb. 17, at Langford Park Fieldhouse.

Officers are Andra Webb, president; Julie Wackeen, vice president; Carole Johnson, secretary; and Joan Schlemmer, treasurer.

The organization will help the Optimist Club to promote youth activities in the community, Mrs. Webb said.

Meetings will be held on the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at Langford Park.

Persons interested in becoming members of the auxiliary should contact Mrs. Wackeen, membership chairman.

Art exhibit at museum

JENSEN BEACH–Four Jensen Beach Art League members will exhibit their paintings in an outdoor exhibit at the Elliott Museum on Sunday, March 7 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Exhibiting members will be Willard Bateman, Yvette Kluger, Gwen Dierksen and Dorothy Ross.

The show will be free and open to the public.

Bridge scores

STUART–There were sixteen tables in play at the regular Wednesday night session of the Stuart Duplicate Club Feb. 12. A straight Mitchell movement was used. 28 boards were played and the average in both directions was 156.

Winners North-South were Martin and Ellie Quirk with 192½. Sybil North and Jean Brewer were second with 180½. Frank Perrucco and Lucille Stossel were third with 175½, just nosing out Jim Clark and John Behr who were fourth with 175. Jack Seigman and Les Roosa were fifth with 172½. Sara and Bob Classen were sixth with 166.

Winners East West were Mr. and Mrs. John Welsh with 182½. Margaret Baer and Roger White were second with 178½. Third place went to Bea and Bill Shell with 177. Alice Kennedy and Jo Ann Myers were fourth with 175½. Mary Boyd and Mart Stapleton were fifth with 173½, and Sonia and Ben Libson were in sixth place with 170½.

Game time is 7:30 every Wednesday at the Stuart Youth Center. All area duplicate players are invited. Roger White is director and a partner is guaranteed.

Defensive driving course

JENSEN BEACH–A four week course in Defensive Driving for adults will start at Martin County High School next Tuesday, Feb. 25 at 7 p.m.

The course is presented by the Adult Education Department, Martin County Public Schools, and is designed by the National Safety Council to help adults become better and safer drivers. It teaches students how to share the road with the worst drivers and avoid accidents.

Registration for the course is being held at the high school at 6:45 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Martin County High School is located on SR 76 in Stuart.

Gregory Jones completes course

JENSEN BEACH–Staff Sergeant Gregory D. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Jones of Jensen Beach, has graduated from the Air Force Systems Command Noncommissioned Officer Leadership School at Kirtland AFB, N.M.

The sergeant, who was trained in military management and supervision, is an aircraft maintenance technician at Patrick AFB.

Conservation Alliance to meet Friday

JENSEN BEACH–The Martin County Conservation Alliance will meet at noon Friday, Feb. 21, at the Crow's Nest Restaurant.

Speakers slated for the meeting include Stuart Mayor Ray Coake, Ed Glasscock, Stuart city manager, and Emmet Wade of Blacke, Crowe and Ridness, consultant engineers.

SPEAKER–Commander Murray Voth, USN, chief of chaplains for the U.S. Naval Academy, was the principal speaker for the first annual God and Country Day

1,000 attended

GRAND PROCESSION–Members of some 50 organizations took part in last Sunday's God and Country Day grand procession. Waiting for the event to start at Florida Institute of Technology are some of the participants with their flags and banners.

God and Country Day called success

JENSEN BEACH–The first annual God and Country Day Sunday drew many hundreds participants in the parade and some 1,000 persons in the audience.

As the sponsor, Father Frank [illegible] said it was a huge success.

"I was grateful to be the speaker in the first annual God and Country Day parade," Commander Murray H. Voth, USN said after Mass at All Saints Episcopal Church. "I came to visitors from New York and New Jersey after the program and we were all impressed with the beautiful [illegible] at Virgil Rathbone [illegible] God and Country Day [illegible] said.

Sponsored by All Saints Episcopal Church and the American Legion Post No 126, some 50 organizations were in the procession with 100 persons carrying the American flag, or the insignia of their groups.

The massing of colors by the organizations prompted Commander Voth to comment: "We have massing of colors at the Academy, U.S. Naval Academy, but this is most outstanding." Commander Voth is chief of chaplains at the Academy.

Also at the Florida Institute of Technology auditorium, Father Alvarez, rector of All Saints, commented after the program.

"The event was a most thrilling event and we are most grateful for the excellent support we received from all groups and the public.

We want to express our special thanks to all persons who participated, and we are mindful of the fine support given to us by the press, radio and television stations."

The program shows that people believe in God.

Rathbone added. "I was extremely proud of the results."

Rathbone said the Legion Post will send letters of appreciation to all organizations that took part in the program.

A God and Country Day Committee meeting will be held Friday, Feb. 21, at All Saints Church parish hall, at 8 p.m. to plan for the Bicentennial Celebration God and Country Day.

Some early American events leading to the signing of Declaration of Independence were outlined by Commander Voth.

He said the fighters for independence were sustained "by the glory of their cause" and he said that "Democracy must be protected."

Noting that being patriotic was not popular, but Commander Voth said: "The heart of America is still strong."

The award-winning essay by Alan Hughes of "my duty to my country" was read.

The essay started in part:

"Don't be afraid to use what God has given you as a citizen of the United States. For a shabby friend like a shabby body soon wastes out and drops to the wayside and unfortunately, in the days to come there may be no one there to pick you up and pull your weight."

The Orlando Navy Band gave a fine program performance.

Members of the God and Country Day Committee are Virgil Wilson, Edward Douglas, Jamie Stewart, Richard Newton, Rathbone and Father Alvarez.

Optimists sponsor T-ball

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Optimist Club of Port St. Lucie is sponsoring a T-Ball program for boys and girls ages 5 to 8.

Registration will be held March 1 and 8, from 9 to 11 a.m. at Sportsmans Park. Fee for this program is $5.00 to cover insurance and equipment.

Attendance record Saints and Sinners

PORT ST. LUCIE–Despite the inclement weather, a record 112 Saints and Sinners Yacht Club members and guests turned out for a boat-a-cade to the Yacht and Country Club of Stuart on Monday, Feb. 10.

Commodore Chet Pidwell and Fleet Captain Al Hadrill conducted the affair which included luncheon and the usual cocktail hours.

CAR WASH–Boy Scout Troop 81 of Jensen Beach sponsored a car wash last Saturday at the Skyline Standard Station. About 30 cars were washed by leaders and boys. Each car took some help with the soap, water and rags to clean. Fourteen boys and six leaders washed approximately 30 cars by the end of the day. The money raised will go toward scouting equipment for 1975.

Stools, bars & things

STUART–Jane Dolan is a pretty blond, soft spoken, friendly housewife and mother who decided to venture out into the world of business.

She and her husband, Don, who is a crane and dragline operator, recently moved from Ft. Lauderdale to Stuart and have fallen in love with the area. Their children, Ann, Paul, Marty and Jennie are just as excited about the schools.

When you enter Stools, Bars & Things, you are surrounded with Jane's good taste in unique styles of bars and stools that would attract the young and old, modern or traditional minded customer. To accent, she has a large selection of original arts by Carlo.

Jane is impressed with the friendly people of our area and would like to meet them and see her new store in the Palm Shopping Center.

FUND RAISERS–The fund raising committee for business contributions to the Martin Memorial Hospital Ball met last week in the Stuart Chamber of Commerce office. All funds raised will go to the hospital for expansion, equipment and construction. Enjoying a brief break from their labors are, left to right, Jack E. Davis, Wm. Wood Haynes, Wm. A. Oughterson, Chairman; Don Coward, Ken W. Eberhardt, center; James N. Foster, August D. Maltregnot, Raymond C. Navitsky, Jr., and William Pittman. The Ball is on March 10 at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club, with music by Harvy James and his Band.

Brotherhood week at Jensen Elementary

JENSEN BEACH–This week is Brotherhood Week at Jensen Beach Elementary School. Daily programs are designed to introduce ethnic groups and cultures to the students in the guidance sponsored activity.

Monday's program was an introduction of the week's schedule and explored the question "Why Brotherhood Week?"

On Tuesday, African students from F.I.T. presented "Culture on Another Continent" which included man vs. man in contributions to the world.

Today's program (Wednesday) will deal with Indian culture and friendship and "How the Seminoles Accept Other Men."

On Thursday there will be a two-fold presentation with Mrs. Catherine Scott on Hawaii, a multi-cultured land of brotherhood and Mrs. Ramachandran presenting India, a culture based on religion and brotherhood.

Dr. Edward Geary will wind up the week's activities with "How Mankind Greets Mankind," a report of his trip through Europe with the Gold Coast Bicycle Club.

Each day's activity will begin promptly at 1:45 p.m.

Lenten series starts Sunday

JENSEN BEACH–Reverend B.F. Kincaid, Minister of Education at the Jensen Beach Community Church will present a series of three study groups for the Lenten period. The first is scheduled for 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 23, at the Fellowship Hall on Skyline Drive.

The presentations are based on Process Theology and Jungian Psychology and are designed to promote a deep and meaningful understanding of how contemporary theology and psychology view the themes inherent in Lent. Kincaid said. He added that the presentations will not be supernatural in scope, but will deal with the here and now.

The schedule of topics is as follows:

Feb. 23 – The Hope for New Life

March 2 – Not "Who" but "What" Killed Jesus

March 9 – When Resurrection Occurs

On March 16, same time and place, the series will wind up with a panel discussion on the presentations.

Rabbi Mel Hecht of Fort Pierce and Father Ed Smith of F.I.T. will serve as panel members along with people from the Community Church congregation and from the community at large.

All of the sessions will start promptly at 7 p.m. A 15 to 20 minute lecture will be followed by a coffee break and general dialogue and discussion of the evening's theme.

The public is cordially invited.

Yoga demonstration at JBCC

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Community Church is offering a "Family Yoga Night" demonstration on Tuesday, Feb. 25, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Ages 12 to 112 are invited to participate, says Rev. Bill Kincaid, Minister of Education at the church.

This will be the first of several sessions, dates and times to be announced.

Miss Doris Thurston will be the instructor.

Four artists exhibit work

FT. PIERCE–Four established artists will exhibit their work at the Fort Pierce Art Gallery through March 6.

Margaret Zierer Smith, well known for her fine landscapes and floral paintings was born in Suffern, N.J. where she started painting at an early age by pitching paints from her artist father's palette. Self taught till she came to Fort Pierce eight years ago. Mrs. Smith attended classes of Therese Knowles, Indian River Community College, and enjoyed painting trips to Mexico and Portugal.

Amalie Neuberger of Fort Pierce, will show macrame and sculpture. Her macrame pieces are in private collections all over the state. In the last Four Counts Art Club show, her slate sculpture of a horse won a blue ribbon, while her macrame won a special award. Amalie hopes to soon open her own mini gallery in Whitney's.

Anne Johnstone of Fort Pierce, whose painting won best of show blue ribbon at the November Art Club show, is a graduate of the University of Texas. She studied at the Art Students League in New York, Tyler Art School in Philadelphia, is a member of various art centers and studied sculpture with Mehri Danielpur in Palm Beach. Mrs. Johnstone's paintings have won many prizes and are in private collections in many states.

Billie Nipper of Cleveland, Texas, expresses on canvas her love for the Tennessee walking horses she and her husband have bred, taught, she has had a successful career as a painter, showing and winning prizes throughout the South. Last year she won best of show at Cleveland, Texas, Creative Arts Guild annual festival.

Gallery hours are 10 noon to 4 p.m. daily except Friday.

Samaritans provide free service

JENSEN BEACH–Have you ever needed an ambulance? If you have, you know what a relief it is when the ambulance arrives. You also may know how comforting it is to see a late model, well equipped ambulance with neatly dressed, well trained attendants. If not, perhaps the ambulance squad that responded to your emergency was not supported very well by the community.

SAVING LIVES AND MONEY. A brand new, fully equipped, 1975 ambulance costs approximately $18,000. Used one $600. Ambulance cots $300, portable emergency alert radios, $180 each.

The Jensen Area Samaritans are an ambulance squad providing free ambulance service to Jensen Beach, Rio, Ocean Breeze Park, Sewalls Point, Aalton Addition, and parts of Hutchinson Island. Serving such a large area, their equipment must be up to date, and their members must have the best training available.

The Jensen Area Samaritans are participating in the United Fund of Martin County in order to get enough money to insure the major portion of their operating expenses. The rest must come from individual contributions. Another reason for participating in the United Fund drive is so that the people of the Jensen Beach area will not have to contribute to many different charities during the year.

The Jensen Area Samaritans strongly urge all the residents of Martin County to give generously to the United Fund.

Fire damages dorm room

JENSEN BEACH–Fire of an unknown origin caused an estimated $1,500 to a room in a Florida Institute of Technology dormitory Jensen Beach Fire Chief Randolph Spinney said.

Spinney said the department received the call Feb. 12 at 3:12 a.m. and 14 volunteer fire fighters went to Room 10 in the dormitory where the blaze damaged the room, furniture and clothing.

The chief said the room was occupied by student Robert Elkins.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

The Shun Dig' Saturday was a big success I hear. They served sloppy joes, soft drinks and beer in the upstairs rec hall to a record crowd of adults at noon in the afternoon. Our new band furnished the music for this event

+ + +

The Men's Club met Wednesday in the lounge. They voted to give the Martin Co. Ambulance a donation. Someone in the club must have EsP with me for at the same time I was contacting Mr. Campbell, editor of the Jensen Beach Mirror, to supply me with information about the ambulance agreement to the clubs here. Now the Men's Club have started the ball rolling. I have no doubt that the Women's Club and the Church will help out. Although we are not in Martin County, they have supplied us with their service many times and I think we all agree that the concominium of Nettles Island should show our appreciation by contributing.

+ + +

Greta Darten, who recently retired as a civilian employee from Anderson Air Base in Guam, was a recent guest of Helen and Bill Samuel. She has retired to Fort Meyers, but is considering buying a lot here to vacation on.

+ + +

Warren and Betty Roome, who visited here early in the winter and then bought a lot, had to return home a few weeks ago. In Georgia, they totaled their new Airstream and car and both were hospitalized. They have only returned home in the last few days, where they will need further treatment.

Jack and Bea Decker of Waltham, Mass. have been visiting their daughter Annette Rubin on lot 75 for six weeks. They will be leaving Feb. 25. Annette's husband has been away but she expects him back this week. She said that they have never been apart before and she can hardly wait for his return. Guess we have all gone through the same thing.

+ + +

After pot luck last week, we were fortunate to have Marianne Driver share her South Pacific trip with us by means of slides and commentary. It was a 31 day trip planned by AARP (which most of us belong to) and included all the South Pacific Islands, including Fiji, New Zealand, Australia, etc. She has such a happy outlook on things that it made her dialogue very entertaining.

+ + +

Scottie Beck had a more serious knee injury that thought at first. Monday, Feb. 10, he had to undergo surgery, so Ruth has been here all week practically living at the hospital. He certainly has all our best wishes for a full recovery.

+ + +

Bart and Del Jones left for Atlanta, Ga., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones and children Timmie and Lisa.

+ + +

Mona and Norman Sands have had Phyllis and Moe Schneider of Brookline, Mass., as their guests. They had never experienced trailer living before and said they enjoyed it very much. Moe is Mona's brother.

+ + +

There was a note in my box from the Crawfords. It was written on the back of a post office card that was stamped with a two cents fee. Can you remember when they sent a post card for that? I should have kept it for an heirloom. Anyhow, it said that Rus Crawford and Gill Derasp flew to Quebec, Canada, for a three day holiday to check up on their business. That's a holiday?

+ + +

Visiting Harriet and Marlin Marquardt are two more eligibles—Dorthea and Verna Neprude from Minneapolis, land of the cold. Marlin says they are great gals in the image of Harriet. The scrabble board is waxing hot and Marlin is calmly reading and cooking.

The bird class is going to take a trip to the Loxahatchee on Feb. 23. Pack yourself a sack lunch and be at the front gate by 9 a.m. if you wish to join them.

The next meeting of the Women's Club will be Feb. 19 (today) at 2 p.m. Mrs. Carol Reichert will give a make up demonstration and talk about make up for the fashion minded woman.

+ + +

Last Friday, five islanders, Bob & Edith Johnson, Ruth & Bill Martin and Helen Brewer left for Miami where they joined an Audubon Society group from Vero Beach on a trip to Nassau. After a very pleasant overnight sail, they spent the morning shopping in the famous straw market and on old Bay Street with its lovely pink colonial stores and buildings. Then they went to explore the many historic landmarks as well as the modern Paradise Island with its hotels, beautiful beaches and gardens. After a gay evening of dining and visiting the stately Colonial Hotel for a taste of island night life, they sailed at midnight for Miami. Sunday morning was spent cruising home on a calm, blue, sparkling ocean. They drove home to Nettles Island feeling a little said that it was all over too quickly.

Theatre in the Round is buzzing right along. Their last meeting was very well attended. One of the skits read will be presented after pot luck on March 5. Others are being submitted so there will undoubtedly some shown before that date also. Next meeting will be Feb. 24 in the lounge at 7 p.m. This is a fun group, so plan to be present.

+ + +

Just heard that Kate Siskel had injured her ankle and had to be taken to the hospital. Hopefully, just a sprain.

+ + +

Our library is sporting a new carpet as is the recreation director's office. It really adds quite a lot to both places.

+ + +

Another week and I have not weeded our patio border yet. Makes me think of some of the bits of wisdom passed on to me by several of our employees in the past. One girl said, "Worry about it next Wednesday." Another one said, "In a hundred years you will never know the difference." The prize though was the one who said, "No use worrying about it because you will get it done when you do it."

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Everyone who attended the Valentine dance had a real good time. Lee Nail put on a good show and the dancing was the best. If you missed it, you really missed a good night.

Many thanks to all who attended the 11th District meeting Sunday. It was a big thrill to receive our Quota Buster banner from the state commander. This came about because of the great cooperation of the members. My personal thanks to all of you, and let's keep the ball rolling.

The Auxiliary will meet Wednesday, Feb. 19 (tonight) at 8 p.m.

Thursday, Feb. 20, will be a regular meeting for all VFW members starting at 8 p.m.

Saturday we will need help to get ready for the barbecue. There's a lot to do, so if you can spare an hour or two we sure will appreciate it.

Sunday, Feb. 23, is our fourth annual barbecue. This is one of the biggest events of the year. In past years we have served from six to eight hundred people. This year we will have music to go along with all the good food. Come one, come all. Bring a new member.

'Silent Auction'

JENSEN BEACH–The Church Aid Circle of the Jensen Beach Community Church meets next Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 1 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

On the program is a "Silent Auction." All women in the area are cordially invited to come out and "see how it is done," according to Dot Kalb, Circle president.

An executive board meeting will be held at 11 a.m. on the same day.

McChesney seeks seat 5

PORT ST. LUCIE--Councilman William B McChesney Tuesday announced his candidacy for the Group 5 seat.

"I will have a resume prepared and will officially file as a candidate for the Group 5 Council seat within the next few days," McChesney said at the Tuesday workshop session.

McChesney was appointed in December to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr Harold Nottley, one of the original councilmen.

All candidates are required to file a notice of candidacy with the city clerk between 8 a m February 19, and 5 p m February 28, 1975.

Ken Thompson to retire

PORT ST. LUCIE--Kenneth Thompson was the first of the city's councilmen to announce his intentions for the forthcoming March election.

"I am going to retire from politics and my wife and I are going to catch up with some fishing, bowling and traveling," Thompson said Tuesday.

At Mayor Larry Kimmel's suggestion that perhaps Thompson would like to carry on part-time with the bicycle path project, Thompson laughingly said, "That is one of the fringe benefits that will be inherited by my successor."

"If this were a two year term, I might consider running, but I am not getting any younger and four years is a long time," Thompson said.

Engineering comments awaited

Developer threatens city over modular housing

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Planning and Zoning Committee has been threatened with legal action if they refuse to issue a permit for the erection of modular housing within the city of Port St Lucie.

Attorney John Perry, representing his brother Henry came right to the point when, within 90 seconds after addressing the group, he threatened to take the committee and each individual member to court if they denied the requests.

Reporting on the incident at Tuesday's workshop session, Councilman William McChesney said, "I have heard many sales promotions, but that was a new one on me."

"The Perry brothers do, indeed, have a very strange approach."

Henry Perry is the owner of a modular home factory located in Riviera Beach and the brothers are members of the family which owns the Perry Cable TV company.

"Since this is a new type housing for our area, the committee delayed action until the structural specifications and the local deed restrictions have been thoroughly checked out," McChesney said.

"It is my understanding the Perry Homes have met all the requirements of Community Affairs, FHA, and everyone else up and down the line," McChesney said, adding the committee had forwarded the plans to the city's engineering firm in Stuart for their evaluation.

Henry Perry told the committee the building materials used manufacture such homes are equal to or better than conventional home materials, adding that his homes do not reflect a "mobile home or trailer" type look.

The homes are hauled to a site in two parts, where they are then assembled. The homes, which cost under $20,000 to manufacture, are expected to sell in the $30,000 range.

According to Perry, the interior construction is similar to conventional home interiors and are offered in four models, some with outdoor gardens.

Discussions concerning the permits have reportedly been going on for a couple weeks between Ralph La Chance the city building inspector, and the Perry brothers.

Although the planning and zoning committee members agree the erection of modular homes will have a tendency to degrade the city, it appears to be doubtful the permit can be denied.

McChesney said Tuesday the Perrys would probably have no trouble in winning a suit. "From what we have learned to date their buildings meet all the requirements of the Southern Building Code and in several instances exceed them. They (Perrys) took this to court in another county and won the case without any problems," McChesney added.

LaChance, who previously studied the plans, said the only fault he could find was that the roof pitch of the proposed structure did not meet city regulations.

The committee last week discussed with Perry about how the wiring between the two sections of the structure would be connected at the junction box and who would be responsible if someone received a serious shock.

It is when the permit is issued it is expected the residents of the community will cry out their protests loud and clear.

One member of the Committee put it very aptly when he said: "It's after the permits are issued and the people find out that the real fuss will start."

Only twice before have the modular homes been introduced into the area and both times caused such an outcry from residents that no one else has tried it since.

Voting precincts changed

PORT ST. LUCIE--During the Tuesday workshop session of the City Council, a change in the city's voting precincts was announced.

City Administrator Bernard Rubin outlined the new precinct boundaries from U.S. 1 west on Lyngate and following Mid Port Road south to Port St. Lucie Boulevard, then west to the Florida Turnpike, and north to the city limits. Residents residing within these boundaries will now vote at the CESA Building on Prima Vista Boulevard.

Those residents residing south of Port St. Lucie Boulevard will vote at the City Hall.

Originally all residents residing within the city voted at the City Hall, while those from the unincorporated areas cast their ballots at the CESA Building.

Legislative hearing set for March

PORT ST. LUCIE--City Administrator Bernard Rubin announced Tuesday that a public hearing to discuss proposed local legislation for the 1975 legislative session will be conducted March 6 at the St. Lucie County Courthouse, Courtroom B, at 7:30 p.m.

The St. Lucie County delegation consisting of Reps. Chuck Nergard and Chester Clem, and Senators Harry A. Johnston III, Philip Lewis and Don C. Childers are expected to be present.

All proposed local legislation should be submitted to Chuck Nergard prior to the Feb. 21 deadline. This will allow sufficient time for notification of interested parties and the news media.

A public forum will also be held at that time enabling interested residents of the county to discuss matters of interest with the delegates.

Anyone wishing to appear before the delegation is asked to make his intentions known by notifying Nergard.

Charter meeting changed

PORT ST. LUCIE--The next meeting of the Charter Revision Committee will be Monday, Feb. 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the City Hall.

The committee was originally scheduled to meet in the new fire station on Port St. Lucie Blvd.

According to City Administrator Bernard Rubin, the change was made because of the delay in receiving the furnishings at the new fire station.

President's Council meet Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE--The President's Council of Port St. Lucie will meet at the CESA Building on Thursday, Feb. 20 at 1 p.m.

The council consists of the head of each group operating in Port St. Lucie, or its representative.

Many questions relating to the welfare of these groups and the community are brought up and discussed at these meetings.

All are urged to attend.

PSL women's club

PORT ST. LUCIE--The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs is planning to organize a club in Port St. Lucie.

An informative meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 26. All women interested in becoming members of this group call 334-1671 or 334-4841 for time and place of meeting.

Johnston joins PSL bank staff

PORT ST. LUCIE--Frederick T. Johnston has joined the staff of the Port St. Lucie Bank according to an announcement made Tuesday by Clement A. Bramley, Jr., bank president.

Johnston will be working in the area of public relations and business development for the bank.

He is well qualified for this position since his background consists of many years in marketing, public relations, merchandising and sales promotion primarily with Sears Roebuck and Company, Bramley said.

Following his retirement from Sears, Johnston and his wife June moved to Port St. Lucie in January, 1974, where they reside at 134 South Sarazia.

Johnston has been very active in Port St. Lucie and St. Lucie County. He serves on the Board of Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital where he was recently appointed as Chairman.

Indicative of his community spirit, Johnston activities include Commodore of the Port St. Lucie Yacht Club, President of the Republican Club, Vice president of the Port St. Lucie River Park Homeowners Association and a Trustee of CESA.

Presently a director, Johnston was one of the original organizers of the Port St. Lucie Bank.

"While I will be working full time here at the bank, both my wife and I will continue to play an active role in the various community affairs," Johnston said.

The Johnstons have one daughter, Mrs. Jackie McCallum of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Junior women claim winning entries

PORT ST. LUCIE--The St. Lucie Junior Women's Club boasted nine winning places for entries in the District Ten, Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, Festival of Arts held at the St. Lucie Hilton last week.

A luncheon was held at the Festival and those attending from the St. Lucie Junior Women's Club were Mrs. Harold Razey, Mrs. Jean Hensely, Mrs. Bob Post, Mrs. P. Race, Mrs. Paul Rose, Mrs. Nancy Satchwell, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Donald Horner, Mrs. Douglas Roach and Mrs. Richard Pozniak.

Winners who brought home either first, second place or white ribbon places ribbons were Mrs. Donald Horner, second place in rug making; Mrs. Thomas Cottrell, third place in crewel; Mrs. Richard Johnson, third place in beadwork; Mrs. David Razey, second place in decoupage; Mrs. Thomas Cottrell, third place in family sewing; Mrs. Martin Fox, second place in string art; Mrs. Bryan Weaver, second place in Christmas decorations and Mrs. Richard Pozniak, second place in Florida materials.

Homemaker plan festival

PORT ST. LUCIE--The February meeting of the Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club of Port St. Lucie was devoted almost entirely to planning for the Spring Festival and Bazaar for the benefit of the CESA Building Fund to be held on March 8.

Featured was an advance showing of some of the crafts members have been making to be sold at the Festival.

It was learned that the many organizations of Port St. Lucie will conduct contests, bingo and fun events. Games and contests for youngsters will be a big feature all day.

Artists in the Port St. Lucie area have been invited to display in the Art Exhibit.

There will be booths selling garden goodies, pantry delicacies and cakes, a white elephant table, and a browsing corner featuring books, games, toys and records.

Refreshments will be available all day, starting with a Continental Breakfast at 8 a.m.

Anyone wishing to donate an item for sale or volunteer to help in this exciting total community effort is urged to contact Mrs. Nicky Porter, co-chairman for the event, at 878-3228.

'Any Doubles' tourney at Port St. Lucie

PORT ST. LUCIE--A Central League Any Doubles Tournament will be held at Port St. Lucie Feb. 27, 28 and March 1 under the direction of Judd Reading assisted by Fred Viland and Ken Hamlin. Sandwiches, coffee and doughnuts will be available throughout the tournament.

The Fun Afternoons every Thursday at 1:30 are very popular. Shuffers are urged to come out and join in the fun.

In last week's Indian River League play, it was Port St. Lucie 8, Whispering Creek 2.

Winning teams were Barney Mingus and Don Mellin, Yvonne and Art Toodreau, Ward White and Guyn Haydon, Bus Gilbert and Larry Heet, Al McDonnell and Judd Reading, George Burbonis and Joe Keating, Bus Gilsdorf and Dom Bergamini, Jeanne DeKeulenaere and Ruth McDonnell.

Central League play at Whispering Creek ended in a tie two games apiece. PSL winners were Ralph Cooley and Harold Hazell, Bob Dobler and Hoover Rinehart.

Junior Women hear consultant

PORT ST. LUCIE--The St. Lucie Junior Women's Club held its regular business meeting last Wednesday in the Port St. Lucie Marina.

Highlight of the evening was a thought-provoking program presented by Indian River Community College consumerism teacher and Club conservation department chairman, Mrs. Stanley Bredemeyer. The program consisted of a presentation and discussion of Paul Ehrlich's book, "End of Affluence" and a film strip of consumer awareness today and conservation in all aspects of life.

General business discussed, consisted mainly of upcoming club projects including a rummage and bake sale, booths sponsored by the club at the CESA bazaar and such continuing projects being carried on in St. Lucie County Schools and viewing the hand-made Valentines of St. Lucie County school children.

Charms 4-H

BY SANDRA HOUSEHOLDER

The Port St. Lucie Lucky Charms 4-H Club met for their monthly business meeting at the home of club president and new reporter Lou and Sandra Householder.

Beth Martin, Council delegate reported 10 girls helped at the County 4-H car wash. They are now eligible to go to the Central Florida Fair in Orlando on March 1.

Six members attended the Citrus Carnival with Lou Householder winning one of the door prizes, a quick orange shortcake.

The president reported that the club had a float in the Brasilian-F I T Soccer Game Parade.

The club voted to enter a club exhibit in the St. Lucie County Fair as well as individual exhibits.

After the meeting was adjourned, games were led by Kristi Cordaro.

The next sewing class will be held on Feb. 27 at Mrs. Martin's home, and the foods class will meet on Saturday, Feb. 22, at 10 a.m. at Mrs. Nilsson's home.

THE SEARCH--Mrs. George Blackmond and Mrs. Lolita Kernahan were busy searching through the city's tax rolls last Tuesday morning following the workshop session at the City Hall. Both women are members of the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc. A four-count law suit has been filed against the city by the group.

Holiday Outlines

BY RUTH BOWES

The annual meeting was well attended with 430 owners either present or represented by proxy. Three new directors were elected! Andre Aublin, Bert Turner and Bill Blair. They will serve three year terms.

Dave McCarthy was re-elected president for his third term. Mac Belcher was elected vice president. Mrs. Louise Auch was re-elected secretary-treasurer. We owe a vote of thanks to James Brooks, supervisor of elections for St. Lucie County, for his able assistance and supervision at the elections.

Last Sunday's service at the Pavillion Church was wonderful! Rev. Clarke Thompson led us in a fine sermon, prayer and lesson. W. Stuart did the organ opening service. Rosalie Bryson sang an anthem and the Lord's Prayer both were beautiful. H. Landis gave the benediction and the layman reading service. Delores Brink was pianist and Grace Thau, pianist. Mark Meyers, Bing Crosby and Bert Turner served as ushers.

Next on the Holiday Out schedule of events will be a Moonlight Cruise on the St. Lucie on Feb. 27. Live music for dancing aboard will be furnished by Bill Hendrickson. The cruise party will leave at 6:30 and leave the dock at 7:00 p.m. Parking is free at dockside. The boat has been chartered exclusively for Holiday Out residents and friends because of size limitation, ticket sale is limited to 200. Watch for ticket sale date at the recreation hall. In case of bad weather the alternate date will be Sunday, March 4. Jim and Martha Byers are hosts for the boat dance. Watch for dates and get your tickets. I promise you they will go fast.

There were 142 at the Valentine dance on Feb. 13. Table prizes consisted of individual heart shaped boxes of chocolates. The dance committee was Harry Smith, Al Dykes, Lloyd Nelsons, Roy Leonards and Gary Hall. Everyone reported a good time shared by all.

ROSALIE BRYSON SINGS AGAIN

"An Evening with Rosalie" will be presented Sunday and Monday evenings, Feb. 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. Rosalie's talented voice will fill the recreation hall as she chills up and down the spines of her audience. There will be an admission charge with proceeds going to provide fire protection for both Holiday Out and Vero Isles Out. This is a unique idea, and we think it is a great one. These will surely be nights to remember. Tickets will be on sale at the recreation hall Wednesday through Friday of this week. Choose your night. All are welcome. Come, you will all be glad you did.

Dine 'n' Dance Saturday, Feb. 25 in the Pines and Traits show. On display all day will be the handwork of our own artists. Tables can be rented for this event. See Tena Van Raay or Nora Turner. There will be food and drinks so you will not have to leave. There will be a White Elephant Table, too! Any one who has any little white elephants, bring them on over. Helen Steele informs me that she will be in charge of this table. You will find her on Lot 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Sliney and daughter Cindy for a week. They are from Madison, Conn. and are enjoying the good old sun and the park. The weather has been perfect for them.

Helen and Henry Meyers, of Somerville, N.J., friends of Ceil and Max Lewin, are visiting the park for two weeks. The foursome attended the Valentine Dance, had dinner at the Royal Lion Saturday night. They attended the God and Country Day program at P.I.T. on Sunday. Plans for this week include a trip to Cypress Gardens and the Bok Singing Tower.

+ + +

Seems that Charles and Mary Jane Walters are new grandparents as of Feb. 14. They have left the park so I don't have the full story. Will follow up on this when I get all the news.

+ + +

I also heard of some news rather late, but want to include it as it is interesting. Seems that Robert and Jean Davis celebrated their wedding anniversary going to the Valentine Dance on the 13th. Not everyone has a dance on their day.

Also, Leo O'Neil had a birthday on Feb. 1 and wife Vi's was on Feb. 12. Sorry, I didn't know. Also, Robert Davis had a birthday Feb. 9. Best wishes and congratulations to all of you.

Peg and Al Ray took a group of friends to Grant for the Seafood Festival Sunday and had a ball. With them were Grace and Bob Murphy, Bertie and Bill Harrison, Mary and John Croom. Many others from the park were there also. The Rays report seeing Vergual and Harry Smith, Pinney and Zoe Bennett, Bob and Lena Black, Charley and Carrie Ullman and Catty and Les Ullman. There were others, but they could not remember all the names.

Erma and Gordie St. Louis and Jean and Ralph Taylor also went to Grant, but on Saturday.

+ + +

Paul and Ethel Pinkiewicz are entertaining Vera and Herbert Pabon from New York for a visit. The Pabons say they are charmed by our park and are thinking seriously of buying a lot.

+ + +

Bea and Oscar Lupke now have their son and son-in-law here in the park to enjoy the sunshine. Their wives have been here for two weeks. Also along are Chris and Sandy Lupke, Betty and Dick's children.

+ + +

Lee and Harriet Price left Monday for the Avion Rally at Exeter, but will be back for the weekend.

Edwin and Earle Palmer are entertaining their daughter, Carolee Bryant, from Yarmouth, Maine.

+ + +

Agnes and Harold Landis had a steak cookout on Sunday. Guests were Edna & Joe Vansant, Helen & Clarence Knechtges and Osa & Horace Taylor. Osa's daughter and son-in-law were also present.

+ + +

Emma and Maynard Sheardy, from Yale, Mich., are back in the park for a vacation in the sun.

+ + +

Friends will be glad to know that Lil and George Barea are once more in the Holiday Out fold. The Bareas came in on Tuesday, just in time for George to unlimber his accordion at the tootler session on Wednesday.

+ + +

Gordon and Annie Parkman, Amesbury, Mass., were scheduled to leave the park last Tuesday but stayed another week. They are entertaining friends from Reading, Mass. Ruth and John Hanson. The Parkmans are going to the west coast of Florida to visit a brother, and then to California to the Anaheim Orange Rally. After the rally, they will join a caravan going up the California coast. The Parkmans do not expect to be home in Mass. until August. However, they definitely will be back in Holiday Out next winter.

+ + +

Lot 226 looks mighty empty since Bob Long took his Winnie home for a bath and tuneup. Bob and Gert are taking next week off as part of Bob's vacation and going to Disney World. Joan and Roger Byrne are going along with them.

+ + +

Evie and Jerry Tibberington and one of their daughters are back in the park. Evie and Jerry are the brand-new owners of lot 25.

Anniversary congratulations to Lee and Vi O'Neil on Feb. 26.

+ + +

Birthday wishes to Betty Nagy, Feb. 19; Earl Bowes, Feb. 23; Stuart Bicknell and Jean McCabe, Feb. 24.

Another hot potato?

GDC offers 70-acre tract for annexation

PORT ST. LUCIE–City fathers were not at all surprised last Wednesday when GDC's general manager of Port St. Lucie Robert Seeley offered the North Port Marina area and a 70 acre tract for annexation by the city.

"That was not a great shock to any of us," said Council William McChesney, labeling the proposal a "hot potato." "GDC has thrown out feelers in the past leading up to such a request."

The 70 acres is a rectangular strip running north and south and includes the new elementary school, Sportsmans Park, three churches, the CESA building, the library, and Southern Bell's new 878 telephone exchange.

Annexing the land, currently in unincorporated St. Lucie County, could be the key for the City of Port St. Lucie to receive $14,000 in recreational funds from the county. The money has been set aside for park and recreational use, but must be spent within the city limits.

Apparently, if the city does not find use for the funds, it will lose them.

"I'd sure hate to see $14,000 fly out the window," Seeley observed. The money could be used for tennis courts, lighting and playground equipment.

Seeley informed the group that they have 30 days in which to act in order to secure the funds.

Reaction at today's special workshop session showed the Council is not in favor of the annexation proposal.

It was pointed out that the Marina has always been a costly operation, and that most of the facilities occupying the 70 acre tract are tax exempt.

It was also noted that, if annexed into the city, the rectangular tract would be closer to the unincorporated residential sections of North Port and River Park than to most of the city residents to the south. Mayor Larry Kimmel expressed doubt that city residents would be interested in supporting something that is out of the reach of most city residents.

No action was taken as the Council will give the proposal further study.

Thomas to attend law conference

PORT ST. LUCIE–The city's public safety director Jim Thomas will attend a three day conference on law enforcement to be held at FSU from February 26 thru Feb. 28.

City Administrator Bernard Rubin recommended the council authorize the trip saying, "There are several courses being offered that will be beneficial to the safety director."

PORT ST. LUCIE–John Huncharek, Howard Smith, and Jack Radcliffe were the flight winners in the individual stroke play tournament held by the St. Lucie Country Club Men's Golf Association over the SLCC Sailets Course Thursday. Top finishers in the event were:

A Flight: Huncharek, 68; Norm Nardone, Fred Doscher, Walter Wilman, Bill Flanagan and Ken Pagel, 73.

B Flight: Smith, 68, Charles Swan, Fred Jahn, Bob Clemens and Art Sprague, 71; Vince Metzger, 72.

C Flight: Radcliffe, 70; Tony Francolline, Jim Remington and John Welsh, 73; Ed Wilcox and Ray Neighbors, 74.

The association's event for Thursday, Feb. 20 will be an individual Stableford tournament, according to tournament chairman Paul Miller.

Dutton Memorial honors Rosie Hill

PORT ST. LUCIE–Mrs. George F. (Rosie) Hill was honored last Sunday by the congregation of the Dutton Memorial United Presbyterian Church of White City for her excellent service as Director of Music. She has served in this capacity for many years without remuneration. The church's newspaper, the Dutton Herald, cited her not only for her labor but for her loyalty as well.

Reverend Frank W. Wingerter delivered his first Lenten message of the season. "The Reclamation of the Wastelands." Twenty members of the Chancel Choir sang anthems and Lou Brack, a solo, all of which were in keeping with the celebrations.

Following the worship hour, coffee and confectionaries were served by Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Rust, Coordinators of Youth, with the assistance of Joyce Brown, Naomi Jorgensen, Robin and Ronald Krueger.

Other Dutton Memorial church news includes the placing of a memorial bouquet in the worship center in memory of Frances Willard, founder of the WCTU by Mrs. Lillian Fennell.

A committee comprised of Lynn Calhoun, chairman, William Elder, Ruth Yelton and excellico James Chester, has been appointed for financial investments.

Circles of the Women's Association will meet on Thursday in the following locations:

Esther Circle at the home of Jeannette Speers of River Park; Ruth Circle at the home of Alma Tompkins in Fort Pierce; Martha Circle at the home of Gladys Schneider of Port St. Lucie.

Midweek Lenten worship is conducted each week between noon and 1:00 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring a sandwich, coffee will be provided by the church. Following the devotional period, Rev. Wingerter will focus on "The Trial and Arrest of Jesus." Mrs. Fennell will assist the minister at the piano.

Officers of the Sayer Class have announced they are sponsoring an old fashioned barbecue chicken dinner on Saturday, March 1 from 4 to 7 p.m. Marion Soop is chairman of the event. The officers include Tom Brack, president, Alberta Widman, secretary, and Sherry Houser, treasurer.

Gang celebrates Valentine's Day with presents

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Friday Nite Gang met in regular session last Friday night at the North Port St. Lucie Marina.

The host and hostess were surprised to receive a special Valentine each from members of the Gang. The hostess also received a box of candy, and the host, a new pipe with specially blended tobacco.

The Snooper had an easy time reporting as visitors Mrs. Florence Wood and Margie DeLeo, her granddaughter from Stamford, Conn., visiting her sister, Mary Marsh.

Attending for the first time was Mary Sheehan.

Miss Goldie Hahn was the winner of a cactus plant made by and donated by Elizabeth Elsner.

A special prize of citrus, donated by George Petrie, was won by Helen Warmaar.

The game for the main prize ended in a tie between Mary Marsh, Terry Lundin and Gladys Van Hulle, and the trio split the merchandise certificate.

Where is our post office?

PORT ST. LUCIE–"Where is our post office?" Vice Mayor Vaughn Lewis asked Tuesday during a council workshop session.

A first class post office is a vital part of a growing city and I would like to see something done about getting one located here," he continued. He pointed out the city is no closer today than it was eighteen months ago to getting a post office.

"It seems to me there is a tremendous amount of commercial building activity taking place outside the city and I would hate to see the city post office located out there," he said.

"I think the post office department has had more than ample time to come up with something," Lewis said, urging the council use all the political muscle it can muster up in getting the support of the local congressman.

Although several letters have been sent out regarding the post office, the replies were non responsive, said Mayor Larry Kimmel.

Instructing the City Administrator Bernard Rubin to start the correspondence flying again, the mayor also urged all civic associations in the city to bombard the congressmen with letters requesting the postal facility.

Sisterhood meets March 5

FORT PIERCE–A general meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth El, Fort Pierce, will be held on Wednesday, March 5 at 8 p.m. at Heller Hall.

An "Ethnic Show Tunes" program will follow. The presentation will include tunes from "Fiddler on the Roof," featuring performers from the Vero Beach Theatre Guild.

Refreshments will be served.

Neill to assist with legal battle

PORT ST. LUCIE–Attorney Richard Neill of Neill, Griffin, Jeffries and Lloyd Chartered has been contacted by City Administrator Bernard Rubin to assist the city's legal counsel in the continuing legal battle with the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc.

Neill was to meet with City Attorney Rupert Smith Tuesday although the council last week agreed to retain additional legal counsel, the services of Neill is subject to the final approval of the city fathers.

Lady golfers enter final week in President's Cup tourney

PORT ST. LUCIE–Seventy-seven ladies entered the second week of the President's Cup competition when the members of the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association met for play Feb. 11.

According to a spokesman for the group, scores this year in the Cup competition are running spectacularly low. During the first week of the three week event, Louise Johnston, Flora Kimmel and Grace Van Nostrand broke 100 for the first time.

Kitty Polidor broke 90 for the first time.

At the conclusion of the second week's play, the net cumulative score in the President's Cup Tournament were Mary Jane Thompson, 139; Ginny Wood, 139; Louise Johnston, Dottie Wolford and Flora Kimmel, 140; Grace Van Nostrand, 141; and Marjorie Hamilton Hill, Elsie Petersen, and Alice Howe, all at 143.

Winners of the regular Tuesday play net in flights, in which 132 ladies participated were Kay Hoar, first flight, 71.

Others included, second flight, Kay Scott, 76; third flight, Chris Barco, 76; fourth flight, Mary Jane Thompson, 69; fifth flight, Charlotte Deeds, 71; sixth, Dorothy Wolford, 68; seventh, Alice Keeber, 70; eighth, Flora Kimmel, 70; and ninth flight, Elsie Petersen with a 71.

Italian-American installs

PORT ST. LUCIE–One hundred twenty five members turned out for the first installation dinner of the Italian and American Civic Association of Port St. Lucie, Florida, Inc. on Feb. 8.

Officers installed were Tony Maida, president; John Crusa, vice president; Roslye Sapiro, secretary, and Eleanor Saffioti, treasurer.

The six board members named were Joseph Biondo, Charles Carsello, Lucille Hanson, Peter Comarata, Carmine Gilberti and Howard Sapiro.

Guest speaker for the event was John Brennon, who gave a progressive report on the growth of Port Pierce since he came here in 1944.

Following the installation ceremonies MC Jack Lawless asked the club president to speak.

Maida announced the club membership had reached the 200 mark and, with the support of all the members, his goal is to acquire the land needed to build a clubhouse and to "make the club the biggest and best club in the Port St. Lucie area."

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

SBA has changed

Bright economic picture is tied to tourist season

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–While the nation begins facing high unemployment, inflation and recession, Florida is set for an upturn to some degree in the months.

The upturn lies in the near record tourist season that has brought hundreds of thousands of tourists south for the winter, and millions of dollars into a previously slack economy.

The tourist's sights of area banks were noted as Tom Butler, district director of the Small Business Administration, talked of bright economic conditions to the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club Monday at Frances Langford's Outrigger Restaurant.

Butler said that while the nation faces major economic problems, "We haven't been hit as tremendous impact in Florida. I think it is because of the tourist business, and it looks like we are going to have one of the best tourist years ever."

Adding that the small business generally gets it first, Butler said that his barometer of business conditions, the delinquent accounts of SBA, are not bad at all. We have a mere 4% delinquent accounts of 3.2 percent. That's not bad at all.

Butler outlined the various responsibilities of the SBA, and surprised Kiwanians telling them that the SBA does more than lend money.

We provide programs of assistance with lending not biggest management assistance, our second largest in volume, and procurement assistance the third area.

Offering help in adequate and proper management in business is most important. We co-sponsor conferences and seminars with colleges and universities on management and have the new SCORE program. Service Corps of Retired Executives, to counsel businesses.

Butler said that SCORE is the best program because it is an active program for retired executives who advise businessmen how to do a better job.

Management is the key to success, he said. So many businessmen don't know, or haven't had a chance to learn about basic management.

WHAT ARE MIDWAYS MADE OF?–Take a look around the midway at any event, and imagine the challenge of moving it from one point to another, week in and week out. Such is the challenge, but vastly magnified, which faces the Deggeller Spectacular Magic Midway as it moves smoothly along its fifty-plus-thousand-mile odyssey each year. It's certainly no small task to transport the Worlds largest ride complex from Florida to Michigan, and from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic Ocean, but for the Deggeller Amusement Company, it's all in a days work. All in a days work, indeed, but some of those days get awful long say Deggeller staffers.

Fishing is only fair

JENSEN BEACH–Judging by catches recorded at the Snook Nook during the past week, fishing has been fair. Some fishermen have called it worse.

Adam and Sophie Lopes ski seem able to catch their dinner any time they hit the surf however, as they had a total of 42 whiting, yellowtails and croakers for the week.

Jim Rumpers caught a nice 8½ lb. bass while fishing in the savannas Sunday.

Wallace Stallings, Clarence Rodden, Claude Smith and Will Midget fishing offshore on the Kerry II with Capt. Gene Ervin had a 79-inch sail and 3 dolphin.

Ken Snow, Steve Smye and Jasper Binsteinore also outside had a 7 foot, 2 inch sail and 3 kings. Jack Summers and Carl Justice brought home a 42 pound wahoo, 3 dolphin, 1 cuda and a king from two trips outside and Eddie Jones took 28 Spanish mackerel and 3 kings from the ocean.

Ray Moore took four blues and a sail cat from the surf. W. A. Lundell, on 11½ lb. snook, Fred Hein, 8 blues, and Ted Bloom, 6 mackerel and one blue, as well as nine trout from the river.

Other catches recorded included Irv Fisher, 20 trout; Duck White, 3 trout; Sandy Adair, 15 trout; Steve Steele, 7 trout; Ed Wagner, 13 trout, 9 trout along with Pat Paterson, and 6 trout, fishing with Ed Tonesen.

Bob Carruthers had a trout, Jeff Jorgensen, 11 trout, Bill Ditzel, 6 trout, Bruce Whyte, one trout, Walter Sund, 5 channel bass, Bill Porter, a trout, Charlie Arent, 4 trout, L. Calton, 8 lb. jewfish, Joe Manis and Frank Cote, 8 trout, and Mrs. Grace Boswell had a 7 lb. trout.

Dr. Reed Davis, from Arlington, Va., had one 8½ lb. trout, Ted Callora, Carl Nordell and Russ Bolton, 3 snook and 3 trout, and Russ Schultz and Carl Hess, out with Russ Bolton, had 3 snook, 2 snapper and a channel bass.

Tony Salazzo and Steve Robinson, outside on the Barbee-Del had 5 kings, up to 12 lbs. Oscar Dishman, 4 trout, Sam Moore, 12 trout, Pete Peterson and Stan Lippencott, 11 trout, Eon Gilmore, Murray Hundert and Russ Bolton, 5 snook, 4 jacks and 3 trout.

Investigations

"Let's have an investigation," says the Senate.

And the House quickly declares, "If they're going to have one, we need one too."

And so we end up with three separate investigations into alleged misconduct by the Central Intelligence Agency, the FBI, the Defense Intelligence Agency and the myriad other federal intelligence-gathering agencies.

Now, the investigation is needed. The American people must be assured that the CIA and others conduct their operations without violating the constitutional rights on Americans, both at home and abroad.

And we must be assured that the intelligence agencies are doing only what they should be doing to gather intelligence.

But that is why President Ford created the special commission on the CIA, FBI, et al.

So why do we need a special Senate Committee looking into the same allegations? And why do we need a special House Committee doing it too?

The Presidential Commission, headed by Vice President Rockefeller, is slated to report on its findings in early April. The Congress should have at least waited until these findings were released before deciding whether to launch its own probe.

And, should it then be determined that a Congressional investigation is needed, a joint House-Senate Committee could be created to do it.

But the Congress didn't take that course.

First, the Senate decided to do its own probe and authorized the spending of some $750,000 to do it.

And now the House decides to go its own way and spending another $750,000 on a probe.

If the CIA has violated its charter and conducted domestic intelligence operations, who will the House committee blame? Certainly not the subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee which supposedly has been watching over the CIA all these years.

And, if the FBI has done wrong, will the House lay the blame at the feet of the subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee which has oversight responsibility in this area? Not likely.

So what will be accomplished by these separate probes?

Outside of raising a lot of questions and grabbing some headlines, the most likely result is the creation of a Special Joint House-Senate Committee on Intelligence to oversee the operations of all our super-secret agencies.

But that could be done now, without three different and expensive investigations.

However, it isn't just the duplication of efforts or the potential for headline hunting which bothers me about the investigations.

What bothers me is the threat that our intelligence activities may be threatened by these investigations.

There are no secrets in a congressional hearing. That was proven conclusively during the impeachment hearings last year.

Yet the material which this special committee will be dealing with is much more sensitive than anything unveiled during the impeachment hearings.

Our very security as a nation could be threatened by leaks and gossip. The lives of any number of agents could be put in jeopardy by a grab at headlines.

I would hope this wouldn't happen. But the risk is there. And it is a serious risk.

So, for that reason, I voted against creation of the House Select Committee on Intelligence.

Letter to the editor

To the editor:

American Legion Post No. 126 and All Saints Episcopal Church extend their sincere thanks to all who participated in the first annual God and Country Day held at F.I.T. College on Sunday, February 16th.

We are deeply grateful for the support we received from the public, as well as all the organizations who took part and made the event a grand experience in our community.

Sincerely,

Richard Neeson, Legion Post 126
Fr. Frank Alvares, All Saints Church

Our Sunday service was well attended, even though some forgot to move their clocks ahead. Rev. Clarke Thompson led us in prayer and a lesson study. The week W. Stuart performed the duet. Arrangements opening and benediction services. B. Turner made the announcements most important to note was that the Hobe Sound Bible Study Choir will sing again for us on March 16 at 6:45 a.m. Everyone is invited to hear this wonderful, talented group. Mrs. Delores Brink was at the piano and Mrs. Grace Thau at the organ. Mrs. Norma Quillen sang the anthem. Bob Barton, Mark Sumner and Ralph Ullmann served as ushers.

The Hobby and Craft Show on Feb. 22 was a wonderful success, thanks to the public committee members: Flora Mae Carthy, Ada Olmated, Helen Knapp, Eloise Frisbe and Eve Schoen registration. Inez Jacobsen, Ila Taylor, Evie Hunt, Trudy and Nelson Beatty, Jeanne Kiefaber and Peg Ray, Ruth Taylor, Merle and Helen Eury, Stephanie table, Olive Taylor and Jim Shearne bake sale table. Dorothy Clark and Penny Bennett, publicity table. Geoffrey Van Dyke, Dave McCarthy, Carl Eury, John Hope and Clarence Ouellette, table management. Dorothy Blair, George Baren, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, music, with Ray Turner. Bert and Martha Lewis, Irving Lubke and Artie Smith and their happy group, publicity. Chairman of this event was Teena Ray. Some of the highlights were Eileen Hunter's pictures, which were very good, jewelry, both in fine line by Dorothy Ebner was attractive. Marie Vallery's most interesting display of rattan. All said the fund can out too soon, or suggestion were too large. Anyway a big show.

Dot and Ethan Thomas, from Anderson, Ind., spent the last ten days at Holiday Out in a rental trailer. They were so thrilled with the park that they will be coming back in another week for a month's stay. This is their first trip to Florida, having retired from General Motors last year. They are enjoying a reunion with long time friends, Loren and Greta Updike and other friends in Stuart.

It was "Wisconsin week" for Loren and Greta Updike recently when Loren's sister-in-law, Velma Updike of Monticello, Wis., and their niece and her husband, Fern and Orville Kiel from Blovehordville, Wis., visited here. Vi and Leonard Dittmer, Ike and Irene Rebout, all from Janesville, Wis., and Carl and Bertha Sederburg, of Hartford, Wis., were also visitors. All said they were so glad to be out of the cold.

+ + +

Al and Freda Stort, who had been staying on their son's lot, left to go to New Port Richey. They intend to come back next fall for a longer stay.

+ + +

Mr. and Mrs. Remo Bianco had a call informing of the death of their young grandson. They left immediately for New York. Their many friends extend condolences to Remo and Edna.

Charlotte Richards, lot 425, returned home to Delaware on learning of the death of her aunt. Condolences are also extended to her by her many friends.

+ + +

Having sold their trailer and lot, Eileen and Bill Hunter are leaving Wednesday for California. Eileen has been working at the rec counter for years. While here, she perfected her painting skills and won many blue ribbons in local shows. They will be missed, but we all wish them a good trip and a good life in California.

+ + +

Charles and Carrie Ullmann had a surprise visit from Mr. and Mrs. Perrine for four days. The Perrines are from Seattle, Wash., and Charles and Carrie hadn't seen them for seven years.

+ + +

Bill and Mary Ackerman are leaving for home at Harper Woods, Mich. We are sorry to have them go. But, snow or no snow, work calls Bill back. We know they really want to stay in our sunshine. In a couple more years they will retire!

Earl Bowes' birthday party the other day was the nicest yet, and at 75, that is saying a lot.

John and Pat Vetterl hosted the affair on their patio, amidst lanterns and background music. Cocktails and chit chat were the order of the day, plus a beautiful table serving chicken, two salads, baked beans, and hot rolls. Then cake and ice cream and coffee. All very delicious.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Del Starn, Mr. and Mrs. Mac McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Rough, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bowes, Mr. and Mrs. Stu Bicknell and Mrs. Ethel Moriarity. There was lots of picture taking, and many well wishers stopped by.

Merle and Vi Howard, from Hougan, Wis., arrived on their lot last week and are glad to be out of the cold and snow.

+ + +

Joan and Carl May had their daughter with them this past week, and they all left for home together on Tuesday.

+ + +

Phillip Kellis, brother of Mary Lou Lupke, stopped off for an overnight stay in the park. Kellis is on a transcontinental bus tour, and is visiting all his scattered relatives as well as sightseeing.

+ + +

Have you taken notice of the improved appearance of the common areas of the rec area? Marvin Smith and his volunteer cohorts have been busy planting trees and shrubs along our V.O. fence line and in the center aisle. All plantings have been donated by lot owner James Allen, who is certainly due a whopping vote of thanks.

+ + +

On Sunday evening, George Bares, assisted by Jean & Betty Taylor and Jim Koontz, provided music for singing and dancing in the street at lot 230. Honored were Millie Armock who celebrates her birthday Friday, and Carl & Joan May, who left on Tuesday. Fifty four people came and went as the evening progressed and all had a wonderful time. The broom dance was an especial success.

+ + +

"An Evening with Rosalie" was very well received by all who went to hear her sing. All proceeds went for fire-fighting equipment in both parks, which was certainly a worthy cause.

VOLLEY BALL—Members of the Jensen Beach Elementary School held a volley ball match last week. They had a wild, if not a well-played, game.

"Not who but what" is Sunday's topic

JENSEN BEACH—The second in the series of Sunday evening Lenten study groups presented by Rev. Bill Kincaid at the Jensen Beach Community Church will have as this week's topic "Not Who but What Killed Jesus."

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Lent 1976 may just open up whole new vistas of religious understanding for you and your friends," Rev. Kincaid said in discussing the series.

At the end of each presentation, there will be a coffee break and then we shall re-unite to discuss as a group what the evening's presentation means to each of us.

The sessions start promptly at 7 p.m. It is suggested that persons planning to attend should be at the Fellowship Hall on Skyline Drive by 6:50 p.m.

Refinery sets target

FORT PIERCE—Ashland Oil Co. hopes to break ground on the St. Lucie refinery project in mid-1976, a company spokesman said.

The oil company is planning a 350,000 barrels-a-day refinery on ranchland north of the Orange Avenue Extension, about 15 miles west of Fort Pierce.

Hospital Auxiliary meets next week

STUART—The next general meeting of the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday, March 3, at St. Mary's Parish Hall on Osceola Avenue, Stuart.

Mrs. Nellie Bullock, Social Service Director of Martin Memorial Hospital, will be the guest speaker. She will discuss "How Social Service Can Serve Your Hospital."

Mrs. Florence Thomas and Mrs. Dorothy Grimm are co-hostesses for the meeting.

The Valentine, Patriotic Party held last Saturday was a huge success. Many were heard to say, "Gee this is fun."

A King and Queen were chosen by the Seating of hearts under their napkins. Eileen Roseboom was the Queen of Hearts and Walter Thomas was the King. We played musical chairs and some of the men acted like nasty little boys of thirty (*) years ago, pulling the chairs from under people and edging others out of the chairs. Well, boys will be boys. It was all in fun. Kate Ramsey won the game in spite of them.

We also had the Broom Dance, the Alley Cat and the Mixer Dance to help us get acquainted with the many guests present. Many partners enjoyed the old fashioned game of holding an orange between their foreheads with their hands behind their backs, dancing to the music. Try it, it's fun. Mildred and Gene Gras won in this dance.

Mrs. Maud Lusk and her daughter, Mrs. Rudy Park of Michigan, are visiting Nora Crossett. Mrs. Lusk's other daughter and her husband Harry.

Mrs. Lusk was the belle of the ball as she received a standing ovation when she waltzed with Harry. Mrs. Lusk is 93. What a joy to behold!

A plant raffled off was won by Bob Palmer. Aren't you sorry that you didn't come, Helen?

Rachel LaChuyse raved about the Hi Line Day cruise which she recommends for young and old. She said that the trip is about 43 miles long. Senior Citizens may come on Mondays at half price. It might be a good idea for us to take such a trip as a group. What do you say, gang?

Tealey explains school position

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT-At the general meeting last Wednesday night, Dean Tealey clarified many of the students questions by showing facts and figures related to the schools economic situation.

Besides the rise in cost in power and electricities, Dean Tealey also noted that there were 175 last minute enrollment cancellations at the beginning of this year, which accounts for a loss of revenue.

Tealey also noted that because everyone is experiencing the inflation economy donations to the school are down from previous years.

Also the college has some land and building assets which are not selling because of the nations economic situation.

The raise in tuition is intended to compensate for the rise of average credit hours taken by the students. In the last two years the average credit hours per student has risen from 14 to 16.

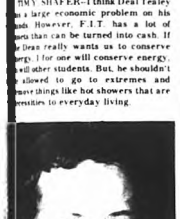
A welcome announcement made at the meeting was that a system of antennas will be installed on the roof of the dorms. They should be able to bring in six channels and an F.M. channel. Dean Tealey explained that the cable company, which originally was to install cable TV, changed its prices making it impossible for the college to meet new rates.

Next it was announced the money for the renovation of Chavrin Hall had been raised and that work would start soon. Lastly, the Saga Food Service will not be serving the cafeteria after the end of this school year. Dean Tealey announced that bids from three other food companies are now being considered.

Student opinions on the meeting with Dean Tealey

TIMY SHAFER--I think Deal Tealey has a large economic problem on his hands. However, F.I.T. has a lot of assets that can be turned into cash. If the Dean really wants us to conserve energy, I for one will conserve energy, as will other students. But, he shouldn't be allowed to go to extremes and remove things like hot showers that are necessities to everyday living.

GLENN BROWN--I thought Dean Tealey was leveling with the students and that he make all the information available.



BILL SPIESS--I thought it was informative and that Dean Tealey was open with us. He showed us the figures and facts and said the books are there for us to see. I can't argue with the facts.

FRANK MINTO--I thought Dean Tealey made it plain that everyone had to conserve. He also showed that things like fire extinguishers and electricity were being abused.

Dean of Students is named

ELBERT ROSE--James Gerald Stone has been appointed Dean of Students at Florida Institute of Technology. He has been Director of College Housing at FIT since October 1974. The announcement of the new assignment was made by Dr. Jack Kark, Vice President of Student Affairs.

Stone will replace William H. Rose who has been Dean of Students at the school since 1967. Rose recently accepted a position at Baptist Hospital in Pensacola, Fla., as Development Officer.

Jerry Stone was a former Dean of Students at Mercer University in Macon, Ga. He joined Mercer as the Director of Student Activities in 1966 and during the following eight years held several positions at the University. He was appointed Dean of Students in 1973 after having served as Director of Housing, Dean of Men and Director of Athletics.

Food stamps for students might be answer

BY BRAD BRUESER

FIT-Are you eating the right kinds of food? If not, is it because you can't afford to buy the kinds of food you want to eat? If that's the case, then maybe you ought to look into food stamps.

Chances are likely you have some questions about them. Some typical ones might be, "Am I eligible to get food stamps?" and if so, how do I go about getting them?" In answer to the first question, one of the requirements, if you are a student, is that you live off campus.

From there the only way you can find out if you are eligible is to go to the Food Stamp Office and find out. In Martin County that may not be as easy as it sounds, because the place is hard to find. If you've ever been to Florida in the summer, you know that the Sunshine State is also the State of Confusion. Power and Light in Stuart, you have a good reference point to start from.

The Food Stamp Office is located on the same side of the street Osceola Ave. as F.P.&L. and there is a sort of "hallway" going through an unmarked building. The second door on the right of this "hallway" is the State of Florida Food Stamp Office.

Now all that's to be done is to go there, or call 283-2300 and make an appointment.

After doing this, the people at the Food Stamp Office will inform you of the kinds of things you will have to bring in at the time of your appointment.

A few of the things will be fee statements from the school, rent receipts, telephone bills, utilities bills, verification of income from your job if you have one, bank statements, passbooks, etc. A full list may be obtained from the Food Stamp Office.

There were some rumors going around that students wouldn't be able to get food stamps as of sometime in March. I was told by the Food Stamp Office that there was talk about it, but to date there is nothing concrete concerning the matter.

I sure hope that it stays that way, because if it wasn't for food stamps, my roommate and I would more than likely be nutritionally deprived. So before you eat another meal of peanut butter sandwiches, contact the Food Stamp Office. What have you got to lose?

A sun returned

BY MARK ALEXANDER SHIDDELL

The shadows, phantoms,
Falling through unseeing eyes of Dog fish
Jagged spirit flounders in despair
Faint echoes of suffering.
Within the center of useless
Silence
Mound springs of silent clocks stir
Unconsciously
Shocking defending silence.
Demented rainbows splash
Shining
Withering eyes watch,
And crumbling facades of tradition,
Hopes fade, becoming lingering
Pain.

Reduced to cosmic blocks,
Captured into oblivion,
Luminescence, powdery blackness,
Falling through gnarled and desperate
Grasps.

The feeble cry, the resurgence, the
Reward's death.
Obscuring horizons with painted tears
Ashed from lightless eyes
The once bright flame sputters,
once, twice, three times, and is gone
And you and I,
Intact through time, and waiting, hear,
sublime sounds, engulfing the mind,
freeing a soul.
Timeless decay loses grasp, withers,
and the dimmed orb glimmers
A probing ray plays with the darkness
dancing elfin patterns within.
As dual laden shutters are pulled apart
a window opens, a heart beats.
The flaming Chimera comes to life
Strong and resplendent, casting no
shadows
And the dying zephyr becomes a gale,
as silently gliding gulls reel,
witnesses of a sun returned.

FIT blood drive set for Tuesday

FIT--The third annual FIT Blood Drive will be held March 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the breezeway of the main building.

The first blood drive netted 125 pints, while the second turned in only 80 pints. So, this time FIT is shooting for 200 pints.

Anyone donating blood becomes a member of the FIT blood bank and may request blood for relatives or friends.

To donate blood you must be eighteen or over and be healthy. Those FIT students who donated last time are reminded that a person can donate as often as every two months.

Solar energy lecture

FIT--On March 6, FIT students will be treated to a lecture from Dr. Eric Farber, a leading expert on solar energy. The lecture will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 in the auditorium. Dr. Farber is being brought to us from the University of Florida by the Martin County Conservation Alliance.

Submersibles, man's new tool

BY ROBERT GRABEN

FIT--Man is always trying to go deeper in the ocean world. In his search for the bottom he employes the use of diving submersibles. The depths that he is driving to in these are well below what can be reached by unused gas or compressed air, such as SCUBA. References as far back as to Homer's Iliad state that Aristotle made descents in a metallic vessel to watch surroundings. This metallic vessel was called a colimpus.

Man did not give up the thought of venturing into the depths, but Edmund Halley made improvements on it, having built with the aid of wooden barrels as an air supply. In 1791, however, the first prototype of the modern day hard hat was devised. This was the first in surfaced supplied air systems. The closed diving suit system came into being in 837 which gave way to helmet suit mixed gas systems. There is a long history behind man's venture into the underwater world. A major break through came in 1943 when Jacques Cousteau and Emile Gagnan developed what today is known as SCUBA.

After this point in time, diving spheres began to be improved, for research of the ocean bottom. One of the first was known as the bathysphere. Work by engineers continued, the U.S. Navy had the Trieste and Trieste II. Submersibles began to come in all sizes. Captain Cousteau has the Denise. Westinghouse the Deepstar. Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute has the Alvin, and a relatively new all aluminum submersible was built by Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corporation.

Submersibles are a needed tool in today's offshore world. Companies all over the world use them in their work on the sea bed. One manufacturer that supplies many subs is Hydrospace by the Perry Corporation. Martin Fitt, vice chairman and last Saturday visited the Perry Corporation to see what was involved in the manufacturing of diving submersibles. A guided tour of the plant revealed the many electrical components that go into the making of a sub.

The Perry Corporation produces subs to fit the needs of the companies. It is all very impressive what man develops to challenge the ocean depths to make up for their limitations. With submersibles and the men that operate them the ocean will be opened up to research and development. Is there a limit? We that can be answered in witness of three feet is a limit to what man can do.

FIT flying club off the ground

BY PHYLLIS RUSSE

A flying club has just been organized on our campus. The officers elected are Rick Gallo, president; Leslie Rosenfeld, vice president; and Nathan Bartell, secretary. The club has several possibilities for getting planes and lessons much cheaper than an individual could. To get a private pilots license you need 20 hours of instruction while flying, and 20 hours solo flying, and ground school.

The club members will be able to take lessons in a Citabrea for $15 an hour at Stuart Airport. A package plan that has been worked out at West Palm Beach Airport includes 20 hours dual and 20 hours solo for $660. With ground school it will be $699. It is also possible to buy blocks of time, if you already have some hours of flying time logged. The club is still looking into lessons from the Civil Air Patrol.

The club hopes to do all kinds of flying, including parachuting and hand gliding. Also, the club still needs a name and an emblem.

Schnurbusch is candidate

Assistant appraiser is appointed

JENSEN BEACH– Martin County Property Appraiser E.F. "Dutch" Schurbusch said Tuesday that he has appointed an executive assistant property appraiser, a new position in the office.

"I am appointing Theodore J. Campo to the new position," Schnurbush said.

Schnurbush said the new position was created "to improve the efficiency of the office of Property Appraiser, and to improve service to the taxpayers."

It was pointed out by Schnurbush that with the hiring of Campo it won't be necessary to hire an outside appraiser.

A private consulting firm was hired last year to conduct a county-wide reappraisal of county properties.

A state audit criticized Schnurbusch for hiring the consultants and buying equipment without written contracts in some cases and poor record keeping.

Schnurbusch charged that the audit was misleading and unfairly pointing out that criticisms had been corrected six months ago.

In announcing the new office position and appointment of Campo, Schnurbusch announced that he would be a candidate for the office in 1978.

He said he needs another term to have 20 years of service with the county.

Many changes took place in Martin County in the 1960's when I served as a deputy in the assessor's office, Schnurbusch stated in a prepared statement.

In 1968 I was elected Martin County assessor. Changes and growth that frightened the imagination have taken place since that date.

"My primary responsibility is to prepare a tax roll each year which equitably reflects the value influence related to that change and for growth if any. This is not and never will be an easy assignment nor I might add, a popular one.

"It has been a hearable one only because of the dedication, devotion and sacrifice of the loyal employees of this office."

The new executive assistant property appraiser has been a licensed real estate salesman since 1967 and a broker and appraiser since 1973.

Campo moved to the Stuart area from St. James, N.Y., in March of 1974, and lives with his wife and five children in Lighthouse Point.

TAXING THOUGHT–U.S. Rep. L.A. "Skip" Bafalis (left) seems to be giving some serious thought to a question by E.C. Wareheim at the annual meeting of Martin County Taxpayers Association.

PROGRESS–Progress is evidenced at the new CESA barbecue area as volunteer workers sand and paint the picnic tables. In order to check out the new barbecue pits prior to the March 8 Spring Festival, a trial run was held last Sunday when CESA trustees and their guests enjoyed grilled hamburgers, baked potatoes and salad. Approximately 120 attended the affair and according to reports, all went well.

PROBLEM AREA–Gary Smith, one of the GDC crewmen paints out one of the trouble areas. GDC has an eight-man crew presently working in the Veranda-Floresta Drive area lowering these swales to let the water pass along. The swales are being lowered from two to six inches. When the work is completed sod is replaced and there is no damage done to the yards. GDC has asked the cooperation of the residents while this work is underway.

HELPING HAND–Pete Zamattes, past commander of the Andy Matton VFW Post 10130, gives a helping hand at the Auxiliary third anniversary dinner dance held at the marina last Thursday night. Serving 128 persons at the affair kept Zamattes busy shuffling the hot rolls.

Privateer demonstration is a highlight of art exhibit

PORT ST. LUCIE–A highlight of the Art and Craft Exhibit at CESA's Spring Festival and Bazaar will be a demonstration in silk by Donna Privateer, well known artist and instructor in St. Lucie County.

The demonstration will be held under the Florida Sun if the weather is fair. Artists and craftsmen have been granted the use of the Port St. Lucie Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in case of rain.

The Saturday, March 1, is the final registration day for the art exhibit. Registrations will be taken from 10 a.m. to noon at the CESA Building. If anyone has any questions he is advised to be at the CESA Building Saturday morning or to call John Pugh, 878-2861, Russell Privateer, 878-9298, or Lorne Bell, 878-2168.

GETTING ORGANIZED–Mrs. Jane Glenton, assistant secretary of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Fort Pierce, was on hand at the new branch office opened up in the St. Lucie Shopping Plaza last Monday. Although the official opening ceremonies will be held Wednesday morning, today, the branch office was open for business Feb. 24.

CHEF REWARDED–In what was obviously a surprise, Bill Pratt was presented a plaque and a big kiss for the dinner he prepared last Thursday night at the Port St. Lucie Marina. The occasion was the third anniversary dinner dance given by the VFW Andy Matton Post 10130 Auxiliary. Fulfilling a previous promise to the group, Bill Pratt of Reading, Mass. prepared roast chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans and salad for the group. Pictured above, left to right, Auxiliary president Mrs. Jayne Correia, Pratt, and Auxiliary Conductress.

PHONE SUPPORT–The 35 employees of the Commercial Department of Southern Bell Telephone Co. participated 100 per cent in the Martin County United Fund payroll deduction, and the cash and pledges from all telephone employees was $3,750. From left are Guy Cromwell, UF president; Margaret Zenta, business office supervisor of the phone company; and Glenn Sutton, company manager.

SWALES LOWERED–General Development Corporation has a crew working in the Veranda and Floresta Drive area lowering the swales to eliminate the drainage problems residents in the area have been experiencing. To correct the situation, workmen are removing the sod, grading the swale to the proper depth, and replacing the sod.

There has been no dearth of visitors around our Park lately, and one of the most attractive is four-month-old Christopher Chandler Jack and Olive Burns, his great grandparents, are justly proud of him and his parents, who happen to be their granddaughter Vicki and her husband Bob. Christopher and his family are from Thunder Bay, Ontario, Canada, and he finds a notable difference in the temperature - from 25 below at home, to 25 above here - all within a few hours air travel. He plans to stay for ten days and do a little basking in the warm sun without benefit of snow, and hopes to make a longer visit next year

Your horoscope

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - Cooperation may be hard to get at this time. Don't let it throw you off stride - keep up your good work. Advice comes from all directions. Select one source to listen to. Spruce up wardrobe.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - Rely on tried and true friends; new acquaintances may not be favorable contacts. Envy could surround you. Your own, or those more skilled than you and others who covet your know-how. Stay cool.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Guard your health by observing moderation in all things. Slow down social activities; get plenty of rest. You can't have everything you want so budget expenses. Be considerate of a relative.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - You could be in a family "squeeze" feeling compelled to make changes in yourself to please them. Maintain your individuality. Pay close attention to work. Fulfill responsibilities. Love may be disappointing.

LEO: (July 23 to August 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - Don't dwell on the past. Devote your energy to a heavy work load. Be methodical and detailed in work habits. A new friend encountered now proves to be very beneficial. Chance of a financial windfall.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Someone who is very jealous and perhaps childish can cause you concern now. Opportunities to earn extra income are around you. Don't endanger health through overwork. Avoid extravagance.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - Creative projects referring to career pay off for you now. A promotion, raise or offer of something better is likely. Rely on your intuition and inspiration. Your understanding grows.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Procrastination will make you uncomfortable. Get busy and do your chores. Evaluate other people carefully. Your emotions could lead you into a wrong judgment. Don't lose money.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - Home projects, real estate matters are favored. Use remodeled, renovated items. Make plans about bills that are due, your whole financial picture. Get off by yourself to meditate and ponder.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Your mind is sharp and new mental attitudes give you answers. Pay attention to your appearance and wardrobe. Reactivate a past project. Romance brightens. Listen to ideas from others.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Career demands are heavy and rewarding. Important declarations, conferences and projects are part of the picture. Problems and decisions in romance are temporary. Curb extravagance.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Work can be done quite effortlessly now. The pace is fast. Children and friends are accented. Relax and enjoy life - but ambition take a back seat. Good news about career is cause to celebrate.

Your personalized horoscope is available. Our 116-page booklet is keyed to your individual date, place and time of birth. Discover your potentials, understand yourself and others better. For information, write: Your Horoscope Guide, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper.

Nettie Keefer recently entertained her niece and her husband, Mr and Mrs Claude Eudy, who came down from Pottstown, Pennsylvania, together with their son Ken and his brand new bride, Dotty.

Now she has as house guests, friends from Arlington, Virginia, Mr and Mrs. C. H. Hancock and their constant canine companion, Fala. The Hancocks are the parents of one of Nettie's daughters-in-law.

+ + +

Mrs. Grace Stetser is delighted to have her daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Mello here from Latham, New York. Grace's grand daughter Claire came with her parents, and we were happy to have her join the Art Class last Wednesday morning.

+ + +

Alice and Walter Keeder went over to Lakeland in their motor home to visit friends, then chugged to the West Coast for a look at the beautiful azaleas and dogwood in blossom.

We had two wedding anniversaries last week. Martha and Jim Duffy celebrated 27 years of marital bliss on the 19th, and Esther and George Grindley made it to their Golden Anniversary on the 20th. There was a surprise party in the afternoon at which hors-d'oeuvres, champagne and Cold Duck were served. Later Ethel and Don Phillips took them to dinner.

Attending the gala affair were other than the guests of honor, Mona and Arthur Wendt, Dorothy and Keith Morley, and their houseguest Jessie Dean. Ethel and Don Phillips, Martha and Jim Duffy, Marie and Harold Johnson, Fran and Bill Gebres and Fran's sister Mary Lou Kreider from Houston in the Lone Star State, who is spending a week with them.

Jane and Marvin Wininger have a house full - Jane's mother, Mrs Geneva Brock, of Monrovia, Indiana, and her aunt Martha and her husband, Paul Doan, from Centerton, Indiana, all of whom plan to stay for a nice, long visit.

+ + +

Last week Jane and Marvin had a very special dinner guest - an Army buddy of Marvin's, Howard Reckner and his wife Mary Lou from Delta, Ohio, who are visiting in Vero Beach. They called, were invited down, and spent a most genial evening talking over "old times".

+ + +

The Burtons are on the hosting list also - they are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson from Orleans, Indiana.

Ellrede and Noble Winninger had an overnight visit from their friends Dr. John K. and Mrs. Jo Stears, who are on their way to Key West. On the return trip they will spend several days with Ellrede and Noble.

We all worked on our "own thing" in Art Class last Wednesday, aided and abetted by our instructor, Sherry Whitney. This week she will show us how to paint fruit so delectable we just might eat it for lunch!

League endorses candidates

PORT ST. LUCIE—Four candidates have been endorsed by the twelve man board of the Port St. Lucie Civic League Inc. Two of those endorsed have yet to file a notice of their candidacy.

Although four days remain before the closing date for candidates to file, Herb Tschudy, a League board member released the names of the League endorsed candidates. Tschudy is a member of the League's 12 man board which selected the individuals to be endorsed by the group.

Those receiving the League's support are Schuyler Sharpe, Frank Rose, Lolita Kernohan and William B. McChesney.

As of Tuesday noon neither Rose nor Kernohan had filed a notice of candidacy at the City Hall.

According to League officers the endorsed candidates will appear at a special March 6 meeting to outline their platforms and political views before the league membership. The meeting is scheduled to be held at the St. Lucie Convention Hall at 7:30 p.m.

All candidates in the city received invitations to meet individually with the League's Board for private interviews according to Tschudy.

The newly formed League claims a membership of approximately 300 and has held one general membership meeting on February 10 at the convention hall. Approximately 200 were in attendance at that meeting.

Officers of the league are Robert Johnston president, Paul M. Reeb, vice-president, Jean Discher secretary and Reri McDonnell treasurer.

Seven have filed for city election

PORT ST. LUCIE—As of Tuesday morning six candidates have filed for the March 18 election.

The group 4 seat is being sought by three candidates. Catherine Westman, Vaughn Lewis and Sam Feigenbaum. A fourth candidate, Frank Rose already endorsed by the Civic League has not yet officially filed for his notice of candidacy.

Schuyler Sharpe has filed for the Group 1 seat currently being held by Ken Thompson. Thompson has announced he will not seek re-election.

William B. McChesney is thus far unopposed for the Group 5 seat. McChesney was appointed to the seat to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Harold Nottles.

The other two candidates both seeking the Group 1 seat which is currently vacant are Carl Ed Fessel and David Riley. The seat was held previously by Vice Mayor Franklin Beardsley who resigned because of health reasons.

Mrs. Lolita Kernohan has also been endorsed by the Port St. Lucie Civic League but has as of Tuesday not filed for a seat.

The closing date for candidates to file is 5 p.m. Feb. 28 at the City Hall.

Invitational Tennis tourney starts Friday

PORT ST. LUCIE—The First Annual St. Lucie Hilton Invitational Tennis Championships will begin Friday morning, Feb. 28 through Sunday, March 2. Semi-finals and finals are expected to be played on Sunday at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Entry deadline for the tournament is Wednesday, Feb. 26 at 6 p.m. Today's draw will be made at this time.

Cocktail parties and box dinners will be held at the Country Club grounds on Saturday night.

The tournament will include some of the better known players in Florida from throughout the country, as well as a few foreign players.

Scheduled to play this weekend are Jared Florian, originally from Ohio now a touring player; John Wambold, high ranked in Wisconsin; Bob Barrington, of Colorado; Ralph Ward, Boca Raton and Dario Fallas, Costa Rican Davis Cup player. Local players include Mario Obando, Jack Breidenbaugh, Paddy McGrary and Bob Grossman.

In the women's events, Pam Bailes, Virginia Slims player; San Tarres from West Palm; Martha Grieco from Boca Raton and Patti Pottiger from Miami will play. Local women players include Sallie Campbell and Lucha Gale.

The tournament is free to the public. Mario Obando, tournament director said that seating arrangements have been made for approximately 500 people.

The tournament will be sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association and the Florida Lawn Tennis Association.

Draw will be limited to 12 players in all events. All matches will be best two out of three sets with a nine-point tie breaker at six all.

Handsome awards will be presented to winners and runners up.

Register for 'T-Ball'

PORT ST. LUCIE—Boys and girls aged 5 to 8 may register for T-Ball at Sportsman's Park between 9 and 11 a.m. for the next two Saturdays, March 1st and March 8.

The T-Ball program is sponsored by the Port St. Lucie Optimist Club again this year. There will be a $5.00 fee to cover the cost of insurance and equipment.

SLCC Homeowners to host candidates

PORT ST. LUCIE—The St. Lucie Country Club Homeowners Association has invited the candidates for election to the Port St. Lucie City Council to speak at its annual meeting of members to be held Friday, March 7th at 7:30 p.m. in Convention Hall. Candidates who announce their intention to run before the dead line on February 28th will also be invited.

We feel this action will give our members an opportunity to see and hear all those from whom each voter will select four," said C.A. Brantley, Jr. president of the association, adding, "It is our hope that all candidates will accept the invitation."

Equal time will be allotted to each speaker and the duration of each address will be determined when the number of candidates is known.

All candidates have been requested to speak constructively and positively and to omit critical or derogatory remarks.

According to Brantley, it has been suggested to each speaker that he discuss his qualifications, his goals and purposes in seeking election, and his convictions as to municipal governmental systems and practices, his principles and philosophy of government and his experience in such matters.

Inflation hits Rio Lindo Garden Club

PORT ST. LUCIE—Inflation has hit Rio Lindo Garden Club too. At their regular monthly meeting last week members voted to amend Section 1 of Article IV of the by laws to raise the dues to $8.00 per year for active members and to $6.00 annually for associate members. It was also decided to make dues payable on April 30 of each year.

In other business the annual luncheon show was cancelled. While the club has discontinued the Plant of the Month awards, the last two have were presented to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lewallen and to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Winter during Monday's meeting. Presentations were made by Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. H. Hamilton.

One new member, Mrs. Robert Quincy Siemens was introduced by Mrs. Vincent Ade, membership chairman, as were other visitors.

Mrs. Mahlon Cline was welcomed back after successful eye surgery. She is the club treasurer.

Members said good bye to Bernice Valentine who is returning to live in Ludington, Michigan because of her husband's retirement.

The first of a series of two talks on Ikebana, the art of Japanese flower arranging, was given by Mrs. Donald Hunter, first vice president of the club. Illustrated by slides, her discussion covered much of the history and meaning of Ikebana.

Mrs. Barnes Mingus requested that plants for the International Bazaar be brought to the CESA Building on Friday, March 8, between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. and that other articles to be sold in the Garden Club booth be brought to her home as soon as possible.

A sandwich luncheon was served by chairman Helen Spaeth, assisted by Marie Reading, Dorothy Lowes and Edna Brown.

Membership in Rio Lindo Garden Club is open to residents of Port St. Lucie and River Park.

Chiles' representative will be here

PORT ST. LUCIE—St. Lucie County residents who are experiencing problems with the federal government can present their cases to a representative of Senator Lawton Chiles on March 6th and 7th in Port St. Lucie and Fort Pierce.

Bill Baxter, Chiles' south Florida [illegible] will be in the meeting room in the Port St. Lucie City Hall on Mississippi Boulevard.

AUDIO SCREENING—First grade youngsters at the Port St. Lucie Elementary School received audio screening last Friday. Miss Sandy Thompson, one of the three speech therapists at the 30 St. Lucie County School System, conducts the audio screening at Kentwell's Martha. Children are screened on audio first grade students throughout the county, according to Victor Blackmore, that St. Lucie participant.

FIRST TO BE SERVED—Although the official opening was held Feb. 26 of the new branch office of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Fort Pierce, the office was open for business Monday. Pictured above at 8 a.m. last Monday were the first two customers, to be served at the Port St. Lucie Shopping Center Branch, Branch manager Hal Roberts greeted Mrs. Dorothy Gerretson and John T. Tuck, both Port St. Lucie residents.

Press reprimanded by mayor

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mayor Larry Kimmel Tuesday berated the news media and particularly members of the press for failing to defend their own policy regarding the Freedom of Speech and the Government in the Sunshine laws.

Pointing out that the criticism was not directed to any one individual at the press table, Kimmel said, "You not only owe the people of this community an obligation, but you are obliged to protect your own rights.

Something very peculiar has been happening in our town lately. Things like secret meetings and attempts to secure deals yet with the exception of one small voice of opposition on a local newspaper there has been no mention made of these incidents," the Mayor said.

Misleading headlines was another point the Mayor was critical of during the brief Tuesday session.

BIG DRUM—A 60 pound drum may not be a record, but it is a top contender for the title. John Heckel of 701 Ramie Court, Port St. Lucie, caught this big drum last week while fishing off the Frank Wacha Bridge.

Awards highlight Cub Scout meeting

PORT ST. LUCIE—Good food, awards and trophies were the highlight of the evening when Cub Pack 096 held the Blue and Gold banquet at the marina recently.

The Blue and Gold anniversary dinner was a pot luck affair organized by the Den Mothers.

Movies provided during the evening by Charles White brought forth many laughs from the cubs and their parents.

As a part of the award ceremonies, five new members were accepted into the Pack. Those inducted included Matthew Blair, David Kearney, John Lavesque, John Rain and Jeffrey May.

A number of advancement awards were presented during the evening including Robert Going, Michael Montanino and Vincent Mosher into the Wolf Rank. Those advancing to Bear Rank were William Farr, Christopher Johnson and Vincent Mosher.

Christopher Talusko, William Farr, Vincent Mosher and Danny Wilson received their Arrow points during the ceremonies.

The Webelos Den was certainly not to be overlooked for the evening and as awards were announced.

Outstanding three of the achievement awards in the Webelos Den were Kenny Mosher, whose achievement badges included the Aquanaut, Artist, Athlete, Craftsman and Engineer.

Other Webelos to be presented with their achievement badges were Brian Smith, Aquanaut, David Larres, Aquanaut, Doug Catenac, Outdoorsman, Matthew Davidson, Artist and Naturalist and Michael Farmer, Citizen and Naturalist.

Trophies for the recent Pinewood Derby were presented to Jeff Daily, first place winner, Dean Romano, second place and to David Larres as the third place winner. These three boys will compete in the District run off to be held in Fort Pierce early in March.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 096 in cooperation with the Brownies, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts will distribute the handbills advertising the CESA Fair to be held on March 8.

The next Pack meeting will be held March 24. Theme for the month will be "Circus."

Tealey explains school position

BY JAMES WRIGHT

FIT—At the general meeting last Wednesday night, Dean Tealey answered many of the students questions following facts and figures related to the schools economic situation.

Besides the rise in cost in power related articles, Dean Tealey also noted that there were 175 last minute enrollment cancellations at the beginning of this year, which accounts for a loss of revenue.

Tealey also noted that because everyone is experiencing the inflation process, donations to the school are down from previous years.

Also the college has some land and building assets which are not selling because of the nations economic situation.

The raise in tuition is intended to compensate for the rise of average credit hours taken by the students. In the last two years the average credit hours per student has risen from 14 to 16.

A welcome announcement made at the meeting was that a system of antennas will be installed on the roof of the dorms. They should be able to bring in six channels and an FM channel. Dean Tealey explained that the cable company, which originally was to install cable TV, changed its prices making it impossible for the college to meet new rates.

Next it was announced the money for the renovation of Chavin Hall had been raised and that work would start soon.

Lastly the Saga Food Service will not be serving the cafeteria after the end of this school year. Dean Tealey announced that bids from three other food companies are now being considered.

Student opinions on the meeting with Dean Tealey

TIMMY SHAFER—I think Deal Tealey has a large economic problem on his hands. However, F.I.T. has a lot of assets than can be turned into cash. If Dean really wants us to conserve energy, I for one will conserve energy, but all other students. But, he shouldn't be allowed to go to extremes and some things like hot showers that are necessities to everyday living.

GLENN BROWN—I thought Dean Tealey was leveling with the students and that he make all the information available.

MIKE SPIES—I thought it was informative and that Dean Tealey was open with us. He showed us the figures and facts and said the books were free for us to see. I can't argue with the facts.

FRANK MINUTOLO—I thought Dean Tealey made it plain that everyone had to conserve. He also showed that things like fire extinguishers and electricity were being abused.

Dean of Students is named

GULFPORT—James Gerald Stone has been appointed Dean of Students at Florida Institute of Technology. He has been Director of College Housing at FIT since October, 1974. The announcement of his assignment was made by Dr. Ralph A. Auch, Vice President of Student Affairs.

Stone will replace William H. Rose who has been Dean of Students at the school since 1967. Rose recently accepted a position at Baptist Hospital of New Orleans, La., as Development Officer.

Jerry Stone was a former Dean of Students at Mercer University in Macon, Ga. He joined Mercer as the Director of Student Activities in 1966 and during the following eight years held several positions at the University. He was appointed Dean of Students in 1973 after having served as Director of Housing, Dean of Men and Director of Athletics.

Two schools will tour campus

On March 1 Jacksonville Jr. College will have 20 students visiting the FIT campus.

Then on March 2, Winona High School of Winona, Minneaota will have students staying at FIT for a full week. These students will be part of the Winona Marine Study Program.

Food stamps for students might be answer

BY BRAD BRUESER

"How do I go about getting them?" In answer to the first question: one of the requirements, if you are a student, is that you live off campus.

From there the only way you can find out if you are eligible is to go to the Food Stamp Office and find out. In Martin County that may not be as easy as it sounds, because the place is hard to find. If you've ever been to Florida Power and Light in Stuart, you have a good reference point to start from.

The Food Stamp Office is located on the same side of the street (Osceola Ave.) as F.P.&L. and there is a sort of "hallway" going through an unmarked building. The second door on the right of this hallway is the State of Florida Food Stamp Office.

Now all that's to be done is to go there or call 283-2300 and make an appointment.

After doing this, the people at the Food Stamp Office will inform you of the kinds of things you will have to bring in at the time of your appointment.

A few of the things will be: fee statements from the school, rent receipts, telephone bills, utilities bills, verification of income from your job if you have one, bank statements, passbooks, etc. A full list may be obtained from the Food Stamp Office.

There were some rumors going around that students wouldn't be able to get food stamps as of sometime in March. I was told by the Food Stamp Office that there was talk about it, but to date there is nothing concrete concerning the matter.

I sure hope that it stays that way, because if it wasn't for food stamps, my roommate and I would more than likely be nutritionally deprived. So before you eat another meal of peanut butter sandwiches, contact the Food Stamp Office. What have you got to lose?

A sun returned

BY MARK ALEXANDER SHIDDELL

Dar shadows phantoms
Moving through unseeing eyes of Dead girls
Tragged spirit flounders in despair
Worse echoes of suffering.
Lost within the center of useless
Hells
Eternal springs of silent clocks stir
Viciously
Mocking defending silence
Demented rainbows splash
Tones
Unfeeling eyes watch,
And crumbling facades of tradition,
Eyes fade, becoming lingering
Hate.

Instead to cosmic blocks,
Tortured into oblivion.
Existence, powdery blackness,
Flowing through gnarled and desperate
Wings.

The feeble cry, the resurgence, the coward's death
Obscuring horizons with painted tears
Shed from lightless eyes
The once bright flame sputters
once twice three times, and is gone
And yes and I
intact through time and waiting, hear
sublime sounds engulfing the mind
freeing a soul
Timeless decay, uses grasp, withers
and the dimmed orb glimmers
A probing ray plays with the darkness
dancing elfin patterns within
As dust laden shutters are pulled ajar,
a window opens, a heart beats.
The flaming Chimera comes to life
Strong and resplendent, casting no
shadows
And the dying zephyr becomes a gale,
as silently gliding gulls reel,
witnesses of a sun returned.

FIT blood drive set for Tuesday

FIT—The third annual FIT Blood Drive will be held March 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the breezeway of the main building.

The first blood drive netted 125 pints, while the second turned in only 80 pints. So, this time FIT is shooting for 200 pints.

Anyone donating blood becomes a member of the FIT blood bank and may request blood for relatives or friends.

To donate blood you must be eighteen or over and be healthy. Those FIT students who donated last time are reminded that a person can donate as often as every two months.

Solar energy lecture

FIT—On March 6, FIT students will be treated to a lecture from Dr. Eric Farber, a leading expert on solar energy. The lecture will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 in the auditorium. Dr. Farber is being brought to us from the University of Florida by the Martin County Conservation Alliance.

Submersibles, man's new tool

BY ROBERT E. GRABER

FIT—Man on the attack: diving 50 per deeper in the ocean world. In his search for the bottom, he employs the use of diving submersibles. The depths that he is trying to achieve are well within what can be reached by hoked gas or compressed air. Such as SCUBA. References as far back as in Homer's Iliad state that Aristotle made descents in a metallic vessel to watery surroundings. This metallic vessel was called a colimpha.

Man did not give up the thought of venturing onto the depths. Sir Edward Halley's deep exploration in a diving bell with the aid of wooden barrels as an air supply. In 1721 however, the first principle of the modern day hard hat was devised. This was the first in surface-supplied air systems. The closed diving suit system came into being in 1837, which gave way to helmet suit mixed gas systems. There is a long history behind man's venture into the underwater world. A major break through came in 1943 when Jacques Cousteau and Emile Gagnan developed what today is known as SCUBA.

After this point in time, diving spheres began to be improved for research of the ocean bottom. One of the first was known as the bathysphere. Work by engineers continued the U.S. Navy had the Trieste and Trieste II. Submersibles began to come in all sizes. Captain Cousteau has the Denise. Westinghouse the Deepstar. Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute has the Alvin and a relatively new all aluminum submersible was built by Perkins Boats Division of General Dynamics Corporation.

Submersibles are a needed tool in behalf of offshore work. If companies all over the world use subs in their work in the oil rigs. Time, transportation and supplies many subs companies is the Perry Corporation. Many FIT electronics majors last Saturday visited the Perry Corporation to see what was involved in the manufacturing of diving submersibles. A quided tour of the plant revealed the many electrical components that go into the making of a sub.

The Perry Corporation produces subs on the upside of the companies. It is always impressive when our Developments challenge the ocean depths to make up for those limitations. With submersibles and the men that operate them, the ocean will be opened up for research and development. Is there a limit? We may not be around to witness it if there ever is a limit to what man can do.

FIT flying club off the ground

BY PHYLLIS RUSSE

A flying club has just been organized on our campus. The officers elected are Rick Lafler, president; Jim Rosenfeld, vice president and Nathan Bartell, secretary. The club has several possibilities for getting planes, and presents much cheaper than an individual could. To get a private pilots license, you need 20 hours of instruction while flying, and 20 hours solo flying and ground school.

The club members will be able to take lessons at Callaway for $15 an hour at Stuart Airport. A package plan that has been worked out at West Palm Beach Airport includes 20 hours dual and 20 hours solo for $660. With ground school it will be $690. It is also possible to buy blocks of time if you already have some hours of flying time logged. The club is still looking into lessons from the Civil Air Patrol.

The club hopes to do all kinds of flying, including parachuting and hand gliding. Also the club still needs a name and an emblem.

Committee meets

Big birthday celebration is goal

JENSEN BEACH–The Bicentennial Celebration activities in Jensen Beach area will begin July 4, 1975 with the annual Fourth of July on Jensen Beach Causeway.

Plans for a glorious celebration for the nation's 200th birthday got under way with a meeting of the Bicentennial Committee at Hoke Hall on Feb. 26.

"Our next meeting will be March 14 at the same place," Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce president Art Hansen said.

"Twenty-six persons representing 17 organizations attended the meeting," Hansen said.

"We expect to elect officers of the committee at our next session," he said.

It was noted that several events already are scheduled, including God and Country Day, Lief Erickson Day, Jensen Beach Art Show, Sea Turtle Watch, Halloween and July 4.

A program for Thanksgiving Day was discussed as a positive means of saying, "thanks to God for all of our blessings."

A ministerial group has indicated it might sponsor a Thanksgiving Day program, according to Hansen.

The group also discussed the possibility of having a "golden thread" theme in the celebration activities that relates to the history of the community.

An attempt has been made to obtain television coverage but a committee member was told that all the television time was being used to cover historical sites.

Some other possible activities suggested at the meeting included:

1. Optimist Club might arrange a "flyover" from Patrick and Homestead Air Force bases.

2. Celebration forums in schools as public places.

3. Richard Seeson, commander of American Legion Post 126, offered to sell flags to all residents of the area with Boy Scouts being the flag salesmen.

Hansen, who acted as temporary chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, offered the chamber's facilities to coordinate the various activities and maintain and publicize a calendar of events.

"We want to involve as many people as possible in the celebration, and provide clear evidence to residents and visitors alike that Jensen Beach-Rio communities recognize the 200th birthday of our country are fully appreciative of its meaning," Hansen said.

Fair opens Monday

JENSEN BEACH–The 16th annual Martin County Fair opens at 2 p.m. Monday, and Fair Association officials predict that it will be "bigger and better than ever."

Prior to the official opening ceremony, members of the Martin County High School Band will perform.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4194 will officiate at the flag raising.

The 1974 Fair Lady Jo Anne Moll will cut the ribbon officially opening the fair.

Work on displays and exhibits got underway Monday. Mrs. Lea Spowart said.

She said that more than 100 spaces for booths have been assigned, and she expects more booths will be assigned by Friday.

A senior citizens day is scheduled Tuesday, a new feature for the fair.

The Fair Lady contest is slated for opening night.

Mrs. Spowart said indications are that handicraft displays this year will surpass those of previous years in number and variety. Categories include needlework, ceramics, leather and boutique items.

The fair will be open from 2 to 11 p.m. and Saturday, March 15, is the final day.

BIKE PATH–Robert Parks, left, supervisor with Dickerson, Inc. shows Martin County Commission Chairman Rosa Philbrick where the bike path will be. Dickerson, which has the $3,475 contract, started work Tuesday on the 7-mile path which will extend from Linda Drive to North Savanna Road at the Commercial Street intersection.

Parties offer fair fee

JENSEN BEACH–Martin County Democratic and Republican Executive committees have offered to pay the rent on a voter registration booth at Martin County Fair.

Offer by the committees came after the County Commission objected to paying the $60 fee.

Democrats sent a $60 check and letter in support of the voter registration project to Supervisor of Elections Sandra Randolph McGehee while the Republicans made a verbal offer to pay.

Mrs. McGehee said she appreciated both offers but rejected them both.

"We want to keep the voter registration drive non-political," she said.

In Jonne T. Langberg's letter, the chairman of the county Democratic Executive Committee wrote:

"The Martin County Fair is one of the most outstanding, diversified and beneficial activities held throughout the year. The Fair Association deserves the highest praise for this contribution which provides entertainment for all and opportunities for school children, individuals and organizations to display their talents, products and good will."

"The buildings were constructed without tax money and the fair operates on a pay-as-you-go basis. It is not a burden on the taxpayers. The nominal rental charge for booths in the fair allows all citizens and organizations in Martin County to participate in and continue this free enterprise project."

"Since the Florida Democratic Party strongly urges expansion of voter registration, we presented recently to the association of supervisors of elections in Orlando a resolution requesting the supervisors take the registration books to the people. Therefore, we would be pleased to provide the rental fee for your booth at the fair and enclose our check in the amount of $60."

Last week Mrs. McGehee went to the County Commission to seek their approval for establishing the temporary branch office during the county fair, March 10-15, payment of the $60 rental fee and moving voting machines to the fairgrounds for demonstration purposes.

Commissioner John Kiernan objected to the $60 payment for a public official to use a building owned by the county, even though it is leased to the Fair Association.

The commission has decided to review the entire lease arrangement between the county and the Fair Association.

In addition to the supervisor's office, the Sheriff's Department and Stuart's Police Department will have booths at the fair. They pay the rental fee on booth spaces.

Roaring success

Art Show, pancake fry draws big crowd

JENSEN BEACH–As the old saying [illegible] March comes in like a lion and [illegible] like a lamb. And at Langford [illegible] Saturday and Sunday, March 1-2, [illegible] annual events were similar to the [illegible] being a roaring success.

The fourth Annual Outdoor Art Show was a success, by numbers of interest from attending artists.

The [illegible] Sunday's annual Lion Club's pancake fry was a success, by numbers serving pancakes, sausage and coffee.

"It was the best show we ever had," [illegible] Baker, art show chairman, said. "We had an estimated 4,000 persons [illegible] festival Saturday and Sunday. There were 90 artists at the park exhibiting some 1,200 paintings, and [illegible] came from distant points, including Nova Scotia and California," Baker said.

Artists at the festival called it "one of the better shows they attend on their tours," and called it a "good selling show."

Sponsored by the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, Baker said that the festival "gets bigger and better each year."

Last year there were about 80 artists at the festival, and most of the artists attending this year said that they will be back next year, according to the chairman.

Kept up the art festival and pancake fry at the park on Sunday. There was a big crowd of people enjoying the Sunday at the park.

Al Walker, chairman of the pancake fry, said: "We had 1,200 persons at the pancake fry. It was the biggest crowd we've ever had."

"We had 284 taking eye tests," Walker said.

Proceeds from the pancake fry go toward the club's sight conservation program.

Walker estimated proceeds from the event at about $1,400 after expenses.

Annual egg hunt is scheduled

JENSEN BEACH–The annual Easter egg hunt at Langford Park will be held March 22 with registration at 9:30 a.m., according to Joe Luciano, chairman.

Luciano of the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, said the Ladies Auxiliary will be on hand at the park to register the children.

Prizes will be awarded in four age groups, including one and two, three-four-five, six and seven, and nine and ten.

Luciano, who will be assisted by Fred Jennings, said that if it rains on March 22, the hunt will be held March 29.

Solutions create problems

American dream is alive and well

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH–The freedom of thought and expression was keyed to the greatness of America as William Maurer, editor of Indian River Life Magazine, brought a positive thought on American ideals to the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club Monday.

Maurer said that the problems faced in America over the years brought about solutions that created even more problems, and those problems created more solutions, and on and on as America became "the supreme cooperation society."

Attacking the doom and gloom peddlers of America, Maurer said: "There are many who feel and say the great American dream is dead or dying, poisoned by self-interest, rotted by indifference, maimed by violence, glutted by inflation on the brink of the greatest depression this country has ever seen."

"We have gone almost directly in our brief 200 year existance from primitiveness to total decadence, a far poorer record than that of the Roman Empire."

But, Maurer pointed out, "the cry is as old as the nation. It was sounded in Jefferson's time when the states seemed ready to drift apart, in Lincoln's time when they did split apart, in Roosevelt's time when, by the millions, men stood in soup lines, in Truman's time when communists were infesting the government, and now."

Sounding a note of optimism, Maurer said that the country was "the vast experimental laboratory in human relations for the twentieth century."

He traced the changing patterns of population, with 20 million people in twenty years moving to urban areas, the industrial-scientific revolution, and other social and political changes that have "jammed us together, polluted our air and waters, smeared ugliness over our countryside, obliged us to work within greater economic units and increased the tension of daily living."

But, while the communications revolution exposes the people to "every social evil, every human tragedy," citing the fact that based upon top rated shows a child of eight would have been exposed to 11,287 murders on television in its eight years, Maurer said that the education revolution adds millions every year to the ranks of those trying to solve problems, and those who create problems.

Maurer said that the country is becoming more democratic and the problem now seems to be public order rather than individual freedoms.

Reaching back to the founding fathers of America, Maurer said they had "turned an empty, foreboding continent into the most efficient engine of production and distribution ever seen," and "created the first mass democracy with essential order and essential freedom." He used that to express faith in the leadership of the country in solving the problems of crowding, poverty, pollution and ugliness.

"The humanness that made America great is still here. Were we ever to solve all the problems of the world, change would come to a stop and the world would begin to die.

"But the will for justice is as strong as ever. Stronger in my own mind because thought and expression are freer today than ever before," he concluded.

Tax bills to be mailed Monday

JENSEN BEACH–Property tax bills are expected to be in the mail Monday, March 10, Martin County Tax Collector Alvin Andrews said Tuesday.

"We got the bills at 11 p.m. Monday," Andrews said, "we are checking them over and they should be in the mail by Monday."

Tax bills normally are supposed to go out about Nov. 1, but were delayed this year by the county-wide reassessment.

Taxpayers will receive a 4 per cent discount by paying the bill within 30 days, but after the first month a penalty will be added.

School asks Askew

JENSEN BEACH–Governor Reuben Askew has been invited to attend the dedication of Viking Park at Jensen Beach Elementary School.

Dedication of the park will be at 1 p.m. April 3.

Viking Park is situated on part of the Jensen Beach school campus, and was developed by the students.

Diana Kan's illustration at Elliott Museum

BY EMELINE K. PAIGE

JENSEN BEACH–On the north wall of the Martin County Historical Society's Elliott Museum art gallery, 40 illustrations from Diana Kan's new book, "The How and Why of Chinese Painting" show in careful detail how a painting grows from the plan already sketched in the artist's mind.

Groupings of trees, clouds, bamboo landscapes, Chinese orchids, and plum blossoms show the infinite range of expression possible with minimum line and color. Each illustration is a complete painting in itself, and it was thought when this exhibition was arranged more than a year ago, that illustrations could be purchased individually. But all 40 have been acquired by a museum which feels that the collection should always be shown as a whole.

However, Miss Kan still wished to have her friends in Martin County (where she had her first American museum show) see the originals, so asked Historical Society director Janet Hutchinson to hang them, with a small collection of 18 recent paintings. One of these, a large pink lotus of great elegance and distinction, is reproduced in Miss Kan's book, as is the classic black and white prize-winning lotus now in the Society's permanent collection. It's later painting was at the Elliott Museum when it was purchased by the Metropolitan Museum of Art last year.

Other paintings being shown for the next month include examples of Miss Kan's use of the "lasting forever" minderal colors now characteristic of her work: delicate pinks and soft yellows are as expertly applied to the silk and gold leaf as are the bold reds and deep blues that indicate the jewels used in the pigments.

One of Miss Kan's well-known children's paintings was acquired recently by the United Nations, and she expressed regret at "not having had time to paint another one for this show."

Here for what she calls her birthday vacation (she was born in Hong Kong March 3, 1928), Miss Kan is the house guest of Mrs. Hutchinson, having spent last week as the guest of Historical Society members Mr. and Mrs. John S. Payson, on Jupiter Island.

The Elliott Museum art gallery is open to the public free of charge during museum hours–one to five every afternoon. The Kan exhibit will remain throughout March.

Wacha questions 'moral obligation' of county commission to Tom Leonard

JENSEN BEACH–The offer of the Martin County Commission to rehire fired planner Tom Leonard as adviser in the "save our beaches" program has been termed a "moral obligation" of the county commission by former commission chairman Frank Wacha.

In firing Leonard, the commission first offered a 60-day severence pay, but then found that the pay would violate state law. The amount of money involved in Leonard's work with the county beaches plan would work out to about the same amount as the severance according to Leonard.

But Wacha cited state law in a letter to Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick last week, saying that "counties do not have moral obligations only legal ones."

Wacha enclosed the state law governing claims against the county (Page 844, 4-146, Florida County Commissioners Manual) which states:

"If a claim against the county is a moral obligation only and not a legal obligation the county has no authority to pay it."

Wacha also cited a letter from Leonard Smith to Philbrick that county commissioners feeling such a moral obligation to Leonard should satisfy that obligation with their own funds, not the public funds entrusted to them for legal expenditures."

At the Feb. 25 commission meeting, Philbrick reported on a conversation with Lonnie Ryder of the Department of Natural Resources on the beach strip program.

"There is little work to be done," Philbrick said according to Ryder the commitment of the state's $30,300 will wind up the program.

"The beach strip program is in good shape," the chairman added.

Leonard had offered to Philbrick his services as planning consultant for the beach program shortly after the commission fired him from his duties as planning director.

Leonard received some vacation pay and final working days pay.

Fair Lady plans told

STUART–Plans for the annual Martin County Fair Lady contest have been announced by Mrs. Nancy Tucker, chairman of the Soroptimist Club planning committee.

Master of ceremonies for the March 16 contest will be Ron Beckey, vice president of radio station WSTU. The program gets under way at 8 p.m.

The 1974 Queen, Jo Anne Moll, will participate in opening day ceremonies and crown the new Fair Lady.

Exhibit open to residents

JENSEN BEACH–The art exhibit at the 1975 Martin County Fair will be sponsored by Art Associates of Martin County.

The show will be judged and ribbons awarded. Any resident of Martin County may enter.

Each artist may submit one painting, which must be his own original work, framed and wired for hanging. A label indicating title, medium and artist's name must be affixed to the back of each work.

No work that has been shown at the Fair in previous years will be accepted. No category will be judged if it has less than three entries.

Fair dates are March 10-15, and paintings are to be delivered to the fairgrounds between 1-5 p.m. on Friday, March 7, and picked up between 1-3 p.m. Sunday, March 16.

Categories to be judged are figure or portrait, abstract, still life, landscape, watercolor, collage, pastel, sculpture and photography.

For further information, phone Virginia Spencer at 287-8700.

Art League members show

JENSEN BEACH–Four members of the Jensen Beach Art League will exhibit their work in an outdoor show at Elliott Museum Sunday, March 9, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Willard Bowman will show his splatterisms, which are splatter painting combined with concealed subject material.

Yvette Klager will display her realistic oils that include a wide range of subject matter.

Gwen Dierksen will exhibit oils and pastels with still-lifes, fruit and vegetables, glass and flowers.

Dorothy Ross will show oils in a variety of subjects including land scapes, seascapes and florals.

Band students in district meet

STUART–Twenty-four soloists and two ensembles from the Martin County High School Band participated in the local Florida Bandmasters Association District Solo and Ensemble contest on Saturday, Feb. 22 at North Fork High School in West Palm Beach. The local music district includes all schools in Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River Counties.

Martin County High entered fifth soloists in 24 different events, twelve ensemble soloists and ensembles earned Superior ratings. Two ensembles and three soloists received ratings of Excellent and one soloist and one ensemble received ratings of Good. Those receiving Superior ratings were: Jo Ann Yurillo, Kim Knust, Lillian Eckhardt, Ann Mathew Andenmann, clarinet soloists; Mike Hummon, Nancy Andenmann, and Steve Pollard, trumpet soloists; Leslie Hammick, Debbie Thalasitis, Jan Reid, and Linda Florian, flute soloists.

Ensembles receiving Superior ratings were two flute trios, two clarinet trios, and two clarinet quartets. The ensemble players in these groups were: Leslie Hammick, Linda Florian, Jan Reid, Debbie Thalasitis, Julie Mauger, Carolyn Rathkopf, JoAnn Yurillo, Ann Kruger, Michelle Ankenmann, Lillian Eckhardt, Kim Knust, Tami Bessemer, Susie Fulton, Robin Dreier, and Jean Arnold.

Other Martin County participants in the contest were: Paula Wright, James Rathkopf, Cleveland Stevens, David Schad, Joseph Stevens, Robert Schutz, Chuck Fulton, Linda McFarland, and Paul Bailey.

District Band Competition for the MCHS Band is scheduled for March 8 at Palm Beach Gardens High School. Auditorium performance time for the local band is 4:40 p.m. and admission to this contest is free.

'Resurrection' is topic for Lenten series

JENSEN BEACH–"Resurrection Occurs" is the topic for this Sunday's Lenten study group at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Reverend Bill Kincaid starts the sessions promptly at 7:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. After a brief lecture on the evening's topic, there is a coffee break followed by general discussion and sharing of ideas and feelings about the subject.

The public is cordially invited to attend. The series will wind up with a panel discussion on Sunday, March 16. The panel will be composed of people who have been attending, as well as from the community at large. To date, Rabbi Mel Hecht from Fort Pierce and Father Ed Smith from FIT have agreed to participate.

THE CARNIVAL KINGS–Brothers Irvin and Allen Deggeller were born in a farmhouse in rural Oregon during the depression years. Neither had ever been to a fair or carnival until they were teenagers, at which time they would augment the family's meager income by working as laborers on small shows that played the fairs and celebrations of the Pacific Northwest. Today, Deggeller Amusement Company travels over 12,000 miles a year, operating as many as five units simultaneously. The Deggeller families now reside in Stuart, where they maintain winter quarters and a maintenance base. The brothers continue to travel with their giant carnival each season.

Letters to the Editor

To the editor:

On Thursday, March 6, we have managed to get Erich Farber, internationally known solar expert, as a speaker and FIT to lend us their auditorium. Because the Martin County Builders Association is working closely with us on this project, I wrote to Senator Chiles to find out what government loans were available for solar collectors to heat water and homes. Senator Chiles was good enough to collect what facts and views he could find, and his office called today with the following information:

"No the government does not give loans for solar heat collectors. No, we don't think it will do so. No, it doesn't give very much funding to solar power but solar power doesn't need as much as nuclear, it's like comparing apples and doughnuts.

What the government will do when it gets organized, is lead the way in solar research by seeking a hybrid between the old fashioned 1920 collectors which are still working in parts of Florida, and the new expensive space technology, and it will make this information available to the public. It will try to develop a form for low cost residential housing and, concurrently, something for commercial use. It may even go into airconditioning. Yes there are many companies already marketing solar collectors, but these are essentially the old fashioned ideas in modern format, that is to say the materials are now more modern. The government's role will be to lead the way and develop technology, only after that private industry must take over. That is the American way.

Isn't I thought it over as I hung up the phone. Could I illustrate it by our nuclear picture? The government did lead the way. In developing the fission reactor. Then it stood aside and let private industry take over." After announcing it would take over the field (private industry did not.

And then the government got out altogether." Except for subsidizing the Net underwriting the insurance which private industry wouldn't, undertaking the vast unsolved nuclear waste problem and conducting hearings to see the reactors are set up as desired. Is this the American way?

Why doesn't the government now subsidize the cost of solar heat collectors which have no technological problem at all? The mass production would result further lower costs. It would greatly help the unemployment problem. It would conserve considerable energy for the nation, would give building a much needed shot in the arm. It would help all the small businesses which have gone bravely on while the government lagged behind, absorbed with the Frankensteinian monster of nuclear power.

Later the government can help with the more advanced from solar energy which is really a different matter. The possibility is however, that private industry will go ahead without the government as every suggested budget to help solar heat is cut. Already solar collectors by an AEC subpanel, by the National Academy of Sciences has been cut again. It almost makes one wonder what powerful lobby might have such a stake in shutting the doors to attractive alternative forms of power.

Perhaps there is more going on in some of these Senator Chiles has yet been able to report. I hope so. And I hope everyone will come to hear Erich Farber 8 p.m. on March 6, for a free and fascinating evening. In information on solar and this country needs more power.

Sincerely,

To the editor:

May I cast one vote for your sharp, alert minded reporter, Alice Stokes. Her by-line "headline" of "What's That Again?" in your Feb 26 edition of the Port St. Lucie Mirror most accurately described the feelings and reflections which I shared regarding the apparent and true mission of the so called "Port St. Lucie Civic League Inc." It further strikes me that some 200 other people who attended that meeting of the Civic League on Monday, February 17 and paid their $2.00 for individual membership in the organization must also be wondering about their ability of hearing and verbal comprehension.

Mike Reed certainly convinced me that the Civic League with it's deep rooted theme of "Unity, unity unity" for all residents of Port St. Lucie was the appropriate and timely answer to a positive approach to a united and democratic pursuit of mass involvement in constructive and productive city government. And while Bob Johnston, president of the Civic League directed accolades to the investigative and the corrective measures pursued by the Interested Homeowners Inc. he quickly reminded his audience that this is the time for positive thinking and involvement of all citizens to participate in the solid reorganization of our city administration. And the Civic League would serve to act as a catalyst to insure fair and equal representation of all home owner groups in the city, as well as contiguous neighboring areas with similar citizen groups or organizations.

Then came the announcement of a mass meeting of ALL residents of Port St. Lucie on March 6, for the express purpose of presenting to the voters of our city all the candidates for election on March 18, thus providing the voters Civic League Members with the opportunity of hearing all the candidates and their respective viewpoints in order that the membership of voters could decide for themselves which of the candidates they would support.

Some if not all of the answers become rather obvious even to the partially interested taxpayers of our city and contributors to the repetitious pleas for contributions to the cause of the Interested Homeowners Inc and so called Civic League Inc member ship drive. One can only ponder as to how much of these monies collected from the well-intentioned or misled citizens of Port St. Lucie will be used for the legal expense pursued by Lolita Kernohan and company to achieve judicial pronouncement against Mayor Kimmel, Former Vice-Mayor Reardales, Dr. Nottley, Ruppert Smith, City Attorney, Councilmen Ken Thompson and William M. McChesney, along with Vaughn Lewis newly appointed Vice-Mayor; all of whom were named as defendants in the still pending lawsuit in the court of Judge James Silberman.

The credibility of the entire matter tends to weaken even more when recent events and pronouncements by the Civic League Inc. what happened to the Interested Homeowners Inc. influential directors group, finally select and support with financial aid from the treasuries of both groups the hand picked slate of candidates headed by William M. McCheaney, Lolita Kernohan Foxx, Schuyler Sharpe and Frank Rose. What a strange and unusual series of developments considering the fact that these harmonious running mates still have a lawsuit pending wherein Lolita Kernohan is a major plaintiff in action against William M. McCheaney.

While Herb Tschudy of the Port St. Lucie Civic League board of directors dismisses this matter as a "purely practical political matter as old as the political hills." I cannot help but wonder how the "thinking" people who are an equal part of the city's tax support plan might feel at this point regarding such "political bosses and big brother tactics"? Frankly as a contributor and past participant in the Interested Homeowners Inc. and the Civic League, I am somewhat dismayed. And as an "outside" independent candidate for city council respecting the equality and rights of each individual resident and voter, I AM HORRIFIED!"

Recession

WASHINGTON—Our nation is currently suffering under the worst recession in more than 30 years. Our economy desperately needs a shot in the arm.

Unfortunately, the tax rebate bill passed by the House last week won't provide the boost needed. In fact, the legislation just might make the situation worse.

The loss of federal revenue encompassed by this bill will total more than $20 billion. And, since this loss of revenue is not accompanied by a reduction in federal spending, it will merely mean a bigger deficit over the next 18 months.

The higher the national debt, the more the federal government must borrow. The more it must borrow the less money available for banks and savings and loan institutions to loan out for mortgages.

Equally as disturbing to me about the bill passed by the House is the fact it really doesn't provide any across the board stimulation to the economy.

To stimulate an economy as complex and diverse as ours, tax rebates should be broad-based and aimed at every sector. Yet this bill provides very little in the way of help to middle-income Americans, a fact recognized by the AFL-CIO. In fact, organized labor says that almost half of the taxpayers in the broad middle-income range—$10,000 to $20,000—would receive no relief at all under the House-passed plan.

While some tax rebates will be made, they are limited in amount to $100 to $200. And the bulk of the money will go to lower income families.

The end result is that there will be little impetus for anyone to go out and buy a new car, a new dishwasher, clothes washer, dryer or similar high-priced product. Lower income families won't be buying them because the $200 rebate they'll receive won't be enough to help them in such a purchase, and middle-income families with a combined income of $10,000 to $20,000 aren't really getting any spark to go out and buy.

There is still another serious drawback in the bill. It contains nothing at all in the way of relief for those millions of Americans trying to make ends meet on Social Security.

Since they have no tax liability, they will no recieve anything in the way of a rebate or a tax break.

Yet, they are the ones hardest hit by our economic chaos. And they will be the hardest hit by the new inflationary spiral which the bill will no doubt cause.

For those reasons, I was forced to vote against the bill, both in the House Ways and Means Committee and on the House floor. Instead, I tried to get the House to adopt a substitute proposal, one which would have been less inflationary, yet would have provided for rebates ranging from $200 on up to $430 for lower income families.

Well, the bill passed by the House last week wasn't designed to reform our tax system. That will come later in the Spring, after the House Ways and Means Committee finishes work on energy legislation.

And tax reform will be a lengthy project. Any correction of inequities in a system which can be covered only in three thick volumes or regulations should not be attempted on a hurry-up basis.

But it will come. In a nation where everyone works all day Monday and all day Tuesday and perhaps part of Wednesday just to pay his state, federal and local taxes, tax reform and tax relief is vital.

And it will come this year.

But it should not come - or even be considered - in a bill aimed solely at stimulating the economy.

And that was the thrust, unsuccessful though it may have been, of the bill adopted last week; not tax reform, tax relief, the establishment of a "guaranteed income" program or any of the other "goodies" some members tacked on.

'Flower cookery' topic for garden club

STUART–Mrs. Leona Woodring Smith, nationally known lecturer and author, will be the guest speaker at the Garden Club of Stuart meeting next Monday, March 10. The meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the Woman's Club building.

She has appeared on numerous radio and television programs doing demonstrations and interviews. She regards feeding flower petal sandwiches to the "What's My Line" panel as one of her "most fun" times, and she was delighted to learn that Arlene Francis has enjoyed eating flowers for a long time.

An executive board meeting of the club will be held Friday, March 7, at 9:30 a.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Co.

Mrs. Jack Hooker, Junior Garden Club chairman, announced the junior activities as follows:

The Croton Crew will meet this Friday, March 7, at the Jensen Beach Elementary School, under the direction of Jimmie Rizzolo. Members will make club signs to be placed at the Agriculture Center.

The Perky Petunias will meet on Saturday, March 8, 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Linda Flowers, 620 E. Dolphin Drive. The girls are asked to bring driftwood, sand and shells to the meting, and will make seascapes.

AARP signs up members

JENSEN BEACH–Last week's charter meeting of the Martin County Chapter of the AARP was well attended with 119 registering. This was more than attended the organizational meeting in January.

President Charles McIntyre called the meeting to order after an invocation by Donald Carpp of Cedar Point and the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The president pointed out what the chapter would try to do and then asked for suggestions from the floor.

There followed a lively discussion that brought out the following:

Information was wanted on insurance both car and health.

How some of the local medical problems are to be handled.

Travel short and long tours.

And of course that coffee and light refreshments should be served at future meetings.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 20 at 1:30 p.m. in the meeting of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart, located at the corner of Colorado and US 1.

Al Martin's celebrate 40th

JENSEN BEACH–Mr. and Mrs. Al Martin celebrated their fortieth anniversary Monday. The Martins are winter residents of Jensen Beach, living at Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin were married on March 3, 1934 in York, Maine.

Halpatiokee Chapter to meet

STUART–Halpatiokee Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Friday, March 14th at the Holiday Inn, Stuart.

There will be a business meeting for members at 11 a.m. Guests and members of other chapters will be welcome for the luncheon and program at 12:15 by calling Mrs. W.C. Schwier 283-0730 for reservations.

Members please call Mrs. J.E. McDonald at 287-3965, or Mrs. J.G. Walker at 287-8206 for reservations as early as possible.

The program this month will be a presentation of a DAR Good Citizens Award Medal to Miss Lillian Eckardt, by Mrs. F.L. Hall, Chairman of that committee. We will also present the winner of our Annual history month essay contest. G. Bruce Blanchard, who will read the prize winning essay. Mrs. C.H. Munch is chairman of that committee and will present the medal to him at Julian Parker School on March 24.

Please try to attend and honor these young patriotic people.

Deep tank dedication is planned for Friday

BY DOUG ZINS

F.I.T.—After long hours, hard work and some major problems, the deep tank has been recently completed. The tank is a huge 20 x 20 x 20½ feet and holds 62,300 gallons of water.

The monies for the project was headed by various companies and the labor was donated by the dive staff and students. There was approximately 800 hours of donated labor. 5405 hours of which was from the dive staff, the remainder from the student body.

According to Jim Woodberry, "If it weren't for the donated labor by the dive staff and students, this project would not have been possible." He wishes to thank everyone involved in the project for all they have done.

Some of the major problems of the project were revealed cracks and a ¾ inch deflection in the wall caused by an overstress on the retaining wall, due to backfilling the hill because of heavy rains.

Also, the first time the tank was filled a major leak was found and four corners of the tank cracked. The leak was found to be in the main drain and the cracks were considered stress only, not a structural problem.

The tank will serve as a classroom for diving and the proposed Underwater Technology program. Dedication of the tank will be on Friday, March 7. For all those interested, some of the hard-hat equipment will be rigged up for demonstration at 3:30 p.m. on the day of dedication.

Crackdown planned on illegal parking

F.I.T.—In spite of repeated requests for cooperation in adhering to the parking regulations, the problem of indiscriminate parking on the campus has reached major proportions and improperly parked cars are damaging lawns and usurping spaces held for faculty and visitors. The present economic situation forbids the luxuries of a guard at the entrance so other measure must be taken.

Effective March 10, 1975 all automobiles owned or used by students, faculty and staff must have proper and current F.I.T. parking stickers affixed to the rear bumper. The registration number of all cars parked on the campus without such a sticker will be referred to the sheriff's department which has agreed to immediately provide us with the name and address of the registered owner, regardless of the state in which the car is registered.

Cars without stickers, or cars improperly parked (e.g. students cars parked in the visitor's campus cars parked in the grass or in visitor's spaces etc.) will be booked and a system of fines imposed. Students will not be permitted to register for the next quarter if fines are not paid.

Faculty and staff will be subject to a fine of $5.00 for the first offense and will receive three dollars for each subsequent offense.

Requests for special permits for parking will be submitted to Mr. [illegible] for review and will be approved only by Dean Teates.

Solar energy expert here Thursday

F.I.T.—"Florida is a friendly place." How many have said that, and having said it, have settled down to stay here? Perhaps the nations might take a look at Florida to see how friendliness can help.

A case in point will be a fascinating evening on March 6 when Dr. Erick Farbert, internationally known solar expert, will speak at F.I.T. on solar energy.

The unlikely array of groups which are sponsoring this event include, Martin County Builders Association, CURE, American Institute of Architects, Martin County Conservation Alliance, St. Lucie County Conservation Alliance, League of Women's Voters.

Dr. Farber is a man who has so many answers that he might be called one of our major exports. He has visited many of the nations of this world to advise them on how to get started in using their most inexhaustible major resource.

In the grip of financial desperation, CURE reached the ear of Ed Harvey of the Martin County Builders Association. It didn't take Ed long to see the possibilities and he was well supported by the Builders Association, who moved in handsomely with an offer to undertake half the expenses and help with "staging" the event.

It wasn't long after this that a CURE member ran into Martin County's Peter Jefferson, who put things in still another perspective. "If you're going to have a solar evening, it should incorporate both builders and architects. It's a problem of our time. It's here and we are the people to work together to promote it. It needs our help and we can give it."

Dick Grayfield, head of the Indian River branch, and Bill Brainard, president of Palm Beach Chapter, felt the same way, and Martin and St. Lucie County were on their way to a first.

It was no time at all until both St. Lucie and Martin County Conservation Alliances proved themselves able to fashion any previous differences between conservationists, realtors and developers, and moved in to work in unity and friendship to bring an ideal a little closer. Shortly after this the St. Lucie League of Women Voters and the Indian River Lagoon Association came in to back for an idea whose time is appreciating.

When Dr. Farber is here to speak, he may not be impressed by the size of St. Lucie and Martin Counties. Being a celebrity he may have had larger audiences. But he will no doubt be impressed by the enthusiasm of these counties who put friendship and real progress where they belong, together.

Dr. Farber received the major part of his education in Europe as well as a BS in ME and an MS in ME from the University of Missouri in 1963 and 1966 respectively, and a PhD from the University of Iowa in 1968.

Dr. Farber has over 100 publications, has co-authored three books and received many honors among them a Fulbright from the Shah of Iran to work on solar energy conversion, the Alexander Hood Warner Gold Medal Award from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for "outstanding contributions to the Performance of Systems by Engineering," the Melvin Phillips Award, a gold medal from the Engineering Council, Engineers of Distinction, an "outstanding Electrical Engineering Educator of America" award, a Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in Science and Engineering in America, Who's Who in Technology Today, and Men of Achievement. He is a member of the NSF-NASA Solar Energy Panel which prepared a report, "Solar Energy as a National Energy Resource." He is a member of the solar energy advisory group established by the federal government for U.S.-U.S.S.R. cooperative efforts in solar energy, and he has been appointed by Governor Askew to the Florida Energy Commission. In 1973 he received the Florida Blue Key Distinguished Faculty Award, in 1974 the College of Engineering Outstanding [illegible] Award.

SOLAR ENERGY EXPERT Dr. Erick Farber, internationally known expert on solar energy, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 6, in the F.I.T. Auditorium. Calling the sun the largest, oldest and safest nuclear power plant, he will discuss the ways in which solar power can be used is being utilized.

Environmental health penetration of agents

BY THOMAS KIEBER-EMMONS

For environmental agents to reach the sites of action, substances must pass across various body membranes. After a separated from this chemical environment by three major membranes: the skin, the epithelium lining of the gastrointestinal tract, and the epithelium of the respiratory tract.

Once a substance has penetrated one of these external boundaries, it enters the circulation and is carried [illegible] the substance encounters the [illegible] membranes of the [illegible] cells. The succession of [illegible] affects the organism, some [illegible] that the slowing of these [illegible] agents in reaching sites [illegible] orders these agents [illegible] the various destructive [illegible] tissues of the cell.

[illegible] common among the membranes of the body, which determine their permeability characteristics. Because of their lipoid resembling fats or oils) nature, they are highly permeable to lipid soluble substances, fat soluble DDT and most other pesticides. They are relatively impermeable to lipid insoluble solutes. They are also permeable to very small molecules whether lipid soluble or not, because of apparent interspersed minute water filled pores.

In terms of environmental health, the two primary membranes that you, as an individual, must concern yourself with is your skin and respiratory tract. People who are gardeners must realize that it is not enough to wash your hands after using an insecticide, don't get it on you at all, your skin can absorb it.

The respiratory tract is probably the most permeable of all the membranes. Because of that, careful use of all aerosols should be kept in mind.

Karate demonstration impressive

BY BOB GRABEN

F.I.T.—Mr. Kum Chun Kim and other [illegible] of Tae Kwon Do karate [illegible] represented the Stuart Institute of Karate last Tuesday evening at the F.I.T. auditorium.

Kim, a fifth degree black belt instructor is the head instructor at the Stuart Institute of Karate. Doc Hyatt, owner of the karate school put on an outstanding demonstration for the students at F.I.T. and other people of the community.

Hyatt gave a brief lecture on what karate is all about and described some of the achievements students have attained. Then the demonstration began. The students showing some of the basic exercises. Then Mr. Roberts, a first degree black belt instructor demonstrated some three step sparring along with some of the other students.

Not only men are students of Tae Kwon Do. Some of the women can take on men bigger than themselves. This was demonstrated with some free fighting or sparring. Self defense techniques were also shown the full audience at F.I.T.

Kim continued the demonstration with some board-breaking feats. With flying side kicks over six people, high front kicks, and round house kicks, one inch boards were broken. He also managed to astonish the audience by breaking 6 one inch boards at one time with his head, as a climax to the show.

The people in the audience were amazed at some of the feats performed in front of them. It was a very impressive demonstration by Doc Hyatt and the school.

The ages of the students range from 6 to 60. The students worked hard to achieve what they have. That is shown by-the color belt that they wear.

Summer programs

F.I.T.—During the summer F.I.T. will offer several very worthwhile courses for credit, for both high school and college students.

The high school summer program in marine and environmental studies is open to high school juniors and seniors interested in science, nature and the sea.

The two week course encompasses [illegible] resources [illegible] environmental [illegible] and geological aspects, and geology of area estuaries.

The F.I.T. [illegible] policy of [illegible] what you learn thru [illegible] field trips is an important aspect of the course.

Two, two week sessions will be held in 1975, beginning June 18, July 7, July 21 and August 4.

The cost for two weeks will be $395, which covers housing, meals, field trips and local transportation.

Any student completing the course will receive a recommendation for a half high school credit to the student's home school.

The college program is a five week course, carrying twelve quarter hour credits at the freshman and sophomore levels in the following courses:

Basic Scuba Diving, Intermediate Scuba Diving, Introduction to Oceanography, Practical Oceanography, Basic Photography, Marine Environments and Laboratory Field Methods.

The course will be climaxed by a dive on the reefs of West End on Grand Bahama Island.

Cost will be $995, which covers tuitions, housing, meals, local and Bahamian field trips, and transportation.

Two five week sessions will be held in 1975 beginning on June 18 and July 25.

Anyone interested in either of the programs can obtain applications from the F.I.T. campus.

F.I.T.—Rap Line Needs Volunteers. See what you can do for your community. Meetings are every Tuesday Night at 7:30 in the Library Conference Room. See Ya There.

Davis cuppers fall

International flavor is tops as Boyce-McColskey win

BY DICK CAMPBELL

PORT ST. LUCIE–Top touring national, state and international stars competed in one of the highest quality tennis tournaments to be seen in the tennis history of this area as the St. Lucie Hilton Invitational Tennis Tournament was held last weekend.

Top Davis Cup players from Mexico, highly ranked players from Canada, Ecuador, Columbia, New Zealand and Czchoslovakia competed with highly ranked U.S. champions in a three-day event that had tennis afficiandos weak from applause and tension.

It was Jim Boyce, fifth ranked Canadian, who used a ferocious attack from the baseline and the net, combined with smashing serves, to win the men's final, 6-1, 6-3 from a game Miguel Olvera, number one ranked in Ecuador.

Boyce had polished off Mexican Davis Cupper Benito Schorn in a close, see-saw battle, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, before taking the battle to Olvera, who was the number one seed.

Olvera gave up the net to Boyce, or, rather, didn't get a chance to compete for it as Boyce ferociously attacked every ball, rushing to the net even on second serves.

Olvera had reached the finals by defeating Adolpho Gonsolus, another Mexican Davis Cupper, 6-4, 6-2, before being upset by the number two seed, Boyce.

The game Olvera teamed with German Cuberos, third ranked in Columbia, to win the men's doubles finals, 6-2, 6-7, 6-2, over the number one ranked Florida team of Ralph Greco and Dave Inglehart. The Olvera team reached the finals by defeating Steve Temple, New Zealand, and John Cee, Czchoslovakian ranked number one and two, and top doubles team of Florida International University, 6-4, 6-2.

Boyce couldn't keep it all together with Dr. Stephan Niesen as his team went down to the Greco-Inglehart team in the semi-finals, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Wendy McColskey, third ranked Florida player, of Pensacola, took top women's honors by defeating Patti Fruiger, eighth ranked Florida of Miami, in three sets. The game Miss McColskey just out-steadied. Miss Frutiger with strong base line shots and amazing control of side line and drop shots in the marathon battle, winning 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

As the Frutiger attack wore down, Miss McColskey picked up steam, with the 7-5 second set seeming to break Patti's concentration and spirit.

Miss Frutiger had a good win in the semis, defeating seventh ranked Susan Parkhurts, 6-4, 6-0. Miss McColskey topped touring Pam Bailey, 6-2, 6-1 in the semis.

In the women's doubles, the number ten Florida ranked team of Parkhurst and Cynthia Bruce took top honors, defeating Miss Frutiger and sixteenth ranked Christina Howe, 6-1, 6-3, and then the McColskey-Mary Mesek team from Pensacola, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2 in the finals.

McColskey-Mesek had defeated a local team of Nan Torrey and Martha Greco, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The play was hailed by tennis pro Mario Obando as being "The very best in tennis. The players were satisfied and wanted badly to win this first international tournament. I was thrilled."

OVERHAND–Pretty Patti Frutiger couldn't hold on after winning the first set of women's finals at the St. Lucie Hilton Invitational Sunday, and weakened before the baseline and drop-shot attack of Wendy McColskey, top ranked tennis star from Pensacola.

DETERMINATION–The key to Jim Boyce final victory in the St. Lucie Hilton Invitational Sunday was determination, and he had that, with a booming serve crashing forehands and backhands and a net attack that had Ecuador's number one player, Miguel Olvera groping for ideas in his 6-1, 6-2 loss to Boyce.

FAULTLESS–Dr. Jim Grossnickle called a faultless game as umpire in the finals of the St. Lucie Hilton Invitational tennis tournament last weekend.

FORM–A textbook form was enough for Wendy McColskey, Pensacola star as she won, in a three-set finals 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, in women's division of the St. Lucie Invitational last weekend. She defeated Patti Frutiger.

Island consultant is appointed

JENSEN BEACH–An engineering consultant for Martin County's proposed Hutchinson Island utilities has been appointed by the County Commission.

Commissioner Chairman Rena Philbrick said Monday that money to pay consultant Bishop will not come out of county funds.

Monies to pay the bills will have to come from island developers and utility users, Philbrick said.

Further, the county's contract with Bishop is work will be done by the developers until a work order is signed, according to Philbrick.

And Philbrick pointed out that no work will be signed until developers provide the money for the work.

"Bishop will meet with developers," Philbrick said, "and then determine if funds for the project are marketable."

"It is strictly an island project," Philbrick said, "but we have to look to the future."

The future would be when the state turned the county to "come off the island" with the water sewer project.

And I'm opposed to a regional system," he said.

Island developments have their own sewage disposal systems, and the island is served with water by Southern Gulf Utilities Company, which buys water from the City of Stuart.

Philbrick said that one of the duties of Bishop was to look into possible purchase of the utilities company.

PTA to visit Center

JENSEN BEACH–Members of Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA will visit the Environmental Studies Center at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 6.

"We will present a slide presentation on our activities," Jay Jarrett, center director, said.

"It'll be a repeat of what we did at our open house," Jarrett added.

GDC reports year-end results

MIAMI–General Development Corporation today reported for the year ending December 31, 1974, an increase in net income and earnings per share on reduced revenues.

Net income for 1974 was $11.0 million, or $1.18 per share against $16.5 million or $1.93 per share in 1973. Revenues were $152.0 million against $172.7 million, the previous year.

Per share figures are based on 9,345,000 average shares outstanding in 1974 versus 10,234,000 shares in 1973. The reduction in shares outstanding resulted from the company's repurchase of 943,163 shares of its common stock in February, 1974, with the net effect increasing 1974's earnings by $.06 per share.

Fourth quarter net income was $3.1 million, or $.34 per share, against $2.4 million, or $.26 per share last year. Revenues were $38.3 million for the 1974 quarter compared with $51.3 million the previous year.

Homesite sales, approximately 49 per cent of the company's revenues, were $74.3 million in 1974 against $94.9 million last year, a decline of 22 per cent. Other land, primarily bulk land sales, increased to $4.0 million in 1974 from $865,000 in 1973.

Shelter sales were $46.8 million for the year, down 15 per cent from 1973's record level of $55.4 million. The year 1974 was highlighted by a major turnaround in shelter profitability from a $1.1 million after tax loss in 1973 to a $1.2 million profit in 1974. The marked improvement on housing earnings was attributable to new model lines, streamlining of operations, and expense reductions. Profit margins increased in 1974, however, new home sales declined under pressure of a shortage of conventional financing, high interest rates, and the impact of economic conditions on the buyer

Nehme will address NARFE

STUART—Dr. David Nehme will address the March meeting of the Martin County Chapter of the National Assn. of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE) next Wednesday, March 12.

The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart, and will be preceded by a social hour.

All retired federal employees are invited to attend.

MEMO

FROM VAUGHN LEWIS

We moved to Port St. Lucie on Sept. 1, 1969 because we considered it the best place to live for our retirement years. We found the people intelligent, sociable and proud to be residents of Port St. Lucie. We found the quality of housing superior to that in any community we visited. We were amazed at the miles and miles of paved streets.

Six years later, we still think Port St. Lucie is the BEST. I'd like to use my 40 years of school administrative experience to help plan the further growth of Port St. Lucie during the next two years. The cooperation of all is needed and the first step in that direction is your vote and support for VAUGAN LEWIS in Group 2 for City Council will be greatly appreciated.

Venture Out News Notes

BY (THE PINCH HITTERS)

BY FRAN TENER

Three beautiful little girls recently visited the Ellises. They were such fun to see and talk to, all wearing brand new outfits, busy cycling and walking and having a good time. They also enjoyed fishing with their father, Ellie's brother.

+ + +

Can't keep up with the Dickeys. I hear that they have been tripping to New Orleans, and Max is coming or going to Indiana. I'm sure they are having a good time here and there and eventually I may be able to give you an account of their activities.

+ + +

Al Jones' brother visited Betty and Al, and got in some fishing and had another good look around this area.

Sara Valaro is slowly recuperating

TM group will hear Dr. Doner

JENSEN BEACH—The International Meditation Society announced this week that Dr. David Winston Doner, Jr. will give a free public lecture at the West Palm Beach Public Library at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, March 6.

Doner is assistant chief of the Renal-Dialysis Section, Huston Veterans Administration Hospital. A practitioner of Transcendental Meditation, he will discuss how long lasting, radiant health may be achieved through the regular practice of T.M.

For further information, call 287-5658.

from her "bug". She has spent a lot of time in bed reading and, luckily, her family has been here to take good care of her. Her guests, the Santangelos, also had visitors for a day their ex-neighbors from Long Island who now live in Orlando.

They live in a mobile home park there and said our place is exceptional. They met many of Sara's friends and neighbors and envied the friendliness here. We all do appreciate this lifestyle and the "togetherness" of Venture Out.

Sorry to report that the bowling scores were inadvertantly left in the bowling alley. It is rumored that one of our better players only bowled a 98 in one of his games and wasn't too happy to have it reported. However, the scores will be in next week.

BY MABEL COOK

Appreciative audiences enjoyed the beautiful singing of Rosalie Bryson at two recitals she gave last week in the Holiday Out rec hall. She donated her time and talents to raise money for fure protection equipment for the combined Holiday and Venture Out Parks. Our thanks to Rosalie and Grace Thau, her accompanist, for working so hard to benefit this worthy cause.

+ + +

Congratulations to Rose and Harry Curth on hanging up their "shingle" a VHO emblem. They studied and passed the medical self-help course and joined the Volunteer Help Organization, the only ones in Venture Out to do so this season. Everyone in V.O. should take the course as a form of personal insurance.

Jake Davis left Saturday with the Airstream for the motor cycle races at Daytona—just as a spectator.

Bill and Ginny Thompson enjoyed a surprise visit from their close friends Joe and Louise Testa of Grand Island N.Y. Joe had his "Super Stock" boat "Mama's Mink" entered in the races at St. Petersburg where he won two first places. They made a special trip across the state to visit at Venture Out. Bill and Ginny were also busy readying John and Irene Callahan's Airstream on lot #46 for their expected arrival Monday. We know all their friends at Venture Out gave them a royal welcome.

Red Fitzgerald has been promising to make his famous spaghetti sauce for a long time. He came through in delicious form the other evening—cooked the dinner for 8 and Alice set a beautiful table. For some on the first finger that couldn't be there when dinner was served, Red sent over a large pot of the finger-lickin' good sauce and the red wine to accompany it.

Mate and Bill Greuling are entertaining their close friends, Evelyn and Glen Terry of Grayling, Michigan. Mate and Bill, with Elmina and Bob Mowry hosted a superb cocktail party Saturday evening. We counted 30 people at least. A wonderful time was had by all. The hors d'ouvres were so plentiful and so delicious that those attending did not eat supper that evening. We all sang "Happy Birthday" to Bill Greuling and Red Fitzgerald.

The Fitzgeralds are entertaining Alice's cousin from Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barton. They all enjoyed a trip on the Jungle Queen.

Alice and Red are celebrating their 43rd anniversary. Red says that he got married on his birthday—the only way he could remember the wedding date! They plan to visit Cypress Gardens and the Passion Play in Lake Wales. Congratulations to two wonderful people—young at heart and with the spirit of youth.

Also in the hospital for surgery is Carl Backman. By the time you read this, I presume Val Yager will have returned home from his surgery.

Bernice Martin underwent serious surgery at the Doctor's Hospital at Lake Worth, Fla. recently and is home now. She said the friends and neighbors were wonderful to her father who was taken to Martin Memorial Hospital before she arrived home. She says that she has always loved it here at Nettles Island but an experience like this brings home to one that the people from every state rally around to help.

Jean & Turney Sheets of Lot 811 had company from Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bailey were here for a few days stay. At dinner they also had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Arbogast and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas from Ohio.

Frederick and Lyn Soskel and their daughter Patricia have been visiting Ben and Kate Soskel. Before they left, Ben and Kate had a large neighborhood party to entertain them.

The theater group held their regular meeting this last week. It was decided to change the name from "Theater in the Round" to "The Nettles Island Players". We are in the process of writing a series of small plays and skits for after potluck. They will be about trailer life and the first to be presented will be "Buying the trailer". We hope to present this March 12. The skits will take you through buying the trailer, packing the trailer, parking the trailer and to Nettles Island where experiences will continue through next year. Intermittently there will be some monologues. We are trying to keep most of these things in the humorous vein to keep you happy and amused.

Also, this group has formed a committee headed by Violet Simpson to collect individual contributions for the Ambulance service that serves us here in this area. The drive will take place all this week and will be culminated on March 8 with the ambulance here for your inspection, and attendants on hand to answer questions.

As previously stated--except for a small budget from the United Fund, the Jensen Area Samaritans exist on contributions and volunteer work. The ambulance is fully equipped and attendants are completely trained. The service is available 24 hours a day to us although we are not in Martin County.

Who knows when you may need it?

Pat Meelon and daughter-in-law, Buelah Schuerer and Jeanne McGregor, Kay Mastron, and Dot Brown went on a shopping spree last week. And what a spree it must have been because they left at 8 a.m. and did not get back until 8 p.m.

+ + +

Speaking of partying--over in Sec. 1 last Sunday, the neighbors had an old fashioned block party with lots of food and fellowship. They were all residents of Cennecticut Drive there. Guess how many attended. Eighty!

+ + +

Last year when Neil and Doru Christy from Marietta, Ohio were here they fell in love with the place and bought Lot 808 before they left. They have just returned and say the place looks better than ever to them. They plan to be here at least a month.

+ + +

Saturday, March 1st was another Las Vegas night put on by the Men's Club. What a way to start the month. Their parties are always a success and they always have good prizes. Of course, the gambling, fun, food, beverages and fellowship enters into all this too.

+ + +

It is hoped that the guards and Sheriff's Department will not receive anymore crank calls as they did last week. It must take a very sick (mentally!) person to do things like this.

+ + +

The campfire fellowship meetings on Saturday nights from 7 to 9 are growing in size. They are especially for the young people and all are welcome. It is located at the horseshoe pit by the rec hall. Bring your own blanket, chair & doggie stick.

+ + +

As most of you know, Tom and Kay Roberts are no longer with us at the rec hall. There is a very nice young lady by the name of Mrs. Shaw in charge at the present time and I have found her most helpful.

+ + +

If you have not played Bingo lately, come to the game early for the crowd is growing by leaps and bounds. I think they like that Nettles Island Pot of Gold at the end of the play, too.

+ + +

Don't you think Clark Johnson is nice to volunteer his time each Thursday night at 7:30 to teach ballroom dancing? So many of us seem to have two left feet. It takes a lot of patience to teach us otherwise, and gives one another activity to enjoy.

+ + +

Marge Carlson has friends visiting her from Ingleside, Illinois. They are Lois and Harold Dietmire.

+ + +

The dance a week ago was a big success, I hear. Everyone I have talked to said it was a real good one with Walter Avard and Jim Frary joining in on saxaphone and banjo. I am sorry that I missed this one but one just can't go to all the things here, there is so much going on.

+ + +

Saturday night March 1st, the Juliars (Arlene and Loren) had an anniversary party on the patio. There were about 18 couples present, plus some of our local musicians, so it was a real celebration. They were presented with a Norway Spruce as an anniversary gift. They both seem to have a green thumb, so this should flourish.

+ + +

Bob is starting dinner for me so that I can finish this. We returned home late from a walk on the Hobe Sound beach at low tide. Have you ever seen it then? So wide and beautiful! Well, I have never been able to whistle. Never. So while on the beach I try to do it. Once in awhile a noise comes out, but more often just air. Almost back to the entrance to the beach Bob whistled a nice clear note for me to catch up as I was loitering and looking for shells. When we joined you know what I said? "Show off!" And he couldn't figure out why.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

It was good to see so many people at Post 10066 this past weekend.

It all started Friday night with a good spaghetti dinner. Saturday the crowd got bigger at our steak dinner. At one time the hall was filled with steak lovers.

The highlight of the weekend was Sunday when friends from all over the District came to honor our District Voice of Democracy winners. The turn out was tremendous. Thanks to everyone who participated. The young citizens who won were really impressed and appreciated the good attendance.

We have another big week coming up. It will start Wednesday, March 5 -today- when the Auxiliary holds their regular meeting.

Thursday, March 6, is meeting night for all V.F.W. members. (Bring a new member with you.)

Friday is Beef Stew night. Bring the whole family and enjoy a pleasant evening with your neighbors and comrades.

Saturday all day will be work day. Come down for an hour or two. We have a lot to get done.

Sunday is another gigantic jam session, starring many, many musicians from all over this part of the state. Our jam sessions have always been winners. Come and join in on the fun.

Make your reservations for the clam bake to be held Saturday, March 29. Tickets are going fast, so better get yours now.

Nunn is commended

JENSEN BEACH--Coast Guard Aviation Electrician's Mate First Class Jack A. Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Nunn of 208 South St., Jensen Beach has been commended for his participation in a rescue mission, from December 29-30, 1972, while serving at the Coast Guard Air Station, Miami.

Medical assistants meet

JENSEN BEACH- The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Martin County Medical Assistant's Association will be held at the King's Inn, Wednesday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m.

The guest speaker of the evening will be one of Southern Bell's personnel who will discuss telephone technique. This not only will be of benefit to the medical assistants, but will establish better communication with the patients and general public.

A film on this subject will be shown following an open discussion.

All medical assistants in this area are invited to join this organization. For information, contact Mrs. Shirley Brown, 287-4777 or Mrs. Joan Eger, 287-4115 for dinner reservations.

'Something for everyone'

CESA Spring Festival is Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE—Months of preparation are culminating this Saturday, March 8 in the long awaited CESA Spring Festival and Bazaar.

CESA President Dick Lundin says, "This is our first time venture of this nature and we are attempting to make it a total community effort with as much of "something for everyone" as our facilities permit."

Crafts, plants, books, white elephant items, records, home-made goodies all will be available for browsing or purchasing, as well as bingo, children's activities and drawings for prizes in the afternoon.

An all day "Under the Florida Sun" art exhibit is planned. Artists and craftsmen have been offered the use of the Port St. Lucie Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in case of inclement weather.

Thirty-five Port St. Lucie clubs and organizations have worked diligently toward the big day, all coordinated by Nickie Porter.

Proceeds from the event are earmarked for the CESA Building Fund; the public is cordially invited to come out and join in the fun.

Campaigning under way

Twelve candidates have filed for council seats

PORT ST. LUCIE—With the biggest election in the history of this city less than two weeks away, the twelve candidates seeking office have launched vigorous campaigns.

The hoped for city unity by the endorsement of four candidates on the part of the Port St. Lucie Civic League and the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie Inc. is beginning to show signs of shattering as residents split on their decisions.

It appears the Interested Home owners group with an estimated membership of over 300 seemed to play a more passive role in the endorsements than did the Civic League whose claimed membership numbers approximately 800.

Since many residents belong to both organizations, a true membership figure cannot be readily determined.

According to the figures on the computer print-out list furnished by St. Lucie County's Supervisor of Elections, there are a total of 1,474 registered voters within the city.

The twelve candidates will be vying for a majority of these 1400 votes between now and March 18.

Four candidates tossed their hats into the political ring on the final day of qualification: Charles J. Hayde, Lolita B. Kernohan, Dick Lundin and Lee R. Johnson.

The most heavily contested races will be for the Groups 2 and 3 seats.

Group 2, a two-year unexpired term of the late Mayor Eugene P. Kavanaugh, has developed into a four way race. Candidates seeking the seat are Samuel Feigenbaum, of 840 Degan Drive; Frank Rose of 569 Floresta Drive, incumbent councilman and vice mayor Vaughn Lewis of 302 Verada Ave. and Charles J. Hayde, the last candidate to file of 1430 San Souci Lane.

An earlier candidate, Catherine Westman of Floresta Drive, withdrew her candidacy for the Group 2 seat when she learned Frank Rose intended to seek the position.

Group 1, a four-year term, is also a four way race involving the youngest of all candidates, David T. Riley of 184 Lutero Drive; Carl Fessel, 2077 Harding Street; Lolita B. Kernohand, 2947 San Jeronimo Road; and Dick Lundin of 1173 Peturia.

Two candidates will vie for the Group 3 seat currently held by North Port's Ken Thompson. Schuyler Sharpe of 647 Harborview Drive will make his bid for this seat, as will John Korlas of 260 Sagamore Terrace. Thompson previously announced he will not seek re-election to the post.

In the Group 5 seat incumbent William B. McChesney had a path of clear sledding until the final day of qualifying when Lee R. Johnson entered the race. Both men reside in the country club area. McChesney at 2961 San Jeronimo Road and Johnson at 2892 Morningside Blvd.

Following the election, the city council will hold a reorganizational meeting early in April.

Republicans to meet Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Republican Club will meet Thursday, March 6 at the CESA Building. The program will start promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Members are urged to attend this first meeting of the new year as the general meeting forum will be discussed and members' ideas will be heard.

New officers of the club are Fred Johnston, president; Heine DeMeulles, first vice president; Harold Casperson, second vice president; Doris Kronberg, secretary, and Rita Todd, treasurer.

Ernest Rieller has been appointed director and membership chairman. Jack LaFrance is a new director and program chairman. Helen Everett will chair the hospitality committee.

Women to organize on March 12

PORT ST. LUCIE—A group of interested women met last week for the purpose of forming the Port St. Lucie Women's Club, Florida Federation.

The next meeting is slated for March 12 at the home of Mrs. Jack B. Schley, 1572 SE Sunshine Ave., Port St. Lucie. A committee who volunteered to draft the by laws will present them at that time.

Any women interested in becoming charter members of the organization may obtain necessary details by phoning 334-0841 or 334-1671.

Civic League to meet Thursday

PORT ST. LUCIE—At a combined meeting the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc. and the Port St. Lucie Civic League will present the four candidates these groups have endorsed at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 6 at the Hilton Convention Center in the first event leading up to the elections for the Port St. Lucie City Council March 18.

Homemakers win ribbons

PORT ST. LUCIE—Members of the Beautiful Waters Homemakers Club of Port St. Lucie received a total of 17 ribbons for exhibits at the recent St. Lucie County Fair.

Mona Anderson received two blue ribbons and one red. Flo Armet had one blue and a red. Helen Eberle was given four blues, two reds, and a white. Ida Evarts was awarded a blue.

Betty Jones won two blues, and Cass Monsure won a blue and a red.

Reeb, Johnston, Vassey first in golf event

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mike Reeb, Bob Johnston and Mark Vassey were the high winners in the weekly golf tournament staged Thursday over the Quarry Course of the St. Lucie Country Club by the SLCC Men's Golf Association. Flight leaders in the three-way scratch golf event were:

Flight A, Reeb, 31-6; Jim Oram, 38-3; Sal Sciarrard, 32-6; Norm Kreeke, 33; Paul Gwallney and Sam Dewhirst, 34.

Flight B, Johnston, 30-8; Jim Waldie, 31-8; Clements, 35; Bob Downing, 32; Joe Premo, 30-3; Arch Gabe, 30-5.

Flight C, Vassey, 40-6; Charles Deane, 40-1; A. Hofmeister, 33; Art Sprague, 32-1; Tom Hassell, 33-3; Nels Peters, 33-8.

City manager form is charter suggestion

PORT ST. LUCIE—The possibility of city-manager type government for the City of Port St. Lucie received unanimous approval of the Charter Revision Committee Monday when the group met at the St. Lucie Convention Center.

It was the decision of the committee all the way with the present system of having the five councilmen, and those council members choosing the mayor from their own ranks.

The resolution passed by a 10-1 vote also stated the five councilmen would be elected by population districts on a staggered basis, to serve four-year terms.

The one dissenting vote was cast by William Madire, who had suggested the mayor be elected in popular vote on a city-wide basis.

Elmer Johnson pointed out that since the mayor was simply an honorary post under the proposed city manager type of government, there was no need for him to be elected by the people.

The final item on the line up for discussion before the committee was the filling of vacancies on the council.

The plan decided on was that if there is less than six months remaining before the term would expire, the council would fill the vacancy until the election.

However, the unexpired term exceeds a six month period, the council will be required to schedule a special election to fill the post.

It will be mandatory the special election be held not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days after the vacancy occurs.

The nine-man Charter Revision Committee was appointed on mid-January by Mayor Larry Kimmel.

Those serving on the committee include Irene Chapman, Robert Hanna, Alice Jensen, Elmer Johnson, Norman Kelly, William Madire, Solomon Raffle, Milton Riedel, Robert Seeley, and Jan Werges.

The two ex officio members of the committee are City Clerk Bernard Rubin and City Attorney Rupert Smith.

World day of prayer planned on March 7

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mrs. James Leslie has been appointed by Church Women United to host a "World Day of Prayer" at Dutton Memorial United Presbyterian Church of White City March 7 at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Hubert Yelton will assist her in the arrangements.

Hes. Frank W. Wingerter will present the discourse, "The Golden Cord."

Those expected to participate in the prayer service are Jane Correia of Port St. Lucie United Methodist Church; Olive Jackson of Mt. Olive Baptist Church; Hattie Hankins of St. Peters Lutheran Church; Isabella McClintock of First Presbyterian Church of Fort Pierce; Mrs. Maude Wrightson of Holy Faith Episcopal Church; Mrs. F.P. Kilpatrick of Greater Mt. Pleasant Primitive Baptist, and Estelle Paden of Temple Beth El.

Deep tank dedication is planned for Friday

BY DOUG ZINN

F.I.T.—After long hours, hard work, and some major problems, the deep tank has been recently completed. The tank is a huge 20 x 20 x 20½ feet and holds 62,300 gallons of water.

The money for the project was donated by various companies and the labor was donated by the dive staff and students. There was approximately 8437 hours of donated labor, 5405 hours of which was from the dive staff, the remainder from the student body.

According to Jim Woodberry, "If it wasn't for the donated labor by the dive staff and students, this project would not have been possible." He wishes to thank everyone involved in the project for all they have done.

Some of the major problems of the project were revealed cracks and a 2½ inch deflection in the wall caused by an overstress on the retaining wall, due to backfilling the hill because of heavy rains.

Also, the first time the tank was filled a major leak was found and four corners of the tank cracked. The leak was found to be in the main drain and the cracks were considered stress only, not a structural problem.

The tank will serve as a classroom for diving and the proposed Underwater Technology program. Dedication of the tank will be on Friday, March 7. For all those interested, some of the hard-hat equipment will be rigged up for demonstration at 2:30 p.m. on the day of dedication.

Crackdown planned on illegal parking

F.I.T.—In spite of repeated requests for cooperation in adhering to the parking regulations, the problem of indiscriminate parking on the campus has reached major proportions and improperly parked cars are damaging lawns and usurping spaces held for faculty and visitors. The present economic situation forbids the luxury of a guard at the entrance, so other measure must be taken.

Effective March 10, 1975, all automobiles owned or used by students, faculty and staff must have proper and current F.I.T. parking stickers attached to the rear bumper. The registration number of all cars parked on the campus without such a sticker will be referred to the sheriff's department which has agreed to immediately provide us with the name and address of the registered owner, regardless of the state in which the car is registered.

Cars without stickers or cars improperly parked, e.g. students' cars parked on the east campus; cars parked on the grass or in visitor's spaces, etc., will be ticketed and a system of fines imposed. Students will not be permitted to register for the next quarter if fines are not paid.

Parking violations will be subject to a fine of $5.00 for the first offense and will increase five dollars for each subsequent offense.

Requests for special permits for parking will be submitted to Mr. Wollemer for review and will be appointed only in Dean Teates.

College rowing races Saturday at causeway

FIT—The first annual Indian River Regatta will be held on March 8 at 12:00 noon, on C-24 Canal, Port St. Lucie West of the turnpike.

The host crew is FIT and will be matched up against Florida Technical University, Miami Rowing Club, and the Big Five Rowing Club.

The festivities will begin at noon with the womens eight race. Then at 12:30 will be the fours with coxswain. Next, at 1:00 are the Junior Varsity matchups.

The Varsity race at 1:30 will climax the days events.

This is FIT's first race of the spring season, and the crew team has been working hard to get in shape and give a good showing.

It is also the first activity of its kind in the area, and will be very exciting for those seeing their first crew race.

Solar energy expert here Thursday

F.I.T.—"Florida is a friendly place." How many have said that, and having said it, have settled down to stay here? Perhaps the nations might take a look at Florida to see how friendliness can help.

A case in point will be a fascinating evening on March 6 when Dr. Erick Farbert, internationally known solar expert, will speak at F.I.T. on solar energy.

The unlikely array of groups which are sponsoring this event include, Martin County Builders' Association, CURE, American Institute of Architects, Martin County Conservation Alliance, St. Lucie County Conservation Alliance, League of Women's Voters.

Dr. Farber is a man who has so many answers that he might be called one of our major exports. He has visited many of the nations of this world to advise them on how to get started in using their most inexhaustible major resource.

In the grip of financial desperation, CURE reached the ear of Ed Harvey of the Martin County Builders Association. It didn't take Ed long to see the possibilities and he was well supported by the Builders Association, who moved in handsomely with an offer to undertake half the expenses and help with "staging" the event.

It wasn't long after this that a CURE member ran into Martin County's Peter Jefferson, who put things in still another perspective. "If you're going to have a solar evening, it should incorporate both builders and architects. It's a problem of our time, it's here and we are the people to work together to promote it. It wants our help and we can give it."

Dick Grandield, head of the Indian River branch, and Bill Brainard, president of Palm Beach chapter, felt the same way, and Martin and St. Lucie County were on their way to a first.

It was no time at all until both St. Lucie and Martin County Conservation Alliances proved themselves able to dismiss any previous differences between "conservations kooks" and "developers" and moved in to work in units and friendship to bring an ideal a little closer. Shortly after this the St. Lucie League of Women Voters and the Indian River Drive Association came in to work for an idea whose time is approaching.

When Dr. Farber is here to speak, he may not be impressed by the size of St. Lucie and Martin Counties. Being a celebrity, he may have had larger audiences. But he will no doubt be impressed by the enthusiasm of these counties who put friendship and real progress where they belong, together.

SOLAR ENERGY EXPERT Dr. Erick Farber, internationally known expert on solar energy, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 6, in the F.I.T. Auditorium. Calling the sun the largest, oldest and safest nuclear power plant, he will discuss the ways in which solar power can be and is being utilized.

Dr. Farber received the major part of his education in Europe as well as a BS in ME, and an MS in ME from the University of Missouri in 1943 and 1946 respectively and a Ph.D. from the University of Iowa in 1949.

Dr. Farber has over 300 publications, has co-authored three books and received many honors, among them a Citation from the Air Force for his work in solar energy conversion; the Worcester Reed Warner Gold Medal from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for "Outstanding Contributions to the Permanent Literature in Engineering"; the Missouri Honor Award, a gold medal and citation for "Distinguished Service in Engineering"; is listed in the Engineer's Joint Council "Engineers of Distinction" in "Outstanding Floridians," Who's Who in the World, Who's Who in Science, Leaders in America Science, American Men of Science, etc.

Dr. Farber was a member of the NSF-NASA Solar Energy Panel which prepared a report "Solar Energy as a National Energy Resource." He is a member of the solar energy working group, established by the federal government for U.S.-U.S.S.R. cooperative efforts in solar energy, and he has been appointed by Governor Askew to the Florida Energy Committee. In 1973 he received the Florida Blue Key Distinguished Faculty Award, in 1974 the College of Engineering Outstanding Service Award.

Environmental health penetration of agents

BY THOMAS KIEBER-EMMONS

For environmental agents to reach other sites of action, substances must pass across various body membranes. Man is separated from his chemical environment by three major membranes: the skin, the epithelium of the gastrointestinal tract, and the epithelium of the respiratory tract.

Once a substance has penetrated one of these external boundaries, it enters the circulation and is carried throughout the body in one or more forms. As the substance encounters the various body tissues, it at first interacts with the individual tissue cells and then the membranes of the cellular inclusions. The succession of barriers enters the organism some protection in that the slowing of these environmental agents in reaching sites of action hinders these agents susceptible to the various destructive metabolic activities of the cell.

There are certain properties that are common among the membranes of the body which determine their permeability characteristics. Because of their lipoid (resembling fats or oils) nature, they are highly permeable to lipid soluble substances, fat soluble-DDT and most other pesticides. They are relatively impermeable to lipid insoluble solutes. They are also permeable to very small molecules whether lipid soluble or not, because of apparent interspersed minute water filled pores.

In terms of environmental health, the two primary membranes that you, as an individual, must concern yourself with is your skin and respiratory tract. People who are gardeners must realize that it is not enough to wash your hands after using an insecticide-don't get it on you at all, your skin can absorb it.

The respiratory tract is probably the most permeable of all the membranes. Because of that, careful use of all aerosols should be kept in mind.

Karate demonstration impressive

BY BOB GRABEN

F.I.T.—Mr. Kum Chun Kim and other students of Tae Kwon Do karate representing the Stuart Institute of Karate last Tuesday evening at the F.I.T. auditorium.

Kim, a fifth degree black belt instructor, is the head instructor at the Stuart Institute of Karate. Doc Hyatt, owner of the karate school, put on an outstanding demonstration for the students at F.I.T. and other people of the community.

Hyatt gave a brief lecture on what karate is all about and described some of the achievements students have attained. Then the demonstration began. The students showing some of the basic exercises. Then Mr. Roberts, a first degree black belt instructor, demonstrated some three-step sparring along with some of the other students.

Not only men are students of Tae Kwon Do. Some of the women can take on men bigger than themselves. This was demonstrated with some free fighting or sparring. Self defense techniques were also shown the full audience at F.I.T.

Kim continued the demonstration with some board-breaking feats. With flying side kicks (over six people), high front kicks, and round house kicks, one inch boards were broken. He also managed to astonish the audience by breaking 3 one-inch boards at one time with his head, as a climax to the show.

The people in the audience were amazed at some of the feats performed in front of them. It was a very impressive demonstration by "Doc" Hyatt and the school.

The ages of the students range from 6 to 60. The students worked hard to achieve what they have. This is shown by the color belt that they wear.

Rap Line opening April 7

F.I.T.—Rap Line is a central source of information for the community about the health, welfare and character building services in our community. It is a place where interested, trained people are on the phones, ready to listen to problems and to suggest a community service available to help. It is a number to call when there is a friend, neighbor, relative, co-worker or employee who needs help.

Rap Line is the help. It will direct persons with problems to the community service best equipped to provide the help they need. Rap Line will promptly give complete attention to problems, which will be treated with total confidentiality.

Persons can just call and tell of their problem or need. Then Rap Line swings into action, calling upon knowledge and experience to find the agency in Martin County best suited to help. Rap Line is always there. Whether the caller has a problem, need or just feels like talking.

Rap Line is located on the F.I.T. Jensen Beach campus and is staffed by F.I.T. students. Over 50 percent of the staff has had experience in lines of this sort operating in California, New York, New Jersey and Miami. Everyone on the phones has completed an intensive training course by operating date.

Officially, opening date is April 7. Numbers will be announced prior to the date.

Rap Line is here for everyone. It's reaching out to the community, and the founders want the community to reach out to Rap Line when in need.

FIT—Rap Line Needs Volunteers. See what you can do for your community. Meetings are every Tuesday Night at 7:30 in the Library Conference Room. See Ya There!

Summer programs

FIT—During the summer, F.I.T. will offer several very worthwhile courses for credit, for both high school and college students.

The high school summer program in marine and environmental studies is designed to high school juniors and seniors interested in science, nature or the sea.

The two week course encompasses marine history, oceanic resources, marine environments, biochemical and geophysical aspects, and ecology of area environs.

The F.I.T. hands on policy of practicing what you learn thru specialized field trips is an important aspect of the course.

Four hour week sessions will be held in 1975, beginning June 18, July 7, July 23 and August 4.

The cost for the two weeks will be $395, which covers housing, meals, field trips, and local transportation.

Any student completing the course will receive a recommendation for a half high school credit to the student's home school.

The college program is a five week course awarding twelve quarter hour credits at the freshman and sophomore levels in the following courses:

The course will be climaxed by a dive on the reefs of West End on Grand Bahama Island.

Cost will be $995, which covers tuitions, housing, meals, and Bahamas field trips, and transportation.

Two five week sessions will be held in 1975, beginning on June 18 and July 25.

Anyone interested in either of the programs can obtain applications from the F.I.T. campus.

Faculty tops Derelicts, 11-10

FIT—The Faculty came back from an 8-0 deficit in the first inning, to defeat the Derelicts in an 11-10 softball game last Wednesday night.

In the second action packed game of the night, the Wolfpack overcame HTI by a 12-10 score.

FIT—The last two weeks of basketball scores are as follows:

Letter to the Editor:

Subject: APATHY

Sir, it's certainly not a lack of interest, but is your time so important that you can't bring your interests to the surface?

Talk is one thing, but getting involved is much more prosperous. Rather live for your person than for your self.

Humans do make mistakes, but consistency of mistakes defines ignorance. Really—don't just surface for a breath that you can enjoy underneath, but surface for life and for then I do!

RIBBON CUTTING–The 1974 Fair Lady Jo Anne Moll cuts the ribbon, officially opening the 1975 Martin County Fair. The fair opened Monday afternoon and will continue through this Saturday.

ORA donates to Samaritans

JENSEN BEACH–A total of $966 has been contributed by Outdoor Resorts of Nettles Island to the Jensen Area Samaritans ambulance fund.

Of that total, the Nettles Island Players raised $666.

Led by Violet Simpson and May Tifft, a total of 26 Nettles Island Players visited each trailer resident over the past few weeks to collect the money.

The Men's Club, Women's Club and the church each donated $100.

"We are sure the Jensen Area Samaritans are as pleased to receive the money as we are grateful to have their services at Outdoor Resorts of Nettles Island," the two Nettles Island Players said in a joint statement.

An ambulance crew of George Krauss, ambulance association president, Kathy Krauss and Bob Sherer were at the island last Saturday to accept the $966 check.

Martin County Fair is one of the best ever

JENSEN BEACH–Everyone who has been there says that this year's Martin County Fair is the best one ever. The gates open each day at 2 p.m. offering something for everyone to enjoy.

The Exhibit Buildings are open until 11 p.m. every night, and the Magic Midway opens at 3 p.m. Art and handicraft displays exceed those of previous years in number and variety.

In addition, there are entertaining special features every day.

Today, Wednesday, is Kids Day, when all children 12 and under get in free until 6 p.m.

Two bicycles will be given away at 7 p.m. but the best part of the day will be presentations by all of Martin County's schools' choral, instrumental, singing and dancing, and gymnastic groups.

Good entertainment for all ages.

Thursday's special feature is the Florida Three Country Music Show from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The "Four H Dress Revue" in the Fairgrounds Arena at 2:30 p.m. is Friday's spectacular.

Saturday will be the final Fair Day, with a Horse Show in the Horse Arena at 2 p.m., a Dog Show in the North End Arena at 2:30, the Florida Three Country Music Show at 7:30, and the Barber Shop Chorus, Martin County Chapter SPEBSQSA at 8:15.

The Magic Midway will open at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Meeting proposed

Jensen Chamber supports center

JENSEN BEACH–The Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce is going to aid the continued operation of the Environmental Studies Center.

"The chamber will do everything it can to see that the center's grant is continued," Chamber president Art Hansen said.

For the past three years, the center on Indian River Drive in Jensen Beach has been supported by federal funds.

"Our grant can't be renewed in its present form after June 30," center director Jay Jarrett said.

The Martin County School Board must find some $80,000 to 90,000 to continue operating the center.

"The grant should be extended," Hansen said. "It is a very worth while expenditure."

At the Monday night chamber directors meeting, a general membership meeting at the center was proposed.

The main purpose of the general membership meeting at the center is to introduce members to the center and its activities," Hansen continued.

"The center is one of the very few places in the country where children can come to learn first hand about the environment," Hansen said.

Director L.D. Kirkpatrick suggested that the general membership meeting be held at the center, and a tour of the facilities be held.

It was suggested by directors that some of the issues that the chamber is now involved in–street numbering, bicentennial, fishing guide, etc.–be presented at the general membership meeting.

No date was set for the meeting, but it is expected to come after the regular April directors' meeting, according to directors.

Hansen noted that the children visiting the center can "learn about the Indian River first hand, and not read about it in a textbook."

Last year about 8,000 Martin and Okeechobee county students spent time at the center, and learned about marine life.

Test scores indicate that these children are making gains in environmental knowledge as a result of classes at the center, according to center personnel.

For the past three years, the center has been supported by about $373,000 in federal funds.

Center is toured by PTA

JENSEN BEACH–The Environmental Study Center in Jensen Beach, which is in danger of losing funds for operating, was visited by about 400 persons last Thursday, March 6.

Members of the Jensen Beach Elementary School PTA and their guests toured the facility with the students doing most of the explaining to their parents what went on at the center.

The present state funding program, Title III, ends in June, according to Jay Jarrett, center director.

Jarrett said the center needs about $130,000 to operate for another year, and about 40 per cent is expected to be provided locally.

Jarrett calls the prospects of getting local money as "not too good."

Jarrett said the state will provide some funds for us to help set up programs in other counties, but that it's going to take $80,000 to $90,000 of local money over and above that to keep the center program at its present level.

He said the center staff is presently writing an application for state funds.

Local dealers are planning business promo

BY DICK CAMPBELL

STUART–The automobile industry is the third largest industry in Martin County, with $13.1 million in sales and an annual payroll of $1.3 million, and the franchised auto dealers of the county are ready to fight.

The fight is for the local auto dollar, and the dealers have raised a war chest and recruited bankers and businessmen to help them change the negative attitude of the people.

"Workers are paid more. Savings are at an all time high. The stock market is rising, and the prime rate has dropped from 12 percent to seven and three-quarters," said John Jochem, local Chevrolet dealer.

He was speaking to a luncheon meeting of community leaders invited by the dealers to kick off a better business campaign.

"Using the news media for "negative coverage of the news," Jochem said. "The real problem of today is the consumer lack of confidence. Economic woes are psychological.

"It is Time to say what is good, rather than what is bad."

Jochem made his comments following a presentation by Dave Newman, Stuart Lincoln Mercury dealer, who said that sales had only dropped from $14 million in 1973 to $13.3 million in 1974, but that the drop was minor, and wages increased from $1.2 million to $1.3 million, money that circulated in the county's economy.

The dealers paid $367,000 in sales taxes, and $17,000 in property taxes, and spent $97,000 in advertising their auton in the local media.

Adding further to the economy, the auto dealers spend $400,000 for local supplies for their business.

Thirty persons attended the meeting that heard Jochem call for a challenge to community leaders to change the community attitude from the negative to the positive.

Bill Redditt, local Ford dealer, told the group that the dealers had raised a $2,800 war chest to pay for a 30-day promotion, which is in addition to the individual dealer advertising expenditures.

Jerry O'Brien, Classic Motors dealer, called for comments from those attending the meeting, saying, "People who work here should spend their money in the community." He also cited First National Bank of Stuart for a "positive" advertising campaign helping local business.

Dave Irons, president of First National, said he was impressed with the dollar volume that the auto industry brought to the county, and offered to participate in "any program that is agreed upon."

Ray Navitsky, Stuart Chamber of Commerce manager, said, "The economy is terrific. Agriculture and tourism are up, and tourism is above any prediction this year. It all boils down to the attitude of the consumer."

Navitsky offered the cooperation of the Chamber in the promotion, and offered the use of the Chamber's theme, "Set the Pace", as a theme for the dealers saying, "Positive attitudes change everything."

Florida's largest dive tank is dedicated at FIT

"Stands in awe"

"Free enterprise"

Mermaid Carol Proctor

JENSEN BEACH–A 63,000 gallon diver training tank, cited as being the "focal point of all talents of Florida Institute of Technology in Jensen Beach," was dedicated by college and local leaders last Friday.

The $75,000 tank, which will be used to train divers in underwater techniques of welding and repair, was built with donations of community businesses, based on a $15,000 donation from the Doherty Foundation.

The reinforced concrete structure, weighing two million pounds, is equipped with underwater lights, a recirculating filtering system, and workbenches for students and instructors, twenty feet down.

Dean Tim Tealey, acting as master of ceremonies, conducted the program, introducing local dignataries for comments.

Jerome Keuper, president of FIT, charted the growth of the marine oriented college in Jensen Beach, attributing the growth to a positive "hands-on" approach to education.

County Commissioner Maggie Hurchalla, former diving instructor in Miami, praised the cooperation of the community in donating time and materials to complete the dive tank. She also commented on the contributions of the college in culture and business to the community.

William Elder, Maule Industries, spoke for the donors of the materials for the project, saying, "I stand in awe of the faculty and students for with superior education we will help to keep our nation strong."

Art Hansen, president of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, called the dive tank "a benchmark of FIT growth," and said the community was proud to call Jensen Beach a college town.

Dick Campbell, president of the Martin County Resources Development Board, said the building of the tank was a sign of the free-enterprise oriented attitudes of the people of Martin County doing for themselves without government assistance.

Over 8,000 man-hours of work went into building the tank, time donated by the dive staff, FIT students, and volunteers.

Photographs of the ceremonies are by Mark Bell.

Garbage districts in future

JENSEN BEACH–Exclusive garbage franchise districts may be established by Martin County Commission in the near future.

Les Scherer said last week that he will meet with garbage and trash haulers within the next few days to discuss exclusive franchise districts.

Scherer, director of environmental services, said haulers would have to identify their customers on maps.

Commissioners had stated a review of possible franchise districts March 4, but Scherer said he wasn't ready to make recommendations since the haulers had not provided him with sufficient information.

At present, haulers are serving the same areas, and Scherer said that exclusive districts would "streamline the operations and eliminate overlapping service."

"No hauler will be put out of business," he said.

Commissioners have already taken control of maximum garbage collection rates, granting an increase in rates several months ago. Maximum curbside pickup is $3.50.

Consulting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Associates recommended some months ago that the commission establish exclusive districts.

In the past, proposals to draw districts in which only one garbage collector would be permitted to serve each district, have drawn vigorous opposition from residents of some areas.

Persons who are getting good service at low cost have objected to the idea that they may have to contract with a different collector who charges more and gives service they consider less adequate.

Heart forum about children

JENSEN BEACH–They may be small but a child's heart also needs a lot of attention and consideration to grow healthy. A free public forum entitled "Your Child's Heart–Keep it Healthy" will be held Thursday, March 20 at the Lyric Theatre at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Heart Association and the Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the forum will feature a panel of three local physicians. Dr. Larry Holder will discuss the importance of good pre-natal care in the development of the healthy heart. Dr. James E. Minick will talk on the importance of the early years in the development and maintenance of a healthy heart in adulthood, and Dr. James W. Lancaster, a pediatrician will speak on heart problems of a child and how they are handled. Dr. James Gray will moderate the forum.

Dr. Richard Q. Penick, coordinator of the forum, commented, "We are expecting a large turnout. There are a lot of parents in Martin County who have school age children, and they should all be very interested in what the doctors have to say."

I also want to thank Charles Marquina, owner of the Lyric Theatre for providing the facilities for the program," Penick added.

A question and answer period will follow the panel discussion.

This is the third in a series of three free Heart Association sponsored forums scheduled for 1975 in Martin County.

HEART FORUM–The last Heart Forum entitled "Your Child's Heart–Keep It Healthy" will be March 20 at the Lyric Theatre at 7:30 p.m. Looking over the program are Dr. James W. Lancaster, Jeannine Wickles, Heart Association Supervisor, Dr. Richard Q. Penick and Marge Adams, Heart Association Program Director.

Annual egg hunt is March 22

JENSEN BEACH–Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department will hold its eighth annual Easter egg hunt at Langford Park Saturday, March 22.

There will be prizes for each of the four age groups according to chairman Joseph Luciano.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with members of the Women's Auxiliary in charge.

Luciano said the four age groups include:

One and two and parents must accompany the children in this group, but children must be the one collecting. Three, four and five, six, seven and eight, and nine and ten.

The hunt is for children in the Jensen Beach area according to Luciano. Fred Jennings is co-chairman.

The hunt will be held March 29 if it rains on March 22.

Traffic is problem for proposed mall

JENSEN BEACH–A transportation plan is apparently the biggest problem for developers of the proposed giant shopping mall on U.S. 1 at SR 707A (Jensen Beach Cutoff Road).

"Traffic is the biggest problem," Commissioner Maggy Hurchalla commented at Tuesday's work session with a representative of the Edward J. DeBartolo Corp.

Several proposed traffic plans were discussed again by commissioners with Tom Marsicano, planning consultant for the development.

The apparent lack of planning progress prompted Commissioner Tom Higgins to ask Marsicano if the commission is "holding up the development."

I don't think we are being held up the planning consultant replied.

However, Dick Greco, a DeBartolo vice president, was quoted recently as saying that due to economic conditions, construction of the mall may be delayed past the original starting date in 1976.

Some traffic plans discussed at Tuesday's meeting included access to the mall from Britt Road from the south, and from Seaview Boulevard from the north, plus the U.S. 1 accesses.

Also, the possibility of a 26-foot right-of-way service road from Britt Road north along U.S. 1 to SR 707A intersection.

Commissioner Timer Powers noted that there would be a lot of confusion on U.S. 1 if there were several traffic lights–four or five–at about a distance of one half mile.

It was pointed out by Commissioner Chairman Rosa Philbrick that a north entrance from the Port St. Lucie area would help especially if it tied in with the turnpike interchange.

A high percentage of the mall traffic should come from the Port St. Lucie area, Philbrick observed.

Possible location of a fire station was discussed again, and the [illegible] cost of a building on county [illegible], a solid cost about $15[illegible].

Philbrick said that [illegible] the Britt Road area would [illegible] the North River Shore area.

Rio Condo in receivership

JENSEN BEACH–River Club Condominium apartments in Rio has been placed in receivership by Circuit Judge C. Pfeiffer Trowbridge.

Judge Trowbridge named Peter J. Longarzo, a retired architect and former director of Federal Housing Administration, to preserve the property in its present state until the $3.7 million mortgage foreclosure suit filed by Underwood Mortgage and Title Co. is settled.

Attorney George Lahn, representing Underwood, told Judge Trowbridge the property is depreciating rapidly and some work probably will be required to protect the buildings and other materials from the weather.

The project was originally planned to consist of 8 units and construction has been started on about 50 of them.

Longarzo is to inventory the materials on the property within 21 days and report to the judge on what steps should be taken to preserve the land, buildings and materials stored there.

Meanwhile, St. Lucie Jupiter Development Corp. has petitioned the U.S. District Court for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

Filing for reorganization stalls two mortgage foreclosure suits totaling more than $10 million now pending in Martin County Circuit Court.

The federal court has issued an order authorizing St. Lucie Jupiter to continue conducting business operations and bars creditors from interfering with it.

Great American Mortgage Investors, Inc. has filed an $8 million suit against the Mariner Sands project in south Martin County.

Mariner Sands is a 1,000 acre project and about 150 acres have been developed.

A $3.4 million suit has been filed by [illegible] National Bank and Trust Company of Bank of Cleveland, Ohio against the Mariner Sands project and its [illegible] has met with a $14 million counter suit against the bank.

Mariner Sands is a 76 unit project on St. Lucie Boulevard and has sold 46 units.

The petition in federal court will allow St. Lucie-Jupiter to make extended payments to its creditors on the projects.

Canal giveaway

WASHINGTON—Give away the Panama Canal Zone?

Why don't we give Texas back to Mexico, Alaska back to Russia, Florida back to Spain? It makes almost as much sense.

We bought Alaska for $7.2 million; we acquired Florida in a treaty with Spain. We obtained Texas after settlers there fought a war of independence from Mexico proclaimed themselves the Republic of Texas and then asked to become part of the Union.

And we obtained the Panama Canal Zone in much the same way. We signed a treaty with Panama in 1903 which gave us the canal zone "in perpetuity." We bought and paid for the land which is used by both the canal and the canal zone, paying individual property owners some $144 million.

And it was our diplomatic recognition and our Marines which made possible Panama's successful war of independence from Colombia.

So that nation's claim to the canal zone is, in my opinion, no more valid than Russia's claim would be for the return of Alaska.

Yet, within a matter of weeks, a treaty providing for the return of this strategic canal and the zone which protects it to Panama is expected to be signed by the State Department and sent to the U.S. Senate for ratification.

Why are we rushing to give away the canal zone? Apparently, simply because the military regime of Omar Torrijos has screamed long and loud and because the United Nations, an organization which enjoys catering to the demands of any vocal minority has joined in the chorus.

Well, regardless of what a military junta wants, and regardless of the screams of the United Nations, I don't think the U.S. should give away the Panama Canal Zone.

Therefore, I have joined with a number of other Congressmen in a sense of the House resolution calling for continued undiluted United States sovereignty and jurisdiction over the U.S.-owned Canal Zone.

The canal is vital and of imperative importance to the defense of the Western Hemisphere and to the security of the United States.

And it is vital to shipping interests and continued foreign trade not just of both but the trade of all nations.

Unlike the Suez Canal, the only canal of similar importance in the world, the Panama Canal has remained open to traffic throughout its entire 60 year history. It has been operated efficiently and has been made available to ships of all nations at a reasonable toll.

And, if we were to give it away to Panama, there is no guarantee that nation would be able or even willing to continue efficient and non-discriminatory operation of the canal.

But the need for continued operation of the canal isn't the only reason for continuing U.S. sovereignty of the canal zone.

The U.S. has made a substantial investment in that area, both in terms of monies and in human life. From 1904 through June 30, 1974, the U.S. has invested nearly $7 billion in the canal zone.

And our investment has been extremely beneficial to the people of Panama. That compensation to the nation, coupled with the other benefits the Panamians have derived from our presence there, have combined to give that tiny country the highest per capita income in all of Central America.

But perhaps the strongest argument against giving away the canal zone is the detrimental effect it could have on our national defense.

Yet because of the hullabaloo being caused by a military junta and by a vocal minority of tiny nations envious of the U.S., we are on the brink of giving the canal away.

Hopefully, however, the treaty now being worked out by our State Department and the Panamanian foreign ministers will be sent to both the House and Senate for ratification.

If it is sent to the House, I can assure you it will be subjected to both close scrutiny and a determined effort to see that our nation's best interests are not ignored.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor

I have read with interest the letter published in your paper from C.E. (Ed) Fessel, a candidate for the group three seat in the City of Port St. Lucie elections on March 18.

I am curious why Mr. Fessel did not attempt to clarify or determine in advance the reasons for his being asked to attend a meeting of members of both the organizations he now claims are working loosely with their members' dues and voluntary contributions.

Mr. Fessel as a candidate hardly helps his campaign by stating, "The credibility of the entire matter tends to weaken even more when recent events and pronouncements by the Civic League Inc. (what happened to the interested Homeowners influential directors group) finally select and support with financial aid from the resources of both groups, the hand-picked slate of candidates headed by Wm. M. McCheaney, Lolita Kernahan, Schuyler Sharpe and Frank Rose."

Now if Mr. Fessel had contacted any official in either of the organizations he mentions he would have been advised that not one cent of the dues of voluntary contributions to the Interested Homeowners, Inc. is being spent to assist any candidate.

As to the money contributed to the Interested Homeowners, Inc. has been and will continue to be our marked to pursue the goal initiated by that organization.

While it is true Mr. McCheaney is a member of the council, he was not appointed to his position until Nov. 26, 1974, or after the actions that shocked Port St. Lucie Homeowners to take the actions they have taken.

I would be curious to know if Mr. Fessel would have written his letter if he had been endorsed by the groups he now condemns. No one ordered Mr. Fessel to attend the meeting mentioned above. The reasons for the meeting were explained to him at the time he was invited and he had every chance to be satisfied at that time.

In addition where was Mr. Fessel when meetings of the Interested Homeowners, Inc. were being held and where was he when Mrs. Kernahan was attending City Council meetings, asking questions, being embarrassed by city officials in front of spectators, by asking those questions and then presenting both documents that led to the split by the Interested Homeowners by the officials of the City of Port St. Lucie.

It is quite simple to be horrified when looking votes, but the time to be horrified is when you are being put down by city councilmen and not have any assistance until the information you have developed shocks friends and organizations to act.

Subsequently, you are proud and have no need to continue to be horrified because you can now participate in the growth of an organization that presently can boast of approximately 300 members and successfully fought City Hall.

Hope Mr. Fessel will not be horrified by my letter.

SEA OATS: The organized clutter of a specialty shop such as Sea Oats offers many opportunities for browsing as Jackie Pinsky's new shop

Pinsky makes glasses, the better to Sea Oats

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH: The attraction of a small community, with the flavor of historic Hobe Sound to the South of any big city, and where Bo Gard Pinsky, industrial chemist, and his wife Jackie decided that this is the place to live.

Pinsky quit his job as manager of sight, sound department in West Palm Beach and opened his own shop, located at the Boardwalk at Sewall's Point Road and SR-707, in a building that was formerly Eckerd's Sugar's store.

His wife was the artist, and there was no one in the shop as she decided to open a small gift shop, selling a "bit of this, bit of that."

This certainly place is the perfect environment for our daughter Kyla to grow up in," said Jackie.

Husband Bo, many years of experience as an optician, having started his trade from his father in Sea Breeze, from the young age of nine, probably caused a frustration in the art.

Although Jackie is the artist and she runs the shop, she also does the ordering, buying, pottery, Bo does the glass, china rugs and wicker items.

Husband is active in community affairs being a member of the Hobe Sound Kiwanis Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce and coaches a men's fastpitch basketball team.

When not running the shop of taking care of Kyla, Jackie is active on the First United Methodist Church of Stuart and the Marketplace Restaurant of Stuart.

Business contests

Baseball program at park

JENSEN BEACH–This year there will be more teams, more games, and no doubt, more action in the Jensen Beach Optimist Club's baseball program.

Instead of only four Bronco League teams from Jensen Beach, there will be six and all of them will be from the JB area. V.F.W. will return along with Rio Civic Association, Coy & Deggeller and the Jensen Beach Bank, while two brand new teams, Knights of Columbus and the Elks Club, will add yet more excitement to the Bronco scene.

Meanwhile, in the Pony League, the Jensen Lions Club might find it difficult to improve on its record from last year. Not only do they lose most of their key players to Martin County High School and Colt League competition, but they also have to contend with a draft that saw all of the Pony League players thrown into a wild scramble, then completely re-assigned to one of the four teams.

The Pony League's only new edition is that of Ray Cooke Septic Tank Service. Last year, Ray Cooke sponsored a Mustang League team but this year changed to the Pony League because a fourth sponsor was needed to complete the plan of playing independently.

Manley Construction and Kiwanis add to the mud Pony League race. Last year the team that Manley sponsored, led by Malcolm Delancy, Brad Fallin, Steve Pollard, and Donnie Wilkie did almost nothing against anyone except the Lions.

Twice, at the ends of both halves during the season, Manley upset the Lions and both times prevented them from taking the title for each half of the season. As a result, the Lions did not make the post season playoffs.

There is much more to the baseball program than the Bronco and Pony League programs. On the lower end of these two is the Mustang League, a league designed to develop the basic skills that the youngster possesses. This year, there will again be six teams, but there will be some new sponsors.

Aycock Funeral Home, Rick Carroll Insurance, and Ray Cook Septic Tank Service each sponsored a Mustang League team once again this year.

New editions include L.D. Kirkpatrick's Man From Kirk Clothing Store, Tri-County Gas, and Wyatt's Marine Supply.

In the Colt League, the upper most of Jensen Beach's baseball efforts, the situation is different from that of the three leagues below.

In the Colt, Jensen Beach has but one team, Kermit's Stag Shop from Stuart, but unlike the Mustang, Bronco and Pony Leagues Jensen Beach's Colt team participates in a county-wide league.

This year Jensen Beach joins Stuart, Hobe Sound, and two teams from Port Salerno in the league. However, at press time it seemed possible that Palm City and/or Jupiter-Tequesta might be added to the circuit.

Last week the schedules for the three Jensen area leagues were released by the Optimist Club of Jensen Beach. In the Mustang League, there will be no official standings because only the league tournament at the end of the season will determine the champions. The parties involved feel that the champion in a lower-aged league such as this should be based on the improvement shown during the course of the season. Therefore, a team should be at its best at the end of the schedule.

Each team in the Mustang League will play 14 games during the regular season, seven in each half. There will be a rainout week at the end of each half. The week for such games in the first half will be April 10-15.

The Mustangs open this Monday night at Langford Park as Ray Cooke's takes on Tri-County Gas. This contest will officially open the 1975 baseball season at Langford Park.

Tuesday night, Aycock's will challenge Wyatt's, while at the same time on another field at the park, Man From Kirk meets Rick Carroll. All Mustang action begins at 6 p.m.

The Bronco League schedule opens Monday night on the Vince Bocchino field, where Coy & Deggeller tackles Rio Civic at 7 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Pony League kicks off another year as the Jensen Lions Club goes to battle against Manley Construction. For the first time ever the Pony League will stage its contests on the newest of the three fields–the Cow Pasture. The Monday night Lions-Manley duel will start promptly at 6:15 p.m.

The Colt League season is due to begin on March 25, but Jensen Beach coach Bob Phillips admits that his forces won't be ready for the early start, and he is trying to postpone the start for at least another week. However the schedule is drawn up in Stuart, and this could pose a problem for the Jensen Beach barnstormers.

All of the action is made possible because of the efforts of the Jensen Beach Optimist Club, and all games played are to be held at Langford Park except those away games played by the Colt League team.

Jr. Bowling tourney starts this Sunday

JENSEN BEACH–Bantam, Junior and Senior division keglers of the Junior Martin County Bowling Association will be in tournament competition for the next two weekends.

Team events start at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 16.

Singles and doubles will be rolled on Sunday, March 23, beginning at 2 p.m.

The public is invited to come out to see the county's fine young bowlers in action.

Hospital Ball raises $70,000

PORT ST LUCIE--The Tenth Annual Martin Memorial Hospital Ball raised over $70,000 as 400 gathered in the ballroom at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Monday night.

The highlight of the evening was dancing to the music of Harry James and His Band.

A special theme and decor, "Salute to America", was provided by Patricia Murphy, owner of Candlelight Restaurants. A plaque was presented to Ms. Murphy by Hospital Board of Trustees President, William E. Owens in recognition of her decorations for the past nine Martin Memorial Hospital Balls.

A plaque and recognition were given to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Oughterson, chairmen of the Hospital Ball.

The Martin Memorial Hospital Ball plays a key role in the community support of the hospital. Proceeds go toward either construction or equipment.

Ten years ago, the first hospital ball netted some $10,000. Since that time it has shown a steady increase to 1974 when well over $70,000 was raised.

Guests enjoyed a midnight breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, waffles and biscuits.

CELEBRANTS--Mr. and Mrs. Ron Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis seemed pleased with the music of Harry James at the hospital ball Monday.

PARTY--Enjoying the Martin Memorial Hospital Ball were, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Aycock and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baltzer.

A BALL--It looks like the above Jensen residents (less two) had a ball at the hospital ball Monday night. They include, at left, Stuartites Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Tilton, Mrs. Scott Oughterson, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Penick, and Dr. and Mrs. Jim Grossnickle.

Kathy Cabre is 'Fair Lady'

Kathy Cabre, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cabre of Stuart, was selected from 13 girls in the competition.

Jo Anne Moll, 1975 Fair Lady, crowned Miss Cabre.

First runner up was Pat Hill and second runner up was Julie Witham.

Finalists were Debbie Irons, Jody Edwards, Kelly Miller, Pat Hill, Tuti Sailer, Julie Witham and Cathy Cabre.

The Soroptimist Club sponsored the contest.

Tax money rolling in

JENSEN BEACH--Property tax bills were mailed Monday, March 10 and Martin County Tax Collector Alvin Andrews said his office collected about $60,000 Monday afternoon.

"We are quite busy today," Tuesday, Andrews said.

Andrews reminded taxpayers that the 4 per cent discount will be in effect through April 9.

"After the April 9 date, the 3 per cent penalty will be added," Andrews said.

Program is announced

STUART--The program for the regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Stuart next week will be "Views and News by a Foreign Student."

Scheduled for Wednesday, March 19, the meeting will start with refreshments at 12:30, followed by a business session and the program.

United Fund drive is extended

JENSEN BEACH--The United Fund of Martin County 1975 campaign has been extended to April 1, the UF headquarters announced Tuesday.

The campaign to raise $95,000 for 12 participating agencies has reached the $90,000 mark.

FAIR QUEEN--Kathy Cabre, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cabre of Stuart, was crowned Martin County Fair Lady Monday night at opening activities of the 16th annual Fair.

N-plant ok

JENSEN BEACH--The Atomic Safety and Licensing Board of the Federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission has determined that Hutchinson Island is a safe location for the second of two nuclear power generating units that Florida Power and Light Co. (FPL) plans to build.

The board's findings, based on testimony presented during weeks of environmental hearings in Martin and St. Lucie counties, are that there are no unresolvable safety questions that would preclude issuance of a license, according to an agency spokesman.

St. Lucie Two as proposed by FPL, to join St. Lucie One, the nuclear units already under construction and slated for opening in December.

Safety and Licensing Board approval is to go ahead for construction of St. Lucie Two, however.

The State Department of Pollution Control (DPC) must approve the plant before construction of the $500 million nuclear generating plant can begin.

While the board's findings on environmental matters generally favor issuance of construction permits, there are certain conditions for protection of the environment that the board is recommending.

Some conditions for the plant's approval include:

DPC monitor the location of milk cows within 10 miles of the plant site during plant operation to keep tabs on the possibility of radiological contamination of milk.

Additional safeguards be provided to reduce the possibly radioactive doses to persons within a mile of the plant in the of an accident.

FPL monitors the number of fish caught up in the cooling water intake flow on the ocean.

The plant draw no more than four billion gallons of water a year from Big Mud Creek to test the emergency cooling system.

The safety hearings on St. Lucie Two will be held by the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board this summer.

HONORED--Patricia Murphy Kiernan, decorator for nine Martin County Hospital Balls, was honored with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Oughterson, chairmen of the 1975 ball, on the occasion of the Monday night event raising $70,000 for the hospital.

CHANGE OF WATCH--New officers of the St. Lucie River Power Squadron were installed at a change of watch dinner meeting Saturday, March 8, at the St. Lucie Hilton Heading the new "bridge" are, from right, Robert E. Baer commander; Lt. Commander Dumes H. Boardman, Jr. executive officer; Lt. Commander Lincoln S. Grant, administrative officer; Lt. Commander John R. Fairweather, education officer; Lt. Commander Donald B. Powell, secretary; Lt. Commander Don Button, treasurer; and Lt. Donald P. German, assistant education officer.

Klett heads bicentennial

Director Jack Klett was picked coordinator with chamber secretary picked as his assistant.

Chamber president Art Hansen, who acted as temporary chairman at the Feb. 26 Bicentennial Committee meeting, said committee officers will be elected at the Friday, March 14 meeting.

The committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

The main purpose of the meeting is to select officers, Hansen said, "but we will also take up some ideas presented at the last meeting."

Twenty-six persons representing 21 area organizations attended the Feb. 26 meeting, according to Hansen.

At March 14 meeting, directors anticipate proceeds from the Hobart Art Festival totaling $345. The money will be placed into the Bicentennial funds.

Also, directors anticipate [illegible] from All Saints Episcopal Church which is to give [illegible] Bicentennial fund.

All those attending the meeting reported business has picked up in the festival of Langford Park area, the best ever [illegible] to [illegible] officials said that the show is [illegible] best in the East Coast.

Sign out-sign in

JENSEN BEACH--If a "stop for pedestrians sign" is in a crosswalk on Commercial Street what's a slow walker to do?

Last Friday a brand new stop for pedestrians sign was placed in the crosswalk on Commercial Street at Maple Avenue, at the Jensen Beach Bank.

Before the day was out, a motorist hit the sign. No damage was reported to the sign.

Tuesday, after three days in use, the sign is a broken mess, lying in the shade of a tree on Maple Avenue.

It apparently was hit by a motorist.

The Sheriff's Department reported Tuesday that it had a report of the sign being wrecked, "but we don't have any names," a spokesman at the department said.

Pedestrians might as well continue jaywalking. There haven't been any reports of pedestrians being struck on Commercial Street.

At least not at press time.

SIGN STANDING--Virginia Van Dien, Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce secretary, is shown with the new pedestrian crosswalk sign on Commercial Street on Monday, March 10. Tuesday, March 11, a motorist has the sign breaking it in half.

Wednesday night, I was talking to Dorothy Rubel who is active in the Garden Club and she told me that 44 went of the trip to Fairchild Gardens in Miami.

They had their lunch on the grounds and took the train around to see the gardens which cover 83 acres and have plants and trees from every country. The green house was very interesting with lots of hybrid orchids. They saw an unusual orange orchid. There were man-made lakes there and no birds or animals in the area were enclosed.

They were able to amble around and look at all the things on their own and take many pictures. No wonder they had such a good time.

Mike and Diel Irish have their daughter and grandchildren visiting them here.

+ + +

The Schimmelmans have left for a trip to Dallas and Mexico for three weeks. Marian has been such a devout Spanish student this year, she must have been preparing for the trip.

+ + +

Pat Conway has made much better progress than his friends expected in his recent hospitalization and was able to come home and is out and around. The George Millers have certainly proved good friends by helping them out with meals, etc.

Kurt and Marj Gimbel, who have rented here for three winters, have bought a lot and moved on it. Another good addition to our condominium.

Edith Avis said that while she was out soliciting for the ambulance fund, she saw a man in the area return with a fourteen pound snook and three trout that averaged about five pounds each. He had gotten them off the bridge between Hutchinson and Nettles Island. Edith loves to fish so I can imagine how appreciative she was of the catch.

Sunday, March 16th there is a bus leaving for Vero Beach and the baseball game. They leave at 12 noon and there will be room on the bus for 44 people. The trip is open to both men and women. Take a sack lunch.

During the past month, Bill and Ruth Martin have had four "batches" of guests making overlapping visits. All were from the couple's club in their home church (Cleveland, Ohio) and consequently knew each other well.

One of them, Marge Mink, has been delighting groups assembled in the rec hall for church and pot-luck dinners with her beautiful renditions on the organ. I can vouch for the organ playing for I was at the last pot-luck and heard her. We were asked to call out songs for her to play and she never failed. Also she accompanied May Raney who is one of our life guards here. May has a lovely voice and her singing of "Home to You in San Francisco" and "Hello Dolly" were just super. We hope she will do some more for us sometime.

Visitors were here from Pennsylvania, Canada, West Virginia, Ohio and Illinois. Bill Martin acted as host and also lead a community sing. A film "The Mouse That Roared" was shown later.

Further enhancing the "South Sea Island" showplace of Bill and Etta Creighton, is a recently installed fountain that was a gift from their children.

There are changes on the south side of section 1. Carl and Harriet Funk, lot 8, exchanged their chateau for a 33 foot Holiday Rambler. Harriet is especially pleased with the spacious living room and large windows.

And last week the Elickers purchased lot 4 and moved their Avco motor home from a rented lot and have been busy making improvements.

The Women's Club meeting was held March 5th with about 50 present to hear a talk given by an interior decorator from the East Ocean Mall in Stuart. We all enjoyed it and had an opportunity afterwards to ask questions about problems that arise in trailer decorating. The fabrics shown and the wall paper and accessories were beautiful and interesting. I just knew now that I am going to get some mirrors even if they are small. They create space we were told.

Violet Ximpson and I have been working like beavers to section the whole resort off and line up workers to solicit for the Jensen Area Samaritans. We have been fortunate to obtain at least 18 willing workers and they have done a wonderful job. The contributions far exceed what we expected. By my next report, I should be able to tell you how generous all you people were. Vi and I sure covered a lot of coffee cans and even had to go out and buy coffee and then transfer it to something else in order to supply the workers. Thank you all.

This effort was instigated and planned by The Nettles Island Players.

The bird study group here had an interesting lesson on owls last week. The pictures not only showed different owls but in different stages of development, from baby ones to the mature ones.

An interesting sidelight is that one of those attending goes to sculpture class with me. She took an owl she had been doing in the bird teacher to see if she could obtain any pertinent suggestion on her portrayal and was surprised to learn that the owls toes were in the wrong place. So? Our sculpture teacher always has a saying that fits everything. "Don't worry about that."

If you have guests on a rainy day, do not forget about the wonderful museums we have in our area.

The House of Refuge is on the road in back of the Elliot Museum and is perhaps the last left standing on this coast. The first time that I heard about it, I thought it sounded like a home for boys and girls. Not so, it houses very interesting articles of the past that were used to save lives of shipwrecked sailors. There is also a good shell collection and a gift shop. Out in back, there are turtles of all sizes and the view from the rocky coast is spectacular.

The Elliot Museum (the pink building) should appeal to both young and old as it houses a collection of old vehicles, motor cars and motor cycles. Besides that, there are all kinds of artifacts and antiques to see.

The St. Lucie Museum is also interesting. It is up by the bridge in Fort Pierce. Here you will also learn what Nettles Island looked like years ago and the history of this area. All are reached from route A1A. If you haven't seen them, do make the effort.

Welcome Wagon luncheon is planned

JENSEN BEACH- Welcome Wagon North will meet at the Hilltop House in Ft. Pierce on Tuesday, March 18. Social hour will start at noon.

For reservations call Marie Heeke at 283-1528.

EAST IS EAST AND WEST IS WEST--Decisions, decisions! IRCC students Bobby Varn and Donald Bonich, flanking Reginald Woodall, English instructor and travel group advisor, check out itinerary routes for this summer's college-sponsored tours to Europe. The two tours begin in Rome and then split, one going to Spain, Morocco, and London, and the other moving upward to Switzerland, Germany, France, and then London. There the groups reunite to return to New York and Orlando.

Indian River orchestra concert

PORT ST. LUCIE--The sixth of the current season's Second Sunday Concerts featured the Indian River Concert Orchestra performing under the direction of Harold Casterton.

The orchestra was organized twenty years ago under the direction of the late Frank Crang of Toronto and Vero Beach. After Crang's death, there was a period of inactivity followed by a revival under the guidance of the late R.T. "Todd" Backus and Mrs. T.B. Goodwin Jr., with the group meeting in the Backus and Goodwin homes.

For the past two years the orchestra has been a part of the Indian River Community College adult education program, meeting in the Fine Arts Building each Thursday evening.

Membership is open to any interested musician in the four-county area. Inquiries may be directed to Casterton at 461-3662.

The Second Sunday Concerts are sponsored by the Woman's Club of Ft. Pierce and performances are presented in their clubhouse on S. 29th Street.

Becky Woodruff pledged to honor society

JENSEN BEACH--Becky Woodruff of Jensen Beach has been pledged to Alpha Lambda Delta, National Honorary Scholastic Organization for freshman women at the University of Florida, Gainesville.

Membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, a member group of the Association of College Honor Societies, is restricted to women who have attained a 3.5 average or better during any quarter of their freshman year. Because of the high scholastic standards required for eligibility, only two or three percent of the University of Florida women become members.

Miss Woodruff is a 1974 graduate of Martin County High School. She is the daughter of Arlene Woodruff, and worked for The Jensen Beach Mirror before going to Gainesville.

Jensen Beach Art League to meet

JENSEN BEACH--The Jensen Beach Art League will meet Thursday morning March 13, at 10 a.m. at the Community Room of First Federal Savings and Loan in Jensen Beach.

There will be a short business meeting with a discussion of future show plans.

Members are invited to bring their work for an open session critique. The meeting is for members only.

Jensenites attend reunion

JENSEN BEACH--The 11th Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio, Retiree Reunion was attended by 311 retirees and their families living or wintering in Florida.

The reunion is an annual affair, held on the first Saturday of March in Bartow.

Those attending from the Jensen Beach area were Ruthe Kilrnes, Dorothy Richwine, Esther Crowles, Lillian Johnson and Mr. & Mrs. Robert Lawer.

CANDIDATE FOR GROUP 2

★ A MAN WHO CAN APPLY THE BASICS OF GOOD BUSINESS MANAGEMENT TO GOOD CITY GOVERNMENT. HE KNOWS THE IMPORTANCE OF PROPER PLANNING, ORGANIZATION, DIRECTION AND CONTROL.

★ A MAN WHO WILL LISTEN TO AND MAKE HIMSELF AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC.

★ A MAN WHO KNOWS HOW TO DELEGATE AUTHORITY AND EXPECTS RESULTS.

★ A MAN WHO KNOWS THE IMPORTANCE OF UNIFYING OUR CITY.

Mr. Hayde, C.L.U. was Senior Vice-President and General Manager for the United States for Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. He spent his entire career in the life insurance business starting in 1936. He held a number of important posts in sales and general management with Prudential of America becoming a vice-president and officer of the Company, vice-president of Canadian operations and president and a director of the Company's Canadian Mutual Fund and its investment management company. In January, 1972, after a few months of retirement, he joined the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada as Senior Vice-President and General Manager for the United States. He was given the job of operating, organizing and moving all of the Company's U.S. operations from Montreal to the Boston area. At the same time he had the responsibility of negotiating for and overseeing the construction of the Company's new headquarters building in Wellesley Hills, Mass. Recruiting and training of over 500 new employees to staff its investment, actuarial, legal, administration and marketing departments made it possible for the new office to become fully operational in October, 1973. Mr. Hayde is a Chartered Life Underwriter.

FIT comes close in regatta

BY WARREN FISHER

The first annual Indian River Regatta was held on March 8 at 13:00 FIT-SOMET hosted Florida Technical University, Miami Rowing Club and the Big Five Rowing Club. The course was set under sunny skies on the C-34 Canal in Port St. Lucie.

After some difficulty putting the boats into the water the women's crews of FIT and FTU lined up to start the first race of the day. FIT burst into an early lead from the first stroke and proceeded to dominate the race until the final stretch. Rowing past the 750 meter mark, tragedy struck as an oarsman caught a crab" (interrupted the smooth rowing) and FTU went on to win the race at the 1000 meter mark. The race was originally supposed to end at 750 meters but do to confusion on the judges part the race continued to 1000 meters. It turned out to be a moral victory for both teams.

The junior varsity oarsmen of FIT started off poorly but improved their style and with much determination moved to within five seats of the oarsmen of MRC. As FIT was making a desperate move, tragedy again struck as FIT crews and MRC continued on to row the race.

FIT varsity oarsmen were ready to show what dedication and hard work can do. They took to the water and easily beat the varsity of the BFRC. The second heat was won by FTU beating MRC, and turning in a time ten seconds better than FIT.

The stage was not set for the major race of the day. After a short rest for both teams the race was ready to begin. FTU lunged into an early lead with FIT stubbornly hanging on. Three quarters of the way through the race the FIT oarsman put all they had into a power-ten stroke and gained three seats on the FTU crew. But the experience of the FTU team pulled them across the finish line ahead of FIT.

It should be noted that FTU is one of, if not the best, crew team in the southeast. FIT crew has only one oarsman with more than two years experience and the rest of the team is composed of four freshmen, who have only learned to row since October, and three sophomores from last years team. With this race as an indication of the potential of FIT, the team should prove to be a prominent figure in the upcoming season. The next race will be held in Miami against the MRC.

FIRST STROKE--The FIT rowing team got off to a fine start in the regatta last weekend on C-34 canal, with all oars in tune. Later the timing broke to allow FTU to defeat the local team.

TIRED--The heavy pull of the oars tired crewman Bill Baier. FIT won its heat in the race and Baier was too tired to celebrate.

Will every day be 'Sun-Day' in the future?

BY TIM SHAFER

FIT-On Thursday, Dr. Eric Farber world renown expert on solar energy, lectured to the public on today's use of solar energy. There was such a crowd in the auditorium at FIT that the chapel doors had to be opened to accomodate the many interested people.

The lecture was sponsored in part by the Martin Co. Builder's Association and the county's environmentalists and architects.

The lecture was supposedly the first joint effort of these groups to meet their new goal of designing Martin County's buildings of the future so that they are more efficient and can help the U.S. to become self-sustained in energy needs.

Dr. Farber presented his informative lecture with the help of a slide show and a witty tone of voice that made him easy to understand even without the slightest bit of previous knowledge about solar energy.

Dr. Farber first stressed the fact that today we must harness every power source we have available to meet our growing energy needs. Farber stated that we can rely on the sun, wind, geo-thermal and even the little creek that runs through the back yard, to produce power. He also said that we should conserve our fossil fuels for their much more important uses such as the manufacturing of drugs, synthetics and plastics instead of burning them for heat. Farber said we must substitute solar energy and some nuclear energy in order to save our fossil fuels.

Farber admitted that it is not feasible at this time to produce electricity directly from sun light. However 65 percent of the power used in the average home is in the form of heat, whether it may be to heat the house run the air conditioner heat the water or to cook. Rather than use electricity to produce this heat, Farber explained that the heat could be produced by the use of solar water heating panels placed on the roof. This use of solar energy is not a dream of the future but is a reality that is existant today. Farber showed slides of a house that was almost completely sustained by solar energy and photos of many water heating units in use around the country today.

Farber made it very clear that he did not recommend everyone to throw away their present water heaters and buy a solar heater. It would be better if people bought a solar system that would work with their present unit reducing energy consumption.

Solar energy can always be harnessed regardless of the temperature as long as there is sun. For long periods of extended cloudiness and heavy demands for hot water an auxiliary heating element can be built into the storage tank to cope with such occasions.

Solar energy began to sound better and better as Farber went on. If solar energy is so practical, why isn't it being used more extensively." Dr. Farber answered this question and many more. First of all, solar energy is not widely known. With help of numerous articles in magazines and more lectures like Dr. Farber's the public should become more informed.

Secondly, the availability of solar heating devices is not as great in this country as it should be. Thirdly, the initial cost seems to be rather steep. Farber stated that a gas or electric water heater would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $100-150 to install. A solar water heater would cost around $500. With a gas or electric water heater the consumer will pay about $30 a month to heat water.

Solar power is free and simple mathematics will prove that the solar unit will pay for itself in a matter of less than 2½ years.

Last but not least, the limited use of solar energy was blamed on the building contractors. It seems said Farber, that the contractors of today's buildings are not worried about the operating cost of the building after it is built. The contractors are instead concerned with how cheaply they can build the structure with the lowest initial cost so that they can make a larger profit.

The lecture was followed by a question and answer period where many interesting questions were brought up and answered by Dr. Farber. One such question concerned the problem of salt water intrusion into the fresh water wells on Hutchinson Island. Farber said that a solar still could be set up in everyone's back yard, that would not only extract fresh water from the briny well water but would also be designed to catch rain water. A unit of this type has already been built by Farber that is relatively inexpensive and provides all the water needs of a family of four.

Besides being informative and educational, Dr. Farber's lecture provided a solution to a problem that everyone can contribute to help relieve the energy crisis at hand.

Art gallery is visited

BY WILLIAM D. SOLTZ

FIT--Last Thursday, March 6 following a quick balanced lunch at McDonald's, Ms. Gerstell's Art History class in an attempt to further expand their intellectual awareness journeyed to the Norton Art Gallery in West Palm Beach.

After they were given a brief description of the contents of the gallery, they set out to wander the halls. Among the celebrated artists on exhibit were Renoir, Picasso, Cezzane, Bolinski, and a host of others. One interesting work which caught many an eye was a decorative arrangement of sewer pipes.

Meandering through the menage of color, the art history class met a group of retired aviators looking for the dog track. Instructing them to speak with the curator, the class continued the tour.

The sculpture garden offered a welcome respite for those who found the no smoking restriction deleterious to our esthetic senses.

As the end of the outing drew near, the class unanimously agreed that the trip was a culturally enriching experience.

Two courses for FIT summer

FIT--Two interesting summer courses are offered at FIT are the Underwater Technology Program and the Graduate Program for Science Teachers.

Students completing the Underwater Tech program are awarded twelve college credit hours in freshman and sophomore physics.

This exciting course is supplemented by practice in the open water, recompression chamber and pool.

The courses making up the Underwater Tech program are as follows: Intermediate Scuba Diving, Advanced Scuba Diving, First Aid, Senior Life Saving, Recompression Chamber Operation and Diving Physiology.

This program is also open to high school graduates who have basic scuba certification.

Two five week sessions will be held in 1975 beginning June 16 and July 25. Tuition for the program will be $175.00 which covers tuition, housing, meals, local and field trips, and local transportation.

The Graduate Program for Science Teachers is a unique program geared at familiarizing teachers with the study of Oceanography and Marine Ecology, and to instruct teachers in the use of audio-visual equipment.

The program offers first hand experience in the use of oceanographic equipment aboard FIT's research vessels. Also field trips, including a weekend in the Bahamas gives participants ample opportunity to collect samples and specimens for preservation.

Nine quarter hours of semester hours of credit are offered in the following courses: Audio-Visual Methods of Teaching Ocean Measurements.

Two four week sessions begin this summer on June 16 and July 21, 1975. Total cost will be $750.00 which covers tuition, housing, meals, local and Bahamas field trips and local transportation.

Anyone interested in either of the above programs should contact FIT for registration forms and further information.

Bug off

FIT--It's come to the attention of the Messenger that students have been harassing the people working in the FIT post office when the mail is late getting into the boxes.

Kathy Dunleavy, now in charge of the post office, said that she understands the students feelings but in doing the best she can she also points out that the lady who was previously in charge of the post office and laid off because of the school economics situation left behind a very complicated and hard to use system.

Miss Dunleavy, who is doing two jobs for the school as it is, mentioned that some students do donate her own time to change the inadequate system, and make the post office more efficient.

Until the situation improves Miss Dunleavy asks all students to be sure their box numbers are on all incoming letters and above all to have patience.

She is doing much more for the students than required and in return she is receiving a lot of grief from them.

Surely if students stop and think for a minute, the people in the post office certainly cannot be blamed for the nation's or school's economic problems so why get mad at them?

Library additions

FIT--New additions to the library collections are:

NOAA--Collected reprints 1973
Amos--Life of the seashore. Ramirez--Atomic-absorption spectroscopy
Handbook of welded steel tubing
American Heritage--Seafaring America. Zeiller--Tropical marine invertebrates of So. Florida and the Bahama Islands. Palmer--Biological clocks in marine organisms. Croy--Graphic design and reproduction techniques. Hazen--Readings in population and community ecology. Freeman--Economics of environmental policy. McKenzie--Man and his physical environment. Daubenmire--Plants and environment.

Music

FIT--To the average outsider, the Florida Institute of Technology seems like any other normal college. However we on the inside feel differently. Well now that I have your attention, let's change the subject to music.

In my estimation, a good five to ten percent of the student body have at least a minor interest in playing instrumental music. The most popular music on campus comes from the many speakers as possible wired to the largest stereo available turned up high. Aside from the stereos, the guitar is becoming increasingly popular. It is a simple instrument to learn how to play and offers long hours of enjoyment. When you become proficient, trading songs and jamming with other guitarist will continually provide both fresh material and exposure to a variety of styles ranging from blues to classical. I feel that we should organize "Jam-Sessions" on a regular basis and open them to the public as well as musicians.

If you've read this far you've one of three types of people. 1) you're either reading to pass time during an unbelievably boring class or 2) you like to read or 3) you're genuinely interested in listening, playing, or both during upcoming jams. Well, if you're one of the lucky ones who fit into the third group, keep an eye out for posters announcing the next jam. See ya there.

Canvassing board is appointed

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mayor Larry Kimmel, Councilman Kenneth Thompson and City Administrator Bernard Rubin will comprise the board of city canvassers.

The group will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. March 19 at the City Hall to certify the returns on the elections. This certification is required before election results can become official.

St. Lucie County's Supervisor of Elections, James Brooks, will be on hand to supervise the entire operation, as canvassers count the absentee ballots and certify the results of the voting machines.

According to Rubin, six absentee ballots have been requested but none have been returned as yet.

All absentee ballots must be received on or before noon Monday March 17, one day prior to the election.

Large turnout expected

Tuesday is election day

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—With election day fast approaching, candidates vying for seats on the City Council are stepping up their already vigorous campaigns in hope of winning that majority vote which will put them in office.

Tuesday, voters of this south county community will go to the polls and select the four winning candidates, then sit back and watch for the many campaign promises to materialize.

There are two polling places in the city. Those residents residing South of Port St. Lucie Boulevard and East of Morningside Boulevard will cast their ballots at the City Hall.

The balance of the city's residents will vote at the CESA building located on Prima Vista Boulevard.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

There is little doubt that a record number of citizens will turn up at the polls Tuesday, to cast their ballots for the candidates they feel will best serve the community. Twelve hopefuls are running for four council seats, two of which entail a four-way race.

According to figures released by St. Lucie County's Supervisor of Elections, there are a total of 3,474 registered voters within the city.

In the biggest and most important election in the fifteen year history of Port St. Lucie, the campaign issues are many and varied.

The major issues in this campaign would depend on who you talk to. To select the most important issues would be next to impossible, since the issues so far outnumber the candidates.

While much emphasis (including a law suit brought about by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc.) has been placed on tightening the city budget, the need for medical care and recreational facilities in the area have not taken a backseat in this campaign.

Other major issues include the need for more stringent planning, strengthening the zoning regulations, density control, and the establishment of a city police force.

More than one of the candidates have pounded away on the need for city wide standards for streets, sewer and drainage systems, and street lighting.

The need for a city hall complex has also received its share of the campaigner's time.

Citizens are turning out to hear the twelve candidates present their individual platforms. Both the St. Lucie Country Club Homeowners Association and the Port St. Lucie Homeowners Association have relinquished their March meetings in order to present all twelve candidates to their membership.

The residents of this community have turned out, and they have listened.

The most heavily contested races will be for the Group 2 and Group 3 seats.

Group 2, a two year unexpired term of the late Mayor Eugene P. Kavanaugh, has developed into a four way race. Seeking the seat are Samuel Feigenbaum, Frank Rose, incumbent councilman and vice mayor Vaughn Lewis, and Charles J. Hayde.

Group 3, a four-year term of office is being sought by David C. Riley, Carl Fessel, Lolita B. Kernohan, and Dick Lundin.

Making their bids for the Group 1 seat, currently held by Ken Thompson, are Schuyler Sharpe and John Koroly.

Incumbent William B. McChesney will face Lee R. Johnson in the race for the Group 5 seat.

Mayor Larry Kimmel occupying the Group 4 seat is the only councilman not up for election this year.

The city council will hold a reorganization meeting on April 1, at which time the mayor will be chosen by the five council members from among their ranks.

Group seats clarified

PORT ST. LUCIE—Candidates appearing at the Tuesday morning session of the City Council complained that residents of the community were, for the most part, completely in the dark when it comes to understanding the term 'group' as applied to the seats of the council.

"Why don't you explain this once and for all to the people?" asked Charles Hayde, a candidate for Group 2.

City Attorney Rupert Smith accepted the question and explained that the term 'group' is used only to designate for the electorate which councilman's seat is up for election.

"The term 'group' as applied to the city council seats has no geographical relationship and means nothing as to position on the board," Smith said. At the present time all councilmen are elected on a city wide basis.

City Administrator Bernard Rubin, suggesting the residents have patience during this election, told those attending the meeting that this would most likely be the last of such elections.

"Assuming the residents approve the charter which is presently being re-written, this will be the last year under this system," Rubin said.

He went on to explain the new charter will call for five specific boundaries related to a one man, one vote district where each candidate will be required to live in the district he represents and he will be voted on city-wide.

In 1977 Groups Two and four council seats will be up for election.

The city charter is presently being re-written by an eleven member revision committee.

City revises pension plan

PORT ST. LUCIE—An amendment permitting elected and appointed officials from participating in the City's Pension Plan was passed unanimously by the members of the City Council Tuesday.

From this date forward the pension plan will include only employees of the city, excluding all elected or appointed officials.

The change was recommended recently by Councilman William B. McChesney.

My opinion is that contributions previously made are vested," said the City Attorney Rupert Smith, adding, however, that the matter is presently in the hands of the court.

The city has engaged independent legal counsel to handle this aspect of a four count suit brought against the city by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc. No hearing date has been set.

Councilman and Vice Mayor Vaughn Lewis was quick to point out that neither he nor McChesney have any vested rights in the plan.

The maximum benefit which could be derived from the plan is $705 per month.

To receive that would take a lot of doing," Mayor Larry Kimmel chimed in. "An employee would have to start with the city at the age of 18, work 47 years, and retire at 65 years of age to receive the maximum benefit."

Officials mum on fire station

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—Trying to find out when the new fire station located on Port St. Lucie Boulevard will be in operation is somewhat like trying to find a needle in a haystack.

Earlier in the week Mayor Larry Kimmel said the station was in the hands of the fire board and that he had no idea when it would be in operation.

"To the best of my knowledge the matter rests in the hands of Chief Foster. The station is ready and whenever the chief wants it, he can have it," Kimmel said.

Chief Register quickly passed the matter right back into the lap of city officials by saying the building had not yet been turned over to the fire board by the City of Port St. Lucie.

Register's statement was substantiated by J.E. Nobles, fire board secretary.

"The station was built on a lease-purchase arrangement between the city and the county fire board," Nobles said.

"This was a turnkey proposition meaning, of course, that when the building was completed the city would submit it to the fire board for their approval. If everything is in order, the station will be accepted by the board and put into operation within a matter of days.

"We have approved and accepted the fire board was to repay the City of Port St. Lucie for the construction cost over a five year period.

Nobles went on to say that the county will be in manpower and the equipment to staff the new station.

"Four additional firemen were hired in November so they could be trained in time for the anticipated December opening of the station," he said.

The fire board is ready and waiting, but to date the City of Port St. Lucie has not indicated they are ready for the inspection and subsequent takeover, Nobles added.

Although city officials seem to feel mum is the word, City Administrator Bernard Rubin was able to shed some light on the situation.

"There is no reason for the city to hold back on this, it is just that the final touches to the station were completed only last week," Rubin said.

"Two of the fire board members are out of town this week," he said, adding, "When they return we will meet with them to find out the procedures for turning the station over. It is nothing more than a matter of formality now."

Although the cost has exceeded the estimated $138,000 by seven or eight per cent, Rubin says he does not expect any problems in the takeover.

"The difference in price was due to the ever increasing cost of materials from the time construction got underway and also we have included the cost of the tie-in between the station and the transformer," he said.

Cost of the tie-in is $2300, according to Rubin.

The fire department budget includes money for the operation of the Port St. Lucie Station from last October.

The fire board is currently constructing a fire station in White City with an expected completion date of May.

The fire department budget includes money for operating the White City station as of April, 1975. The station was started several months after the Port St. Lucie facility.

DDA DIRECTOR—Robert L. Schweiger, 122 E. Aldea St., Port St. Lucie, has been appointed Executive Director of the Dealmakers & Dirtcutters Assn. (DDA). The Association is the first national industrial trade organization to be located in the Fort Pierce-Stuart area, and one of only a few to be situated in the state. A graduate of the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, Schweiger is enrolled in a Masters of Business Administration program at FAU, Boca Raton, and is currently building a home in PSL.

St. James road underway

PORT ST. LUCIE—St. James Road has been closed temporarily to allow pavement work to proceed.

Councilman Vaughn Lewis announced Tuesday that General Development Corporation is now in the process of paving St. James Road, their portion of the 25th Street extension.

Lewis estimated the paving would take approximately two weeks.

Junior Women invite women to attend meeting

PORT ST. LUCIE—The St. Lucie Junior Woman's Club cordially extends an invitation to all women of St. Lucie County, between the ages of 18 and 40 years, to attend their regular business meeting, Wednesday, March 12, at 8 p.m. tonight, at the North Port St. Lucie Marina on Prima Vista Boulevard.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. and will include a program on "Cameo Decoration Painting" by Norma Seabourn and a presentation on the 'Helping Hands Program' by Pat Houel.

For information regarding membership in the club, contact Mr. Miles Heckendorn at 878-3655 or Mrs. Richard Pecor at 878-3413.

Combined meeting planned at CESA

PORT ST. LUCIE—Candidates for election that are endorsed by the Port St. Lucie Civic League and the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie will speak before a combined meeting of the two organizations Friday, March 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the CESA Building on Prima Vista Blvd.

Babe Ruth play

PORT ST. LUCIE—Opening day for Babe Ruth Baseball play is set for Saturday, March 22.

One o'clock inaugural ceremonies at Sportsman Park will be followed by a double header.

Anglers honor founders

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Port St. Lucie Anglers Club honored two of their founders at a recent meeting.

Ed Bullington and Carl Herzog were presented Certificates of Appreciation for their 3 years devoted service by Schuyler Sharpe, vice president of the club.

Bullington has served in all phases of the club's activities, including being chairman of all standing committees, treasurer, secretary, vice president, president and director.

Herzog has devoted all his efforts to the chairmanship of the contest committee. His responsibilities in that capacity have included securing tackle gear for the club's annual auction, as well as the awards for the three yearly fishing contests. He has also been involved with the club's annual clinic and in providing and maintaining a fishing shelf in the local library, purported to be one of the finest in the state.

Activities coming up include Capt. Sam Crutchfield as guest speaker at next week's meeting, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 18. His subject will be about fishing in local waters. Crutchfield's appearance is under the auspices of the Indian River Community College. He is a long-time Fort Pierce resident and a recognized authority on the art of angling in Florida waters.

Wednesday, March 19, is the club-sponsored cruise on the Cross Rip. Departure time is 1:30 p.m. from Pier 1, just north of the Roosevelt Bridge in Stuart.

Anglers Club members and guests may call the following for reservations: Bob Brunton, 878-0904; Don Peterson, 878-1030; Art Rynders, 878-0144; Bob Dobler, 878-0351; or Schuyler Sharpe, 878-9821.

The annual free cookout is scheduled for April 20. Ben Forlenza is chairman of this event. Details are forthcoming.

Homemakers get beauty tips

PORT ST. LUCIE—Members and guests of the Port St. Lucie Homemakers will receive tips on hair styling, figure and clothing when the group meets for their monthly meeting March 13 at 1 p.m. at the North Port Marina.

Guest speaker will be Nancy Bredemeyer from Indian River Community College, who will present a program titled, "A More Attractive You."

Club members are busy in their workshops with plans for their bazaar to be held in April at the Marina.

Baseball program at park

JENSEN BEACH–Thus year there will be more teams, more games, and no doubt, more action in the Jensen Beach Optimist Club's baseball program.

Instead of only four Bronco League teams from Jensen Beach, there will be six and all of them will be from the JB area. F.F.W. will return along with Rio Civic Association Coy & Deggeller, and the Jensen Beach Bank, while two brand new teams, Knights of Columbus and the Elks Club, will add yet more excitement to the Bronco scene.

Meanwhile, in the Pony League, the Jensen Lions Club might find it difficult to improve on its record from last year. Not only do they lose most of their key players to Martin County High School and Colt League competition, but they also have to contend with a draft that sees all of the Pony League players thrown into a wild scramble, then completely re-assigned to one of the four teams.

The Pony League's only new edition is that of Ray Cooke Septic Tank Service. Last year, Ray Cooke sponsored a Mustang League team but this year changed to the Pony League because a fourth sponsor was needed to complete the plan of playing independently.

Mosley Construction and Kiwanis add to the road Pony League race. Last year the team that Mosley sponsored led by Malcolm Delancy, Brad Fallin, Steve Pollard, and Donnie Wilkie did almost nothing against anyone except the Lions.

There at the ends of both halves during the season, Mosley upset the Lions and both times prevented them from taking the title for each half of the season. As a result, the Lions did not make the post-season playoffs.

There is much more to the baseball program than the Bronco and Pony League programs. On the lower end of those two is the Mustang League a league designed to develop the basic skills that the youngster possesses. This year there will again be six teams, but there will be some new sponsors.

Aycock Funeral Home, Rick Carroll Insurance, and Ray Cook Septic Tank Service each sponsored a Mustang League team once again this year.

New editions include L.D. Kirkpatrick's Man From Kirk Clothing Store, Tri-County Gas and Wyatt's Marine Supply.

In the Colt League, the upper-most of Jensen Beach's baseball efforts, the situation is different from that of the three leagues below.

In the Colt, Jensen Beach has but one team–Kermit's Stag Shop from Stuart–but unlike the Mustang, Bronco, and Pony Leagues, Jensen Beach's Colt team participates in a county wide league.

This year, Jensen Beach joins Stuart, Hobe Sound, and two teams from Port Salerno in the league. However, at press time, it seemed possible that Palm City and/or Jupiter-Tequesta might be added to the circuit.

Last week the schedules for the three Jensen area leagues were released by the Optimist Club of Jensen Beach. In the Mustang League, there will be no official standings, because only the league tournament at the end of the season will determine the champions. The parties involved feel that the champion in a lower-aged league such as this should be based on the improvement shown during the course of the season. Therefore, a team should be at its best at the end of the schedule.

Each team in the Mustang League will play 14 games during the regular season, seven in each half. There will be a rainout week at the end of each half. The week for such games in the first half will be April 10-15.

The Mustangs open this Monday night at Langford Park as Ray Cooke's takes on Tri-County Gas. This contest will officially open the 1975 baseball season at Langford Park.

Tuesday night, Aycock's will challenge Wyatt's, while at the same time on another field at the park, Man From Kirk meets Rick Carroll All Mustang action begins at 6 p.m.

The Bronco League schedule opens Monday night on the Vince Bocchino field, where Cox & Deggeller tackles Hoelzen at 5 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Pony League kicks off another year as the Jensen Lions Club goes to battle against Mosley Construction. For the first time ever, the Pony League will stage its contests on the newest of the three fields, the Cow Pasture. The Monday night Lions-Mosley duel will start promptly at 8:15 p.m.

The Colt League season is due to begin on March 25, but Jensen Beach coach Bob Phillips admits that his forces won't be ready for the early start, and he is trying to postpone the start for at least another week. However, the schedule is drawn up in Stuart, and this could pose a problem for the Jensen Beach harmatormers.

All of the action is made possible because of the efforts of the Jensen Beach Optimist Club, and all games played are to be held at Langford Park, except those away games played by the Colt League team.

Jr. Bowling tourney starts this Sunday

JENSEN BEACH–Bantam, Junior and Senior Division keglers of the Junior Martin County Bowling Association will be in tournament competition on the next two weekends.

Team events start at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 16.

Singles and doubles will be rolled on Sunday, March 23, beginning at 2 p.m.

The public is invited to come out to see the county's fine young bowlers in action.

Fund drive in final stages

JENSEN BEACH—The United Fund (UF) of Martin County has passed the $95,000 mark, and plans are under way to wrap up the drive.

UF president Guy Cromwell told directors Tuesday that the final push to reach the $95,000 goal would begin this Friday.

"We will wrap up the drive at our April meeting," Cromwell said.

A nominating committee will be appointed at the April meeting, and the general membership meeting will be held in May.

Cromwell, pointing out that the UF fund is being audited, he listed expenses that had been incurred, including:

$2,068 for printing, $623 postage, $800 secretary, and $222 utilities.

Directors accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lavaughn Tilton as treasurer "with regrets," and named Wes Klinger to replace her in that capacity.

Cromwell said he had received Mrs. Tilton's resignation by the February meeting, but he had talked to her hoping that she would reconsider.

Easter egg hunt to be March 22

JENSEN BEACH—Jensen Beach area children will look for Easter eggs at Langford Park Saturday, March 22.

The hunt, sponsored by the Jensen Beach Volunteer Fire Department, will begin at 10 a.m. with registration beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary will cook and color the eggs Friday morning, and be at the park for registration of contestants.

Joe Luciano, chairman of the eighth annual hunt, said that if it rains March 22, the hunt will be on Saturday, March 29.

Luciano said there will be four age groups.

20,000 children

Environmental Center needs funds

JENSEN BEACH—The Environmental Studies Center in Jensen Beach has provided a "hands-on approach to environmental education" to about 20,000 children for the past three years.

But faced with the end of Title III funding and a tight money situation by the Martin County School Board, the center may have to cut back its program next year.

"We need $130,000 to operate next year," Jay Jarrett said Monday. "This is a bare-bone budget.

"We won't know our situation until May when a federal team inspects our program," Jarrett said.

The Title III funds end June 30, and Jarrett said that the center's application for state funds "isn't an extension of the Title III program."

"The funds we are seeking would pay three center salaries, office expenses and travel," he said.

While center staff have conducted classroom, laboratory activities and field trips to Indian River and ocean for Martin and Okeechobee children, the tight money situation was pointed up last week when Okeechobee School Superintendent Ralph Diggs cut the trips to the center.

"We're like most school systems in the state," Diggs said. "We had to cut back somewhere, and this wasn't the only place."

"The cutback of Okeechobee children won't affect the center," Jarrett said. "It will give us more time for Martin County children.

"We are booked solid until June," he said.

Jarrett pointed out that the number of children doesn't affect the center funding. "We were funded to conduct a research program," he said.

While Jarrett has made application for partial funding, he pointed out that the school board must provide funds for day-to-day operations.

Eleven full time and one part time staff members are at the center, and Jarrett said that one staff member was employed for one year and will not be back next year.

In addition to classroom work, students have observed the environment first hand aboard boats owned by the center, and have collected specimens from Indian River and the ocean.

Salt water tanks have allowed them to observe marine specimens in a laboratory setting as well.

The center, located in the old Jensen Beach Elementary School building, was visited by more than 400 persons recently, by Jensen Beach Elementary PTA, their guests and children.

Jarrett and his staff had a booth at Martin County Fair last week, showing fair visitors color pictures of work done at the center.

Mirror plans increased price of newspaper

JENSEN BEACH—The Mirror has finally been forced to give in to inflation and rising costs of newsprint, and, for the first time since 1962, has raised the subscription and per newspaper price.

It was announced this week by Richard F. Campbell, publisher.

Newsstand prices will increase to 15 cents per copy, and subscription rates will increase to $7.50 per year and $3.00 for six months.

The increase will be effective on March 26, for newsstands, and new subscriptions. Renewal subscriptions will be billed at the new rate as they come due, beginning with the April billing for such subscriptions.

"We have held off as long as we possibly can on the rate increase and now must accept the rate increase as a part of the increased cost of doing business," Campbell said. The Mirror was one of the last weekly newspapers in Florida with a ten cent price.

Ready to work

Barbara Torow heads bicentennial campaign

JENSEN BEACH—With the appointment of an executive board, the Bicentennial Celebration Committee is "ready to go to work."

Holding its second meeting Friday, March 14, the Bicentennial committee selected Barbara Torow to head the executive board.

Serving with Mrs. Torow will be Jack Klett, Marie Miller, Irene Stephenson, the Rev. Donald Johnson and Virginia Van Dien, secretary.

The 24 persons attending the session representing organizations and churches in the area will make up the Bicentennial Committee.

Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce president Art Hansen, who served as acting chairman, said that organizations not represented at the meeting should be included in the Bicentennial committee.

Each organization should have one vote, Hansen said.

Jack Neeson, commander of Jensen Beach American Legion, suggested that the celebration be conducted from July 4, 1975 through July 4, 1976.

Rob Mayer, of the Jensen Beach Kiwanis Club, questioned starting the celebration this year.

"We don't want to be out of step with the rest of the country," Mayer said.

Committee members agreed that the group should meet again soon to set up sub-committees, and get right to work.

Neeson suggested that a master plan for the celebration be developed. "We don't want to have overlapping events," he said. "We want to have one big celebration."

The third meeting of the Bicentennial Committee has tentatively been set for April 14 at First Federal Savings and Loan building in Jensen Beach.

Reed will speak at anniversary dinner

JENSEN BEACH—U.S. Assistant Secretary of the Interior Nathaniel Reed is to be the guest speaker Saturday for the Martin County Audubon Society, who will observe the 50th anniversary of the Audubon Society Foundation.

The native Floridian is nationally recognized for his foresight on land use. Reed is a concept the Audubon Society has been promoting for over many years. Reed, a Jupiter Island resident, brought statewide attention and fame to that area because of his keen perspective on man and his successfully encouraged nature and wildlife.

As a result, the Jupiter Island Audubon has given Audubon a wide variety of preserve and has donated nearly two miles of beach, a four and a half mile strip on the western shore, to the Florida Audubon Department.

Reed, former governor Claude Kirk, once was the Assistant of Outdoor Recreation and Conservation. He helped the newly created Department of Pollution Control, a position he left two years ago to assume the duties of his present post.

One of Reed's most successful campaigns in the state was when he took up arms against plans for a civil and commercial port in the Florida Everglades. His leadership and inspiration began the drive against the jet port in order to save the Big Cypress Swamp area. His attention also brought a halt to any such development to that area.

The dinner will be held Saturday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, Stuart. For reservations, call 287-9141.

Delegation meet Wednesday

JENSEN BEACH—The Martin County Legislative Delegation will be in the Martin County Courthouse at 7:30 p.m. today, Wednesday, March 19.

State Rep. Chuck Nergard said it would be an "open forum."

Beach closing is opposed

JENSEN BEACH—Before anyone in the packed meeting room had an opportunity to voice objection to a closing of the beaches at night, a resolution Martin County Commission Tuesday voted unanimously not to make such a move.

High school age students packed the meeting room obviously to register their protest to Commissioner John Kiernan's proposal to place a chain across beach access at Hobe Sound and Ocean Ridge, the Jupiter Island Beach between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m.

Kiernan called on the students at the meeting to aid the county in stopping vandalism at the beaches.

"If closing the beaches is not the answer, then we have to do some policing," Kiernan said.

While Kiernan had proposed restriction of beach use at night, he also pointed out that vandalism at Jensen Beach's public beach had cost the county $2,000.

Kiernan said the county beaches are used by young persons from Palm Beach County who commit vandalism, drink beer and smoke marijuana.

Students, with signed petitions opposing beach closing at night, pointed out that they had worked to get beach access strips in the "save our beaches" program.

Kiernan praised the students for turning out at the commission hearing, but he warned them that if the beach problems continue he would bring the matter back before the commission.

County school in court order

JENSEN BEACH—Martin County's public schools have been in compliance with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) desegregation plans, but a federal judge's ruling may change things, School Supt. James Navitsky said Tuesday.

U.S. District Judge John H. Pratt last week ordered HEW to begin using its desegregation enforcement procedures within two months.

Martin and two Florida counties were named in the judge's enforcement order.

Navitsky said he has not seen a copy of Judge Pratt's ruling, and he was unsure if the county is affected since the county is named as second party in the four-year old suit filed against HEW by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund.

Navitsky pointed out that the school system has been in compliance with HEW, but Judge Pratt's ruling might mean a different set of rules.

The county's public schools were desegregated in 1966 according to a voluntary plan designed by the school district.

County gets arch fund

JENSEN BEACH—The buck has been passed to the county for repairs on Jensen Beach Arch.

A delegation of Jensen Beach Garden Club Tuesday presented a $300 check to Commission Chairman Ross Philbrick to repair and landscape the Arch on SR-707 at Langford Park.

Club president Mrs. Harold Lartud, Mrs. William Stephenson, vice president, and [illegible] of the Ways and Means Committee, and Mrs. Arthur Mills, Jr., who was president of the club in 1969-70 when the Arch was first redecorated and landscaped, presented the check to Philbrick.

Philbrick said it would cost about $500 to paint the Arch, but he said he didn't have an estimate on what the repairs would be.

He said there was some money in the Road and Bridge Fund to aid in repairing the Arch.

Club members raised the $300 by holding a card party in February, and donated proceeds from the thrifty shoppers sale last November.

Club members will landscape the area according to Mrs. Mills. "I hope the county will replace the sprinkler system," she said.

Recoating and landscaping the Arch is the club's major project this year, and Mrs. Stephenson said that the club hopes to have the work completed in time for the bicentennial celebration.

Juniors given $3,000 at March meeting

STUART–Mr Jacob Skole from the Association of Retarded Citizens presented the Junior Woman's Club with a check for $3,000 for their fund for the Open Door Preschool, at the regular business meeting on March 10th. The Juniors now have $6,000 of the $10,000 they have pledged to the School board to help finance the take over of the Open Door Preschool by the Martin County School System.

A rummage sale has been planned for April 4th and 5th to raise the additional $4,000 needed for the preschool. It will be held at the Ocean East Mall and the Juniors will gladly pick up any items that you wish to donate. Please call Mrs Sara Barrow at 283-3287 or Mrs Loran Fincher at 283-0037 to arrange pick-up.

Conservation Department presented the program for the month Mr Jay Jarrett, Director of the Environmental Center presented a slide program illustrating what is taught to the children who attend the center on field trips.

Hostesses were Mrs. Teri Hanner, Mrs Vivian Parent and Mrs. Kathy Myers.

The Homelife and International Affairs Departments will co-sponsor a craft and bake sale on March 22 at 8 a.m. in front of the Publix in Stuart. The money will be used to sponsor an Indian girl and a needy family the club has adopted.

Officers for the 1975-76 year were elected. Congratulations go out to President, Mrs Ben Robinson, First Vice President, Mrs Howard Schafer, Second Vice President, Mrs. Wayne Barrow, Treasurer, Mrs. Pat Fincher, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Dwight Geiger, and Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Andy Volpintesi. The new administration will be installed in April and will take over their designated position as of the May meeting.

The Junior Jewel Award was presented to Mrs. Kathy Myers for her work in establishing a Martin County Chapter of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities. The second meeting of ACLD will be held on March 24 at 8 p.m. in the Woman's Clubhouse on East Ocean Blvd.

Guests attending were Mrs. Patricia Bates, Mrs. Jackie Fowler and Mrs. Patricia Smith. Guests are always welcome and anyone wishing to join is cordially invited to attend the next meeting on April 14th at 8 p.m. in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Thirteen members from the Junior Club will represent Martin County at the District 10 Junior Day in Vero Beach. There are 16 clubs in this District and workshops and rap sessions between clubs will be conducted.

In memory of Mrs. Worley Carrier (Edna), the Board recommended that the club rename its Scholarship Fund to the Junior Woman's Club Edna Carrier Memorial Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded annually to a deserving Martin County girl and presented at the high school awards night.

EXHIBIT–Art Associates is presenting Doris Thurston as Artist of the Month at First Federal Savings and Loan in Jensen Beach. Twenty large paintings of the Beatitudes from "Sermon on the Mount" Matthew V are on display until April 11. Also included in the exhibit are several black and white drawings from which the paintings evolved. Miss Thurston is currently teaching portraiture at the Elliot Museum.

Parking is limited, car pools are suggested.

Rainbow Wheel meets Tuesday

JENSEN BEACH–Helen Engebretsen of the Jensen Travel Service will address the Rainbow Wheel of the Welcome Wagon meeting next week.

The affair is scheduled to start with a social hour at 11:30 a.m. at the Ramada Inn, Stuart.

Janet Hutchinson will be AARP speaker

STUART–Speaker for the meeting of the Martin County Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, on Thursday, March 20, will be Janet Hutchinson, Director of the Martin County Historical Society and its museums, Elliott Museum and the House of Refuge, on Hutchinson Island.

Charles McIntyre, chapter president, will call the meeting to order at 1:30 p.m. in the Community Room of First National Bank and Trust Co. on Colorado Ave. at Route 1, Stuart.

This will be the last opportunity to become a charter member of the newly-formed chapter, according to Mr McIntyre. All persons over 55 years of age either permanent or seasonal residents of the area, are welcome to attend and join the chapter.

Mrs. Hutchinson will give a brief survey of the history of Martin County, a subject upon which she is presently compiling a book. She came to her present post ten years ago after long experience in both publications and museums in New England.

Mrs. Hutchinson says it was a happy coincidence with the location, she says.

Garden Club

PORT SALERNO–The next meeting of the Port Salerno Garden Club will be held on Monday, March 24 at the FEAA building at 7:30 p.m.

The program topic will be "Schools of Horticulture" given by Mrs. Howard Porter, who has qualified for Sash with Stripes.

Illegal aliens

WASHINGTON—Last week, the Immigration and Naturalization Service arrested a group of 90 illegal aliens in Chicago, nearly all of whom were employed by a maintenance and cleaning firm.

The morning after the arrests, the maintenance firm was jammed with applicants for the 90 jobs held by the illegal aliens.

That incident points out the very real problem caused by illegal aliens today.

Leonard F. Chapman, Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Services, estimates there are at least eight to 10 million aliens in the U.S. illegally right now. Of those, at least three million have jobs, some earning as much as $10,000 a year.

At the same time, there are nearly seven million Americans looking for work.

The rising number of illegal aliens, unfortunately, is not a new problem. For decades, hundreds of thousands of aliens each year have slipped across the 5,000-plus miles of almost unguarded U.S. borders to seek jobs. In years past, when our economy was booming, many of these could easily be absorbed into the work force.

Today, however, with millions of Americans out of work, the problem of illegal aliens has magnified.

Coupled with our own unemployment problems is the fact that illegal aliens no longer concentrate in the Southwest working in the asparagus, lettuce and cotton fields. Now, they head for the big cities and better-paying jobs.

In New York City alone, the Immigration and Naturalization Service estimates, there are more than a million illegal aliens. Chicago has another 500,000. Baltimore and similar size cities as many as 50,000 each.

And they are working. Chapman says that 90 per cent of the 18,300 illegal aliens arrested in New York City had jobs, some paying $200 a week or more.

Therefore, Chapman says, his force should be increased by 25 per cent from 8,000 to 10,200 agents. In fact, he said, only the 25 per cent hike in agents would enable him to make about one million jobs available to native-born or naturalized Americans. And, within a matter of a few months.

Chapman, a former Commandant of the Marine Corps, estimates only one third of the jobs to be made available, now held by illegal aliens, would be in agriculture, the bulk would be in heavy or light industry and in service businesses.

And there is legislation proposed to give the Immigration and Naturalization Service the manpower it needs to apprehend the working illegal alien. In addition, there is legislation under consideration to make it a crime for an employer to willfully and persistently employ illegal aliens. Conviction would mean both a fine and a jail sentence.

These steps in the right direction. But we also need stiffer legislation to penalize those Americans who assist aliens in entering this country illegally.

In just one year, the Immigration and Naturalization Service caught 8,000 U.S. citizens actively engaged in smuggling illegal aliens into this country. From those 8,000, came 83,000 aliens—some through phony marriages, some through phony student visas.

Jobs are scarce, too scarce to allow illegal aliens to take those jobs which unemployed Americans could use.

But, equally as important, unless we start to crack down now, we will see an even bigger influx of illegal aliens in the future.

Most illegal aliens come from nations with quickly expanding populations but slowly expanding employment opportunities.

So unless we make it unproductive for them to cross the border illegally, we will be hit with a tidal wave of illegal aliens, not just a flood.

Garden Club meets today

JENSEN BEACH—Mrs. Charles G. Pryer will be the speaker at the March 19 (today) meeting of the Jensen Beach Garden Club at the Jensen Beach Community Church.

Mrs. Pryer is a talented arranger and teaches Flower Arranging at the Stuart Branch of the Indian River Community College. She will demonstrate the art, and give valuable instruction to both new and experienced arrangers.

Twenty-five members and guests enjoyed a day on the water last Friday aboard the cruise ship "Cross Rip." The trip of over three hours left Stuart at 1:30 and traveled out the St. Lucie to the Indian River and south to Jupiter Island. A guide made the trip both informative and educational as he pointed out native flora and fauna, gave historical information of certain areas and identified various homes along the route. The group was also entertained by Capt. Roy on his banjo and with group singing of old favorites.

The members and guests of the "Flower Club" as the Captain dubbed the group, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lartaud, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kupp, Mr. and Mrs. James Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph C. Wintzer, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Brown, Joseph Johnston and Mesdames John Barnwell, August Burmester, E.J. Curtis, Arthur C. D & M News Notes

Now that the Hobby Show is a thing of the past, a lot of hard-working ladies can rest on their laurels. Financially and socially the show was a success, and all the people who attended this annual event commented very favorably on the beautiful items on display. You never know how clever and talented your neighbors are until you see their handiwork at the Hobby Show.

The refreshment table, with its coffee punch and home-made cookies was appreciated by everybody. The white elephant tables, out on the lawn, did a thriving business, and there was very little left over. Nice work, ladies - now we're looking forward to the next one!

We always enjoy what Joe Penrod composes in the way of jingles, etc for the Hobby Show, and he didn't disappoint us - his efforts drew lots of attention and smiles. Thanks, Joe.

Our Third Annual Art Show will be held on Sunday, March 23, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the rec hall, at which time Sherry Whitney's students in our Park will display the things they have worked on during the past year. The public is invited to this popular event, which always draws a good crowd.

Welding class

JENSEN BEACH—A course in basic welding will start at Florida Institute of Technology, Jensen Beach, Thursday, April 17 at 7 p.m.

The ten session, thirty hour course will cover the welding of common metals by electric arc and oxy-acetylene processes.

Course emphasis will be placed on manipulative welding skills and practical welding applications and will cover operation of gauges, tanks, torches and various kinds of welding equipment with emphasis on modern safety practices.

Adults over the age of 18 years may enroll in the course at Florida Institute of Technology, Indian River Dr., Jensen Beach, weekdays between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Enrollment is limited to 14 students and registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first served basis.

For additional information, call 334-4200 weekdays.

Academy gives recognition

HOWEY-IN-THE-HILLS—Howey Academy has conferred academic honors upon 82 junior high and high school students from throughout Florida and from nine states and seven foreign countries at the end of the second term grading period.

William Branyon, headmaster of this central Florida co-educational college preparatory school, said that to receive recognition for outstanding achievement a student must maintain a minimum "B" average in all academic subjects.

According to Branyon students who maintain "A" averages throughout the entire school year are eligible for recognition on the coveted Howey Academy Headmaster's Scroll.

Tax expert will be at courthouse

STUART—E.F. Schnurbusch, Martin County Property Appraiser announced that an intangible tax examiner from the Department of Revenue will be in his office on Tuesday, March 25 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

He will be available to answer questions and help fill out intangible tax forms with taxpayers. June 30 is the final filing date for the tax.

Ocean Breeze News Notes

BY LETA KEITH

334-4366 6 Vista Drive

IN APPRECIATION

The family of Betty Spear wishes to thank all her Ocean Breeze friends and neighbors for their cards, flowers, gifts, food, and many acts of kindness to her and to them.

Departees during the past week included William and Georgia Jones, Frank and Linda Zimmerman, Gail and Margaret Cooper, Luther and Kathryn Schmoyer, Peter and Pauline Schaefer Walter and Viola Small, Loren and Jeannette Small, Tom and Rose Manur and Lloyd and Edna Butts.

Ambulance donations received were from Arthur and Mae Langlo, from Anna Saunders, in memory of Mae Johnson from friends in the park, in memory of Mae Johnson from Eva Ekstrom and from Ruth Hale and family in memory of Betty Spear.

At Camera Club this Thursday, March 20 Tom and Nellie Cook will show slides of Jamaica taken while the Cooks spent a month with their family in Kingston. The Cook's shows are always excellent, so come and enjoy a trip to this Carribean paradise.

All are invited to the Art and Hobby show in the clubhouse this weekend March 21 and 22, from 1 to 5 p.m.

+++

A nice thank you came from Eve H. Ragner, secretary of the Jensen Area Samaritans, Inc., stating "Our thanks to the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Rolly Johnson for the nice donation to our ambulance fund in her memory. We appreciate your kindness."

Word has been received of the death of Oscar Ecklund, 79, who passed away Saturday, March 15, in Chicago. The Ecklund's daughters, Eleanor Nelson and Mary Haselton were with him. His wife, Orlee is flying to Minneapolis where services will be conducted. Friends may contribute to the Amublance Fund in his memory.

Mary Elizabeth (Betty) Spear of 23 Key Lime Drive passed away last Thursday, March 13. She had been a winter resident of Ocean Breeze Park since 1961, coming from South Portland, Me. Friends may contribute to the American Cancer Society.

There was a displax of sunburns and good times on Covell's yard on 10th last week.

Mabel and Frank McLain gave a cocktail party on Saturday evening in honor of the Covells and their children Mary Ruth and Jim McLain and Stella and Gordon Hillman of Lansing, Mich. A delicious lunch and evening of fun was enjoyed by all.

Sallie and Frank Von Halle invited them all into their lovely place for a cocktail hour.

Ruby Wren provided cheer and enjoyable experiences and gave each family a set of ice box fish.

On Sunday, they were all invited to Mrs. Covell's sister's home (the Mahons) in Ft. Pierce for a lovely dinner.

The McLains and Hillmans promised to return next year, the neighbors had been so kind to them.

A group of 38 Ocean Breezers and their guide Betty MacNab returned Friday from a four-day cruise to the Bahamas. They were on the friendly liner Emerald Seas.

Escott and Edith Kirkbride of 17 Vista Drive moved Saturday, March 15, to their new home in Pine Lake Village.

Edie and Arnie Laich are leaving Friday for their home and work in Ocean City, N.J., much to their regret. But, just wait three or four more years, and they can spend more time on Vista Drive.

Fred and Hulda Tyler are expecting a visit from their friend Roy Shive of Bound Brook, N.J. this week. He is coming through Jensen Beach on a business trip to Fort Lauderdale.

Lloyd and Henrietta Mikesell left Tuesday for their home in Monticello, Ind. Probably they would not have left this early, but their granddaughter, Bonnie Bernfield, is to be married Saturday evening March 22. Bonnie is a lab technician in the Home Hospital in Lafayette, Ind.

LAMERA CLUB NEWS
BY DOT BECK

The Camera Club had a very busy and interesting week starting with movies on Sunday, March 9. This show was put on by the Jensen Beach Travel Service. Two interesting travelogues were shown, one on skiing in Switzerland, and one about the Bahamas.

On Thursday, March 13, the club's annual potluck supper was held at the clubhouse. This affair is always looked forward to as one of the highlights of the year. A meat loaf was prepared by George Phillips and baked by various volunteers was the entree, and the long serving table was filled with hot dishes, casseroles, salads and relishes. And the desserts were really something to see.

Greens and hibiscus decorated the four long tables. The committee in charge of the event was headed by Orlee Ecklund, assisted by Jeane Jewsbury, Alma Shotwell, Sophie Thompsen and Evelyn Wallquist. If anyone went away hungry, they had themselves to blame. Seconds and even thirds were available.

Clyde Hedinger served as toastmaster and called on the club officers to make short speeches and the officers were speechless. Just wait until next year, Clyde—it's a long road that has no turning.

Jim Nixon presented the club with a check for $23 from the Oak Street Gang to be used for something needed, perhaps the new projector that must be purchased someday soon. Freda Peterkin, club secretary-treasurer, gave her reports and President Ernie Curveen thanked all the committees and monthly chairmen for their support.

He then talked about some of the programs for next year. Since the country will be observing the bicentennial, members are asked to be on the outlook for bicentennial projects wherever they travel during the summer, and get pictures of good subjects that can be shown to the club in keeping with the patriotic celebration. So members, let's bring back some good slides and inform us that you have them so that we can be worked up into some good shows. Also, anyone who has slides or movies of trips taken in the past and would like to show them, let the committee know.

Officers elected for next year are Ernie Curveen, president; Freda Peterkin, secretary-treasurer; James Nixon, first vice president; and Dorothy Beck, second vice president.

Entertainment followed the supper and business meeting, provided by Ann Buck, Vanita Schneider, Henrietta Mikesell, Don Wells, Bessie Theilig, George Lebeau, Lenore Viland and Vera Faulk, under the direction of Tom Cook. Ralph Ortt led a community sing.

Doug Blyth then showed slides of a trip to Red Rock Country, and it was truly an outstanding show, with clear and artistic views of Music Canyonland and the Monument Valley, and several other parks and spots in the southwestern part of the country. It made a fitting end to a very enjoyable evening.

The club gives a rousing thanks to the people who worked so hard to make the evening another Camera Club hit.

This week's show is a trip to Jamaica with Tom and Nellie Cook. Showtime—8 p.m.

Your horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Also Aries Ascendant: Irritation with a close associate over money matters could lead to open conflict. It's to your advantage to curb your temper. Last minute information could save the day in finances.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Also Taurus Ascendant: Stubbornness is indeed an outstanding quality, perhaps to another which may threaten your marriage or romance. Guard health. Be alert to opportunities at work.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Also Gemini Ascendant: Complete old projects, tie up loose ends and get ready for activity in a new direction. Irritation with a new co-worker will cause mixed advice to save instead of spend your money. Resist emotional displays.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Also Cancer Ascendant: Maintain a conservative activities program. Stick with regular routine of sleeping and eating. Use caution in extending friendship and hospitality, another may not be all they seem. Don't succumb to flattery.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Also Leo Ascendant: Becoming overly involved in the affairs of children creates more problems than it solves. Be cautious in handling your boss and a friend. It's a good time to change your style in clothing and outlook.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Also Virgo Ascendant: A dream relating to your career could come true now through the help of another person. Important changes are part of the picture. Work industriously to prove your worth. Fulfill your work potential.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Also Libra Ascendant: Accept the advice of an experienced friend regarding your budget. You are feeling somewhat restless and must consciously try to use your charm and tact. You could win the arguments and lose the relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Also Scorpio Ascendant: Assume a relaxed, steady pace in routine projects in process. Near the end of the week a creative idea regarding work pro cedures gets favorable attention from bosses. Strive for harmony in marriage.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Also Sagittarius Ascendant: If others are uncooperative, wait and wait for a better time. Inspirational ideas flow. Avoid extravagance for luxuries. Career matters are helped through entertaining, ending social tales.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Also Capricorn Ascendant: You could be taken in by someone who is not what he or she seems. An association that evolves slowly to friendship is worth while. Get lots of rest. Develop hobby talents. Show your maturity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Also Aquarius Ascendant: You could win much love and appreciation from a friend now. Work quietly behind the scenes; don't be tempted to play hookey. Disagreement with an opinionated person may result in separation. Don't blame yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Also Pisces Ascendant: A hobby developed now could become a profession later on. Don't get into private affairs of young people. Immerse yourself in work. If a romantic tie reaches the breaking point, know it is best for you.

Sharpe, Kernohan, Rose, McChesney win council seats

PORT ST. LUCIE—Seventy-one per [illegible] of the registered voters went to the [illegible] Tuesday, establishing a record [illegible] for the city's largest election in [illegible] year history.

Schuyler Sharpe, Frank Rose, Lolita [illegible] Kernohan, and William B. McChesney were elected to the City [illegible] after unofficial tabulations [illegible] after the city canvassing [illegible] they defeated eight other [illegible] candidates. Official returns will be [illegible] after the city canvassing board counts the twelve absentee ballots and certifies the results of the voting machines Wednesday (today).

Indicative of the rapid growth of this south county city, the voter registration was more than tripled in the past two-year period. In the March, 1973 elections there were 435 registered voters in the city, compared to approximately 1400 in 1975.

The most hotly contested race was probably the four-way race for the Group 3 seat. L.B. Kernohan received a majority vote of 632, topping all other candidates to defeat Earl Fessel with 326 votes, Dick Lundin, with 73 votes, and David C. Riley, who received 11 votes.

Frank Rose won the Group 2 seat on the board by collecting 665 votes. Rose defeated Sam Feigenbaum who received 113 votes. Charles Hayden with 243 votes and incumbent Vice Mayor Vaughn Lewis, who gained 210 votes.

Group 2 is for a two-year term.

Shuyler Sharpe was the victor in the Group 1 race defeating John Koroly by 668 to 420 votes.

The Group 5 incumbent, William B. McChesney had a slight edge over Lee R. Johnson, 551 to 484, to retain his seat on the board.

The dynamic growth of the northern part of the city was indicated in the vote achieved by Mrs. Kernohan, who carried her group with 60 percent of the total, and Schuyler Sharp, with 59 percent of the vote. Both candidates were from the northern part of the city.

In the race between McChesney and Johnson, McChesney received 53 percent of the vote. Both candidates live in the country club community of South Port.

STEADY FLOW—Although no long lines formed at either of the city's two precincts, both reported a steady flow of voters throughout the day. Pictured above, Walter Wilmas signs his registration card before entering the booth to cast his ballot.

Woman's Club is chartered

PORT ST. LUCIE—The first official meeting of the Port St. Lucie Woman's Club, Florida Federation, was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Schlief last week.

Twenty five charter members adopted the Club Charter, followed by the election of the following officers.

Mrs. Donald Fisher, president; Mrs. Jack Schlief, first vice pres.; Mrs. Ed Ebeling, second vice pres.; Mrs. Harry Ciampaglio, recording sec'y.; Mrs. Kenneth Castle, corresponding sec'y.; Mrs. Willard Green, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. William Haufehild and Mrs. Pat Lauria, trustees.

Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for 12:30 p.m., April 16, at the St. Lucie Hilton.

GUEST SPEAKER—Sidney L. Jones, assistant to the Secretary of the treasury, addressed the breakfast meeting of the Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association when the group held a four day convention at the St. Lucie Hilton Country Club Resort. Jones spoke to the group on the projected state of the national and international economies and its effect on business.

Public support urged by revision committee

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Charter Revision Committee Monday had second thoughts about sending out a questionnaire to solicit the views of city voters.

"Perhaps a questionnaire, as such, might be a little premature at this point," committee member Mike Reeb told the group.

"To send out a questionnaire asking whether they prefer the city-manager type of government versus the strong mayor system without first explaining the meaning of each, seems to me to be putting the cart before the horse," Reeb added.

Consequently, in lieu of the ten question survey sheet previously proposed, the committee unanimously agreed to forward the city's registered voters a combination letter-query explaining the two forms of government, the proposed redistricting, and the election of the mayor by council.

The letter will include the committee's recommended proposals and their reasons for those recommendations.

Four questions seeking the electorate's opinion will conclude the letter.

This should arouse the interest in the community and at the same time provide this committee with valuable information and suggestions," Chairman Solomon Raffe said.

The letter, to be drafted by City Attorney Rupert Smith and City Administrator Bernard Rubin, ex-officio members of the committee, will be submitted for approval at the March 31 meeting.

The letters, including self addressed postage paid return envelopes, will be mailed to all registered voters throughout the city approximately two weeks prior to the April 24 public meeting to be held in the CESA building. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m. and a question and answer period will be included.

Although the committee has urged all city residents to mail in their suggestions regarding the city charter, there has been very little response. Suggestions and opinions may be addressed to Charter Revision Committee, City Hall, Port St. Lucie, Florida 33452.

"Public opinions are vital to the job this committee is trying to do," Raffe said. "We could draft the best possible charter, but without the support of the voters, it could be turned down."

Much time and effort has gone into the four basic proposals thus far recommended, and it is imperative support is needed before continuing," Raffe added.

Lack of public interest has been largely attributed to the city election.

"This is a difficult time to arouse interest in the charter revision, since people in general seem to be tying it in with the election issues," Rubin said.

With the elections in the past, the committee has high hopes the evening meeting at CESA on April 24 will be well attended and residents will take advantage of the opportunity to voice their opinions.

The four proposals recommended include the city-manager type government, redistricting by population, staying with the present five councilmen, and the mayor being elected by the council from their own ranks.

The city manager type government is employed by 95 percent of the cities in Florida. The city manager would relieve much of the workload from the council. The city manager would serve at the pleasure of the council. Estimated salary would be from $12,000 to $18,000 per year.

Re-districting by population would mean although the five councilmen are elected on a city-wide basis, each would have to reside in his or her own district. They would serve four year terms and be elected on a staggered basis. Such a move would assure each district of representation on the council. Under the present charter it is possible for all five councilmen to reside in the same district or section of the city.

Since under the city manager type of government the mayor would simply be an honorary post, there would be no need for him to be elected on a city-wide basis.

Another item which the committee has discussed at length is the filling of vacancies on the council.

Under the proposed plan, if there is less than six months remaining before the term would expire, the council would fill the vacancy until the election.

If, however, the unexpired term exceeds a six month period, the council will be required to schedule a special election to fill the post.

It would be mandatory the special election be held not less than sixty days, nor more than ninety days, after the vacancy occurs.

The eleven-man Charter Revision Committee was appointed in mid-January by Mayor Larry Kimmel.

Those serving on the committee include Irene Chapman, Robert Hanna, Alice Jensen, Elmer Johnson, Norman Kelly, William Maitre, Solomon Raffe, Milton Reidel, Robert Seeley and Jan Vergeres.

The two ex officio members of the committee are City Administrator Bernard Rubin and City Attorney Rupert Smith.

Progress is reported for medical center

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE—"Everything is moving along according to our projected schedule for the $800,000 medical facility," said William Salva, president of GGS Corp., developers of the project.

Referring to the proposed professional building to be constructed approximately one mile south of the Prima Vista U.S. 1 intersection in Port St. Lucie, Salva said Tuesday the plans are currently in the hands of the St. Lucie County Planning and Zoning Board.

We met Tuesday with members of the State Board of Pollution Control and the State Board of Health to get the criteria which we must follow. At this point everything looks real good," Salva said.

According to Salva, the developers anticipate no problems in obtaining the necessary permits from the county planning board, but he did point out the board would have to await the approval of the Dept. of Pollution Control and the State Board of Health before issuing the building permit to start construction.

We have already received the approval of the St. Lucie County Fire Department," Salva said.

If there is no delay in obtaining permits, the firm's president anticipates a groundbreaking within thirty days, and a target completion date of August, 1975.

The building is designed to house twenty doctors, dentists and druggists, and will be situated on a two-acre site recently acquired by the GGS Corporation.

The facility will provide 20,000 square feet of rental area.

Terming the response as tremendous, Salva said they have verbal commitments from two dentists, one druggist, one labratory, and seven doctors.

Office space will be rented only to members of the medical profession. There will be 96 parking spaces for patients and the two-acre tract will be attractively landscaped.

The GGS Corporation is comprised of three equal partners, William "Bill" Salva, president; Joe Gerlak, vice president, and Ed Glaser, sec'y-treas.

The firm has been involved in other projects in the area, and has constructed homes and warehouses in Stuart.

Papers filed today

Mrs. Kavanaugh is named in civil suit

PORT ST. LUCIE—Mrs. Eugene P. Kavanaugh, widow of the late mayor, will be named as a defendant in the civil suit brought against members of the Port St. Lucie City Council by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc.

According to James Littman, attorney for the homeowners association, papers were filed in the Circuit Court Wednesday (today).

During the hearing of pretrial motions Monday, Circuit Court Judge James Alderman said Mrs. Kavanaugh could be added as a defendant in the suit if the homeowners association chose to amend its complaint.

Although the judge granted the association's attorney ten days in which to file the amended complaint, Littman reportedly had the papers ready within hours.

It will now be up to the court to decided whether or not Mrs. Kavanaugh will have to pay back approximately $15,000 she has received from her late husband's pension.

According to Littman, Mrs. Kavanaugh was not named in the original suit because it was not believed the money would be collectible.

Officials of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart, which disbursed the funds to Mrs. Kavanaugh, brought up the issue by questioning whether the bank might be liable for returning the money to the city if the ruling was in favor of the Homeowner Association.

Other matters considered at the Monday session included a motion by First National Bank and Trust to strike a portion of the complaint. This motion was denied.

Also denied by Judge Alderman was a motion by defendants Mayor Larry Kimmel, Ken Thompson, Vaughn Lewis, William McChesney, Frank Beardsley and Dr. Nottley to dismiss.

A motion was granded to drop Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc., leaving individual taxpayers George Blackmond, Lolita Kernohan, Seymour B. Fleming and J. Arthur McDaniel as plaintiff parties.

No date has been set for the second phase of the trial although it is expected to be resumed in April.

Still to be resolved is the Homeowners Association charge that the city council set forth an overly generous pension plan which would permit council members who served eight years, or were 65 years of age, to draw $200 per month or approximately two-thirds of their salary.

During the first phase of the trial held several weeks ago Judge Alderman decided most issues in favor of the Interested Homeowners group.

At that time it was decided the Mayor could, if he chose, hold a second position with the city but could not receive compensation for both. Mayor Kimmel was at the time doubling in brass as the city engineer and drawing compensation for both positions.

Judge Alderman also ruled that appointed councilmen could only serve until the next city election. City Attorney Rupert Smith maintained that since there were no general elections as such in the city, an appointee could serve out the balance of the term.

Friendship Class to sponsor covered-dish supper

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Friendship Class of the Dutton Memorial Church will sponsor a covered dish supper in Campbell Hall this Friday, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Paul Albert and Mrs. Ralph Kelser of Port St. Lucie are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Robert Yelton of South Port St. Lucie, president of the Women's Assn. of Dutton Memorial, has announced that four circles of the association will meet this Thursday, March 20, at 1:30 p.m.

Kay Stabler, of Port St. Lucie, will entertain the Esther Circle in her home.

Florence Kight, Port St. Lucie, will host the Martha Circle.

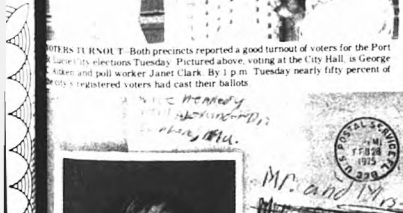
Antonette Kryc, of White City, is planning to entertain the Ruth group, and Judy Smith, White City, is going to welcome the Mary Circle into her residence.

Mrs. J.T. Rust, of Port St. Lucie, will host the Elizabeth Circle in her home on Monday, March 24 at 7:30 p.m.

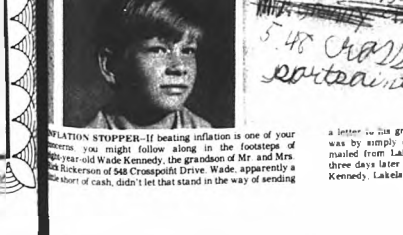
Mrs. Margaret Clayton, of River Park, is Dutton's representative for the Presbyterian Homes for the Aged in Lakeland. She has indicated she will appreciate assistance from any member of Dutton.

Holy Communion is to be served in Dutton on Mandy Thursday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. New members will be welcomed at that time.

Easter Sunrise Worship will be conducted on the lawn of Dutton Memorial at 7 a.m. The celebration is open to the public. Pancakes and sausage will be served in the church's dining room immediately following the service. Members of the Young Adult Group are in charge of the preparations.



VOTERS TURNOUT—Both precincts reported a good turnout of voters for the Port St. Lucie city elections Tuesday. Pictured above, voting at the City Hall, is George Elders and poll worker Janet Clark. By 1 p.m. Tuesday nearly fifty percent of the city's registered voters had cast their ballots.



INFLATION STOPPER—If beating inflation is one of your concerns you might follow along in the footsteps of eight-year-old Wade Kennedy, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rickerson of 548 Crosspoint Drive. Wade, apparently a little short of cash, didn't let that stand in the way of sending a letter to his grandparents. His way of fighting inflation was by simply drawing the postage stamp. The letter, mailed from Lakeland, arrived in "portsaintlucie 33453" three days later. Wade is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kennedy, Lakeland, Fl.

Audit review is requested

PORT ST. LUCIE—Senator Bob Saunders chairman of the joint Legislative Auditing Committee requested Robert E. Stone, state attorney, Nineteenth Judicial Circuit, to review legality or illegality of expenditures of the Port St. Lucie City Council.

In his request, Senator Saunders pointed out the desirability of saving both time and money by proceeding on the existing audit. This, he said, would save the additional cost of a post-audit by the auditor general.

Noted were expenditures and procedures which had been questioned by Fletcher & Johns the accounting firm which performed the annual audit of the Port St. Lucie books.

The request for post audit was made to the Joint Legislative Audit Committee by petition of over 20 percent of the taxpayer-electors of the City of Port St. Lucie.

To expedite the investigation and review, Senator Saunders pledged the support of his committee and the full assistance and cooperation of the Auditor General.

Babe Ruth season opens Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE—Opening ceremonies will be held Saturday at Sportsmans Park kicking off the first game of the season for the Babe Ruth League.

The entire 1975 Babe Ruth season will be dedicated to "Hoot" Sample. Prior to his death Sample had been active in the Babe Ruth League for many years.

The opening ceremonies have been scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday. The first game of the season will get under way at 1 p.m. when Allo Realty will play Morse Lodge.

On the mound to pitch out the first ball will be Mel Broom, General Development Corporation's general office manager in Port St. Lucie.

Immediately following the first game, the Port St. Lucie Optimist will challenge the American Legion Post 40.

All residents are welcome to attend the double header and support the players.

Council to hear HCA official

PORT ST. LUCIE—Dr. Thomas Frist of Hospital Corporation of America will be the featured speaker at the Port St. Lucie Presidents Council meeting.

The group will meet Thursday, March 20, 2 p.m. at the CESA building. Dr. Frist's presentation will feature the type of hospital which Hospital Corporation intends to build in St. Lucie County, and the community relations philosophy of Hospital Corporation.

Club Presidents may invite guests or club members can call their President for an invitation to attend.

Mirror will increase price

PORT ST. LUCIE—The Mirror has finally been forced to give in to inflation and rising costs of newsprint, and, for the first time since 1962, has raised the subscription and per newspaper price. It was announced this week by Richard E. Campbell, publisher.

Newsstand prices will increase to 15 cents per copy and subscription rates will increase to $5 per year and $3.00 for six months.

The increase will be effective on March 26 for newsstands and new subscriptions. Renewal subscriptions will be billed at the new rate as they come due, beginning with the April billing for such subscriptions.

We have held off as long as we possibly can on the rate increase, and now must accept the rate increase as a part of the increased cost of doing business," Campbell said. The Mirror was one of the last weekly newspapers in Florida with a ten cent price.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS
BY DOT BECK

The Camera Club had a very busy and interesting week starting with movies on Sunday, March 9. This show was put on by the Jensen Beach Travel Service. Two interesting travelogues were shown, one on skiing in Switzerland, and one about the Bahamas.

On Thursday, March 13, the club's annual potluck supper was held at the clubhouse. This affair is always looked forward to as one of the highlights of the year. A meat loaf was prepared by George Phillips and baked by various volunteers was the entree, and the long serving table was filled with hot dishes, casseroles, salads and relishes. And the desserts were really something to see!

Greens and hibiscus decorated the four long tables. The committee in charge of the event was headed by Orlee Ecklund, assisted by Jeanne Jewsbury, Alma Shotwell, Sophie Thompsen and Evelyn Wallquist. If anyone went away hungry, they had themselves to blame. Seconds and even thirds were available.

Clyde Redinger served as toastmaster and called on the club officers to make short speeches and the officers were speechless! Just wait until next year, Clyde—it's a long road that has no turning.

Jim Nixon presented the club with a check for $23 from the Oak Street Gang to be used for something "needed" perhaps the new projector that must be purchased someday soon. Freda Peterkin, club secretary-treasurer gave her reports and President Ernie Curwen thanked all the committees and monthly chairmen for their support.

He then talked about some of the programs for next year. Since the country will be observing the bicentennial, members are asked to be on the outlook for bicentennial projects wherever they travel during the summer, and get pictures of good subjects that can be shown to the club in keeping with the patriotic celebration. So, members, let's bring back some good slides and inform us that you have them so they can be worked up into some good shows. Also anyone who has slides or movies of trips taken in the past and would like to show them, let the committee know.

Officers elected for next year are Ernie Curwen, president; Freda Peterkin, secretary-treasurer; James Nixon, first vice president; and Dorothy Beck, second vice president.

Entertainment followed the supper and business meeting provided by Ann Buck, Vanita Schneider, Henrietta Mikesell, Don Wells, Bessie Theilig, George Lebon, Lenore Viland and Vera Faulk under the direction of Tom Cook. Ralph Ortt led a community sing.

Doug Blyth then showed slides of a trip to "Red Rock Country" and it was truly an outstanding show with clear and artistic views of Moab, Canyonland and the Monument Valley, and several other parks and spots in the southwestern part of the country. It made a fitting end to a very enjoyable evening.

The club gives a rousing thanks to the people who worked so hard to make the evening another Camera Club "hit!"

This week's show is a trip to Jamaica with Tom and Nellie Cook. Showtime 8 p.m.

Your horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant): Irritation with a close associate over money matters could lead to open conflict. It is to your advantage to curb your temper. Last minute information could save the day in finances.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant): Success in career, joy in romance spark this period. Be alert to subconscious hostility in another which may threaten your marriage or romance. Guard health. Be alert to opportunities at work.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant): Complete old projects, tie up loose ends and get ready for activity in a new direction. Invitation with a new co-worker will pay. Heed advice to save instead of spend your money. Resist emotional displays.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant): Maintain a conservative activity program. Stick with regular routine of sleeping and eating. Use caution in extending friendship and hospitality - another may not be all they seem. Don't succumb to flattery.

LEO (July 23 to August 22 - Also Leo Ascendant): Becoming overly involved in the affairs of children creates more problems than it solves. Be discreet in handling your boss and a friend. It is a good time to change your style in clothing and coiffure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant): A dream relating to your career could come true now through the help of another person. Improved finances are part of the picture. Work industriously to prove your worth. Fulfill your work potential.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant): Accept the advice of an experienced friend regarding your budget. You are feeling somewhat warlike and must consciously try to use your charm and tact. You could win the argument and lose the relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant): Assume a slower, steady pace to continue projects in process. Near the end of the week a creative idea regarding work procedures gets favorable attention from bosses. Strive for harmony in marriage.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant): If others are uncooperative, cool it and wait for a better time. Inspirational ideas flow. Avoid extravagance for luxuries. Career matters are helped through entertaining visiting associates.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant): You could be "taken in" by someone who is not what he or she seems. An association that moves slowly to friendship is worth while. Get lots of rest. Develop hobby talents. Show your maturity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant): You could win much love and appreciation from a friend now. Work quietly behind the scenes; don't be tempted to play hookey. Disagreement with an opinionated person may result in separation. Don't blame yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant): A hobby developed now could become a profession later on. Don't pry into private affairs of young people. Immerse yourself in work. If a romantic lie reaches the breaking point, know it is best for you.

Obituary

ORVILLE R. HAWKINS

WINTER HAVEN—Orville R. Hawkins, 77, a prominent pioneer of the Citrus Processing Industry, and long-time Property Manager for Scotty's, Inc., passed away March 5 after a brief illness.

Mr. Hawkins moved to Winter Haven in the spring of 1925, from Peru, Indiana, where he began an outstanding career in citrus processing in the fall of 1925 and was associated with the industry until his retirement in 1962. He was production manager for the Florida Gold Citrus Corporation, the Pasco Packing Association, the Snow Crop Corporation and finished his citrus career working with Snively Groves, Inc.

Mr. Hawkins was the third president of the Florida Canners Association and served a two year term from the latter part of 1937 to the latter part of 1938.

After his retirement from the citrus industry, Mr. Hawkins became property manager for Scotty's, Inc.

During his ten year employment with Scotty's, he was responsible for the design and construction of more than 30 of the 53 Scotty's stores presently located throughout Florida and for the design and construction of a major portion of the company's headquarters complex in Winter Haven.

Mr. Hawkins was a charter member of the Covenant Presbyterian Church. He was also a member of the Winter Haven Masonic Lodge F. and A.M. No. 186, Scottish Rite, the Tampa Consistory, the Egypt Temple Shrine, the Winter Haven Shrine Club.

He is survived by his wife, Treva, a sister, Mrs. M.M. Slayton, three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Nethers, Mrs. James Sweet, Mrs. Raymond Cooney, all of Winter Haven, one son, Robert M. Hawkins of Jacksonville, and six grandchildren and five great-grand children.

The family has suggested that friends may make contributions to the Shriner's Hospitals for Crippled Children in care of Egypt Shrine Temple, P.O. Box 22805, Tampa, Fla.

127 women play low net golf

PORT ST. LUCIE—One hundred and twenty seven women played low net in flights at the weekly tourney of the Port St. Lucie Ladies Golf Association.

Winners were: first flight, Jan Rogers, 68; second flight, Addie Bateman, 67; third flight, Donna Cook and Marjorie Hand, 70; fourth flight, Jess Snyder, 69; and fifth flight, Doris Hunt and Libby Webster, 70.

Sixth flight, Marion Brandon and Gretchen Dalton, 71; seventh flight, Jane Jahn, 70; eighth flight, Elsie Petersen, 68; and ninth flight, Jean Whitaker, 69.

The first round of the Association's championship was also played. There were nine flights of 93 ladies participating in the three round, 54 hole, medal play championship.

PSL shuffleboard news

PORT ST. LUCIE—Tournament Director Judd Reading reports:

"Our last game of the Indian River matches there were 15 altogether was played at Port St. Lucie on Wednesday against Ocean Breeze.

"Results were Ocean Breeze 6, Port St. Lucie 4.

"This game knocked us out of second place. Fort Pierce won this honor and Ocean Breeze took first place with a breeze. They ended the season with 93 points.

"We don't like to lose our first place trophy which we won last year, but we'll have something to work hard for next season."

PSL winning teams were: Louise Gilbert and Guyn Haydon, Herb Feller and Jean DeKeulenaere, Judd Reading and Al McDonnell, Jeannie De Keulenaere and Ruth McDonnell.

In Central League play at Ocean Breeze, Les Troutman and Harold Harrell were the one and only winning PSL team.

Jack Clugstone, president of the East Coast Shuffleboard Assn., has announced a shuffleboard referee school and refresher course is being held on Wednesday, March 19—today's at the Inland House Condominium Recreation Hall in Fort Pierce.

SLCC men's golf ass'n

PORT ST. LUCIE—Walter Wilmas, Vince Metzger, Jack Freedl and Millard Harmon were the top winners in Thursday's benefit event played by the St. Lucie Country Club Men's Golf Assn. over the Saints Course of the SLCC, with competing teams playing a foursome best ball.

The affair was co-sponsored by the MGA and Bill Shultz Chevrolet Co. to benefit the Fort Pierce Central Band and its campaign to raise funds for a trip to Mexico. John Ford, who was closest to the tee on the third hold won the use of a Chevrolet for six months.

Leading teams were:

Wilmas, Metzger, Freedl and Harmon 59; Bill Flanagan, Ed Premo, Charles Swan and Charles Hayde, 63; Tom Chapman, Evert Stabler, Tom Hassell, Max Hull, 63; John Hunchareck, Woody Roberts, Norm Kelly and Ted Hall, 63; Paul Bacon, Ed Ebeling, William Moore, Nelson Howery, 63; and rounding out the four-team tie, Jim Orum, Rick Vernois, Ed Rueter and Tom Rogers, 63.

The association a event for Thursday, March 20, will be two man best ball competition, according to Tournament Chairman Paul Miller.

Lake Manor News Notes

BY SYLVIA SIMAN
334-4781

To all of you who so kindly brought me your news items this week, I am very grateful

+ + +

Our 1975-76 Lake Manor, Inc officers are as follows

President Andrew Bullock, same. Vice President John Bollenbacher same. Secretary Glenn Oakes, new. Treasurer Al Pieroni, new. Asst Treasurer Dorothy Conway new.

Andrew and Ethel Bullock were the guests of Mr and Mrs George Turner at Great Harbour Cay, Bahamas, during the past week. At this time Mr. Bullock attended the annual meeting of the American Stamping Co., by whom he had been employed for 26 years before his retirement.

+ + +

Mr and Mrs Ron Carney of Monroe Mich stopped in for a visit with their old travel trailing friends the Bullocks. The Carneys are making their headquarters at Brooksville and visiting around from there.

+ + +

Margaret and Karl Rosengarth had as visitors for a few days her nephew Bill and his wife Bonnie Loflin from Norfolk Va. Also a niece Nancy and her husband Jack Kirk and their two very delightful children, Donald and Ann, from Ft. McClellan, Ala. They all loved our park and the children enjoyed fishing. Ann had the good luck to catch a five pound catfish, which was a big thrill for her.

+ + +

Lee Tucker reports today, March 19, Lake Manor Shuffle Club are entertaining their old nearby rivals, the Holiday Out Shuffle Club for a contest and social time. Next week's news will give you the names of the champions.

+ + +

Three game winner at day shuffling on the 10th was Jack Bell. Tuesday night's winners, three games, were Al Pieroni and George Marsh.

+ + +

Thursday, the 13th winners were Lee King and Gladys Oakes.

Men's coffee on the 15th had the usual good turn out with Roy Carver and Bob McCourt serving. Games were played and the men even enjoyed their shortened time because of the silent auction.

+ + +

Again we had a most delightful time with our bake sale and silent auction. Many of our people turned out for this fun-filled afternoon. So many nice things were brought in, many electrical which Bob Price tested. Also Bill Eastman donated many of his works of art in sketching. Many thanks to the planners and the committee. Gene and Liz Krakaur, Edna Eastman, Gladys Oakes and Fred Ballanz.

Fern Hill, Bernie Dubuque and Gerry Stuart were in charge of the auction. Fern is getting to be quite an auctioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brice and Capt. sister and her husband, the Waltons took a three day trip to Lake Wales to see the Passion Play which they enjoyed very much to the west coast where they visited Busch Gardens and to Cypress Gardens, all of which was the first time for the Waltons. They enjoyed it all immensely.

+ + +

And to you all Peace

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

We would like to thank all the Irishmen who showed up for the St. Patrick's dance. Our apologies to the few who missed out on the corned beef you should have gotten there earlier. Everyone who stayed for the dance had a good time.

We are still looking for new members. I'm sure there are potential members who have not been asked to join. If you are eligible and want to join, call 334-9909 after 3 p.m. during the week or after 12 on Saturday. We will be glad to come out to talk to you.

This Friday, Norma Tracy is going to cook Shish Kabob. We will start serving at 6 p.m. Come and enjoy yourselves with our friends and comrades.

There is usually a good time going on Saturday nights. Come and dance to the good music we have on the juke box.

The Auxiliary will meet Wednesday, March 24 tonight at 8 p.m.

The V.F.W. meeting will be held Thursday, March 20 at 8 p.m. I strongly urge all members to be present.

Make your reservations for our gigantic clam bake Saturday, March 29. This will be an all day affair with a lot to eat and fun for all.

We will have a concert on Sunday, May 4, by the fabulous Woody Martin. Woody is well known in this part of the state. There will be a limited number of tickets. Proceeds are ear-marked for the V.F.W. National Children's Home.

April will be Happy Hour month with a happy hour every Friday from 5-7.

Sharpe, Kernohan, Rose, McChesney win council seats

PORT ST. LUCIE–Seventy-one per cent of the registered voters went to the polls Tuesday, establishing a record turnout for the city's largest election in its fifteen year history.

Chester Sharpe, Frank Rose, Lolita Kernohan and William B. McChesney were elected to the City Council after unofficial tabulations showed they defeated eight other candidates. Official returns will be released after the city canvassing board counts the twelve absentee ballots and certifies the results of the voting machines Wednesday today.

Because of the rapid growth of this area, the voter registration has more than tripled in the past biennial period. In the March, 1973 elections there were 435 registered voters in the city, compared to approximately 1400 in 1975.

The most hotly contested race was probably the four way race for the Group 1 seat. L.B. Kernohan received a majority vote of 622 topping all other candidates to defeat Earl Feasel with 326 votes, Dick Landin, with 73 votes, and David C. Riley, who received 11 votes.

Frank Rose won the Group 2 seat on the board by collecting 465 votes. Rose defeated Sam Feigenbaum who received 113 votes. Charles Hayden with 245 votes and incumbent Vice Mayor Vaughn Lewis, who gained 310 votes.

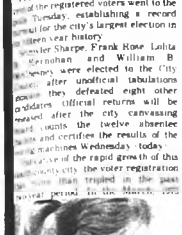
Group 2 is for a two-year term.

Chester Sharpe was the victor in the Group 1 race defeating John Koroly by 468 to 420 votes.

The Group 5 incumbent, William B. McChesney had a slight edge over Lee R. Johnson, 551 to 484, to retain his seat on the board.

The dynamic growth of the northern part of the city was indicated in the vote achieved by Mrs. Kernohan, who carried her group with 60 percent of the total, and Schuyler Sharp with 56 percent of the vote. Both candidates were from the northern part of the city.

In the race between McChesney and Johnson, McChesney received 53 percent of the vote. Both candidates live in the country club community of South Port.



STEADY FLOW–Although no long lines formed at either of the city's two polls, both reported a steady flow of voters throughout the day. Pictured is Walter Wilmas signing his registration card before entering the booth to cast his ballot.

Woman's Club is chartered

PORT ST. LUCIE–The first official meeting of the Port St. Lucie Woman's Club, a Florida Federation, was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Schlief last week.

Twenty five charter members adopted the Club charter followed by the election of the following officers.

Mrs. Donald Fisher, president; Mrs. Jack Schlief, first vice pres.; Mrs. Ed Ebeling, second vice pres.; Mrs. Harry Ciampaglio, recording secy.; Mrs. Kenneth Castle, corresponding secy.; Mrs. Willard Green, treasurer and Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. William Haufbfild and Mrs. Pat Lauria, trustees.

Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month, with the next meeting scheduled for 12:30 p.m. April 16 at the St. Lucie Hilton.

Letter query to be mailed

Public support urged by revision committee

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Charter Revision Committee Monday had second thoughts about sending out a questionnaire to solicit the views of city voters.

"Perhaps a questionnaire as such, might be a little premature at this point," committee member Mike Reeb told the group.

To send out a questionnaire asking whether they prefer the city-manager type of government versus the strong mayor system without first explaining the meaning of each, seems to me to be putting the cart before the horse," Reeb added.

Consequently in lieu of the ten question survey sheet previously proposed the committee unanimously agreed to forward the city's registered voters a combination letter query explaining the two forms of government, the proposed redistricting, and the election of the mayor by council.

The letter will include the committee's recommended proposals and their reasons for those recommendations.

Four questions seeking the electorate's opinion will conclude the letter.

This should arouse the interest in the community and at the same time provide this committee with valuable information and suggestions," Chairman Solomon Raffe said.

The letter to be drafted by City Attorney Rupert Smith and City Administrator Bernard Rubin, ex officio members of the committee, will be submitted for approval at the March 31 meeting.

The letters, including self addressed postage paid return envelopes will be mailed to all registered voters throughout the city approximately two weeks prior to the April 24 public meeting to be held in the CESA building. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m. and a question and answer period will be included.

Although the committee has urged all city residents to mail in their suggestions regarding the city charter there has been very little response. Suggestions and opinions may be addressed to Charter Revision Committee, City Hall, Port St. Lucie, Florida 33452.

Public opinions are vital to the job this committee is living to do," Raffe said. "We could draft the best possible charter but without the support of the voters it could be turned down.

"Much time and effort has gone into the four basic proposals thus far recommended, and it is imperative support is needed before continuing," Raffe added.

Lack of public interest has been largely attributed to the city election.

This is a difficult time to arouse interest in the charter revision since people in general seem to be tying it in with the election issues," Rubin said.

With the elections in the past, the committee has high hopes the evening meeting at CESA on April 24 will be well attended and residents will take advantage of the opportunity to voice their opinions.

The four proposals recommended include the city manager type government, re-districting by population, staying with the present five councilmen, and the mayor being elected by the council from their own ranks.

The city manager type government is employed by 85 percent of the cities in Florida. The city manager would relieve much of the workload from the council. The city manager would serve at the pleasure of the council. Estimated salary would be from $12,000 to $18,000 per year.

Re-districting by population would mean although the five councilmen are elected on a city wide basis, each would have to reside in his or her own district. They would serve four year terms and be elected on a staggered basis. Such a move would assure each district of representation on the council. Under the present charter it is possible for all five councilmen to reside in the same district or section of the city.

Under the city manager type of government the mayor would simply be an honorary post. There would be no need for him to be elected on a city wide basis.

Another item which the committee has discussed at length is the filling of vacancies on the council.

Under the proposed plan, if there is less than six months remaining before the term would expire, the council would fill the vacancy until the election.

If however the unexpired term exceeds a six month period the council will be required to schedule a special election to fill the post.

It would be mandatory the special election be held not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days after the vacancy occurs.

The eleven man Charter Revision Committee was appointed in mid-January by Mayor Larry Kimmel.

Those serving on the committee include Irene Chapman, Robert Hanna, Alice Jensen, Elmer Johnson, Norman Kolb, William Madre, Solomon Raffe, Milton Reidel, Robert Seerley, and Jan Wenges.

The two ex officio members of the committee are City Administrator Bernard Rubin and City Attorney Rupert Smith.

Progress is reported for medical center

BY ALICE HICKEY

PORT ST. LUCIE–Everything is moving along according to our projected schedule for the $500,000 medical facility," said William Salva, president of GGS Corp., developers of the project.

Referring to the proposed professional building to be constructed approximately one mile south of the Prima Vista U.S. 1 intersection in Port St. Lucie, Salva said Tuesday the plans are currently in the hands of the St. Lucie County Planning and Zoning Board.

We met Tuesday with members of the State Board of Pollution Control and the State Board of Health to get the criteria which we must follow. At this point everything looks real good," Salva said.

According to Salva, the developers anticipate no problems in obtaining the necessary permits from the county planning board, but he did point out the board could have to await the approval of the Dept. of Pollution Control and the State Board of Health before issuing the building permit to start construction.

We have already received the approval of the St. Lucie County Fire Department," Salva said.

If there is no delay in obtaining permits, the firm's president anticipates a groundbreaking within thirty days, and a target completion date of August 1975.

The building is designed to house twenty doctors, dentists and druggists, and will be situated on a two acre site recently acquired by the GGS Corporation.

The facility will provide 20,000 square feet of rental area.

Terming the response as tremendous, Salva said they have verbal commitments from two dentists, one druggist, one laboratory, and seven doctors.

Office space will be rented only to members of the medical profession. There will be 96 parking spaces for patients and the two acre tract will be attractively landscaped.

The GGS Corporation is comprised of three equal partners, William, Bill, Salva, president; Joe Gerlak, vice president, and Ed Glaser, secretary.

The firm has been involved in other projects in the area, and has constructed homes and warehouses in Stuart.

Papers filed today

Mrs. Kavanaugh is named in civil suit

PORT ST. LUCIE–Mrs. Eugene P. Kavanaugh, widow of the late mayor, will be named as a defendant in the civil suit brought against members of the Port St. Lucie City Council by the Interested Homeowners of Port St. Lucie, Inc.

According to James Littman, attorney for the homeowners association, papers were filed in the Circuit Court Wednesday, today.

During the hearing of pretrial motions Monday, Circuit Court Judge James Alderman said Mrs. Kavanaugh could be added as a defendant in the suit if the homeowners association chose to amend its complaint.

Although the judge granted the association's attorney ten days in which to file the amended complaint, Littman reportedly had the papers ready within hours.

It will now be up to the court to decided whether or not Mrs. Kavanaugh will have to pay back approximately $15,000 she has received from her late husband's pension.

According to Littman, Mrs. Kavanaugh was not named in the original suit because it was not believed the monies would be collectible.

Officials of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Stuart, which disbursed the funds to Mrs. Kavanaugh, brought up the issue by questioning whether the bank might be liable for returning the monies to the city if the ruling was in favor of the Homeowner Association.

Other matters considered at the Monday session included a motion by First National Bank and Trust to strike a portion of the complaint. This motion was denied.

Audit review is requested

PORT ST. LUCIE–Senator Bob Saunders, chairman of the joint Legislative Auditing Committee, requested Robert E. Stone, state attorney, Nineteenth Judicial Circuit, to review legality or illegality of expenditures of the Port St. Lucie City Council.

In his request, Senator Saunders pointed out the desirability of saving both time and money by proceeding on the existing audit. This, he said, would save the additional cost of a post-audit by the auditor general.

Noted were expenditures and procedures which had been questioned by Fletcher & Johns, the accounting firm which performed the annual audit of the Port St. Lucie books.

The request for post-audit was made to the Joint Legislative Audit Committee by petition of over 20 percent of the taxpayer-electors of the City of Port St. Lucie.

To expedite the investigation and review, Senator Saunders pledged the support of his committee and the full assistance and cooperation of the Auditor General.

Friendship Class to sponsor covered-dish supper

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Friendship Class of the Dutton Memorial Church will sponsor a covered dish supper in Bethel Hall this Friday, March 21, at 6 p.m. Mrs. Paul Albert and Mrs. Bob Keller of Port St. Lucie are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Robert Yelton of South Port St. Lucie, president of the Women's Assn. of Dutton Memorial, has announced that four circles of the association will meet this Thursday, March 20, at 1:30 p.m.

Kay Stabler, of Port St. Lucie, will entertain the Esther Circle in her home. Florence Kight, Port St. Lucie, will host the Martha Circle.

Antonette Kryc, of White City, is planning to entertain the Ruth group, and Ruby Smith, White City, is going to welcome the Mary Circle into her residence.

Mrs. J.T. Rust, of Port St. Lucie, will host the Elizabeth Circle in her home on Monday, March 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Margaret Clayton, of River Park, is Dutton's representative for the Presbyterian Homes for the Aged in Lakeland. She has indicated she will appreciate assistance from any member of Dutton.

Holy Communion is to be served in Dutton on Mandy Thursday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. New members will be welcomed at that time.

Easter Sunrise Worship will be conducted on the lawn of Dutton Memorial at 7 a.m. The celebration is open to the public. Pancakes and sausage will be served in the church's dining room immediately following the service. Members of the Young Adult Group are in charge of the preparations.

Babe Ruth season opens Saturday

PORT ST. LUCIE–Opening ceremonies will be held Saturday at Sportsmans Park kicking off the first game of the season for the Babe Ruth League.

The entire 1975 Babe Ruth season will be dedicated to "Hoot" Sample. Prior to his death, Sample had been active in the Babe Ruth League for many years.

The opening ceremonies have been scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday. The first game of the season will get under way at 2 p.m. when Allo Realty will play Moose Lodge.

On the mound to pitch out the first ball will be Mel Broom, General Development Corporation's general office manager in Port St. Lucie.

Immediately following the first game, the Port St. Lucie Optimist will challenge the American Legion Post 40.

All residents are welcome to attend the double header and support the players.

Council to hear HCA official

PORT ST. LUCIE–Dr. Thomas Frist of Hospital Corporation of America will be the featured speaker at the Port St. Lucie Presidents' Council meeting.

The group will meet Thursday, March 20, 2 p.m. at the CESA building. Dr. Frist's presentation will feature the type of hospital which Hospital Corporation intends to build in St. Lucie County, and the community relations philosophy of Hospital Corporation.

Club Presidents may invite guests or club members, or all the Vice President for an invitation to attend.

Mirror will increase price

PORT ST. LUCIE–The Mirror has finally been forced to give in to inflation and rising costs of newsprint, and for the first time since 1962, has raised the subscription and per issue price.

It was announced this week by Richard E. Campbell, publisher.

Newsstand prices will increase to 15 cents per copy, and subscription rates will increase to $7.50 per year and $3.50 for six months.

The increase will be effective on March 26 for newsstands and new subscriptions. Renewal subscriptions will be billed at the new rate as they come due, beginning with the April billing for such subscriptions.

We have held off as long as we possibly can on the rate increase and now must accept the rate increase as a part of the increased cost of doing business," Campbell said. The Mirror was one of the last weekly newspapers in Florida with a ten cent price.

INFLATION STOPPER–If beating inflation is one of your worries, you might follow along in the footsteps of four year old Wade Kennedy, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roberson of 568 Crosspoint Drive. Wade apparently a believer of cash, didn't let that stand in the way of sending a letter to his grandparents. His way of fighting inflation was by simply drawing the postage stamp. The letter, mailed from Lakeland, arrived in "portsaintlucy 33452" three days later. Wade is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kennedy, Lakeland, Fl.

One of Venture Out's nicest couples Elmina and Bob Mowry, left Saturday to put the finishing touches on their new condominium in Gatlinburg. The shuffleboard court will not look the same without them.

If you see a gay little stroller with a five month old baby, a young looking grandmother with a grin from ear to ear, that's Mate Grueling Mate and Bill are busy and happy with the arrival of their daughter and son-in-law and their three children.

The Ward Irwins and Boyd Kitts celebrated the arrival of Helen Kitts niece and her husband with their 10 year old daughter from Atlanta. Bob and Elmina Mowry, Mate and Bill Greuling and Betty and Jake Davis were guests and helped to devour the delicious steaks.

+ + +

Captain Bob Owen and his wife Marge gave a party to end all parties. Twenty-two neighbors were invited to help celebrate their "new addition." What an addition, and what a party! Generous helpings not only at Bob's "Greal Shop" but also Marge's fabulous dinner menu. Tall stories and a sing along topped off an evening long to be remembered.

We are all happy to have Willard Auch back from the hospital. He is helping his wife Louise entertain her niece and a 5 year old son from Indiana. The Auchs helped to celebrate the first birthday of Raeann Meeker. Kitt and Fred's daughter.

Would you believe those Fitzgeralds? Two more active fun people you have yet to meet. They have just finished entertaining their old traveling buddies Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Merrick of Clarendon Hills, Ill. The four of them have toured Spain, Italy, Switzerland and Austria together and now they are formulating plans to go to Ireland and nearby isles late this summer. Ireland are you ready for Red and Alice? The Blarney Stone will never be the same. Red and Alice are expecting their son Sandy and his family on the 23rd 'til the 4th of April. Welcome Sandy and Co.!

Jackie and Al Phillips will be spending a few days this week at Jack's sister's home on the Loxahatchee River in Jupiter.

We were sorry to hear of the plight of one of our neighbors. They had a number of expensive fishing poles stolen from their patio. A word to the wise is sufficient. Take heed.

Whoever said the pelicans were on the "endangered" list? Haven't seen so many in our area for years.

Betty and Paul Drinkard have been busy enjoying the visits from Keith and Mary Crusman, and Don and Jo Foss from Rochester, Mich. The three couples have had fun doing some deep sea fishing and golfing. They were planning a trip to Venture Out's Cudjoe Cay in the Keys but Betty had a bad fall on their patio, resulting in a broken jaw, bruises on her face and body, stitches and a black eye. She is recovering nicely but is on a liquid diet due to wiring in her mouth. Betty is an example of "true grit" minimizing her injuries and carrying on as usual, still joking and ready for action.

Jean and Gil Van Willigan had as house guests for several days long time friends Grace and Emmy Tasble of Milwaukee, Wisc.

Sam Tucker's friends, the Leonard Chacos of Middleboro, Mass. are staying with Sam and enjoying the pool and ocean. They are remembered and welcomed in Venture Out as this is their fourth year to visit here.

+ + +

Barbara and Stan Clark spent a week-end visiting old time friends Helen and Harry Sampson, now residing in Boynton Beach Leisureville.

Mamans Mary and Ken McGehee, Frances and J.W. Connors visited the Shavers. Mary is Jessie's sister. They took Mama Cochran back to Miami for a month or so.

Roy Williams is still in the hospital in Summit, N.J. He had his second operation and it was successful. He was in intensive care when Helen phoned to let his neighbors know. All of us are sending our prayers and good wishes to Roy.

Sara Valaro is finally over her virus problems. The report is that Mrs. Valaro, her mother-in-law, is back home in New York after suffering a heart attack enroute from here with Louise and Jimmy Santangelo. Also, her brother-in-law Charlie Finkelman has recovered very nicely from his heart problem. We told him he shouldn't leave this area and go north so soon, but he wanted to get home to Rose and his family, and in fact enrolled in some classes--philosophy and history, I think.

Sunday we took Dick's sister and her husband, Lil and Fred Caulfer, out for a boat ride. They are visiting us for a few days from Jekyll Island, Ga. They've been here many times before and always enjoy coming back. It was an eventful day because we were stopped on the river by the Marine Patrol who asked to see Dick's registration card. (Turns out it expired in 1970. Dick will have to visit the Courthouse and pay $27, get a new registration card, and mark the expiration date in red ink on his calendar. We'll remember this episode. I'm sure. The same way we remember being stopped in Canada because we were spotted from the air exceeding the speed limit. By boat, by air, nothing routine about the way Dick Tener gets his summons.

Dottie Gerard honored Kay Smyth on her birthday (30 and holding) with a cocktail party and buffet dinner at her home in Stuart. Guests included friends and neighbors of Venture Out and Stuart. Everything was delicious from the caviar to the beautifully decorated birthday cake and bag of interesting gifts brought by the guests for Kay. Needless to say, it was another of Dottie's grand parties.

A most successful outing was last Wednesday's trip on the "Cross Rip," planned by Derwood Dickinson and John Campbell. It started out to be a small group but snowballed with friends asking friends, until there were 108 in the party. Weather was perfect, refreshments circulated freely, dancing to the music of the Russ Trio of Holiday Out. Gordon Drake-drummer, Bill Henrickson-trumpet, and Russ Dessereich-accordian, made up the trio.

All agreed it was a perfect afternoon and are pressuring John and Derwood to do it again in the near future.

Kites are fun.
As long as you remember
there are strings attached.

Flying a kite is child's play.
But there are a few things you should tell your children when they tell you they're going to fly a kite.
First of all, if they make their own, make sure they use only wood and paper. For that matter, you should never fly a kite with wire or anything metallic. As metals are conductors of electricity.
Secondly, kites are fair weather friends. Caution your children never to fly them in a rain or thunderstorm. Because wet string will also conduct electricity.
And, they should always fly their kites out in the open. Safely away from power lines, and TV and radio antennas.
What's more, be sure your kids remember never to cross streets or highways when flying a kite. And not just because of the traffic. The surest way to get a kite tangled in a power line is to run under one.

But simply reminding your kids what not to do when flying a kite is not enough. Because in spite of all your warnings, there's always the chance they'll still get their kites snagged on a power line, or caught up in a tree.
And what do they do then?
If it's a power line, the answers simple. Leave it alone. And call us for advice. Trying to pull the kite down, or climbing up after it, could result in a serious shock.
On the other hand, should the kite get caught in a tree, make sure there are no power lines around. Trees near power lines can be accidentally charged with electricity. So if the tree is near a power line, again it's best they leave the kite where it is. And call us.
Flying kites is child's play. We just want you to be sure they play it safe.
This safety message has been brought to you by Florida Power & Light as a public service. Because serving the public is really what we're here for.

FPL
Electricity is a powerful servant. Respect it.

Ocean Breeze News Notes

BY LETA KEITH

334-4366 6 Vista Drive

IN APPRECIATION

The family of Betty Spear wishes to thank all her Ocean Breeze friends and neighbors for their cards, flowers, gifts, food, and many acts of kindness to her and to them.

Departees during the past week included William and Georgia Jones, Frank and Linda Zimmerman, Gail and Margaret Cooper, Luther and Kathryn Schmoyer, Peter and Pauline Schaefer, Walter and Viola Small, Loren and Jeannette Small, Tom and Rose Mazur, and Lloyd and Edna Butts.

Ambulance donations received were from Arthur and Mae Langto, from Anna Saunders, in memory of Mae Johnson from friends in the park, in memory of Mae Johnson from Eva Paterson, and from Ruth Hale and family in memory of Betty Spear.

At Camera Club this Thursday, March 20, Tom and Nellie Cook will show slides of Jamaica taken while the Cooks spent a month with their family in Kingston. The Cook's shows are always excellent, so come and enjoy a trip to this Carribean paradise.

Y'all are invited to the Art and Hobby Show in the clubhouse this weekend, March 21 and 22, from 1 to 5 p.m.

A nice thank you came from Eve H Sapper, secretary of the Jensen Area Samaritans, Inc., stating: "Our thanks to the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Rolly Johnson for the nice donation to our ambulance fund in her memory. We appreciate your kindness."

Word has been received of the death of Oscar Ecklund, 79, who passed away Saturday, March 15, in Chicago. The Ecklund's daughters, Eleanor Nelson and Mary Hazelton were with him. His wife, Orlee is flying to Minneapolis where services will be conducted. Friends may contribute to the Ambulance Fund in his memory.

Mary Elizabeth (Betty) Spear of 23 Key Lime Drive passed away last Thursday, March 13. She had been a winter resident of Ocean Breeze Park since 1961, coming from South Portland, Me. Friends may contribute to the American Cancer Society.

There was a display of sunburns and good times in Covell's yard on 10th last week.

Mabel and Frank McLain gave a cocktail party on Saturday evening in honor of the Covells and their children Mary Ruth and Jim McLain and Stella and Gordon Hillman of Lansing, Mich. A delicious lunch and evening of fun was enjoyed by all.

Sallie and Frank Von Ralle invited them all into their lovely place for a cocktail hour.

Ruby Wren provided cheer and enjoyable experiences and gave each family a set of sea bee fish.

On Sunday, they were all invited to Mrs. Covell's sister's home (the Mahons) in Ft. Pierce for a lovely dinner.

The McLains and Hillmans promised to return next year, the neighbors had been so kind to them.

A group of 38 Ocean Breezers and their guide Betty MacNab returned Friday from a four-day cruise to the Bahamas. They were on the friendly liner "Emerald Seas."

Everett and Edith Kirkbride of 17 Vista Drive moved Saturday, March 15, to their new home in Pine Lake Village.

Edie and Arnie Laich are leaving Friday for their home and work in Ocean City, N.J., much to their regret. But, just wait three or four more years, and they can spend more time on Vista Drive.

Fred and Hulda Tyler are expecting a visit from their friend Roy Shive of Round Brook, N.J. this week. He is coming through Jensen Beach on a business trip to Fort Lauderdale.

Lloyd and Henretta Miksesell left Tuesday for their home in Monticello, Ind. Probably they would not have left this early, but their granddaughter, Bonnie Bernfield, is to be married Saturday evening March 22. Bonnie is a lab technicuan in the Home Hospital in Lafayette, Ind.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS
BY DOT BECK

The Camera Club had a very busy and interesting week starting with movies on Sunday, March 9. This show was put on by the Jensen Beach Travel Service. Two interesting travelogues were shown, one on skiing in Switzerland, and one about the Bahamas.

On Thursday, March 13, the club's annual potluck supper was held at the clubhouse. This affair is always looked forward to as one of the highlights of the year. A meat loaf was prepared by George Phillips and baked by various volunteers was the entree, and the long serving table was filled with hot dishes, casseroles, salads and relishes. And the desserts were really something to see!

Greens and hibiscus decorated the four long tables. The committee in charge of the event was headed by Orlee Ecklund, assisted by Jeane Lewsbury, Alma Shotwell, Sophie Thompsen and Evelyn Wallquist. If anyone went away hungry, they had themselves to blame. Seconds and even thirds were available.

Clyde Redinger served as toastmaster and called on the club officers to make short speeches and the officers were speechless. Just wait until next year, Clyde—it's a long road that has no turning.

Jim Nixon presented the club with a check for $22 from the Oak Street Gang to be used for something "needed"—perhaps the new projector that must be purchased someday soon. Freda Peterkin, club secretary-treasurer, gave her reports and President Ernie Curwen thanked all the committees and monthly chairmen for their support.

He then talked about some of the programs for next year. Since the country will be observing the Bicentennial members are asked to be on the outlook for bicentennial projects wherever they travel during the summer, and get pictures of good subjects that can be shown to the club in keeping with the patriotic celebration. So, members, let's bring back some good slides and inform us that you have them so they can be worked up into some good shows. Also, anyone who has slides or movies of trips taken in the past and would like to show them, let the committee know.

Officers elected for next year are Ernie Curwen, president; Freda Peterkin, secretary-treasurer; James Nixon, first vice president; and Dorothy Beck, second vice president.

Entertainment followed the supper and business meeting provided by Ann Buck, Vanita Schneider, Henrietta Miksesell, Don Wells, Bessie Theilig, George Lebon, Lenore Viland and Vera Faulk, under the direction of Tom Cook. Ralph Ortt led a community sing.

Doug Blyth then showed slides of a trip to "Red Rock Country" and it was truly an outstanding show with clear and artistic views of Moab, Cayonland and the Monument Valley and several other parks and spots in the southwestern part of the country. It made a fitting end to a very enjoyable evening.

The club gives a rousing thanks to the people who worked so hard to make the evening another Camera Club "hit".

This week's show is a trip to Jamaica with Tom and Nellie Cook. Showtime: 8 p.m.

Your horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant): Irritation with a close associate over money matters could lead to open conflict. It's to your advantage to curb your temper. Last minute information could save the day in finances.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant): Success in career, joy in romance spark this period. Be alert to subconscious hostility in another which may threaten your marriage or romance. Guard health. Be alert to opportunities at work.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant): Complete old projects, tie up loose ends and get ready for activity in a new direction. Irritation with a new co-worker will pass. Heed advice to save instead of spend your money. Resist emotional displays.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant): Maintain a conservative activity program. Stick with regular routine of sleeping and eating. Use caution in extending friendship and hospitality - another may not be all they seem. Don't succumb to flattery.

LEO (July 23 to August 22 - Also Leo Ascendant): Becoming overly involved in the affairs of children creates more problems than it solves. Be discreet in handling your boss and a friend. It's a good time to change your style in clothing and coiffure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 - Also Virgo Ascendant): A dream relating to your career could come true now through the help of another person. Improved finances are part of the picture. Work industriously to prove your worth. Fulfill your work potential.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant): Accept the advice of an experienced friend regarding your budget. You are feeling somewhat scatter and must consciously try to use your charm and tact. You could win the argument and lose the relationship.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant): Assume a slower, steady pace to continue projects in process. Near the end of the week a creative idea regarding work procedures gets favorable attention from bosses. Strive for harmony in marriage.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant): If others are uncooperative, cool it and wait for a better time. Inspirational ideas flow. Avoid extravagance for luxuries. Career matters are helped through entertaining visiting associates.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant): You could be "taken in" by someone who is not what he or she seems. An association that moves slowly to friendship is worth while. Get lots of rest. Develop hobby talents. Show your maturity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant): You could win much love and appreciation from a friend now. Work quietly behind the scenes - don't be tempted to play hooker. Disagreement with an opinionated person may result in separation. Don't blame yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant): A hobby developed now could become a profession later on. Don't pry into private affairs of young people. Immerse yourself in work. If a romantic tie reaches the breaking point, know it is best for you.

SAND MINING—The right place to dig seems a problem to 22 month old Dallas Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stoltz of Toronto, Canada. The Stoltz are spending the holiday at the Sheraton Inn on Hutchinson Island, a part of the overflow crowd of sun-seekers in Jensen Beach.

'No vacancy' signs throughout

BY DICK CAMPBELL

JENSEN BEACH—Maggie Zeiss said, "I'm tired, but we're booked solid through the weekend." The Sheraton desk clerk's opinion matched most comments of motel operators in Jensen Beach as record occupancy brought out "No vacancy" signs along Indian River Drive and on Hutchinson Island.

Neon "NO" signs shined brightly even in the morning sunlight as they added emphasis to the painted "VACANCY" signs alongside.

Helen Martins, owner-operator with her husband of Melaleuca Cottage Court, said emphatically, "Boy, I'll tell you we are full and have been all the time. We'll have one open later this weekend, but that's all."

Her comment was added to by Enoch Hadar, manager of Rivers Edge Motel, who said the motel is "full up to the end of the month."

Most looked for good business into the next month and Zelma Suleiman, manager-owner of the Driftwood Motel said, "It looks pretty good for us. We're filled up now."

Mardee St. Clair, motel manager for Frances Langford's Outrigger Resort, said she had one room open Tuesday night, and expected that, and the two Saturday night openings to be filled before the day was out.

We've been running over 95 percent occupancy throughout the season and have often been sold out," she said.

Jim Maltby, manager-owner of Bridge View Motel was bullish through July.

"We're jammed tight, and it looks good through July," he said.

Chuck Thour, manager of Fleet's Inn Motel reported that the motel has been "sold for a couple months, and we're starting to get bookings through July."

A harbinger of a good tourist season next year was when Thour said, "We're almost booked solid for January through March of next year."

Helen Richardson, manager of the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce, reported that she had fewer calls for rooms but was "very, very busy answering questions of what to do and where to go and giving out maps and resort guides."

$12,000 in gifts

Center has support

JENSEN BEACH—While the Emotional Studies Center in Jensen Beach has received federal funds, there has been generous donations from individuals and organizations.

We have had more than $12,000 worth of equipment donated over the past year and a half," center director Jay Jarrett said.

"And we have had more than 400 hours of volunteer work donated with 69 different parents helping during this school year," he pointed out.

The center has received boats, shell collections, cameras, fiberglass tanks for its laboratory, etc.

The shell collection, donated by Leslie Ricketts of Vero Beach, is valued at $6,000, according to Jarrett.

Scott Fletcher and Dr. Richard Penick donated boats to the center valued at $3,500, and the Stuart Garden Club donated a camera outfit valued at $800.

Fiberglass tanks were donated by Martin County Historical Society and Florida Institute of Technology for a total value of $250. And FIT photograph department donated color slides valued at $200.

While the Title III grant ends June 30 and the school system must pick up a big percentage of the center's operating cost, Jarrett is not sitting back and waiting for a school board's action he is rallying support for the center.

Jarrett is seeking support from environmental groups and they already have donated $500. The money has come from the Sailfish Club, Izaak Walton League, St. Lucie and Indian River Restoration League, John McQuigg, Virginia Forrest and George Ewing.

We will need about $130,000 to operate next year," Jarrett said.

He hopes to get some operating expenses from the state, but he won't know about funding of the center until an inspection team comes and reviews the center's program in May.

Jarrett pointed out that all the equipment and supplies donated becomes the property of the school system if the center is not in operation next year. However, Jarrett is optimistic about the chances of the center being open for another year.

Discount becomes penalty April 10

JENSEN BEACH—Property tax money is coming in to Martin County's tax collector's office so fast that a total figure wasn't known on Monday.

"We are extremely busy," Tax Collector Alvin Andrews said. "We are doing five months collection in one month."

While Andrews and his staff are busy at the counter and opening mail, he pointed out that some tax money has been dispersed to county offices.

"We dispersed $1.1 million last Friday on a percentage basis," Andrews said. "Everybody that gets funds, got some money."

We got about $400,000," County Administrator Jack Noble said. "It just about put us on our feet."

Because of the reappraisal program, the tax roll was delayed for several months.

Andrews reminded taxpayers that the 4 per cent discount will be in effect through April 9.

After April 9, a 3 per cent penalty will be added, according to Andrews.

Churches plan Easter services

JENSEN BEACH—Area churches are finalizing Easter plans with sunrise services, special music and special messages in abundance.

Trinity United Methodist Church is sponsoring a 6:45 a.m. service at Jensen Beach on Hutchinson Island. Rev. Clark Thompson will preach the sermon. Rev. Jack Downey of First Methodist Church in Stuart, will read the scripture and lead the congregation in prayer. Featured soloist Melville Laste will sing special Easter music. The public is cordially invited. Worshippers are asked to bring chairs.

A Fellowship Coffee Hour is planned between the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services at Trinity at 10:30 a.m. Melville Laste will sing at both services, and Rev. Thompson's special Easter message is entitled "Beyond the Illusion."

First Baptist Church with Reverend Norman Hazlett will present a sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. at Windmill Village. Reverend Hazlett's sermon topic for the 11 a.m. worship service will be "Power through the Cross" with special music by the choir and guest soloist Mariann Spoelstra.

The 7 p.m. evening worship will feature guest preacher Rev. Joe Brooks and special seasonal music.

Jensen Beach Community Church is offering three identical services inside the sanctuary at 7:30, 9 and 11 a.m. Senior pastor the Reverend Donald E. Johnson will talk about "Winners" and the Reverends Norman Kehrli and Bill Kincaid will serve as liturgists. The combined choirs will sing at all three services.

First Presbyterian Church in North River Shores plans a 7 a.m. service in the church patio and 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services. The Reverend Dr. Carl B. Feldbaus, First Church's new pastor, will conduct the services.

Jensen Beach Christian Church will have their regular 10:30 a.m. worship service. Reverend Milton Fronsoe's sermon topic is "Christ, the Conqueror of Death." The sanctuary choir will provide special music including "Christ Arose."

Reverend Fronsoe will also be conducting the Sunrise Service in the Ocean Breeze Park Clubhouse at 7:30 a.m.

All Saints Episcopal Church's Day of Resurrection plans include Blessing of the Easter Candle and Holy Eucharist at 6:30 a.m., Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a.m., Sung Eucharist at 11 a.m. The 9:15 solemn Eucharist ministers will be: The Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, presiding; Fr. Frank R. Alvarez, the Celebrant; Mrs. Daniel Legare, the Deacon; Paul Hall, the Sub-Deacon; and Mrs. Harold R. Whalen, Jr., will sing "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth."

The congregations and staff members of all the churches extend a cordial invitation to everyone in the area to attend Easter services.

Good Friday services at Community Church

JENSEN BEACH—The Martin County Ministerial Association announces plans to sponsor Good Friday services in Jensen Beach and Palm City.

In Jensen Beach, the service will be 12 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Community Church on Skyline Drive.

This service will center around a musical performance of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by the Community Chorus. Preceding each word by the Chorus will be a scripture reading, commentary and congregational prayer led by an area minister.

Participating in the service will be Father Michael Sullivan and Father Owen Morris of St. Martin's Catholic Church; Rev. Milton Fronsoe of the Jensen Beach Christian Church; and Rev. Donald Johnson, Rev. Norman Kehrli and Rev. B. F. Kincaid of the Jensen Beach Community Church and Rev. Clark Thompson of Trinity United Methodist Church.

In Palm City the service will run from 1 to 3 p.m. in twenty minute segments. This will be held at the First Congregational United Church of Christ on S.W. 34th St. (formerly E. 9th St.).

This will be a series of meditations preceded by hymns, prayers, and liturgy.

Five area ministers will deliver meditations. Rev. R.A. Potts, pastor to First Congregational Church, will preside. Bringing meditations in the service will be Rev. Paul Bauer of the First United Methodist Church of Hobe Sound; Rev. David Berube of St. Mary's Episcopal Church; Rev. Jack Downey of the First United Methodist Church of Stuart; Rev. Leroy Pepper of the Stuart Church of the Nazarene; and Rev. Edwin Smith of St. Monicas Episcopal Church. Worshippers may attend any segment of this service.

At both services an offering will be received to support the work and ministries of the Martin County Ministerial Association. Offering plates will be available in the rear of the sanctuary in which worshippers may place the offering upon entering or leaving.

Celebration group picks chairmen

JENSEN BEACH—Committee chairmen were appointed at the first meeting of the Executive Board of the Bicentennial Celebration held March 21 at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce building.

Bill Yunlis will be chairman of the July 4 celebration with Jon Chesky as co-chairman.

Other committee leaders include D.D. Kirkpatrick, chairman with Frank Swift as co-chairman of the Finance Committee, and Harvey Schlemmer will be chairman of the Publicity Committee with Mrs. Eileen Dwyer as co-chairman.

The Executive Board, which is headed by Barbara Torow, wants to get a firm commitment from all area organizations that they will participate in the bicentennial activities before a letter on stationery is printed.

BARBARA TOROW

Fund in final days

JENSEN BEACH—Directors of the United Fund (UF) of Martin County are making their final contacts and are preparing to bring the 1974-75 campaign to a close, UF president Guy Cromwell said Monday.

We will hold our wrap-up meeting at 8 a.m. April 8 at the Martin Memorial Hospital," Cromwell said.

"I expect to make a preliminary report next week," he said. "We are about at the $64,000 mark."

The campaign goal to aid 12 participating agencies is $95,000.

Cromwell said the annual meeting to elect officers and directors will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 13 at First Federal Savings and Loan Association building in Jensen Beach.

No more warning

Display flag or pay fine

BY ALICE HICKEY

JENSEN BEACH—Although diving is a popular sport enjoyed by many in our locale, divers are by no means exempt from observing our state laws, Officer L.D. Byrd of the Florida Marine Patrol said last week.

For several months now, the officer said warnings have been issued to divers who are not displaying the "Divers Down Flag" in the immediate diving area.

This is a direct violation of the law passed by the state legislature in June 1974.

Just the other day a boater reported being only a short distance away when a diver surfaced just a few feet in front of the boat. Cruising at a slow speed the driver was able to swerve in time to narrowly miss the young diver, Byrd said, adding the patrol receives many similar complaints.

Far too many injuries and deaths result each year from this type of accident which could be avoided entirely by simply observing the law, he said.

There will be no more warnings issued by the Marine Patrol, Byrd told The Mirror. "From now on divers caught violating the laws will be arrested."

Byrd admitted that prior to June, 1974, there was some confusion as to what laws applied where throughout the state since such regulations were set by the individual counties.

Now according to Byrd, the confusion as well as the warnings, is a thing of the past.

The state regulations pertaining to divers are as follows:

a) Diver means any person wholly or partially submerged in the waters equipped with a face mask, snorkel or underwater breathing apparatus.

b) Underwater breathing apparatus shall mean any apparatus, whether self-contained or connected to a distant source of air, whereby a person wholly or partially submerged in water is able to obtain or re-use air for breathing without returning to the surface.

c) All divers must prominently display a "Divers Down Flag" in the immediate area of diving. The only exception is if the diver is in an area customarily used for swimming only, in which case the flag is not needed.

d) The divers down flag can be either square or rectangular, not smaller than twelve by twelve inches. The divers down flag shall have a white diagonal stripe on a red background. The stripe shall begin at the top staff-side of the flag and extend diagonally to the opposite lower corner.

The flag shall be free-flying and should be lowered when all divers are aboard or ashore.

The flags, which can be purchased at any sporting goods store for a nominal fee, must be three feet above the water, or they can be displayed from the boat.

Boaters were also reminded that boat registrations should be kept aboard at all times.

DIVERS DOWN FLAG—Marine Patrol Officers D.B. Newbold and L.D. Byrd display the Divers Down Flag and strongly suggest all divers do likewise. Divers using mask, snorkel, or underwater breathing apparatus are required by state law to display the flag at least three feet above the water until all divers are on board or ashore. The flag, which has a white diagonal stripe on a red background, must be at least twelve by twelve inches and may be purchased at any sporting goods store. Officers warn the law will be strictly enforced.

Hollis benefit is set for 'Sound of Music'

STUART–Thomas M. "Zeke" Hollis, will be the main benefactor of the opening night performance at Stuart's Lyric Theatre, it was announced by the Chairman of the event, Mrs. Laine Fairweather. Hollis, a county zoning inspector, has kidney disease, and weekly dialysis treatments amount to as much as $150.

In keeping with the Easter season, "The Sound of Music", a musical play by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, with book by Howard Lindsay & Russel Crouse, will premiere April 4, with a cast of 26 semi-professional, professional and amateur players. Performances of the musical are also scheduled for April 5 and 6, and the following weekend, April 11, 12, and 13.

Tickets may be purchased at the Lyric Theatre box office during the hours of 1 to 5 p.m. daily, Tuesday through Saturday, or during the run of the musical, at the box office from 7 to 9 p.m.

A new feature has also been added by the Lyric Theatre this season. Dinner-Theatre tickets, which include a full dinner and complimentary wine, are available. Those patrons holding dinner-theatre tickets will also be served Champagne Punch during the intermission.

Five special ticket chairman for the premiere event will also assist in ticket distribution and sales. They may be called at their residences for information about tickets, and will be happy to assist in answering any questions about the Benefit. Ticket chairman for April 4th are: Mrs. Ann Petry, Anglers Cove, 283-5272. Mrs. Ben Hubenet, Riverland Mobile Park, 283-6894. Mrs. Alvin Andrews, Jensen Rio area, 334-0798. Mrs. Bert Cole, Stuart, 283-6419, and Mrs. Thomas J. Higgins, Stuart, 287-8335.

League drive over $24,000

STUART–Armin "Pappy" Elsaesser, newly appointed shelter manager of the Animal Rescue League and co-chairman with Mrs. Leon Baker of the fund-raising drive announced that the League has reached $24,048 towards its goal of $26,000.

According to Elsaesser and Lee W. Rasch, president of the League, an exhaust system has been installed in all cage runs. Air conditioning has been installed in the kitchen and reception room.

With the help of volunteer Paul Ney, Jr., Elsaesser has painted the front of the building, the kitchen, reception room, cat rooms, ceilings and several hallways. This work is still going on and volunteers would be welcome.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Hall, The Animal Rescue League booth at the Martin County Fair raised approximately $450. Expenses for the booth were underwritten by Mrs. Baker.

A contribution in the amount of $208 from Mildred and Mary Graney was gratefully acknowledged. This money will go toward the purchase of two more large cages in the ongoing "Name A Cage" program.

Rasch also announced that at a Board meeting held recently, it was unanimously agreed that all original charter members should be made Life Members and ex-officio members of the board henceforth.

These members are Mrs. Florence Ricou, Mrs. Beverly Smith, Mrs. John Gunselus, Miss Myrtle Dyer, Mrs. Harris Lowery, Mrs. Ezelle Lyons, Mrs. R.I. Taylor, Mrs. E.J. Smith, and Mrs. James Brock.

New committees have been formed to help with the operation of the Shelter and will be announced at a future date.

Rasch, Elsaesser, and Mrs. Baker extend their thanks to everyone who has worked on the fund raising campaign and extend an invitation to one and all to visit the Shelter to see what has been accomplished so far.

Visitors are catching 'em

JENSEN BEACH–The Snook Nook report for the last week shows visitors in the area have been catching some fish.

Tom Tom Jr. and Liza Tuttle, out with Russ Bolton, had 4 snook, 2 sheephead, one trout, one snapper and a ribbon fish. George Soures, also fishing with Bolton, had 4 trout, 4 snappers, 3 jacks and a ribbon. Phil Waldhilled and his son Phil, Jr., along with Russ Bolton, had 3 ladies, 2 snapper, 3 jacks, one snook and a ribbon.

E. Burnett had a pompano. Jeff Harris, a trout. John Wilson, one mackerel; one jack and a ladyfish. Rob Wilson, one trout.

Carl Justice landed 6 dolphin. Tommy Lake, a snook. Ken Frye, a snook. Hank Ohralik, one trout. Bill Porter, 2 redfish, one an 8-pounder one weighing 3½ pounds.

Bob Emens had 5 trout. Sandy Adair, one trout; Russ Carty, a snook. Ted Bloom, 19 blues; Adam and Sophie Lojewski, 10 whiting, flounder and blues.

Ed Wagner had 14 trout, with Pat Paterson, 8 trout, and with Ed Tenesen, 9 trout.

Gus Riegal, with guide Charlie Kessler, had 4 trout, 2 jacks and 2 sheephead on live shrimp. Steve Steele had 5 trout and 2 snook. Irv Fisher, 47 trout. Ed and Jack Klett, 6 kings fishing outside and Duck White had another Duke's mixture including 20 trout, 3 pompano, one mackerel, 2 snook and 3 fluke.

Mike Walton, 11 years old, landed a 7¼ pound drum, fishing off the Jensen Bridge.

Art Show deadline is Friday

STUART–All Martin County artists who intend to participate in the Art Associates Historical Martin County in Art show must deliver their paintings to the Stuart National Bank on Friday, March 28, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The local contest is limited to Martin County historical sites and scenes, and categories include watercolor, acrylic, graphic photography, sculpture.

Work of unclassified Art Associates members and non-members will be juried for hanging.

The show will be on exhibit for the public at the bank from April 4 to May 9.

Lydia Circle meets

JENSEN BEACH–Containers members have been putting their pennies and loose change in for a special Easter offering which was turned in at last week's meeting of the Lydia Circle of the Jensen Beach Christian Church. Although not counted at that time, a circle member said it appeared to be a worthy amount.

The Circle is purchasing a Communion Kit.

President Zelpha Sallards was in charge of the meeting with the devotional given by Mary Lou Abbes. Her subject was Dorcas.

Thelma Bennett gave a good report on the Christian Children's Home in Atlanta. The aim of the Atlanta home is to build a nursing home for older folks.

Mrs. Gertrude Robertson was welcomed as a visitor.

The meeting closed with a social hour and refreshments served by Genevieve Beasley and Dorothy Greben.

Wednesday, April 16, at 2 p.m. is the date for the next meeting.

Jensen fisherman has top catch

JENSEN BEACH–A Jensen Beach resident has caught a 9 pound, 12 oz. black bass in the Fort Pierce Fishing Tournament, according to Fort Pierce-St. Lucie County Chamber of Commerce.

Gene Pollard's catch is just under the tournament record of 12 pounds and 4 oz.

'Trophy Show'

JENSEN BEACH–The final show of the season for the Indian River Community College sponsored art class will be presented at the Elliott Museum this Sunday, March 30 from noon to 5 p.m.

The season's last exhibit is known as the "Trophy Show" because at that time the Rebeiser Trophy is presented to the most promising student, according to instructor Madelene Rebeiser.

Mrs. Rebeiser suggests the exhibit would be a good place to go all dressed up in Easter finery.

Tug-of-war

WASHINGTON—Ever wonder what it feels like to be the rope in a tug of war?

Well there are individuals and businesses in this country who know. They've been caught between two federal agencies, each with its regulations as powerful as law, and each heading in a different direction.

Take the case of one meat-cutting plant, which ran into a major problem trying to reconcile conflicting dictates from the Occupational Health and Safety Administration and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

It seems that an OSHA inspector came through and decided this firm's loading dock wasn't safe because it didn't have a safety railing to prevent employees from inadvertantly falling off the edge.

So the company put in the railing and all was well for a few months until a USDA inspector came by and decided the railing had to go. Said the inspector, if a carcass slapped up against the railing, it could get contaminated. So the railing must go, says USDA.

What do you do if you're caught in this kind of a bind? If you don't comply with the OSHA order, you get fined and fined heavily for every day you operate without a railing. But if USDA says you can't have a railing, you can get rid of the railing or be put out of business.

Such dilemmas aren't unusual. Supermarkets have also been caught between OSHA and USDA. OSHA says grated floors are mandatory in butcher departments because of the danger of slipping on blood. But USDA says no grates because they make the floors harder to clean and therefore increase the risk of contamination.

The end result is confusion, chaos and higher costs to the consumer.

And, in these days of skyrocketing costs and massive unemployment, we really don't need to burden the consumer with conflicting regulations.

That's why I feel it is high time for the Congress to take a good hard look at federal agencies and the cost to the consumer of the regulations they impose.

The first Congress took a halting step toward correcting this situation last year by calling for so-called "economic impact statements" on each new piece of legislation. But it doesn't apply to previously adopted legislation, and the regulations they inspire.

And it is the previous legislation that needs to be subjected to a "cost vs benefit" study - to determine whether the government-mandated changes are worth the extra costs being passed onto the consumer.

But we can't stop there. We need to take a good close look at the independent regulatory agencies and their effect on our declining economy.

Every day, we hear reports the Interstate Commerce Commission's regulations are effectively hampering railroad and truck traffic; that Civil Aeronautics Board and Federal Aviation Administration rules are responsible for the high cost of air travel; that the Federal Trade Commission is restraining competition and keeping prices high, and that the myriad of other similar agencies actually are doing more harm than good.

For that reason, I have co-sponsored legislation to create a National Commission on Regulatory Reform which will spend at least a full year studying each and every regulatory agency to determine whether it has unnecessarily reduced productivity or competition.

As proposed, the commission would be made up of 14 members - six from the general public and representing each major segment of the economy, four from the executive branch and two each from the House and Senate.

By limiting the number of employees and the length of time those on loan can work for the commission, we would keep this new commission from becoming a new bureaucracy and prevent creation of a master regulatory agency which could become as counter-productive as some of the current regulatory agencies appear to be.

I am hopeful that this can be quickly made law. The longer we go without a close look at our regulatory agencies, the more risk we run of federal bureaucrats making things worse instead of better.

F.I.T. offers advanced classes

MELBOURNE—A program leading to a Master of Science degree in Contract and Procurement Management has been developed by the Florida Institute of Technology Cape Kennedy Chapter of the National Contract Management Association and the NCMA National Education Committee. This program is to provide the educational foundation for the professional practice of contract and procurement management.

The program was considered a success when it started in 1966 as a certificate program consisting of eight specialized contract management courses and an enrollment of approximately 80 students.

In 1969, FIT offered the program as a graduate program leading to the Master of Science degree. To complement the specialized and expanded courses in contract and procurement management, courses offered from FIT graduate programs in Systems Management and Business Administration are included.

The Master of Science in Contract and Procurement Management is conferred upon students who have satisfactorily completed a minimum of 36 quarter hours.

AARP meeting report

JENSEN BEACH—First concern of the Board of Directors of Martin County Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, when directors meet this week, will be to find a suitable location for the next chapter meeting on April 17.

"Our greatest problem seems to be success," commented Charles MacIntyre, chapter president, as he viewed the more than 200 persons who tried to squeeze into the March 20 meeting.

Expecting to occupy the entire Community Room of First National Bank in Stuart, the group found itself crowded into half the space. Chapter officers estimated that only about 70 could be seated; another 70 stood for the meeting, and another 70 were turned away.

MacIntyre announced that those who were unable to make application for membership at that meeting may still become charter members of the chapter if they will immediately mail their name, address, national AARP membership number and a dollar per person to him at 1924 S.W. College St., Stuart. The charter list will be closed this month.

Mrs. Janet Hutchinson, director of Martin County Historical Society, who addressed the group, complimented them for proving that "it is the older generation which is the interested generation." She prophesied that, once organized, the chapter can be a positive force in the community.

After briefly reviewing the history of Martin County, Mrs. Hutchinson reminded her audience that they could "read all about it" in the book soon to be published by the Historical Society.

Publication date of the 400-page volume with 200 illustrations is set for October 18, 1975. That will coincide with the 100th anniversary of the founding of the House of Refuge on Hutchinson Island. The book will be sold, at cost, only at the House of Refuge, now a museum, and Elliott Museum.

President MacIntyre emphasized that the local AARP chapter will "cooperate, and not compete" with the Martin County Council on Aging.

Another important announcement concerned the Defensive Driving Courses sponsored by AARP and given locally by the Martin County Adult Education Department. Whenever a group of 15 or more persons desire to take the course, classes will be scheduled at a time and place convenient to the group. The course consists of four weekly sessions of two hours each.

Letter writing program planned

MIAMI—Kickoff of the Bicentennial Junior Committees of Correspondence, a nationwide program for elementary school children, has been announced by the United States Postal Service.

E.R. Dawa, District Manager-Postmaster of Miami, said the program is being co-sponsored by the Postal Service, the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration and the National Association of Elementary School Principals. It is designed to encourage students to participate in the country's Bicentennial activities and to share their experiences through correspondence.

Inspired by the Colonial Committees of Correspondence which were formed from 1764 to 1776 by the Sons of Liberty and such patriots as Samuel Adams, the Junior Committees will emulate the primary method of communication: letter writing, used by the Colonists to fan the scattered sparks of independence.

Invitations to join the program have been sent to elementary school principals across the country. It is estimated that at least 3.5 million students will participate. Those participating in the program will receive a teacher's kit for each classroom. Each kit contains an instructional booklet, a poster with guidelines for letter writing, Junior Committee membership cards, and a list of Junior Committee groups with which to correspond. Dade County public schools are making plans to participate through the efforts of Ray Hays of the Bicentennial Activities Office of Dade County Schools.

V.F.W. news

BY CHUCK BENDER

Friday night we had a good turnout for shish kabob. I would like to thank Norma Tracy for turning out such a good meal. Those of you who missed it sure lost out.

Saturday we spent the day at the spring conference in Ocala. I was informed that Post 10066 is doing a good job so far, and that people from all over the state are sitting up and taking notice. But let's not slow down, we still have a way to go. Let's keep up the good work.

At our last meeting we welcomed five new members bringing our total up to 330. At the first meeting in May, our membership will cut off as far as delegate strength is concerned. If we can get it up to 350 we will have good voting strength in the district and state conventions. Let's go get 'em.

This Saturday, March 29, is our clambake. This is an all day affair. There are only a few tickets left, so if you haven't made your reservation as yet, you had better do it right now.

Starting Friday, April 4, and every Friday during the month of April, we will have a happy hour from 5 to 7 p.m. This would be a great time to come and have a good time with your friends and comrades. If the happy hours are successful, we will continue them.

Election time is right around the corner. Thursday, April 3 is nomination of officers, and the election will be held on Thursday, April 17. Remember, this is your post and it is your job to put in the comrades you think will do a good job. Now is the time to put it all together for next year.

First, last, and always, bring in a new member.

Art competition is planned for schools

STUART—In an effort to recognize children's art and to promote public awareness of artistic ability, the Art Department of the Junior Woman's Club of Stuart is sponsoring a Bicentennial Art Contest within the individual schools in Martin County.

Each month a different school is selected by Arts Chairman, Mrs. Susan West and work is collected and displayed for public viewing.

Palm City elementary was the first school to participate. The art work was displayed in store windows throughout the Palm City area during the month of February. The winners were 1st-Garry Stone, 2nd-Donnie Thayer, 3rd-Susan Howard, 1st runnerup-Laura Congdon. They each received a plaque and a certificate. Five students also received a certificate for honorable mention: David Axton, Robert Cauley, Eakie Evans, Chris Kelly and Sharon Youmans.

In March all the children in the Special Education Classes in Martin County participated. Their work was displayed at the Courthouse. The response from the children was so overwhelming that winners were selected in three divisions. Division A winners were 1st-Toni Berru, 2nd-James Christie, 3rd-Jeff Ripper and honorable mentions to Lauanne Green, Daryl Aderbold, Mary Gladwin, Kent Olson, Sharon Evans, Laura Marzulf, and Andrea Dixon. Division B winners were 1st-T.C. Jones, 2nd-Gary Jamison, 3rd-Rose Ann Solomon and honorable mentions to Bill Quinn, Terry Gilbert, Paul Ludwig, David Carter, Tony Gartley, Keith Thompson, and Wilford Battles. Division C winners were 1st-Harlisa White, 2nd-Ruth Boggs, 3rd-Larry Williams and honorable mentions to Marvin Carter, Glen Brooks, Marlean Ross, Carl Robinson, Matthew Kohler, Marris Balom, Robert Irons and Joe Fowler.

A special award was presented to the Primary Exceptional Education Class at J.D. Parker Elementary for a flag they made with fabric and yarn.

Mrs. Susan West plans to continue this project and another school will be selected for competition in April.

Underwater slide show is slated

JENSEN BEACH—Down Under", a multi-media presentation of under water color slides and electronic music, will be the next "First Wednesday" presentation 8 p.m. April 2, at the Environmental Studies Center.

A joint production of two members of the FIT photography faculty, the program features two synchronized slide projectors cued automatically by an audio tape with original music composed and performed on a moog synthesizer and electronic piano.

The photographs were taken of the Grand Cayman reefs by John C. Hutchins, Asst. Professor of Photographic Technology at the Jensen Beach campus. They were taken at depths of from 100 to 180 feet below the surface, last summer on an FIT sponsored project there. Water in the area is so clear, Hutchins said that 250-foot visibility is common.

The music was created especially for the films by Arthur Dennis Egan, also an instructor of photography at FIT.

Prior to the show, Hutchins will discuss underwater photography methods and equipment and will have with him the equipment utilized to record the underwater beauty.

JENSEN BEACH BANK

Announces a new 42-months finance plan on new automobiles for qualified buyers.

The bank believes that with the higher cost of new automobiles a car buyer should have additional time to keep the monthly payments down to a realistic amount in relation to present car prices.

This innovation should accelerate the sale of new cars and keep the business in Martin County.

The bank suggests you check with the installment loan department of the bank for complete details.

Boating meet

JENSEN BEACH–The boat owners of the Anchor Line Yacht Club held their monthly meeting last week at the Rio club.

The first order of the night was a discussion on the result of this year's first boat a-cade. Fifteen boats and a number of cars met at the Indiantown Marina where 80 members and guests enjoyed a picnic. The boat trip to the Marina was under the direction of Fleet Captain Art Penick.

The second part of the meeting was devoted to deciding on the coming events for the next six months of boating. Rear Commodore Lou Wish read a report on places available from which the following were selected:

Opening of the Fleet, April 5; May 31 and June 1, Vero Beach Yacht Club. June 22, Simonsen's in Fort Pierce. July 4-5 Islamorada; August 30, 31 and Sept. 1, River Ranch. October, the annual Vero Beach Pilgrimage.

Procedures and schedules for all events will be posted at the club. All reservations are needed well in advance to hold the accommodations already made.

IRCC wins in California

FORT PIERCE–In the first swimming meet ever held between California and Florida Community Colleges, Indian River Community College placed first in 11 out of 14 events.

The event took place recently in Chula Vista, California, with IRCC and Saddle Back Community College competing.

IRCC winners were:

200 yard relay-Dunn, Swanko, Betz and O'Brien. 200 yard free style-Thom as Wheeler, Cassera and O'Brien. 50 yard back stroke-Dunn placed first. 50 yard breast stroke-Ruppert. 50 yard free style-Cassera. 50 yard butterfly, Thomas. 100 yard free style-Cassera. 100 yard backstroke-Dunn. 100 yard breast stroke-Ruppert. Diving-Wagner first, Davis, second. Final score: IRCC 87 to 34 for Saddle Back.

MORNING CATCH–Clarence Roberts of Jensen Beach caught this 13 lb. snook by using a Rebel Fin on the surf last Monday morning. Roberts is an avid fisherman who shares his catches with his many neighbors on Patrician Boulevard.

JENSEN BEACH--A strawberry cheesecake for dessert was complimented by the cheesecake of fashion models at the first major fashion show luncheon and card party held by the residents of Pinelake Village last Tuesday.

The fashion show began as residents were served a luncheon of chicken salad, jello mold, deviled eggs, carrot sticks and a strawberry cheesecake prepared by the sponsors of the party, the social activities group.

The fashions of Stuart Department Store and Loretta's were shown by models, and Spring fashions were the vogue.

Jackie Hartman was commentator for Grace Bertelsen, Ruth Anne Bricker, Rose DeVries, Norma Quillen and LaVaughn Tilton, representing Loretta's, and Rachel LaClysse, Susan Mays, Yi O'Neil, Joyce Tilton and Sharron Tilton for Stuart Department Store.

Door prizes for the event were donated by Stuart Department Store, Loretta's, Pinelake Village and Jeanne Pederson for Sarah Coventry.

Committee members included Mrs. Robert Ramsey, Mrs. Harry Crossett, Mrs. Ray Bates, Mrs. Eugene Gray, Mrs. Chester Quillen, Mrs. George Yoel, Mrs. Mary Urbin and Mrs. Carmon Wilson.

The afternoon long party ended with card games and table prizes of begonias were awarded the winners.

FULL HOUSE--The spacious clubhouse of Pinelake Village was the center of fashion attraction last week as the social activities club played host to a full house, featuring fashions of Stuart Department Store and Loretta's.

JOYCE TILTON models a tangerine jacket dress from Stuart Department Store

JACKIE HARTMAN was the commentator for the Pinelake Village fashion show. Mrs. Hartman represents Sound Image Advertising.

NORMA QUILLEN models a lime green dotted Swiss dress from Loretta's.

RUTH ANNE BRICKER models a three-piece pant suit from Loretta's.

Your Horoscope

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 - Also Aries Ascendant) - Choices you make now will affect your future for a long time to come. Be alert to confusing influences. Stick to logic and facts. Brighten home surroundings and show love for mate and family.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 - Also Taurus Ascendant) - Use caution in starting a new romance at this time. Take necessary precautions to safeguard valuables. Activity in teaching and counseling areas is favored. Good time to add to your wardrobe.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 - Also Gemini Ascendant) - Don't blow up ordinary situations into a "federal case." Travel related to career is favored. Keep marital problems to yourself - you can work it out alone. Past efforts could culminate in a wish fulfilled.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 - Also Cancer Ascendant) - Be true to your own value system and don't be influenced by others. Nervous tension could require a medical check-up. Personal life upsets may reflect back on career efforts. Seek inner calm and rest.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 - Also Leo Ascendant) - Financial matters require manipulation. Use some of it in entertaining, knowing money problems will work out all right. Apply yourself to work; don't daydream. A financial deal works out in your favor.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 21 - Also Virgo Ascendant) - Trust your intuition regarding work even though your hunch is not what you would like. Direct your efforts to activity behind the scenes. Be circumspect and reserved. Medical Gifts could come from others.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 - Also Libra Ascendant) - Don't let down on quality work efforts. Finish projects and stick to routine. Be understanding with a mate who may be below par in healthwise. Use your imagination and creativity to high use.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 - Also Scorpio Ascendant) - Get started on some major endeavor now while it appears to be a great opportunity. Good time to apply for a loan of money. Writing and communication matters are favored. Avoid temper outbursts.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 - Also Sagittarius Ascendant) - You are full of energy and must channel it wisely. There is an opportunity for financial increase through a friend. Be selective in whom you confide. Know opposing discussions about mental matters.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 - Also Capricorn Ascendant) - Romance could turn to true love at this time. Resist feelings of laziness and attend to routine matters. Trips may be disappointing due to your hypercritical attitude. Adopt a "live and let live" attitude.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 - Also Aquarius Ascendant) - Respond to ill health symptom promptly. Don't get overtired or drive yourself too hard. Long distance communication is favored. Avoid gossip. Keep your own counsel to best guard your reputation.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 - Also Pisces Ascendant) - Get out of doors, exercise. Use discretion in food and drink. Proceed slowly in romance. Single Pisceans could receive a proposal of marriage now. Consider carefully, delay decisions if possible.

Clyde and I are enjoying a visit from our eldest son, Clyde Jr., his wife Phyllis and their four sons, Roger, Mark, Scott and Greg. Their home is in Hillsdale, Michigan and Clyde Jr. is Postmaster at Frontier, Michigan. They had very bad driving with thick ice arms and cold all the way to the Florida line. Scott celebrated his eleventh birthday on St. Patricks day and would like to thank our kind neighbors for their cards and gifts. Olive Clappison topped his day when she gave him a plate full of individual birthday cakes each topped with a green flower and a candle.

News of Nettles Island

BY MAY TIFFT

We have a new resident assistant manager and recreation director. He is Mr. Johnson of Oak Ridge, Tenn. Many of you will remember him from last year. He is on lot 78. He has had training in business management and recreation and should be a big asset to our resort. Welcome to Nettles Island, Mr. Johnson. We will all try to be of a help to you.

The following is not a fish story. All of you almost, must know Henry Ohralik alias Hank the resort fisherman. Bob and I always call him "Huckleberry Finn" because he wears such a big straw hat. He has been referred to before and if you listen to the Fishing Report at 7:40 a.m. on radion station WMCF 8:30 you often hear him mentioned.

Last week he furnished further astounding evidence of his expertise. Seems he dropped by the Avise's lot on the river to visit one evening. While enjoying the view from the sea wall and observing the mullet jumping around in the river Henry said suddenly, "I think something is chasing them." Walking over to his car he got out his fishing pole with his favorite plug, "H M. No." On his cast he hooked and landed a 3-inch spotted trout.

He then, sorta nonchalantly, threw his fishing business.

Skip and Edie Massey have a new 1975 International trailer on their Indian River lot 264 that they have named "TePee". They introduced me to Mack and Carl Peterson of Hyannis, Mass. who will be here until they leave visiting.

Edith Johnson has the most beautiful garden, though I have ever seen. When we stopped in the other afternoon during a rainstorm on business, she was kind enough to give me some of the beautiful flowers where we left she was so delighted to share them as she always have them.

On March 15th we had a painting and ceramic gift show in the rec hall. Which was most interesting and there were very good and appreciative crowds. The judges were from Indian River College and I am sure had a difficult time. The art teacher is Kasey Davis.

A lovely silver was given to Irma Underwood for first. Her painting of Sunset on the Sound. I am sure everyone would like to own. The second award was given to Millie Rogers for a watercolor that was just delightful and called "Mist Repose". The third award went to Jean Seewald for the "Glade" done in oil. Honorable mentions were for an oil by Eunice Spencer, "The Gulls", to Helen Yando, an oil and pallette knife called "Sea Rocks", and to Dwight Block for an oil entitled "Snug Harbor". The teacher of Arts and Crafts is Betsy Jordan. The blue ribbon went to Helen Haugen for a quilt called "Cat-Nap-Hap" which was quilted to look almost like a down puff. The red ribbon went to Mae Meyn who made a crocheted afghan and the third went to Greta Asbury for her shell figurines. Honorable mentions went to Mildred Johnson for her Crystal Rose Medallion necklace and to Louise Huggins for her cro-knit baby cap and scarf.

Saturday, March 22nd saw the bird watchers off on another pleasure trip. They went on a motor caravan to one of Florida's largest beef cattle ranches. The birding expedition was led by Ida Cantwell. There was birding and also a tour of the ranch guided by the owner. It is located in the vicinity of Yeehaw Junction. One can really see a lot of Florida on these free tours sponsored by the Indian River College and anyone interested should certainly avail themselves of these opportunities to enjoy natural things here.

Wednesday night pot-luck supper attendance sure hit the "pot-luck" in more ways than one this last week. The entertainment was something one could not pay for. Not named in sequence but a whole lot of fun were some friends of the Bender's, originally from Switzerland, who sang three numbers for us and did some beautiful yodeling. They were Elizabeth Gotta and Gretta Witzek. Then the Nettles Island Players presented a three act skit written by their president Irene Germain. The cast was given last week so I won't elaborate there except to say that Ruth Martin did not forget a line and was very professional. Jack Somers was perfectly cast and got a lot of laughs as did the others. Harold Leonard, Sam Neely and Marge Carlson. Also two young ladies played piano and sang for us. They were very refreshing and talented.

The Women's Club had their meeting Wednesday, March 19th and it was decided to give their library project more money to build much needed book stacks and shelves. The final meeting until fall will be held April 9th. There will be slides of "A travelogue through the eyes of a dog" prior to the business meeting which will be followed by a tea under the chairmanship of Edie Adams.

If you were to travel South America would it be best to go on your own or with a group tour? And how much luggage would you need?

Berta and Bud Rich now in their third season at Nettles, recently returned from traveling via plane, train, bus and boat in eight S.A. countries. Their preference is for independent travel with no hotel reservations and only first and last stop plane reservations but they don't recommend its inevitable kinds of adventure for everyone. Traveling light they took no suitcases just shoulderbags. They say it was great having the map of S.A. come alive for them in visiting fascinating places such as Bogata, Lima, Machu Picchu, Santiago, Buenos Aires far south to Bariloche, Buenos Aires, Iguassu Falls, Rio the Amazon River at Manaus, etc. People of many nationalities and religions were a delight to them and nearly everyone was gentle and helpful.

Berta and Bud would like to hand the Jensen Beach Travel Service a bouquet for their patience in helping them work out their basic complicated flight itineraries.

The library has Selma and Lemar Hall to thank for the gift of over 200 hardback books that many will enjoy reading. New shelving will be put in just in time to accomodate them. Harry Briggs, Bob Beedell and Elmer Hagen will install the new shelving and Val Leger will no doubt be there to offer his help also. The library will be open through the summer under the supervision of Loretta Trapp. Edith Avise is the chairman of the library committee.

There was good attendance in church Sunday, in spite of the change in time. Remember it is at 11 a.m. now. And do not forget to get up early for the sunrise service to be held at the beach early Easter morning. Bring your own chairs and there will be additional parking room for the service this year.

Thursday afternoon the Garden Club had a meeting and were taught how to do a triangular line table arrangement. They were furnished with carnations, greens and baby breath to make them, and then each arrangement was shown and criticisms made. They looked pretty professional to me, but why not? We had an excellent instructor in the person of Dorothy Rupel who is a professional flower designer.

You all know George Wing, on our board of directors. He and his wife Bette have a little dog Buttons that they think is almost human, and Buttons thinks he is too.

Harold Leonard purchased an identification name tag for him, but someone said that Buttons shouldn't have it because he was not a lot owner. Well, Buttons was sick for awhile but when he was well enough to get out George took him for a walk and later reported that Buttons was now entitled to the tag because he put deposits down on three lots. Of course, George being a law abiding Nettles Islander picked up the deposits so the matter is still debatable.

Venture Out News Notes

BY (THE PINCH HITTERS)

Mabel Cook reports:

Our fund drive for the benefit of the Jensen Area Samaritan Ambulance Service and Volunteer Help Organization ended last Wednesday. Sincere thanks to the following workers who made the drive a success: Hazel Ramsey, Millie Middleton, Jean Reynolds, Edna Williston, Doris Day, Kay Killeen, Mata Grueling, Emma Carpenter, Luv Rawdings, Wilda Wilson, Martha Pierce, Bill Middleton, Lydia Mills, Harry Curth, Evelyn Sterling, Harriet Foster, Ruth Balash and Mabel Cook.

Reported by Betty Davis:

We're glad to have Bob and Virginia Ramsey back with us. They spent 8 weeks here in the fall but when they went home to Hobart, Indiana for Thanksgiving and Christmas, Virginia became ill and had to have surgery. She spent 2 months in a Chicago hospital and when the doctors advised them to head for Florida, they were only too happy to do so. Bob says there is no better place in the country than Venture Out for Virginia to recuperate. Their daughter and son-in-law, Sandra and Bill Ladyard and children, Barbie and Billy, drove the Ramsey's car down and will spend the week here.

Claude and Helen Duncan, fishermen extraordinary, had the fishing experience of the season Friday. Two big jack fish were landed on the way back to the inlet after catching several big dolphin near the Gulf Stream. One of the jacks weighed about 30 lbs. and the other 50. They are returning home to Easley, S.C. this week to return to V.O. next November.

Jessie Shaver Reports:

Barbara and Stan Clark have returned after spending six days at Lido Key on the west coast. They were entertained by several friends in Venice and Sarasota. Barbara's cousins, the Bob Strunces and family from Seminole, spent a day enjoying luncheon and the beach with them.

Jeanette and Bill Torno of Westport, Conn., who were old time neighbors at Candlewood Isle, were recent guests of Barbara and Stan Clark. Next year will find them residents at Leisureville, Boynton Beach, where their new home is being built.

Venture Out Mobile Homes by Jesse Shaver

Grandchildren are in abundance at this time of the year. Ernie and Unabelle Ravinet have his son and daughter-in-law and three pretty granddaughters at their home.

Rodney Jr. and Thomas Brunch, the Shaver's grandsons, came up from Miami and spent the day. They didn't stay long enough to meet the Ravinet girls. Too bad.

Betty and Paul Drinkard are expecting daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren this week.

Betty is improving and is getting back into the swing again. She is certainly some gal. Most of us would have been laid up for at least two or more weeks from an accident like hers.

Boating course is under way

STUART—Like defensive driving skill on the highway to avoid accidents, a boat operator's skill in handling his craft proves that safe boating is no accident.

Flotilla 59 U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will again hold its popular 12 lesson Boating Skills and Seamanship course in the Stuart Middle School, Georgia Avenue, in Room 2 every Tuesday and Thursday, at 8 p.m.

Registration will be held one half hour prior to the start of class. The course is free to men, women and teenagers except for a charge covering textbook and lesson material.

Numerous subjects will be covered and many phases of the course relate to boating in the Stuart area including the St. Lucie Inlet.

Garden Club elects officers

JENSEN BEACH—The 1975-76 officers of the Jensen Beach Garden Club will be installed at a 11:30 a.m. luncheon April 9 at the Hilltop House in Fort Pierce.

Mrs. Harold Lartaud was elected president at the club's March 19 meeting at Jensen Beach Community Church.

Other officers include:

Mrs. T.L. Bower, first vice president; Mrs. August Burmeister, second vice president; Mrs. William Stephenson, third vice president.

Mrs. Clifford Greenland, recording secretary; Mrs. Leo Taylor, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Peterkin, treasurer.

CAMERA CLUB NEWS
BY DOT BECK

This Thursday, March 27, will be the last Camera Club meeting of this season

Starting promptly at 8 p.m., Jim and Ellen Nixon will show slides of the trip they took last summer They left Ocean Breeze with their travel trailer for a two month trek to New Orleans San Antone, Big Bend Park, on to Judge Roy Bean's territory, Carlsbad Caverns, Old Tucson, then to Hollywood, and then headed back home

One of the highlights of the trip is a train ride across the Continental Divide in the Sierra Madre Mountains of northern Mexico Readers Digest of May, 1974, has an excellent article calling this the most dramatic train ride in the Western Hemisphere

This show will be well worth while attending and a good turnout is anticipated

Tom and Nellie Cook put on an excellent show last week Their son Max was teaching school in Jamaica, giving the Cooks the opportunity to visit with him twice, once in the spring and again in the fall They were really able to see the island, at two different times of the year Views of the house where they lived in Kingston, of the college where Max was teaching, of friends he had there, many of whom were natives of the island, picnic trips to points in the mountains and other points of interest were all great, but the real thrill of the evening was a trip by raft down the river from Port Antonio, with a stop for lunch and a rest and then the return

Tom also showed slides of the flowers, nuts and fruits that grow in Jamaica and described them one being a fruit that makes a nice "scrambled egg", looking and tasting just like a real egg It was a most enjoyable evening with a good crowd turning out to see the show, and we thank Nellie and Tom for sharing their Jamaican holiday with us

Three films will be shown Easter Sunday evening, the last Sunday show of the season Titles are "Ireland on the Move", "It's an Ill Wind" and "Dogs in Action"

The committee was not sure of anyone would want to see pictures on Easter night, but a show of hands made it seem that people would come out, so this will be the last Camera Club event of the year

'I Made It Myself' show is a hit

JENSEN BEACH–The highlight of Monday's dessert card party given by the Jensen Beach Women's Association was an "I Made It Myself" fashion show. Members modeled their own spring creations, with commentary by Irene Hunter.

There were 22 tables of cards to play. Edna Beck won the day's special prize, and door prize winners were Elsa Mills and Agnes Bond.

Hostesses for the affair were Florence Combs, chairman, assisted by Mildred Jones, Lee Klug and Jo Bowen.

The JBWA Board of Directors will meet at 11 a.m. April 7 followed by the regular meeting and cards at 1 p.m.

Lorraine Middleton, publicity chair

West Virginia picnic planned

PALM CITY–The fourth annual Stuart Jensen Beach "West Virginia Day" will be held Sunday, April 14, at Palm City Park.

The covered dish picnic will begin at noon, serving through the afternoon. There will be games and a family day for West "By-God" Virginians, according to Roger Chancey, chairman. Over 400 are expected to attend.

For information, call 287-1540.

man for the association, reports that the beautiful basket of assorted wines donated for the Country Fair and Auction by the Outrigger was won by Fred Fisher.

MCWA to study cinquain

JENSEN BEACH–On April 2, members of Martin County Writers Association will learn how to write cinquains. The workshop, to be led by L. June Smith, MCWA's member poet, will be held from 10 a.m. until noon in the Community Room of First National Bank and Trust Company of Stuart.

Mrs. Smith, nationally-known poetry writer and teacher, will explain the technique used in writing a five-line cinquain stanza, a modern form based on the Japanese haiku and invented by Adelaide Crapsey, a minor American poet who died in 1914.

Anyone who lives in Martin County and writes for fun and/or profit is cordially invited to attend the MCWA meeting. Additional information about the writers group may be obtained from President Marion Gauger at 334-0500.

Fisherman's shelf grows at public library

PORT ST. LUCIE–For anyone who wants to know more about fishing, Bob Brunton, president of the Port St. Lucie Anglers' Club, recommends the fisherman's shelf at the Pt. St. Lucie library, maintained by the Anglers' club.

Three new magazines have been added to the shelf. They are "Florida Sportsman," "Salt Water Sportsman," and "Florida Wild Life."

Begun as one of the basic activities of the Anglers' Club, the library has grown to be one of the best collections of books and periodicals on fishing in the state.

It is for the use of anyone, on the same basis as other library material. To indicate the wide scope of choices offered, here are some of the book titles:

"The Fly and The Fish," "Gulf Coast Fishing," "Guide to Florida's Salt Water Fish," "The Philosophical Fisherman," "Salt Water Sportsman," "Florida Fish and Fishing," "Fishing Southern Salt Waters," and McClane's Standard Fishing Encyclopedia. There are 46 titles on the shelf.

HONORED GUEST–Tom Sarandis, a new member of the Ocean Breeze Shuffleboard Club, was an honored guest at the club's annual dinner held recently. Sarandis, 91, has been shuffling for 43 years, during which time he has won three State Championships, many county and local tournaments, and in 1963 was inducted into the Florida Shuffleboard Hall of Fame. Welcoming him is club president, Cyril Stevens.

Will you ever finish moving in?

You might not think so when the living room's still jammed with packing crates. But you will—and I can help. As your WELCOME WAGON Hostess I can save you time and money.

And brighten up your family with my basket of gifts. Take a break and call me.

Summer program at academy

HOWEY-IN-THE-HILLS–Howey Academy will again offer its highly successful academic and recreational summer program to both boarding and day students June 14 - August 1.

Early enrollment is recommended by Howey officials in light of published uncertainties about funds for both academic and recreational public school and summer programs in many Florida counties.

Howey's 7-week academic program is divided into two parts of 3½ weeks each. Students may elect enrollment in either or both parts, depending on their individual study deficiencies, said Hugh Hestlin, president of the Central Florida college preparatory school.

Academics and recreation may be combined or taken separately, said Hestlin, who emphasized that all Howey recreational facilities would be staffed including riding stables, skiing and basketball air-conditioned gymnasium, students and art centers, tennis courts, playing fields, and a golf program at the nearby Mission Inn and Country Club.

The recreation program is offered for from 2-7 weeks, while those seeking academic credit may enroll 6 weeks and receive one half credit, or earn up to 2 credits for 7 weeks study.

Subjects offered include English, social studies, math, science, Spanish, study skills-reading, fine arts, typing, physical education and driver education.

Patient care uppermost

Hospital plans revealed to community

PORT ST. LUCIE--Members of the Port St. Lucie's Presidents' Council were allowing the first in the county to learn a 170 acre site had been selected for the new hospital facility to be constructed in St. Lucie County. The new facility, when completed, will replace Fort Pierce Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Thomas Frist, administrator for the Hospital Corporation of America (HCA), builders of the new complex, made the surprise announcement last Thursday afternoon when he addressed the local club presidents at the CESA building.

A number of sites were considered throughout the county, but the 170 acre tract situated just north of the Lawnwood Recreation complex, between 13th and 25th Streets, and Indian and Kentucky Avenues offered a splendid location. Frist told his listeners.

Although he did not reveal the actual cost of the property, he did say the price had been agreed upon, and HCA would purchase the tract from Gordon Null.

Frist, whose physician father founded the HCA firm in 1968, gave an enlightening comprehensive report on the local responsibilities of the corporation, pointing out the firm is backed financially by the owner of Kentucky Fried Chicken, Jack Massey.

Frist also a doctor, told the group his firm which started with $8.5 million in 1968, reported a net income exceeding $22 million at the close of 1974.

While Frist gave a slide presentation of the different hospital structures which the firm has constructed during the past seven years, he attributed much of the success to the fact HCA places absolutely nothing above quality patient care.

Building mainly in the southeastern part of the United States, Frist said HCA has 2,000 beds in the State of Florida this year. they have 13 percent of the hospitals in Tennessee as well as facilities in Alabama, Virginia, Georgia, Texas, California the Bahamas, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

"We look forward to building a new hospital here in Fort Pierce," he said, adding, With the approval of the planning council we expect to have construction underway by October of this year."

Frist told the group the completion should take between 12 and 18 months, with December, 1977

According to Basil King, administrator of the S P. Memorial Hospital who attended the meeting with Frist, the planning council revised their original number by approving 275 beds in lieu of 300 as previously stated.

HCA is therefore planning to build a 275 bed facility, with room for expansion as the need increases.

Although it is a policy of the corporation to maintain 30 percent private rooms, these will be large enough to accomodate semi-private facilities if the need should arise," Frist said.

Walt Wingberg, a member of the presidents' council representing the Optimist Club, asked Basil King for the bed statistics of Fort Pierce Memorial.

The hospital averaged 129 patients per day out of 176 beds King answered, but went on to explain twenty beds are designated for pediatric care, twenty are for obstetrics, and 126 for medical and surgical patients. The 126 stay full all year.

When asked about indigent patients Frist said the county would either have to pick up the tab, or the paying patient must assume the added costs.

Referring to the possibility of a satellite facility being located in the south county area, Frist said he did not think this would be at all feasible in the near future.

"Right now the area could not support a satellite hospital, with the mother facility so centrally located," he said.

Frist did say however that when the population of the area could support such a facility, HCA would be available to build it.

Another question asked of the HCA administrator was whether or not the hospital would provide ambulance service to the county.

Stating that no ambulance service would be provided, Frist explained, "With the well equipped rescue units and the certain to come installation of telemetry equipment I think you will find the present ambulance services will be sufficient."

$14,000 down drain

Recreation funds sought for south county area

PORT ST. LUCIE--Questioning where the line is drawn when it comes to getting county tax money for privately owned property, one community leader said he was more confused than ever when he heard Basil King, administrator of Fort Pierce Memorial, report that county funds would be used to install the telemetry equipment in the proposed new HCA hospital to be constructed in the county.

The comment was made by Optimist Walter Wingberg before the meeting of the Presidents' Council when he again pleaded for members to support the Optimist sponsored Sportsmans Park project by applying pressure where ever necessary to secure county funds.

"After all the new hospital will be privately owned by the Hospital Corporation of America," Wingberg pointed out. "Please don't misunderstand my statement. I am in full support of the telemetry equipment but I am more curious than ever as to what determines when county tax money is used to fund private properties," he said.

"Just the other day," Wingberg said, "we saw the St. Lucie County Commission vote unanimously to turn over $14,000 previously earmarked for Port St. Lucie and the south county area to the County Recreation Board to be used as they see fit.

With the progress that has been made at the park so far it is a shame we have no place to turn for the funds, or even partial funding, to insure the completion of this facility," he concluded.

Fred Johnston, representing the local yacht club, reminded the group that little would be accomplished by criticizing a particular county commissioner, Ed Enns.

Every county commissioner is elected at large in this county. Each commissioner is charged with the responsibility of representing the entire county primarily and, secondarily he represents the district in which he resides," Johnston said.

The south county residents are paying millions of dollars in taxes each year and they are settling for poor school, fire protection, and police protection contracted through the county sheriff's dept.

"It is imperative the people here must concentrate their efforts on getting the entire commission thinking about this area," Johnston said, adding that Enns alone could not carry the ball for the entire south county area.

"We have sat here for months and years assuming we could not get county money for the park improvements because it was private ownership. Now Wingberg has injected the thought that since the park is for public use, perhaps such funding would be available," Brunton said.

When Brunton backed Johnston's suggestion the group organize to accomplish meeting chairman Jerue Johnston reminded the group that a committee of four had been appointed in January to approach the commissioners, but records indicate no action had been taken.

Brunton blamed the no action on the temporary absence of the Committee Chairman Cedric Benz, who has been ill.

Serving on that committee are Bob Brunton, Walter Wingberg, Schuyler Sharpe and Cedric Benz, chairman.

Wingberg accepted the appointment last Thursday as co-chairman of the group to fill in for Cedric Benz.

Don White, another member of the council agreed to help in anyway he could but refused to be an active member of the committee.

Vern Ferrar, president of the PSL Homeowners Association suggested a recreation director appointed by the city would be a better position to keep tabs on the county's handouts.

Perhaps this would enable us to get the next $14,000 for the south county before it also goes down the drain," Ferrar told the group.

BULLETIN

PORT ST. LUCIE--The bleachers for Sportsmens Park have again been removed by the county. Rep. Chuck Nergard reported to The Mirror that Tuesday, the bleachers were removed by county crews.

Republicans to hear editor

PORT ST. LUCIE--Richard E. Dick Campbell, editor and publisher of the Mirror Newspapers, Inc., will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Port St. Lucie Republican Club.

According to club president Fred Johnston the group will meet April 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the CESA Building on Prima Vista Blvd.

Campbell's topic for the evening will be "How to strengthen the Republican Party."

The first step towards strengthening our party is by participation and attendance, said Jack LaFrance, program chairman, as he extended a welcome to all Republicans throughout Port St. Lucie, Walton, Eden and Spanish Lakes to attend the session.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting by Pearl Troutman and Phebe Williams, co-chairmen of the hospitality committee.

Adding the extra effort to boost the attendance of this and future club meetings, Herman Mentel, chairman of the calling committee said he would be activating his callers to contact as many persons as possible.

The initial "Let's Get Going" membership program is also being spearheaded throughout the south county area by membership chairman Ernest Riefler.

Other committee members who will serve during the coming year are Sue Hickman, chairman of the ways and means committee; Dorothy Vander Pluym, historian, and Agnes LaFrance, parliamentarian.

The Port St. Lucie Republican Club meets the first Thursday evening of every month at the CESA Building. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m.

PSL democrats plan coffee

PORT ST. LUCIE--Mrs. Ada Williams, State Democratic Committeewoman will speak to area Democrats at a coffee to be held Saturday, March 29, 2 p.m. at the North Port Marina, Port St. Lucie.

Port St. Lucie Democrats have also invited members of the St. Lucie County Executive Committee and Harry Jennings, State Democratic Committeeman will be on hand.

Coffee tea and cake will be served.

A spokesman for the group puts it this way: "Be an active Democrat and attend the coffee. America needs us."
